PROJECT G — Pictured is an architect's aerial view of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, including the proposed addition. The shaded area represents the present hospital building. The new addition will be on the south side of the hospital, facing Memorial Drive. Legislation permitting the sale of bonds to help cover the expense of the project will be subjected to referendum in next Tuesday's primary election.

Groundbreaking Set For Garrett Crossroads Home

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Garrett Crossroads Group Home, a residence for mentally handicapped persons, will be held Friday, May 9 at 1 p.m. at the two and one half acre site along Broad Ford Road, Mt. Lake Park.

Representatives of the Maryland Mental Retardation Administration and members of the Garrett Crossroads, Inc. Board of Directors and the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens GORC will be present for the ceremony.

The ceremony will mark the end of the two-year planning and development process and the beginning of residential services for the mentally handicapped population within Garrett County.

During the planning and development process, a needs assessment was conducted. Based on the identified mentally handicapped population, the State Mental Retardation Association certified a need for five group homes in Garrett County, but funding was only available for one. A committee which conducted a site-selection survey recommended the Broad Ford Raad site because of its proximity to community services and the FIFTY-YEAR MASON — Robert T. Hoffman, Oakland, was presented a fifty-year masonic pin at a recent communication of Oakland Lodge #192, AF & AM. Mr. Hoffman was initiated into freemasonry on April 22, 1930, in the Oakland Lodge. He is a past master of the lodge and has served as secretary for over 35 years. Making the presentation to Mr. Hoffman in the photo above is A. Wayne Reed, at left, past Grand Master of Masons in Maryland. A brief historical account of Mr. Hoffman's years as a mason was presented by Bradley A. Stewart, Worshipful Master of Oakland Lodge. Photo courtesy of G. David Green.

Dr. Buser Says School Board Has "Tried To Save Money"

Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of county public schools, Monday released a statement listing actions taken by the Board of Education and staff in the past eight years to implement economies and to assist in keeping the local tax levy rate down.

"The Garrett County Board of Education in each of the last eight years has developed detailed budget material that is made available to elected officials and the public supporting and justifying the need for the budget request," said Buser. "In releasing this statement I may overlook many things that others may add, and it is not my intention to state these actions of economy are always in the best interests of students."

Buser noted that in the area of business practices the Board has implemented a computerized check writing system to reduce contract charges and employee costs, maintained a small parcel delivery to the schools and implemented bulk mailing to the Maryland State Department of Education to keep postage and shipping costs down, improved the bid process by adding more items to the procedure and enlarging the area in which bids are sought, initiated an energy conservation program reducing the consumption and use of utilities, implemented a roof maintenance program through the use of Board employees rather than wait until roofs need major repairs requiring contractors, eliminated some bus routes that could be combined with others, and centralized the cafeteria program in an effort to make the program dependent upon federal funding and meal charges in order to free general county and state dollars for other purposes.

In the area of curriculum, the school system has established county textbook adoptions permitting the movement of books from class to class or from school to school, expanded special education programs in the county to keep the costs of out-of-county placements down, maintained very low per diem rates for professionals who work in summer months developing curricula which improve the educational program for students, utilized media aides in some libraries rather than professional certificated librarians, and actively sought state and federal funds to provide needed services because general local and state dollars have been unavailable.

Personnel action was taken to train Board negotiators rather than hire an attorney for this work, establish a policy limiting to five years the number of years used in placing professionals on the salary scale, based most substitute salaries on a low per diem basis rather than paying long-range substitutes based on the adopted teacher salary scale, tighten policies and procedures keeping travel and conference expenses down, and monitor employee benefits that if unchecked would add to the costs of such benefits.

Dr. Buser indicated these and many other efforts are necessary because of the extremely low per pupil dollars available to educate Garrett County students. He further added he hoped the educational community would appreciate these efforts and communicate support to the County Commissioners for the proposed FY1981 budget.

Yoder Brothers Win Awards For Carvings

Grantsville wood sculpturer Gary Yoder and his brother Bradley both won awards at the Ward Foundation World Championship Wild Fowl competition held April 26-27 in Ocean City.

Gary, who has entered every year in the competition since 1973, won the Miniature World Championship with his wood sculpture of two flying pheasants. The Ward Foundation awarded Gary a plaque and $2500 in prize money as well as placed his piece in its museum in Salisbury.

Bradley, 13 years old and who entered the competition for the first time this year, placed second in the novice life-size songbird class with his wood sculpture of a goldfinch. It was the second piece he had ever carved.

Contestants in the competition were able to enter many different categories. They could enter the novice, amateur, professional or world championship classes and within each of these they could enter the life-size, decoy or miniature categories which were further divided into types of birds. Last year, Gary, who has entered all four classes, won the best in show award with his life-size sculpture of a pair of barn swallows.

The competition was the largest it has ever been, Gary stated. There were more carvers and carvings than in previous years. He explained that since bird woodcarving is primarily a North American craft, contestants were mainly from 50 states in the U. S. and from Canada.

"The competition is the highlight of my whole year," Gary said. "It is where I got my biggest boost in woodcarving."

Gary, who first learned carving ten years ago from lessons offered at Penn Alps in Grantsville, noted that a new

Bloodmobile To Visit Friday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its regular Oakland visit this Friday, May 9, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the National Guard Armory, according to Mrs. Norma Hesen, local chairman. The quota is 150 pints.

Hospital Public Meeting Slated

A county-wide public meeting will be held this Friday evening, May 9, at 7:30 p.m., at Garrett Community College, McHenry Campus, to present the Garrett County Memorial Hospital building and renovation project.

Physicians, Board members and employees will be on hand to answer questions concerning the project. The Board urges all citizens, particularly those citizens who still have questions about the project, to attend.

Martin Appointed Fire Investigator

James Martin has been chosen to replace Dale L. Hill, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett counties, who has left the area to accept a similar position in Howard County, beginning Monday.

Hill, fire investigator along with Robert L. Shimer since September, 1978, will again be one of two fire investigators in Howard County. He will perform duties similar to those performed here, but he anticipates more investigative work in Howard County.

Hill came to Allegany County from Hagerstown, where he had served as fire marshal. While in the area, he has been a member of the Frostburg Volunteer Fire Department and served as a field instructor for the University of Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute.

Hill is 26 and a native of Hagerstown. While in Howard County he plans to attend Montgomery County Community College to earn his fire science degree, after which he plans to attend the University of Maryland, to earn a degree in fire science management.

Martin, 45, is a native of Cumberland, and had served for 15 years as a member of the Baltimore Fire Department.

He has worked with the Crownsville Hospital Center near Annapolis, and is presently employed as the director of fire and safety at the Finan Center, where he has been involved with inspecting buildings and coordinating meetings to instruct employees and patients on fire safety.

Martin, his wife, and two children, reside near Bel Air. Martin is not presently a member of a fire department, but hopes to join in the near future, sources say.

Maryland Primary Set For Tuesday

Maryland voters will go to the polls this Tuesday, May 13, to participate in the Primary election for the President of the United States, the House of Representatives for the Sixth District, and United Stated Senator representing Maryland. Also listed are 28 candidates for Delegates to the Republican National Convention, Sixth Congressional District. Voters will vote for three Delegates.

Democratic candidates for the office of President of the United States are Edmund G. Brown, Jr., Edward M. Kennedy, Jimmy Carter, Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr., and Cliff Finch. Republican candidates to the office of President are John B. Anderson, George Bush, Phillip M. Crane and Ronald Reagan.

Democratic candidates for the office of United States Senator are Frank J. Broschart, Victor L. Crawford, Dennis C. McCoy, Kurt Summers, Edward T. Conroy, Robert L. Douglass, R. Spencer Oliver, Richard J. Taranto, Mello Cottone, John A. Kennedy, David E. Shaw, and James A. Young. Republican Senatorial candidates are Roscoe G. Bartlett, Jr., Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., John M. Brennan, V. Dallas Merrell, Jack Fortune Holden and Gerald C. Warren.

Democratic candidates for the office of Representative in Congress, Sixth District, are Beverly B. Byron, William B. McMahon, Thomas H. Hattery, Melvin C. Perkins, John J. Kubricky and Kent Sullivan. Republican Congressional candidates are Clifford H. Andrews and Raymond E. Beck.

Two questions will address Garrett County voters on the ballot. Question A dealing with the Sunday sale of Alcoholic beverages after 1 p.m. in Garrett County; Question B, dealing with the proposed renovation and expansion project of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Voters will vote "for" or "against" these issues.

Bolden Supports Hospital Project

Delegate DeCorsey Bolden released a statement of endorsement this week concerning the proposed building and renovation project at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Bolden was responsible for introducing the legislation necessary to permit the borrowing of funds through bonding.

Bolden said, "I think it is most important that citizens of our county vote to support the hospital because it is essential that we continue to have a first class health care facility."

He added, "I regard this positive vote as the most important vote cast in our county in the past decades."

County Faces "Fiscal Crisis", Board Sees Few Alternatives

Bills are piling up in the county commissioners' office, but not even the commissioners can say when any of them will be paid. For them, the county is having a "fiscal crisis" with more bills than it has money to pay.

The situation surfaced full force last week when the commissioners couldn't pay the Board of Education its April allocation of $309,000 and saw no immediate revenues to pay it and other bills. This week the bills totaled $627,365.40, including the Board of Education's allocation, which is to come out of the county's allocations account. As of April 30, the county had $117,928.94 in its account.

It also has accumulated $115,329.82 in bills to be paid by revenue sharing, an account that presently has $30,000. The commissioners don't expect the final revenue sharing check until after June 30. The county also owes the revenue sharing account $150,000 which must be paid into the account before June 30.

Besides these bills, the commissioners have to meet salary for county employees this Friday, a bill of approximately $55,000. They think they can meet payroll, if they let a few other bills go.

Some of the county departments are becoming concerned they will not have enough money to last through June 30. According to personnel in the commissioners' office, there are 12 salary accounts which will soon be out of money.

The Communications Department, which operates Central Alarm expects to run out of money before the end of the year by $4,300; it averages $4,000-$4,000 a month in salaries. The shortfall occurred mainly because no overtime money was budgeted for the employees who have had to work overtime hours.

Another department beginning to have financial difficulty is the Promotion Council. The county owes it $22,000 including $7,000 in state funds which should have gone directly to the Council's account but was used for other purposes. Tom Graham, president of the Council's Board of Directors, stated the commissioners had given him "reasonable assurances" the money would be given to them before the end of the year. The Council may have to curtail advertising activities until it receives its allocation.

The Board of Education, the only department with an officially approved budget, could go in the hole $927,000 if the county cannot meet its April, May and June payments of $309,000. The Board was able to meet its May payroll Monday and, says county school superintendent William Buser, it intends to meet all salary payments unless it announces otherwise.

Dr. Buser noted that the state had forwarded its final allocation of the fiscal year early to help the Board meet its May payroll. That along with some invested money helped with the payroll. The Board still has the June payroll to meet as well as July and August salaries to those who request it in June. Dr. Buser added all the July and August salaries would have to be paid from funds allocated during fiscal year 1980.

The county contingency fund, the fund meant to deal with emergency situations and unbudgeted items, is out of money. Only money which flows throught that account from state and federal sources can be spent. Four of six employees who are paid through that account will not be paid this Friday, because their salaries are paid locally, not by state or federal funds.

"I'm really upset about this," stated Commissioner Ernie Gregg. "The only way to pay them is to get more money in contingency." This he explained, cannot occur because the amount of money allocated to contingency is legally limited. Gregg says he hopes to prevent this situation from recurring next year by budgeting for as many items as possible rather than planning to pay for them out of contingency, this year criminal

Deborah Lawton, Housing Official, Gives Resignation

Deborah Lawton, Garrett County Housing Coordinator, yesterday handed her resignation to the county commissioners. Ms. Lawton has held that position four years, and her resignation will be effective May 16. Diana Wawrinski, Assistant Coordinator, will become acting Coordinator on May 19, to serve until a successor is appointed.

Ms. Lawton recently married K. Heinz Scheuber, who is employed as an engineer with the Swiss firm, Brown Boveri Corporation. The reason for Ms. Lawton's resignation is that the couple will move to Alabama, where Mr. Scheuber will supervise completion of the TVA nuclear installation at Bellefonte Power Plant. They will then move to Switzerland, where they will reside.

During her four-year term Ms. Lawton worked with Maryland Home Financing and HUD Block Grant Housing Rehabilitation. She also worked closely with the Accident Community Housing Corporation.

During the past four years she has brought into Garrett County $125,936 in grant money, and $1,102,200 in loans. These are monies already brought into the county, not pending.

Ms. Lawton's position is ARC-funded and administered by the state of Maryland. Advertisements will be placed in local papers regarding the job opening.

Since her marriage, Ms. Lawton has assumed the name of Deborah Lawton Scheuber.

Financial Crisis

cases tried out of the county were financed through contingency.

The commissioners met with treasurer Arzella Parsons and attorney Jack Turney on Friday to study the county's present situation and to estimate what revenues are still expected. Mrs. Parsons estimates close to $1 million in revenues are still expected. That includes the revenue sharing fund and the state surplus allocation to the county, which both will come to the county after June 30.

The county still has 33 percent of the May allocation of income tax. The 67 percent of it had been forwarded to the county in April. The June allocation is not expected until after June 30.

Other sources of expected revenues are the county beer tax, traders licenses, coal tax, amusement tax, recording fees, cigarette tax, state share of the beer tax, and income from the county liquor dispensaries.

Commissioner Les Hunter pointed out that one reason for the present crisis is the many unexpected shortfalls in revenues this year. The county liquor dispensary, which competes with privately owned liquor stores, has brought in $7000 of the anticipated $90,000 this year. Last year the dispensary brought in $42,000. Other shortfalls include the county share of the state gasoline tax, the county beer tax, and coal tax.

Another reason the county is running out of money is the unbudgeted salary increase ordered by the commissioners for some non-union county employees in January to make their salaries equitable to the salaries of the union employees in the county roads department. This created the shortfall in the 12 salary accounts though it is creating problems now, the increase, says Commissioner Hunter, "seemed the right way to go at that time."

Hunter points back to the tax suit brought against the county by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden as another cause for the present situation. He disagrees with critics who say the commissioners have done nothing to adjust the budget to live with the $707,000 decrease in the budget caused by the tax suit. "We adjusted the two largest users of county funds in the budgets—the Board of Education and the County Roads Department, Hunter stated.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg does not agree that the tax suit created the county's fiscal crises. "Our indebtedness is almost twice $707,000," he said. He supported the tax suit by explaining the rationale for it was to decrease income to the county to force the county government "to take prudent measures."

He does not believe the commissioners have done enough to prevent the present situation. "I deeply regret this, but I am only one person," he stated.

Gregg expects that once all the bills are tallied and all the revenues in, the county will realize a debt of over $1½ million. "These things needed to be addressed last Fall," said Gregg, who says he has made suggestions all year and tried to move the other two commissioners to action but has received "no response."

He believes that if the budget he proposed in late August had been adopted, the county could have prevented much of the present difficulties.

Both Gregg and Hunter say they see few alternatives left to the county in handling the crises. "When you run out of time, you run out of alternatives," stated Gregg. He arranged a meeting between the commissioners and representatives from the two local banks Tuesday, to discuss the situation but neither commissioner felt any total solutions were found.

Some recommendations made were that the commissioners prioritize items in the budget and to investigate temporary funds from the state and federal governments. They told the commissioners if no available funds could be located they would either have to cut something out of their expenses or not pay certain expenses. They also suggested that furloughing employees may have to be an alternative.

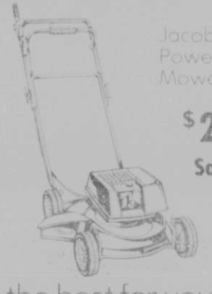

Although the county could save money by furloughing employees, Commissioner Hunter said, "I would rather not go that route."

The commissioners say there probably will be a deficit as the county enters fiscal year 1981. They noted one bright spot in the meeting with the bankers concerning repayment of the $750,000 loan taken in February and March. The commissioners originally thought the balance of the loan not paid by June 30 would have to be paid immediately at the beginning of FY1981 with collected taxes.

Attorney Jack Turney reported the loan would have to be paid with collected taxes up to June 30 but the balance to be paid could be included in the 1981 county budget as a budget item. The repayment could then be paid over the year.

I'm Ready for Spring . . . thanks to my new partner — Garrett National!

Feed, Seed and Fertilizer cost me more this year.

I never realized how a financial partner like Garrett National Bank could help me get a good start towards a great harvest.

The Garrett National banker in my town showed me how Full Service Banking works — I didn't know my neighborhood bank could provide the production loan I need to get ready for a profitable summer.

I got more than a loan. I learned that Garrett National has every financial service I need. Checking, saving or borrowing. I do it all with my friends at Garrett National Bank.

Four Arrested For Theft At Dreamland Motel

Four persons were arrested by Cpl. Elmer D. Selby, Maryland State Police, in connection with a theft at the Dreamland Motel, Deep Creek Lake, which occurred on Sunday morning.

Charged with the theft were Lori Jo Schulties, 18, Glenshaw, Pa.; Harold Berto, 21, Joseph M. Katcher, 20; and Russell C. Abbott, 21, all of McKeesport, Pa.

Those charged were released pending trial, scheduled for June 2. The stolen merchandise was valued at $60.

In a separate incident, a breaking and entering was reported at Bowman's Marina, McHenry, resulting in a total merchandise loss of $1203.

According to Maryland State Police, the culprits broke a window on the rear door to gain entry.

Property removed from the showroom included a 15 h.p. Mariner outboard motor valued at $561, two 2 h.p. Mariner outboard motors, valued at $240 each, and five ski flotation vests, valued at $162.

An investigation is continuing.

In a multi-state theft ring case being investigated by Maryland State Police, Tfc. C. H. Hinnant, Garrett County Detachment, reported arrests on May 5 of two more area residents.

Brit E. Carpenter, 26, Elk Garden, W. Va. has been charged with four counts of theft, and four counts of altering the serial numbers of the vehicles.

James R. Riggleman, Jr. 18, Kitzmiller, has been charged with one count of theft, and one count of altering the serial number of a vehicle.

Carpenter posted bond of $22,000, and Riggleman posted bond of $7,500, which had been reduced from $25,000 in district court.

Riggleman is the son of Alice M. Riggleman, 42, Kitzmiller, who was arrested on March 16 and charged with theft, as was his sister, Vicki L. Riggleman, 19, Kitzmiller.

The theft ring, which allegedly involves the four local area residents, reportedly concerns the stealing of heavy equipment, automobiles, farm equipment, and motor homes. More than $250,000 in stolen items have been recovered, with more than $400,000 known missing, according to police.

Tfc. Hinnant reports several more arrests will be made in connection with the theft ring.

The Time Is Now . . .

Over the past 103 years, The Republican has taken a stand on numerous and varied local issues. We know that this newspaper, which is read by well over 20,000 persons each week, serves as the primary source of county-affairs information for the general public. Many people turn to The Republican to keep abreast of what's happening in the county, and they often rely on us to provide them with the information necessary to make decisions as to how they stand on certain issues. Because of this fact, we here at The Republican realize that we have an awesome responsibility.

The stands by this newspaper have not been based on halftruths, hearsay and rumor, but have been the result of much research and striving for the truth. We have always attempted to weigh the pros and cons of every issue and arrive at an intelligent, well-thought-out decision, which will best benefit the people of this great county.

Perhaps no local issue has been any more important to the future of our county than the question on next week's primary ballot concerning the proposed building and renovation project at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. For several months, much information concerning this project has been circulated around the county in countless ways. As with every controversial issue, some of the information is totally false, some is only half true, some is fact and much of it is complicated. We have attempted to sort through the various pieces of information and collect those which are fact, discard or counter those which are fiction, and simplify those which are complicated. As all of our readers must know by now, The Republican is totally behind the project.

Approximately 33 years ago, under the expert direction and dedication of then-editor, George Hanst, this newspaper vigorously endorsed the proposed building of the original Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Much of the same type of opposition existed then as exists now with the current project and Mr. Hanst utilized his skills and the power of the press to help make the hospital a reality.

By now, many voters have already made up their minds as to how they will vote on this question. In fact, many persons, both pro and con, are probably tired of hearing about the project. However, in an effort to reach those persons who are still undecided on the issue, we have prepared this page of information, hopefully to answer some of the remaining unanswered questions in the minds of the voters.

The information on this page has not been spoon-fed to us by the hospital board, the hospital administrator, physicians, the health department or any other individuals related to county health services. We have followed this project closely for over two years. We have done our own research. We have sought out the answers to the questions. We have attended numerous meetings. We have received much information about the project from state agencies, which are not always sympathetic to the desires of local hospitals and require that rigid standards be met before granting approval for such a project. We have gone over the heads of local officials to make sure that the need for this project is real.

We firmly believe that the NEED IS REAL and the TIME IS NOW!

Editor's note: Following are 20 reasons why we, The Republican, support the building and renovation project at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, known as Project G. There are undoubtedly other reasons not mentioned here. This page is designed primarily for those persons who still have questions concerning the issue. We hope our endeavor provides some guidance.

1. The Project will Involve No County Tax Money . . .

The project will be paid for by a $2.5 million federal grant, a hospital fund-raising campaign and through the sale of bonds, amounting to $4.75 million. Although the bonding will be handled by the county commissioners, the obligation to pay back those bonds will rest upon the hospital, not county taxpayers. The only reason the bonds are being floated through the county government is because it provides the lowest possible interest rate, and thus will save money. This is a common procedure with all county governments and has been done numerous times in Garrett County.

2. Financially Sound . . .

Garrett County Memorial Hospital is financially sound, and has been for several years. No county money has been given to the hospital for operating expenses for 16 years of its approximate 30-year existence, including the past four years.

3. Crowded and Inefficient . . .

The laboratory, x-ray department, emergency room, operating room and delivery room, which are referred to as support departments, were built to accommodate a 35-bed hospital, which was the size of the original facility. Garrett Memorial is now a 76-bed hospital and no space has ever been added for the support departments. The original building was not designed by hospital architects and is consequently, inefficient and poorly laid out for a hospital. The mechanical, electrical and environmental systems are operating far below even the minimum standards. Some rooms are serving as many as four or five functions. Totally unrelated departments have been crammed together in spaces which are one-fourth the size of minimum standards. Safety code violations are numerous.

4. Renovation is a Must . . .

Even if the project fails, the hospital will be forced to make nearly $2.5 million worth of renovations, just to meet local, state and federal regulations. The only reason the hospital has not been forced to proceed with these renovations is because the inspectors and agencies enforcing the codes are waiting to see if the project will pass the referendum. Persons say why not just spend the $2.5 million for renovations instead of building a new facility. What makes this an undesirable course of action is that, even with the renovations, there would still be no added space to alleviate the horribly crowded conditions. Also, the $2.5 million Appalachian Regional Commission grant is earmarked for the building project, not for renovations.

5. Would Lose Accreditation . . .

If Garrett Memorial does not take the necessary steps to satisfy all of the codes, of which it is presently in violation, the hospital will most likely lose its accreditation. What does this mean? If a hospital is not accredited, there is a real possibility that payment for Medicare, Medicaid, Blue Cross and Blue Shield patients would be ended. Other insurance companies would also follow suit. Most of us depend on one of the above types of coverage when it comes to paying for medical care. Also, most doctors and nurses do not prefer to work in an unaccredited facility.

6. Cost is Soaring . . .

Even if the project fails, conditions at the present hospital will make it absolutely necessary for a building project within the next few years. At the present rate of increase in construction costs, the present project is increasing in cost by an estimated $100,000 per month. The time to build is now, in order to get the most for the money, instead of waiting a few years and having to spend the same amount of money for only half a project or twice as much money for the same project.

7. Federal Grant Already Available . . .

The $2.5 million ARC grant for the project is ready and waiting to be used. The project has the full endorsement of Allegany and Washington counties and, out of the 13 states which fall under the ARC, Garrett County Memorial was the only hospital which received grant money. This is because of the ARC's realization of the tremendous need for the project. If the grant money is not used at Garrett Memorial, it will be spent elsewhere. It will not go back to the government and appear in the form of a tax break for the taxpayer. In terms of federal dollars, on the average, each taxpayer in Garrett County will pay somewhere between one and two cents for this project.

8. GCMH Rates Lowest in State . . .

According to a disclosure of hospital financial and statistical data received in this office from the Maryland Health Cost Review Commission, the EIPD rates for Garrett Memorial for fiscal year 1979 were the lowest among Maryland's 54 hospitals. EIPD stands for cost per equivalent in-patient day, which is an average cost per day of all services offered by a hospital. To cover the expense of the project, the EIPD of Garrett Memorial will be raised approximately $17, which will still place Garrett Memorial's rates at, or next to, the lowest in the state.

9. GCMH Income will be Sufficient to Cover Cost . . .

The state Cost Review Commission, which must approve all hospital rate changes, has given Garrett Memorial permission to charge rates necessary to pay for the project (a $17 increase in EIPD). In seeking state approval for the project, Garrett Memorial was required to supply the commission with estimated usage rates for the hospital over the next several years. Projected estimates for 1983 were provided. However, at the end of 1979, the hospital had already exceeded the figures projected for 1983. For example, it was estimated that in 1983, there would be 290 births at Garrett Memorial. However, in 1979 there were 342. It was estimated that in 1983 there would be 10,500 x-rays taken. However, in 1979 there were 12,247 x-rays taken. The list goes on. All projections were based on previous usage figures. This significant increase in usage of the hospital was one of the major reasons that the state gave its full approval for the project.

10. Further Usage Inevitable . . .

Although there has not been the population boom in Garrett County that was at one time predicted, the county is still growing. People will always become ill and injured and require the services of a hospital. Already the anticipation of the project has brought several more outstanding and much needed physicians to the county. With more physicians, a new facility and new services, more persons will be using the hospital. Also, as hospital usage increases, so will hospital income.

11. More Health Needs will be met Within the County . . .

With a new facility, new physicians who are trained in specific fields and eventual new services and equipment, it will be unnecessary for so many patients to be transferred to out-of-county hospitals for treatment. When patients are taken to Morgantown or Cumberland for treatment, not only do they pay more for the health care, but family members must spend considerable amounts of money on travel expenses and accommodations and much time away from their jobs or homes to visit the patient. With the recent addition of two surgeons and a few more general practitioners, already more services are available to Garrett Memorial. However, more space is needed for these people to utilize their talents to full capacity.

12. We are Blessed with Outstanding Physicians . . .

Few rural areas such as Garrett County are fortunate enough to have the caliber of medical personnel that we have at Garrett Memorial. Physicians in the urban areas of the state are astounded at the sophistication of the medical care which is provided at Garrett Memorial. All of the doctors who have arrived in the past five years have come highly recommended and have done work in many specialized areas of medicine. Once again, the prospect of a new facility, combined with the desire to live in the environment which Garrett County offers, is the reason many of these doctors have chosen this area as their home. The physicians who have been here for many years are also of high caliber. All of the county's physicians, with the exception of one, support the project.

13. If the Project Fails, We will Lose Doctors . . .

Not only will we lose some physicians who are planning to come to Garrett County, but we will most likely lose some who have been here for some time. A negative vote would indicate that the people of this county are not particularly concerned about health care. Doctors are trained to continue to research, continue to find new methods and continue to reach for the best possible methods and techniques in health care. They are concerned about their patients. If they are dealing with a community which has the reverse attitude, no one could criticize them for not wanting to stay.

14. Industry Attracted by Modern Facility . . .

The unemployment rate of Garrett County is presently over 17%. We are in dire need of some new, small-scale, non-polluting industries to provide more jobs for our citizens. One of the first considerations of an industry when it examines a particular area as a possible industrial site, is the quality of medical care available in that area. A new, up-to-date hospital facility would greatly increase the chances of an industry's moving into the county, and thus combat our outrageous jobless rate.

15. Why Will No New Beds be Added? . . .

Many persons have wondered why the project does not include plans to add any new beds, thinking that another such project will be necessary in the near future. As was stated before, the major need right now is for more space for support departments. However, the new building will be designed so that eight or ten beds may be added at a moment's notice, without further construction. If in the future, still more beds are needed on a regular basis, it will be possible to add another floor to the new building, rather than to build a complete new wing.

16. Why a Referendum? . . .

Some persons believe that because this question has gone to referendum, there must be county tax money involved. This is incorrect. In order to allow the county commissioners to float the bonds necessary for the project, legislation stating such had to be introduced by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Ed Mason. All legislation is subject to a referendum, provided enough citizens sign a petition asking for a referendum. Several months ago, when this legislation was being prepared, the Board of Governors of the hospital realized that there was enough opposition to the project to force the legislation to referendum. In Garrett County, it requires less than 500 names to force a piece of legislation to referendum. However, if the hospital bond legislation had been forced to referendum by petition, it would not have been voted upon until the November general election, thus delaying the project six more months and driving up the cost another half a million dollars. Therefore, the Board decided it was best to add the referendum clause to the original legislation to insure that the vote would be on May 13. The Board also wanted to be totally open with the public on this project, and give the citizens of the county the opportunity to show their support for the project.

17. Health Department Involvement . . .

The Health Department will occupy a portion of the present hospital. By making this move, the county will be saving approximately $38,000 annually which is now being paid in rent. Also, all of the services offered by the health department will be in one location, instead of spread out all over the community. It will also allow shared services and joint utilization with the hospital, with the patient not even having to leave the building.

18. Much Support Evident . . .

The project has the support of many local church groups, civic organizations and service clubs, not to mention the Western Maryland Health Systems Agency, the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Appalachian Regional Commission, Blue Cross of Maryland, the Tri-County Council (which includes Washington and Allegany counties), the county commissioners, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Mason. There has to be good reason for so many persons and organizations to back this project.

19. Opposition Shaky . . .

Those opposing the project have been unable to really pinpoint any sound reasons as to why they are against it. Much of their opposition has been based on everything from personality conflicts with someone associated with the hospital to trivial misunderstandings as a result of harsh words by a doctor or nurse who might have been without sleep for 36 hours. Some may have legitimate complaints. Garrett Memorial, like all hospitals, is run by human beings. No hospital is flawless. We all should be pleased that our hospital is operated by people with progressive attitudes. Many communities are not so lucky.

20. Our Children's Future is At Stake . . .

A negative vote would be equivalent to denying not only ourselves, but also our children, the right to better medical care. The question each person must ask himself is, just how important is good health care to me? There are so many ways in this life to waste money—on extravagant food, on a second or third car which is not really needed, on too much entertainment, on too many fine clothes, on unneeded government programs, etc., but how can anyone believe that money spent for better health care for his or her family is a waste of money? In the near future, if one of our children becomes seriously injured, his or her fate could possibly rest upon the outcome of this hospital vote.

The hospital question is labeled "Question B" and will be found in the upper right corner of the ballot (see sample ballot in today's issue). The choice of answers to the question are not "Yes" and "No," but "For" and "Against."

Democrat Candidates, House Of Representatives

Editor's Note: The Republican news staff contacted all Maryland U. S. Senatorial and Congressional candidates, requesting from each a 350-word statement addressing the people of Garrett County, regarding issues of their choice. This effort was made to provide Garrett Countians with additional information about the candidates and the issues, and thus aid them in making a choice.

Editor's Note: Mr. Perkin's statement arrived too late to be included with the other Maryland U. S. Congressional candidates statements regarding issues of their choice on page 46.

Melvin Perkins

I am a reformed candidate. Mrs. Byron did not get legally elected, as the U. S. Constitution says if a Congressman dies, a spiral election is held. Since she has done nothing for Garrett County you should back me, which you did not the last election.

I wish you, the Press, would not send me this stuff but come to see me, as during the last election I said during this and the last campaign I don't answer any letters or form letters. But since I'm running just to represent Garrett County I am answering.

The thing I am going to say is to put in a bill to have the USA Capital Building moved to Oakland, MD. I want to get the White House and the Fort out of Washington, D. C. as they can (illegible) . . . come and bomb the White House by the atomic bomb. So I will put a bill to move the seat of Government to Oakland, MD, and the whole Garrett County will be under USA control by the army.

Beverly Byron did not tell you anything on tax, but I personally think taxes are too cheap. I put a bill in to raise taxes just in Garrett County, as I see Mrs. Byron says and county commissioners say taxes must be raised. I personally think the honeymoon is over and for the new highway, and the things we need, such as County Police, a new Courthouse, a District Judge and the Court of Appeals must be in Oakland. I put a bill in to move the Court of Appeals to Garrett County.

The Constitution says a governor must live within the state five years before the election. Since Mandel is going to prison again he can't be out of the state of Maryland. To keep him here I'm going to build the jails in Garrett County. I don't believe in gun control. I am going to put in a bill to keep the coal mines from W. Va. in their place, to keep them from coming in Maryland, if they go on strike.

Mrs. Mae DeBerry Honored By Church Women United

HONORED FOR SERVICE — Mrs. Mae DeBerry, pictured right, was presented an award by the Church Women United of Garrett County at May Fellowship Day activities Friday at the Otterbein Methodist Church in Swanton. The award was for "faithful dedication to church and community." Presenting the award is Mrs. Martha Glotfelty, left, president of CWU. See story.

During the services of May Fellowship Day on May 2 at the Otterbein Methodist Church in Swanton, Mrs. Mae DeBerry, Oakland, was presented a corsage and a plaque by members of Church Women United of Garrett County. The plaque read, "To Honor Mae DeBerry for faithful dedication to Church and Community." By this gift she was named a "Valiant Lady". The gifts were presented by Martha Glotfelty, president of Church Women United.

Mrs. DeBerry has been a member of Church Women United since 1958, served as president of the group for five consecutive years, served one and a half years as vice-president under Edna Mae Hughes, served as publicity chairman for 15 years and secretary for several years. During these years she attended board meetings, planning group meetings and yearly celebrations. She also attended an annual convention at New Windsor several years ago.

Mrs. DeBerry has been a member of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, for 43 years. There she has served as Communion Steward for 18 years, president of United Methodist Women for a year, and secretary for a year; the scholarship fund secretary for three years for the Romney District, served three years on the district nominating committee, and has served as Circle and Co-Circle chairman for United Methodist Women for many years.

For the past seven years she has served as chairman of the Volunteer Service Center on U.S. Rt. 219.

Mr. DeBerry assists Mae with her work at the Volunteer Service Center by cutting quilt squares. Since last August, he has cut 7,000 squares, and 13,000 since January of last year.

During the years past when cookies were served to blood donors, Mrs. DeBerry furnished them, 40 dozen homemade cookies at a time. She still works with the bloodmobile, mostly with the luncheons.

Mr. and Mrs. DeBerry live on a farm near Oakland and have three children: Walter, who is at home and works at Bausch and Lomb; a daughter, Martha, librarian and teacher at Southern High School; and youngest son, James, who is a chemical engineer for the Glidden-Durkee Company and lives in Reisterstown.

Mothers Matter Forms Evening Group In Oakland

The county Mothers Matter Organization has organized an evening discussion group for mothers in the southern part of the county held twice monthly Monday evenings from 7:30-9 p.m. at the Garrett Community College Oakland Center. The next meeting will be Monday, May 12.

Coordinator Reba Herrington stated the group was organized after several persons commented on the need for a group for working mothers and mothers of adolescents. "I wanted to coordinate the evening Mothers Matter because there is a need for all mothers—single mother, working mothers and mothers with adolescent children—to discuss areas of parenting."

Members of the group will take turns leading the meetings allowing each member to raise a topic of her concern and to invite a guest speaker. "Basically," said Ms. Herrington, "each member will have a try at 'doing her own thing.' I'm hoping this will create a unity of special, honest friends."

Because of the types of topics to be discussed, the group decided to discourage members from bringing their children to the meetings. But, Ms. Herrington emphasized that she and Betty Vance, who has assisted in coordinating the group, will arrange babysitting for those who need it.

The purpose of the group is to allow mothers a time to discuss parenting with other mothers. "We want to strengthen confidence by honestly discussing the frustrations, satisfactions, and successes of mothering," said Ms. Herrington. "We want to give support as friends and give companionship to each other." She noted that discussion at all meetings is kept confidential.

Mothers Matter discussion groups have also been organized during the morning in Oakland and in Accident. The Oakland morning group, coordinated by Joanne Graybill and Debbie Pariseau, meets each Friday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. in the St. Mark's Lutheran Church basement, Oakland.

The Accident Mothers Matter, coordinated by Madeleine Collins, meets every Thursday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. at the Zion Lutheran Church. Speakers have been scheduled through mid-June.

Free baby sitting is available for both the Oakland and Accident morning groups.

For more information, persons can call Reba Herrington at 334-8546 or 334-4246 or Betty Vance at 334-9604 for the evening group; Debbie Pariseau at 387-9338 for the Oakland group; and Madeleine Collins at 387-5075 for the Accident group.

County Students Selected For Honor Society

A total of 137 students have been elected to the West Virginia University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society for graduate and undergraduate students.

To be eligible for the society, a student must rank in the upper 10 percent of his or her class.

6 Ways to Save

1. That old saying's still true: "A stitch in time saves nine." Repairs to home, car, clothing and equipment, made promptly, often will save you lots of money in the long run.

2. Save on service calls by reading instruction manuals carefully so you know how to use appliances and equipment properly, make minor adjustments, increase their life and reduce maintenance costs.

3. When you use a serviceman to repair your television set, and appliance, or something else—get an estimate beforehand and an itemized bill afterwards. Select repairmen you believe to be reliable. If you don't know one, take the trouble to ask your friends to recommend someone.

4. Save on heating costs with adequate insulation, proper thermostat controls, regular cleaning and maintenance—and by closing off rooms not in use.

5. Have fun and save money by doing your own painting and decorating, making slipcovers, refinishing furniture. Add the labor costs you save to your savings account.

6. Weekly allowances for even very young children often actually save money on candy, ice cream and impulse toy purchases. And—more important—they teach the youngsters the value of money.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir,

In regard to letters written by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leighton, my husband and I are also parents, taxpayers and very upset! In last week's Letters to the Editor you stated that people are seen in the emergency room by the severity of their injury or illness. That was not so in the case of our 13-month-old daughter.

Saturday afternoon a few weeks ago our daughter developed a high fever. I called the emergency room and they said to bring her in. When we arrived there I told the receptionist that my baby had a high fever and that I had spoken to the nurse in emergency and told her what she had said.

A man came in at about the same time with a possible broken hand. His case was seen first although they hadn't even taken my daughter's temperature. By the time she was seen (at my insistence), her temperature had risen to a dangerous 105°.

Dear Editor, can you honestly tell me that a broken hand is more dangerous than a young child with a high fever which could have caused brain damage or possibly death? Oversights that endanger lives call for some honest answers to parents and county taxpayers.

Shouldn't some preliminaries be taken upon arrival at the hospital to determine whose case is in fact more serious? Or do we leave such decisions to receptionists who are not qualified medical personnel?

Name withheld by request

Dear Editor:

I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. and Mrs. Leighton on the availability of a physician/surgeon on duty at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

My two-year-old son fell eight fe[illegible] off our back porch. Within ten minutes we were in the emergency room expecting emergency treatment for a possible head injury. We waited and waited as his nose bled and a lump grew on his forehead. After watching two persons go ahead of me and an hour's wait I confronted the nurse. She had no idea when I could see a doctor. I was furious as my son fell asleep and I was very concerned about his head. A little later I left.

Luckily my son was not badly hurt. Yes, I am aware that we run to the hospital for minor cuts and bruises but who are you to judge an emergency. There is a term "internal injuries" which is a major emergency that rarely shows on the outside. I do not plan to wait until both my arms and legs are cut off to expect emergency treatment. I would have been a little more understanding had there been a car accident or burn victims but there wasn't so I feel my wait was unnecessary.

As for a doctor's error. I wonder how you would feel if a doctor made an error in a diagnosis of your child or family member? If you are human, I don't believe you would be understanding either.

As for the hospital, I plan to vote "yes". They need help in numerous areas which I may save for a later letter.

Sincerely,
P.B.
Mt. Lake Park, MD

Dear P.B.,

I would feel terrible if a doctor made an error in the diagnosis on a member of my family. However, I think I would understand. I repeat, doctors are human. There isn't a doctor in the world who hasn't made a wrong diagnosis in his or her life.

Editor

P.S. Thanks for voting "Yes".

Dear Editor,

There was a lady admitted to the Garrett County Oakland hospital on February 24 at 10 a.m. The doctor advised me and her mother and father that she would not live very long. On Monday she asked to see the preacher. He talked to her and they prayed together. She said she was not afraid any more and asked him to come back and pray with her the same evening.

The preacher came back to see her and the nurse refused to let him see her. He tried to see her on Tuesday and was refused again.

The preacher told me he did not know what to do because it is not right for him not to have prayer with her.

I would like to know what kind of nurse or doctor would refuse a dying person the right to have their preacher or priest when she needed them to pray for her and pray with her at a time like this. On Friday, February 29, she died at about 10 a.m.

Clyde K. Friend,
Oakland

Dear Mr. Friend,

In inquiring at the hospital about this case, the director of nursing stated that at times, when doctors are in the act of examining or treating a patient, visitors are asked to leave and come back later. She stated that if a nurse is in a hurry, she might not always take the time to explain why.

Editor:

The purpose of this letter is to inform our citizens concerning the Six Million Dollar Bond Issue that we will vote upon next week, for the hospital.

I called Mr. Richardson, the hospital Superintendent, who curtly informed me that he would not give out any information concerning his salary, or other matters, unless I write a letter to the Board members requesting it.

A call to various offices in the courthouse yielded me nothing. The Commissioners' office, the Treasurer's office does not have any information concerning salaries of the hospital superintendent or other employees. I was told by a source I consider reliable that the salary of the superintendent is $50,000 and his assistant, $40,000. I was told by the Court Clerk that hospital Board Members are apparently not bonded, and that no oath of office is administered to the members of the Board.

It is important to know that we are going to vote on a Six Million Dollar Bond Issue, the money to be spent by appointed officials, who are not bonded, and who are not sworn to duty in connection with their use of public monies. This is generally described as power without responsibility.

The "Bill" gives the Board broad powers to spend the money for architectural and engineering services, finance charges, financial planning, etc.

Is it prudent, is it business-like to borrow millions thereby mortgaging our homes for thirty years, binding us down to high taxes, trusting only to chance that the money may be wisely used? We bond our County Treasurer and other elected officers, subject them to an oath of sworn duty to administer their office with integrity and responsibility.

I believe that the salaries of hospital administrators should be made public before we vote to hand them six million dollars of our borrowed money.

Clifford Friend
Accident, Md.

Mr. Friend,

First of all, his name is Richmond. Secondly, he is the hospital administrator, not superintendent. Thirdly, according to Mr. Richmond, the only inquiry you made was the one concerning his salary. You did not mention any "other matters."

The administrator of the hospital is an employee of the hospital Board of Governors. He was directed by the Board (his boss) that all inquiries concerning his salary would have to be made in writing to the Board, which is precisely what he told you.

I'm not surprised that calls to the courthouse yielded nothing. The employes of the hospital are NOT county employes. They are all under the Board of Governors of the hospital and information on their salaries, including the administrator's, is a matter of privacy. Your calling and asking for their salaries is no different than calling Naylor's Hardware and asking for the salaries of the owners and managers there.

Your reliable source is about as reliable as the weather. Neither the administrator nor the assistant administrator make nearly as much as your source claims.

Also, being a board member for the hospital is not a position of power, but one of responsibility. The Board of Governors has the legal and financial responsibility for maintaining the hospital. It's true, six milion dollars is a lot of money. You cannot get something for nothing, and the Board has examined all possible avenues for acquiring this money. The Board would be more than happy to withdraw the bond issue if you would give them the money, Mr. Friend.

By the way, the salaries of the board members are public. They make $0 per year, and that figure doubles every two years.

Mr. Friend, you are an intelligent man. You write well (even though you use misinformation) and you have the capabilities of being quite influential. If only you would utilize those talents, just once, for constructive purposes instead of destructive ones.

Editor

Dear Editor:

Clifford Friend's recent letters to the Editor may have provided a comic interlude, but did little to bolster a justifiable need-expanded medical facilities and services for Garrett County.

Does Mr. Friend not realize the wealth of indirect benefits to the county? The Republican has covered the direct benefits adequately, and most are obvious (i.e. improved medical care).

First of all, large corporations review medical, educational, and recreational status before they opt to settle in an area. The County job market could well use several non-polluting industries.

Secondly, our unemployment statistics would welcome such additions, as well as the number of new positions created by an expanded medical facility.

And equally likely, a more extensive medical program may channel more of the County's youth into professional and para-professional careers.

I'm merely noting a few things Clifford Friend chose to overlook. If I were to deal with his petulant, inaccurate, and poorly qualified statements, I would exceed your 300-word limit.

In closing, let me say I also favor Sunday liquor sales. Some may not get around to reading your editorial page until Sunday, and a stiff drink might be needed to wash down Mr. Friend's prattling. Usually it's a little hard to swallow.

Dear Editor:

I favor approval of the referendum permitting backing of bonds by the County Commissioners for Garrett County Memorial Hospital renovation and expansion.

In my nine years in this county as County Health Officer, I have seen tremendous strides take place in the accessibility of primary medical care and the introduction of important new medical technologies both at the hospital and in pre-hospital emergency care. Many persons with new illnesses are receiving care earlier in the course of their disease, leading to more effective treatment, shorter treatment courses, and better chances of total cure of their disease. Many persons who used to travel great distances to obtain specialized types of care now are able to find such care at our local hospital and therefore save much time and expense.

The cost of medical care everywhere is rising steadily; however, I feel that the additional costs of this project added to the medical care costs of hospital users will be repaid to the users in continuing improvement of local medical services and ultimately improved quality of health and life for our Garrett County citizens.

The construction or renovation of a facility for the Health Department is not paid for by the proposed bonds, but if the hospital is successful in its project, it will facilitate continued and improved coordination of services between our two institutions for the betterment of the health of the entire community.

Sincerely,
William W. Pope, M.D., M.P.H.
Deptuy State Health Officer

To The Editor:

As a member of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital staff for 25 years, I have observed a consistent progress. However, we are living in a day of constant change. Modern medical technology, advanced equipment and facilities, and newer methods have all contributed to better health for more people.

I am proud of our hospital and the men and women who make it function. We have a capable administration and a competent medical staff. The Rescue Squads complement the role of the hospital emergency departments, and have been a tremendous asset to our community. I have had numerous opportunities to see surgical teams operating in large hospitals and medical centers, but I place our very own second to none. Our hospital possesses a wealth of surgical skill and competent medical expertise that has saved both life and limb.

Many man-hours of planning have gone into this medical complex to make it a model hospital for versatility and efficiency.

I urge my friends, my patients, and every responsible citizen to vote a resounding "yes" for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

I would also like to address the matter of the Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages. Having served for years on the Board of Directors for the Union Rescue Mission in Cumberland, I know something of broken lives that we have attempted to salvage by the Grace of God. Poverty, misery, suffering, destitution, and hopelessness become the way of life for the alcoholic.

Thousands of innocent people are killed and maimed every year as a result of drunken driving. Yet, there are those who would even take the Lord's Day to propagate death and destruction for financial gain.

We should take heed as to what we are voting for or against while we still have the freedom and the mind to do so.

Alvin P. Friend, D.D.S.

Dear Editor and Voters,

I wish to express the sense of urgency I feel over the upcoming referendum vote on Project G, the "new hospital" issue.

The decision is whether or not our hospital and available medical care will keep pace with more modern facilities.

Giant strides have been made in the areas of providing patient comfort and obtaining information about a patient's health or illness. It is impossible to incorporate the proven, tried-and-true advances into our current hospital because of lack of space and poor design.

The new building would allow two major changes: 1. Improved patient comfort, including ease and efficiency of care by the staff; 2. Acquirement of more technologically advanced and efficient equipment now in common use in most hospitals our size.

The second change deserves further comment:

Physicians completing training today utilize knowledge about patients obtained by more advanced testing methods. These new methods have either replaced or improved older methods. A newly-trained physician evaluating Garrett County as a possible practice site cannot change years of training to suit available facilities. That physician will either practice here and send patients to Cumberland or Morgantown for tests, or choose not to practice here at all.

New bricks and mortar do not make better physicians, but the proposed hospital would allow us to provide more complete care to our patients and help assure a continued interest in Garrett County as a place to practice medicine.

Paul P. Williams, M.D.

Dear Editor,

It grieves me when I hear of persons in opposition to modern health care in Garrett County.

Thirty years ago, as a lab and x-ray technologist, I helped open our hospital. Over the years, I have watched the growth and maturing of the hospital with great pride. Unfailingly, the needs of the patient have always been met.

The proposed addition and proof that the hospital and its staff shall continue to serve the needs of the citizens of the county in a responsible manner.

A tax-exempt County Bond Issue, to be paid for by hospital revenue, is the most economical way to finance the desperately needed improvements.

By means of this letter, Mr. Editor, I am urgently asking voters to vote for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sincerely,
Jacquelyn L. Shirer

Dear Don:

It is not my intent to be an alarmist or "know it all," but rather to remind those who have been talking down the need for added hospital services, that they may quite suddenly and without warning require those services being asked for by the Board of Directors and doctors.

I'm not certain that documentation exists on how many people have expired between here and Morgantown or Cumberland who would have survived if Garrett County Memorial had had the proper equipment to handle dire emergencies.

With the skilled and competent medical staff at the hospital, it seems to me that those of us who vote are abdicating our responsibilities by vetoing the need for hospital expansion; we are allowing regionalism, that old enemy that has been around since 1873, to dictate our conscience, logic, and concern for our neighbors. What good is the fantastic emergency squad service that the various area towns provide if the victim is taken to a hospital that cannot handle the patient properly?

Garrett County Memorial is a rural institution. It has never claimed to be a Johns Hopkins, Mayo Clinic, or West Virginia Medical Center. If you have formed an inconsistency here and there, remember these are the problems that hospital staff is hoping to rectify.

We have general practitioners, internists, surgeons, a pediatrician, heart specialists, lab technicians, x-ray technicians, registered nurses, practical nurses and aides, all willing to do their stuff when the ambulance with you or a member of your family arrives at the hospital.

It is beyond my comprehension how anyone in good conscience can vote to deprive those of us here and in the neighboring counties of West Virginia the opportunity to have superior hospital service, the like of which cannot be found in any rural community in this part of the country.

Sincerely,
Robert J. Ruckert

Dear Editor:

A ground breaking ceremony will take place on Friday, May 9, at 1:00 p.m. at the Broad Ford Road building site for the first Group Home in Garrett County for mentally handicapped adults.

To everyone who has been involved with the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens and Garrett Crossroads, Inc.; to everyone who will provide services to our residents; to everyone who may need this residence; and to everyone interested in the needs and services of handicapped persons in our community, an invitation is extended to join us for the ground breaking.

The two-year process has involved many people along the way. The need for a Group Home has long been recognized by the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens and it has been through the efforts of this group, its members and financial supporters that the Group Home will become a reality.

For those persons unable to attend the ground breaking ceremony, but who would like more information regarding our program, please call me at 334-9438 or write to: Garrett Crossroads, Inc., at P. O. Box 6, Mt. Lake Park, Md. 21550.

Sincerely,
Charlotte S. Griffith

Corliss, Schrock Sign Football Letters Of Intent At Shepherd

SIGNS WITH SHEPHERD — George Corliss, Southern High football standout, recently signed a letter of intent to play for Shepherd College. Witnessing the signing is Shepherd assistant coach, Mark McHale. Darrell Schrock, of Northern High School, also signed a letter of intent with Shepherd. See story.

Two Garrett County high school football standouts have signed letters of intent to play football for Shepherd College this fall. They are George Corliss, offensive guard and defensive linebacker from Southern High School, and Darrell Schrock, defensive lineman from Northern High School.

Corliss, 5-10, 175, was named on the Potomac Valley Conference; All-Cumberland (offensive guard and linebacker) and Highland Football Conference teams and also led his high school team to the Class C Finals.

Ranking 15th in a class of 235, Shepherd Ram head coach Walter Barr and assistant coach Mark McHale view Corliss as an excellent student as well as an athlete. Both Barr and McHale saw Corliss play in the Class C Maryland State Championship game and commented on his "speed to play in the secondary" and his "dedication with weights."

Schrock, 6-0, 190, was the Best Defensive Player in 1978 under head coach Jack Settle, and was also named to the Highland Conference All-Star team. His overall athletic ability will favor him at linebacker, according to assistant Ram coach Mark McHale.

While at Northern Garrett Senior High, Schrock also played basketball and baseball which "contributes to his versatility," accordiong to head coach Walter Barr.

Shepherd has been nationally ranked among small college football teams in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Division I three times in the last five years, but the Rams come off a 5-5 season in a rebuilding year.

A member of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC), Shepherd opens its 1980 season September 13, hosting non-conference rival Frostburg State College at 1:30 p.m. Following that encounter, the Rams play a nine-game round robin conference schedule.

Corliss and Schrock will report to the Shepherd College Campus in late August to begin preparation for the coming season.

Mt. Top Softball League Announces Game Schedule

The Mountaintop Softball League released the game schedule for Tuesday-Thursday, May 13-15.

Deep Creek Boat Company and Army & Navy Store will provide referees for the week's games.

Tuesday, My "O" Tire will play Garrett Automotive at the Deer Park Sportsman's Field; Aurora will play Ben's 135 Plumbing at Aurora; and Fratz Gas Mart will play Revco at Loch Lynn.

Wednesday, Bethelhem will play Sereno's at Deer Park; Starlite Restaurant will play Glotfelty's at Aurora, and Buddy's Used Cars will play Mt. Top Paving at Loch Lynn.

Thursday, Cee Dee Restaurant will play Deer Park Sportsman at Deer Park, and Green Acres Garden Center will play the Medicine Men at Loch Lynn.

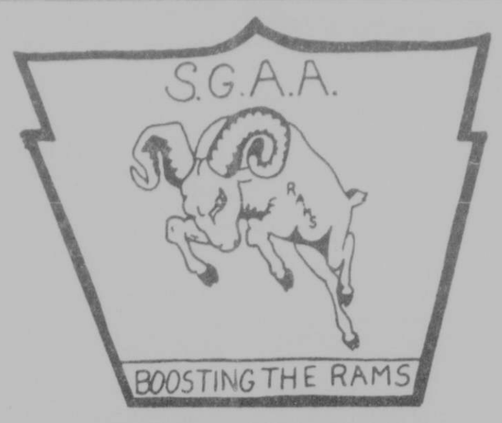

Ladies' Tournament Set For Wednesday

A ladies' golf tournament, pitting the Hot Flashes against the Bawl Babies, will be held next Wednesday, May 14, beginning at 10 a.m.

Members of the Hot Flashes and their handicaps are Louise Messenger, 40; Martha Lou Ashby, 28; Helen McHenry, 35; and Pat Steyer, 40. Members of the Bawl Babies are Jackie Shirer, 40; Pearl Daniels, 17; June Archambeault, 36; and Mary Lou Shaffer, 34.

The match is open to the public.

SOUTHERN GARRETT ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICIAL LOGO, pictured above, was recently chosen from several entries in a contest sponsored by the SGAA and the art department of Southern High School. The winning entry was submitted by Derrick Latin, a freshman, who won a $25 cash prize for his efforts. Derrick is the son of John Latin of Oakland. The emblem will be displayed by members and supporters of the SGAA, as an inside decal for use in automobile or other windows.

GCC Lakers Dumped By Allegany

The struggling Garrett Community Lakers dropped their 16th and 17th games of the season against only two wins by falling to Allegany Community College yesterday, 13-0 and 5-3, on the Lakers' diamond.

The Trojans, boosting their season ledger to 22-17, collected a total of 20 safeties, including five home runs, the key round tripper being Ken Klosterman's eighth-inning clout that provided the winning margin in the second game.

In the opener, during which John Holshey yielded only a single to Alan Sweitzer and a double to Dave Brunk, ACC collected three homers, including two-run blasts by both Kevin Kline and Lloyd Day in the third inning and by a three-run blast by Jim Gregg in the sixth.

Day and Ken Klosterman rapped out three hits apiece in that first game as Holshey struck out eight batters and walked only one. Tom Sommerville absorbed the loss.

The Lakers struck early in the nightcap with a two-run first inning on RBI singles by Sommerville and Brian Turley. They added another run in the third inning when Sweitzer walked and later scored on an error.

The Trojans battled back in the third when Tony Morris doubled and scored on a wild pitch. They tied the score with a two-run sixth inning, a two-run homer by Randy Lukens.

Rams Take Four Wins In One Day

by Todd Liller

In what is believed to be an area record, the Southern Rams played four baseball games last Saturday, winning all four to improve their record to 6-2. The Rams defeated University High of Morgantown 5-4 and 7-4, and they then swept the Petersburg Vikings 12-2 and 5-2.

In the opener against University, who entered the game with a 12-3 record, Doug Devlin drove in four runs with two doubles to power the Rams. Delbert Liller received credit for the win.

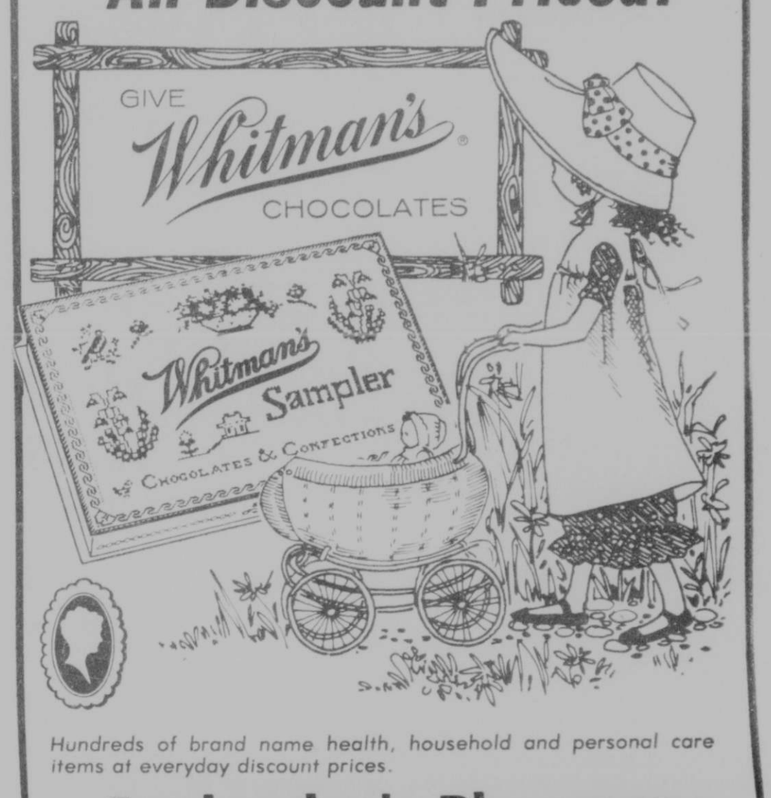

Ron Coddington pitched 2 and ⅗ innings of hitless relief in the nightcap to earn the win. Dave Sweitzer emerged as the game's hitting hero as he went three-for-three and drove in two runs. John Sanders also drove in two runs, while Liller had two hits.

The first game against Petersburg, who entered with an 11-2 mark, was called due to the 10 run rule. Raymond "Dink" Bennett supplied the offensive fireworks with a two run homer. Sanders once again drove in two runs, while Sweitzer added two hits. Liller sparkled on the base paths as he stole four bases. Jeff Colaw picked up the win for Southern.

Devlin and Bennett drove in two runs each to propel the Rams to their fourth win of the day in the nightcap. Coddington pitched four innings to pick up his second win of the day.

Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland

To the Voters of Garrett County:

On May 13, primary election day, you will have the opportunity to vote your approval of the building project of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland, composed of approximately 133 health care consumers and providers from across Western Maryland, has a vital interest in your decision. The Health Systems Agency has as its purpose the planning for health care of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick Counties, and is the local agency who reviews projects like the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

After many months of examining the proposed building as to cost, scope, need, available services, access to care, quality of care and acceptability, we unanimously recommended that the project be approved by the Maryland Health Planning and Development Agency. That agency also approved the project, as did the Maryland Health Services Cost Review Commission.

Health Systems Agencies are authorized to take positions in the public interest as regards health care. We therefore urge you to vote for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital building project. We believe this project is urgently needed to continue high quality medical care for Garrett County and surrounding areas.

Sincerely,

The Consumer and Provider Volunteers of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland

Huskies Smashed By Fort Hill

Danny Blank was the hero for Fort Hill yesterday by knocking in five runs, including three with a triple during a seven-run first inning, leading the Sentinels to an easy 13-1 victory over the host Northern Huskies yesterday afternoon.

Blank smacked a runrpoducing double in the second inning and an RBI single in the sixth as the Sentinels rattled 11 safeties off a trio of Northern hurlers.

Ron Solshey went the distance on the mound of the Cumberlanders, yielding only five hits and four walks while striking out seven.

The Huskies bunched two of those hits in the sixth inning and Bill Bender garnered his team's only run on an infield out.

Mark Alderton drove in a run with a third-inning sacrifice fly and Joe Powell tripled home a run in the fifth.

The Huskies, now 6-4, play Friday at home against Mt. Savage.

Rams Whip Keyser, 7-4

Southern High, coming off four victories last Saturday, was handed two runs on fielding miscues in both the fifth and sixth innings on route to a 7-4 Potomac Valley Conference triumph over Keyser Monday at Oakland.

Dave Sweitzer knocked in the tying run with a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning and then clouted a run-producing single in the sixth as the Rams rallied from a 3-1 deficit.

Ron Bosley picked up the win over John Suffern.

Southern needed only four hits, taking advantage of costly Keyser errors.

Lakers Drop Doubleheader To Pot State

The Garrett Lakers lost a doubleheader, 13-0 and 3-1, last Saturday to rival Potomac State.

The Cats rapped 11 hits and took advantage of six Garrett errors to cruise to the win in the opener.

In the nightcap, Jim Chobany led off the sixth with a homer to give the Cats the win. Steve Butler was tagged with the loss, while Jim Houghten took the loss in the opener.

The Lakers were limited to only two hits in both games.

Southern Rams Record Seventh Consecutive Win

Delbert Liller's two-run single in the third inning, combined with a fine pitching performance, paced the way for a Southern High Ram victory over visiting Central Preston, 10-3, yesterday. The win was the seventh in a row for Southern, which now has a record of 8-2 under coach Jim Bosley.

Liller singled to open a five-run first inning and Dave Sweitzer got aboard on an error. John Sanders then plated both baserunners with a single, and Sanders scored on a two-bagger by Ray Bennett. Doug Devlin then climaxed the inning by socking a triple.

In the big third inning Devlin doubled, Todd Lewis got aboard on an error and Rod Coddington walked to unload the bases. Liller then singled home Devlin and Lewis before Coddington scored on an error and Sanders' fielder's choice play allowed another run to score.

Randy Chapman capped the scoring in the sixth inning when he tripled and scored on an error.

Southern hosts Bruce this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Monte Vista 4-H Activities Set

At the May 1 meeting of the Monte Vista, Jr. 4-H Club, members voted to take a tour to Pittsburgh during the summer.

Tonya Bray made announcements of coming events. Cindy King reported on the Skating party held by the club. Melanie Thomas reported on the Bicycle Program held at the schools and members were encouraged to participate in the Bicycle Rodeo to be held at Southern Middle School on May 17.

The club then toured Stewart Funeral Home, where Brad Stewart explained the home's services.

Activities the club will participate in during May will be Horseback Riding, planting flowers in front of the Postoffice, and a tour of the Garrett County Jail.

The members taking Baby Sitting will meet at the Extension Office on May 20 at 3:45 p.m.

Terra Alta, W. Va. "Spring Fling" Is Weekend Affair

The Third Annual Spring Fling will be held in Terra Alta, W. Va. throughout the weekend of May 17.

The event will feature an antique car show, a distance run for World Hunger, entertainment, food children's activities, a craft show and special concert by Helen and Billy Scott, a husband and wife team from Ohio.

According to organizers Jim and Jo Ann Teets, last year's antique car show brought in nearly 100 cars, and the couple hopes to have a good return this year. Over 400 applications have been mailed out for the show, which will occupy the lower end of Washington Avenue.

Trophies will be awarded to winners of the distance run, and medallions presented to the first 100 finishers. Persons wanting more information and a registration form should write to David Ward, 201 Richfield Lane, Terra Alta, W. Va., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Carnival games, prizes, pony rides, painting sponsored by art students from East Preston High School, and a balloon lift-off witha prize to the child whose balloon travels the farthest, are among the events planned for the day. A fiddling contest will be held at 12:30 p.m., followed by Helen and Billy Scott at 2 p.m. A street dance is set for 4 p.m., with entertainment following until 7 p.m.

Over 20 craftspeople have been invited to participate in the craft show.

Sunday the Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Department's Auxiliary will sponsor the Spring Fling Free-For-All, based on the TV series, "Anything Goes," where teams of six people compete in a series of zany antics. Registration is $6 a team and the show begins at 2:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the East Preston Band Boosters.

Dear Editor:

Will you please publish my letter in your paper?

It is something to read all the letters to the Editor about Garrett Memorial Hospital. As an employee for many years, believe me, we need the renovation badly to help us keep our hospital and our fine doctors. I wish that more people of Garrett County would attend some of the meetings that are being held throughout the county, see the slides of the crowded conditions and hear some of the true facts and not just some hearsay story.

Won't you please vote yes on May 13th?

Dietary Department
Wanda Stahl

Dear Editor:

Have you or someone you love ever been in a hospital, or been told, directly or indirecity to get your papers in order because of pending surgery?

Recently I have experienced both.

I was in Garrett County Memorial Hospital last September. I have just returned from Washington, D. C., where I was a patient in a large university hospital, and the patient of a world renowned heart surgeon.

At G.C.M.H. I received excellent medical care, though limited because of equipment. My heart nearly stopped when a technician wheeled what looked like a monster into the intensive care unit. She proceeded to the foot of my bed!!! It was a "portable" x-ray machine which surely must date back to the Model-T era. From some point beyond the foot of my bed the technician aimed and pulled the lever.

At the university hospital, with all the latest equipment, the medical care was far from first class. Not one day passed without some type of problem with my medication. Sometimes late, sometimes forgotten and sometimes incorrect.

The heart surgeon confirmed my local doctor's diagnosis, I should have bypass surgery. However, with God's help, the clean, fresh air in beautiful Garrett County, proper diet and medication, I hope to avoid surgery.

The best cook in the county cannot prepare a meal without ingredients and equipment. The best farmer or mechanic cannot produce or repair without tools and equipment.

Let's don't ask our doctors, nurses and technicians to try to save our lives without what they need to work with. Also, let's don't forget that any hospital must grow if it wants to retain competent doctors and attract new ones.

Vote for the Hospital and Renovation Project! Remember, the next life they save could be yours or someone you love.

Maxine (Mrs. Robert) Combs,
Friendsville

Dear Editor:

In regard to the building and renovation project at the hospital, we would like to address a concern that has been expressed to us.

Those of us on the Board of Governors and medical staff recognize that many people in the county do not use the Oakland facility for health care, either for personal or geographic reasons. We are not in any way trying to convince people to use our facility if it is not convenient for them. However, the voters who use other hospitals have just as important a role in this issue as those who do not. If we cannot meet the needs of the people who choose to use our facility, the excess must be met by the surrounding hospitals and doctors. This is a situation that we are trying hard to correct.

The Board, the doctors and the staff are looking at health care with a concern for everyone in the county. We have worked hard to formulate a plan for a renovation program which is as practical and cost-efficient as possible, and we are determined that those people who use our facilities will not have to bear the burden of that cost.

Now that we are getting more doctors to meet demands, we need a hospital to handle the volume. We still have the support facilities that served a 35-bed hospital in the 1960's and the six doctors who practiced here ten years ago. With 17 doctors in the county by the end of the year, we desperately need more room.

Those of us who do not necessarily use the Oakland hospital are most definitely working for the good of everyone in Garrett County, whether they are affected directly or indirectly. We hope you will support us on May 13 with a vote for the hospital.

Dear Board and Staff Members,

I might also add that persons who do not normally use the Oakland facility never know when they might be in the Oakland area and become ill or injured. Most also have family and friends in the Oakland area, whose welfare is certainly of great concern to them.

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on my feelings about the hospital.

I have been a patient in the hospital seven times since it was built, and my husband was a patient there ten times in less than two years. I got to know the staff and the employees pretty well, and I have the greatest respect for them.

I often hear complaints that people go to the emergency room and can't see a doctor. If my family or I have to go to the doctor, we call ahead before we leave home and we never have any trouble.

A few years ago, I had a bad fall early on Sunday morning. My daughter called Dr. Mance, and by the time I got to the hospital, they were ready for me.

I think if they say we need a bigger hospital, I believe it, and I will go along with it. We are going to pay taxes anyway, so maybe it will be for our own good.

Respectfully
Edith Evans

Dear Sir:

I want to tell you that through those who report the "Aurora-Eglon and Oakland Local" news, your paper is giving a lot of pleasure to one who is a shut-in.

Bessie Shoemaker, who formerly lived in these areas is now making her home at the Mound View Health Care Center at Moundsville, W. Va. She receives this paper each week and someone reads it to her since her eyesight is not strong. She gets real pleasure from hearing news of those who are relatives and friends.

Bessie is a dear person and we all love her. I have told her that I intended writing to tell you that she always has a "good home-town" visit the day The Republican comes.

Yours truly

Dear M.

We extend your appreciation to Mrs. Claude Winters, who is our Aurora-Eglon correspondent.

Sir:

There once was a State's Attorney of a sort
Who could keep pampered persons out of court.
He said, I'll admit
I'm a bit of a twit
But I do play my politics smart.
He dreamt of a career less
caducous,
Such as walking tight wire in a circus,
Where he'd evoke cheers and thrills
By his acrobatic skills
While juggling a double standard of justice.
That old shoemaker by name of Redenim,
Who always at work wears blue denim,
Still lays out the boots
And won't give two hoots
Who comes running so hard to jump in 'em.

This persistent old fellow

To we readers keeps blowin',
About the Sanitary Commission
"Crooks,"
And their discrepant, misleading books.
Why don't he come forth with some facts,
So these "outlaws" can be

Sometimes I suspect he yearns

Than another "lip" by the name of Ralph Nader.
I wish he would come up with some proof,
Or is he in reality a spoof?
From Joe's blowin' we readers grow faint,
And like myself a poet he
"ain't".

VOTE FOR QUESTION "B" on May 13

Paid for by the employees of Garrett Co. Memorial Hospital

We Need Your Help!

Dr. Joseph Alvarez

"There is absolutely no question in my mind that what is being planned is the absolute minimum required to bring our hospital up to modern standards of medicine and surgery.

"At the present time our hospital is working at full capacity, and we would be unable to meet any further demands for medical services.

"The present proposal is the result of six years and countless hours of planning and cost cutting that have reduced the project from an original $20,000,000 proposal to the present bare minimum of $6,000,000.

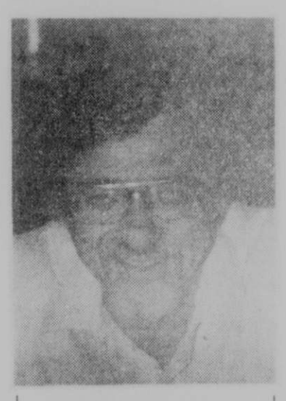

"We cannot hope to keep up the high quality of present medical services without the additional space and equipment."

"I am a practicing physician in Eglon, West Virginia. People in my area utilize the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. I have been very excited and supportive of the new building program proposed for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. We are presented with an opportunity to make significant improvements in the quality of health care available to our citizens. Through intelligent planning and funding this project should become a reality without any burden on the taxpayer or county budget. The bonds to be borrowed will be paid back by hospital revenue so that only the user pays. No tax money will be used. This is the same mechanism used by most hospitals throughout the country to build, renovate and expand.

"This project is for the benefit of every ill, injured and elderly patient who depends upon the Garrett County Memorial Hospital for his medical care. Vote for Question B on May 13 to bring the Garrett County Memorial Hospital into the 1980's at no extra cost to the local taxpayer."

"I feel that we have one of the finest hospitals in the country, and I would sincerely like for things to stay that way. If we sit still where we are now, we will slowly slide back into a second-class hospital. We must continue to be progressive. If we want to continue to give our patients the best possible care, we need the planned expansion and renovation to our hospital.

"We are now doing more laboratory tests, taking more x-rays, and doing more operations than ever before, and these are being done in areas that were designed for a 30-bed hospital. We are doing tests, examinations and procedures now that were not even known when our hospital was first built. Many of these are being done in make-shift and temporary quarters. If we want to maintain our accreditation, and keep up with modern medicine, I strongly feel it is necessary that we go ahead with this planned expansion and renovation. It is, after all, for the benefit of the people of our community."

"I am asking all citizens of Garrett County to help Garrett County Memorial Hospital help you. The upgrading of our Cardiac Intensive Care unit is just one example of the improvements that can be made in modern medicine to better serve the citizens of our area. For your health, vote FOR Question B on May 13."

Dr. Louis Rishel

"I am asking all citizens of Garrett County to vote in favor of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital's building and renovation project. New equipment and technical facilities are needed to provide more services and to help the physicians provide broader treatment of patients. Vote for Question B on May 13."

Dr. B. L. Grant

"I sincerely believe Garrett County Memorial Hospital needs the building and renovation program, and ask that Garrett County residents vote for this program."

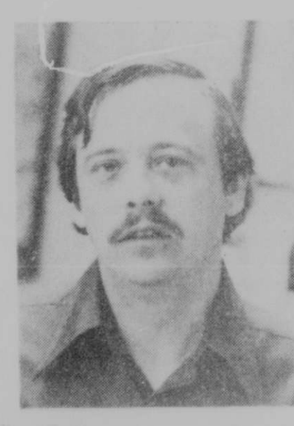

Dr. Jared Zelman

"I am urging your support for the building and renovation project. Passage of this bill will promote continued high quality medical care for the citizens of our area. Our hospital is overburdened, and is straining to meet the demands we are placing upon it. For the good of our citizens and continued excellence in health care, I urge you to vote for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital on May 13."

Dr. William Pope

"In my nine years in this county as County Health Officer, I have seen tremendous strides take place in the accessibility of primary medical care and the introduction of important new medical technologies, both at the hospital and in pre-hospital care.

"I feel that the additional costs of this project, added to the medical care costs of hospital users will be repaid to the users in continuing improvement of local medical services and ultimately improved quality of health and life for our Garrett County citizens."

"I urge the voters of Garrett County to vote for the hospital project on May 13th. It is now almost three years since I began practice in Friendsville. An important factor in choosing Garrett County was my belief that improvement of hospital services was planned for the near future.

"This project will help to assure progress toward that goal."

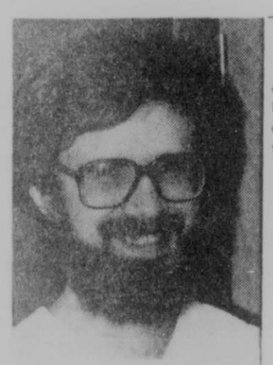

Dr. Herbert Leighton

"I feel that planning has been the key to the project. A lot of planning, thought and effort have been put into the project and it would be a great loss at this point not to be able to go through with the project. I would urge those who favor the project to express their feelings at the polls on May 13."

Dr. Mark Sugar

"The hospital addition is an absolutely essential need in this county. Without the additional facilities there is a chance the hospital will not be re-certified because there are certain basic physical requirements that must be met. With your vote, the project will go forth; without it, there will be no hospital for the future."

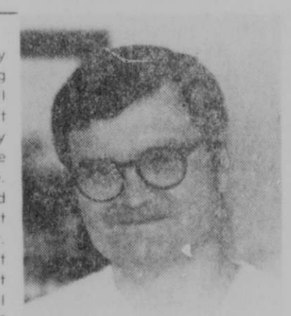

Dr. Paul Williams

"Present-day physicians are capable of offering our local people more complete care than our current facilities allow."

Dr. Bill Fedde

"I feel the Garrett County Memorial Hospital building and renovation program will enable physicians in Garrett County to upgrade the quality of hospital care, which the people of this county deserve. It will allow us to expand services through sufficient space and modern equipment. It will greatly improve patient comfort during their stay at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. I urge all citizens of the county to vote for Question B on May 13."

Health Systems Agency Meets In Grantsville

The Governing Board of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland met on May 1 at the Grantsville Holiday Inn. Garrett County Commissioner Truman E. Paugh, vice-president, presided.

Commissioner Paugh welcomed a new Board member, James K. Kluttz, president of the Frederick Memorial Hospital; and a guest, Dr. John Niell, Washington County Health Officer.

Ronald Screen of Beall, Garner, Screen and Geare, Inc., gave a brief presentation on a new proposed retirement system for Agency employees.

Quarterly reports were given concerning the February-April activities of the Governing Body from its Assessment, Plan Development & Data Collection, Health Resources Development, Special Health Services, State & Federal Certification, and Appalachian Advisory Committees by Committee Chairmen and staff representatives.

Concerning regulatory activities, four projects have been recommended by the State and Federal Certification Advisory Committee to the Maryland Health Planning and Development Agency for a total estimated cost of $12,414,332. These four projects are: Brook Lane Psychiatric Center Sewage Treatment Plant, $254,882; Allegany County Nursing Home Construction of a 150-bed nursing facility, $3,594,600; Citizens Nursing Home of Frederick County Construction of a 40-bed wing to an existing 120-bed nursing home, $1,031,850; and Garrett County Memorial Hospital Renovation and Expansion, $7,533,000.

Concerning review and approval activities, five projects: Cumberland Memorial Hospital Renovation and Expansion, Washington County Hospital Renovation and Modernization, EKG Monitor Defibrillators, Garrett County Health Complex, and the Primary Grades Curriculum projects were recommended to the Governing Body.

The Governing Board approved the actions of the Governing Body for the period February through April, 1980, and also gave its approval to the Agency's Charter.

The Governing Board's next quarterly meeting will be held Thursday, August 7, at 10:30 a.m., in Allegany County.

Attending from Garrett County were Comm. Ernest J. Gregg, Jr., Comm. H. Lester Hunter, Comm. Truman E. Paugh, and Col. J. Haig Jackson.

Accepting the Death of a Loved One . . . While He's Still Alive

by Carol Kapel

Imagine, if you will, a middle aged man struck down in the prime of his life by an illness so devastating that every phase of his existence is suddenly stolen away. He can no longer work, nor function in any manner once accustomed to.

Without warning, a wife and children are faced with decisions more crucial than ever before attempted by loved ones for loved ones.

Stages of anxiety abound, closely followed by panic, denial, anger, and fear. Nerves are shattered, while ties of love and bonds of devotion are strained and tugged until, finally, it's over. The decision has been made.

But what happens now? Where does the family go from here? What did they suffer before reaching this painful decision?

When someone you love is seriously ill, and about to die, the first instinct is for the immediate family to forget themselves completely, sacrificing everything, with no regard for the future. Everyone's life is suddenly disrupted, and unknown emotions are unexpectedly stirred.

It is not unusual for the children to witness a disintegration of family life as they have always known it. Feelings of guilt, stress, fear, and anxiety combine to viciously tear away at the very foundation of recognized life styles. Brothers and sisters seem to meet in emotional 'combat' with the mother or the father in an effort to avoid the painful decisions, to avoid the painful acceptance of responsibilities.

Those who are gravely ill do need the living; however, it serves no purpose to anyone for those 'left behind' members to sacrifice themselves to points of physical and mental exhaustion, financial destruction, and emotional devastation. Too often, the decision to commit a loved one to the care of a skilled medical facility is put off, totally ignored, and finally pushed aside completely as an impossible choice.

Anthony Fazio, director of an area nursing home states, "The number one problem the 'left behind' family members face is total acceptance of the given situation. Overextending the final decision to commit a seriously ill or mentally incompetent loved one to a skilled medical facility may well be the most monumental difficulty the family may endure prior to the eventual loss of that loved one."

Family members often nearly destroy themselves physically, jeopardize their careers, exploit their children, and even endanger their marriages by trying to give too much.

When the patient is a parent, quite often the roles must be reversed. The child must become the authoritative figure, while still maintaining the parental respect. The difficulty can be overwhelming, particularly in the case of a father-daughter relationship, and often in a mother-son instance. The child, even though he may be a mature and responsible adult, still finds facing the authoratative figure who cultivated his very life, a most difficult, if not nearly impossible, task.

Sometimes a seriously ill person feels guilty because of the burden he is placing on his spouse, both emotionally and financially. In other cases, he's so concerned with himself and his symptoms, that he's not aware, or doesn't really care about what he's doing to his family. Patients who are subconsciously unhappy with the quality of their own lives often feel cheated, angry, and resentful, taking this out on those relatives and friends closest to them.

The exhausted spouse and the children can resent this, and feel personal guilt, which often makes communication impossible. Many times a marriage that hasn't been on firm ground for a long time breaks totally apart under the stress of impending death, placing unheard-of strain on the children, who find themselves torn between two parents they love.

Once the decision has finally been made, and the patient has been committed to an appropriate medical facility, the battle seems to be over. Unfortunately, it is not. Suddenly, a whole new world of difficulties opens up, particularly in dealing with the terminally-ill loved one.

It is said you are alive until you are dead. To the 'left behind' family members, it's as if the loved one is already dead—being gone from the home, no longer able to provide financial assistance, or help make decisions, being conspicuously absent from the holiday table . . .

Actual death can be accepted after a reasonable period of time, but this is a situation to which the average person never feels he will be subjected. Suddenly, strange and frightening realities arrive on the already disrupted scene, and again, the 'left behind' find themselves attempting to reconstruct their lives around the absence of a key member.

Mr. Fazio pointed out, "The lowest point in life is total despair and lack of hope." He understandably compares the feelings of the committed patient to those very same feelings of the 'left behind' spouse and/or children. "Families have little or no control over what physically or mentally happens to a loved one, but they do have nearly total control over how they, themselves respond," he continued.

The basic points are clear. When faced with an unexpected medical crisis, families must immediately respond. They must join together as soon as possible to evaluate the total situation, from the standpoint of everyone directly involved . . . not just the stricken member. Investigating alternative care, discussing deep feelings with the medical personnel involved, using the welcome facilities of social workers who exist for the sole purpose of helping people through personal crisis periods, and, above all, disregarding the advice and criticism concerning the decisions to be made is an obligation every family in this position owes itself, and all the members directly involved on a day-to-day basis with the stricken member.

The patient must adapt to change in his lifestyle; however, he often has much more help available. His needs are provided for once he is in the care of a skilled medical facility. The 'left behind' family members have an obligation to themselves to make the same changes as quickly as possible. More often than not, they feel they have no one to help.

At times, visitation becomes difficult, if not totally impossible. The nursing home or medical facility becomes a painful reminder that we, too, cannot live forever, and the inability to walk down that hallway and into that room becomes nearly as difficult as the departure and the farewells.

Personal objects are needed to maintain a familiar environment, and it does everyone involved a portion of good to bring these things close to the loved one. Gifts are very important, as a change or pleasant surprise, but more important, according to Mr. Fazio, is the gift of time. God gave us no greater thing to share than ourselves, and along with this, He gave the ability to overcome guilt and fear associated with the visit, the phone call, the personal touch.

None of us has a crystal ball. Sometimes there is a warning. More often there is not. It helps to remember there are many people available to help that are less close to the actual situation, including many fine agencies and individuals in Garrett County.

A crisis, no matter how personal, can be shared, discussed, and worked out together with people who really care. You can live with anything you can talk about. There is no shame in taking your fears to someone you may not know. Often, they can look at things objectively, having empathy for everyone involved. Just discussing, or perhaps, dissolving in tears of sorrow for just a few moments can ease the burden all families carry when confronted with having to say a form of goodbye to someone you love.

As an afterthought, it is vitally important to know the value and availability of services so important to Garrett County residents finding themselves in situations similar to the one just revealed.

Because of people like Mrs. Ann Abrahamson, who serves as Director of Patient and Family Service with Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the many fine doctors with whom persons may share such problems, agencies such as the Homemaker Career Opportunities Project, affiliated with Garrett Community College, which assist in job training for women who suddenly find themselves without substantial incomes, the trained field social workers with the Garrett County Social Service Department, one is never totally alone with his problems.

This is a prime example of the way our community could be better served with expanded medical and professional facilities that can be ours on May 13 by thoroughly searching one's heart and mind on the question of absolute need. You never know when you may be met head on with a crushing blow that was never expected. Don't pass up the chance to help yourself and your community.

Homemakers Mini-Fair Is Slated

The Garrett County Homemakers will wrap up Homemakers Week with its Annual Mini-Fair. The fair will take place on Friday, May 9, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Social Hall.

Twelve Homemakers Clubs will participate in the event. Many handcrafted articles will be displayed as well as sold, and a supply of baked goods will also be available. Lunch will be served by the Swallow Falls Homemakers.

Two demonstrations will be given during the day. At 11 a.m. Mrs. Vi Fazenbaker will demonstrate "How to Make Molded Candy" and at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Audrey Baker will present a demonstration on "Making Silk Flowers."

All interested persons are invited to attend this annual event.

SHS JUNIOR CLASS TO PRESENT PLAY — The Junior Class of Southern High School will present the play "Take A Number, Darling," by Jack Sharkey, to the public Friday and Saturday, May 9-10, at 8 p.m., in the school cafetorium. The three-act farce takes place in the New York City penthouse of the happily married couple, Ellen and Duncan Latimer. Their otherwise contented lifestyle—she is a TV star and he a concert pianist—is disrupted when friends from Duncan's past show up asking lots of questions. Matters worsen when a devious reporter from Mystique Magazine tries to make a scandal of the affair while Ellen and Duncan's public relations manager attempts to hush the whole thing. Tickets are now available from cast and crew members and will be on sale at the door. Jane Avery is directing the play. Pictured above are the crew and cast members for the play: front row, Tami Tressler, Diane Parsons, Chip Taylor and Rick Winters; second row, Catie Ravenscroft, Cary Walters, Barbara Rostosky, Kim Zimmerman (student director), Dana Bittinger (Ellen Latimer), Mary Sincell (Gladys Nurmy), Blair Glass (Bart Madden); third row, Natalie Newhall, David Marple, Dave Gnegy, Holly Foley (Ilona Valdez), Vernon Leighton (Duncan Latimer), and Wayne Scott (Bill Rutledge). Missing from the photo is Judy Stover, a student director.

Gary's finished piece showed two male pheasants startled into flight from a cornfield. To give a spiral effect, Gary placed one bird directly above the other with its tail feather touching the wing feather of the second bird. Both are flying straight up. The birds, approximately nine inches long each including their long tail feathers, are both painted. The base of the sculpture resembles a harvested cornfield.

Gary says he does not know how many total hours he spent on his piece. He began working on it during the last part of December but did not work exclusively on it until the end of March. Then he put in 12-13 hours a day.

GCTA Favors Hospital Project

The Garrett County Teachers' Association recently conducted a survey among its members concerning the question of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital bond issue, which will appear on the May 13 ballot, and the question of an elected versus an appointed school board.

Out of a total of 214 members, approximately half responded to the survey.

On the hospital renovation and building project, 62% voted in favor of the project, 15% voted against, and 23% were uncommitted.

Concerning the school board, 51% were against an elected school board, 30% were for an elected board, and 19% were uncommitted.

Appalachian Adult Activity Center (the activity center and sheltered workshop for handicapped adults in Oakland).

Once the public hearing was held and a building permit obtained, the State began their acquisition of the land, the formulation of the building specifications for the home, and the bid process to award the building contract.

On April 9, the State Board of Public Works gave final approval to the project. The building contract was awarded to Garrettland Construction Company. Construction is expected to begin in late May, with the opening scheduled before 1981.

This residence will be available to eight mentally handicapped adults (four currently living in Garrett County and four who are institutionalized because there is currently no place available in the County for them to live), with Garrett Countians given priority.

The residents will be engaged in full-time employment or attendance at AAAC or school. A staff will live in the home and supervision will be provided at all times when a resident is in the home.

The construction of the residence and its operation is being totally funded by state funds, no local funds have been used although GORC established the Lois B. Naylor Fund, in memory of the late Lois B. Naylor, to receive local contributions to purchase items needed for the group home.

Members of the Garrett Crossroads, Inc. Board of Directors, the organization which will supervise the operation of the group home, are: Charlotte Griffith, president; Mike Brandes, vice president; Joan Ivanauski, secretary; John Toston, treasurer; Nita Puffinburg; Bill Naylor; Sue Pagenhardt; Joyce Bell; Helen Frantz; Dorothy Leuba and Richard Seaks.

Career Day Slated May 15 At GCC For County Youth

Approximately 500 juniors and seniors from the two county high schools will travel to Garrett Community College for a Career Day from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Thursday, May 15.

Career Day, organized through a joint effort by the counselors of Northern and Southern high schools and personnel of the GCC admissions office, will allow the students to become acquainted with the types of employment available in Garrett County as well as learn about various careers and colleges.

Bill Ewing, director of admissions at GCC, emphasized that parents are welcome to attend the event with their children.

Students and their parents are expected to arrive at the college by 9:30 a.m. Most of the students will come by bus from their schools.

The day will begin with an orientation to be held in the GCC gymnasium. Dr. Donald Ruhl, GCC president, and Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent-elect of the county public school system, will each deliver brief speeches to the students. The students will receive booklets and maps to guide them through the day before the orientation.

The remainder of the day will be divided into three one-hour sessions with a one hour break for lunch between 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Students and parents are expected to bring their own lunch.

Persons representing colleges, local businesses and careers will be present to talk with the students and will be grouped in different areas of the college. College representatives will be in one area, local business representatives in another, and career representatives in yet another. Students will be divided into small groups and will be allowed to spend one hour at each station.

type of carving has emerged over the years. It is more like sculpture, with wood remaining as the primary material. Instead of carving the shape out of one block of wood, the shape may be formed from many different pieces with wire and even glass eyes added.

Because the bird carvings were judged according to their likeness to the bird copied, Gary spent much time researching the physical characteristics of male pheasants before designing his piece. The design process was also complicated. "I had between 15-20 patterns," Gary said.

Special Olympics, Hike And Bike Slated This Month

The Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens (GORC) will be sponsoring two of its over 15 annual events for handicapped citizens of Garrett County this month.

The special Olympics, held in conjunction with other county groups and individuals for the mentally handicapped, will be Thursday, May 8 in the Garrett Community College gymnasium beginning at 9:30 and the Fourth Annual Hike and Bike, GORC's major fundraiser, will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 17 at Southern Middle School Parking Lot for the southern part of the county and at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 18 at the Grantsville Health Center for the northern part of the county. (Rain dates will be May 24-25, respectively).

To begin the local Special Olympics Thursday, the estimated 60 contestants, both children and adults, will recite the Olympics pledge led by Julie Cahan, Director of the Maryland Special Olympics. Dr. Donald Ruhl, GCC president, will welcome the participants.

The indoor and outdoor events will begin at 10 a.m. and continue to 2:30 p.m. Contestants will compete in the frisbee throw, the standing long jump, the 50-yard dash, and the softball throw.

"It's a heartwarming experience," stated Charlotte Griffith, a member of GORC, speaking of the day reserved for the mentally handicapped. She described the atmosphere as one with a "spirit of friendly competition" where friends cheer one another on even though they are competitors. She emphasized that spectators are welcome.

The winners of the events will be eligible to compete in the state Special Olympics scheduled June 13-14 at Towson.

This year will be the third year for mentally handicapped citizens of the county to compete at the state level. In 1978, county participants in the state Special Olympics brought home the state championship title in volleyball. The local olympics and the trip to the state olympics is made possible partly through GORC funds and partly through the contributions from county organizations. This year contributions have been received from the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lion's Club, the Oakland Rotary Club, the American Legion and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Other contributions have been made in the form of time, services and items needed for the local special olympics. Physicians George Zellman and Andrew Mance conducted physical examinations, required of the participants, free of charge. The GCC student government purchased the medals for the awards. Other citizens assisted in furnishing the equipment and in arranging the physical examinations.

GORC members also note the cooperation of the Board of Education and the donation by Mrs. Helen Frantz who provides her bus free of charge for transportation of the participants.

The children trained for the event through their adaptive physical education classes in the county schools; the adults trained at the Appalachian Adult Activity Center under the direction of GORC president, Dorothy Leuba.

"Everything fell in place," said Rick DeWitt, of the Appalachian Adult Activity Center, describing the amount of public cooperation and support for the olympics.

Charlotte Griffith added, "We're getting much more public response than ever before." She noted that public response was greater this year for all GORC activities including the olympics and the annual hike and bike event.

The fourth annual hike and bike, being coordinated by Tom Graybill, a member of GORC, will provide GORC with funds for services and activities for the handicapped in Garrett County. "We fill the gaps that other agencies can't provide," stated Ms. Griffith.

Participants in the event, from ages 12 and up, are allowed to ride a bicycle, walk or jog on the ten-mile course. "They can ride it as often as they like," said Tom Graybill who remembers when an exchange teacher from Europe rode it 12 times.

The participants are responsible for locating sponsors who are willing to pay them pledged amounts of money for each mile they travel and for then collecting the pledged amounts. Hike and Bike officials provide the participants with verifications of the distance traveled and receipts to donors for tax deduction purposes.

Cash prizes will be awarded to those who turn the most money in within two weeks after the event. A prize of $50 will go to the handicapped person and the nonhandicapped person in the southern part of the county and in the northern part of the county who turns in the most money. A $100 prize will go to the school in the southern part and in the northern part of the county whose students collectively turn in the most money. A drawing for $10 will be held at both the northern and southern events for the participants. Each participant will receive a souvenir.

Prior to both events, the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization will conduct bicycle safety inspections beginning at 11:30 a.m. During both events volunteer emergency medical technicians will be on stand-by and the CB radio club will supervise along the courses.

Tom Graybill stated that persons who wish to sponsor a participant but have not been contacted or those wishing to obtain sponsor sheets should call him at 334-8111 or 895-5050.

Last year, 145 persons participated in the event and collected a total of $6,000.

GORC, which will soon change its name to the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped (GOH), meets the first Thursday of every month at 7 p.m. in the Appalachian Adults Activities Center. Its officers are Dorothy Leuba, president; Charlotte Griffith, vice president; Cheryl Henderson, secretary; and Alice A. Ridder, treasurer.

In the past year GORC has sponsored the following activities: the Garrett Crossroads Group Home, a project developed by GORC four years ago for the mentally handicapped; the local and state Special Olympics; the Directory of Services for Handicapped Persons in Garrett County; Boy Scout Troops at Dennett Road School and in Accident; funded salary for a nurse for the one-week camp program for handicapped children at Camp Hickory; sponsored a participant in the Heart Fund Rock & Roll Jamboree; contributed financially to RESPOND, Inc. to assist with the purchase of a van for a severely disabled county resident; subsidized temporary foster care placement for a mentally handicapped adult; sponsored a Christmas party for handicapped adults and children and a Valentine's Day dance for handicapped adults; provided architectural barrier surveys for public and private buildings; consulted with the Board of Education regarding removal of architectural barriers in buildings and planning for barrier-free schools; worked with the Board of Education to establish graduation exercises for the mentally handicapped and to develop a Special Education Curriculum;

Provided advocacy services for the developmentally disabled; acted as a referral group for services available to the developmentally disabled population; and held fund raisers such as the Annual Hike & Bike and the Autumn Glory Road Rally.

La Leche League Welcomes Mothers

The La Leche League invites mothers, and expectant women to its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 13 at 7 p.m. at the home of Barbara Speicher, Bumble Bee Road, Accident.

This is the first in a series of four meetings to be held the second Tuesday of each month. Discussions will include aspects of mothering and breastfeeding, such as the advantages of breastfeeding, preventing and overcoming difficulties and the family's adjustment to a new baby, and the introduction of solid foods and weaning.

The local leader maintains a 24-hour telephone service for women seeking information about the league. A professional advisory board of over 30 physicians and specialists supply the league with current information and approve the materials available in the group's lending library.

Women wanting more information about the La Leche League should call the local leader, Ellinor Hamilton, at 826-8543.

County Financial State To Be Aired

The League of Women Voters of Garrett County will meet with the county commissioners Monday, May 12 at 11 a.m. to discuss the current financial situation of the county.

A spokesperson for the League stated that the public is invited to attend to ask questions and to listen to the discussion.

The League met with the commissioners in February to discuss the financial situation. It decided to meet with them again to question them on what has happened since the February meeting.

Mandel To Begin Serving Sentence

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Former Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel will begin serving his three-year prison sentence for political corruption May 14 at Eglin Air Force Base Federal Prison Camp in Florida, a federal prisons spokesman said Tuesday.

Mike Aum, spokesman for the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, said Mandel and two co-defendants, Harry W. Rodgers III and Irvin Kovens, convicted with Mandel of mail fraud and racketeering and sentenced to three years, were granted their request to be sent to the minimum security camp in the Florida panhandle.

Mandel and five co-defendants were convicted in August 1977. Mandel accepted gifts and cash worth $350,000 from his co-defendants to influence race track legislation beneficial to the five men.

The Supreme Court last month denied Mandel's final appeal and a federal judge reduced his sentence from four to three years earlier this month.

Aum said co-defendant W. Dale Hess will serve his three-year sentence at Maxwell Air Force Federal Prison Camp, in Montgomery, Ala., as he had requested.

William A. Rodgers also got his request to be serve his one year and one day term at the Volunteers of America work release center in Baltimore.

Mandel and the four other men must report to the facilities by 9 a.m. May 14.

The sentence of the fifth co-defendant, Ernest N. Cory Jr., was suspended and he was placed on probation.

Landlady Charged With Shooting Two Tenants

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An elderly landlady was being held Tuesday on charges she shot a woman and her son who were tenants in her home.

Police said Gertrude L. Ross, 73, was charged with assault with intent to murder and use of a deadly weapon in Monday's assault of Edna Simpson, 45, and her son, 29-year-old Stanley Shane. She was being held in the Women's Dentention Center in lieu of $15,000 bail.

Mrs. Simpson was listed in serious but stable condition at Johns Hopkins Hospital with multiple skull fractures. Her son was treated for pellet wounds in his head and released from the hospital Monday.

Shane told police he tried wrest a rifle from the woman when he was shot with a revolver containing rat pellets.

State Workers Leave Nest Egg Alone

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — State employees eligible to withdraw large sums of money invested in the state retirement program are apparently deciding in large numbers to leave the money there to insure a bigger nest egg for the future.

Despite a national economic climate beset by inflation, soaring fuel costs and exhorbitant interest rates, only 22 percent of all state employees and teachers eligible to withdraw money from the state's old pension plan have done so.

Consultants who helped formulate a new retirement plan to replace the one that was bankrupting the state had estimated 40 percent of those in the old plan would switch to the new one.

But officials and legislators familiar with the pension plans say it is much too early to be concerned that the 40 percent level has not been reached.

"We really won't get a handle on this for another year or year-and-a-half," said Christ G. Christis, assistant secretary for personnel for retirement systems.

But Christis said the slow rate of transfers means it will take the state longer to extracate itself from the financial burden created by the older, more expensive pension plan that was available to all employees before the new plan went into effect Jan. 1.

"If it falls short, it would be a higher cost to the state," Christis said. "It means we'll have to pump in some more money."

"I really thought we'd get at least 50 percnt of the people who would switch over," he said. "But it is still early. We could reach it in time."

State employees hired since Jan. 1 may only join the new pension plan, which was created by 1979 legislation and which requires no employee contribution but which provides generally lower benefits in the long run.

Those already in the old system, however, may stay in it until retirement or may switch to the new system anytime before July 1 this year, or on July 1 only in succeeding years.

As an incentive to prompt employees to make the switch, pension system regulations permit employees who join the new system to withdraw all or part of the money they have contributed over the years to the old system.

As of April 30, the state had returned $116.2 million to the 34,184 employees and teachers who joined the new retirement system.

Of that amount, $45.2 million went to the 11,815 teachers and $71 million was returned to the 22,369 general employees who jumped to the new system. The switchover amounted to 15 percent of the teachers and 28 percent of the other state employees eligible to make the change.

Baltimore Officials Search For Financing For Highway Projects

BALTIMORE (UPI) The city will must find new sources of revenue or raise taxes if it is to finace its part of the proposed expansion of Interstate 83 or the Leakin Park link of Interstate 70, an official said.

City Finance Director Charles Benton Jr. said the cost of completing the planned interstate system has risen $1.2 billion in the past two years to about $3 billion. The city's share of those costs is now about $172 million.

Benson said the city had planned to pay those costs from its shaof the state motor vehicle fund. But revenues in that fund are declining and he said the city must either drop the projects or find new ways to finance them.

Police Brutality Charges Made

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The NAACP, charging police brutality is rampant in the city, Tuesday called for the creation of a panel with subpoena power to review citizen complaints against the police force.

Dr. Emmet C. Burns, NAACP regional director, also said Police Commissioner Donald D. Pomerleau is a "racist" and should resign upon his 65th birthday Aug. 31.

Police spokseman Dennis Hill denied police brutality is widespread and said all complaints are investigated and those involved are informed of the results. He called the charge that Pomerleau is racist, "riduculous on its face."

Burns told reporters his office has been "flooded" in the past seven months with complaints from blacks about police brutality or officers entering their homes without a warrant.

He distributed a list of seven recent cases, including an incident in which Ja-Wan McGee, 17, who was unarmed, was shot and paralyzed by a detective March 20.

One man, Boston Hector, 57, showed cuts and bruises he said were suffered when police beat him to the ground for no reason April 22, when was arrested on charges of assaulting and refusing to obey an officer.

Hector said he was standing on a street corner eating nuts and the altercation began after he had been ordered to move on.

Burns said he would meet soon with Pomerleau to tell him, "We want police brutality stopped in Baltimore and we don't care how you do it."

Herbert Singleton, NAACP attorney, said the group wants the City Council to replace the current board that reviews complaints against police with a panel that has subopoena power and a staff to perform investigations.

He said the current board is to weak to adequately investigate complaints.

"It doesn't make sense for us to live in this community and allow 2,000 armed men to roam through our streets without community supervision," Singleton said.

A bill that would create a board like the one proposed by Singleton has been introduced in the council, but he said it is unsatisfactory because it does not include subpoena powers or adequate staff and funding.

Hill said, "We would be opposed to it. We know that it has been tried in other cities and has failed. You can not get a group of lay persons who are qualified or could investigate in an unemotional manner.

"We have a system that will find the problems and we think it has been very effective."

Burns said the NAACP would begin reporting charges of police brutality to the FBI and Department of Justice in hopes the government would file suit against the department. He blamed Pomerleau for many of the problems.

"We have got to get rid of him," Burns said. "We have got to get rid of his racism and his small way of thinking. His attitude is filtering down to the men below him and this is why we have all this police brutality."

Pomerleau's term ends in 1984 but Burns said he should resign on his birthday as required by the city charter. The mayor, however, has introduced a bill in the City Council that would allow Pomerleau to remain in office until his term expires.

Mayor Proposes End Of Summer Programs

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) Mayor John C. Apostol's proposed a $12.9 million budget calls for eliminating a summer jobs program and a job counseling service for youths.

He said the city can no longer afford to support the two programs, which cost about $41,000 a year.

The Youth Services Bureau, which provides job counseling and referrals, would have to close without the city's $25,000 grant because it would be ineligible for matching state funds, officials said.

County Sells Mugs

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) Howard County has begun selling coffee mugs decorated with the county seal and executive's signature as a means of promoting itself.

"We think we are great and we want everyone to know it," said County Administrator William E. Eakle.

Eakle said the mug sales might lead Howard County further into the novelty business. T Shirts, tie tacks and cuff links with the county seal could be next, he said.

Property Tax Credit Refused

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UPI) — The Carroll County Commission has decided not to implement a property tax credit for home builders even if the enabling legislation is signed by Gov. Harry Hughes.

The bill sponsored by Delegate Raymond E. Beck, R-Carroll, would allow waiver of property taxes for newly constructed homes that builders cannot sell or rent. Commissioner Norman Graham said he opposes the measure because it unfairly discriminates in favor of speculators.

Two similar bills that would apply the tax credit statewide are also awaiting Hughes' signature.

Retailers Consider Store Restoration

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI) Urban planners considering ways to redevelop downtown Salisbury have suggested using a bridge across the Wicomico River to link black and white communities.

The team of architects said the Main Street bridge across the river should become a center for such activities as farmers markets and festivals instead of a barrier between blacks and whites.

The plan must be approved by city officials.

Baltimore Citizens Upset About Plans To Raise Bus Fares

BALTIMORE (UPI) A few dozen people who are upset about plans to raise bus fares told officials at a public hearing the increase would hurt those who can least afford it.

About 30 people showed up at the first of three public hearings Monday to protest the Mass Transit Administration's plans to raise the flat bus fare to 50 cents for adults.

The MTA also plans to charge 10-cent to 75-cent fares for riding through a zone, a 5-cent transfer fee and increase downtown fares from 10 to 25 cents.

City Police Request Donations Of Horses

BALTIMORE (UPI) The city police department, faced with a shortage of horses in its und li it, is asking horse owners to donate steeds in return for tax benefits.

Sgt. John McCormick said a tight budget and the rising cost of horses has made it impossible for the city to purchase the four new horses needed in th unit.

He said some officers have been forced to conduct patrols on foot because of the shortage.

The ideal donated horse should be a neutered male, between 4 and 12 years old, dark in color and even-tempered, McCormick said. "We don't want a horse that is going to turn into a blundering idiot when we get it on the street," he said.

Reported Crimes Up 36.1 Percent In Howard County

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) Howard County police attribute a large jump in reported crimes in the first quarter of 1980 to increased citizen awareness of the need to tell police about even minor crimes.

The number of reported crimes rose 36.1 percent in the first three months of 1980 compared to the same period last year, Police Chief Paul Rappaport said.

He said juvenileho repeatedly commit offenses contributed to the increaseand that some officers are "upgrading" the seriousness of crimes in their reports.

Rappaport said 1,324 serious crimes - homicides, manslaughter, rape, robbery, assault and auto theft were reported in the first quarter of 1980, 351 more than the previous year.

Toxic Chemicals Being Repackaged In Federal Depot

BROOKLYN, Md. (UPI) Toxic chemicals stored at a federal depot were being repackaged in new containers Tuesday because officials determined that acid mixed with the chemicals was eating through some of the 60 steel drums used for storage.

The drums hold waste oil laced with polychlorinated biphenyl, or PCB, that was transported from an abandoned Eastern Shore tank farm to the federally owned depot in February.

The 55-gallon drums were being wrapped in three acid-proof bags and placed in larger containers packed with soda ash, said Coast Guard spokesman Mike Waller. Waller said the drums will be inspected daily until the repacking is completed. Then they will be inspected once weekly.

The steel drums were found at the abandoned tank farm in Sharptown, Waller said.

Meanwhile, Bethlehem Steel Corp. officials said two employees who accidentally walked through a puddle of PCB-laden oil were not in danger.

Company spokesman Ted Baldwin said the two men quickly removed their boots, which were destroyed, after walking through the puddle.

"We don't think there was any exposure to PCB," Baldwin said.

The oil leaked from an electrical transformer at the company's Sparrow's Point tin mill. The area was isolated while special crews cleaned up the contaminated oil.

State environmental officials said te oxc ildino leak from the mill area and was no danger to the health of workers. The Maryland Occupational Health and Safety Agency was investigating.

Federal Funds Grant Awarded

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The state will soon receive more than $2.7 million worth of federal funds that will be used for energy conservation in schools, hospitals and public buildings, an official said.

The Department of Energy is awarding the grants as part of a nationwide effort to reduce energy consumption in institutions, said Obra S. Kenodle III, program administrator.

The funds will be pay adminstrative costs of the program and for installing energy saving devices in the buildings, she said.

Unexpected ID Checks to Be Made At Maryland Univ.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — A University of Maryland spokesman Tuesday warned students to expect some unannounced identification checks in the next 10 days as part of a university-wide crackdown on cheaters.

Gary Pavela, the director of the university's campus judicial program, said the school is coupling the spot checks during this spring's final exams with a tougher ethics code in an effort to cut down on cheating.

Pavela said the first such spot check occurred at an exam in a psychology course. Of the 400 or so students taking the exam, 57 did not have university identification cards or could not prove they were actually enrolled in the course.

Another check later that day of a class of 50 turned up four people who admitted someone else had paid them to take the test.

Pavela said the university doesn't plan to make "a regular habit" of raiding final exams for "ringers," but added, "I don't think it's correct to say it's a one-time thing."

Pavela said a new ethics code with tougher penalties for cheaters will take effect May 17.

He said the new code was prompted both by a nationwide study last year that indicated many schools are lax in penalizing cheaters and a survey in which "25 to 30 percent" of Maryland students admitted they had cheated at least once in their college careers.

"It's always embarrassing to admit these problems exist," he said, "but I'm proud we're willing to address it ... and the deterrent effect should sharply reduce the amount of cheating that goes on."

"One question in parting — who audits yours?"

Baltimore Youth Shot By Police, Sees Specialist

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Ja-Wan McGee, the teenager who was shot and paralyzed by an off-duty policeman, has been transferred from City Hospital to the rehabilitation unit at Good Samaritan Hospital, for treatment by a specialist.

Dr. Arthur Siebens, noted for his work with paralysis victims, has agreed to work with McGee. The 17-year-old was paralyzed below the rib cage March 20 when he was shot by a policeman at a pizza shop. The officer said he thought McGee, who was unarmed, was trying to rob the store.

The youth is expected to spend 10 weeks in the hospital. The Crippled Services Division of the Maryland Department of Mental Health and Hygiene has agreed to pay the $11,200 cost.

Clever Thieves Hoax The Wife Of Restauranteur

BALTIMORE (UPI) — City police searched Tuesday for two men who posed as city employees and took $33,000 in cash and jewelry from a city woman who was tied up and left in a closet.

Police spokesman Dennis Hill said two men posing as public works employees were allowed to enter the Roland Park home of Georgia Angelos, 38, Monday afternoon on the premise they needed to shut off the water.

He said once inside the men brandished revolvers, tied up Mrs. Angelos, shoved her in the closet, ransacked the home and fled with the jewels and cash. Mrs. Angelos, the wife of a Timonium restaurant owner, was able to free herself and call police.

State Health Department Says "Dog-Bite Season" Approaching

Take 300,000 Maryland elementary school children, a triple amount of pet dogs, mix with a generous amount of vacation time and the results will show year after year a painful record of confrontations that often end up in emergency rooms, according to the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

The 13,538 animal bites reported in Maryland last year, mostly children under 14 years of age, cost parents, insurance companies and tax payers over 2.1 million dollars, the Department said.

The explosive formula which is responsible for these bites, inflicted mostly by dogs (11,572), is well known and 99 percent preventable, according to Dr. Kenneth L. Crawford, Chief of the Division of Veterinary Medicine.

"To ignite the formula, simply take one out-of-school child, add one neighber's normal dog who hasnt been hassled all winter long, mix with plenty of free time and good weather for dog and child to blend under noisy and close conditions and you have a near perfect formula for trouble," Dr. Crawford said.

Bite attack records clearly show that animals that bite are usually well known in the neighborhood. In addition, bite victims are often found to be guilty of attempting to catch, hold, pet, or play with an animal which is not owned by his family. Animals with bite histories when subsequently examined by veterinarians are often found not to be agressive. Such animals commonly dislike any contact whatsoever with non-family members.

Dr. Crawford points out a high percentage of bites occur when territorial rights of a family are invaded and the family dog acts to prevent the invasion. These animals readily use their natural instincts when they believe they are threatened or if they cannot retreat. Even family members may be bitten when a dog is disturbed when sleeping or eating.

"Parents have a responsibility to instruct their children that any animal, and especially wild animals, bites instinctively when they are faced with stress situations. This includes being frightened by a child that intends no harm.Such behavior for a particular child may well be perfectly natural. For example, loud, high-pitched cries and rapid body movement is expected of young people, but these acts may not be acceptable to a particular pet. The defense mechanism of most animals is to go on the offense with their teeth," Crawford said.

Investigative records of police who must, by Maryland law, investigate animal bites, show dogs participating in exciting frenzy of children'a play may nip or slightly bite a person. These dogs may respond to the immediate frantic reactions of the child by becoming more excited and consequently inflicting even more serious wounds.

Moreover, surveys of the Division of Veterinary Medicine disclose that a child under eight years old is more likely to be bitten severely about the head and neck. Seemingly, this occurs when the frightened child frantically waves hands and arms above the head while screaming in terror. This position exposes a vulnerable and acessible vocal area for an attack.

Dr. Crawford's basic rules for preventing and dealing with most animal bites are:

1. Parents should frequently order their children never to approach animals other than their own family pets.

2. Veterinarians can usually detect with the owners assistance serious behavioral attitudes and changes in the mannerisms which may result in the pet becoming a liability to the family. Owners of pets which have bitten a person, or which show dangerous or vicious tendencies should rely only on expert veterinary judgment concerning their animal's suitability as a pet.

3. Citizens must play a major role in reporting vagrant animals. Citizens seeing a dog running at large should promptly report the fact to local animal control agencies. Frequently, local government ordinances insufficiently control vagrant animals and were not designed to cope with the size of the problem. Many animal ordinances are poorly enforced because of manpower and budget reasons. Nevertheless, these vagrant or at large animals are annually responsible for thousands of injuries to the public and valued animals.

4. Whenever a person is bitten by an animal, Maryland law requires that all animal bites be reported by telephone to the local police. An official investigation will be made on the authority of the local health officer, and thereafter appropriate anti-rabies precautions will be promptly taken.

5. Rabies is the most serious consequence of an animal bite. Therefore, currently valid rabies immunization of all dogs and cats is recommended. Licensing and rabies vaccination of dogs are required by Maryland law. To assist pet owners, each spring and fall local health departments offer well-publicized rabies vaccination clinics.

Program Offers Low Interest Housing Loans

A new state-funded home loan program will allow about 1,500 Maryland families who are buying their first home to secure loans of up to $55,000 at an 11 percent interest rate.

According to officials with the Community Development Administration (CDA), an agency of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development, the new Mortgage Purchase Program will make approximately $71 million available to Maryland residents who wish to buy an existing home as their first home. The money is expected to be available by mid-May.

Under the program, 28 participating lenders statewide will process applications and go to settlement with the approved buyer. The CDA will then purchase those loans which meet the various eligibility requirements.

In addition to the borrower buying an existing house as a first-time purchase, the applicant must be a U. S. citizen, a Maryland resident for at least one year, and have a good credit rating. The maximum income for families to qualify ranges from $20,000 for a one-person family in a rural area to $29,200 for a family of four in a Washington suburb.

Approximately $66.5 million of the total of $71 million has been allocated by county based on population. The remaining $4.5 million will be held in reserve to fund requests from Allegany, Calvert, Caroline, Dorchester, Garrett, Kent, Somerset, Talbot and Queen Anne's counties where the CDA was unable to locate local lending institutions to participate in the program.

Families interested in applying for the MPP can contact any of the participating lenders directly. Lenders will have detailed information on the program and application process.

Loch Lynn Church To Hold Special Services May 11-16

Rev. Starley E. Weese, a young teacher and minister from Cumberland, will be the speaker for a week of special emphasis on Christian living and youth activities at the Loch Lynn United Brethren Church, Sunday-Friday, May 11-16.

Rev. Weese was born in Philippi, West Virginia, and moved to Garrett County when he was in the sixth grade school.

After graduation from Southern High School he prepared for high school teaching, after which he taught in Garrett County's Northern High for five years (1973 to 1978). While teaching in Northern High, Rev. Weese completed an M.S. degree in Counseling Psychology at Frostburg State College.

Since May 1978 he has been the pastor of the First Baptist Church of 212 Bedford Street, Cumberland. His wife Carol is a native of Columbus, Ohio. They live in the parsonage of their church in Cumberland and have two children.

The meetings will be held at 7:30 each evening, beginning Sunday, May 11. Some of Mr. Weese's topics are "The Unhappy Art of Fence-Sitting," "How Do I Love Thee?", and "The Jekell and Hyde Syndrome."

There will be special music each evening, and on Wednesday through Friday Rev. Park E. Lancaster of Uniontown, PA, will be the music director. Rev. Lancaster is the newly employed Summer Pastor for Children and Youth in the Loch Lynn United Brethren Church.

The public is invited.

Arthritis Foundation To Sponsor Seminars

To be up to date on arthritis, family doctors and the public can take advantage of two free seminars to be offered by the Arthritis Foundation on Wednesday, May 14, in the auditorium of Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland. The seminars are being co-sponsored by Sacred Heart Hospital, the Johns Hopkins Multi-Purpose Arthritis Center, and the Maryland Lupus Foundation.

The seminar for physicians, nurses, physical and occupational therapists, social workers, etc., is scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Six physicians and allied health professionals will discuss various aspects of the disease, its course and its management. The seminar is accredited and pre-registration is required.

The second seminar for the public will run from 3 to 5 p.m. The same team of six specialists will present the program. Due to limited space, pre-registration also is required for the public forum.

For more information about the seminars, persons should call the new Arthritis Foundation branch office at 111 S. George Street in Cumberland, phone 759-9411. To register for the seminars, persons should call Rachel Rzezak at Sacred Heart Hospital, 759-5224.

Real Estate Tax Rate Held At 20¢ Per $100

The Maryland Board of Public Works, consisting of Governor Harry Hughes, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and State Treasurer William S. James has set the State real estate tax rate for the year beginning July 1, 1980, at 20 cents per $100 of assessed value. The Board maintained the same rate that is in effect for the current year.

The rate means that a Maryland home with a market value of $70,000 will have a State property tax of $63.

The Board of Public Works must establish a State real estate tax rate by May 1st each year. Revenue raised by the State property tax is used to pay part of the principal and interest costs on Maryland's general obligation bonds.

In setting the rate, the Board of Public Works took into account $58.0 million in general funds appropriated to the annuity bond fund, which will also be used for debt service.

"The 20 cents rate is actually the rate needed to raise the remaining revenue required for principal and interest payments on State general obligation bonds," Comptroller Goldstein said. "The rate could be held at 20 cents because the Board of Public Works and the General Assembly have cooperated in limiting bond authorizations and issues. By staying out of the bond market from June 1978 until January 1980, and by dedicating $89 million for 'pay as you go' financing of construction projects, the State has been able to hold down the cost of borrowing. In addition, at its most recent general obligation bond sale, January, 23, 1980, the State received a very favorable interest rate.

"Maryland's triple-A general obligation bond rating is the best you can get. It means the State pays lower interest when it sells bonds, and that helps to keep the State real estate tax rate low," Mr. Goldstein said.

Maryland's currently outstanding general obligation bonded debt will total $2,109,130,000 on June 30, 1980. Of the total outstanding general obligation debt, 53% is repayable by State agencies, political subdivisions and other agencies.

Conversations on Carpeting

WHY CARPET?

Carpeting is everywhere in today's world. It's found not only in the homes of the wealthy, but in all homes. Carpeting isn't just confined to single family dwellings either. Apartments, hospitals, and business establishments also sport wall to wall carpeting on the floor. Why is carpeting such an important element in interior decorating today?

Of course, one of the main reasons people install carpeting is because of its appearance. Carpeting brings together a room and makes it look complete and well-planned. Carpeting also contributes the largest area of color and texture to a room. But there are many other important reasons for the tremendous popularity of carpeting today.

Carpeting is an important means of holding down the noise level in a room. It actually absorbs ten times as much noise as other types of floors. Airborne noise from a stereo, voices, etc. is absorbed as effectively by carpeting as by acoustical ceilings. You can see how carpeting could add a quiet, relaxed atmosphere to any home.

Next time we'll discuss more of the reasons why carpeting is so popular with today's homeowners and professional decorators. In the meantime, isn't it time you started thinking about new carpeting for your home?

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

When Souls Communicate

When souls communicate — it's like prayer. There may never be a word spoken . . . just a sigh, a wish, a hope, a longing. A child trying to express some simple feeling to its Mother. Mother trying to express her devotion to her child.

All prayer is founded on the idea that God loves us and cares about the things that affect us. Jesus taught us to pray "Our Father . . ." He wanted men to see God's love on the parental level.

When you feel the need to pray, reach out with your heart to God. You may not be able to find words. Yet He hears. He understands those deep feelings we find hard to express.

In church our efforts to communicate with Him are strengthened by the fact that many others are praying with us. They need Him just as much as we do. And we need their longings, their hopes and wishes and feelings to help us express our own. Join us in prayer at your local church or synagogue.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE LUKEWARM CHURCH

Lesson for May 11, 1980

Background Scripture:
Revelation 1 through 3.
Devotional Reading:
Revelation 3:1-6.

Most people think of the Book of Revelation as a puzzling book of enigmatic visions and prophecies. We often forget that there is considerably more to this book than that. For example, the first three chapters of Revelation are composed of seven letters to various churches of Asia Minor (mostly that area within the modern nation of Turkey).

Rev. Althouse

Lest you think that reading Revelation 1 through 3 is comparable to reading a lot of old mail that was written to someone else ages ago, I want to suggest that the seven churches to which the writer is addressing himself are not so unlike your church and mine. Written approximately nineteen hundred years ago, these letters are just as timely and current as if they had been delivered in today's mail.

"I Know Your Works"

Of the seven churches, all but one, Laodicea, is commended in one way or another. Also, with the exception of one, Philadelphia, all are criticized, too. The writer's main purpose in each letter might be summarized like this:

EPHESUS: You have "lost the love" you had originally (2:1-7).

SMYRNA: You are not to fear the suffering that is before you (2:8-11).

PERGAMUM: You are falling prey to pagan customs (2:12-17).

THYATIRA: Following wrong leadership, you are prey to idolatry (2:18-29).

SARDIS: Cease your immoral living! (3:1-6).

PHILADELPHIA: Hold on in the time of trial; Christ will sustain you (3:7-13).

LAODICEA: Neither hot nor cold, you are lukewarm . . . and useless! (3:14-22).

You can read each of these letters as addressed to your church or even personally to you. Which of them speaks to you and/or your church? Perhaps several of them do. Maybe all?

Those Whom I Love

I find that I and my church experience identify most closely of all with the seventh letter, to Laodicea. Here the problem is not that of immorality, idolatry, wrong teachings or pagan customs, but a fence-sitting mediocrity that seems to call forth the greatest condemnation: "I know your works: you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were cold or hot! So, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew you out of my mouth" (3:15, 16).

James Nance Gardner, Franklin D. Roosevelt's first Vice President, once when asked about the value of his job remarked: "It isn't worth a thimbleful of warm spit!" The writer of Revelation seems to be saying pretty much the same thing about the church at Laodicea — and maybe yours and mine, too!

De Laurentiis selling L.A. pad: $16 million

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Dino de Laurentiis is unloading his Beverly Hills palazzo for the asking price of $16 mil. So far a line of takers there isn't ... Goldie Hawn's starring in Warner's "Private Benjamin," which is about a female who enlists in the army. It's a comedy, I guess ... Actress Jill St. John, who is currently between love affairs, and composer Sammy Cahn, who is newly separated, have glommed onto each another. At least long enough to share a dinner together ... Andy Warhol showed up at a fundraiser at lawyer Roy Cohn's. Someone hissed Cohn's interest in prisons is because that's where most of his clients are, but I wouldn't even mention that.

Bob Culp gifted sweetie Carol Conners with a solid gold chain for her waist ... Jack Carter: "A plastic surgeon's a guy who puts his business in other people's noses" ... ABC's "Benson," Robert Guillaume, is to play the assistant D.A. in Neil Simon's newie, "It Seems Like Old Times" for Columbia ... Christopher Walken: "I love the shoes women wear in France. They're very sexy"... Ingrid Bergman is giving us another farewell. Finished with picture-making, she says ... Pearl Bailey on why she switched majors from language to theology at Washington's Georgetown University recently: "I found God is easier to dig than French"... Vegas money is starting to surface on Ted Kennedy, if you can believe it ... Bette Midler: "I wish my hair was thicker, my I.Q. higher and my chest smaller."

Richard Gere is mewling that he's not a tomato and doesn't have to be marketed. He's starting to make like Garbo in terms of vanting to be alone ... Dustin Hoffman on "Kramer vs. Kramer": "For me, a 41-year-old urban Jewish actor on the fade, the idea of playing an American mother was exciting"... Classy Cher's newest kick is beer ... Paul Anka, who already has a car, a couple of suits and, presumably, an extra shirt, is now shopping around to buy a hotel. In Nevada, yet.

Lou ("The Incredible Hulk") Ferrigno on how to keep fit: "Eat an apple once a day and brush your teeth three times a day." You mean if we did that we'd all look like him???

SATURDAY

Tom Laughlin stars as a half-Indian, former Green Beret who defends a teen-age runaway from her brutal father and a school for troubled children from its bigoted neighbors in "Billy Jack," Saturday, May 10, on CBS.

ABC exec covers the news and '80 election

Jeff Gralnick is a busy man these days. Not only is he responsible for ABC's evening news broadcast, "World News Tonight," but he also oversees "The '80 Vote," ABC's election coverage. He's the only U.S. network executive responsible for both the evening news and election convention coverage.

"It's a little like the Normandy invasion," says Gralnick. "You have all those people out there and hope you can keep them pointed toward the beaches.

"It's no easy task. But we are able to put on first-rate, competitive news broadcasts because I have a group of the best television producers going. Rick Kaplan, Walter Porges, Mike Stein and Bob Furnad work with me on the daily 'World News Tonight' broadcast, while Bob Roy, Mike Duffy and Charles Frey assist with political coverage."

While it takes many dedicated people to run a network news program, there's little question that Gralnick is the person who makes it run smoothly. Named executive producer of "World News Tonight" last August, Gralnick tries to insure that the broadcast continues to win critical respect and to increase its viewership.

During his nine years with ABC News, Gralnick has worked his way up the ranks from an associate producer on the "ABC Evening News" to his current position. As executive producer of special events, he has shown that whether it's covering Pope John Paul II's visit or the fall of Skylab, news specials can be informative and interesting.

"There's no reason why we have to have a group of people sitting around a table discussing the effects of Pope John Paul II's visit to the United States or how Skylab fell to Earth. My idea of a special events broadcast is to make it special. I want to have ABC's news correspondents cover every angle of the story.

"For example, when the Pope came to the United States, we had our Rome bureau chief, Bill Blakemore, travel with him. He was able to tell our viewers that this remarkable man was having the same effect on Americans that he had on the Poles when he made his trip to Poland. It's the extra effort, that one extra story, that makes our special events broadcasts work," Gralnick believes.

Jeff Gralnick

Gralnick is no stranger to political coverage. In 1978, he produced ABC's coverage of 71 gubernatorial and congressional races. He also produced coverage of such events as the election and installation of Pope John Paul II and the late Pope John Paul I, the popes' funerals, the signing of the Israeli-Egyptian peace treaty, the nuclear accident at Three Mile Island, the fall of Skylab and ABC's coverage of the U.S. Embassy siege in Iran.

Yet, for Gralnick, "The '80 Vote" will be a challenge. "This election is going to be an interesting one. President Jimmy Carter will be busy fending off the challenge of Sen. Ted Kennedy, and Jerry Brown will be there to make things interesting. Meanwhile, Ronald Reagan, George Bush and other hopefuls are fighting for the Republican nomination," says Gralnick.

Memorial fund

NBC News and Constance Brown, widow of NBC News cameraman Bob Brown, have established the Bob Brown Memorial Fund at San Francisco State University. Brown, NBC News Correspondent Don Harris and two others were killed in an ambush near the People's Temple in Guyana, Nov. 18, 1979. The fund will provide annual scholarships of $1,000 to $3,000 to meritorious students interested in pursuing a career in broadcast journalism. The first recipient is expected to be granted a scholarship in the 1980-81 school year.

Summer courses

"Metropolitan America," "A World Uprooted: The Paradoxes of Modernization," "Contemporary Hispanic Fiction" and "Reading for Parent and Child" are the four courses to be offered in the 1980 season of "Summer Semester," beginning Monday, May 19, on CBS. All of the courses will be broadcast by individual affiliate stations at a time of their own choosing.

Deli plane

CBS owns a couple of private planes and the other day $795 worth of rush goodies were loaded on for Barbra Steisand, reported Liz Smith of the Daily News. Among the treats: lox, Nova Scotia, bialies, all from the Stage Deli in New York City. When the plane was 400 miles from L.A., the stewardess gasped: "Omigosh! We forgot the cream cheese."

Mac celebrates

Mac Davis, award-winning composer, performer and recording star who is also a recently acclaimed motion picture headliner, celebrates his first decade in show business during his newest special, "Mac Davis 10th Anniversity Special I still Believe in Music," to air Tuesday, May 20, on NBC. Anne Murray will be his guest star.

Well on the road

How many of us have looked forward to a long-awaited vacation trip, only to have it ruined by such travel-related health problems as intestinal distress, sunburn, allergic reactions, jet lag or even insect bites? In time for summer preparedness, this week's episode of PBS's "Here's To Your Health," airing Saturday, May 17, will focus on timely ways to prevent emotional and physical health problems while traveling.

Another angel

The word is that producers Aaron Spelling and Leonard Goldberg have dispatched their talent scouts to Manhattan to search for a black actress to join "Charlie's Angels" this fall.

STARVIEW

TV programming: Love and fantasy are in

By RUTH THOMPSON

Do television viewers want something new and different in programming?

The wildfire popularity rise of ABC's "That's Incredible," a clone of NBC's "Real People," indicates that apparently many aficionados of the home screen want more of the same kind of shows they already like.

But that's not all of the people all of the time. What about those who want wider choices? What are their chances?

Well, maybe not so good. But not hopeless.

When network executive Fred Silverman was at ABC, he was widely credited with recognizing the success potential of "Fantasy Island" and "Love Boat," (though the casting of marvelous, suave Ricardo Montalban as the kind but mysterious "Fantasy Island" host is said to have been at the insistence of the show's producer, Aaron Spelling).

But to move on. Silverman is now NBC's president and expected to bring in shows that will lure a steady tune-in to NBC. Will the old magic work? Who knows? But a recent movie, "Love Island," with Janis Paige as a kind but mysterious hostess, struck few critics as strong enough to develop into a weekly series. But then, "Love Boat" needed two pilot movies to find smooth sailing.

Fantasy is in style ... but even greater, presumably, is the lure of "love" in titles. For example: On a recent Friday, ABC aired a movie — also with series potential — called "The Love Tapes" with Marlette Hartley, Larry Wilcox, Michael Constantine, Jan Smithers and Loretta Swit (moonlighting from "M.A.S.H.") involved with a matchmaking computer.

("The Love Tapes," of course, is not to be confused with the offbeat PBS documentary, "Love Tapes," which WNET in New York produced for its "Independent Focus" series in which a smattering of citizens spouted their feelings about l-o-v-e.)

Do you think you've heard the last of love as a title tie-in? Heck no, decided a television reporter interviewing Frederique Raeymaekers. She is the U.S. director of the Belgian National Tourist Office. She is also blond, good-looking and quick-witted, which has kept her busy guesting on television shows, including the local phone-in types that she finds fun even when the questions are way off target.

But the dialogue (what's wrong with television sameness, what's tempting about a holiday abroad) ran into a neat confluence when Frederique said visitors can reach almost any point in compact Belgium in half a day's drive from Brussels and that her country has more castles per square mile than any other in Europe.

Presto. Before Frederique could frame her next sentence, she was asked, "Why don't we suggest that somebody develop a location series in Belgium and call it 'Love Castle?'"

Frederique said, "Hmmm," then spun away into a theme whose time may again be ripe. Love at the heart, but not in the series' name. Not all these noble structures are ramparted museums, she pointed out. "Many of them are small places you can visit that are still lived in. I'm thinking of one with a mother and father and two grown sons, one of whom supervises the splendid gardens."

"Family Castle," perhaps? Shades of "Ozzie and Harriet," but this time in a glamour setting. Why not?

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

EARLY HERO — I know that years ago I read that actor John Baragrey died. I know I used to see him on television a lot, but can you tell me a series with which he was identified? — A. Leinizger, Worthington, Ohio

Baragrey, who was tall, dark and attractive, was one of TV's busiest leading men in the days of live drama. He never had a series, but he is in most anthologies of television history as the star of the first Kraft Television Theater presentation. It was called "Double Door," had a cast of five, originated from a converted radio studio and was telecast on May 7, 1947.

WEBB'S WEB — I would like to find out if Jack Webb was ever married and who he was married to. — Lillian Gore, La Salle, Ill.

Webb has been married several times. Julie London, who starred in the Webb-produced "Emergency" series, along with her present husband, Bobby Troupe, was one of his wives. So was a former Miss U.S.A., Jackie Loighery. Webb manages to stay on good terms with his ex-wives.

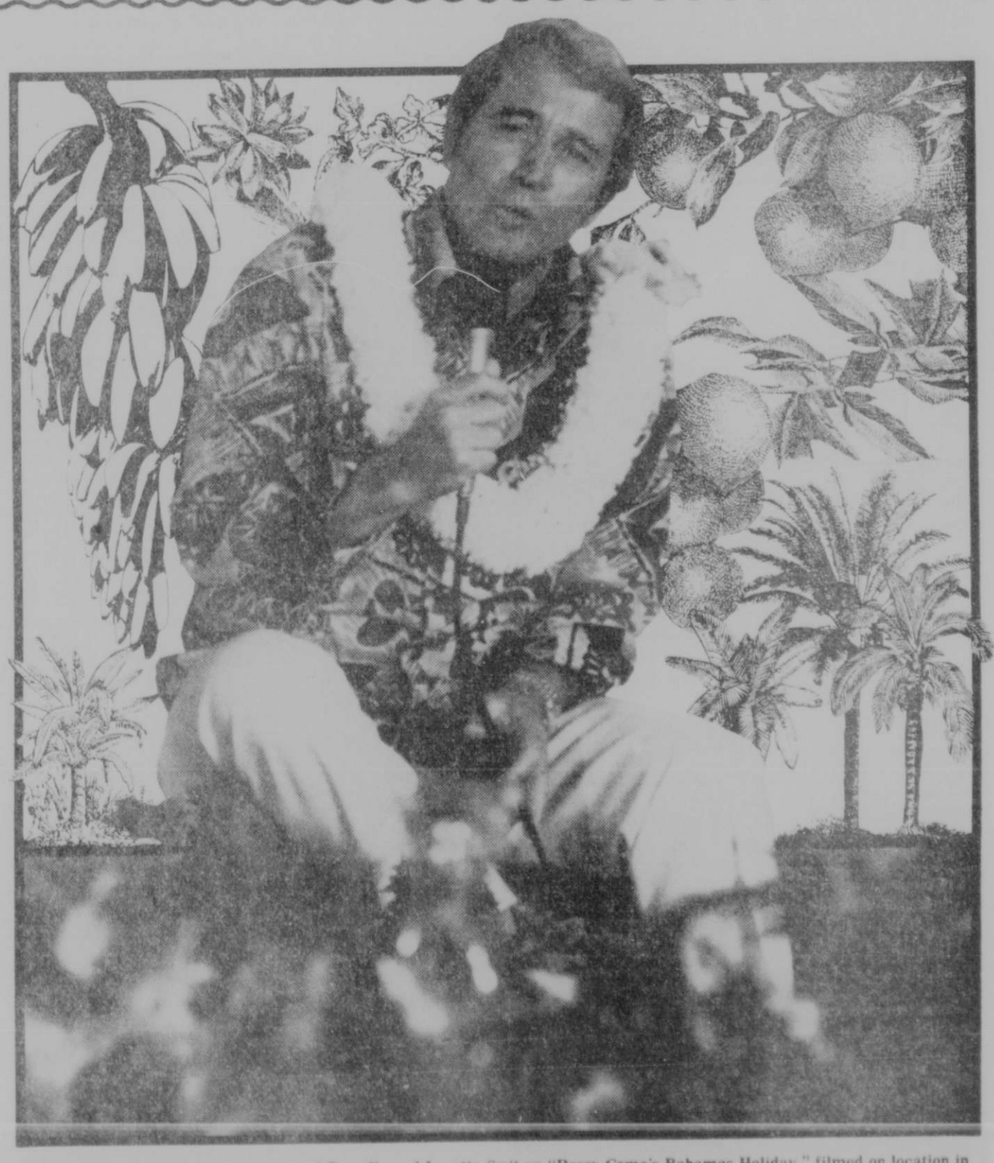

SEEING RED — I would like to know if the Red West who played Micklin on the series, "Black Sheep Squadron" is the same Red West who used to be Elvis Presley's bodyguard. — D.J., Granville, N.Y.

One and the same indeed.

MAIL CALL — Where can I write Raul Julia? — Julie Crow, Davenport, Iowa

Julia, who doesn't do much television because he is generally busy on the New York stage, is presently appearing in Harold Pinter's "Betrayal," along with Blythe Danner and Roy Scheider. Write him in care of the Trafalgar Theater, 208 W. 41st Street, New York, NY 10036.

(Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10017.)

Perry Como is host to The Captain and Tennille and Loretta Swit on "Perry Como's Bahamas Holiday," filmed on location in the Bahamas, to be telecast Wednesday, May 14, on ABC. Among the Bahamian guest stars are folk singer "Blind Blake" Higgs, Bill Bonaparte and His Steel Band, Kayla Edwards and Her Chamber Singers, The Bahamas National School of Dance and the Royal Bahamas Police Force Band.

"The Fantastic Funnies," hosted by Loni Anderson with special guest star Howard Hesseman plus 13 of the world's leading cartoonists and their creations, salutes the 85-year history of comic strips in a one-hour special to air Thursday, May 15, on CBS. Miss Anderson, the animated star of "WKRP in Cincinnati," will become a cartoon character herself through the magic of animation to introduce some 25 famed funnies stars who will sing the show's opening production number. She then returns to her normal self to provide the behind-the-scenes interviews with creators of the comics.

TUESDAY

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Daytime Emmys list new award — cameos

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences has announced that it will hold the seventh annual Daytime Emmy Award telecast on June 4. NBC television will carry the event, which boasts the addition of a new category this year. There have been numerous big-name guest performers on the soaps in the past year. So, the added category is for outstanding guest or cameo appearance in a daytime drama series. The final list of nominees should be released soon, and we'll keep you posted.

Jennifer Houlton, who grew up on "The Doctors" portraying Greta Powers, has been absent from the daytime scene for some time now. The young actress opted to depart from her soap role, and after a tour of Europe she plans to enroll at Cornell University in the fall. At this writing a replacement for Greta hasn't been announced.

Several weeks ago college students in Daytona Beach, Fla., had the opportunity to spend a day beside the pool while attending their "Soaps 101" class. Journeying to sunny Florida for the special seminar were Jayne Bentzen and Joel Crothers (Nicole and Miles Cavanaugh of "Edge of Night"), along with Ariane Munker and Robert Lipton (Melinda Gray and Jeff Ward of "As the World Turns").

The stars explained what it's like working on a daytime drama, answered the inevitable questions about where their roles were slated to go and signed autographs by the hundreds. Several college coeds from around the country also had a chance to do improvisations with the stars as part of the Miss Expo America scholarship competition. This year's winner, Angela Troutman, also received an all-expense-paid trip to New York and a visit to the sets of "ATWT" and "EON."

Quinn Redeker (Alex Marshall on "Days of Our Lives") has been signed for a major role in the upcoming film, "Coast to Coast," which stars Robert Blake and Dyan Cannon.

Attending a recent seminar called "Soaps 101" were Ariane Munker and Robert Lipton (l.) of "As the World Turns" and Jayne Bentzen and Joel Crothers of "Edge of Night."

Blind Blake is the Bard of the Bahamas

Blind Blake

NASSAU, Bahamas — Whether ordered by the late Duke of Windsor, then Governor of the Bahamas, or directed by Perry Como, on location to tape "Perry Como's Bahamas Holiday" (airing Wednesday, May 14, on ABC), "Blind Blake" Higgs sings goombay.

Blind Blake and his musicians are well known to the more than one million visitors who pour into Nassau each year to find that the sound in the airport terminal is not the bland, public-address-system music of the average big city airport. It's the live music of the islands. It has a distinctive quality — rhythmic, subtle and infectious. Looking around for the source of this greeting, one sees a small group of musicians led by an elderly man who plays a banjo and sings in a slightly reedy voice. To one side, a sign reads: "Blind Blake — Welcome to the Bahamas."

Between takes, at a poolside set for the Como special at Graycliff, now a hotel but formerly the residence of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Blind Blake talked about his life and times. He told of his gradual emergence as the elder statesman of Bahamian music — although Blake himself would never put it that way.

At the outset he put the record straight: The music of the Bahamas is not to be called "calypso." It is "goombay." Head cocked to one side, Blake ponders the distinction.

"Goombay is the rhythm of our music here. Now, no doubt you might hear calypso, but the word calypso doesn't belong to the Bahamian. That's a Jamaican word, the name of their music. It's different, like soul, rock-'n-roll or disco. The Jamaican has got the calypso. That's the name of their music, their singing, their culture. In the Bahamas, it's goombay."

Asked how far back his connection with goombay goes, Blake laughs.

"It's like Jack Benny, I'm 39! I've spent all my life right here in Nassau. I was born on one of the far islands called Inagua, but I came here a baby, so I only know Nassau, really. There are 11 children in my family, most of us musical. Even my mother used to play the guitar, so I inherited my ability. But she didn't teach me. She died when I was a kid. My brothers used to play, and my cousins, so I came from a musical background."

And how did he happen to choose the banjo as his instrument?

"I started out with some cord on a board. Some string, like fishline, stretched on a board. An instrument that I made myself. Single string. I couldn't afford an instrument as a boy.

"But I got a ukelele eventually. You remember the ukelele? From the uke, I went to the six-string guitar, then the tenor guitar. Then I took up the banjo, and pretty soon I'm known for the banjo, so I'm stuck with it. It's a trademark, and when you're singing and want to take a breath, you can always play a chorus on the banjo."

Visitors and locals come to hear Blake play in his own club, Dirty Dick's, but he considers his work at the airport one of his main jobs.

"I've played out there for 12 years — in the coming months, 13," Blake says. "We're down there from nine o'clock in the morning until four in the afternoon, for all the flights. The musicians I play with are fellows I found. Young musicians, they hang around me because I know about the Bahamian music.

"Most of the young musicians here, unfortunately, are noticing what's going on the air. So they have the idea of American music, with the rock-'n-roll and so forth. They hardly know their own thing, their own music. So this is what I try to do before I leave this earth."

Snowmobile Trail Expansion Must Be "Concerted Effort"

An influx of snowmobiles in Garrett County this winter spurred the Deep Creek Lake Snowdrifters to approach the Maryland Forest and Park Service, seeking assistance with the problem of overloaded snowmobile trails and snowmobilers' abuse to private land.

The Maryland Forest Service expressed its interest in the Garrett County snowmobile problem at a public meeting last Wednesday at Garrett Community College, concerning state forest snowmobile trails. The meeting was headed by Clint Irwin, Environmental Specialist for the Maryland Forest and Park Services; and Mike Gregory, Forest Naturalist for Garrett County. Both officials emphasized the feeling that the project will have to be a concerted effort on the part of the Forest Service, snowmobilers, landowners and county businessmen, in order for additional construction of state forest trails to become a reality.

The Forest Service is leaning toward the improvement of the existing 33 miles of ORV (off-road vehicle) trails within Garrett County, most of which are open to snowmobiles, and rough plans are being made for an extended trail to run from Interstate 48 near the Grantsville Holiday Inn, beginning with an existing trail in Savage River State Forest, down Meadow Mountain to Deep Creek Lake State Park. The trail would be approximately 25 miles in length.

Gregory pointed out a problem with the construction of the trail links, stating that part of the completed trail would have to cross private land. He has contacted landowners regarding this matter, receiving many negative responses, due to snowmobilers' abuse of privite land this winter. The Deep Creek Lake Snowdrifters attribute this abuse of property rights to out-of-town snowmobilers, and the club attempted to alleviate the problem this winter by conducting free tours and serving as "watchdogs," said Floyd Ellis, club president. Damage was done to private property, however, and Gregory said that many landowners are mistrusting and do not want snowmobilers near their property.

The meeting addressed the urgings and complaints of Garrett County residents, heard at a March 6 in-put session. One of the complaints deals with the inconvenience of registration for the use of ORV trails. Irwin stated that registration may be obtained through the mail. He added that the Forest Service is planning to institute registration at local DNR offices and state forest headquarters during the snowmobile season. At the present time persons may register only in Annapolis and Cumberland.

Another point raised is the marking and grooming of trails. "The existing trails are not well marked," said Irwin, "and they are not groomed. The Forest Service is working to purchase or lease a trail groomer for this purpose," he said, adding that "the agreement should be worked out in a week or so." Irwin also expressed the interest of the Forest Service in improving signs and parking areas.

In response to several requests for trails in state parks Irwin stated that, by law, snowmobiles are prohibited in state parks.

Opinions were voiced at the meeting by B. O. Aiken, Accident, who spoke for farmers and landowners; Paul Hoye, member of the advisory committee of Maryland State Parks; F. D. Custer, chairman of the Garrett County Forestry Board; Mr. Yatcheson, Appalachian Snow Seekers; Cindy Stacy, member of the Forestry Board; Mrs. Frances Riley, City Council of Oakland; Dale Sisler, local snowmobile dealer; Gene Smith, Deep Creek Lake Snowdrifters; Carl Miller, local farmer; Al Bourgeouis, District Wildlife Manager; and other interested parties.

The majority of speakers expressed an urgency and interest in establishing a network of trails for snowmobilers. The effect on Garrett County would conceivable be a positive one, as snowmobilers would provide a large winter tourist trade for the area. Most businessmen and county board members feel the opportunity is "an excellent one."

Representatives of the Forestry Board, however, urged caution in proceeding with any new developments, on the grounds that concerted effort of all involved must first be evident and indicating that many lardowners feel there are already too many snowmobilers in the county. However, the purpose of the Forest Service is to better control the snowmobilers who are now frequenting Garrett County.

A major issue of discussion was the need for better registration, or more efficient distribution of registration funds, to benefit trail expansion and upkeep. The present ORV registration fees go directly to the state and are to be distributed to state forests for trail management. Irwin said that "these monies are due us, but we have never received them." The group discussed the possibility of a larger fee, to help finance the trail groomer.

Dale Sisler recommended snowmobile registration tags for all snowmobiles in the state, to cut down on thefts and to aid in the patroling of snowmobile trails. The larger fee could also go toward trail maintenance, he added. Sisler also suggested a seasonal trail fee, for individual trail maintenance and equipment.

Irwin and other forestry personnel indicated that a great deal of research and planning is in store. Factors to be considered are costs, landowner cooperation, patroling, the impact on deer and other wildlife, and laws must be considered and legislation proposed for certain issues.

Irwin stated that "the Forest Service believes it may be able to improve its ORV trail system to accommodate the influx of snowmobiles in Garrett County. However, we have little experience in this matter," stressing once again that "it must be a concerted effort and we will need the help of all concerned."

Irwin said the Forest Service wants to know the county's need in miles; characteristics of the trails, such as length, width and grade; location and other facilities needed. He anticipates a public hearing near the end of this summer, provided that definite plans can be established and landowners provide cooperation. The Maryland Forest Service has voiced its interest in the county's needs, and urges persons who wish to make testimony to write to "Snowmobile," c/o The Maryland Forest Services, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD, 21401.

Mrs. Briggs Named WSI Chairman

Mrs. Paula S. Briggs, McHenry, has been appointed by the Garrett County American Red Cross Chapter as the Garrett County Water Safety instructor chairman. She will advise and guide the four other Water Safety instructors in the county in keeping swimming and safety instruction up to date. She will also maintain class records.

Her sppointment was made after a recommendation by Bob Evans, director of the Water Safety services of the Pittsburgh division of the American National Red Cross.

Mrs. Briggs, her husband, Rick, and their two daughters moved to Garrett County from Cleveland, Ohio, seven months ago. She is experienced in swimming and slimnastics instruction and is certified as a water safety instructor, swimming instructor, advanced life saving and swimming pool management and operations.

Mr. Briggs is a counselor at Garrett Community College.

State Lowers Fuel Tax On Gasohol

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced recently that the State Motor Fuel tax on gasohol will be reduced to five cents per gallon on May 1, 1980, as the result of Chapter 260, Acts of the 1980 session of the Maryland General Assembly. Under the legislation, which was signed by Governor Hughes, the tax will remain at five cents per gallon for the period May 1, 1980 - May 1, 1981.

Gasohol has been taxed at eight cents per gallon since July 1, 1979, and the tax rate will return to eight cents per gallon after May 1, 1981. The tax for gasoline and diesel fuel is nine cents per gallon.

All deliveries to retailers after May 1, 1980, should reflect the five cents per gallon tax rate.

Gasohol is a mixture of 10% alcohol and 90% gasoline. Sales of gasohol in Maryland have grown with the increasing availability of the product. A total of 1,614,601 gallons of gasohol were sold during February 1980.

Governor Hughes Signs Legislation By Mason, Bolden

Three of the 146 bills and 13 resolutions signed recently by Gov. Harry R. Hughes bear the names of county legislators.

Among the pieces of legislation signed were:

—Senate Joint Resolution 6 by Senators James Clark (D-Howard) and Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) asking Congress to amend a certain Act of Congress to authorize the coal producing states to establish surface mining and reclamation programs. Maryland currently has a reclamation program.

—House Bill 740 by Del. DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) to prohibit the use of tax paid crowns or stamps for the payments of the Garrett County tax on beer.

—Senate Bill 22 by Sen. Mason clearing up confusion regarding time requirements for constant tax yield public hearings by counties.

Mac Mathias Works for Maryland.

When Senator Mathias went to the U.S. Senate twelve years ago, Maryland was far down the federal aid list. Today we're among the top five because Mathias put his leadership skills to work for Maryland.

In Western Maryland here are some of his results:

- Helped secure federal funding for repairs to Carroll County's roads and bridges in wake of hurricane Agnes.
- Brought the National Cancer Laboratory to Frederick and the National Fire Academy to Emmitsburg.
- Set up a business-government task force to vigorously pursue the development of a synthetic fuel industry based on Allegany and Garrett County coal.
- Protected the Appalachian Trail and the C&O Canal for future generations of hikers and outdoor enthusiasts.
- Helped bring new jobs and paychecks to Hagerstown by his strong support of Fairchild's A-10 attack plane.
- Saved passenger rail service for Brunswick, Cumberland and Oakland.
- Asked for and got a federal audit of utility rates to protect against unfair and excessive electric utility hikes.

County Lutheran Churches To Host Refugee Family

The Inter-Lutheran Task Force for Christian Concern, a branch of the County Resettlement Refugee Task Force, has received word that a family of five Vietnamese refugees will arrive in Garrett County in late May or early June.

The Task Force, Which organized to help persons in need, has been actively working to sponsor a refugee family since February. The churches involved include Lutheran churches from the Accident, Bittinger, Cove and Friendsville areas.

"This venture is a ministry of love," said Carl J. Haenftling, chairman of the Task Force. "When we see someone in need, we show our love by supplying that need. In so doing we are serving the Lord, for he said, 'In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.' "

The Task Force is one of four branches of the Refugee Resettlement Task Force which formed during the Fall of 1979 to sponsor refugee families in Garrett County. The other three groups represent three other church denominations in the county—the Mennonites, the Roman Catholics, and the United Methodists.

These groups have committed themselves to sponsoring refugee families because, as many group members have said, as Christians they had no choice but to help.

"Jesus' point in the story of the Good Samaritan is that the question we ought to be asking is not 'who is my neighbor?,' but rather, 'How can I be a neighbor to those in need?' ", explained Pastor Fred Illick of the Zion Lutheran Church, Accident. "What can we do to help? That answer comes in the words, 'Love your neighbor.' If he is hungry, feed him. If he is naked, clothe him. If he is homeless, help him to find a home."

The task force has been working to secure food, clothing, and shelter for their family of five, as well as other services necessary for their adjustment to American life. Rev. H. B. Schutte, of St. John's Lutheran Church in The Cove has offered to keep the family in his home until shelter is found; task force members are receiving training to assist the refugees with any language barriers; persons have offered to travel to a city to purchase food and cooking utensils commonly used by the refugees; and others have identified possibilities for employment.

The task force has started a fund drive to raise necessary funds to help the family during its first days in the county.

The family consists of a husband, 56, a wife, 56, and three daughters, ages 27, 18, and 13. The father, before fleeing his country, worked as a shop assistant in a plastics factory. The mother and her two older daughters worked as dressmakers. The youngest daughter is still a student. Only the daughters are described as knowing English; their parents know Cantonese.

The family will come to the United States through the assistance of the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Services. Though the service has said the family could arrive in late May or early June, it has warned that procedures could be delayed pushing the family arrival date to July. Members of the task force will meet the family at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport on the arrival date.

"Our prayer is that all people in Garrett County will be happy at the opportunity we have to help a family that is truly in need," commented Rev. H. B. Schutte.

Task force members have said they welcome any contributions from the public, either in the form of time, money, or needed items, Pastor William Carlson of the Accident Evangelical Lutheran parish reiterated the commitment of Christians to help the refugees, "Christians have the mandate from God's Word as given in I Peter 4:10 and repeated many times in the New Testaments; 'Each one, as a good manager of God's different gifts, must use for the good of others the special gift he has received from God.' "

The officers for the task force are: chairman—Carl Haenftling, vice chairman—Charles Strauss, secretary— Bernadine Friend, and treasurer—Gary McClintock.

Committees and the chairpersons are: clothing committee—Betty Wellborn and Gail Reed; medical help function committee—Pauline Faucett; housing committee—Helen Silber and Helen Keller; food committee—Teresa Haenftling and Mary Zinkan; education committee—Bernadine Friend; public relations committee—Meg Bancroft; transportation committee—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wentz; employment committee—Gary Fratz; and furnishings committee—(no chairperson) Dan Ringer and Owen Bach.

Persons wishing to contribute money should mail it to Christian Concern Refugee Fund, c/o Gary McClintock, Accident, MD, 21520.

EMERGENCY BILL No. 462

Allowing the sale of alcoholic beverages on Sundays from 1 P.M.

- Our county's biggest industry is tourism.
- Garrett County is the only county in Maryland without Sunday Sales.
- Our county needs Sunday Sales to compete with surrounding counties and states, especially now, with a sagging economy and deficit county spending.

- Our Resorts, Motels, Restaurants, Taverns and Grocery Stores employ approximately 1,000 people full or part time, and pay approximately $230,000 a year directly to the County through Alcoholic Beverage Taxes and approximately $334,000 in Property Taxes. This could be increased by as much as 25% by passage of Bill No. 462.
- The County needs the increased Business and Revenue.
- The people of Garrett County need the Jobs.

Greater Use Of Local Coal Topic Of Byron Bill

Citing the need to increase the production and use of domestic coal, Rep. Beverly Byron has joined with Congressman Austin Murphy (D-Pa) in introducing legislation which would enable Western Maryland coal to be burned locally in greater quantities.

Under the measure the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) could not restrict or prohibit the use of coal if it contains less than 2.5 percent sulfur. Most of the coal in Western Maryland is between 2 and 2.5 percent sulfur and cannot currently be burned because of existing EPA regulations.

"Expanded coal production and use is mandatory if we are to meet the energy needs of this decade," Byron said.

Mrs. Byron, a member of the Congressional Coal Caucus, also cited the economic effects increased coal development would have on Allegany and Garrett Counties.

"If Western Maryland were able to use more of its own coal it would help attract new industries and jobs to our region," she said.

"In January I sent out a district-wide questionnaire which indicated that 70 percent favor the relaxing of environmental standards to burn more coal. It is time we followed through on the desires of our citizens.

"I just cannot understand how we can continue to import over 40 percent of our oil and ignore the massive proven coal reserves in our own backyard.

"In short, pursuit of a realistic national goal for more coal cannot be delayed any longer," Byron concluded.

Stubbs Family Will Present Revival Services

The Walnut Bottom Assembly of God Church will present the Stubbs Family in revival services from May 7 through May 14.

The services will begin each evening at 7 p.m.

Each of the six family members plays a musical instrument, in addition to gospel singing and presentation.

The public is invited to attend. Christopher Crawford is host pastor.

DAR Elects New Officers

A meeting was held this week at the home of Mrs. Lewis R. Jones to elect a slate of officers for a two-year term in the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Edward Kovach was elected regent; Mrs. Charles Thomas, vice regent; Mrs. James Quinet was re-elected chaplain, as were the recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Kight; registrar, Mrs. Robert Proudfoot; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Luther D. Parrack, Jr.; and treasurer, Mrs. Lindsay Gonder. The newly-elected historian is Mrs. Eugene Nordeck; librarian, Mrs. Hugh Echard and membership, Mrs. Robert Shaffer. The officers will be installed at the next meeting, May 19, at the Starlite Restaurant.

The meeting was conducted by the regent, Mrs. Robert Ruckert, opening with the ritual. The chaplain, Mrs. Grayce Quinet, offered a prayer.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Charles Strauss, was introduced by Mrs. Ruckert. Mrs. Strauss' topic was titled "The Drane House". The house is believed to be the oldest building in the county still standing. Built before 1800, it was owned by 2nd Lieut. James Drane, a Revolutionary soldier, and his wife. The Drane family was one of the first permanent settlers in Accident.

Mrs. Strauss commented that "though the outside chimney had collapsed, the structure which has been in the Richter family for many years, still has good timbers. It has two stories and had two chimneys, one on each end."

Mrs. Strauss also showed photographs of the house and a picture of the spring nearby.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Donald Swecker, Mrs. Charles Briner, Mrs. Deets Parrack, Mrs. Luther D. Parrack, Jr., Mrs. Asa Lewis, and Mrs. Robert Shaffer.

Local Student Is Co-Stage Manager

Linda McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie, of Avilton, recently acted as co-stage manager for Hood College's spring production "The Club."

"The Club," a musical written by Eve Merriam, was performed March 27, 28, and 29 under the direction of Dennis Hughes.

Ms. McKenzie is a freshman at Hood.

Hood is a private four-year college for women, located in Frederick.

Court Finds Juvenile Guilty

A 15 year old female charged with forgery in connection with issuing two worthless checks to Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland, was found to be delinquent in Garrett County Juvenile Court on Thursday, May 1.

Judge Fred Thayer placed the youth on probation, and ordered restitution to be made to Greggs' Pharmacy in the amount of $100.

Supervision of probation was transferred to Pennsylvania.

Carol Kapel Hired As News Staff Writer

Carol Kapel, Friendsville, was recently hired by The Republican as a news reporter and feature writer. Carol, a native of Uniontown, has lived in Garrett County four years. She is the wife of Ed Kapel, employed at Ralph Pritts and Sons, Oakland. They have three children.

Carol has written for school newspapers, and she received a journalism award upon graduation from high school. She has, during the past five years, sold several articles to magazines for publication. Many of her articles dealt with non-fiction children's educational stories, and she has written some adult-oriented medical, religious and health/safety articles for other magazines. Her most recently published articles dealt with Garrett County and a health and safety informative feature, both appearing in the Mountain Heritage, a local publication.

Loar Auxiliary Meets Friday

The board of the Loar Auxiliary of Garrett County Memorial Hospital met Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Nancy Helbig. Plans were made for the flea market and bake sale to be held on the hospital lawn Saturday, May 31, weather permitting.

There was a discussion on placing an ad in The Republican endorsing a yes vote on the hospital expansion referendum. The board voted unanimously in favor of placing an ad.

This year's project for the hospital was also discussed, but no decision was made.

There will be a membership meeting in the hospital board room, Tuesday, May 13, at 2:00 o'clock. The auxiliary urges all members to vote and then attend the meeting.

Sister Of Area Woman Celebrates Her 50th Jubilee

Sister Beniti Caparuscio celebrated her 50th Jubilee on March 8 at St. Joseph's Villa near Philadelphia. Sr. Beniti is the sister of Mrs. J. DiSimone, former resident of Oakand, now residing in Cumberland. Mrs. DiSimone is the mother of Joe DiSimone, "Register of Wills," Oakland.

Mrs. DiSimone, Sr. Beniti's only sister in the United States, attended the ceremony, along with several other family members and friends. The ceremony was followed by a dinner, entertainment was provided by four of Sr. Beniti's former students, and Sr. Beniti was presented with gifts.

Sr. Beniti made her first vows in June, 1930, and taught first-grade for 30 years in Philadelphia. She has visited her relatives in Italy three times, the first time accompanied by Mrs. DeSimone, Sr. Benita became ill in November 1970 and was sent to St. Joseph's Villa, where she now resides.

Who Needs
$250,000
Worth Of Life Insurance? You do!
Who Can Afford It? You can!
You don't need to be wealthy any more to need $250,000 of life insurance . . . or more. With disposable income low and inflation high, your beneficiaries need more life insurance now than in years past . . . just to survive.
And with a ModernLife™ alternative from Federal Kemper called . . .
MAXI/TERM™
. . . you can afford now to protect your family later. EXAMPLE: A 40-year-old male who purchases the minimum Maxi/Term face amount of $250,000 pays a monthly premium during the first year of only $42.22. For a $1,000,000 policy, he'd pay just $163.63 a month the first year. Although the premium rate increases each successive year, premiums may be reduced significantly in the 5th policy year with new evidence of insurability.
The Maxi/Term alternative also allows: (A) Issue from ages 20 through 75; (B) Conversion from term to permanent insurance; (C) An optional Cost-Of-Living benefit.

Now you can insure your home and car with 1 extra-value policy.

It's called PCP—Personal Comprehensive Protection. It's the extra-value insurance that provides protection for your home and car in one convenient policy.

Separate policies often mean separate dollar amounts of protection for your car, your home and its contents. With PCP you get one amount of property protection for your home and its contents. Plus one amount of liability protection for your car and home. Dwelling losses are paid at replacement cost with no depreciation. And there's automatic inflation protection as well as a 5-year renewal guarantee. You can even include hospital indemnity coverage, disability income and mortgage life insurance.

PCP: another good idea from The Continental Insurance Companies. Come see us and we'll help you arrange the plan that's just right for your insurance needs.

Spelling Bee Winners Chosen

The Route 40 Elementary School PTA recently sponsored the first annual Northern Garrett County Elementary School spelling bee.

Miss Nina Luscombe, a fifth grade student at Friendsville Elementary School was the winner.

Second place honors went to Marylyn Canan, a fifth grade student from Yoder School, and third place was awarded to Beth Bicker, a fifth grade student at Grantsville School.

Approximately 38 students and alternates participated from Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville, Yoder, and the Route 40 schools.

All students participating were awarded a certificate, and the three top winners each received a trophy. In addition, the winning school receives an engraved plaque, which remains on display in the school until next year's contest winner is chosen.

Judges for the event were M. Virginia Rosenbaum, editor of the Citizen Newspaper, and Gerald Beachy, Councilman for the city of Grantsville. Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, was the moderator.

Southern Speaks

By Paul Warnick

A host family is needed for next year if Southern is going to have an exchange student.

The Winter Color Guard performed at the Southern Middle School periods 1 and 6 on April 28.

The science, biology and chemistry classes have been going to the planetarium to see a commemorative of Albert Einstein.

The girls' softball teams' game with Northern scheduled for April 28, 1980 was postponed. The rematch game was May 1, 1980. Southern will play Ringgold at an away game on May 13.

Senior students filled out their graduate follow-up forms that are required by the Department beginning Thursday, May 1. Seniors were called alphabetically in small groups of 10 to 15. These students reported to room F-100, next to the guidance office. Every senior was required to do these reports.

The 1980 Student Council officers are as follows: Treasurer, Kathryn Ryscavage; secretary, Pam Rolf; vice president, Blair Glass; president, Jeff Ryscavage.

Any juniors who are interested in attending a Spring visitation at Western Maryland on Tuesday, May 6, or Saturday, May 10 should contact the guidance office.

Any senior who plans to attend a two year course after high school should contact Mrs. Peddicord in the guidance office about the Garrett National Bank scholarship.

If you are interested in a babysitting job please contact the guidance office.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Armory on May 9. Students under 21 need a consent form in order to donate blood. These forms are available in the main office.

Don't forget to pick up your sponsor sheets for the Fourth Annual Hike and Bike. Prizes will be awarded to the individuals and to the school turning in the most money. The event will be held on Saturday, May 17, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. The ten mile route will begin at Southern Middle School. A bike clinic will precede the event at 11:30. All proceeds from the event go to the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens. Sponsor sheets and permission slips may be picked up from Mrs. Ruston in Room A-104.

The art students selected for the Maryland center for the Visual and Performing Arts are David Filsinger, Teresa Tuel, and Robin Shaffer.

FSC Commencement Ceremonies Slated

Frostburg State College will conduct its 77th annual Commencement Ceremonies on Sunday, May 18, beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the College's Physical Education Center. Some 743 persons who have earned degrees at the college this year will be recognized at the public ceremonies.

O. Ralph Roth, M.D., a 1942 graduate of Frostburg State College who has distinguised himself in the field of medicine and cancer research, will deliver the address.

Preceding the ceremonies there will be a buffet luncheon for members of the graduating class and guests, and a dinner for 50-year graduates of the college.

On Saturday evening a reception will be held for the graduates and their guests beginning at 8 p.p. at the Lane College Center.

Oakland Police Releases April Activity Report

Oakland City Police Department has released its April summary of activities.

During the past month the department responded to 15 alarms, two attempts to breaking and entering, five destructions of property, six disturbances, eight domestic problems, one hit & run, 12 larcenies, 11 open doors and windows and 11 traffic complaints.

The department last month investigated one arson case, four cases involving assault and battery, two prowlers, three suspicious vehicles, one suspicious person and one telephone—verbal abuse complaint. Oakland City Police officers recovered property relating to one case, provided three funeral escorts and assisted other departments on 11 cases during April.

The department arrested four adults and one juvenile, and issued 16 citations, two equipment repair orders and 25 warnings last month.

Energy Tip: Run your dishwasher in "off peak" hours to help conserve energy.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS

Since running a house is such a big job, I feel that most homemakers appreciate any tips that help make their job easier. Here are some hints that I think you will find useful:

*To keep lettuce fresh, store it in the refrigerator in paper bags instead of cellophane.

*For juicier lemon, submerge it in hot water for 15 minutes before squeezing it and you will get more juice.

*Make cottage cheese last longer by storing it upside down.

*Eye glasses clean best if you use a drop of vinegar on each lens.

*If you have a supply of postage stamps and find they have become stuck together place them in the freezer. They will usually come apart, and the glue will still be usable.

*To prevent your clear plastic wrap from sticking together, store in the refrigerator.

*Red wine spills on your carpet or table cloth can be removed with white wine.

*Some type of ballpoint ink marks can be removed by saturating them with hair spray, allowing them to dry and then brushing them lightly with a solution of water and vinegar.

*Need to remove old decals? Paint them with several coats of white vinegar.

*Dust cracks of floors with talcum powder in order to stop squeakiness.

FOOD NOTES

Pizza has become a real favorite with Americans, both young and old alike. This is good because, pizza is very nutritious; it contains all four food groups: Meat (sausage, pepperoni, etc.), Milk (cheese), Breads and Cereals (crust), and Fruits and Vegetables (tomatoes). Pizza can be a meal all in itself. Here is a variation of Pizza that I think you will enjoy:

DEEP DISH SAUSAGE PIZZA

1 (lb.) loaf frozen bread dough
1 lb. Italian sausage or ground beef
¼ cup chopped onion
1 16 oz. can tomatoes
1 6 oz. can tomato paste
2 teaspoons oregano leaves
2 6 oz. pkgs. Mozzarella cheese slices
Grated Parmesan Cheese

Thaw bread dough in refrigerator overnight.

On lightly floured surface, allow thawed dough to stand at room temperature for 1 hour.

Brown meat: drain.

Add onion, cook until tender. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste and oregano; simmer 15 minutes.

Roll out dough to 15x11 inch rectangle; press onto bottom and 1 inch up sides of greased 13x9 inch pan. Cover with half of mozzarella cheese and meat sauce; repeat with remaining mozzarella cheese and meat sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Bake at 425° 20 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

May 9—Homemakers Mini-Fair; St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Social Hall in Oakland; 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

May 12—Breadmaking Workshop, Extension Office; 12:00 noon-1:00 p.m.; 1:30 p.m.-3:00 p.m., 7:00 p.m.-9:00 p.m.

Backpacker Outing Applications Now Being Accepted

Applications are now being accepted by the Maryland Forest and Park Services for the Big Savage Trail backpacker outing on May 31, June 1 and June 2. This is the second year this trip has been sponsored by the Forest and Park Services in the Savage River State Forest. Reservations are required and the trip size is limited. The trip cost includes food and transportation from the meeting place to and from the trail head.

The three-day wilderness hiking trip, led by rangers from the Forest and Park Services will begin at St. John's Rock and end near the Big Savage Reservoir. The trip is of moderate difficulty. The trail crosses back and forth across the ridge with views of the Savage River Watershed to the west and Dans Mountain to the east. Short side trips will be made to take advantage of the views or to explore features of natural interest. At this time of year, azaleas and lady slippers, which are abundant should be in bloom, according to the Service.

Trip information sheets and applications are available by writing: Backpacker Outings 1980, Maryland Park Service, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401 or by calling (301) 269-3761.

An assembly was held Monday, May 5, 3rd period, for candidates running for the Student Council. Each of the candidates was required to present a speech in front of the student body. The students running for officer positions: Treasurer, Charlotte Maust and Shelly King; Secretary, Tracy Sisler and Laura Stanton; Vice-President, Kim Goehringer and Lisa Clutter; and President, Jim Fox and Karen Rexrode.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

A special service will be held on Sunday evening May 11, 7:30 p.m. at the Underwood United Brethren Church. The slides of the 1980 trip to Haiti by Rev. Donald Matthews and Dr. Alvin Friend and some of the others of the accompanying group will be shown.

This showing is not the same as the one being shown at the Gortner Church.

A dedication service was held on Wednesday evening at the Lighthouse Church, near Red House, as Eric Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Sweitzer, Jr. was dedicated. The Pastor, Rev. Billy A. Foster was in charge of the service.

The grandmother, Mrs. Erma Hauser and daughter Carol, Ronald Hauser and Linda Whitehair attended the service.

The Underwood Bible study group met on Thursday afternoon with Myrtle Fulk, Jane Kope, Wilma Waybright, Elaine Beckman, Mary Thomas, Mildred Peterson and Ardeth Boling attending.

Mrs. Julia Shaffer of Crellin who was spending a few days with her sister Mrs. Fulk and attended as a guest.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Bessie Canan were her niece and family Mr. and Mrs. Robert Browning, and Miss Teresa Helmick of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bee and daughter and Ed. Shrewsbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Savage and daughters spent some time on Sunday with Mrs. and Mrs. James Savage.

Bessie Canan attended a stork shower held for a niece, Mrs. Karen Helmick in Terra Alta Saturday afternoon.

We're making it easier than ever to pick up a Power Mac 320

The Power Mac 320 has always been an exceptional value. That's because it has a line up of features that's tough to beat. Like Auto-Sharp, a super convenience feature that lets you sharpen a dulled chain with the push of a button; dependable Solid State Electronic Ignition for easy starting; Automatic and Manual Oiling and Wraparound Chain Brake Hand Guard for safety. And now the 320 is an even better value. Because we're offering it completely assembled with 16" sprocket tip bar and chain. And better yet, we're packing it in its own sturdy chamois walled carrying case. All this at one unbelievably low price. Pick one up today.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE VOTING MACHINE

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

1. Move the Red Handle from the Left to the Right as far as it will go. (This will close the curtain around you.)
2. Turn DOWN A POINTER OVER the name of each candidate you wish to vote for (for each office) thus:

from this position — to this position (X)

CANDIDATE — CANDIDATE

AND LEAVE IT DOWN.

3. Continue in the same manner to the end of the ticket, taking care to turn down a pointer for EVERY office that you wish to vote for, and LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
4. Move the Red Handle to the left as far as it will go. (This will register your vote and return the Pointers to their unvoted position, after which it will open the Curtain.)

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

No votes are registered until you move the Curtain Lever to the Left to open the Curtain. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the right (curtain closed). Each candidate's voting pointer is directly ABOVE his name.

The machine is so arranged that you CANNOT TURN DOWN MORE THAN THE PROPER NUMBER OF POINTERS for an office.

BEFORE GOING INTO THE MACHINE ON ELECTION DAY

1. Examine the Specimen Ballot and decide what candidates you will vote for, and know where their names are located.
2. Practice a few times on one of the little Instruction Models, until sure that you know how to cast your ballot.

AFTER ENTERING THE MACHINE

1. Turn down the Pointers OVER each Candidate's name for whom you wish to vote.
2. LEAVE the Pointers DOWN.

On the cover of the most recent issue of the "Lutheran," official magazine of the Lutheran Church in America, is a color photograph, and in the magazine a feature article about health physicist Karl Z. Morgan of Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Morgan's mother and the mother of Herbert, Ralph, Kenneth and Joseph Buckel were sisters. Until seven years ago, Dr. Morgan was research director at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee. Retiring at 65, he serves on the watchdog committee overseeing the federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission. He serves on five NRC advisory committees that review reactor safeguards, and has made a special study of low level radiation on the nation's health. He believes nuclear energy and coal are our best sources of energy in the years to come, but believes changes need to be made in the operation and supervision of nuclear plants. A member of Atlanta's Redeemer Lutheran Church, he says that "being a Christian" gives him strength for his work as a nuclear scientist.

Many years ago, Mrs. O. C. Buckel's father, the Rev. John Shoup, was pastor of the Lutheran churches in the Bittinger Parish.

Unusual Auction

Some weeks ago the youth of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church held an auction, with about 40 participating. Each young person wrote on a card the work he was willing to do, such as housework, baby sitting, painting, yard work, garden work, typing and other chores. Raymond Bender was the auctioneer and the "slave" for an eight hour work day was sold to the highest bidder. The highest bid brought $50 for an eight hour work day. The slave auction netted $500. Assault, Battery Head Court Docket

Michael Hoye, 19, Deer Park, was found guilty of a battery charge filed against him by Kenneth Ray Broadwater, Deer Park, in connection with an incident on February 14. According to the complainant, Hoye physically and verbally attacked him on a city street in downtown Oakland. Hoye was fined $25 by Judge Lewis R. Jones.

In a separate incident, Deputy L. E. Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, filed a charge of disorderly conduct against Douglas Gene Upole, 19, Mt. Lake Park, stemming from an incident on January 26. According to Deputy Gnegy, the defendant was observed at a residence in Deer Park shouting in a loud voice, and refused to cease the disturbance upon orders of the officer. Upole was found guilty of the charge and fined $25. Deputy P. J. Pratt, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, filed a charge of theft against Donald Wayne Cottrell, 20, Oakland. According to Deputy Pratt, the defendant was observed stealing a purse and personal effects belonging to Connie L. Corbin at Joe's Place, Oakland. Police were later informed the defendant had gone to Point View Inn, McHenry, where he was found in possession of a checkbook belonging to Ms. Corbin. The defendant was found guilty by Judge Lewis R. Jones, who ordered a presentence investigation.

Catherine Patricia Halterman, Mt. Lake Park, brought charges of battery and destruction of property against Granville Park Halterman, 23, Oakland, as a result of an altercation on April 7.

According to the complainant, the disagreement involved the disposition of income tax monies received, during which time the defendant struck the complainant, twisted her arm, and broke her glasses.

Judge Jones found Halterman guilty of the battery charge, and imposed a $50 fine.

Cpl. Elmer D. Selby, Maryland State Police, filed charges of theft against Tony Angelo Anderson, McHenry, as a result of a January 23 incident at Garrett Community College. According to Cpl. Selby, the defendant inserted a card in the outer door of the projection room to keep it from locking. He later entered the building and stole 1 Realistic STA-85 AM/FM stereo receiver, valued at $180. Judge Lewis R. Jones found Anderson guilty, and ordered a presentence investigation.

In other court action, three cases were found Nolle Prosequi by James Sherbin, State's Attorney, including two assault charges, and one bad check charge.

Second In Contest

Miss Wendy Anne Verill, second grade student at Faith Baptist Academy, Joppa, was awarded second place in a statewide spelling contest Friday, April 25, at the Fine Arts Elementary competition at Maranatha Bible College in Elkton.

Wendy is a great-granddaughter of Mrs. Anne Meisenback, Center Street, Oakland, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Russell Durst, who were residents of Mt. Lake Park.

Norma Frazee Wins Bermuda Vacation

Norma Frazee, Friendsville, recently received notification from Sarah Coventry Jewelry officials that she is the winner of a company sponsored trip to Bermuda. Mrs. Frazee is the only fashion show director in the Maryland zone, which includes West Virginia and parts of Virginia to be awarded this honor. Her manager, Mrs. Loretta Smith, Cumberland, also won the trip, scheduled for early June.

Mrs. Frazee is also the winner of a trip to the home office of Sarah Coventry Jewelry as a guest of the company president. She is currently in contention for the position of top fashion director in the nation, an honor for which she has been runner-up for two years. The trip includes a day at the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament, which the company sponsors as a fund raising event for the benefit of Disabled Children, Monroe County, New York.

Mrs. Frazee has been recognized as one of the top three fashion directors in the nation eight times in 1979. She was also recently interviewed by McCall's magazine for an article to be appearing soon.

Auto Mishaps Injure Several

A number of accidents in the district last week resulted in injury to several persons.

Donald Wayne Taylor, Swanton, was slightly injured in a single vehicle accident last Sunday on the Oakland-Westernport road.

According to Maryland State Police, the Taylor vehicle was traveling west on Rt. 135 when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, running off the side of the roadway, striking a tree. Dense fog and rain added to driving difficulty.

The 1978 Chevrolet Malibu suffered front end damage, rendering it disabled.

A Hurricane, W. Va. man was injured in a one-car mishap on Wednesday morning when the auto he was driving failed to negotiate a curve, running off the right side of the road. When the driver, Thomas David Fisher, 19, overcorrected the vehicle, it crossed back over the highway, striking an embankment on the left side.

Fisher and three passengers in his car, Edward Mullins, Lester, W. Va.; Franklin Santini, Phillipsburg, N. J.; and Michael Kinkaid, Philadelphia, Pa., were transported to Sacred Heart Hospital by Tri-Towns Rescue Squad.

Fisher was charged by police with reckless driving.

Bernadette Marie Hodgson, 29, Chevy Chase, and a passenger in her car, David Caton, Frostburg, were injured in a one-car accident which occurred Saturday on the Lower New Germany Road, one half mile south of Twin Churches Road.

According to police, the operator failed to reduce speed to negotiate a turn and lost control of the vehicle, which crossed the roadway, striking an embankment.

Northern Rescue Squad responded, administering first aid at the scene before transporting the pair to the Frostburg Hospital.

Hodgson was charged with driving at speed greater than reasonable.

The Accident-Bear Creek Road was the scene of a one-vehicle accident in which Guy Danny Sessa, 37, Accident, was injured Sunday following the crash of a 1978 Chevrolet El Camino he was driving. For some unknown reason, the vehicle went off the right side of the roadway and struck an embankment. The driver related to police he did not know what caused the accident.

Northern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Sessa to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Mother Nature proved to be the culprit in a fifth single vehicle accident Sunday morning along Mayhew Inn Road.

James Dean Harvey, 20, Deer Park, was traveling east on Mayhew inn Road, when he swerved to avoid a deer crossing the roadway. Harvey lost control of the car and overturned, sliding off the roadway and striking a wire fence.

A private citizen transported him to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

The 1977 Ford F-150 was estimated a total loss.

Sheriff's Office Reports Breaking And Entering

Breaking and entering complaints make up the majority of reports received by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week. In other police business the department arrested four persons last week.

Iva Naomi Miller, Mt. Lake Park, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at her residence on Smouse Road on April 28. Ms. Miller had left her home for the day, and upon returning that evening she found that someone had removed a window pane from the side of her door, and had entered the dwelling. Ms. Miller's freezer had been entered, and a large amount of food was taken, police said, amounting to approximately $125.

Two cottages at Youghiogheny Mountain Resort were broken into sometime between April 1 and May 3. Thomas Heck, Germantown, and Raymond Irminger, Gaithersburg, reported the incidents involving entry to their separate cottages.

Entry was made through the front door of both dwellings, police said, and nothing was noticed missing or disturbed. Police said it is unknown at this time why entry was made into the cottages.

In a separate incident, Albert Zang, Oakland, reported a destruction of property to his mailbox, sometime during the night of May 1.

Loss value is estimated at $30.

Linda Sue Railey, 22, was arrested last week for writing bad checks. She was released on her own recognizance.

John Bonham Hayhurst, 19, was arrested Thursday for destruction of property, and he was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Wanda Jane Cline, 19, was incarcerated Saturday for writing a bad check. Sunday she was transported to the Westernport Police Department by the Maryland State Police.

Kalen Marie Friend, 20, was arrested Sunday for breaking and entering and theft. She was released on unsecured bond.

Accident Man Receives 20-Day Jail Sentence

Joseph L. Hutzel, 21, Accident, was sentenced to 20 days in the Allegany County Jail last week by Allegany County District Court Judge Milton Gerson, after he pled guilty to a bad check charge.

Hutzel was given credit time already served in jail after his arrest on the charge. He was charged with writing a bad check in the amount of $202.59 to Sears, Roebuck and Co., LaVale.

Bolden Files For Delegate Position

Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Garrett/Allegany) has announced that he filed as a delegate to the Republican National Convention from the Sixth Congressional District and has been selected by Ronald Reagan as an authorized candidate, along with Francis Rooney of Howard County and David Smith of Washington County. They are former Governor Reagan's only officially authorized candidates for delegate to the Republican National Convention from the Sixth District.

Delegate Bolden has served in the Maryland General Assembly since 1971 as a delegate from District 1A. He has been a member of the House Appropriations Committee during his ten-year tenure. He was re-elected in 1974 and again in 1978. He is married and resides with his wife, Phyllis and daugher, Mary De, in Oakland. He is the owner and operator of the Southern Car Wash and the Southern Sanitation Service.

Ambulance, Rescue Association Formed

The steering committee for the formation of the Mid Appalachian Ambulance and Rescue Association met on April 22 at Georges Creek Rescue Squad, Lonaconing. The purpose of the association is to promote and assist in training, delivery of care, obtaining equipment and bring together those organizations in the area which deal with the sick and injured.

Membership is open to any organization operating an ambulance or rescue vehicle and any organization which provides assistance to the association. Such organizations in the Garrett-Allegany county area, as well as neighboring West Virginia and Pennsylvania, which desire more information should contact Dave Wade at 359-3843.

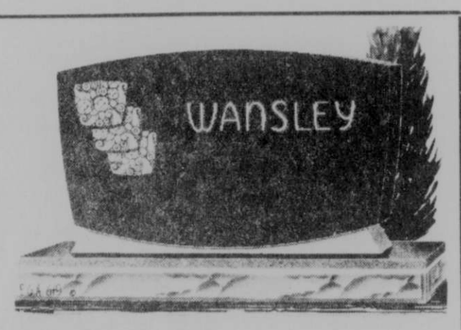

The next meeting will be held on May 20, 7:30 p.m., at LaVale Rescue Squad.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenues Are Distributed

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported this week that Baltimore City and the 23 Maryland counties will receive checks totaling $5,670,545, representing each jurisdiction's share of the distilled spirits, beer and cigarette tax revenue collected during January, February, and March, 1980.

The amount distributed to the subdivisions for the third quarter of Fiscal Year 1980 is 1.3% less than the distribution for the corresponding quarter of the previous year. During the first nine months of Fiscal Year 1980, the local jurisdictions received $19,129,446, an increase of $119,664 over the same distribution period in Fiscal Year 1979. Each of the three tax sources, distilled spirits, beer and cigarettes, showed a slight growth during the first three quarters of Fiscal Year 1980.

The local governments received $1,148,000 as their share of the state distilled spirits tax for the third quarter of Fiscal Year 1980. A total of $4,219,000 in distilled spirits tax revenue has been distributed for the first nine months of the year. The localities receive fifty cents of the $1.50 state tax on each gallon of ditilled spirits delivered to retailers within the subdivision. Garrett County received $4,021.00, the smallest check in the state.

The 23 counties and Baltimore City received $917,303 as their share of the nine-cents-per-gallon state beer tax collected during January, February and March, 1980. Each subdivision is entitled to approximately four and one-half cents for each gallon of beer delivered to its licensed retailers. Garrett County received $5,020.66.

The third quarter cigarette tax provided localities with $3,605,242, increasing their cumulative tobacco tax receipts during the first nine months to $11,676,949. Three cents of the ten-cents-per-pack tax is allocated to the 24 subdivisions based on population. Garrett County received $21,253.39.

County Schools Offer Programs On Health, Safety

Dick Travis, Instructional Supervisor for the Garrett County Schools, announced that Berkeley Health and Traffic Safety are two programs presently being conducted into the curriculum of the county elementary schools. These are a continued phase of the total learning environment provided for the students in kindergarten through the fifth grades.

The Berkeley Health Model is a part of the total Health Curriculum offered Garrett County Students.

The Model developed at Berkeley, California, came into existence as a means to offer factual information with regard to the health hazards related to smoking. Primarily directed toward fifth graders, the Model makes provisions for a fourth grade body awareness unit with an emphasis on energy.

The fifth grade curricula is directed toward the interrelationships of body systems, and emphasis on the respiratory system and the diseases most commonly related to that system.

Throughout the school year, each Garrett County Elementary School has the opportunity to provide this health component.

Elementary schools currently involved in the program are:

Red House School, Accident, Route 40, Crellin, Bloomington, Broad Ford, Dennett Road, Friendsville, and Grantsville.

Even with anti-smoking campaigns, smoking among youth is reported to be on the increase. The Berkeley Health Component is designed to offer information to help Garrett County youth make decisions related to smoking based on facts.

The traffic safety, ie., bicycle safety, program is designed for children in kindergarten through fifth grades.

The Maryland State Police is conducting a seminar of "bicycle safety." This program is combined with a series of seventeen films on "traffic safety."

There is a difference between child and adult traffic accidents. First, the highway environment is made for adults not children. Another difference is that children, especially the very young, have little control over their destiny in a traffic situation.

Traffic safety education is a form of instruction to help children acquire and apply the mental, physical and social concepts, skills and attitudes needed for a lifetime of successful highway use, or, more simply—for survival. As conceived in the total program, safety education for children is a system of ideas concerned with each child's participation and well-being in traffic situations.

The program is based on the idea that to be effective, education for traffice safety must begin with children. Starting with the very young, children are active as pedestrians, passengers and drivers of bicycles in all types of traffic situations—some of which are hazardous and all of which require some form of safe behavior.

The teaching emphasis on fundamental ways of perceiving, judging, deciding and acting that will reduce risk and increase survival in all situations. These steps are identify, predict, decide and execute. Teaching the process, rather then the terms, is emphasized so children can use the process, without being able to define it. In this way, the child is taught to sense and process information, decide and act.

David Terlizzi Awarded HCMM Certification

David Terlizzi, Director of Materials Management at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, recently received certification in the field of Health Care Materials Management (HCMM).

The program seeks to identify persons who have superior knowledge and experience in the various functions and levels of HCMM. Certification indicates that the recipient has mastered a validated common body of knowledge.

Beyond certification, there is a re-certification program that demonstrates a member is currently involved in Health Care Materials Management activities, and is cognizant of new and proven innovations and practices in his field.

The program is offered by the Health Care Section of the Materials Management Society, Lansing, Michigan, of which Terlizzi is a member. His accomplishment is demonstrated by the use of the acronym C.P.H.M. (Certified Professional Healthcare Manager) to be used after his name and title.

David lives at Red House with his wife, Darlene, and daughter, Shelly. He has been employed by Garrett County Memorial Hospital since May, 1975. He is a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, where he is a Sunday School teacher and director of youth programs and activities.

Production Of Alfalfa Rising

Alfalfa production is on an increase in Garrett County according to James McHenry, Extension Agent, Agriculture. New varities, weed control, insect control and fertilizer methods have made alfalfa a profitable crop especially for dairy producers. "Corn is king and alfalfa is queen in forage crops," he said.

Two field-day meetings are scheduled on Wednesday, May 14. The morning session will be at Jonas Yoder's farm located in the Gortner area at 9:30 a.m. "Jonas has an excellent stand of direct seeded alfalfa," McHenry said. The afternoon session will be held at Oren Bender's farm located in the Cove area at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Lester R. Vough, Forage Crops Specialist with the University of Maryland Extension, and Dr. V. Allan Bandel, Soils, Fertilizer and Lime Specialist with University of Maryland Extension, will be on hand to discuss best management practices for top alfalfa production.

Various Agri-business representatives will also participate, according to McHenry, and farmers are encouraged to attend the meeting in their area.

Southern Band Concert Scheduled

The Southern High School Stage Band will present its annual Spring concert on Friday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Selections will include, "Rocky II", "Just the Way You Are," and "Eleventh Commandment."

Democrats File For Delegate To Convention

It was announced by the Garrett County State Central Committee that the following four Garrett County residents filed their candidacy for the Sixth Congressional District Delegate to the Democratic National Convention: Ada Mae Welch Bellay, Jack Fridinger, William Goldsborough and James E. Matthews.

These delegates names will be placed in nomination at the caucus for the Sixth Congressional District to be held at the North Hagerstown High School, Hagerstown, on June 7. Democrats will participate in two democratic processes: first, at the polls to vote for a presidential preference, and secondly at the open post primary caucus in their Congressional district. All registered Democrats are invited to participate.

The Sixth Congressional District will elect five delegates and four alternates to attend the Democratic National Convention in New York. Maryland will have 59 delegates and 40 alternates. Forty-one of these delegates and 30 alternates are elected by the voters in post-primary caucuses. Thirteen delegates and ten alternates are elected at-large by the Democratic State Central Committee and the other five slots are reserved for the state's party and elected officials.

On May 13 Democrats will vote for the presidential candidate of their choice or have the option of voting uncommitted. No delegates names will appear on the ballot. The candidate or "uncommitted" is entitled to the same percentage of the Congressional District's delegates and alternates as his percentage of the popular vote. Thus, if a candidate gets 50% of the popular vote in a Congressional District, he is entitled to 50% of the Congressional Districts delegates and alternates; 30% entitles him to 30%, etc. No candidate can receive all the Congressional District's delegates or alternates unless he wins 85% of the popular vote cast in that district.

By itself, natural gas is odorless. But, so you'll know if gas is present in the air, we add a distinctive smell. If you ever notice the odor of gas in or around your home, first check pilot lights and burners on appliances. If you still smell gas, call us.

And if the odor is strong, the safest actions are: □ Open doors and windows to ventilate house □ Shut off gas appliance valves □ Don't use matches, operate any electrical appliances or switches, including light switches, or use telephone □ Leave the house – make your call to the gas company from a neighbor's home and remain there until our people arrive and check for the source of the gas odor in your home.

A Columbia Gas serviceman will be sent immediately to make a thorough check.

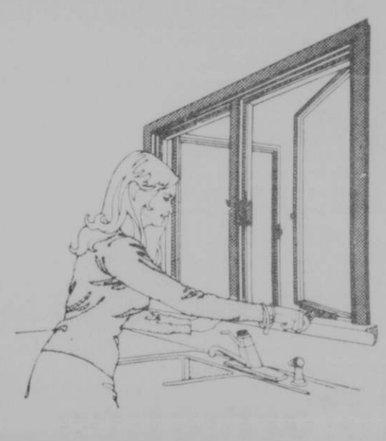

Will everyone in your home recognize the odor? If not, ask your Columbia office for a gas-scented folder that's available.

Columbia is concerned about your safety. With your cooperation, we'll do everything we can to keep your natural gas service efficient and dependable.

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Sanitary Board Signs Contracts For Water Project

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission recently approved two contracts for the Mountain Lake Water Rehabilitation project dealing with design and inspection services for water source rehabilitation and for the Oak Park water system rehabilitation.

The contract approved for the water source rehabilitation project went to Western Maryland Associates. The contract for rehabilitation of the Oak Park water system and replacement of an existing four inch water main with a ten inch main across the Little Youghiogheny River and the Chessie System went to Franklin Associates.

In other business, the Commission authorized Dick Nace, administrator of the Sanitary District, Inc., to explore buying a manhole from the Board of Education to allow a hook-up for the group home for the mentally retarded, planned to be constructed on Broad Ford Road. The Commission also approved Nace's intention to install a normal water service line to the group home at the home's expenses.

The Commission authorized legal counsel Ralph Burnett to set up bond for $82,112.75 to pay $60,000 to the county commissioners as the county's share of capital costs for the Trout Run Sewerage Facility and to pay $21,500 as the cost of the bond anticipation note which had been established to pay for the court ordered audit and to pay $612.75 as the amount paid to date in interest on that note.

Nace reported he and representatives of the Maryland Environmental Health Administration had reviewed the revised Upper Youghiogheny Area Sewerage Facilities Plan and had agreed revision was still necessary. He reported he would direct Pullman, Swindell, the engineering firm performing the study, to finish the document as soon as possible. He stated additional information could be appended to the study as sewer system evaluation studies were completed.

Nace reported the firm of Andrews Miller will begin television inspection of Sanitary Commission lines in Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights shortly after it has finished work in the Grantsville and Accident areas.

The Commission set the second and fourth Thursdays of the next three months as meeting dates.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The annual Mother's Day Smorgasbord will be held in the Aurora Fire Hall on May 11 with serving from Noon until 4:00 p.m., benefit the Aurora VFD. The meal is served by the Aurora VFD Auxiliary.

The kindergarten, first, second and third grades at Aurora School will present their spring program on May 29. That is a changed date.

On May 3, the Union District Senior Citizens club had its regular monthly meeting in the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. There were 55 present for the covered dish supper and program which followed.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "America" by all. Accompanying at the piano was Sarah Henline. Vesta Stemple then led the devotions using Psalm 24:1 followed by the hymn, "This Is My Father's World", led by Ruth Snyder. Mrs. Stemple then read "Springtime", "Daffodils", "A Tribute to Mother" and "Beatitudes for Senior Citizens" and closed with prayer.

During the business session, Mrs. Stemple was chosen as a belle to represent the Union District group at the Glenville Folk Festival June 19-22. An attempt to hold an election was made, but when no nominations were forthcoming, a nominating committee was appointed with election planned for June. Named to that committee were Fred Stemple, Ron Parsons, Ted Hardesty and Homer Fike.

At the June meeting on the 7th, in additin to election, the Gospel Tones of Howesville will be present to give their message in song. The July meeting will be postponed until the second Saturday, July 12, and will be held in the Jessie Trotter Memorial Park next to the State Road Garage.

There will be bus service available here on May 14 and 27 and it is hoped that a group of ladies will be able to go to Kingwood and quilt on those two dates. After this time, the bus will be available here only once every other month due to the curtailment of funds. Plans for trip to be made in May were cancelled, but a trip is now being planned for July 19 to Sea World and Akron with a visit to the Cathedral of Tomorrow. Reservations and a deposit are due in the county office June 1 with the remainder of the cost to be paid by July 1.

Annie Ringer also announced that plans are being made to organize a Preston County Chorus and anyone interested is invited to be at the Senior Center in Kingwood on Friday at 1 p.m. The Preston County Senior Citizens are also sponsoring a Walk-for-Life on July 12. More details will be released later.

Two films from the American Cancer Society, "The Priceless Gift," and "The Cancer Nobody Talks About," were shown to the group by Galen Fike and Ernest Shaffer. The Aurora School loaned a projector. Following the films, Laura Adkins, the senior nurse, gave some remarks about cancer, answered questions and remained to take blood pressure checks following the close of the meeting.

This was closed with prayer by Galen Fike. Get-well cards were sent to Elva Bland, Gordon Bonner and Ernest Arnold.

Correction: Glenn and Norma Roth Lantz live in Medina, Ohio, and it was they who were visited by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lantz and Mrs. Lela Roth.

Patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital from Eglon are Mrs. Elva Bland, who was admitted last Wednesday; Ernest Arnold, who has been undergoing tests; and Gordon Bonner, who suffered a heart attack while undergoing tests there on Thursday.

Mrs. Martha Crowe returned last week to Aurora after spending a week in Miami, Florida, visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crowe, and their two married children there. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Crowe and family of Reedsville, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Crowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fike of Terra Alta, and Mrs. Luella Fike, Aurora, were Saturday visitors with Mrs. Bessie Shoemaker at the Mound View Rest Home in Moundsville.

Nellie Wolfe, Red House, was a weekend visitor with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring, in Aurora. Sunday visitors there were Marie Martin, Nellie Selders, Hilda Winters and Dr. Margaret Stemple, the latter of Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cox, of the Washington, D. C. area, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Slaubaugh at Silver Lake. Accompanying them here was Mrs. Ruby Skinner who visited with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harsh and Doyle, at Eglon.

Robert Craver, Kitzmiller, spent a few days visiting in Eglon with his nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Winters.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Alden Wilt at Eglon this weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Radcliff and family of Parkersburg.

About 40 women attended the May Fellowship Day luncheon and program on Friday, May 2, at the Bethel United Methodist Church at Horse Shoe Run. Election of officers was held and elected to the post of president is Rebecca Teets with Jessye Westmoreland serving as vice-president. Elected secretary-treasurer of the group is Grace Bachtel.

Following the business session, the litany of confession and dedication was read and Mrs. Jessye Westmoreland led the meditation on "The Spirit of the Lord Is Upon Me."

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Beckman and son, Curtis, and Mrs. Beckman's mother, Dorothy Schaeffer, have moved from their home in Aurora to the farm home near Eglon which they purchased from Ed Crossland and was formerly the Paul Gnegy or Emra Fike farm.

Information From Lung Association Available By Phone

Susan Mather, M.D., president of the American Lung Association of Maryland, has announced a new service for the citizens of the State of Maryland. Beginning this month, individuals living outside the Baltimore Metropolitan exchange area, may contact the Lung Association by using a special toll-free number, (800) 492-7527.

The American Lung Association of Maryland has a range of services available in the subject areas of adult and children's lung disease, smoking and health, environmental and occupational helath, and professional education. Program specialists in each of these areas are available for consultation and program planning.

Maryland's Lung Association is represented locally by the Allegany-Garrett Counties' Advisory Council, composed of volunteers interested in promoting Association activities and programs. Those citizens interested in local or statewide Lung Association Program activities and in joining the Allegany-Garrett Councils should contact the American Lung Association office by calling the new toll-free number.

Sachs Cautions Credit Card Users

Attorney General Stephen H. Sachs this week cautioned credit card users to be on the lookout for notices from stores, banks or credit card companies changing the terms of their credit card accounts to require, for example, higher monthly payments.

"Should a situation like this arise, we want consumers to know how to handle it before they get themselves too far into debt," Mr. Sachs said.

"Current economic conditions may foreshadow changes in the way creditors will be handling their accounts," Mr. Sachs explained. "For example, federal law permits a creditor to increase the amount of a minimum monthly payment by giving thirty days' written notice to the consumer. Such a change could very well be disastrous to a consumer who has made extensive use of several credit cards and is barely able to meet his or her current monthly payments.

"However," he continued, "federal law also states that if the consumer does not use the card after the effective date of the change, he or she has a right to pay off the existing balance at the old terms."

Mr. Sachs said that to avoid indebting themselves too far, it is important that those consumers not make further purchases on their credit cards until they have significantly reduced or paid off the existing balance.

The Consumer Protection Division is offering a free fact sheet explaining what rights consumers have if a store, bank or credit card company attempts to change the terms of their credit card accounts. Single copies may be obtained by sending a self-addressed envelope to: Credit Card Rules, Consumer Protection Division, 26 S. Calvert Street, 8th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21201.

Those with questions about their credit cards may call the Commissioner of Consumer Credit at 301-383-3656 or the Consumer Protection Division at 301-383-3700.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

★★★★★★★★★★★

Pvt. Jeffrey L. Stanton, son of Mrs. Alverta M. Stanton, Star Route 495, Grantsville, recently completed training as a cannoneer under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at the U. S. Army Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.

OSUT is a 13-week period which combines basic combat training with advanced individual training.

Students learned the duties of a howitzer or gun section crewman and received instruction in handling ammunition, setting fuses and preparing charges, communications and maintenance.

Stanton entered the Army in January 1980.

Marine Pvt. Gregory S. Skiles, son of Clark and Peggy Skiles, Oakland, has completed the Marine Corps Basic Combat Engineer Course.

During the six-week course at Camp Lejeune, N. C., he studied the fundamentals of engineering support for combat units. He received instruction on the tools and procedures for building bridges, roads and field fortifications. He also studied the use of demolitions, landmine warfare and camouflage techniques.

A 1979 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1979.

Pvt. Douglas K. Warnick, whose wife, Betty, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Warnick, live on Route 4, Deer Park, recently was assigned as a military policeman with the 549th Military Police Company at Fort Gulick, Panama.

Warnick, a 1979 graduate of Southern High School, entered the Army in December 1978.

Marine Pfc. Roy D. Otto, son of Patrick T. and Mary A. McKenzie of Star Route, Grantsville, recently participated in amphibious landing exercise in Spain.

He is a member of Marine Service Support Group 34, assigned to the 34th Marine Amphibious Unit. His unit, based at Camp Lejeune, N. C., is currently on a deployment in the Mediterrean.

During the exercise conducted with the Spanish Marines, his unit provided helicopter landing zone control, supply, transportation and maintenance services for the landing forces. Afterwards, he had the opportunity to visit Cartagena, Spain.

Otto joined the Marine Corps in June 1979.

Fundraiser Is Offered By Arbor Day Foundation

The National Arbor Day Foundation is now making it possible for organizations to sell trees as a fund-raising project.

Clubs, churches and other organizations can sell trees in their community to raise money for their activities, and the Foundation will mail the trees directly to the customers' homes. The local sponsoring organization never has to handle the trees, according to the Foundation.

The Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life in communities throughout the country by encouraging tree planting.

Organizations are asked to contact the Foundation now to obtain information in time to lay plans for a tree sale program for the fall. Free sales literature and order forms may be obtained by calling (402) 474-5655 or writing the National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Linda Gail Miller Selected As State Pageant Finalist

Miss Linda Gail Miller, 16, Accident, has been selected to be a state finalist in the 1980 Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held at the Marriott Hunt Valley Inn on July 7.

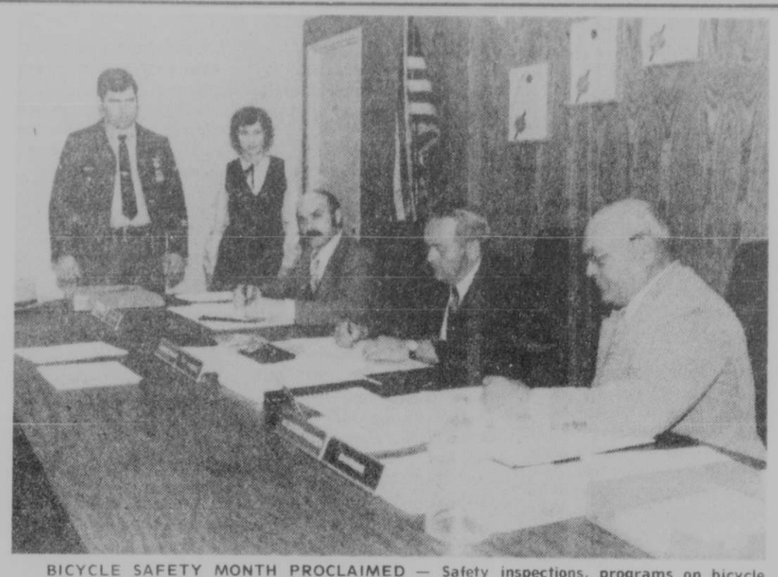

Contestants from all over the state will be competing for the title. All entrants are between the ages of 14 and 18, and must maintain at least a "B" average in school grading. They are requested to participate in the volunteer community service program of the Miss United Teenager pageant, giving at least eight hours time to a worthwhile charity or civic organization of their choice.

The winner of the state finals will receive an all-expense paid trip to compete in the national finals, a three-phase pageant in Hollywood, California; Waikiki Beach, Hawaii; and Washington, D. C. where she will compete for $15,000 in scholarships, a new automobile for her reigning year, a trip to Europe, a $5000 appearance contract, a $2000 wardrobe, and numerous other awards. Contestants will be judged on scholastic ability, civic achievements and reciting a 100-word essay on the subject, "My Country".

Miss Miller is a junior student at Northern High School. Her hobbies are singing and playing the piano. She is active in youth activities with the Glendale Assembly of God Church, and serves as a volunteer worker at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sponsors for Miss Miller include the Casselman Restaurant, Beitzel's Welding and Construction, Inc., Grantsville; W. H. Fratz, Inc. and Fratz Red and White Super Market, Accident; Hawkinson Tread Service, and Cecil E. Jackson Equipment Co., Inc., Oakland.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller.

HOW MANY HOUSES IN YOUR FUTURE?

Sometimes a look into the past will give you an educated guess as to your future homeowning status. So it goes with a recently completed survey of homeowners by a major Mortgage Insurance Company.

If you are an average statistic, you can expect to own three or four homes in your lifetime. The survey found that 76% of all newly-married couples start out by living in rental housing - primarily apartments. It then progresses to the purchase of the first home with the advent of children. Sixty-eight percent of couples owning their first home have at least one child.

Although 31% reported their home adequate, 55% reported they were actively looking for a larger house. Although larger quarters was a major reason for moving, 63% said a more expensive home in a better neighborhood was a better investment in light of their experiences in the first two homes.

Goldstein Lauds DOE Investigation

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has applauded the U. S. Department of Energy's action in investigating suspected violations of federal gasoline price regulations in Maryland uncovered by representatives of the State Comptroller's Motor Fuel Tax Division.

"While our office had no authority to enforce the federal price regulations, the U. S. Department of Energy cooperated completely by investigating the more than 550 suspected violations our office turned over to them in early March," Mr. Goldstein said. "I have been urging every Energy Czar and Secretary of Energy to cooperate with the states in this manner. It benefits both the consumer and the taxpayer." Federal officials called the cooperative effort unique and effective.

Auditors and investigators from the Motor Fuel Tax Division visited 3,173 of Maryland's 3,369 retail service stations during the week of February 19-23, 1980 in the most intensive price survey undertaken by any state. Federal officials investigated the suspected violations, ordered $50,000 in price rollbacks and levied $25,000 in civil penalties.

"We undertook this survey to determine if overcharging existed and how widespread it might be in Maryland," Mr. Goldstein said. "The success of this cooperative enforcement effort has convinced me that our office should continue to monitor prices from time to time."

Federal regulations currently allow dealers a maximum 16.1 cents price mark-up on each gallon of gasoline. The maximum mark-up may be added to the price paid by the dealer, applicable federal and state taxes and transportation charges.

Bicycle Safety Month Declared

Bicycle safety programs, bike safety inspections, and riding rodeos are being conducted throughout Garrett County under the auspices of the Garrett County Children's Council, the Jaycees Clubs of Oakland and Grantsville, and Maryland and Garrett County Memorial VFW Post 10077, with the cooperation of the Maryland State Police. The events are being held as part of Bicycle Safety Month.

Tfc. Larry Smith, with the McHenry detachment, has been presenting programs on bicycle safety to elementary and middle school students throughout the county.

Free bike safety inspections will be provided prior to the riding rodeos scheduled for Broad Ford Elementary School on May 17, at 1 p.m., and at the Grantsville Town Park on May 18, at 1 p.m. The inspections are being provided by the Garrett County VFW Post 10077, and the Disabled American Veterans group.

The riding rodeos are being sponsored by the Oakland and Grantsville Jaycee Clubs. There will be categories of riding skills for all age groups, and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

The entire program is part of a two year safety project sponsored by the Garrett County Children's Council, comprised of representatives from all agencies interested in the betterment of children.

School Counselor Week Announced

The American School Counselor Association is sponsoring National School Guidance Week May 5 through May 9, with Wednesday, May 7, designated as Maryland School Counselor Day. The theme for the week is, "Celebrate and Communicate."

Counselors at Northern and Southern High Schools, in cooperation with the staff at Garrett Community College, have planned a Career Day for May 15 to be held at GCC.

Junior and senior students, who have registered to attend, will visit three areas of career opportunities, including continuing education, employment, and occupations. Parents are also invited to attend the sessions.

At the present time, the counseling staff of Garrett County public schools include Jack Lear and James Thomas, with Northern High, a part-time counselor, Elmer Redinger, at Northern Middle School, Anna Bishop and Pam Peddicord, at Southern High, and Nancy Turney, at Southern Middle School.

Mark Alkire, with Northern High School, and Les McDaniel, with Southern High School, serve as Alternative Learning Program Counselors. At the present time, there are no elementary counselors in the system.

These persons are an integral part of the school system, working with students, parents, teachers, administrators, supervisory staff, and community agencies to improve the educational standards of the school and community.

Church Women United Conducts Meeting, Service

Church Women United met at the Otterbein United Methodist Church in Swanton last Friday, on May Fellowship Day. The meeting was opened by Martha Glotfelty, president. Twelve area churches were represented at the meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Bender led the group in singing, and prayer was led by Mrs. Betty Wildesen. Nomination and election of officers was conducted by the nominating committee, headed by Melda Bittinger.

New officers are Mrs. Charlotte Mousch, president and Mrs. Mary Jane Harvey, treasurer. The new officers will be installed in November at the World Community Day Service, St. John's Lutheran Church, Meadow Mountain. The group meets three times per year.

A worship service followed the meeting, with call to worship by Betty Wildesen. The theme of the May Fellowship Day service was "The Spirit of the Lord is Upon Me."

During the service Ruth Yoder, Doris Friend and Helen Silber spoke on their experiences and faith in God. Ms. Silber discussed the plight of the Boat People in America. Ms. Yoder talked of her family's flight from Germany to Denmark during World War II. Ms. Friend spoke of her daughter's faith during a fight with cancer.

Kings Kid Youth Fellowship of Swanton made name tags for the event, in the shape of doves. Ushers and refreshments were provided by members of the Otterbein Methodist Church.

Democrat Candidates, House Of Representatives

Editor's Note: The Republican news staff contacted all Maryland U. S. Senatorial and Congressional candidates, requesting from each a 350-word statement addressing the people of Garrett County, regarding issues of their choice. This effort was made to provide Garrett Countians with additional information about the candidates and the issues, and thus aid them in making a choice.

Candidates not responding were:
—John J. Kubricky, —Melvin C. Perkins.

B. McMahon

The primary focus of my campaign is to restore the role and the faith of the individual citizen in the Government by controlling the excessive growth of Big Government and limiting Government's control over citizens' lives.

My candidacy is a reaction against the lack of responsible action by Congress on the critical problems of energy and inflation. Members of Congress are irresponsible when they vote benefits for themselves and take unnecessary overseas trips rather than showing the re..traint and leadership this country desperately needs. The growth of big government and the lack of leadership by Congress are threatening the very spirit that made this country great.

I have been a small businessman and property-owner in Washington County since 1960. My professional background includes experience with: the New York State Police, the Central Intelligence Agency, the Secret Service, the Illinois Institute of Technology, and the White House. I have been very active for more than ten years on protecting citizens' rights, and I served as a consultant to two Presidential privacy activities. As a direct result of the Warren Commission's recommendations, the White House selected me to head up the technical development activities of the Secret Service.

My background in government, small business, technology, and public safety makes me uniquely qualified to understand and to fight to make Government serve the People, not the Bureaucrats. The complexity of modern issues and the problems of relating them to the practicalities of life in Maryland argue strongly for a representative who doesn't have to turn to Staff for answers to every question.

I am aware of the difficulties of waging a campaign against an incumbent whose family has traditionally held the seat. But, your representative must know What it's like to be an individual citizen without any particular influence, and what it's like to get your hands dirty doing and honest day's work. Your representative must actively oversight the Government's agencies and develop solutions to this nation's problems, not just sit around in "safe subcommittees" just to be seen.

I believe that "Politics is too important to leave only to Politicians."

Kent Sullivan

Kent Sullivan is a 35 year old former public school teacher who earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan and a Master of Science degree from Johns Hopkins University. Before resigning to run for public office on January 11, 1980, he spent 7 years employed by the Federal government as a research associate, supervisor of field projects and Congressional liaison for the National Institute of Education, Washington, D. C.

Sullivan's candidacy and lifestyle are characterized by an abiding belief in the value and dignity of every human being. As a result, he is particularly disturbed that so many elected officials "misdirect the powers of government to matters we must handle ourselves, while neglecting those crucial matters we can not handle ourselves." His primary concern is with "a crisis of confidence—in ourselves, in one another and in the collective capacity to forge our own destiny," and he is critical of those members of Congress who "demonstrate defeating shortsightedness by proposing 'bits and pieces of legislation' instead of the major reform bills so very necessary if we are to effectively address the enormous problems of the day."

The candidate views political activity as a process of mutual education and problem-solving and proposes for consideration a comprehensive, national, 20 year plan. Federally sponsored and publicly developed, the plan would "provide goals and ways to achieve them during our journey into the 21st Century."

Rep. Beverly Byron

I favor balanciing the federal budget, reducing federal spending and attacking underlying causes of inflation by encouraging savings, business investment and improvements in productivity. I have introduced legislation to address each of these important goals. I have cosponsored a bill that would reduce the amount spent on welfare programs, requiring recipients to work in community service projects in order to receive welfare benefits. Exceptions would be the aged, disabled and those responsible for the care of a small child. Pilot projects testing this "workfare" concept have indicated more than half of the welfare recipients choose to give up their benefits rather than work for them.

As a member of Congress, I have voted to cut waste, fraud, mismangement and abuse from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. I have voted to decrease the public debt, reduce the federal deficit and cut appropriations for various government agencies. I have voted against funding of costly dams and water projects and against the large federal subsidies to the operation of the District of Columbia government. I believe additional emphasis in the budget must go to energy research and development, law enforcement and national defense.

I favor relaxing environmental standards to allow for the greater use of coal and have cosponsored several bills to accomplish this. Passage of this legislation would enable Western Maryland coal to be burned locally in greater quantities and help attract new industries and jobs to our region.

It is my view that we must have a stronger national defense posture and the U. S. must increase its military presence and capabilities in the Persian Gulf and other areas of the world. I have been working towards this goal as a member of the House Armed Services Committee. If we fail to respond to the Afghanistan invasion with strength, we will be inviting the Soviets to take hostile actions against other countries in ways that will further threaten vital U. S. interests abroad. I do not think our response should be limited strictly to the Persian Gulf. We must prevent communist expansion worldwide, including the use of Cuban troops in Africa.

Tom Hattery

The following statements form the basis for my views on the major issues facing Maryland, the United States and the world today.

I believe:

The average citizen must be a Congressman's first interest. He is often forgotten when the high-powered lobbyists and single-interest groups take control.

The United States should be energy self-sufficient, that the price of energy should be low enough for every citizen to be warm enough, and to travel freely to visit family, conduct business and lead a good life. This will happen only when the people, not the big oil companies, have control over our energy future.

People should feel safe in their own homes, on the streets, and on the highways. Both city and rural people are now in constant fear of robbery, burglary, arson, widespread vandalism, and alcohol-related highway accidents.

Interest rates should be lower and investment encouraged. Boosting the interest rates is an attempt to control inflation at the expense of the average citizens and small businesses of this country.

We should end killing, hostage-taking and invasion through improved intelligence, sensible foreign policy and the creation of additional and strengthened world alliances.

We must encourage higher standards of innovation and productivity.

Home owners should be secure from excessive taxation.

We must create opportunities, not disincentives for people to work.

Government should be more efficient and operate within a balanced budget.

Good citizenship should be given more attention and taught more effectively. I propose a "Citizenship Day" devoted to ways in which each of us can be a better citizen.

A Congressman should keep his constituents fully informed on his position, votes in Committee and in the full House, with explanations of important issues.

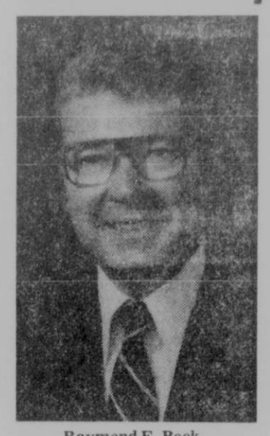

Dishonesty should be fought continually and honesty should be sought, until the crooks are run out of office and honest individuals have a fighting chance in the political system.

We need a Congressman who will take a stand and remain true to his beliefs even if they are, at times, unpopular.

A Congressman should see to it that the Federal bureaucracy is more responsive to the individual.

About 6,700 cases of poisonous snake bites are treated annually by physicians in the United States, reports the National Wildlife Federation. Of these, fewer than 20 are fatal. Rattlesnakes are responsible for most of the bites and for nearly 90 percent of the fatalities.

Republican Candidates, House Of Representatives

Raymond E. Beck

I'm running for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District on my proven record of legislative leadership and ability to get things done. Over the past eight years I've served Carroll and Frederick counties in the Maryland House of Delegates and presently serve as Republican Floor Leader.

I've successfully sponsored important bills which will shape the future of Maryland. Among them is the "Workfare Bill," which requires able-bodied welfare recipients to work on public projects in return for welfare checks. I fought for Maryland's farmland preservation program and its funding. I sponsored the so-called "Beck Bill" to reform Maryland's property assessment procedures. It requires physical assessments once every three years, instead of annually, with any increases phased in over the three-year period, limited to a state-wide average of six-percent. The "Beck Bill" helps take inflation's sting out of the real property tax. I've also sponsored successful bills to extend income tax credits to those who care for elderly or disabled relatives in their homes to prevent them from being forced into state institutions or nursing homes. Additionally, I've sponsored bills to reinstate the death penalty and to lower Maryland's strict air quality standards to permit the burning of higher sulphur coal.

The key to the fuel crisis is coal. It's a proven source of energy over the long haul. Coal is our energy future, either in power plants, powered by coal, or liquification or gasofication. We can and must develop the coal technology.

The difference in this Congressional race is leadership. I believe I can extend my record of experience and leadership to the U. S. Congress. Congress is an immovable object. Its only bold move to solve the problem of inflation was to raise the salaries of its members, rather than reduce taxes. Congress has permitted us to become dependent on Arab oil sheiks, while its members voted against defense spending, allowing us to lose the military edge to the Soviet Union.

Our district deserves a Congressman with leadership and imagination, who will act and not react to the monumental problems facing our district and our nation.

Clifford H. Andrews

He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He is president of Shall Enterprises Corp. and also has the sales franchise for American Amplifier & Television Corp. in the state of Maryland. Cliff has been active in many civic activities during the last 30 years.

Some of the offices he has held are: president of Baltimore Alumni Club, Delta Sigma Pi, a professional of business and commerce; president of United Christian Citizens; president of Second District Republican Club of Baltimore County; president of Arbutus Optimist Club; Lt. Governor of Optimist International of Maryland; Area Commander of Baltimore District of the American Legion; Commander of one of the oldest active American Legion Posts in Maryland; chairman of a troop committee, Boy Scout Troop 743, for 15 years.

He is currently a member of the McClayton Committee of United Christian Citizens, a member of Catonsville Baptist Church, and serving as Commander of Maryland Guard Memorial Post, American Legion.

"There are many areas of need to be concerned with, one is how to conserve gasoline. Vehicles operated by the U. S. Postal Service and other government agencies do not travel over 60 miles per day. All of these should be electric driven cars."

"Results will be: save millions of gallons of gas per month, lessen our dependency on foreign oil, help to reduce our international deficit payments, give a boost to automobile mfg."

Homemakers Meet

The Deer Park Homemakers club met on April 8 with 20 members and two guests present. Plans were made for the Mini-Fair and a committee was selected for the Memorial Day program.

Easter hats brought in by members were auctioned off and 17 members made beehives.

Harriett DeBerry gave the food demonstration on Create-a-Mix Cookery. She was assisted by Janet Browning.

Mary DeBerry served as cohostess. The gift was won by Betty Thrasher.

Due to the primary election, the next meeting will not be held until May 14 at the Deer Park community building at 7:30 p.m.

DNR Seeking To Add Acreage To Wildland System

A total of 3,418 acres have been proposed to be added to Maryland's Wildland System and preserved in their natural condition, according to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

The DNR recommended to the General Assembly that areas in Garrett and Worcester counties be added to the system. A bill doing that was passed at the 1980 session of the General Assembly and now awaits the Governor's signature.

The areas are: an addition of 691 acres to the Big Savage Mountain Wildland in Garrett County; parcels totaling 1,432 acres in the Pocomoke State Forest in Worcester County to be known as the Cypress Swamp Wildland; and parcels totaling 1,295 acres in the Pocomoke River Wildlife Management Area in Worcester County to be known as the Pocomoke River Wildland.

The areas were proposed by the Department of Natural Resources after study by the Land Planning Services, Forests, Parks, and Wildlife's units and after a series of public hearings.

In addition, the Department has recommended that public hearings be held on seven additional areas with a view toward incorporating them in future legislation expanding the wildland system.

Those areas are: acreage totaling 4,100 in Cunningham Falls State Park in Frederick County; acreage totaling 2,800 in Janes Island State Park, Somerset County; acreage totaling 600 in Rocky Gap State Park, Allegany County; and acreage totaling 1,600 in Savage River State Forest, Garrett County.

Times and places for the hearings will be announced later by DNR's Forest and Park Services.

The State Wildlands' system had its beginnings in 1971 when the Maryland Wildlands Preservation System Act was signed into law.

The act required the Secretary of Natural Resources to review every roadless area of 500 contiguous acres or more in DNR lands and to report on which areas should be included in the system.

In all, 162 areas were examined and, of those, 38 were recommended for further, detailed study. This process eliminated 23 more areas.

In 1974, 2,000 acres in the Big Savage Mountain area were designated as a wildland. The 691 acres approved by the General Assembly this year roughly adjoins that parcel.

When the area is included in the wildlands system, a number of activities become illegal in the area such as motor vehicle use, building roads or structures, installing utilities, logging and activities generally associated with development of any kind.

Land Preservation Program Nearing First Anniversary

As the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation program approaches its first anniversary, some eight counties now have voluntary preservation districts established, totaling 10,500 acres of productive farm land, according to the Maryland Department of Agriculture.

The 41 districts established so far are in Anne Arundel, Caroline, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Harford, Howard, and St. Mary's Counties.

Petitions requesting the establishment of additional districts are now in the works in Baltimore, Calvert, Charles, Garrett, Montgomery, Talbot, and Washington Counties, the Department said. These additional districts, if all approved on the local and state level, would increase the acreage in the program to as much as 18,000 acres.

Carroll County is the leading county for district establishment with districts now formed comprising 3,350 acres.

The Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation, which administers the program on the state level, has now begun to acquire development rights easements; some initial option contracts have been signed, and by June the Foundation should have acquired, or be moving toward settlements for development rights on 15 of the 16 farms for which development right easement sale offers have been tendered upon request of the owners.

The Foundation, part of the Maryland Department of Agriculture, has received easement funding from the General Assembly totaling $5 million. The latest funding appropriations were allocated by action of the 1980 session of the legislature and totaled $3 million coming from the state's open space program. Earlier sessions of the legislature had provided $2 million in easement purchase funding, the Department said.

In addition, local governments have tentatively committed more than $2.5 million in matching funds for easement acquisition in the coming year.

Commenting on the program's progress and importance, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley said, "It is this generation of Maryland farmers who are asked to voluntarily make a commitment to saving our agricultural land resources . . . to keep productive land open so that agriculture may be continued in future generations as a vital industry, and as an indispensable way of life."

CAHEC Hires Info Specialist

The Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC) announces the employment of Lynda Lagana as Information Specialist. Ms. Lagana will be responsible for setting up and maintaining a Learning Resource Center to supplement and support existing health library resources in the service area. The Resource Center will be established in cooperation with the Health Sciences Library, University of Maryland at Baltimore.

In addition to developing organized, current collections of books, journals, indexes and audiovisuals, the Information Specialist will perform on-site computerized bibliographic searches. The computerized service will be accessible to other libraries in the area. It will be the first Med-Line Terminal with bibliographic search capability for health services to be established in Western Maryland.

Ms. Lagana will develop a bimonthly newsletter serving health professionals and paraprofessionals in Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties. The newsletter will deal with people, programs and events specifically related to the following areas: pharmacy, nursing, medicine, dentistry, social work, psychology, physical therapy, nutrition and counseling.

Ms. Lagana holds a B.A. in English from Douglass College, Rutgers University. She was previously employed as Information Coordinator by the Region 8 Planning and Development Council of Petersburg, W. Va.

Farmers Asked By ASCS To Check Grain For Insects

The probability of grain becoming insect infested or spoiled because of moisture damage and mold growth increases when it is stored and left undisturbed in the same location for several months, Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said.

He pointed out that grain inspections are particularly important during the Spring, Summer, and early Fall months when grain temperatures are right for rapid insect development.

During warm weather, infestations generally begin near the grain surface, specifically in areas directly below the point of entry where foreign material has accumulated during loading.

"We hope that producers are regularly checking the quality of their farm-stored grain, whether it is under loan or in the farmer-owned reserve program," Crowl said. When a grain loan is approved, the farmer is responsible for any loss in quality or quantity of the commodity caused by insect infestation or rodent damage.

Stored grain contains moisture that may shift from one location to another primarily because of temperature differences that develop within the structure when surface and perimeter areas of the grain cool. Moisture from warm grain moves to cooler parts of the structure, resulting in damp areas within the grain that favor insect activity and mold development. These, in turn, cause rapid deterioration and heating of the grain.

"Anytime farmers are in doubt as to the quality of stored grain they should contact our office as soon as possible," the ASCS official said.

Notice Of Referendum Questions

The following referendum questions have been certified by the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, and will appear on the ballot of the 1980 Primary Election to be held May 13, 1980, and a description of these two questions is as follows:

Question No. A—This question will appear in the following form:

QUESTION NO. A REFERENDUM — ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE SALES

An act for the purpose of permitting the sale of alcoholic beverages after 1:00 P.M. on Sunday in Garrett County.

This particular question was enacted as Senate Bill No. 462 which is for the purpose of altering the hours of sale on Sunday for alcoholic beverages in Garrett County; submitting this Act to a referendum of the voters of Garrett County; and making this Act an emergency measure.

Question No. B—This question will appear in the following form:

QUESTION NO. B
REFERENDUM—HOSPITAL BONDS

An act for the purpose of authorizing the Garrett County Commissioners to borrow not more than $6,000,000 to be used exclusively and solely to assist in financing the expansion, reconstruction, rehabilitation, renovation and improvement of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital; exempting such bonds from all State, County and Municipal taxation; and providing the method of retiring such bonds.

This particular question was enacted as Senate Bill No. 732 which is for the purpose of authorizing and empowering the County Commissioners of Garrett County, from time to time, to borrow not more than SIX MILLION DOLLARS ($6,000,000) in order to assist in financing the expansion, reconstruction, rehabilitation, renovation, and improvement of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, including the costs of development of property rights, acquisition and installation of furnishings and equipment, and any related planning, architectural, and engineering services, and to effect such borrowing by the issuance and sale at public or private sale of its general obligation bonds in like par amount; empowering the County to fix and determine, by resolution, the form, tenor, interest, rate or rates or method of determining the same, terms, conditions, maturities, and all other details incident to the issuance and sale of the bonds; empowering the County to issue refunding bonds for the purchase or redemption of bonds in advance of maturity; empowering and directing the County to enter into an agreement with the Board of Governors of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital for payment of the debt service requirements of the bonds from revenues of the Hospital and further to levy, impose, and collect, annually, ad valorem taxes in rate and amount sufficient to provide funds that may otherwise be necessary for the payment of the maturing principal of and interest on the bonds; exempting the bonds and refunding bonds, and the interest thereon, and any income derived therefrom, from all State, county, municipal, and other taxation in the State of Maryland; relating generally to the issuance and sale of such bonds; making this Act an Emergency Measure; and submitting this Act to a local referendum.

Republican Candidates For U. S. Senate

Editor's Note: The Republican news staff contacted all Maryland U. S. Senatorial and Congressional candidates, requesting from each a 350-word statement addressing the people of Garrett County, regarding issues of their choice. This effort was made to provide Garrett Countians with additional information about the candidates and the issues, and thus aid them in making a choice.

Candidates not responding were:
—Gerald G. Warren.

Jack Fortune Holden

To the voters of Garrett County I give the same call as I have given in 49 other appearances throughout Maryland.

I endorse the twin themes of peace and prosperity, two conditions that have been neglected by our present senators.

Only five years ago we left Vietnam leaving 44,000 dead, our equipment left to rot and the jungle, a 15-year effort all in vain, and we said "never again."

Now eight are dead in a far-away land and we again flirt with war.

As a combat veteran of three wars, I urge America to solve our disputes by negotiation, to reject pride, prejudice and passion, and to pursue peace unless attacked, for World War III will mean an end to civilization.

And remember, the United States is not prepared for war at this time. We must first mobilize our resources, including our manpower. Politicians must, even in an election year, have the courage to tell our young men that they do owe their country service, and reinstitute the draft.

For only through strength can we preserve the peace, and only when we are at peace can we enjoy real prosperity.

To repel the severe inflation that is changing your life-style, government spending must be cut in such areas as welfare, foreign aid, and literally hundreds of federal "giveaway" programs.

I favor turning Federal Welfare over to the states and ending foreign aid to all but a very few nations.

With the money saved, I would direct spending to areas of rural development and medical research to combat cancer and other deseases and afflictions.

Taxes should be cut by some $20 billion dollars, to let you keep more of what you earn.

I favor placing Social Security under the general revenue system and establishing a minimum wage for our senior citizens, so they may live in dignity.

I am against gun control legislation.

Unemployment must be overcome by private industry restraining the millions soon to be unemployed by technological change.

I'm on line 3G, Jack Fortune Holden, journalist, combat veteran, and thank you to Garrett County!

Senator Mac Mathias

For the past three years I have called for a national debate of American Foreign Policy. President Carter has, in my view, failed to convey to the American people a coherent and strategic foreign policy. We need such a policy and we need it now. American foreign policy should stand on four legs: U. S. Relations with our allies in Western Europe and Japan, specifically our relationship to the Soviet Union; a clear policy in the Middle East; our relationship to the emerging nations of Africa and the Third World and U. S. policy in the Western Hemisphere toward Latin America, Mexico and Canada. The world needs to know what we stand for and what we will not stand for.

American Naval supremacy must be maintained to keep the United States number one. We need to build the 600-ship Navy called for by President Ford. We must also act to keep our experienced and highly-skilled petty officers and chiefs on the job with an adequate pay and allowance policy, and we need to beef up our Naval Reserve. If we do these things, the United States Navy will remain strong and help maintain our country as the leader of the Free World.

At home, we need a clear domestic policy that attacks inflation and unemployment. We need tax policies which encourage capital investment to create new jobs and to increase workers' productivity. We need to encourage savings to assist in capital formation. We need an energy program which reduces our dependence on foreign oil, and which exploits alternative energy sources such as solar power, ocean-thermal technology and synthetic fuels, based on our rich coal reserves, such as those found here in Garrett County. And we need safe nuclear power with a sound nuclear waste management policy.

The future crowds us. Tomorrow will not wait for yesterday. I am optimistic of America's future, and I will continue to work to make it better.

Dallas Merrell

It's time to retire incumbent Senator, Charles Mac Mathias. His voting record is out of step with the times. His votes have fed ravenous inflation, supported raising the federal debt ceiling 16 times, and helped defeat legislation to balance the budget. He voted consistently to diminish national defense and fought tax reductions to stimulate the economy. His strongest supporters—Democratic leaders, AFL-CIO affiliates, and liberal interest groups—cannot vote for him in the Republican primary.

A change is needed. The status qui is hurting farmers, businessmen, and families. Families and business cannot afford him. Americans and Maryland are ready for change—a new start, strong leadership.

I can provide that leadership. The Senate has enough lawyers. It needs my management expertise.

I am a management consultant though I farmed and milked cows until I went to college. I earned a Ph.D. in public and international affairs from the University of Southern California. My management skills are needed in the Senate. Not only is too much money being wasted by our government, but most programs underwritten by our taxes are not properly evaluated. We need tax cuts; we must stop government from unsurping areas in which it has no constitutional right.

I have consulted with over 80 minority groups, women's groups, Federal departments, Fortune 500 companies, and small businesses across the nation, providing them with management expertise for their organizations. I have advised top officials of most Federal departments on matters of policy and improving effectiveness and workability of government operations.

I have been involved in educational activities for over 20 years, having chaired two university departments, taught a number of subjects, lectured in education programs across the country, provided Boy Scout leadership, and served as a PTA officer in the public school.

I understand the political process and in a few week's time have put together a viable, vigorous and effective statewide political organization, representing a formidable political force in Maryland. We've conducted a hard-hitting clear-headed campaign that appeals to broad classes of citizens.

We have the support of thousands of Maryland citizens who are tired of a high-spending, inflationary Congress.

Vote for a change. Vote Merrell for Maryland.

John Brennan

We must begin the road back to military strength. We need to develop our advanced military technology and produce the weapon systems and equipment to provide the future protection of this country. Programs to re-establish and maintain preeminence as a world power must ensure the balance and effectiveness of conventional and strategic forces. We should begin this task through a rebuilding of our Navy and bringing sufficient quantities of advanced aircraft and ICBMs into operation. We must re-evaluate a military pay program that allows some of our service people to exist below the poverty level. Expensively trained and highly experienced people must be paid wages that will encourage them to remain with the services. We must reinstate mandatory draft registration.

I believe in God, family and freedom, and morality as the business of the family and church, not the government. The right to teach comes from the people, not government, and all have the right to teach their children or have them taught in accordance with their personal belief in these guiding principles. I believe voluntary prayer in school should be reinstated. I also think abortion is a moral issue. I oppose federal funding for abortion. Government should serve us and not we the government.

Windfall Profits Tax and conservation will not solve the energy problems of this country. America must have a rational plan for embarking on a national goal of energy independence. Today's program is disjointed, without direction. The money from the Windfall Profits Tax which was to go to energy research and development has been directed elsewhere! A viable plan must eliminate the monopoly which oil companies have on alternate sources of fuel. The energy market, like other markets, must have competition and free market activities.

Did you know that the inflation we face is due in a large part to the voting of Senator Mathias? At every turn he has voted for increased government spending—for the establishment of the Depts. of Energy and Education, for decreased national defense budget and against the amendment to balance the budget. Government bureaucracy must not take control of our lives.

Dr. Roscoe G. Bartlett

On May 13 Maryland Republicans will nominate a U. S. Senator who should easily go on to win in November. This is a most crucial election for the future of our nation. Who should be the nominee of the Republican Party?

I submit that it cannot be the incumbent, Charles Mathias. He has a consistent, destructive liberal voting record. He is clearly the worst Senator in the Republican Party and only two in the Democratic Party are as bad. Teddy Kennedy and the ABSCAM indicted, Williams, from New Jersey. Mathias consistently votes for a weak Foreign Policy, Big Government, Big Spending everywhere except for the military where he has voted for decreases in its budget. In addition, Mathias has a strong anti-gun voting record. On this he votes with Teddy Kennedy. Certainly he has helped create our problems at home and abroad and he cannot be returned to office.

If not Mathias, then whom? The others who oppose him are lawyers, police clerks, and management consultants; hardly the backgrounds required for solutions of the complex technical problems we face in the economy, military and energy.

I have a background as a scientist, educator, engineer, inventor, farmer and successful businessman and a PhD from the University of Maryland. I have worked in medical, space and military areas in government (U.S.Navy), government contracting (Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory and IBM Federal Systems Division) as manager of multi-disciplinary groups, and in private business as president of an R&D and a home construction company—passive solar.

As a result of these successful employments and an engineering mind, I have a knowledge in depth and breadth of the problems we must solve in the economy, military and energy and a strong commitment to the spirit and letter of the freedoms guaranteed in the Constitution, including the Second Amendment guaranteeing the "right to keep and bear arms."

To halt inflation we must stop deficit spending and stop printing "counterfeit" money. To do this we must drastically reduce the size of government. In defense we must sharply improve our capabilities and cease to be bullied. We must develop a sane energy policy and re-establish the morality that made America great.

Democrat Candidates For U. S. Senate

Candidates not responding were: —Edward T. Conroy, —Mello Cottone, —Victor L. Crawford, —Robert L. Douglass, —R. Spencer Oliver, —David E. Shaw and —James A. Young.

Frank J. Broschart

Biographical Information and Qualifications.

•Born and raised in Montgomery County MD

•From a family of public Service-father as a policeman-grandfather as a doctor.

•Educator since 1963 in Parochial schools.

•Graduate of Mt. St. Marys College 1963.

As a candidate for United States Senator, I would like to take the time to address the voters of Garrett County as they cast their vote in the Democratic primary May 13.

I believe if this nation is to resolve its difficult problems of inflation, energy, health care to its citizens we must act as a united nation again. For too long we have been a nation of special interest groups, a nation of caucuses not a united people-sacrificing where need be to insure a quality of life we all desire.

If elected to the United States Senate I will support the following programs and reforms:

•Work to reduce health costs.

•Support budget and taxation reforms.

•Revitalize the Peace Corps and Teacher Corps to commit our youth to service for our country.

•Support the Pro-life movement—opposed to funding of abortions.

•Support a single six year term for President.

John Kennedy

As one of the twelve people filed in the May 13th Democratic primary, I would ask you to consider John Kennedy—Democrat—as Maryland's "Chance for a Change."

We shouldn't look back and complain or have regrets about things as they were, but now is the time for positive action to insure a better future.

For instance—energy—or the lack of it—keeps coming forward, and it's time that we turned to the American People to utilize their ingenuity to help their Government to develop the sources so badly needed.

Our concerns regarding inflation are crying for solutions, and I, for one, am listening. I will initiate or co-sponsor legislation to help resolve these problems.

The 1980's will be a challenge to all of us, particularly as we try to equalize the opportunities and responsibilities for life in these United States.

I look forward to being your next U. S. Senator from the State of Maryland.

The most serious problems facing America today are high taxes, unemployment and inflation. These problems are interrelated in that each impacts on the other and they can be solved only by addressing them together. As a member of the Maryland General Assembly for six years, as Chairman of the largest delegation in the Legislature (Baltimore City), and as Chairman of the Joint Committee on the Ports of Maryland, I understand the impact of these problems on every section of Maryland and further understand that the long-range solutions lie in America becoming a "world trading" nation. Because of changes in our population growth rates, we cannot produce only for our own consumption. Not only must we sell our grain in foreign countries but we must also sell our coal and manufactured goods there.

To address the immediate ravages of inflation, we must attack the energy shortage by greater reliance on coal, both as a fuel and for gasification, by greater reliance on solar and other renewable energy resources (stimulated by tax incentives) and decreased dependence on inefficient motor vehicles. We must change our tax system to encourage savings and discourage consumption. America is the only developed economy that taxes all interest received by individuals on savings. I propose exempting that interest from taxation and lifting the federal ceiling on interest payable by thrift institutions. These two measures will cause savings to increase and thereby make loanable funds available to modernize American industry which, when coupled with other basic changes in the tax system that will permit more rapid depreciation of capital assets and partnerships between government and private industry for research and development, will be capable of competing in the world market with both quality products and reasonable prices.

My experience as a legislator and business man and my education as an attorney and finance expert provide a firm basis upon which to draw in an effort to solve these problems not just from one election to the next but for generations in the future.

Richard J. Taranto

I believe the most serious problem facing our Country today is ineffective political leadership.

We are the richest Country the world has ever known, and yet, we are plagued with problems: Inflation that takes our money; unemployment that takes our jobs; and the continuing crisis of energy which has punished our people for the past 7 years. And, after nearly a decade, we still have no definitive national policy on this issue which is undermining our entire economy.

And perhaps worse than any of these problems is the feeling of frustration in our people which is causing them to lose confidence in the democratic process. We deserve better.

To bring inflation under control, I propose an effective wage-price freeze. It serves no purpose to have our people believe they will receive a 5 or 10% increase in wages or profits and then have it all taken back, and more, with 20% inflation.

I also propose a reduction in government spending; and oil profits which are artificially high should be taxed accordingly.

These taxes should not be used to cut other taxes and to develop alternative sources of energy which would stimulate our industries; provide jobs for our people; and break the oil monopoly. Coal is being used right now to produce electricity and gasohol can be produced from our surplus grain.

The question is not what can we do; the question is why hasn't it been done?

We have the people; we have the resources; we have the technology. We need the leadership. With effective leadership, we can solve our problems.

I want to thank The Republican for this opportunity to share views with the people of Garrett County. As we get to know each other better, we will have better government.

Kurt Summers

Liberal politics have dominated our government for the last twenty years. Under the guise of protecting the rights of the American people, the Federal government has intruded into every aspect of our daily lives. Federal policies dictate how we pray, who works, where our children go to school, inner workings of business and the morality of birth and death. An aggressive judiciary and lax legislature have combined to form a liberal vision of America in which the Federal government directs the lives of the people. As liberal leaders have controlled our country for twenty years; so they must bear the responsibility for our current condition.

We can no longer accept the liberal view that government will solve the problems of the world. America is based on the precept that government is a necessary annoyance a civilized nation must accept; but that all power ultimately rests with the people. The American people can no longer see a government responsive to their needs. It is time to get government out of the lives of people, and to return to government by the people and for the people.

I would work hard to reduce taxes 34% over the next four years, increase defense spending 10% each year for the next four years, reduce prime interest rate to 5%, eliminate the vast number of unnecessary regulations, and reduce the burden of government on taxpayers.

We are entering into an era of new Americanism. We must put the Me Generation behind us if we are to preserve our free society. I call for a recommitment to the ideals this country was founded upon. We must encourage American ideals around the world or face the prospect of totalitarian domination and ultimately the destruction of our democratic principles. Our most precious resource is our spirit of freedom, this spirit and our commitment to justice should be our greates export to the peoples of the world. We too must be committed to revolution, an American revolution guaranteeing independence, integrity and freedom of democracy for the brotherhood of man. Vote for Kurt Summers for U. S. Senate, the Conservatives' Choice.

WRA Halts Restoration Work By County Roads At Savage River

The county commissioners and its roads department are at odds with the Water Resources Administration over work done by the county roads department in the Savage River to repair damage created by the severe wind and rain storm of April 8.

The WRA halted all restoration work by the roads department April 24 when it issued a stop work order charging the roads department had exceeded the scope of their permit to work in the river by doing unauthorized work. Bob Creeder, Regional Chief Enforcement Division of WRA, stated the department viewed some of the work done as "unpermitted and unnecessary."

Attorneys for WRA are studying the situation to determine whether WRA should bring legal action against the county.

The work done by the roads department under question involves a two mile segment of the river including the tributaries along that segment: Black Lick, Elk Lick, Poplar Lick and Big Run. WRA says it gave the roads department verbal approval to replace culverts and to rebuild a section of the riverbank where the road had been washed out, but the roads department went beyond that permit by unofficially dredging portions of the riverbed.

County roads administrator Herb McCrobie disagrees with the WRA charges and says the verbal permit was not restructive. McCrobie states the permit allowed the roads department to do any work it felt necessary to repair damage. "We did not do any work we felt was unnecessary," said McCrobie.

As a result of the stop work order, the roads department has been unable to complete its repair work. McCrobie noted that work still must be done in the Big Run area where sections of the road are still one way. The WRA is demanding a restoration plan from the roads department before considering lifting the stop work order.

McCrobie has notified WRA that he believes the county cannot be held accountable for any injuries to persons as a result of the dangerous road situation.

The landowners along Savage River are angry with the WRA and Trout Unlimited who they believe is the real force behind the imposition of the stop work order. "As far as we are concerned," said Don Moyer, "the county roads crew did a wonderful job."

Because of their anger against Trout Unlimited, the property owners posted their property to keep fishermen out.

State and national representatives of Trout Unlimited had threatened legal action against the county for the works done by the roads crews.

Trout Unlimited's complaint is that the roads department did unnecessary channelizing of the riverbed which destroyed the natural habitats of fish and areas where Brook Trout breed. One Trout Unlimited spokesman noted that Garrett County is one of the few areas left where this species of trout breeds.

Another effect of the channelizing, says Trout Unlimited, is that it increased the velocity of the river, destroying habitats for insect life and probably making the river more dangerous at periods of high water.

Herb McCrobie states that the work done was not only for restoration but also for flood control. Bob Creeder says WRA questions whether the flood control work was done correctly and whether it will be effective in preventing future damage.

McCrobie also pointed out that representatives from Trout Unlimited and WRA did not see the river until 95 percent of the repair work had been completed and had not seen the river immediately after the flooding. He questioned how they could really say what work was unnecessary.

"They are more concerned about saving insect life and the fish than personal property and people's lives," said Don Moyer, who believes more flood control work should be done.

Bill Ferry, a member of the recently formed Youghiogheny Chapter of Trout Unlimited, stated that Trout Unlimited does not anticipate any legal action against the county. Noting that the local organization formed to prevent people from out of the county from getting involved in local matters, Ferry said the local chapter is now trying to work with the county and the landowners, but that it will be attempting to correct some of the damage by the roads crew without jeopardizing the landowners or their property. He added that any restoration plan would first be approved by WRA.

BREAKING GROUND FOR TOWN VIEW VILLAGE was Congresswoman Beverly Byron at the groundbreaking ceremony held Friday, May 9, on the site in Accident. The Village, a rental housing complex for senior citizens, is the result of efforts by the Accident Housing Community Corporation in conjunction with the Garrett County Housing Office, Farmers' Home Administration and the Maryland Appalachian Housing Fund. Construction began in early May by HMF Enterprises, Mt. Lake Park. Watching Ms. Byron in the foreground are the Rev. Fred Illick, center, and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, right.

Garman Enters Regional Contest

Maryland's Tree Farmer of the Year, George P. Garman of Swanton, has been entered in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Contest. The Maryland Tree Farm Committee submitted the entry on May 1, 1980. The regional winner, to be announced July 15, will be one of five in competition for the 1980 National Tree Farmer of the Year designation.

Maryland's winning tree farmer owns 598 acres in Garrett County and 119 acres in Calvert County. He manages his woodlands in a manner which assures continuous production of commercial forest crops in accordance with forestry practices approved by the American Forest Institute. AFI oversees the American Tree Farm and Maryland Tree Farm Programs.

Garman's tree farms have been certified for approximately twenty years. He has worked closely with Maryland Forest Service foresters in management of his tree farms.

A retired C& P Telephone Company employee, Garman manages his land for timber production and wildlife habitat. He is an advocate of good forest management and serves on the Garrett County Forestry Board. He is enthusiastic about forest management in both Calvert and Garrett counties and spends much time working in each.

Bloodmobile Visit Nets 186 Pints

A total of 186 pints of blood were collected Friday by the Red Cross Bloodmobile at its regular visit to Oakland. The quota was 130 pints. There were 215 scheduled donors, 196 presented themselves and there were ten rejects. There were 25 first-time donors.

Persons giving their eighth pint of blood and becoming one-gallon donors were Marilyn W. Johnson and Linda Wengerd, both of Oakland, Jim Rinehart, Horse Shoe Run, Judy Workman, Friendsville and Bette Rhodes, Deer Park.

Two-gallon donors were Foster A. Lewis, Crellin, I. Robert Rudy, Oakland, and Donald W. Sincell, Mt. Lake Park.

Three-gallon donors were Delmer R. Yoder, Accident, Catherine Sullivan, Deer Park, and Nordeck Shaffer, Oakland.

Paul Sharpless, Swanton, gave his fortieth pint, to become a five-gallon donor.

Volunteer workers included the following:

History nurses—Charee Reckner, Teri Rishel, Susan Glotfelty, Joan Thomas, Helen Baumgartner, Dorothy Rudy, Judy Wilt, Cheri Jose, Reva Long, Isabel Shaffer, Wilma Minor, Angie Myers and Kathy Bernard;

Health career students from Southern High School, under the sponsorship of Sarah Ruston;

Temperatures—Linda Nazelrod, Clara Fitzwater and Katherine Minor;

Bag labeling—Avis Bittinger, Virginia Rohrbaugh, Evamae Wise and Ruth Porter;

Typist—Robin DeWitt;

Registration—Kathryn Helbig, Goldie Bittle, Lorraine Ledden, Martha Lou Ashby, Beryl Stanton and Dorothy Frame;

Canteen—Beryl Gortner, Minnie Wolfe, Janey Wagner, Violet Bowser, Mary Ann Wolfe, Ann Purbaugh, Mary Jane DeWitt, Mabel Friend, Frances Comp, Ruth Jackson, Barbara Schrock, Mabel Hauser and Marianne Naylor;

Lab technicians—Mary Lynn Loomis, Judy Umstot, Rae DeBerry, Jacquelyn Shirer, Sandy Reamy and Mary Mae Herring;

Unloaders—Oakland town employees;

Re-loaders—Boy Scout Troop #31, Robbie and Gregg Flinn, David Stonesifer, Mike Whitmer and Jeff McCauley.

Mrs. Norma Hesen, local chairman of the Bloodmobile program, stated that, due to an emergency need in the region, officials from the central blood bank in Johnstown came to Oakland Friday and took the first 31 pints of blood for immediate processing. Mrs. Hesen said this was the first time this had ever happened during a regular visit.

Sanitary Board To Discuss Water Rate Alternatives

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission Thursday set Thursday, May 22, for a public information meeting at 7 p.m., in Loch Lynn School to discuss alternate water rate schedules in Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn.

The meeting will allow citizens the opportunity to review the water rate alternatives and make comments. The Sanitary Commission will meet May 21 to review the proposed rate schedules.

A water rate schedule had been proposed at the end of March, but because of legal questions raised by citizens and because the Commission members were unable to obtain a quorum to vote on the proposed rates, the Commission decided to study alternative rate schedules.

In other business, Chairman Charles Morris directed Dick Nace, administrator for the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., to request approval from the county commissioners to seek a state loan to cover the $96,607 local share of the Deep Creek Lake Sewerage Project. After receiving that approval, Morris stated Nace should begin processing loan applications immediately.

During discussion of the Mt. Lake Park Water System Rehabilitation Project, Nace informed the Commission he was seeking clarification of a letter from William Poffenbarger of Farmers' Home Administration that refers to a loan level of $1,250,000 and a grant of $355,000. He said $355,000 was the originally agreed figure for the grant but that $800,000 was the original agreement for the loan, not $1,250,000. If, he said, the project must obligate $1,250,000 in loan money before becoming eligible for grant money, he would recommend that the project be terminated at the end of Phase II, that all equipment and materials be sold that same time and that project workers' employment be terminated then. He stated a debt of $1,250,000 would not be

County Voters Approve Hospital Project, Reject Sunday Sales

Byron, Beck, Mathias Easy Winners

Approximately 51% of Garrett County's voters turned out at the polls yesterday to participate in the Maryland primary election. Political races included both Democratic and Republican candidates for President, U. S. Senate and Representative in Congress, sixth district. Republican voters also had the opportunity to elect delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Also on the ballot were two county referendum issues, which are believed to be responsible for a large county turnout, compared to the 38% state turnout. Question A concerned the Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages in the county and question B dealt with empowering the county commissioners to borrow funds necessary for the proposed building and renovation project of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

By a 3,259 to 2,198 margin, Garrett Countians defeated Question A, thus disallowing Sunday sales. By a two-to-one margin citizens voted in favor of question B. The totals were 3,663 for and 1886 against.

In a rarity, the results of the Garrett County political races were nearly the same as those statewide. In the Democratic race for president, Jimmy Carter was the victor in Garrett County with 1377 votes. Edward Kennedy received 492 votes, Edmund Brown, 116, LaRouche, 16, and Finch, 12. There were 191 uncommitted votes.

In the Republican race, Ronald Reagan won handily, collecting 2210 votes, followed by George Bush 868 votes. John Anderson and Phillip Crane, who are no longer declared candidates, received 159 and 39 votes, respectively.

In the Democratic U. S. Senate contest, the winner was Victor Crawford, with 218 votes. He was followed by Edward Conroy, the state winner, with 158 votes. Dennis McCoy received 144 votes, John Kennedy, 136, Kurt Summers, 120, Frank Broschart, 118, Richard Taranto, 109, and David Shaw, 106. All other candidates received less than 100 votes in Garrett County.

Incumbent Charles Mathias recorded a resounding win in Garrett County with 1433 votes. John Brennan received 548, Roscoe Bartlett, 424, Dallas Merrell, 336, Jack Holden, 146, and Gerald Warren, 81.

In the sixth district race for representative in Congress, Beverly Byron took the Democratic nomination by a huge margin, collecting 1,802 votes. Her closest challenger was Thomas Hattery, with 116 votes. The four other candidates each received less than 100 votes.

In the Republican representative race, Raymond Beck received 1567 votes, while his only challenger, Clifford Andrews, collected 533 votes in the county.

In the delegate to the Republican National Convention race, Del. DeCorsey Bolden won in Garrett County with 2,415 votes, followed by J. Glenn Beall with 1,694, Senator Ed Mason with 1,241 votes and Susan Crawford, with 1,205 votes. State results in this race were unavailable at presstime.

All of the above results are as yet unofficial. The Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors stated they will count 139 absentee ballots today, however, these votes will not change any of the results of the election.

Due to some technical difficulties with some voting machines and faulty telephone connections within the county, all of the results from the county's 20 precincts were not received by the Election Board until about 12 midnight.

Two Juveniles Caught Following High-Speed Chase

Garrett County police units picked up on a high-speed chase through Oakland on Sunday night, resulting in the arrest of two juveniles from West Virginia.

The chase began in Terra Alta, W. Va., after the two boys stole a car in Fairmont. When they entered Garrett County, approximately five city, county and state police units joined in the pursuit.

The stolen vehicle ran a road block set up at Rosedale and then hit a dead end on Second Street and wrecked, police said. Sources say the vehicle was traveling about 100 mph when it lost control.

One subject ran, but was later caught by authorities. Sources say neither was hurt badly.

The two subjects were incarcerated Sunday. Monday they waived extradition and were transported to West Virginia by West Virginia authorities.

Commissioners Meet With League Of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters met with the county commissioners Monday to discuss the county's financial situation.

Organization members asked the commissioners how the present financial difficulties had developed and what the commissioners were doing to alleviate them. They asked why some employees had not been paid on the May 9 pay day. The commissioners informed them all employees but one had been paid, although one CETA worker who receives a small percent of her paycheck from the county was not fully paid.

The League members also asked questions concerning personnel morale and the merit system review board.

In other business, the commissioners opened four bids for custodial service for FY1981 but decided to take them under advisement because of a wide discrepancy in the bids. The commissioners directed Gary Mullich to contact the bidders to be sure they understood all the terms of the bid.

Tom Jones, county development director, reported that a meeting was being scheduled between the town council and residents of Kitzmiller, the Garrett County Sanitary Commission and the county commissioners to discuss the water system project for that area.

Leo Rinker of the county roads department talked with the commissioners about ways the department could save money during the next year. One of his suggestions was for the department to do more repair work on its equipment itself.

Meeting Planned For Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn Citizens

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission announced today that a public information meeting for Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights residents will be held Thursday, May 22, at 7 p.m. at the Loch Lynn Elementary School to discuss the Mt. Lake Park Water Rehabilitation Project and alternative water rate structures.

The county commissioners will chair the meeting. The Sanitary Commission members and William Puffenbarger, district director for the Farmers' Home Administration, will attend the meeting. Puffenbarger will be present to answer any questions about funding for the water rehabilitation project.

Representatives for the Sanitary Commission will present three or four alternative water rate structures for a proposed rate increase and will explain reasons for the increase. They will also discuss the progress and plans for the water rehabilitation.

The Commission plans to request citizens to comment about the rate structures as well as to ask any questions they may have.

GCC Graduation Ceremonies Set For Saturday

Garrett Community College will graduate its largest class ever in commencement ceremonies, 10:30 a.m., Saturday, May 17, at the McHenry campus, according to J. W. Janssen, Dean of Students.

A total of 74 students will graduate; 69 will receive degrees and five will receive certificates in their programs of study. The next largest class included 66 graduates in 1978.

A reception will be held immediately following the ceremonies and the public is invited.

The President of Frostburg State College, Dr. Nelson P. Guild, will be the speaker for Garrett Community College's Commencement Ceremonies, according to Dr. Donald L. Ruhl, GCC President.

Dr. Guild has been president of FSC since 1969 and was the Dean of the College from 1966 to 1969. From 1953 to 1966 he held professional positions at Hamilton College, New York, and at Pennsylvania State University. Dr. Guild was a baccalaureate graduate, Phi Beta Kappa, from the University of New Hampshire in 1953. He earned a Masters Degree in 1955, and a Doctoral Degree in 1958, from Pennsyl-

Unusual Accidents Occur In County

A number of accidents in the district this week resulted in injury to one person.

Also reported was minor damage to a local restaurant building, injury to a horse who unexpectedly ran into the path of a motorcycle, and death to several deer attempting to cross county roadways.

Raymond Allen Beckman, 26, Oakland, was traveling westbound on Mayhew Inn Road shortly after midnight last Thursday when he struck a horse which had darted into the pathway of his Kawasaki motorcycle.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Beckman to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for injuries.

In a separate incident involving another animal, damage was done to a 1977 Plymouth Volare being driven by Bryan Frederick Callis, Deer Park.

The Callis vehicle was traveling east on Maryland Rt. 135 when a deer crossed the roadway, and was unavoidably struck by the Callis vehicle.

According to Maryland State Police, Eloise Ratliff, owner of a building housing the Oyster Bay Restaurant, situated along Md. Rt. 135, reported superficial damage to the building on Sunday, May 11.

A vehicle was apparently attempting to pull into a parking space when it bumped into the front of the building. The vehicle and unknown driver fled the scene.

A Selfless Act . . .

The votes are in and we are pleased and proud that the great majority of the citizens of Garrett County are indeed desirous of having progressive, up-to-date health care. We had great confidence that, once the facts about the building and renovation project of Garrett County Memorial Hospital were presented to the people of this county, most would agree that the project is vital to the future of local health care.

In particular, we salute and thank those voters who may never use the hospital due to their geographical location, and yet still voted in favor of the project. The majority of the people of Grantsville and Bloomington, for example, who would rarely utilize the services of Garrett Memorial, voted for the project. There is little for them to gain by supporting the project. Most of their health needs are adequately met outside the county and thus, their voting in the affirmative was a selfless act. They proved that they do care about the wellbeing of their fellow Garrett Countians. The majority of the residents of Friendsville and Accident also supported the project at the polls.

No one can deny that there has always been a certain amount of animosity between the northern and southern ends of the county. This goes back many years and some unavoidable situations seem to keep this barrier at least somewhat intact, such as the rivalry between the two county high schools. Many persons in the northern end feel that they always get the "short end of the stick," and history will probably show that, in many cases, they do.

We can compare this attitude to the way Garrett County as a whole looks at the Baltimore area. Because there are more people there, more wealth and more influence with the government, they always seem to get the best of everything and Garrett County seems to receive what's left. This is how many persons from the northern end of the county feel about the residents of Oakland.

This vote for the hospital, however, shows that maybe this animosity and rivalry is not nearly as strong as we all thought. We are not northern Garrett Countians and southern Garrett Countians. We are Garrett Countians. Every area and all people in the county have something special to offer. Each one of us can and should consider every square inch of this county our home and be proud of it.

Again, we here in the southern end, who need an updated hospital facility, heartily thank those in the northern end for recognizing our need and responding to it.

The above photo was submitted by Jesse Shuttleworth, writer of the following letter.

Dear Sir:

I have a legitimate gripe about the way the County is handling the problem created by the green garbage collection boxes. In spite of my protests, along with those of my neighbors, a group of these boxes were placed a very short distance off Bumble Bee Road in the McHenry area. My residence is located diagonally across Bumble Bee Road from these boxes.

Papers are continually blowing across the road onto my lawn and my neighbor's lawn. My residence is within sight of these green boxes. Some days there is a continual flow of traffic into this area. During dry periods this traffic creates dust which blows over on my property and my residence.

When the word was out that this sight had been chosen as a garbage collection area, all the residents along Bumble Bee Road signed a petition against having the boxes placed here. This petition was taken before the former commissioners and a thorough discussion was held. We people living along Bumble Bee Road did not want those green boxes placed here! Our petition and our discussion was to no avail.

The real reason for this letter, Mr. Editor, is because of the deplorable condition of these boxes for the past week. I wish you could drive down here and see this mess. The boxes are filled more than to capacity. Trash and garbage is on the ground in front of the boxes, behind the boxes and between the boxes. On the northwest end a variety of debris has been dumped on the ground.

I feel I should have a reduction in my property taxes. This mess certainly is a detriment to my property. I feel certain if this was my mess on my property, the Health Department would be on my doorstep in the morning.

Very truly yours,
Jesse Shuttleworth

The Board will then go into executive session at 4:15 p.m. but will reopen their meeting to the public for actions on personnel matters and for announcements.

Correction?

In a recent article about Dr. Louis Rishel, a new surgeon who has begun practice in Oakland, it was stated that Dr. Rishel was a native of Cumberland. Although this information was correct, Dr. Rishel notified The Republican that he would like the public to know that he was raised in Garrett County.

"Some of my relatives were a little upset that the article stated I was a native of Cumberland," Rishel said. "Although I was born in Cumberland, I consider Garrett County my home."

Welcome home, Dr. Rishel.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As president of the Deep Creek Lake Lion's Club, I would like to protest the inclusion of our club in the ad by the Licensed Beverage Association advocating Sunday Sale of Alcohol in the May 7 issue of The Republican. The bylaws of our club prohibit us from taking any stand, for or against, on a political issue. The Licensed Beverage Association used our endorsement without our authorization.

Raymond Mansfield
President, Deep Creek Lake
Lion's Club

Dear Mr. Sincell:

The May 7th issue of your newspaper carried a full page ad sponsored by the Garrett County Licensed Beverage Association urging citizens to vote for the Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages. The bottom section of the ad listed the names of various organizations which purportedly supported this viewpoint on the question.

The Oakland Rotary Club was listed as one of the endorsing organizations, an action which was strongly resented by our club membership, because this action was taken WITHOUT permission of the Rotary Club. Furthermore, if permission had been requested, it would have been rejected, not solely because of the issue involved but because our bylaws prohibit taking sides in any political or controversial contest as a club. Over the 35 years the Oakland Rotary Club has been chartered there have been many requests for endorsements and all have been denied.

The Rotary Club membership consists of individuals who represent a broad spectrum of business and professional interests and who, you can be sure, hold divergent opinions on most civic and political subjects. We do have speakers at our meetings who give us their ideas and opinions on matters of community interest but they are used to make us more knowledgeable as individuals, not to obtain endorsement from us as a club. Our efforts and benevolences over the years have been and will continue to be concentrated on uncontroversial social, charitable and educational endeavors, aimed at improving the quality of life in our community.

Thank you for printing our disapproval of using our name in the ad. We trust there will be no similar incidents in the future.

Very truly yours,
Executive Board of the Rotary Club of Oakland

Board Members—
Paul Deal, President
Ross Crowe, Jack Fridinger,
Harold Holsopple, Jack King,
Terry King, Jim Murray

Dear Board,

The advertisement to which you refer was accepted by us in good faith. We were led to believe from the beginning, by a representative from the Beverage Association who brought the ad to us, that the endorsements were factual and all was in order.

We discovered too late that not only your organization, but also others listed in the ad as well, were NOT supporters of Sunday sales.

We apologize to you, the other organizations, and, more especially, to the voters of Garrett County for not having authenticated these names. Heretofore we have accepted ads from persons known to us as having integrity. To our regret, that trust has exacted a price . . . a friendship, for example. Our policy now requires signed affidavits certifying the genuineness of endorsers.

Sincerely,
General Manager

fair to impose on the water system users in Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights.

Nace reported that the design contracts with Franklin Associates and with Western Maryland Associates for additional design work on the rehabilitation project had been executed and were ready for review by Farmers' Home Administration. He noted that any go-ahead order would wait upon the outcome of a meeting with Poffenbarger to clarify the matter of the loan.

Susan Crawford, legal counsel, told the Commission that her partner, Ralph Burnett, was working on bonding the amount of money which will be used to repay the county commissioners for advances on the Trout Run project and to retire a bond anticipation note used to fund a court-order rate study and interest accrued to that note.

The Commission authorized Chairman Morris to sign an amendment to the contract with Thomas Bourne IV, concerning the Gorman Water Project. The amendment would allow the project to be designed in sections to be approved and bid separately.

The Commission authorized Tom Jones, county development director, to arrange a meeting between the county commissioners, the Sanitary Commission, and representatives of Bausch and Lomb to discuss sewage discharge levels and to negotiate a rate for sewerage treatment services.

NOTICE OF RETRACTION

The Garrett County Licensed Beverage Association purchased an ad in the May 7th edition of The Republican which listed the Oakland Rotary Club and the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club as endorsers of the Sunday Liquor Sales referendum. The endorsement was erroneously placed by the Beverage Association. As for the Oakland Rotary Club, this organization did not AND can not endorse controversial or political issues because of international and local constitutions. The Garrett County Licensed Beverage Association would like to apologize to the memberships of the Oakland Rotary Club, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, and The Republican for inadvertently placing their organizations in the advertisement that appeared in the newspaper.

This announcement paid for by the Garrett County Licensed Beverage Association, Paul W. Hoye, President.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital reported five births during the past week.

A boy was born to Ralph Arlington and Cathy Lynn (Shope) Cook, Oakland, on May 7.

Frank Vincent and Patricia Ann (Stieringer) Perry, Jr., Aurora, W. Va., became parents of a girl May 10.

On May 12 a girl was born to Maxia Lourain and Gail Marie (Lee) Weese, Kitzmiller.

A boy was born on the 12th to Randall Charles and Brenda Jo (Strawser) Harvey, Rowlesburg, W. Va.

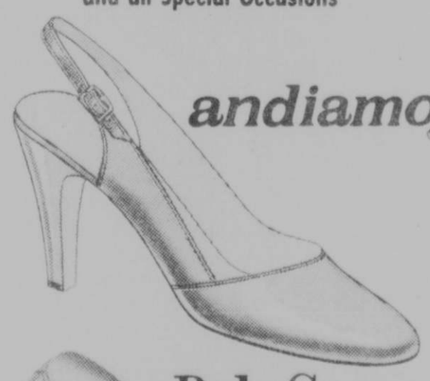

Raymond Ralph and Carolyn Sue (Brenneman) Mason, Parsons, W. Va., became parents of a girl on May 13.

There were 65 admissions and 67 discharges at the hospital in the past week. The Wednesday 8 a.m. census tallied 63 patients.

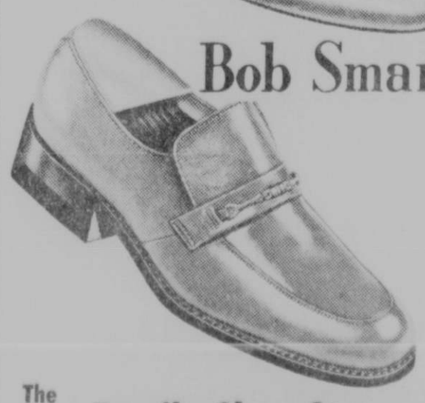

Correction Noted

In the Blessed Events column in the May 7 issue of The Republican the names of a Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., couple were incorrectly stated as Charles Woodrow and Alta Louise (Gordon) Slaubaugh. It should have read Charles Woodrow and Alta Louise (Slaubaugh) Gordon.

6 Ways to Save

1. When traveling, check on family excursion rates on buses, trains, planes. Consider renting a trailer or having your vacation at home, taking day trips to places nearby.

2. Check into group trips arranged by various organizations to save a big percentage of the usual cost of a trip to Europe or some other exciting place.

3. Check on the cost of school lunches for your children versus the cost of packing their lunch. (Of course, you'll consider their health as well as the cost.)

4. Keep an egg-timer (or your watch) by the telephone to help you time long-distance calls and avoid over-time charges. Make a note of what you plan to say before placing the call.

5. With friends and neighbors, you can "swap" outgrown children's clothing, share rides to work and school, exchange baby-sitting service, arrange joint purchase of expensive and infrequently-used house and yard equipment, entertain "potluck" fashion—have fun and save money, in many ways.

6. Save on car expense and parking fees by walking where possible. Remember it's not only a savings, but good, healthful exercise. Consider taking up biking with the same double benefit.

Older Scouts To Relive Deep Creek Camp Days

by Carol Kapel

Plans for this weekend's 'invasion' of Deep Creek Lake were probably not being formulated in 1926, when Boy Scout Troops 43, 45 and 52, of Oakland, Pa. began their trek to Oakland, Md. for the first of eight consecutive summer 'occupations.'

Camp was made on the peninsula across from McHenry, and at that time, established what was to become famous as Camp Boyle for many years.

The fame of Camp Boyle has lasted more than half a century, for the second on-site reunion will take place on the same campgrounds this Saturday and Sunday, May 17 and 18.

The reunion dinner will be held in the very cabin many of the older scouts helped to build in 1928. The peninsula has scarcely changed over the past 50 odd years, because there was no need to make improvements.

The cabin is now known to thousands of visitors as Deep Creek Lodge. To arrive, you must travel the same road some of the original scouts helped to build 52 years ago.

The scouts plan to play ball on 'their' old ballfield, swim and go boating from the same old dock, and close their first day of the reunion with the same type of 'campfire ending,' complete with taps.

Undoubtedly, there will be much discussion concerning the wonderful days spent in these beautiful mountains of Maryland, bringing many local family names to mind. To mention a few, one would surely recall the Raileys, the Longs, the Glotfeltys, the Savages, and the McClains among others. There are sure to be stories and questions about people, places, and things no longer in existence, adding color to the nostalgic reunion. It is true, time does change many things, but in no way can it change fond memories.

The comrades will meet on Sunday morning to attend 10 o'clock mass at St. Peter's Church in Oakland, returning afterward to their camp to spend one last leisurely afternoon together before heeding the call to 'retreat' toward Oakland, Pa. once more.

Wildflowers Of Garrett County

TAKING A CLOSER LOOK — Participants of a spring wildflower walk, conducted by Debbie Chesonis, Park Ranger, at Herrington Manor State Park, didn't hesitate to get down on their hands and knees and examine the flowers more closely. About 15 people joined in the walk on May 4, a sunny spring day, to learn to identify wildflowers and learn about their role in the environment. Savage River State Forest also conducted a wildflower walk, and both were sponsored by the Maryland Forest and Park Services.

BRIGHT SUNLIGHT OPENS THE PETALS of the trout lily, as well as other wildflowers. The trout lily bears a yellow flower with mottled leaves, and is found in woods. Its flower closes at night.

WE LOOKED UP AND SAW A HILLSIDE COVERED WITH SPRING-BEAUTY — Spring-beauty is very thickly grown, and can cover a large area. Its petals are white or pink, with darker pink veins, or stripes. When in full bloom spring-beauties can give the appearance of snow covering the landscape.

PLEASE DON'T PICK THE FLOWERS — This once extensive trailing arbutus was labeled as an endangered plant when its status reached a scarce level. Ms. Chesonis explained that there is a large fine imposed, as with all of the park's plants, if it is picked. The trailing arbutus is found in wooded areas. Its flowers are tubular, and pink or white in color. The trailing arbutus is an evergreen wildflower plant.

APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS — Periwinkle, or myrtle, is among 16 varieties of wildflowers observed by the group. Periwinkle is a ground cover with five petals on its flowers. The blossom is violet in color and periwinkle is found along the edge of woods or under shade. This wildflower remains green over the winter months, explained Ms. Chesonis.

INNOCENCE BLOSSOMS IN BRIGHT SUNLIGHT — Bluets, innocence or Quaker ladies are very short wildflowers, whitish or bluish with a yellow center. These tiny flowers grow in singles or clumps called "colonies." There are always two colors on the flower. Bluets can be found in field areas, grassy areas, or in direct sunlight.

ONE OF FOUR VIOLETS SEEN by the group is pictured here. The trail walk covered three miles in two hours, and the group scared up some wildlife on the way. But, said Ms. Chesonis, the group mainly looked at flowers, and was able to observe blossoms from at least 10 different wildflower families. The Park Service hopes to offer more wildflower walks this summer, as different wildflowers come into bloom. Through the season's changes, each walk could be completely different.

A TALLER, WOODLAND PLANT is the wood anemone, usually having five white petals. Its leaves are in a whorl of three, with three sets of divided leaves. The wildflower walk presented the hikers with a view of many different areas and types of plants, as the group went from the parking area into a wooded area, then through a swamp area. All habitats, explained Ms. Chesonis, have different wildflowers.

Garrett Crossroads—Home, Sweet Home For Mentally Handicapped In Garrett County

By Beverly J. Sincell

A very special type of person lives in Garrett County. His name is Johnny.

Everyone knows Johnny, he is mentally handicapped. For as long as anyone can remember, he has lived with his parents. Suddenly, both parents are killed in an accident. Johnny is left alone with no provision made for his care. What happens to him?

Up until now Johnny, and other mentally handicapped persons in the county who have suddenly been left alone, has been sent to a state institution, or, if he is lucky, to a group home in another county.

Through the efforts of a local organization, Garrett Crossroads, Inc. in conjunction with the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens, some mentally handicapped persons in the county will have an opportunity to remain in the county rather than be sent to an institution or out-of-county group home. Within the next year they will have the chance to live in a group home in Garrett County.

Construction on the Garrett Crossroads Group Home, which is being funded by the state Mental Retardation Administration (MRA), will begin in late May or early June. When it is completed it will provide residential space for eight mentally handicapped persons 18 years or older, and two houseparents. It will be home to them. There they will eat, sleep and perform household chores, under the supervision of professionally trained houseparents. It will be a place they will leave to go to work or classes in the morning and where they will return at night. It may be their home for life, or it may be home until they can live on their own.

Since the group home will be in Garrett County—to be constructed on 2.66 acres on Broad Ford Road in Mt. Lake Park by Garrettland Construction, Inc.—it will allow the residents to maintain close ties with their families. The residents will also be able to become contributing citizens to the community through their employment.

The concept of group homes has become very popular in Maryland. State departments have discovered that group homes are not only a more desirable living arrangement but are more economical than institutional care. Because of this, the state, which is funding the total cost of construction and operation of the group home, requires that four of the eight residents in the group home come from an institution with Garrett County residents receiving preference.

The group home is the result of the formation of a group of county residents in 1976 who recognized the need for county services to the mentally handicapped. They became known as the Garrett Association for Retarded Citizens, but later changed their name to the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens (GORC).

GORC studied needed services for the county mentally handicapped population and, among other services, decided a group home was essential. A sub-group, Garrett Crossroads, Inc., was formed in 1978 to begin the necessary groundwork for the home.

The task before Garrett Crossroads, Inc. was formidable and promised many hours of work, even years. Yet, its members were eager, they understood the necessity—some of them were parents of mentally handicapped children, others worked with the mentally handicapped. Their current membership includes: president—Charlotte Griffith, vice president—Mike Brandes, secretary—Joan Ivanauski, treasurer—John Toston, Nita Puffinburg, Joyce Bell, Helen Frantz, Dorothy Leuba, William Naylor, Sue Pagenhardt, and the Rev. Richard A. Seaks.

One of the first tasks Garrett Crossroads, Inc. undertook was a needs assessment study to determine the actual need for a group home in the county and to identify the mentally retarded population in Garrett County as well as those from Garrett County in state institutions. From that study the group identified 157 mentally retarded citizens residing in the county and 22 Garrett County natives in institutions. Of those residing in the county, one-third were residing in the northern part of the county while two-thirds were in the southern part. In its final report, the committee emphasized that there were more mentally retarded citizens in the county who had not yet been identified.

Although the group is only considering constructing one group home and funds are only available for one, the state Mental Retardation Association has informed them that they justified the need for five group homes, not just one.

Besides the needs assessment study, Garrett Crossroads, Inc. established a committee to select a site. The 2.66 acre site on Broad Ford was chosen because of its proximity to transportation, schools, recreation, hospital care, and other facilities.

Because of the climate of Garrett County, the lack of consistent county-wide public transportation, and few social/cultural activities in the county, Garrett Crossroads wanted to be involved in the design of the group home to insure that it met its residents' needs. The group had in mind an energy efficient home with enough space for comfort.

The final design, which has been approved by the MRA and the state Board of Public works, provides for a one floor structure with one-half a basement. It will be a wood-framed building with vinyl siding. The home will include four two-person bedrooms, a recreation room, living room, dining room, kitchen, utility room, an office, two bathrooms, living quarters for the houseparents and a relief parent bedroom.

For energy efficiency, the house has been designed on passive solar energy concepts. It will have a multi-fueled heating furnace.

On April 10, Garrett Crossroads, Inc. saw their two years of hard work pay off when they received final approval for the project from the Board of Public Works. They hope to see their dreams become reality by December when they expect the facility to open its doors to the first residents.

Because a group home environment is not for everyone, prospective residents will be screened before acceptance into the home. Charlotte Griffith emphasized that no one has yet been guaranteed placement in the home. Those who are accepted will be placed on a six month trial period to study their ability to function in the group home environment.

The residents will participate in every facet of the home. State regulations require them to be out of the home during the day, either at a job or in classes. They will be responsible for all household chores, including gathering wood and working outside on the grounds.

"The houseparents are not going to be caretakers for those in the home," Charlotte Griffith explained. "Each resident will learn to be independent, with guidance." Those who achieve a level of self-sufficiency in which they are capable of living on their own will be allowed to do so.

The residents will not be living in the home free of charge. They will be expected to contribute to their room and board, though there will be alternative ways for them to pay their fee.

One of the hopes of Garrett Crossroads, Inc. is to eventually provide co-residential apartments for mentally handicapped persons. In those apartments, mentally handicapped persons would live together with minimum supervision.

Garrett Crossroads, Inc. is planning to hire a full-time director for the group home, at which time they will sink back into an advisory role. But they do not plan to relax entirely. There are other possibilities for group homes and for co-residential apartments, and there are still needed services for the handicapped.

Persons desiring more information on the home or on the application procedure should call Charlotte Griffith between 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at 334-9438 or at home, 334-8856.

I Love Mom Contest Held

An Oakland firm recently gave area grade school youngsters the opportunity to put their love for their mother into words as a special tribute for Mother's Day.

Students in grade one through nine were invited to complete the sentence, "I love Mom because . . ."

The mother of the winning entrant was Mrs. Joyce Steyer, who received a $25 Hallmark gift certificate.

Her son Royce, a second grade student, submitted the following entry: "I love Mom because she is the sweetest mom on this whole world. The world has many moms, but my mom is best of all. She takes care of me. I love her because she is wonderful."

Honorable mentions were entered by Kim Grimes, grade one; Kendra O'Brien, grade seven and Kelley Lewis, grade five.

The contest was sponsored by The Thoughtfulness Shop at Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy.

Cuppett-Weeks Has Open House

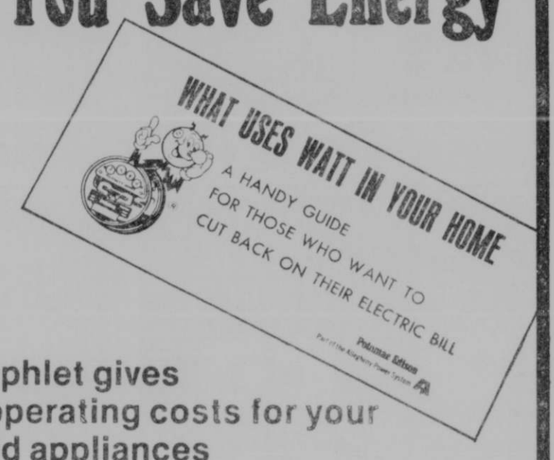

Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home is celebrating National Nursing Home Week this week with an open house May 12 through 16. The home will be open for tours, observations and visiting from 1 to 4 p.m. this week.

Fourth and fifth grade students at Dennett Road School, under the direction of Mrs. Knolle, made posters for the State contest. The residents at the home judged the posters and determined the winner, Ronda Wolf, a fifth grader. All but the winning poster are on display with others from all over the state, in Baltimore today.

Huskies Stopped By Indians With No-Hitter, 2-0

George Dom was the ace on the mound for Mt. Savage High Friday as he pitched a no-hitter against host Northern High School and retired 16 of the Huskies enroute to a 2-0 win.

Northern threatened to score on two occasions but Dom slammed the door at crucial moments. The Huskies' only semblance of a hit came when Bill Bender smashed a drive to short and he was safe at first, but it was ruled an error.

The Indians, logging their seventh victory of the season in 11 outings, scored what proved to be the winning run in the second inning when Dom singled, took second on a single by Mike Clauson, to third when Hott walked to load the bases, and scored when Matthews drew a walk.

John Boor clouted a solo home run in the seventh inning to conclude the scoring.

Dick Bender was tagged with the loss, surrendering only six safeties.

Northern had baserunners at second and third with one out in the first inning, and runners at first and third with two out in the seventh, but failed to capitalize.

The Huskies are now 6-5.

Oakland Cyclist Completes Tour

Art Naylor, Oakland, completed the annual bicycle tour of the Scioto River Valley in the state of Ohio held May 10 and 11.

The tour began in Columbus, following the Scioto River Valley 105 miles to Portsmouth.

On the return trip, the cyclist rode back to Columbus, making a total of 210 miles for the weekend tour.

Woods Resigns As Southern Athletic Director

The Southern High School Athletic Department recently announced the resignation of athletic director Tom Woods. Woods, who held the spot for three years, will remain as the head football coach.

In commenting on his resignation, Woods said, "The job of athletic director is a full time job. It was impossible for me to be both a teacher and athletic director at the same time.

"Resigning will give me more time to devote to the football program, but most importantly, I will have more time to devote to my family."

In closing, Woods said, "I would just like to thank the hundreds of people who helped me perform the job of athletic director."

Anyone interested in the vacated position should contact Dick Travis at the Garrett County Board of Education.

Deep Creek Lake To Host Annual B.A.S.S. Tourney

The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council will sponsor the 7th Annual Bass Federation Tournament on May 16 and 17 in an effort to fill the five remaining positions on the Maryland State team.

Over 160 of Maryland's finest bass anglers from more than 26 bass clubs make up the competitive field. Each club may enter their top six members in the tournament for cash, awards, and prizes totaling more than $4,500.

The top seat and captain will be determined at the state Mr. Bass Tournament, to be held May 26 and 27 at Susquehanna Flats. This six-man team will represent Maryland at the 1980 National B.A.S.S. Championship Tournament in August.

At the National Championship, Maryland will compete against 34 other affiliated B.A.A.S. State Federations for $50,000 in awards and prizes, including an opportunity to compete at the prestigious "Bassmaster Classic."

Headquarters for this weekend's tournament will be the Village Inn, McHenry, using the new facilities at Deep Creek State Park for the launch and weigh-in sites.

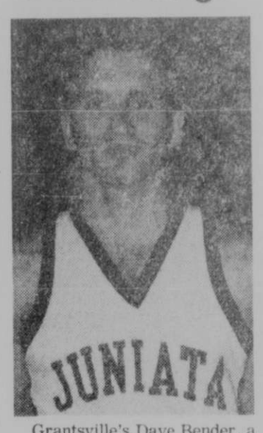

Interested persons should contact Ed Lohr, chairman, at 668-5626.

League To Sponsor Slow-Pitch Tourney

The Grantsville Softball League is sponsoring a 16-team, double-elimination slow-pitch softball tournament the weekend of June 6-8 at the Community Park at Grantsville.

For more information, persons should contact Joe McRobie at (301) 895-5921 (work), or at (301) 895-5780 (home).

Dave Bender Is Named MVP At Juniata College

Grantsville's Dave Bender, a senior at Juniata College, was one of 16 athletes honored April 30 at the college's annual Awards Convocation.

A 1976 Northern Garrett High School graduate, Bender captured the Jack E. Oller Alumni Award as the school's outstanding men's basketball player this season.

Bender was third in scoring (172, 7.8) and second in assists (54) from his guard position for the 6-16 Indians. A hard-nosed defensive player, he played out front in coach Pat Frazier's 1-3-1 alignment.

In addition, Bender is the starting rightfielder for the Indian baseball team, the Middle Atlantic Conference Northwest Section Champion. Through 24 games, Bender has hit .296 with 16 RBI.

The son of Mrs. Shirley Bender, Rt. 2, Grantsville, Bender is a J. Walter Englar Scholar, majoring in social science.

Juniata College is located in Huntingdon, Pa.

Garrett County Special Olympics Winners Named

The sixth annual Special Olympics was held last Thursday, May 8, at Garrett Community College. The 1980 Garrett County Special Olympics was sponored by the Garrett Organization for Handicapped, the Adult Activities Center, and the Student Government Association of Garrett Community College.

Approximately 60 people from Garrett County participated in the indoor and outdoor competitive events, including softball throw, 50-yard dash, long jump and frisbee throw. Rick DeWitt, co-cordinator, stated that the county program follows state guidelines, and this is the first year of Maryland State competitive frisbee throw. The final event was non-competitive fun and games.

Participants in the Olympics were separated into five groups, according to their abilities. Training coordinators for the event were Dot Leuba, physical education specialist, and Rick DeWitt, Program Coordinator for AAAC. Members of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped acted as referees, and GCC coordinators were Joan Crawford and Rick Briggs.

All first, second and third place winners will go to Towson on June 13 and 14 to compete in the Maryland State Special Olympics in track and field events, said DeWitt. He added that 22 winners from Garrett County will be present in Towson during this third year that Garrett County will travel to state competition as a group.

Winners of Group I in last week's competition for the softball throw were first place, Gary Shafer; second place, Jeff Michaels; third place, David Hollada. Group I winners of the frisbee throw were first, Jeff Michaels; second, Gary Shafer; third, Tom Savage.

Group I winners of the long jump were first, David Hollada; second, Jeff Michaels; third, Gary Shafer. Winners of the 50-yard dash were first, Ronald Cosner; second, Rich Buckingham; third, Tom Savage.

Group II winners of the softball throw were first, Roger Paugh; second, Henry Yoder; third, Margie Bell. Group II winners of the frisbee throw were first, Bill Faulkner; second, Roger Paugh; third, Henry Yoder, and winners of the long jump were first, Roger Paugh; second, Bill Faulkner; third, Dee Frantz. Group II winners of the 50-yard dash were first, Dee Frantz; second, Roger Paugh; and third, Roger Uber.

Group III winners of the softball throw were first, Marty Eichorn; second, Don Tasker; third, Jeff Bittinger; winners of the frisbee throw were first, Don Tasker; second, Trina Bray; third, Jay Sausman; winners of the long jump were first, Jeff Bittinger; second, Marty Eichorn; third, Mary K. Bowser; winners of the 50-yard dash were first, Jeff Bittinger; second, Marty Eichorn; third, Homer Ash.

Group IV winners of the softball throw were first, Kevin Selders; second, Ray Keefer; third, Teresa Niner; winners of the frisbee throw were first, Ray Keefer; second, Kevin Selders; third, Susie Ash; winners of the long jump were first, Ray Keefer; second, Teresa Niner; third, Susie Ash; winners of the 50-yard dash were first, Kevin Selders; second, Susie Ash; third, Ray Keefer.

Group V winners of the softball throw were first, Dick Campbell; second, Patty Beckman; third, Abe Ferguson; winners of the frisbee throw were first, Dick Campbell; second, Buddy Griffith; third, Leonard Whetzel; winners of the long jump were first, Reginald Borchert; second, Ed Miller; third, Dick Campbell; winners of the 50-yard dash were first, Buddy Griffith; second, Patty Beckman; third, Leonard Whetzel.

Garrett Community College students donated and presented award medals at a ceremony following the events. Refreshments were also donated by GCC students.

DeWitt said that this has been the Garrett County Special Olympic's "biggest year, as far as parent and citizen turn-out and we had the largest number of participants and helpers this year."

TAKING THE LEAD IN THE 50-YARD DASH is Dee Frantz, followed by Roger Paugh, Margie Bell and Roger Uber. About 60 people participated in the 1980 Garrett County Special Olympics, said to be the biggest turn-out since it began six years ago. All persons who placed first, second or third in each competition will travel to Towson for the Maryland State Special Olympics in June.

BEAMING WITH PRIDE AND JOY, Kevin Selders receives the congratulations of Dot Leuba, physical education specialist, during the awards ceremony at GCC. Kevin was a first and second place winner in the Special Olympics. Ms. Leuba, co-ordinator of the Olympics, volunteers her time to work with all ages of the handicapped people of Garrett County, as well as other programs involving physical education.

SHEER DETERMINATION WILL GET THAT FRISBEE THROUGH THE HOOP! — Randy Harvey is pictured with referee Dan Elmlinger as he competes in the frisbee throw at the Sixth Annual Special Olympics in Garrett County. Approximately 22 of the 60 participants in the competitive events will go on to the state championships, representing Garrett County.

THANKS

The Tri-State mountainmen would like to thank those who donated to help form our muzzle-loading gun club. Skipper's Construction, Naylor's Hardware, Beachy Lumber Co., Garrett Sport Shop, Robert Leatherbury, Doug Bittinger, Rich Skipper, and many others. The shooting match was a success and we hope everyone will come to the next match on Sunday, June 1, 12:30 p.m., Fantasy Valley Resort, McHenry, MD.

Brothers To Graduate From Tucker County High School

James Knotts, Jr.

Richard Knotts

James Knotts, Jr. and Richard Knotts will graduate this year from Tucker County High School, Thomas, W. Va.

James currently works part time at Courtland Nursing Home. He plans to pursue a career in auto mechanics upon graduation, and is presently in training for this goal at DiBacco's Garage, through the Arch Moore, Jr. Career Center's cooperative education class.

Richard is actively involved in the basketball team, the Jogger's Club, VICA, and is president of the Key Club. He recently attended the Key Club International District Convention in Charleston, W. Va. As an additional honor, he was chosen as April student-of-the-month.

He has also been accepted for the fall term at Shepherd College in Shpherdstown, where he plans to major in therapeutic recreation.

James Jr. and Richard are the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Knotts of Crellin-Underwood Road, Oakland.

Worldwide Missions Conference Planned

The Deep Creek Baptist Church, Rev. David C. Long, pastor, is sponsoring a Worldwide Missions Conference, May 18 through the 25th, at 7:15 p.m. each evening.

Guest speakers from five different Christian Missions organizations will be featured: Rev. David Perkins will represent the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, William & Jean Martin from the New Tribes Mission, Clay Johnston from the Wycliffe Bible Translators, Bert Lohr of the International Missions, and Robert Fine, Executive Director of the African Evangelical Fellowship.

These Missionaries represent various areas of the world, including Pakistan, Africa and the Philippines.

Special events for this Missions Conference will include a Missionary Cantata "To Tell The Untold," to be presented Sunday evening. Other gospel music and two missionary films will be presented during the week, with Saturday being designated: "Youth and Missions Day" beginning at 2 p.m. at the church for three hours of sharing and planned recreation.

The theme for this missions conference is: "The Living Savior For a Dying World."

The church is located eight miles north of Oakland, on U.S. 219, Deep Creek Lake. The public is invited to attend as much of the Missions Conference as they wish. A free-will offering will be received nightly. Interested persons should call Pastor David Long at 387-5688.

SHS Teams To Sponsor Tourney

The Southern High football and basketball teams are sponsoring a 16-team, double-elimination softball tournament May 23, 24, and 25. All games will be played at either the Southern High or Southern Middle School fields.

Anyone wishing to enter a team should call Tom Woods at 334-2345 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. After 4, persons may call Woods at 334-9694, or Tom Bosley at 334-3758. The entry fee is $60, and all entries must be in by Wednesday, May 21.

Pairings will be drawn May 21 at Southern High at 7:00 p.m. All teams are requested to have a representative at the pairings.

Governor Declares State Fishing Week

Governor Harry Hughes, recognizing that fishing is an established recreational tradition, has proclaimed May 12-18 Fishing Week in Maryland.

His official proclamation supporting the nationwide movement states:

"The wide participation in fishing by Americans supports a half-billion dollar industry, providing approximately 65,000 jobs, from which our State benefits."

He also noted that almost one-third of those licensed to fish are under 18 years of age, indicating that fishing is one of the most popular youth activities in the nation.

Governor Hughes urged Marylanders to recognize Fishing Week, the second to be celebrated nationally, and to "Take a Kid Fishing."

NOTICE

The Garrett County Republican State Central Committee will be recommending names of qualified individuals to Governor Harry Hughes for consideration for appointment to the Garrett County Board of Education and Garrett Community College Board of Trustees. Anyone interested in having his or her name considered for recommendation to Governor Hughes by the committee should submit a resume to

Mill Run Rd. Man Becomes Member Of Mensa Society

Frank Vitez, Mill Run Road, has been accepted into the membership of Mensa, an international society for persons who rank above 98 percent of the general population in intelligence.

The society, which has 30,000 active members in 14 countries ran a quiz in the April 1979 issue of Reader's Digest as a challenge to readers to try to qualify for membership. Vitez, who does mechanical engineering work for American H-V Testing Systems in Accident, accepted the challenge.

Upon taking the Reader's Digest test and passing with a high score, Vitez took two more tests, one unsupervised and one supervised. Since then, he has received word of his acceptance into the membership of Mensa.

"I was just interested in taking the tests as a challenge," said Vitez, when asked why he joined the society. "I wanted to see what I could do up against a test of this sort." He then joined the society, "just to learn more about the group and the type of people who are its members."

Vitez, a Garrett County native, graduated from Northern High School in 1966 and worked at Greater Maryland Tool and Manufacturing for ten years before joining American H-V Testing Systems.

Mensa, a society which strives to keep alive the concept of the Renaissance man, has no religious, political or ideological aim, but professes to provide a contact between the intelligent people of the world. It is the "last stand against the encroachments of professionalism" which the society claims threatens to make men specialists in one area of technology while preventing them from becoming "well-rounded."

Vitez says that since he has joined Mensa, he has discovered that its members, like himself, are interested in the "all around approach of learning" rather than concentrated education in one field.

Mensa was formed in 1945 and has 150 local groups in the United States alone. Through membership dues, it provides funds for research in psychology and social science.

For its members, it provides newsletters, journals, conferences and opportunity to meet members through special interest groups which range from intellectual pursuits, such as philosophy or Stone Age cultures, to fun and unusual activities, such as absurdities, backgammon and motorcycling.

A liberal republic constitution was adopted in Greece on January 13, 1822.

Garrett County Students Perform In Talent-O-Rama

An audience of more than 400 persons attended the 19th Annual Talent-O-Rama, sponsored by the Mountain Fellowship Center, Markleysburg, Pa.

After a musical interlude, which included the singing of the National Anthem, the program began with a welcome by Clarence Savage, a member of the board of directors of the center.

A total of 18 acts participated, offering a medley ranging from vocal and instrumental performances to a discussion between Howard Cossel and Mohammed Ali.

Four children from Garrett County participated in the elementary contestant division, including Joy Illick and John Brobst, from the Accident Elementary School, and Shawna Sines and Nina Luscombe, from the Friendsville Elementary School.

The elementary portion of the program blended child-like charm with definable talent, ending their portion of the show with a real 'country hoe-down', complete with authentic costumes and bouncy, lively, square dance music.

After a brief intermission, the secondary contestants from local mountain area junior and senior high schools opened the second half of the show with impressive performances of vocal and instrumental ability, indicative of advanced experience and maturity. Two Garrett County youths, both students at Northern High School, participated in the secondary portion. James Fox and Jesse Yoder performed instrumental selections in this division.

At the conclusion of the 18 performances, the judges retired to make their decisions, while the winners from last year's competition entertained the audience.

Among the acts was an acrobatic performance viewed through stroboscopic lighting, and a twirling routine using sabres in a most precarious manner.

Another added attraction during the judges' intermission was a surprise professional band under the direction of Carl Micarelli. Several contestants were given the opportunity to 'sit in' with the band during their performance.

Upon the judges' return, the winners were announced and the awards were presented by Robert Haase, president of the Mountain Fellowship Center.

In the elementary division, first place was awarded to Jimmy Beach, a student at Marclay Elementary School, Markleysburg, Pa., who presented a trombone solo.

Second place honors went to four young ladies from Wharton Elementary School, who offered a vocal quartet performance. They included Beth Ann Burd, Laurey Thurby, Tracie Markus, and Lori Fike.

Third place was awarded to Loretta Sproul and Wendy Plume, a vocal duet from A. J. McMullen Jr. High School, Markleysburg, Pa.

In the secondary division, the first place award was presented to Jesse Yoder, a student at Northern High School, Accident. Jesse presented a piano solo.

Second place honors went to Sharon Jackson, a student at A. J. McMullen Jr. High School, Markleysburg, Pa. Sharon presented a flute solo.

Third place was awarded to Diane Dickerson, a student at Bruceton High School, Bruceton Mills, W. Va.

All participants in the Talent-O-Rama were winners of preliminary talent shows held in their respective schools.

Judges for the event were Anthony Van Epperson and Mark Gordon, both actors associated with the Great Meadows Amphitheater, Farmington, Pa., and Ron Bruzda, a representative of Investors Diversified Services.

Joanna Bontrager served as coordinator of the program, and Richard Dennis was Master of Ceremonies.

Forest Board Visits Savage River Forest

The Garrett County Forest Conservancy Board expanded its activities on Saturday, May 10, by visiting Savage River State Forest and examining some of the activities in which the State Forests in Garrett County become involved. Warren Groves, Forest Manager for Savage River State Forest, presented the Board members with copies of the proposed work plan for 1981 on Savage River State Forest and discussed how the work recommended for this coming year compared with past accomplishments.

The issue of snowmobiling on State Forest land was discussed also, because the development or improvement of new or old trails will necessitate reassigning priorities within the State Forest work plan. The Forestry Board members felt that the improvement of existing trails should be the only immediate action appropriate at this time by the Maryland Forest Service. The Board members also felt the development of snowmobile trails, facilities, etc., should be a cooperative effort among all parties interested in promoting or extending the sport. It was suggested that one good coordinating agency for such an effort might be the Garrett County Promotion Council.

The Garrett County Forestry Board is one of the 24 advisory boards across the State, consisting of lay members from the community, which act as advisors to the Maryland Forest Service. These Forestry Boards afford the state the opportunity to gain input from the general public in how forests should be managed. Garrett County has the bulk of the State Forest land in Maryland.

Carter, Reagan Win Primaries In Maryland And Nebraska

President Carter and Ronald Reagan, now within easy reach of the 1980 presidential nominations, won nearly 50 new delegates each in Maryland and Nebraska—victories sweetened by the memory of defeats four years past.

Carter beat Sen. Edward Kennedy and Reagan bested George Bush in the two primaries Tuesday. The results gave Carter 91 percent of the delegates needed to lock up the nomination; Reagan had about 88 percent.

There are 14 more primaries and Reagan could get the delegates needed to claim victory by the end of May. Carter probably will have to wait until June 3, when the primary season ends with balloting in nine states.

Kennedy called the outcome "a reasonably close split on the delegates" but added, "Quite frankly, I would have hoped that we could have done better in both of those states."

Bush, with little solace to be found in the returns, looked toward next week.

"On to Michigan and Oregon," he said.

Reagan was elated, saying, "I can't help but feel very good about it because it's more than I expected."

Carter's campaign chief, Robert Strauss, praised Kennedy and talked more about party unity than the latest victories.

"Senator Kennedy has run a good campaign the last couple of months," Strauss said, adding the Carter camp will do everything it can to soothe any "natural irritations that develop in a campaign like this."

Strauss said he believes "those we've run against will be responsive."

The delegate totals: Carter 1,521; Kennedy 813; Needed to nominate: 1,666.

The Republican total: Reagan 873; Bush 191. Needed to nominate: 998.

The primary voting:

Maryland: With all of the precincts in, Carter had 221,656 or 47 percent and 32 delegates to Kennedy's 178,517 or 38 percent and 26 delegates. Reagan had 79,116 or 48 percent and 18 delegates to Bush's 66,756 or 41 percent and 12 delegates.

Nebraska: With 92 percent in, Carter had 66,095 or 47 percent and 14 delegates to Kennedy's 53,442 or 38 percent and 10 delegates. Reagan had 140,010 or 78 percent and 24 delegates to Bush's 29,236 or 16 percent and 1 delegate.

Rep. John Anderson of Illinois, who dropped out of the GOP race to run as an independent, was on the Republican ballot in both states. In Maryland he got 9 percent and no delegates, in Nebraska 6 percent and at one point pulled one delegate out of Reagan's column.

Reagan swamped Bush in Nebraska, but Anderson held the balance in Maryland. Had Bush taken all Anderson's votes, he would have gained a virtual tie with Reagan.

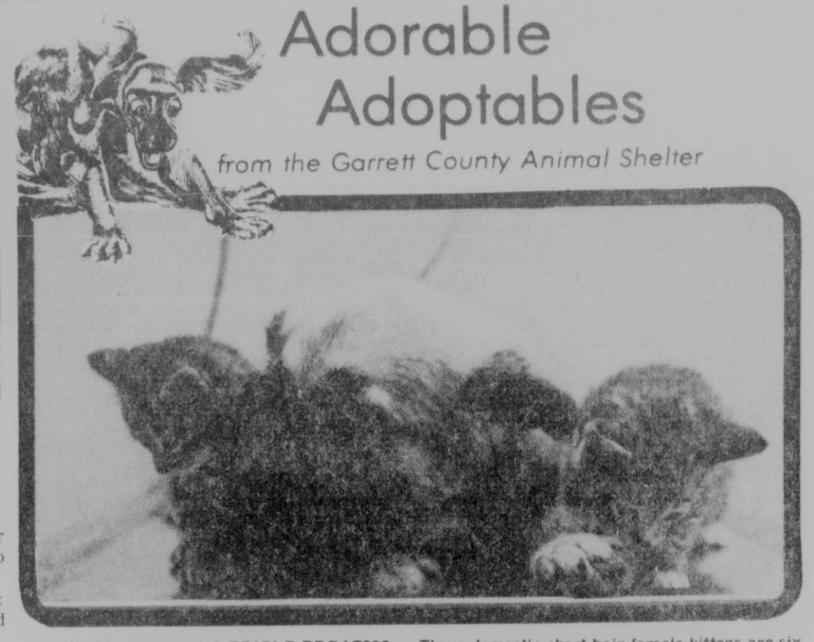

"Anderson" exclaimed Dorann Gunderson, Bush's Maryland coordinator. "And the man is not even in the Republican race."

Carter captured less than 50 percent of the vote in each state.

In what some observers believe is a significant trend, 10 percent of the Democrats trekking to the polls in Nebraska and Maryland voted for uncommitted delegates—or registered a hostile "none of the above."

Adorable Adoptables

Allegany County Approves Property Tax Increase

CUMBERLAND, Md. (UPI) Allegany County commissioners have approved a three-cent increase in the property tax, setting the levy at $2.22 per $100 of assessed value.

Within budget allocations, the commissioners increased expenditures for general government, public safety, economic opportunity and miscellaneous items.

The county officials chose not to increase the budget of the Allegany County public school system, however, saying the bulk of the money was needed to boost employment.

School superintendent Wayne Hill has warned teachers might have to be fired if more money is not added to the school system's budget.

Harford County Executive Faces Extortion Charges

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI) Harford County Executive J. Thomas Barranger will be arraigned May 20 on charges of extortion, perjury and violation of election laws, State's Attorney Peter Cobb said Tuesday.

The Harford County grand jury investigating Barranger's 1978 campaign indicted him Monday on charges that Barranger extorted $2,500 from Richard D. Poteet, the president of Fallston General Hospital, and executive director Chester Price on Oct. 10, 1978 "by wrongful threat of economic injury."

Barranger committed perjury by failing to report the $2,500 on his state income tax and violated election laws by failing to turn the money over to his campaign treasurer, the indictment alleges.

Barranger denied the allegations.

"I have never engaged in any criminal conduct whatsoever... all I have ever done is to fight for this community," he said Monday.

He said he would not resign.

The indictment came as a result of an investigation begun more than a year ago by Peter Cobb, the county state's attorney.

Baltimore Liquor Control Board To Be Analyzed

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) A management analysis of the Baltimore County liquor board has been ordered by county executive Donald Hutchinson, who says the possibility of changing the panel's structure should be studied.

The county solicitor's office last week criticized the administration of the liquor board, which a county grand jury has accused of uneven enforcement of liquor laws.

"If you think there should be a single commissioner, or a commissioner-deputy commissioner set-up, I want to know," Hutchinson told Budget Dirdctor Stanley Guild Monday.

A three-member team will conduct the analysis, which is scheduled for completion in five weeks.

Sachs Announces Educational Program On State's Public Information Act

Attorney General Stephen H. Sachs announced recently that his office has begun an educational program to assure that State agencies abide by the letter and spirit of Maryland's Public Information Act.

An intensive training session was held on April 30 to instruct Assistant Attorneys General on the Act's history and purposes, and its application to the agencies they represent. The Attorney Generals Office will conduct a second session in June for selected State employees and will publish, shortly thereafter, a pamphlet entitled "Citizens Guide to the Public Information Act." This publication will explain the Act in nontechnical terms and will tell members of the public how to request information from State and local agencies.

A more detailed legal resource guide, "The Attorney General's Public Information Act Manual," has already been issued to each Assistant Attorney General. The 58-page manual will be made available to judges, public and private attorneys, and others who require a detailed knowledge of the Act and its requirements.

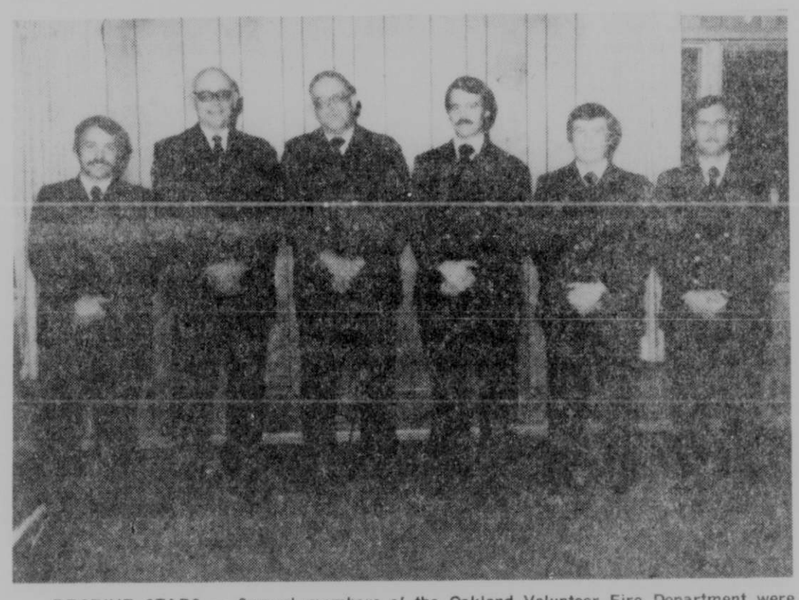

In addition, to insure full implementation of this law, the Office of the Attorney General will urge all State agencies to adopt written procedures for accepting and responding to public information requests. The procedures suggest the adoption of reasonable fee schedules to minimize the cost of copying records and a waiver of fees for those who cannot affort them. A set of model rules has been prepared by the Attorney General's Office to aid agencies with this task.

"Access to public documents and records is the public's right," Sachs said in announcing the new initiative. "The Office of the Attorney General has a special responsibility to see to it that this legal right is implemented correctly and consistently throughout State government. The purpose of these programs and training sessions is to insure that requests for information will be answered without undue delay and with scrupulous observance of the disclosure requirements."

The Maryland Attorney General's program, designed by Dennis M. Sweeney, Special Assistant for Administrative Proceedings, is the first effort of its kind in the state since the Maryland law was enacted in the 1970 session of the General Assembly.

The Maryland Public Information Act, published in Article 76A of the Maryland Code, grants the public a broad right of access to records that are in the possession of state and local government agencies. The Act, which is similar to the Federal Freedom of Information Act, guarantees not only the right of inspection, but also the right to obtain copies of documents upon the payment of a reasonable fee. The right to access, while broad, is not unlimited and certain records specified in the Act, e.g. police investigatory records, can be kept from public disclosure to protect the privacy rights of individual citizens or to serve valid governmental purposes. When a written request to inspect or copy a document is received by a public agency, the custodian of the record is obligated by law to allow access to the record or to promptly provide a written denial letter justifying nondisclosure. If the person seeking access to a record is dissatisfied with the agency's decision, he can seek judicial review of the denial in the state's circuit courts.

Receiving stars were, left to right, Jim Crabtree, five years; Jim Rook, 25 years; Allan Murray, 20 years; Don Sincell, James Stanton, and Mark Durst, all five years. Each was presented a service star. The dinner was held at the Deer Park Fire Hall.

Security Chief Claims Arrest Was Set Up By Police Officer

DUNDALK, Md. (UPI) The chief of a security force at a local apartment complex contends he was set up for his arrest on weapons charges by a Baltimore County police officer he fired from his second job last month.

Franklin F. Garcia, security chief at Hidden Cove apartments, was arrested last week by officer George Roberts and charged with carrying a concealed weapon, a handgun for which he had no permit.

Garcia said Roberts knew he had no permit for his gun, and that the officer had asked him to carry his gun to the Lynch Road address where he was arrested.Garcia had fired Roberts last month from a moonlighting job with the apartment's security force.

"He said he had people who lived over in the Cove who were causing problems and for me to bring my gun," Garcia said. "I feel that was a reprisal. That was one of the big set ups and I, like a dummy, fell for it."

Roberts' report said he spotted Garcia walking down the street and, since he had warned the security chief against carrying the weapon before, he decided to check.

The incident is under investigation by the police department's Internal Investigations Division.

Teen-Ager Shot By Boyfriend, Listed Critical

BALTIMORE (UPI) A Baltimore teen-ager shot in the chest by a man described to police as her boyfriend was in critical condition Tuesday at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Melissa Lighty, 19, was shot at her Guilford Avenue home early Tuesday morning during an argument with her boyfriend, her sister told police.

James C. Peay was arrested shortly after the shooting and charged with assault with intent to murder.

In an unrelated incident, Terry King, 17, was shot in the hip during a robbery attempt, officials said.

King told police he and a companion were held up Monday night by two men, one of whom displayed a hangun. As the two youths fled, the gunman fired one shot that lodged in King's right hip.

Ethic Affairs Appoints Panel

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) Four new members have been appointed to the Maryland Commission on Ethic Affairs by Gov. Harry Hughes.

The new panel members, who serve one-year terms, include Regina Forte of Baltimore, Helen Johns of Highlandtown, Hardev S. Palta of Baltimore and Robert Weiner of Chevy Chase.

The commission is an agency of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development.

Area Derailment Causes Temporary Traffic Rerouting

CUMBERLAND, Md. (UPI) Two cars on a freight train derailed Tuesday, knocking down a telephone poll at the city's main intersection and requiring the rerouting of all traffic.

There were no injuries, officials said, adding that the cause of the derailment was under investigation.

"It will disrupt traffic until we clean it up and we don't know when that will be," a Chessie Railroad spokeswoman said. "They said it would be at least (Wednesday) before it is cleaned up, though."

Officials said the train was pulling 97 carloads of grain.

La Plata Man Is Electrocuted On Construction Site

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (UPI) A 21-year-old La Plata man was electrocuted Tuesday when he touched a crane that had accidentally brushed against a 69,000-volt power line.

St. Mary's County sheriff's deputies said Shane D. Hollifield, an employee of a Richmond, Va., construction company that was installing high-voltage lines, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in Leonardtown at 8:39 a.m.

Hollifield was jolted with electricity when he touched the back of the crane, said Bill Johnson, a construction superintendent.

Johnson said crane operator John Droddy of Petersburg, Va., was not injured because the crane's cab was grounded with rubber tires.

The company is installing a 12.5 mile power line for the Southern Maryland Electric Cooperative that will carry 260,000 volt wires, Johnson said.

M.T.A. Awards Additional Funds

BALTIMORE (UPI) The Maryland Transportation Administration has agreed to pay $8.7 million to a contractor that built the superstructure of the Francis Scott Key Bridge.

The Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. filed a claim in February for $25.4 million, maintaining it incurred additional expenses, performed extra work and had to accelerate its work.

Transportation Secretary James O'Donnell the two sides agreed on the $8.7 million settlement after an independent audit of the company's books.

Landfill Ordered To Control Toxic Chrome Wastes

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) An Anne Arundel County landfill has been ordered to bring its handling of toxic chrome wastes into compliance with state law by the middle of next week.

The state Environmental Health Administration directed the Browning-Ferris Industries landfill to correct conditions that resulted in a layer of greenish toxic wastes spattering on Solley Road.

Area residents, meanwhile, are lobbying for revocation of the company's state permit for handling hazardous wastes.

The residents claim the state's decision to declare the landfill a probable health hazard came after repeated complaints by civic groups.

The Solley Road landfill is one of the state's few facilities licensed to handle hazardous materials and serves as a major repository of wastes for Baltimore area industries.

PORTRAITS ACCEPTED BY SEEPA — G. David Green, an Oakland photographer, recently received word that all four of his portraits which were entered in the Southeast Professional Photographers' Association [SEEPA] regional competition have been accepted for exhibition. Professional photographers are permitted to enter only four portraits in the annual competition and only about 15% of all entries are accepted for exhibition. The four portraits, which are all of local persons, will now be considered for national exhibition. Mr. Green says that his goal is to achieve the designation of Master of Photography, of which there are only eight in the state of Maryland. To become a master photographer, one must have at least 12 prints accepted for national exhibition by the Professional Photographers' Association. Green is the owner of Artistic Creations, Oakland.

Theft, Vandalism Head Complaints

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week received complaints relating to theft, vandalism and breaking and entering.

Two thefts occurred in Mt. Lake Park during the night of May 2. Olive Corliss and Susan Brenneman, neighbors, had items stolen from their vehicles at that time.

Ms. Brenneman reported the theft of two tennis rackets. Loss value is unknown at this time.

Ms. Corliss reported the theft of a basketball and an emergency kit from her car. Loss value is estimated at $75.

The Community Action Shop in Loch Lynn reported vandalism to two trucks parked in its driveway. The incident occurred sometime between May 3 and 5, when unknown persons cut the taillights on both vehicles, drained the oil out of one, removed a gas cap and put a foreign object into the tank of one truck, and drained the transmission fluid from one truck.

Total loss value in damages to the trucks is estimated at $150.

In a separate incident, the Mt. Lake Park Holiness Camp Meeting Association building was broken into sometime between April 7 and May 7. The building's caretakers reported that a window had been broken by a thrown rock.

Once inside, unknown subjects tore pages from a songbook, placed them on a tile floor and ignited them. Minor damage was caused to the floor, amounting to $25.

Donald Pfeifer, Ellicott City, reported a breaking, entering and theft which occurred at his trailer on Durst Road. The incident occurred sometime between May 5 and 7 when unknown persons entered through the rear window of the trailer and removed a fire extinguisher.

Loss value is estimated at $10.

In other police business, nine persons were arrested by the department last week.

Edward Henn, Jr., 24, was arrested Friday for burglary and grand theft. The arresting officer was Deputy Van Evans. Henn posted bond and was released the same day.

Michael Hoye, 19, was incarcerated Friday by Deputy Evans upon a fugitive warrant from West Virginia. He is charged with grand larceny and assault. Hoye was released the following day when he posted bond.

Ginger Sue Miller, 20, was incarcerated Friday by Deputy Evans and was charged with grand larceny and assault. She was released Sunday when she posted bond.

John Wayne Simpson, 18, was arrested Friday by Deputy Don Tucker. He was charged with destruction of property, resisting arrest and disburbing the peace. Simpson was released the following day on his own recognizance.

Duane Allen Smith, 28, was incarcerated Sunday for driving while intoxicated. The arresting officer was Deputy Tichnell. Smith was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Lester Martin Lewis, Jr., and Frederick Hoover Lewis were arrested Sunday for storehouse burglary, destruction of property and theft. Arresting officers were Deputy Nolan and Deputy Evans. Both are still incarcerated in lieu of $250 bond.

Two juveniles were arrested Sunday. They were released Monday to West Virginia authorities.

Diabetes Group To Meet Monday

The next meeting of the Garrett County Diabetes Association will be held Monday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland.

The speaker will be Scott Eutsler, physical therapist at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. He will discuss full contact insoles and a hospital exercise program for diabetics.

Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, May 14, the 135th day of 1980 with 231 to follow.

The moon is new.

There is no morning star.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Taurus.

Gabriel Fahrenheit, a Prussian who developed the thermometer, was born May 14, 1686.

On this date in history:

In 1904, the Olympic Games were held in the United States for the first time, in St. Louis.

In 1942, Congress established the WAACs—the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps—for World War II duty.

In 1969, President Nixon proposed withdrawal of all American, Allied and North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. The communists rejected the proposal.

In 1973, the U. S. Skylab space station was blasted into earth orbit.

A thought for the day: British novelist George Meredith said, "Cynicism is intellectual dandyism."

Deep Creek Lake Park Swimming Area Closing Set

Until further notice, the swimming area of Deep Creek Lake State Park will be closed due to construction. The boat ramp is open, free of charge. Campers at Deep Creek Lake State Park can swim at no charge at Herrington Manor and New Germany State Parks by showing their campers receipt.

Construction at Swallow Falls State Park has resulted in limited campsites at that park. Sites are available on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Life's roughest years

Being a teen-ager can be torture . . . a lot of the time. And the early twenties don't flatten out that smoothly. There's a desperate loneliness about having problems your kid-brother hasn't encountered and your parents must have forgotten.

The loneliness is worst if your folks gave you nothing to believe in — or if they turned you off when they tried to share their convictions with you.

No one has to stay away from God. Many a young searcher has found his faith, found himself, and found his family in his quest for spiritual certainties.

Sunday morning there's more to do than lean on a tree.

WHEN BLOOD DOES NOT CLOT!

Hemophilia is a hereditary disease in which the blood will not clot. This can frequently be controlled by giving blood plasma or special agents that counteract bleeding. A minor scratch or bruise may be very serious if this is not done.

Often in emergency situations, blood transfusions save lives. However, a person may die if the wrong type of blood is given. Persons having a blood problem or a very rare blood type should wear some sort of tag to make this information known in an emergency.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

FOR EVER AND EVER!

Lesson for May 18, 1980

Background Scripture:
Revelation 4 through 5; 7:9-14.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 24.

I cannot read or hear read these words without hearing simultaneously in my mind the stirring music of Handel's "Messiah":

"Worthy is the Lamb who was slain, To receive power and wealth and wisdom, And might and honor and glory and blessing!" (5:12)

Rev. Althouse

"Blessing and glory and wisdom, thanksgiving and honor and power and might be to our God, For ever and ever! Amen." (7:12)

Even reading them to myself, the enthusiasm and ecstacy are infectuous. The writer of Revelation has caught perfectly the dynamics of true worship.

I Was In The Spirit

If our own experience of worship — either private or corporate — is not much like what the writer of Revelation describes, maybe it is because there is an important dimension missing. Actually, this book focuses attention on two different dimensions. The first of these is the dimension of the present. In the early chapters, the letters to the seven churches, we were brought face to face with the present as it existed when this book was written. The "present" was what the writer of the epistles saw in each of the churches: immorality, pagan practices, idolatry, false teachings, wrong leadership, the loss of love and lukewarm indifference. Each of these assessments of the present was sobering.

I think that dimension — of present woes — is very much with us in the sanctuary of our church or our private worship. We are aware of it all: political corruption, wars and rumors of wars, injustice, torture, starvation, corruption, tyranny, illness, crime, decay and hatred. We can hardly avoid carrying the screaming headlines of our Sunday morning newspaper along into the church sanctuary.

Who Are These?

But there is another dimension that must be viewed side-by-side with the daily headlines, and that is the dimension of "for ever and ever." Yes, the Soviet Union intrigues against the future of humanity. But also: "Blessing, and honor and glory and might be to the Lamb "for ever and ever." Yes, the candidates are lying again. But "Worthy is the Lamb who was slain, to receive power and wealth and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing!" Yes, my next door neighbor died last night of cancer, but in the perspective of "for ever and ever," I will worship God before his throne.

In John's vision there was a group of people in white robes. One of the elders demanded, "Who are these . . . and whence have they come?" And the answer: "These are they who have come out of the great tribulation; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb (7:14). They are those who have viewed the present from the perspective of "for ever and ever" and never cease to worship the Lamb of God.

Library Presents "A Streetcar Named Desire"

The Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland, will present the film, "A Streetcar Named Desire," this Monday at 7 p.m., as part of its Spring Film Festival.

"A Streetcar Named Desire" is a 1951 movie, taken from a play by Tennessee Williams. Vivien Leigh appears as Blanche DuBois and Marlon Brando as Stanley Kowalski. Blanche arrives in New Orleans, her mind filled with memories and illusions of tragic loves, and comes into conflict with Stanley, her crude, realistic brother-in-law.

Admission to the film is free of charge.

Bureau Slates Monthly Survey

How many American workers are holding more than one job? How many are working overtime pay? What are workers' usual hours on their jobs?

Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Census Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, has announced that information in response to these questions will be collected during the week of May 19-24 from a sample of households in this area. The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig

CARPETING YOUR HOME? HERE'S WHY YOU SHOULD

Last time I talked about some of the reasons why carpeting is in such demand for homes, apartments, and places of business. Today, let's talk about a few more advantages of carpeting.

Carpeting on the floor will make any room warmer and less drafty. Since carpeting is an insulator against cold, it provides a healthier play surface for small children who like to play on the floor. Carpeting is also safer than other floors because its non-skid surface prevents slipping and sliding and reduces the possibility of falls. When falls do occur, they're cushioned by the carpet surface.

Comfort underfoot is another important advantage of carpeting. This is why so many commercial establishments whose employees must be on their feet all day have installed carpeting. Carpeting definitely lessens foot and leg fatigue. And finally, carpeting is easy to care for. It does away with scrubbing, waxing, and polishing . . . simple vacuuming and a periodic shampooing is all you'll have to do to care for a carpeted floor.

Now that we've discussed the many advantages of carpeting, doesn't it make sense for you to carpet your home? Roderick's has a marvelous selection of quality carpeting. Stop in and select yours today. Next week, we will talk about what's new in shag. Watch for the column.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

KEENE QUESTION — Was Keene Curtis, whom I saw on "One In a Million," in the play, "Annie"? — A Fan, Northbrook, Ill.

Yes, although he didn't originate the role on Broadway — Reid Shelton did — Curtis toured and played the role during "Annie's" long stay in Los Angeles. John Schuck, who used to play Rock Hudson's sidekick on "McMillan and Wife," is playing Daddy Warbucks on Broadway now.

MISSING NAME — I watched "The Oldest Living Graduate" with Henry Fonda and thought I saw David Ogden Steirs of "M.A.S.H." on the show, but I didn't see his name in the credits. Or I missed them. Was it he? — Art of Elkhart, Ind.

It was Steirs, and you must have missed his credit.

THEY WENT THATAWAY — I would like to know if any of the great shows like "Bonanza," "Gunsmoke" and "High Chaparral" will ever be back on TV. These were great Westerns. There are other shows I would like to see, too, like "Mr. Ed." — Loretta Osborn, Buffalo, Iowa.

If you mean new episodes of those series, the answer is no. The three Westerns are popular syndicated shows, however, and if they have not run in your area, keep watching. The odds are good they will show up. Westerns don't do too well — new ones that is — these days, but producers are still trying. I hope they never give up. I love Westerns and am convinced audiences do too. However, I like "old-fashioned" ones with good guys vs. bad guys, as opposed to psychological ones, which seem more popular today, at least in films.

NATIVE NEIGHBOR — Please send me an address where I can reach Harry Morgan who plays Col. Potter in "M.A.S.H." He is from Muskegon, and I would like to ask him about some local shows he was in. — Mrs. E. L. Johnson, North Muskegon, Mich.

Harry, whose name was originally Henry, was born in Detroit. Write him in care of "M.A.S.H.," 20th Century-Fox Studios, 10100 Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90213. The show is on hiatus, so it may be a time before he receives your letter.

TV PEOPLE

Exam of arms balance kicks off PBS series

A new PBS series, "Ben Wattenberg's 1980," premieres nationally Sunday, May 18, with "Power Shift: The Soviet Arms Build-Up." The program takes a first-hand look at Soviet ships in the Mediterranean from the deck of the U.S.S. Forrestal and, in a discussion with Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., and Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., raises disquieting questions about the consequences of the United States' declining military power.

Ben Wattenberg

The 10-program magazine of ideas and opinion — filmed from the Mediterranean to Sri Lanka to WETA's Shirlington, Va., studios — expresses Wattenberg's personal vision of a "new moment" in American life.

"It is a time, like the 1930s or the 1960s," he says, "when Americans suddenly seem to be looking at their problems and themselves in new and strikingly different ways. It is a time characterized by four central ideas: Freedom is under threat. Government has gone far enough. Progress works. Traditional values are still attractive."

Wattenberg is noted for his ability to explain complex political and intellectual trends in a straightforward and colorful way. His feistiness and irreverence — backed by research skills and first-hand knowledge of the American scene — helped him capture public television viewers in 1977 and 1978 with his series, "In Search of the Real America."

The format of "Ben Wattenberg's 1980" will allow flexibility to investigate many aspects of the contemporary scene. In addition to the Mediterranean segment, Wattenberg visits Sri Lanka to report on a dramatic change in a Third-World society; "Silicon Valley," Calif., for the story of some remarkable entrepreneurs in the electronics industry; and a New Hampshire factory that produces precision machinery that has been used in the Soviet defense program.

Also planned for "Ben Wattenberg's 1980":

— An essay-drama exploring the effects of changes in the nation's birth rate on such areas as crime, unemployment and the mood of the nation.

— An analysis of the impact of the major demographic and economic shift from the Northeast toward the Southwest.

— A reappraisal of "the press and Vietnam."

Currently a senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute and co-editor of AEI's Public Opinion magazine, Wattenberg served as a speech writer in the White House under Lyndon Johnson and was a political advisor to Senators Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson. He is co-founder and now chairman of the Coalition for a Democratic Majority.

Wattenberg frequently writes for leading magazines, newspapers and journals. He is the author of "The Real America" (1974) and "This U.S.A," an interpretation of the results of the 1960 census; co-author of "The Real Majority," the political book that was hailed as the "bible" of the 1970 and 1972 elections; co-author of "Against All Enemies," a political novel set in the White House (1977); and co-author of "The Wealth Weapon," to be published this spring.

TV TATTLE

Open market

CBS Theatrical Films hopes to avert anti-trust backlash by permitting the CBS network to bid in the open market for television rights to theatrical features produced by its own subsidiary. "It's not a problem at all," contends CBS Theatrical Films v.p. Donald March. "We will put the films up for bid. Whoever is the highest bidder will air the film. March told Variety that the network will confront other aspects of possible monopolistic practices when and if it is obliged to cross the anti-trust bridge. Whether CBS would be restricted exclusively to dollar bids, or whether other incentives would be considered to make a deal both attractive and sufficiently competitive is, March declares, "a question that I think is a little early because we are really finding our way."

Sharif film

Omar Sharif heads a starring cast in "Pleasure Palace," a new motion picture-for-television now filming in Las Vegas, to be broadcast on CBS. Also starring with Sharif in the romantic tale of love and intrigue among the high rollers in the gambling capitals of the world are Hope Lange, Victoria Principal, Jose Ferrer, J.D. Cannon and Gerald S. O'Loughlin.

Going, going, gone

Celebrity auctions — an increasingly popular fundraising device — are depleting the stockpile of show business memorabilia being set aside for the eventual populating of a Hollywood museum. Among the items sold at a recent auction, headed by Jane Fonda for the Campaign for Economic Democracy and its Education Fund Cancer Project, were the late Marilyn Monroe's silver slippers, Laurence Olivier's monogrammed shoe trees and Bo Derek's beads that she wore in "10."

'Norma' to ABC

Twentieth Century-Fox has licensed "Norma Rae," featuring Sally Field's Oscar-winning performance, to ABC for a figure believed to be well under $5 million, with no escalation clauses according to industry sources. The film is expected to air sometime during the 1980-81 season. The film may turn up on pay-TV before then, since Showtime has acquired those rights.

Round two

Larry Fishburne, who stars as newsman-soldier Cpl. Don (Robby) Robinson in NBC's limited-run "Six O'Clock Follies," was only 15 when Francis Ford Coppola cast him in a co-starring role in "Apocalypse Now," his epic film about the Vietnam War. Working with Coppola in the steamy Philippine jungles is a far cry from Stage 27-A at the Burbank Studios in Los Angeles where "Follies" is filmed. And the roles? "The role of Private Clean in 'Apocalypse' really prepared me in many ways for that of Corporal Robinson," says Fishburne. "I feel like I was in that war, like I fought there. With the 'Six O'Clock Follies' I'm now a seasoned vet."

Kelsey to star

Filming has begun on "A Perfect Match," starring Linda Kelsey (Billie Newman on "Lou Grant"), Colleen Dewhurst and Lisa Lucas, a made-for-TV film to air on CBS. Ms. Kelsey plays a career fashion designer whose possibility of surviving a rare disease rests with the chance that a daughter she gave up for adoption years before will have blood that is a perfect match for her.

THURSDAY

Mary Therese Friel, Miss USA 1979, will crown Miss USA 1980 on "The 1980 Miss USA Pageant," to be broadcast live from the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center in Biloxi, Thursday, May 15, on CBS.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soapers take to road, boards, silver screen

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — There's a long list of soapers taking to the road, the theater boards and the movie screen this summer. So, keep your eye out for such acts as Eileen Fulton (Lisa Colman on "As the World Turns"), who has just returned from a nightclub engagement at the Club 89 in Omaha, Neb. Eileen will make another appearance at the club in June and then head for East Lansing, Mich. to help open a new theater complex at the Michigan State Theater, featuring her one-woman musical revue.

Also from "ATWT," Kelly Wood (Mary Ellison) and Dennis Cooney (Jay Stallings) have once again formed a nightclub act. The duo will be making numerous appearances throughout the summer. This show will feature the actors in a song-dance-comedy routine.

Hitting the theater boards in and around the New York City area will be Curt Dawson (Peter Chapman on "Guiding Light"), who will appear in a Broadway production of "The Penultimate Problem of Sherlock Holmes." Irving Allen Lee (Calvin Stoner on "The Edge of Night"), who once replaced Ben Vereen in Broadway's "Pippin," has been appearing at New York's Theater de Lys in the jazz musical, "Changes." Irving may not look like a song-and-dance man in his Calvin role, but the versatile actor has also appeared in leading roles in productions of "Godspell" and "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Larry Riley (Calvin Barnes on "The Doctors") has been playing an intern by day and appearing in the Manhattan Theater Club production of "Side Walking" by night.

And back on "ATWT," Conrad Fowkes (Don Hughes) has a slated appearance in the feature film, "The Prince of the City," which stars Treat Williams ("Hair"). The film is a thriller about a city policeman.

While other former cast members of "Love of Life" are appearing on the small screen from time to time, Tudi Wiggins (ex-Meg Hart) is heading for a European tour of Germany, Vienna, Italy and Paris.

FRIDAY

Part 2 of "On Company Business," a three-part film by Allan Francovich and Howard Dratch on the CIA, airs on "Non Fiction Television," Friday, May 16, on PBS. Former CIA officer Philip Agee appears throughout the film.

Television's bad guys are in for a hard time when they face these almost-familiar faces in "Murder Can Hurt You!" a super-spoof of TV's super sleuths airing Wednesday, May 21, on ABC. Left to right, they are: (top) Marty Allen as Starkos, brother to Gavin MacLeod as Nojack; Burt Young as Palumbo, whose hair burns smoother than his cigar; (center) Victor Buono as Ironbottom and Jimmie Walker as Parks, demon wheelchair-pusher; Mitch Kreindel as the much-scarred but unscared Man In White; Jamie Farr and John Byner as Studsky and Hatch; and (bottom) Tony Danza as Lambretta, Buck Owens as MacSkye and Connie Stevens as Salty, the police person.

Sugarbaby Ann Miller: Jeans are for milkin'

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Ann Miller, currently on Broadway in "Sugar Babies": "I'm from Texas, where jeans are for milking cows or rounding up cattle, not for going to parties in limos" ... John Denver's ABC special, "The Higher We Fly," airs come June. He shows a hot air balloon race plus a replica of the Wright Brothers Kitty Hawk, and I haven't the foggiest idea why ... My note from the Lowell Thomases says U.S. Ambassador Tom Watson gave Lowell a birthday party in the embassy in Moscow for 250 -- plus dancing, yet.

Mia Farrow, Tony Perkins, Tammy Grimes, Maureen O'Sullivan and Teresa Wright traipsed to the Milliken Gallery for Ed Baynard's "Twelve Orchids For Cambodia." Proceeds from the paintings go to Cambodian refugees ... Hotshot Bjorn Borg is investing up to his eyeballs in bluechip stocks. Guess he figures it's a better racket than tennis, right?

Eight-year-old Justin Henry of "Kramer vs. Kramer" yawns he's bored with a movie career. Wants to be a scientist ... Prince Charles: "I intend to play polo until I no longer bounce when I fall off the horse" ... Bob Hope: "I don't know whether drafting women is right, but it sure would make pre-induction physicals more interesting" ... Israeli Ambassador Yehuda Blum's cocktail party at the U.N. dredged up Mayor Ed Koch, ex-Mayor Abe Beame and Otto Preminger. Then a group of them hit the American Charcuterie for salami, chopped liver, sturgeon and matzo ball soup ... Shirley Jones changed the phone number for the sixth time this year. Fans think Shaun and David live home. They don't.

Compulsive shopper Cher slithered into one Beverly Hills boutique for one item, and an hour later lumbered out with an armful. Unloaded $4,000 ... James Caan: "No woman's going to rule me. That female domination is b---t." Cute little divorced man, isn't he? ... Eddie Fisher allows as how he isn't ready to be a grampa, but his kid, Carrie Fisher (by way of Debbie Reynolds), and her Paul Simon could do it any time now ... Ann Reinking: "Lucille Ball is my ideal."

Sammy Davis goes around town in a 10-gallon hat ... Elvis' daddy, Vernon, razzberry'd an offer of $30 million for the ol' Memphis homestead, Graceland ... I am not the one to say anything, you understand, but there's a rumor that Bo Derek made a movie before "10" that could be rated "minus one." Reportedly she was topless clear down to the ankles.

Too much talent may close casting doors

By RUTH THOMPSON

Everybody who has ever heard Rex Harrison talk-sing (instead of really singing) his way through "My Fair Lady," knows that if you're a big name, and self-confident enough, you can get by onstage in musicals without a tuneful voice. He also talk-sang his way through the movie version with a leading lady — Audrey Hepburn — who, though a fine actress as proven in other films, couldn't even talk-sing. (She had to have the tunes dubbed in by Marni Nixon.)

But there is another side to the coin: actors who can also sing and-or dance. And some of the people who bear that stamp have, at least for stretches of their careers, found that their super-talents closed doors, rather than opened them. Maybe because there is a strange show business rule of thumb, "What have you done lately?"

Whatever, even Hal Linden was surprised at being cast as Barney Miller for the ABC series of the same name, hard on the heels of his Tony Award-winning musical, "The Rothschilds," because Barney, despite the laughs built into each script, doesn't sing and doesn't dance. He's a very straight police captain. But playing him is the greatest break of Linden's career. Not just an artistic triumph, but the one role that can make him rich.

Though there are few laugh lines for her character as Bessie in the CBS series about an inter-racial childhood friendship in "Palmerstown, U.S.A.," it's possible that the Hal Linden type of luck could spin on for several years for Jonelle Allen. As the mother of the young black boy of the pair of pals in the South of the 1930s, she has already placed high in a popularity poll of most-liked personalities.

Yet Jonelle wasn't the casting director's first choice. She had made a major splash on Broadway (five awards) as Sylvia in the frenetic musical, "Two Gentlemen of Verona," based on a light-hearted Shakespearean romp.

Suddenly the glamorous musical-star image, instead of labeling her as a multi-talent, inadvertently wiped out her image as a dramatic actress that went way back to childhood.

How did she break the stereotype? The credit goes to another actress who was first submitted for the role of Bessie Freeman and ruled herself out after reading the script.

She reasoned: "This part is about a much younger woman, somebody who married at 15, and who, when her son is 11, is herself only 27. The right actress would be Jonelle Allen." Jonelle was tested and accepted. Now her next move may well be to prove that during vacation spells, she should be entitled to do singing-dancing turns on variety shows. After all, Hal Linden gets a big spectacular variety show of his own from ABC every season. Maybe somebody will do the same on CBS for Jonelle?

Even at that, count her luckier than, say, Mary Tyler Moore, or maybe even that ex-movie star, Alexis Smith.

Both were trained dancers who to this day keep up their dancing. But until, in her post movie-making days, Ms. Smith nabbed the lead in the stage production, "Follies," nobody (except her devoted husband Craig "Peter Gunn" Smith) knew she was a musical-comedy talent. Now she's on tour kicking up her heels as the star in the national company of "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas."

Mary Tyler Moore had to put her dancing and singing aside during the course of two major television series, her own as career girl Mary Williams and before that as the wife in "The Dick Van Dyke Show." Her eventual try at starring in a television variety series flopped, so she's back to acting and in heavy drama at that, on Broadway, as the quadriplegic in "Whose Life Is It, Anyway?"

IN FOCUS

Earl Hamner (top right), creator of "The Waltons," visits his boyhood home and interviews members of his family, upon whom he based the Walton characters. Among the family members visited are Earl's mother Doris (top left), the prototype of Olivia Walton (portrayed by Michael Learned, top center), and Paul and Bill Hamner (bottom left and right), both of whom are represented by Ben Walton (Eric Scott, bottom center).

In celebration of the 200th hour of "The Waltons," Earl Hamner, creator of the Peabody and multi-Emmy Award-winning drama series, appears as host-narrator in a special two-hour episode that includes highlights from the show's past eight seasons and a visit to Hamner's boyhood home in Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains. There he talks to his mother, brothers and sisters, upon whom he modeled the Walton characters. It will be broadcast Thursday, May 22, on CBS.

As John and Olivia Walton and their children join Grandma in celebrating her birthday and begin leafing through their present to her, an album filled with family photos, memories are rekindled, and the scenes that created those memories evolve in flashback form. From early scenes when several of the younger children were very small — Grandpa was bubbling with wisdom, Grandma was in command and Mary Ellen was a tomboy instead of a widowed mother — we see the story of a family.

As the 1930s turn into the '40s, the Depression is left behind and World War II's distant rumblings become a reality; scenes also reflect the personal dramas that were played out on Walton's Mountain as family members remember the joys, uncertainties, disappointments and pains that blend into family life.

Memories include the eldest son's decision to become a writer, the Easter Olivia took her first real steps back to recovery from polio, and the night the Walton home burned. Also among the events recalled are John and Olivia's 25th wedding anniversary and their high school reunion, Mary Ellen's wedding, the birth of the first grandchild, Grandma's stroke and fight back, and the sudden death of Grandpa.

In the segment devoted to the Hamner family, Earl Hamner takes viewers to Schuyler, Va., and the home where he and his brothers and sisters were born. He introduces the Walton stars to their Hamner prototypes who gathered for the occasion at the house where all the memories were once really lived and where Doris Hamner, Earl's mother, still lives, with her son, James (the model for Jim-Bob Walton).

Hamner also shows viewers the surrounding countryside as he walks along roads he knew as a boy and visits such spots as the general store-gas station from which he created Ike Godsey's store on Walton's Mountain.

Series creator Hamner is also executive co-producer and executive story consultant for "The Waltons."

Garson Kanin's best-seller about Hollywood, "Moviola," comes to NBC on a three-part mini-series, airing Sunday, May 18, Monday, May 19, and Tuesday, May 20. "This Year's Blonde," the story of Johnny Hyde's discovery of Marilyn Monroe, stars Lloyd Bridges and Constance Forslund. "The Silent Lovers" traces the careers of Greta Garbo (portrayed by Kristina Wayborn) and John Gilbert (Barry Bostwick), focusing on her arrival in Hollywood and subsequent rise to international fame. "The Scarlett O'Hara War" stars Sharon Gless as Carole Lombard and Ed Winter as Clark Gable and is the story of David O. Selznick's search for the leading lady in "Gone With the Wind."

Preston County Health Council To Elect Board

The Preston County Health Council will be conducting its annual Board of Directors elections this month. Beginning Monday, May 19, and continuing through Wednesday, May 28, the general membership of the Health Council will be mailing in ballots to determine who will represent them on the county-wide Health Council Board.

The 24-member volunteer Board consists of two elected persons from each magisterial district, plus eight members who are appointed. Each year, half of the two district seats are open for election by the general membership.

Nominated as candidates in this year's elections are: Faye Wolfe, Grant district; Bill Jackson, Kingwood District; Vernon Watkins, Lyon district, Betty Prinkey, Pleasant district; Tom McConnell, Portland district; Nancy Costerisan and Danny Shahan, Reno district; Jean Winters, Union district; and Edna Day, Valley district.

The eight newly elected Board members will begin their two-year terms at the July 16 Annual Meeting of the Health Council.

The Council functions as a non-profit group concerned with improving health care to all areas of Preston County. Recruitment of doctors into the County remains the Council's main goal.

Another main goal of the Council has been to provide a channel through which citizens can directly voice their concerns about the lack of health care services to the individuals that help provide these services.

Any person wanting to join the Council's general membership may do so by sending his or her name, address, and magisterial district to: Membership, Preston County Health Council, 425 East Main Street, Kingwood, WV 26537. Names must be in no later than Friday, May 16, however, for persons who want to participate in this year's Board of Elections.

Miss Fireworks To Be Crowned Tonight

The sixth annual Miss Fireworks Pageant, sponsored by the Terra Alta Civic Club, will be held this evening, May 14, 7:30 p.m. at Alpine Lake Lodge in Terra Alta. The event is open to the public at no charge with Ron Witt, Sport's & News Director of WFSP Radio Station in Kingwood as Master of Ceremonies. Judges are from the Kingwood and Oakland areas and the 1980 Miss Fireworks will be crowned by the reigning Miss Fireworks, Miss Marsha Webster.

The queen and her maids of honor who will reign over the 1980 July 4th festivities in Terra Alta, the oldest celebration held in the state, is sponsored yearly by the Terra Alta Volunteer Fire Department and other organizations in Terra Alta.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by the "Madrigals" from East Preston High School, under the direction of Mrs. Vivian McConnell. The Civic Club invites the public to attend.

Sheriff's Office April Activity Report Released

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department has released its activity report for April, 1980.

Records indicate that 350 papers were served relating to matters involving civil, criminal, law, equity, juvenile, summons, warrants, etc.

Patrol checks made checking homes and businesses for security amounted to 742 last month. Complaints answered by the department during April amounted to 260, county-wide.

Nine prisoners were incarcerated at the beginning of the month, 31 were added, 27 were released, leaving an inmate population of 13 at the end of April.

Several trips were made by the department, transporting prisoners to and from other institutions, and monthly duties added over 21,000 miles to the department vehicles.

Annual CCC Reunion Set

The fourth annual Civilian Conservation Corps picnic reunion, sponsored by the Maryland Park Service, will be held Saturday, July 12 at the Manor Area of Cunningham Falls State Park. The park is located approximately 15 miles north of Frederick on U. S. Route 15.

The Civilian Conservation Corps was a government program designed to provide work experience for boys and young men who could not get jobs in the private sector during the depression. Members were recruited from the ranks of the unemployed in the cities and countryside and set to work at road and dam building, soil conservation, forestry and similar nature oriented tasks.

The CCC was one of the early important efforts to conserve and improve parklands and open spaced nationally. CCC projects became the focal points of many subsequent State park developments, according to the Park Service.

The picnic reunion will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until dusk.

Two-Day Nursing Workshop Slated

There is a two-day nursing workshop scheduled for June 5 and 6 at Allegany Community College, Continuing Education Building, Room 14, 8:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m. each day. The workshop is entitled "From principles of Patient and Family Teaching."

Sponsored by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIEMSS) this workshop develops the concept of patient and family teaching as an integral part of comprehensive nursing care. The need for patient education will be explored, and present standards and guidelines for patient teaching will be discussed. Participants will consider teaching-learning theories, requirements for the learning process, planning an educational experience as part of the nursing process, and methods of evaluation of patient teaching-learning. The role of the nurse as a teacher will be stressed. Attention will be given to planning a teaching program for a given disease or condition. Enrollment is limited to 25.

Registrations must be in by May 29 to David P. Ramsey at 895-5934 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. A total of 1.2 Continuing Education Units will be awarded by the University of Maryland School of Nursing.

WRAP BOTH YOUR HOME AND CAR IN ONE BLANKET OF PROTECTION

We have an innovative policy called PCP—Personal Comprehensive Protection—from The Continental Insurance Companies. And if you own a home and a car, PCP offers you exceptional value.

Separate policies often mean differing amounts of protection for your car, for your home and for its contents. And separate policies often cost you more, in time as well as money.

PCP, on the other hand, gives you one amount of property protection for your home and its contents. And one amount of liability protection for your car and home. Plus, PCP gives you the option to include your hospital, disability income and mortgage life insurance in the same plan.

PCP is easy to understand, efficient and time-saving, and in many cases, more economical.

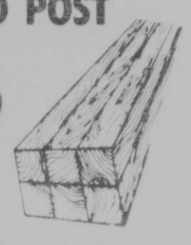

Come see us or call. We'll be glad to show you what PCP can do to make you—and your property—more secure.

GRANTSVILLE NEWS

The Maple Grove Women's Fellowship met at the home of Alice Younkin, president on Thursday, May 8, for its regular meeting. Norma Bowser was in charge of devotions. The scripture was taken from Proverbs 31. Nancy Durst read a prayer, "Give to God the Best You Can". Linda Stanton read a poem, "What God Has Given Me", and Norma Bowser read, "What God Has Given Me", followed by a song.

There were nine members present, and 12 sick calls made. Things that have been prepared to go to the District Rally on May 21 include new baby clothes, ten health kits, three lap robes, two knotted comforters, two sets of silverware for Camp Gallilee and some spatulas.

A quilt with scenes of the New Testament has been made for the Annual Conference and also a block for the quilt to be put together there and auctioned off, with proceeds going for the Hunger Program.

The next meeting will be on June 19 at 1:30 p.m. at the church with Hope Folk having devotions. All members are welcome. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Hazel Klotz had surgery at Sacred Heart Hospital on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lillian Guthrie has returned to her home where she is recuperating.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Cleda Baker were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Baker and daughter, Jennifer, of Baltimore who spent three days with her. They were Sunday evening guests of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bowman and children at Cumberland.

Mrs. Cleda Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Baker and daughter Jennifer were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Baker at Berlin, Pa., on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Bender spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Myers at Germantown. Their grandson, Matthew Bender, was baptized on Sunday.

The Grantsville Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary met on Monday night for its regular meeting, with the president, Cleda Baker, in charge. Martha Sebold read the minutes of the last meeting and Shelby Diehl gave the treasurer's report.

The Auxiliary will be serving a dinner to the Delta Mining Company on Saturday evening.

It was decided to make ham dinners $5.00 per plate.

The Cross-stitch quilt which has been made by the Auxiliary was quilted and finished and shown at the meeting. It will be chanced off at a later date. Persons wishing to buy chances should see one of the Auxiliary members.

New quilt blocks have been purchased and anyone wishing to do a block should contact any of the kitchen ladies.

There were 14 members present including: Mary Broadwater, Cleda Baker, Nancy Jones, Jenny Swauger, Bernice Merrill, Lulu Brown, Zeltha Evans, Martha Sebold, Velora Durst, Shelby Diehl and Melda Butler.

A CPR course will be conducted by the Northern Rescue Squad at the Jennings Community Center on May 19 and 20 at 6:30 each evening. The public is invited to attend and take advantage of these services.

Church News

The men of the Maple Grove Church cooked and served a dinner on Sunday, May 11, for Mother's Day to some 70 persons. They also conducted the morning worship and service in the church in honor of the mothers. A mum was given to Vena Beachy, the oldest mother; and Verna Folk, the mother with the most children. A double petunia was given to the senior citizens and flowers to all mothers.

Rotary News

The Grantsville Rotary Club did not hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, April 23. Instead they met with the Grantsville Lions on Thursday, April 29. Lion George Edwards updated both clubs on the Grantsville Park.

The Rotarians held their regular meeting on Wednesday, May 7, at the Hilltop Inn. The program, arranged by Bob Bender, was a movie entitled "North With the Spring". The film was provided by the Grantsville Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, May 14, at the Hilltop Inn. The Board of Directors will meet following the regular meeting.

One Guilty In District Court

Two persons were tried in Garrett County District Court last week for charges involving illegal possession of a pistol and battery.

Thomas Edward Bowman, 24, Crellin, pled guilty to illegal possession of a pistol while he was on parole. The charge was filed by Deputy Martin Van Evans, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after Bowman had sold a handgun to an Oakland resident on November 19, 1979.

Bowman apparently confessed to having and selling the gun. Judge Lewis R. Jones ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Bowman was also charged by Deputy Evans with fraud or breach of trust, and theft. Both charges were declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin.

In a separate case, Robert Wayne Johnson, Mt. Lake Park, pled guilty to a battery charge filed by Robert D. Canan, Jr., Oakland. The charge resulted from a March 29 incident at Hilltop Tavern.

Judge L. R. Jones ordered probation before judgment, and the defendant was placed on unsupervised probation for 12 months.

Island Creek, Mapco Show Low Rates Of Injury

According to the March, 1980, report from the President's Commission on Coal, Mapco, Inc., parent company for Mettiki Coal Company in Garrett County, and Island Creek Coal Company, which operates several mines in neighboring West Virginia counties, recorded the second and third best, respectively, safety records in the United States for the period from January, 1978, to June, 1979.

Disabling injury incidence rates of the 20 largest underground coal companies in the country were included in the report. United States Steel Corporation had the lowest incidence rate, with 3.02 lost workday cases per 200,000 work hours, followed by Mapco, Inc., with a 4.91 rate and Island Creek Coal Company, with a 5.44 rate. The company with the highest incidence rate among those in the survey was Westmoreland Coal Company, with a rate of 21.01.

Mapco owns and operates seven underground mines while Island Creek Coal operates 47 underground mines.

Lutherans believe . . .
The Gospel is the story of what has happened, what is happening and will yet happen with Jesus. The Kingdom is here. He preached "The Kingdom," the day when all the longing God puts in us will be fulfilled. He preached with such faithfulness as to invest his own life in his hope for us. He proved his commitment by incurring death. And God carried him past death so that nothing can now hinder his love for us, so that his promise and devotion must surely triumph. We Christians are in this world to tell this Gospel by life, word and deed.

Energy Tip: When purchasing a new water heater, avoid buying one that is bigger than your actually need, so that energy will not be heating unneeded water. Believe it or not, the cost of heating water equals approximately fifteen percent of your energy bill.

BRIGHTENING YOUR CHILD'S ROOM

Painting is an easy, economical way to freshen and decorate your child's room. For a successful job, it is important that prior to painting, surfaces be prepared properly. Walls or furniture to be painted should be clean. Here are some tips to help you brighten your child's room:

Dusting may be adequate for lightly soiled walls. To dust, use a vacuum, wall mop or tie a soft cloth over a floor mop.

More heavily soiled walls require a thorough washing. Wash walls with detergent or soap suds and a sponge. Wash a small section at a time. When water becomes dirty, discard it and start again with clean, sudsy water. Rinse with a damp sponge or cloth.

When washing the walls make sure that you use a sturdy chair or ladder to reach high places—do not overreach!

When walls are dry, repair cracks and holes.

Dust, then wash furniture to be painted with a damp, sudsy cloth or sponge. Rinse and dry.

Unfinished wood should be sanded with progressively finer grades of sandpaper. Before painting, coat first with a suitable primer.

Previously painted furniture that is not badly chipped needs only light sanding before repainting.

Choose a quality paint that will provide a tough surface that is easy to scrub clean. Choose non-glare flat paint for walls; semi-gloss or gloss paint for woodwork and furniture.

If you feel your child is old enough, let him have a hand in choosing colors. Soft tones are relaxing for large areas while bright colors add cheerful accents.

For children who share a room, consider giving each of them their own color furniture and shelves. When dressers are shared, paint each drawer in the user's color. Separate colors help youngsters learn to respect privacy and other people's property.

The time you spend brightening your child's room will be worth it—he will love the new surroundings you have created for him!

FOOD NOTES

Chicken is economical on both the pocketbook and the waistline. Because of this, new ways of preparing chicken are always of interest to those who want to "save." The following recipe is especially good on the waistline—try it!

SLIM CHICKEN

Skin 1½ lbs. (2) split chicken breasts. Place bone side down, in 11¾x7½-inch baking dish. Pour ½ cup barbecue sauce over the chicken. Cover, refrigerate overnight. Uncover, bake at 350°, 25 min. Turn, basting with sauce, continue baking 20 minutes. Serve with sauce. 4 servings.

ANTARCTIC METEORITES

The value of meteorites found in Antarctica is that they appear not to have been contaminated by their contact with Earth when handled carefully, both the inside and the outside of the meteorites found in Antarctica contained the same distribution of amino acid molecules. One scientist indicated that these meteorites were as if they had been obtained from space, as far as their organic chemistry was concerned. This means that the examination of these meteorites may help determine the organic molecules that naturally form under conditions found in space.

MOON

On Wednesday, May 21st, the Moon will pass through its First Quarter phase at 3:16 p.m. The Moon will be waxing during the week. Moonset tonight will be at 8:39 p.m. Next Tuesday, moonset will be at 1:14 a.m.

Eastern Garrett

Route 40 Homemakers will meet Wed., May 14, at Mt. Zion United Methodist Church social room at 7:30 p.m. President Laura Klotz announced that there are a number of projects being carried out.

Miss Leanna Layman, Mrs. Marion Majors and Mrs. Beatrice Opel attended the Maryland Extension Homemakers Workshop in Cumberland on April 30.

Laura Klotz, Leanna Layman, Clara Layman, Beatrice Opel and Marion Majors participated in Garrett County's Mini Fair for Homemakers in Oakland on May 9.

During the National Homemakers Week Route 40 Homemakers attended church services at Mt. Zion Methodist Church on Sunday, May 4. The thought for the month is, "Today I refuse to spend time worrying about what might happen. I am going to spend my time making things happen."

In conjunction with National Homemakers Week the Route 40 Homemakers had a table of homemade items, including crafts and baked goods, on display at the Long Stretch Market.

The May meeting will feature demonstrations on clothing, fine design and personal appearance. Marion Majors is chairperson and Hazel Jenkins is assistant chairperson. Merla Murray will be hostess.

Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary met recently, with president Terri Kitis presiding. The auxiliary has donated $250 to the Eastern Garrett County Recreation Association toward a new park.

It was reported that Terri Kitis and Beatrice Opel attended the Garrett County Auxiliary Association meeting at Clarysville.

The group discussed banquets and social events for the coming months. Members planning to attend the Allegany-Garrett County Firemen's Convention at Midland on May 31 are Terri Kitis, Alice Snyder, Evelyn Clark, Beatrice Opel, Sylvia Hunter, Frances Izzett, Kathleen Garlitz, Rose Opel and Barbara Martin.

Clarence Harding Biser, 59, Keyser, W. Va., and Janet Romaine Mangold, 39, New Creek, W. Va.

Stephen Michael Whetsell, 23, Friendsville, and Lou Ann Frum, 23, Kingwood, W. Va.

John Bradley Frantz, 24, McHenry, and Diane Lynn Carrico, 22, Oakland.

Meredith Samuel Brenneman, 19, Grantsville, and Roberta Ann Gowans, 24, Accident.

Dressman-Whited Couple Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Dressman, Oakland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Marie, to Ronald V. Whited, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth V. Whited, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Ms. Dressman is a graduate of Southern High School and received her bachelor of science degree in secondary education from West Virginia University.

Mr. Whited is a graduate of Point Pleasant High School and received his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from West Virginia University.

A June 14 wedding is being planned.

Lisa Fratz To Wed Gary Boner

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fratz, Accident, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lisa Gwynn, to Gary Ray Boner, Accident, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boner, Uniontown, Pa.

Ms. Fratz is a graduate of Northern High School and is employed at W. H. Fratz, Inc., in the petroleum division in Accident. Mr. Boner is a graduate of Laurel Highlands High School and is employed by Texas Eastern Gas Pipeline in Accident.

The couple plans to be married on August 23 in the Zion Lutheran Church in Accident.

Miss Nice To Wed Mr. Lilly

Mrs. Evelyn Nice Wildesen and Herbert Wildesen, Rt. 3, Oakland, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathy Jo Nice, to Allen J. Lilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lilly, Wheaton. Miss Nice is also the daughter of the late Maxie E. Nice.

The wedding will take place Saturday, May 24, at 2 p.m. at the White United Methodist Church. A reception will follow in the church basement.

Although some invitations have been sent, all friends and relatives are welcome to attend, according to the families.

Lewis-Gaither Couple To Wed

Mr. and Rufus Lewis, Sr., Oakland, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Renee Jean, to Martin Dale Gaither, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gaither, Sr., of St. George, W. Va.

Miss Lewis is a senior at Southern High School.

Mr. Gaither is a 1978 graduate of Mountaineer High School. He is presently employed with the Quail Ridge Co., in Richmond, Virginia.

An open church wedding will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 31, at 2 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House. A reception will follow the ceremony. Friends and relatives are invited.

Correction Noted

The wedding ceremony of Linda J. Knotts and Gary Bowman will be held May 17, at 2 p.m., in the United Brethren Church at Crellin, rather than the Methodist Church as was reported last week.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

Aurora Seventh Grade Class will sponsor a Yard Sale on May 24, at the school. In case of inclement weather, it will be held indoors.

On May 30 and 31, the Theta Rho Girls' Club will be having a rummage sale at the Aurora Fire Hall from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. They are receiving donations and anyone who wishes to have them picked up may contact Janice Tackett at 735-5248 or Ressie Conrad at 735-5428.

The former Al Fike home in Eglon will be sold at auction on May 29 at the courthouse in Kingwood.

The Crestman Quartet will be bringing the gospel message in song at the Maple Grove Assembly of God Church, Horse Shoe Run, on May 23 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Eight students were inducted into the newly formed chapter, the Aurora Junior Honor Society, on May 6. Mrs. Betty White and the officers of the East Preston Junior Honor Society conducted the ceremonies in the Aurora auditorium.

The inductees were chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. They include seventh graders: Jill Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Schmidt, Horse Shoe Run; and Shauna Sisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Sisler, Aurora; eighth graders: Roxanne Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Evans, Horse Shoe Run; Tadjana Gank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gank, Aurora; Lyvonne Harsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Harsh, Horse Shoe Run; Terry Hauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hauser, Eglon; William Lantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lantz, Aurora; Cara Sisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Sisler, Aurora. Ms. Linda Crawford will be the group's sponsor.

Students from East Preston who assisted in the ceremonies were Jenny Pase, president; John Taylor, vice president; Judy Graham, secretary; Kathy Hopkins, treasurer; Robin Pennington, historian, and members Lisa Sisler and Joellen Cox. Roses and candles were given to the new members and Mrs. White's group also provided refreshments for a tea following the ceremony.

The annual Mountaineer Council Cub Scout Field Day was held Saturday, May 3, at the Boy Scout camp, Camp Muffly, near Morgantown. Pack 86 of Aurora participated and were winners in the following divisions: 9 yr. olds, Allen Selders, first; 10 yr. olds, Chris Conrad, first, Darren Radford, second, and Jimmy Johnson, third. Allen Selders was also over-all champion for the nine year old division.

Mountaineer Area Council includes several districts, Monongalia, Pierpoint and Preston-Taylor among them. Cub Master is Dewey Conrad and the leader is Retha Griffith.

Attending from Pack 86 were the following boys: Chris Conrad, Allen Selders, Randy Strawser, Joe Bishop, Brian Lantz, Mark Harsh, Jimmy Johnson and Darren Radford.

On Sunday, May 11, Packs 86 and 83, along with leaders Retha Griffith and Ardis Teets, attended services at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren where they took part in the service with two readings for Mother's Day and the Cub Scout Prayer, and also acting as ushers. Those present were Darren Radford, Mark Harsh, Joe Bishop, Jimmy Johnson, Charlie Myers, Chris Conrad and Charlie Wiles of Pack 86; Nathan Teets and Harry Moats, of Pack 83.

A surprise bridal shower was held May 9 in the home of Sue Corbin at Eglon to honor Cynthia Wilt, bride-to-be of Carl Bachtel. Co-hostesses for the event were Krista Harsh and Martha Poling. Following a period of recreation, gifts were opened and displayed from the following who attended: Mildred Wilt, Carolyn Wilt, Grace Bachtel, Bonnie Spaid, Wilda Wilt, Linda Wilt and sons Adam and Travis, of Rowlesburg; Rita Harsh, Erma Henline, Mary Rembold, LaDeana Teets, Brenda Cassidy, Bernadine Bachtel, Avenell Parsons, Rose Ina Harsh, Brenda Hartsell and Carroll Joe, Grace Harsh, Twila Bachtel, Linda Junkins, Geneva Junkins and Janet Judy.

Sending gifts but not attending were Cathy Barr, Eugenia Cassidy, Dianna Bachtel, Sandra Hauser and Sue Fike.

Alden and Carolyn Wilt and Clifton and Grace Bachtel wish to invite friends and relatives to the marriage of their children, Cynthia Wilt and Carl Bachtel, which will take place in the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren at 7:30 p.m. on May 24. There will be a reception following the ceremony.

Eldean Harsh was hostess to the May 5 meeting of the Stemple Ridge Ladies Aid at 7 p.m. Mrs. Harsh, the new president, called the meeting to order and read Psalm 136. Secretary Patricia Auvil called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. The treasurer reported that they had made $30.99 on their project at Sue Hauser's; they had donated beans to the Fire Hall and sold one knife.

Discussion was held concerning needlework and it was decided to wait until fall to do anything further. Details are to be investigated concerning the refinishing of the church floor. There is no marker for Cora Stemple nor for the family plot and a way of securing this was discussed. It was decided to buy the Kool-Aid for Bible School. Recycling of glass as a money-making project will be investigated as well as a new source of cards.

The hostess won the pig-in-the-poke. The Aid will serve the Lions on July 17 at the Aurora Community Building. On June 10, the meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Maxine Hauser. Appointed to clean the church in May is Arlene Stemple; in June, Mary Stemple and Shirley Blamble. The meeting concluded with refreshments served to the 17 members, nine children and one guest present.

The Eglon Homemakers met May 6 in the Eglon Memorial Building with Mary Rembold serving as hostess. Assisting her in leading the devotions were Avenell Parsons who read Matthew 6: 23-30 and Sandra Hauser who read "A Prayer for Common Days."

Mrs. Rebecca Teets presented the lesson, "Don't Panic", and was assisted by Jean Winters who gave ideas to be used for snowstorms; Florence Minnig, who gave hints to keep electrical storm damage at a minimum ; Marguerite Shaffer, who gave information to be mindful of in case of fire, and Ardis Teets, who gave first aid information. Mrs. Teets talked of safety precautions for tornados and floods.

To celebrate National Homemakers Week, the club will ask each member to invite a guest to the June meeting which will be June 10 in the Memorial Building. Soil Stewardship week was observed by asking the minister at the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren to use the bulletin inserts which had been provided and also to present some of the new facts of soil erosion in his remarks.

Election of officers for the following 2 years resulted in Lois Layman being chosen vice-president; and Mary Rembold, secretary. Other officers were elected last year to serve for a two-year term. Named to the county Housing, Energy and Environment Committee were Jean Winters and Brenda Hartsell.

The meeting adjourned following recreation led by Avenell Parsons and a reading concerning education by the president, Linda Lewis. Refreshments were served by the hostess and two plates were marked for prizes; those went to Florence Minnig and Nina Layman. Other than those above mentioned, those attending were Ruth Teets, Brenda Hartsell and Carroll Joe, LaDeana Teets and Mergil Fike.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon, Horse Shoe Run, are announcing the birth of their first child on May 5 in Garrett County Memorial Hospital. A son, the baby weighed six pounds, three ounces and Jamie Arthur is the name chosen for him. Mrs. Gordon is the former Louise Slaubaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slaubaugh, Horse Shoe Run. Patients there last week who returned to their homes were Jason Lambert of Aurora, Elva Bland of Eglon, and Gordon Bonner, of Eglon.

Quentin Forman, Amboy, was admitted last week to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she died Sunday. Mrs. Forman was the widow of the late Charles Forman of Amboy.

Mrs. Stella Dawson, a former Aurora resident and native of this area, died Thursday, May 8, in Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for several weeks. Prior to that, she had been a patient in an Oakland nursing home. She had for several years lived with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Biser, at Oakland.

Word was received here last week that Clara Fike of Morgantown was a patient in a hospital there after she had caught her right hand in the clothes wringer.

Dr. David Bonasso and his new bride stopped last week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mankins in Aurora. They were enroute to their Fairmont home from a honeymoon in Virginia. Visiting the Mankins last Sunday were their son and daughter-in-law, Bill and Carolyn Mankins of Huntington, who had been in Morgantown participating in a retirement banquet and program for a former instructor, Dr. Fairbanks, head of the Department of Metallurgy Engineering.

Mrs. Don Shepherd and her son, John, of Roanoke, Va., were guests for a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets, and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Teets, at Eglon.

On Sunday, the Youth Adult Class of Maple Spring Church hosted an ice cream party which turned into a surprise baby shower for LaDeana Teets. Attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets, Mrs. Wanda Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Teets, Nathan and Nicole; Mrs. Rebecca Teets, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hartsell and Carroll Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fike and Shannon; Carolyn and Cynthia Wilt, Lois Layman, Sue Corbin, Rita Harsh, Linda Lewis, Julie and Emily Lewis, Jean Winters and Rev. and Mrs. Don Westmoreland.

Mrs. Oakley (Judy) White of Silver Lake underwent surgery last week in a Cumberland hospital. Also a patient in a Cumberland hospital is Mrs. Golda White of Eglon.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Selders in Aurora on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Selders of Russell, Kent., Mr. and Mrs. Duard Selders, Fairmont; Mr. and Mrs. Art Selders, Morgantown; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stemple, Herndon, Va.; Mrs. Lenore Albright, Kingwood; Hilda Winters, Mt. Lake Park.

Mr. and Mrs. David Stemple of Charleston were weekend guests in Aurora of his sister, Dr. Margaret Stemple.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henline of Gormania visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lantz in Aurora. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman White of Oakland were Sunday guests there and of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, Stemple Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Russell have returned to their summer home at Brookside and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Barr, to their home on Stemple Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lantz of Medina, Ohio, brought Mrs. Lela Roth to her home at Eglon this weekend after she had spent the past two weeks visiting with them and her other children in Ohio. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth of Morgantown were visitors with his mother and also Mr. and Mrs. Ron Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. William Hauser, Wade Dale, Joe Bill and Beth Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Fike of Easton, Md., have been staying with Mrs. Elva Bland in Eglon since she became ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bonner and their three daughters of Akron, Ohio, were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bonner, in Eglon.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANY OF MARYLAND

NOTICE OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE

Pursuant to an order issued under date of May 5, 1980, by the Public Service Commission of Maryland in Case No. 7435, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland hereby gives notice that a Prehearing Conference will be held at 10 a.m., on Tuesday, May 27, 1980, in the 14th floor Hearing Room, American Building, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland, in the matter of the Company's application to establish appropriate principles for the pricing of existing competitive services. This application asks the Commission to resolve uncertainties with respect to the pricing of existing competitive services such as PBX and button telephone services. It also asks the Commission to establish the appropriate use of relevant cost studies and principles in setting said rates; the extent to which basic telephone service should continue to benefit from said pricing; and other factors relevant to the pricing of existing competitive telephone services. Petitions to intervene in this proceeding may be filed with the Commission on or before Friday, May 23, 1980.

SPRING CONCERT AT BROAD FORD ELEMENTARY SCHOOL — The music department under the direction of Nancy Frazee, presented the evening entertainment at the May 5 PTA meeting. Pictured are members of the fourth and fifth grade chorus presenting their portion of the program. Also included was instrumental music provided by the A and B band members. Mrs. Marge Clever, and several students from the Southern Middle School Band assisted with the program. Another featured highlight of the evening was the presentation of a check in the amount of $2,087 to Wayne Johnson, principal, from proceeds of the recent spice sale sponsored by the PTA.

Refugees Address Christian Concern Group In Accident

An informational meeting on the plight of the refugees was held Tuesday, May 6 at the Accident Fire Hall by the Inter-Lutheran Task Force for Christian Concern. Present at the meeting were Ruth B. McClean and her assistant, Ruth Dawson, representatives from the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service, Rachel Metzler, chairperson for the King's View Mennonite Church in Scottdale, Pa., Esther Yoder, Grantsville and Mr. and Mrs. Huynk Khank Law and her brother, the refugee family sponsored by the King's View Mennonite Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Law described their experience to those attending. They told how they were forced out of their home by the communists and fled to a refugee camp where there were 4700 other refugees. During their stay in the refugee camp, they received one gallon of water per day per family and enough rice for sustenance.

Mrs. Metzler and her husband, James, lived in Viet Nam as missionaries for eight years where they met the Law family.

Attending the meeting were officers, committee chairpersons, and pastors of the sponsoring churches as well as interested persons from the community.

The Loubach Literacy Workshop held May 2-3 was reported to have been well attended. Mrs. Norma Jean Mitchell was hostess for the workshop.

The monthly meeting of the Inter-Lutheran Task Force for Christian Concern combined group will be held Thursday, May 22 at 8 p.m. at the Zion Lutheran Church, Accident.

Brenda Sue Yommer Graduate In Nursing

Brenda Sue Yommer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Yommer, Grantsville, will be graduated this Sunday, May 18, from Allegany Community College, Cumberland, with an A.A. degree in nursing.

Miss Yommer is a 1977 graduate of Northern High School. She was recently employed at the Grantsville Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library and Grantsville Foodland. She has accepted a full-time, float staff nurse position at Memorial Hospital in Cumberland and will begin her work there June 2.

Life-Saving Class Slated

The Garrett County chapter of the American Red Cross will sponsor a two-week course in life-saving May 19-30. The course will be taught by certified Red Cross swimming instructors.

Persons desiring to take the course must have advanced swimming skills and be at least 15 years old.

For further information, persons should call 334-3916, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Veterans Offered Financial Aid For Education

A Veterans' Educational Assistance Program is being offered to ex-service men and women whose personal education was interrupted or impeded because of military service between January 31, 1955 and January 1, 1977.

Amount of training available to each veteran is determined by the length of time spent in military service. Under normal circumstances, four years of service can be accrued.

The type of training available ranges from college education to on-the-job apprenticeship.

Persons desiring more information should contact their American Legion Service Officer.

County Craftsmen Offered National Advertising Plan

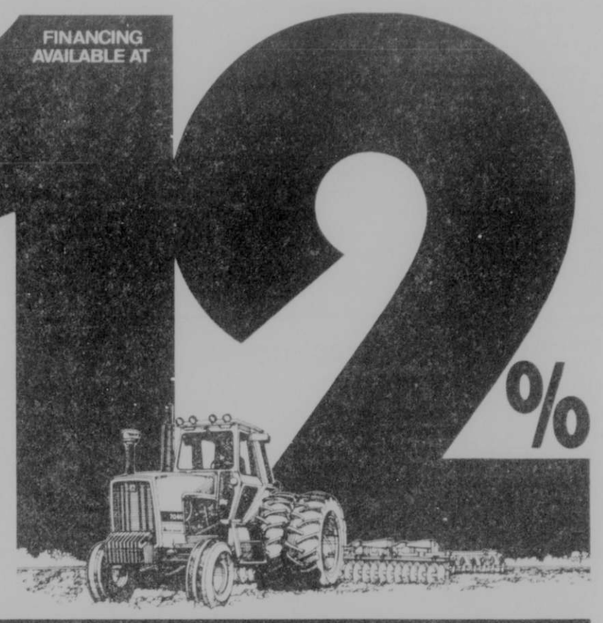

Garrett County craftsmen now have the opportunity to advertise their wares on a nationwide scale, as a result of a new business opening recently in McHenry.

Ad-Ventures, Inc. provides national advertisement for the selling of local crafts and goods in an attempt to generate spending within the county, and to help local artisans distribute their products on a regional basis.

For more information, interested persons should contact Samuel J. Simpson, president, or Barbara Riggins, vice-president, at 387-5193.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Sgt. Philip R. Mallow, whose wife, Betty, lives in Kitzmiller, recently completed a basic non-commissioned officer course at Fort Knox, Ky.

During the course, students receive instruction in skill development techniques and military occupational specialty subjects.

Mallow, who entered the Army in August, 1975, is regularly assigned as a team leader with the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard) at Fort Myer, Va.

He is a 1972 graduate of Southern High School.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin M. Mallow, live on Grant Street, Petersburg, W. Va.

Marine Pfc. Debra A. DeBerry, daughter of Everett B. and Harriet V. DeBerry of Route 3, Deer Park, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

During the eight-week training cycle, she was introduced to the typical daily routine that she will experience during her enlistment, and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

She participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including close order drill and first aid. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1974 graduate of Southern High School and a 1977 graduate of Allegany Community College, Cumberland, with an associate of arts degree, she joined the Marine Corps in November, 1979.

Airman William W. Friend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Hinebaugh, of Deer Park, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, here, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

Airman Friend is a 1973 graduate of Southern High School.

Autumn Glory Court Selected

Angie Zehr was selected 1980 Autumn Glory maid of honor last week. She will be escorted by Jim Fox. Her court includes Lisa Clutter, 12th grade princess, escorted by Dick Bender; Lisa Moore, 11th grade princess, escorted by Lowell Yoder; and Sherri Golden, 10th grade princess, escorted by Brad Yoder.

Aluminum Products Contest

The Student Council sponsored an Aluminum Products Contest, May 5-13, to raise money for a future project. The products were bagged and weighed to determine the winner. Any non-aluminum product in the bag would disqualify the contestant. Two prizes will be awarded this week. The first place winner will receive two theater tickets of his choice, and the second place winner will receive a $5.00 gift certificate to an area restaurant of his choice.

Student Council Officers Chosen

The student body elected student council officers last week: president, Jim Fox; vice president, Lisa Clutter; secretary, Tracy Sisler; and treasurer, Shelly King.

Reminders to Juniors and Seniors

The registration closes for the June 14th A.C.T. test on Friday, May 16. The registration form must be mailed before May 16. See Mr. Thomas, Guidance Counselor, for application packets. Also, Sgt. Smith of the U. S. Army Reserve, was here at Northern Wednesday, May 14. He will be at GCC for Career Day Thursday, May 15.

Band Uniforms

The band members were measured for new uniforms Thursday, May 8. They will be received sometime in the fall.

Presenting Play

The drama club and speech class, under the direction of Ms. Cherie Rettel, will be presenting Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream, May 23 and 24. The play will be in the GCC auditorium at 8:00. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

Lettermen's Officers

Recently elected officers for 1980-81 Lettermen's Club include Steve Fratz, president; William Wilt, vice president; Weldon Yoder, secretary; Dan Ganoe, treasurer.

Bible Quizzing Tournament Held

The Mountain Top Youth for Christ Bible quizzing season ended recently with a championship tournament held at the Bethel United Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park.

The Apostles of Acts team from the Glade Mennonite Church finished in first place during the regular season.

The Sacrifices of God team from Friendsville placed second, with the Satan's Foe's team, Oakland, placing third, and the Mountaineers team from Red House finishing fourth.

The Apostles of Acts team won the championship tournament.

Following the tournament, awards were given to the first place team, and to the top five quiz participants.

Autumn Frazee was the lead scorer, with 2,740 points, for a 65.2% average. In second place was Anita Zehr, with 2,170 points, for a 51.7% average. Rose Yoder scored 1,730 points, for a 44.4% average; Carol Gordon scored 1,440 points, for a 34.3% average, and Melinda Bennett tallied 950 points, for a 24.4% average.

On Saturday, May 3, the four Garrett County teams traveled to Pittsburgh to compete in a one day tournament with teams from the tri-state area.

The Apostles of Acts team won the first place trophy. All four Garrett County teams placed in the top seven winning team efforts, with Autumn Frazee, Rose Yoder, and Anita Zehr being named to the All-Tournament Team.

Meat Production Higher In March

Commercial production of red meat in Maryland and Delaware during March 1980 totaled 10.0 million pounds, one percent above February 1980 and 14 percent more than the production during March 1979.

Commercial establishments in Maryland and Delaware slaughtered 5,500 head of cattle during March, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. This number was unchanged from February, but seven percent below March a year earlier. There were 1,700 calves butchered in March, 15 percent below last month, but 42 percent above last year. The hog kill amounted to 38,500, three percent above the previous month and 34 percent more than the number killed in March 1979.

Sheep and lambs slaughtered during March totaled 2,900 head, unchanged from last month and 26 percent above last year.

Liveweight of cattle slaughtered in March averaged 1,065 pounds, compared to 1,076 pounds a year ago. Calf weights averaged 318 pounds, up 11 pounds from last year. Hogs averaged 226 pounds, four pounds less than a year ago. Sheep and lambs averaged 105 pounds, unchanged.

HOME OWNERSHIP — A CASH RESOURCE

Sometime in everyone's lifetime, for luxury or necessity, there may be a requirement for a large amount of cash. Today's homeowner is probably the best prepared individual to cope with this "need for money" problem. His equity in his home is a ready source of cash.

Let's assume he bought his house about ten years ago for $20,000 and has now reduced his mortgage to $10,000. Since home values rise, his house is now worth $35,000 which gives him an equity of about $25,000. On a conventional mortgage basis, a bank may loan him 80% of value, or $28,000. Thus, after paying off his existing $10,000 loan, he would come out with $18,000 cash, or nearly what he paid for his home 10 years ago.

I'm not suggesting that everyone run out and refinance their homes. I do point out, however, that another excellent reason for owning a home is the increasing equity produced through rising prices.

Sales, Use Tax Revenue Down

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said recently that Retail Sales & Use Tax revenue for April 1980 totaled $55,993,547, down approximately 3.4% from the $57,967,691 collected for the same month last year.

"Tightening consumer credit and the slowdown in building and construction activity seem to be the primary reasons for the decline in revenues," Mr. Goldstein said.

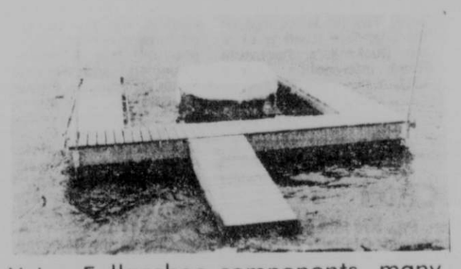

The Comptroller noted that, for the fiscal year to date, sales tax revenues amount to $531,792,139, up 2.8% from the $517,943,704 received during the same period of Fiscal Year 1979.

Mr. Goldstein stated that a complete statistical report will be available later, but noted that preliminary April 1980 revenue reports show significant declines in sales of automotive parts and accessories, lumber and construction materials. Sales tax revenues generated by purchases in department and variety stores posted an increase of less than one percent. April sales tax revenue is based on March business.

Cherry Glade Church To Sponsor Cantata Sunday

The cantata "David the Shepherd Boy" will be presented at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, Accident, this Sunday, May 18, at 7:30 p.m.

This cantata, by Butterworth and Root, gives the story of King David from the time he became a national hero by slaying Goliath and fled from his jealous father-in-law, King Saul, into exile, to the time he was crowned King of Israel. It is presented by a 50-voice choir from the local community and is directed by Elmer H. Maust.

The featured soloist "David" is Philip Kanagy from Harman, W. Va., pastor of the Lanesville Mennonite Church and past soloist of the Rosedale Chorale, Irwin, Ohio. "Saul" will be John Yoder, Meyersdale, Pa. who holds a music degree from the University of Oregon and has done work in the Robert Shaw Choral Workshop. He served as bass soloist with the Johnstown Symphony in performing the Messiah, and is founder and director of the Casselman Valley Choral Society.

Other soloists include Vera (Mrs. Clark) Yoder as "Abigail," Verna (Mrs. Lowell) Bender as "Michael," Creed Yoder as "Jesse," David Beachy as "Samuel," Lowell Bender as "Jonathan," Winston Hershberger as "the Elder," Kenneth Swartzentruber as "Abner" and a number of quartets, trios, and duets. Kristine Maust is the pianist. The brass ensemble includes two trumpets by Douglas and Lynford Yoder and two trombones by Darrel Yoder and Timothy Bender. Costuming is in charge of Ida (Mrs. Elmer) Maust.

The public is invited to this program of music and drama. A free-will offering will be received to cover expenses.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

Roy Holler remains a patien. in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, in critical condition with a heart ailment. The fourth pacemaker has been installed in recent weeks.

Mrs. Ivadine Cummings fell down steps at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson on Thursday, and sustained a broken left leg. She was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she is recovering.

The Bible study group met on Thursday afternoon in the home of Barbara Farmer. Those attending were Myrtle Fulk, Jane Kope, Sybil Merrill, Elaine Beckman, Mary Thomas, Sharon Savage, Mildred Peterson, Bessie Canan, and the hostess, Barbara Farmer. Refreshments were served.

Bessie Canan accompanied Pastor Wilma Waybright, Noah Waybright and their son, Delbert, to Sugarlands on Sunday where Pastor Waybright delivered the message at the church there. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Knotts.

Grain Certification Turn-Out "Good"

The final reporting day for small grain certification was May 1, 1980, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"The turn-out in Maryland was good," said Crowl. "There were 2458 farms certifying to small grains, which accounts for approximately 65% of the small grains planted in Maryland."

Producers who certified accurately will be eligible to receive the benefits of price support, disaster, and deficiency payments.

"This year it is important for all farmers to report their crops. With no set-aside provisions, everyone who reports will be eligible for any payment made, regardless of planted acres and normal crop acreage," said Crowl.

Late filed reports are being accepted, in county offices, for producers who failed to certify during the sign-up period due to reasons beyond the producers control.

Crowl noted that, "Producers with Spring-seeded crops have until July 1, 1980 to certify to the acreages and intended uses of their corn, grain sorghum, and soybean crops, to be eligible for program benefits."

"For additional information contact your county ASCS office," said Crowl.

MOTHER'S DAY MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Iona Rodeheaver who passed away February 4, 1980:

Mother's life is a beautiful memory; Her absence a silent grief. But she sleeps in God's heavenly garden, In the sunshine of perfect peace. The wonderful things she did for us, Live in our hearts each day; And keep her near and dear to us Though she is far away. Keep her, Jesus, in Thy keeping; Till we reach the heavenly shore, Then, O Master, let us see her, Love and have her as before.

Sadly missed by daughter Maxine

WATER RESOURCES ADMINISTRATION

Public Notice No.: MD-0797
Issue Date: May 16, 1980

Persons wishing to present information or comments about the tentative decisions listed below are invited to speak at the scheduled hearings or submit written comments. Adversely affected persons wishing to contest a tentative decision must request on or before June 9, 1980 that contested issues be adjudicated at the hearing. Procedures for making such requests are set forth with this notice in the Maryland Register of May 16,1980, and in COMAR 08.05.06. The applications, draft permits, and other information are on file and may be inspected, and arrangements made for copying. Requests for information, and any written requests for adjudication, may be addressed to: Water Resources Administration, Permits Division, Tawes State Office Building, 580 Taylor Avenue, Annapolis, Maryland 21401; Phone (301) 269-2260.

GARRETT COUNTY: A public hearing on the following tentative decision will be held:

Wednesday, July 16, 1980 at 8:30 a.m., Westernport City Council Meeting Room, City Hall, Westernport, Maryland Discharge Permit Modification Application No.: 77-DP-1184-A (NPDES No.: MD-0054801-A; Basin No.: 05.02.02.04 and 05.02.02.03): Oakland Coal Company, Post Office Box 386, Mt. Lake Park, Maryland, has applied for a Modification to its State and NPDES Permit to discharge controlled wastewater into the waters of Maryland. The applicant is engaged in the strip mining of coal. The discharges described in the application will be effluent from sediment ponds collecting strip mine drainage. The modification will be the addition of two discharge points to another receiving stream, Cherry Creek, west of Bittinger, Maryland. The receiving waters are classified as natural trout waters.

Tentative Decision: Issue permit with the respective maximum, average and minimum effluent limitations for each parameter: Total Suspended Solids: 45 mg/1, 30 mg/1, N/A; Alkalinity: N/A, N/A, 20 mg/1; Total Iron: 6.0 mg/1, 3.0 mg/1, N/A; pH: 6.0, N/A, 9.0. Other limitations include provisions for access, periodic self-monitoring, protection groundwater, and control of non-point source pollution. These limitations are necessary to meet standard treatment requirements and protect water quality.

Oakland Town Council Takes Precautions

To avoid what has happened financially to Garrett County, the Town of Oakland has taken "a good look at its budget" and is "taking precautions to assure its yearly surplus," said James R. Stanton, president of the Oakland Town Council. "There is no immediate problem, and we are simply trying to avoid one," he added.

At a May 5 meeting, regarding budget overexpenditures, Von W. Johnson suggested obtaining bids on all chemicals and supplies, and the group agreed that all ordering will be done by the Town Clerk. Stanton suggested a hiring freeze until July 1, 1980, with the exception of three lifeguards hired for the Broadford Recreation Area. The lifeguards will be paid by the town, as none qualify under the CETA program.

In other financial matters, Potomac Edison granted authority to change the billing schedule for the Town of Oakland, so that a billing period will occur more often. Stanton said the town will save as much as $2000 through this change.

A proposal was made to all municipalities to consent to Maryland State Police jurisdiction in all cities, as a result of a recent incident in Maryland. The Oakland Town Council voted favorably toward the proposal, enabling the Maryland State Police to act within city limits when a crime is observed, and to provide back-up and assistance for town police.

In regard to the Center Street Recreation Program, to be conducted June 15 through August 8, the Council accepted a motion to approve finances of up to $1000 for the project, depending upon receipt of various contributions, plus the cost of tar-papering a roof. Materials for this project will be donated.

Many parking and traffic-related decisions were reached at the monthly meeting. The group resolved to permit parking on the east side of Third Street, from Alder Street to the alley next to the Grocery Warehouse.

The Council also voted to remove the traffic signal at the intersection of Center and Second Streets. The town will block out parking one space back on each corner of the intersection, with the exception of the front of the Law offices.

The Council passed a motion to place parking meters on the south side of Alder Street in the block that is occupied by the Courthouse, and on Fourth Street, with two handicapped spaces and two parking meters in front of the Courthouse.

In other business, a motion to hire several CETA workers for Broadford during the summer months was approved by the Council, and Pullman-Swindell acknowledged an agreement with the Town of Oakland in working with sewage treatment plans.

In addition, the Council determined that retired town employees will be given free passes to the Broadford Recreation Area, and the group granted an additional 100 feet for the Animal Shelter Facility.

Bike Safety Check Will Be Available Before Hike & Bike

Participants in the fourth annual Hike and Bike, sponsored by the Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens, and the Bike Rodeo, sponsored by the Garrett County Children's Council, will be able to have their bikes inspected between 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., May 17, at Southern Middle School, and May 18, at the Grantsville Health Center.

Safety reflector tape will be available through the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, VFW Post 10077, and the Mt. Top Chapter 29 of the Disabled American Veterans.

Arlie Breedlove, chairman of the safety inspection, recommends all participants check their bikes before the events. Loose handlebars, poor brake adjustments, tires and wheels out of balance have been the biggest problems in the past according to Mr. Breedlove.

Save 25%
PLUS GET FREE WINDOW GRILL INSERTS
Come to our clinic and save 25% from regular prices on Andersen double hung windows. Plus, receive free, Andersen horizontal window grill inserts that fit the Narrowline windows.
If you want to save energy dollars this year, Bauer's Andersen window clinic is the place to be. These Andersen windows save energy in the following ways. They are designed with a snug-fitting jamb, which is two times more weather tight than industry minimum standards for air infiltration. These windows are made with double pane insulating glass, and insulated wood core jamb and stiles, plus a fully weather stripped frame.
These windows offer the homeowner years of low maintenance convenience because of the vinyl finish exterior, and improves the real value of a home.
Come to our clinic and have your questions answered by a factory trained window specialist. The Andersen Narrowline window is designed for remodeling use. Often, the same rough opening size can be used and no reframing or residing is necessary. Most of your remodeling questions will be answered at our clinic, so even the 'do-it-yourselfer' can remove and remodel with Andersen Narrowline windows.
A special feature of the clinic will be information material to be distributed to all customers that explains consumer benefits and installation techniques.

Three Escape Serious Injury In Garage Fire

Three employees of W. H. Fratz, Inc., escaped serious injury Monday morning when vapors escaping from a leaking gasoline line of a tanker truck caught fire in a maintenance garage located in Accident behind Fratz Red and White Market.

Robert H. Shimer, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett counties, said that Ken Evans, a mechanic, was repairing a gasoline line that had begun to leak in a truck parked in the garage. As he was doing so, a lightbulb exploded, igniting gasoline vapors nearby. Evans escaped with only singed hair. David Frost, a shop foreman, and Bryan Lenhart, also a mechanic, were standing near the door of the shop and did not sustain any serious injuries.

Firefighters from Accident and Deep Creek were called to the scene by Garrett Central Alarm at 8:31 a.m. According to Shimer, quick action by the Accident VFD prevented the fire from spreading to a lower area of the garage in which several hundred gallons of fuel oil, grease, oil and other highly flammable materials were being stored.

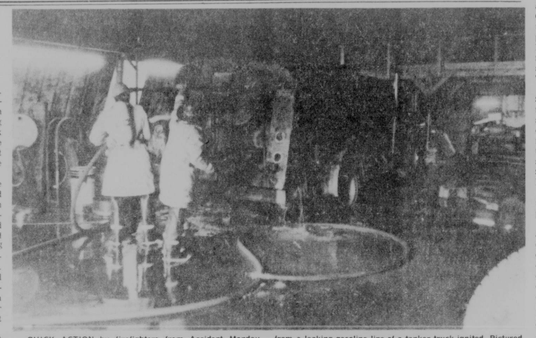

In addition to damaging the 1974 Ford tanker, the fire extensively damaged a car owned by Julie Fratz and another owned by W. H. Fratz, Inc., both of which were parked in the garage. The fire also damaged the ceiling area of the garage and burned some insulation and spare parts stored on a balcony above the fire area.

Oakland and Friendsville fire departments were called to stand by at the Deep Creek and Accident stations. Air Cascade 3 was summoned to the scene from Oakland, as was the Northern Rescue Squad unit from Accident.

Eastern Garrett fire fighters were also on the scene, providing chemicals to use in the extinguishment of petroleum fires. Deer Park VFD was also called to bring a foam unit to the scene, however they were cancelled before arrival. Firefighters remained at the scene until 11:30 a.m.

Shimer said his investigation revealed the fire was a result of the vapors being ignited by the exploding light bulb. W. H. Fratz officials reported that they have insurance on the vehicle damaged by the fire, but must check on whether or not the building is insured.

W. H. Fratz, Inc., is an Accident based petroleum products corporation and handles deliveries of home fuel oil and gasoline.

QUICK ACTION by firefighters from Accident Monday morning prevented a fire from destroying a large maintenance garage located behind Fratz Red and White Market along U. S. Route 219 in Accident. The fire resulted when vapors escaping from a leaking gasoline line of a tanker truck ignited. Pictured above, two Accident firefighters douse remaining sparks and inspect the damage done to the tanker. See story.

Commissioners Act To Improve Dumpster Problem

Citing solid waste disposal as the biggest problem facing the county, second only to the current financial crises, the county commissioners Tuesday decided to either buy or rent equipment for more efficient garbage removal from the county dumpster sites.

The commissioners noted they have received complaints across the county concerning the unsanitary conditions at the dumpster sites caused by the slow removal of garbage from those areas. "We are trying to deal with the problem," stated Lester Hunter, chairman of the Board of Commissioners.

Hunter explained the reason garbage removal has been slow is due to the frequent breakdowns of the three county-owned vehicles used for garbage removal. He stated the county has struggled to keep one compactor unit in service. The age of the three chassis is the major reason for their breakdowns he pointed out. Of the three chassis, two are between 10-12 years old and the other is five years old.

The commissioners had not taken action on the situation because of the county's financial difficulties.

Hunter stated the county expects to purchase two chassis which can be attached to the county-owned compactor units.

Merchants Will Close Monday

The approaching Memorial Day holiday provides area businesses with a "day off" on Monday, May 26, or Friday, May 30.

The Oakland Merchants and Businessmen's Association has determined that Oakland merchants will close Monday, May 26, in observance of the holiday. Post offices and banks will also be closed this Monday.

Commissioners Begin Drafting FY1981 Budget

The county commissioners began work Monday on the FY1981 budget and expect to work into the weekend to have it completed by next Monday.

The commissioners tackled the smaller county department budgets Monday and finished the day, according to Chairman Lester Hunter, making "considerable progress."

Tuesday the commissioners conducted regular business, but stated they plan to resume work on the budget this afternoon.

A public hearing on the budget will be held Thursday, June 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the Grand Jury Room of the Courthouse.

The commissioners have set a public hearing on proposed uses of Revenue Sharing funds for FY1981 Thursday, May 29 at 1:30 p.m. in the commissioners meeting room in the courthouse.

The Commissioner chose to complete the budget by next Monday to comply with guidelines for Revenue Sharing funds. They noted they also plan to closely comply with all other regulations on county budgets, including the constant yield rate law.

School Board Asks Commissioners For Payment Plan

The Garrett County Board of Education has requested a formal letter from the county commissioners by this Friday describing their plan for paying the remainder of the county's allocation to the Board.

The Commissioners, who pay the Board $309,000 monthly, suspended the April payment to the Board early this month when they discovered the county treasury could not cover it.

The Board decided at a meeting Thursday to submit a letter to the commissioners requesting a plan for repayment.

Tuesday, Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, county school superintendent-elect, and Clarence Stem, Board member, met with the commissioners to discuss the repayment plan. The commissioners informed them they plan to provide the funds but because of the county's current cash-flow problem, they had no choice but to defer payment.

They stated they were preparing a formal statement with the aid of their attorney, Jack Turney.

Although the Board says it can meet its June payroll and the special payroll to employees who request their July and August checks in June, the Board pointed out that it has other bills to pay besides the July, August and September payrolls which must come from FY1980 revenues.

Dr. Ryscavage noted that because of the over 600 Board employees and its vendors, "We feel we have the responsibility to request a firm time line when we will receive the money."

He also explained that state law mandates the county must make monthly payments to the Board in accordance with the local appropriation in the Board's approved budget. The Board of Education has the only officially approved budget among the county departments.

The Board has scheduled a public meeting for Monday, May 26 at 3 p.m. in the Board Office for determining whether the Commissioners' response is satisfactory.

The county has three more payments to make to the Board which total $927,000.

Garrett Bus System FY1981 Projects Discussed Tuesday

The Garrett Bus System, a property owner's complaint, and the boat launch ramp program were among items on the county commissioners' agenda Tuesday.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, and Marilyn Metheny and Bonnie Zimmerman of the Garrett Bus System presented the program of public transportation project package for FY1981 to the commissioners for their approval before sending it to the state Mass Transit Administration.

The project package totaled $36,000 which is paid through federal, state and local funding sources, each paying one-third of the cost. Bonnie Zimmerman, bus system administrator, pointed out that in-kind services are included in the $12,000 figure to come from local sources.

The commissioners unanimously approved the project package.

Charles Nielson, Frostburg, asked the commissioners what could be done to repair damages to his property by county roads department crews. He stated the roads crews had cut limbs off his evergreen trees, bordering his lake property, from the ground to about 10-12 feet up the trees. The road department had done this without a right-of-way permit or permit from the state park service.

Nielson stated he had planted the trees 30 years ago for privacy and to keep dust from the road away from his cabin. The commissioners directed him to talk with Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, to reach a solution.

John Reckner, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, requested the commissioners make an amendment to the boat launch ramp program at Deep Creek Lake to include an additional four acres on the Buffalo Coal Property. He noted the present project would be completed early and money would be left over. The commissioners unanimously approved the amendment.

The commissioners approved three applications for junkyard license permits. The applicants were Hartman & Sons Auto Wrecking, Swanton; Roger and Nancy Gower, Hutton, and James Faidley, Frostburg. The commissioners had granted Faidley's application on the condition he set up a screen around his property by June 20, 1980.

Cecilia Fabula, a representative of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, met with the commissioners to discuss their recent decision to stop payment on hospital and life insurance for retired employees. She stated she had received calls from former employees who believed the insurance benefits had been ended altogether. The commissioners informed Ms. Fabula that although the county had stopped payment on the insurance premiums, the retired employees were allowed to continue the policy through the county but would have to pay their own premiums.

Uninvited Guest Causes Concern To Local Residents

Picnickers, beware!!! Memorial Day lunch baskets may be in jeopardy, as Yogi Bear (or a member of his family) may very well be on the prowl for summertime goodies.

According to a spokesman from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, reports of a bear being sighted on the west side of Oakland have area residents somewhat concerned.

Garrett Central Alarm officials supposedly learned of the bear, believed to weigh approximately 600 pounds, when several chickens were reportedly killed by the elusive creature at a local farm.

The bear was spotted on Gregg Mountain, a state property, Tuesday evening, and Garrett County sheriff's deputies and Department of Natural Resources officials were on the lookout for additional signs.

Officials are determined to locate the roaming bear, and hope to simply reroute him to uninhabited property, where he can harm no one.

New Animal Health Lab Planned

State Secretary Of Agriculture Visits Garrett County Facilities

Wayne A. Cawley, Jr., Secretary of the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Dr. Hugh Binks, Assistant Secretary and their wives, visited Garrett County on May 5 to inspect facilities and to attend a meeting at Garrett Community College. The meeting was called to discuss agriculture in Garrett County and the proposed Oakland branch of Animal Health Laboratories. Others present at the meeting were Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Custer, Animal Health and MPI; Senator Ed Mason, (R-Allegany-Garrett); Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, (R-Allegany-Garrett); Garrett County Commissioner Ernest Gregg; County Extension Agent James McHenry; Dr. Donald Ruhl, President of GCC; Goble Jessup, GCC; Dr. Paul Deal, Vet Tech Program, GCC; Clark Kolb, President of the County Farm Bureau, his wife and son; Patricia White, Veterinarian Lab Technician; and Hazel Ahern, Lab Helper.

Since 1955 Garrett County has been supplying laboratory space to the Maryland Department of Agriculture. "Because of fiscal problems," said Cawley, this arrangement was discontinued in 1979." The location of the Animal Health Laboratory has been shifted two times, according to Dr. Custer. The existing laboratory is housed in the Knights of Pythias building, but once again they must change location. It is proposed to have a new building, of approximately 2500 square feet, contracted on property adjacent to the Garrett County Animal Shelter.

According to Dr. Custer, "this location would allow for joint use of some facilities and enhance training opportunities for GCC Vet Tech students. He explained that the Animal Shelter is a county-owned building, but is equipped through funds from Garrett Community College for use by Vet Tech students.

Dr. Custer explained that the building would be used as a diagnostic laboratory, and as area headquarters for the Department of Agriculture, animal Health in Allegany and Garrett counties, inspection for disease control, surveillance of livestock, and investigation of various animal diseases. The building would serve as headquarters for meat and poultry inspection in Allegany and Garrett counties, and would house equipment to run tests and perform autopsies on large animals. Dr. Custer said the facility personnel would work with veterinarians in the area, and "anyone with a disease problem could bring their animals in."

Ed Mason and DeCorsey Bolden were instrumental during the past Legislative Session in getting $75,000 put into next year's budget for the Maryland Department of Agriculture, to be used as matching funds for construction of a new Animal Health Laboratory in Garrett County. Cawley explained that "state funds of up to $75,000 can be used for the purchase of supplies and material to build the structure. The county will have to supply matching funds, but these can be in the form of land, engineering, and construction. The state funds will have to be obligated between July 1, 1980 and June 30, 1981."

Cawley added that, "MDA would have rent-free use of the facility, but would equip it and supply the staff and operating expenses."

The Town of Oakland has provided the land adjacent to the Animal Shelter and the county commissioners have agreed to provide the remaining amount during fiscal year 1981. Lester Hunter stated that the county hopes to begin clearing the land this summer, and he said that construction should begin next year.

Dr. Ruhl apparently expressed enthusiasm for the project to Dr. Custer, adding that GCC hopes to share some equipment with the new facility.

In addition to the new facility, Cawley's speech centered on the agricultural importance of Garrett County, and gasohol. While in the area the two state officials visited the existing Animal Health Laboratory in Oakland and the site of the proposed new facility.

Cawley and Binks also visited Yoder's Meat Packers for meat inspection.

Accident Man Killed In Fall From Gas Well

Bruce R. Snyder, 23, RD1, Accident, died from injuries sustained in a 90-foot fall Sunday afternoon from a gas well near Old Fields, W. Va., where he was employed by the Delta Drilling Company.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., he was the son of Byron and Shirley (Downing) Snyder, Grantsville.

He graduated from Northern High School in 1974.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rhonda (Tanner) Snyder; two brothers, Vernon Snyder, Accident; Stephen Snyder, Grantsville; a sister, Miss Celeste Snyder, Grantsville; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Snyder, Friendsville; and maternal grandparents, Russell Dreaning and Margaret Dreaning, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Friends were received in the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, where services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by Atlee Snyder, with interment in Bittinger Cemetery.

State, County Officials Tour Local Coal Mines

The Garrett County commissioners escorted 25 state and county officials on a tour of two county coal mine operations last Thursday as part of the quarterly meeting of the Western Maryland Association of Counties.

The tour involved a visit to the Allegheny Mining Corporation strip mine on the Rock Lodge Road and to the Mettiki Mines near Kempton.

Commissioner Lester Hunter said the commissioners planned the tour to acquaint the association members with the coal industry and "to try to rejuvenate the coal business."

Besides exposing the group to the two types of coal mining operations, the commissioners pointed out the problems the coal industry faces such as a large amount of paper work due to duplication in state and federal regulations. The group also was taken to a land reclamation site.

Those participating in the tour included Lt. Governor Sam Bagley and State Comptroller of the Treasury Louis Goldstein and commissioners from Carroll and Washington counties.

After the tour, the group traveled to the Grantsville Holiday Inn for dinner. Guest speakers during the dinner were Tom McKuen and Reed McDonaugh of the Maryland Environmental Service.

County Industrial Study Reviewed

A meeting was held last evening at Southern Middle School by Tom Jones, Director of Economic Development in Garrett County, to present the findings of a two-part study of Garrett County, relating to industrial growth.

Due to the late date of the meeting in accordance with The Republican's press time, and the expanse of the issues involved, coverage of the meeting could not be included in this edition. However, complete coverage of the meeting and the issues involved will appear in next week's edition.

Four Men Charged With Theft And Property Damage

Four local men were charged recently by Maryland State Police with theft and destruction of property as a result of an April 25 incident in the vicinity of Deep Creek Lake.

John Bonham Hayhurst, 18, Mt. Lake Park, was charged with one count of theft, and three counts of destruction of property.

According to Sgt. H. W. Graham, the theft involved two panes of plexiglass, which had been removed from the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council's Information Booth, and thrown into Deep Creek Lake.

The destruction of property charges involved the sinking of two fishing boats anchored at Bill's Marina, the destruction of a cover on a third fishing boat, the loosening of a warning light on the Deep Creek Bridge, and rolling over an automobile belonging to James Houghton, McHenry, a student at Garrett Community College.

The second man charged in the incident was Charles Eugene Estill, Jr., 18, also of Mt. Lake Park. A charge of two counts of theft were lodged against Estill involving the alleged stealing of two women's purses, and involvement in the Houghton automobile incident.

A third man charged in the episode was Darren Todd Ream, 19, Oakland, who was charged with the alleged stealing of the two women's purses, and involvement in the Houghton automobile incident.

The fourth man charged in the incident is Calvin Kent Stinson, 19, also Mt. Lake Park. According to Maryland State Police records, Stinson is charged with three counts of destruction of property, including alleged involvement in the information booth destruction, the sinking of the fishing boats, and the destruction of the Houghton vehicle.

Trial has been set for June 2 in Garrett County District Court.

Oakland Merchants Hold May Meeting

The Oakland Merchants' and Businessmen's Association met on Tuesday, May 13.

The main topic of discussion was the possibility of a flea market to be held on Saturday, July 5. More definite arrangements will be discussed at the June meeting.

The downtown merchants will be closed on Monday, May 26, in observance of Memorial Day.

County's Jobless Rate Decreases Slightly In March

Maryland's unemployment rate declined in March, dropping from 7.0 percent in February to 6.6 percent, according to the latest figures released by the Maryland Department of Human Resources. Garrett County's jobless rate dropped from 17.3 to 17.0.

Although there was a decrease of .4 percent in the unemployment rate, the rates usually display a much larger drop, according to the Department, between February and March, as winter layoffs end in construction, trade, tourism and recreation industries. In 1979, the rates fell from 6.9 percent to 5.3 percent between February and March.

The normal Spring pattern of declining unemployment and rising employment occurred in March, although at a slower pace than in previous years. The number of unemployed persons in Maryland decreased by approximately 5,700, while the number of employed persons increased by more than 28,000. Declining consumer demand and high interest rates have slowed Spring hiring in trade and construction.

In March, Maryland's unemployment rate matched the national rate, after hovering above the U. S. rate since October, 1979.

In the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, the unemployment rate also declined, falling from February's 7.8 percent to 7.4 percent in March.

Although unemployment remained relatively high in Western Maryland, the state's highest unemployment rates were observed on the Eastern Shore, with 22.6 percent in Somerset County and 20.5 percent in Worcester County. Howard County continued to have the lowest unemployment rate, with 3.0 percent unemployment.

A LIFELIKE CREATIVE PENCIL SKETCHING by Weldon Yoder, junior, is part of the Northern High School art exhibit at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Weldon is interested in natural wildlife subjects and is considering pursuing art in college, according to Maggie Kerns, art teacher. The library exhibit will be on display until Monday, May 26.

FIRST PRIZE WINNER OF MERCHANTS' SHOW, John Buckel's water color painting won the blue ribbon over other Northern and Southern High School students' works. The contest, held in Oakland, was to depict a theme of spring. John, a senior, won $25 for his work. He has been accepted to Towson State University to study art.

FREEHAND FROM IMAGINATION, CREATING A STENCIL EFFECT, Sandi Steuber, senior, cut colorful paper to create a collage of spring flowers. Sandi has had a cartoon column in the school newspaper for two years, and is interested in advertising. Students grades 9 through 12 entered works in the exhibit, utilizing paint, charcoal, pastel, prints, and other media.

Hike And Bike Results Noted

The Garrett Organization for Retarded Citizens may receive $4,765 in pledges from the Hike and Bike held this past weekend, reported Tom Graybill, coordinator for the event, if all the pledges are collected.

Graybill stated 62 persons participated in the event in the southern part of the county Saturday and 19 in the northern end on Sunday. He noted the number of participants was less than last year which he attributed to the poor weather conditions over the weekend.

Among the participants in the southern end of the county were four handicapped persons—two on bicycles and two walkers.

James Walkling, Jr., Kitzmiller, traveled the greatest distance Saturday by riding his bike 45 miles. Kevin Miller, Grantsville, traveled the farthest Sunday by riding his bike 30 miles.

Prizes will be awarded based on the most money turned in by noon on June 2. Graybill pointed out that pledges should still be turned in after that date. He said that the money could either be mailed to GORC in special envelopes provided to participants or could be submitted to the Hike and Bike representatives in the schools.

Those winning the $10 drawing on Saturday and Sunday were Willard Reckart, RD 1, Oakland, and Mike Thomas, Friendsville.

American Legion Plans Activities For Memorial Day

At the regular meeting of the Grantsville Post 214, American Legion, Grantsville, the following officers were installed by Garrett County Commander William D. Sipple for the 1980-81 term.

Final plans were also made for the Memorial Day observance. Not A Popular Stand . . .

It is now common knowledge that Garrett County is in rather serious financial trouble. Most of our money woes are a direct result of the county's being forced to reduce the property tax rate for fiscal '80 from $2.68 per $100 of assessed value to $2.37, a figure referred to as the constant yield rate. This cost the county something over $700,000 in tax revenue, which is the approximate amount now owed the banks. Inflation, of course, is another reason for our indebtedness.

It was a devastating blow to the county to be forced to used the $2.37 rate. This newspaper predicted the effects of this blow and we are now feeling them. However, the law, no matter how trivial, was clearly violated in setting the tax rate, and the judge had no choice but to rule as he did.

We have our own ideas as to the situations and persons responsible for our present dilemma. Others have different ideas. We could argue the point for weeks. However, this is water under the bridge. We must not waste time on pointing our fingers and blaming certain persons for the county's difficulties. Proving their guilt will do little to improve the situation. We must now work to get our county out of the red and into the black.

There are two basic ways to do this, but only one of them seems to us to be feasible.

The first way is to make huge budget cuts. Although there are undoubtedly some dollars being wasted by various county departments, it seems unrealistic to expect that our problems will be cured with budget cuts. Inflation last year was 18%. It is presently running at about 12%. In other words, on the average, something which cost $1 just two years ago, now costs $1.30. Some items, such as asphalt, have increased in cost by nearly 100% in the past two years. Wages of most county employees must also be increased so these people can survive and so unions cannot get a grip on the county.

So, although thrift and efficiency are recommended in the preparation of any budget, it appears unlikely that large cuts are possible.

The only other option is to raise the property tax rate, and raise it substantially. We are in a situation which will rapidly get worse unless measures are taken immediately to correct it.

In some ways we were lucky this year. The winter was a mild one and the roads department was able to hold snow removal expenditures to a minimum. We may not be so lucky next winter.

Nobody enjoys seeing a jump in taxes and advocating a large tax increase is not exactly a popular stand for a newspaper, especially among Garrett Countians, who tend to be conservative-minded. But folks, we just don't see any other way.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

I am a waitress and am writing this to all people who patronize restaurants (most of us do from time to time).

Most waitresses are paid a very low base pay. Some as little as $1.25 per hour. The remaining pay depends on tipping by customers. Waitresses' livelihoods depend on this.

I have done waitress work in Oakland almost two years. Before I became a waitress I rarely tipped, no matter whether the service was good or not. My feeling was "If they can't make it on their pay then get a better job." Also, I felt the price of the food was such that tipping was just too much.

Well, let me enlighten the public from my own experience. To say "Get a better job" has no comfort because where in Oakland can jobs be found? My manager gets applications almost every day from people who would like to have my job. As far as the price of food being high, well if people can afford high priced dinners, they can also afford a measly 50¢ tip.

It is very distressing to serve a $30.00 meal, have the customer compliment on the food, only to find no tip, but a mess.

So, next time you eat out, if you cannot afford the usual 10-15% tip, at least leave 50¢.

Compliments are nice, but they don't pay the rent.

Waitress

Editor,

Go Taxes Go!!

I hope each and every taxpaper in Garrett County will think of this last election on tax paying day when they have to pay for their decision not to allow Sunday Sales of Alcoholic beverages.

In a few years when Oakland and other towns in our county dry up and blow away for the lack of people under 50 years old to invest in businesses and services, I hope the remaining citizens try to pay their fuel bills and grocery bills and doctor bills and tax bills with Garrett County's biggest asset "A Beautiful View."

How sad to listen to the results of this last election. How sad to realize your neighbors just don't care. How sad!

Joyce Schroyer
Friendsville, MD

Dear Editor,

I would like to to give recognition to those people involved with the Central Garrett Baseball League. Through the continued support of our sponsors and patrons, and the dedication of our managers, coaches and umpires, and hard working parents Central Garrett Baseball has had a fantastic start on its second year season.

We are proud to announce that every youngster that came out for tryouts was placed on a team; no one was turned away! This brought our total of players up to 88 and, therefore, we were able to start two new teams, making a total of six for this season. Through our additional funds we were able to purchase 90 full dress uniforms and extra equipment. We are also in the process of constructing a concession stand.

None of this would have been possible without the belief and support of our townspeople. The members of League Board wish to express deep appreciation to everyone who helped start this 1980 season off to such a success.

Barbara Witt
Secretary C.G.B.L.

Dear Editor,

As I drive along the highway I cannot but notice the destruction of the many mail boxes and bus stations along the way. I speak from the experience of our neighbors' and our own mail boxes and bus station.

Our mail boxes used to be down the lane by the main road where every couple of weeks it was necessary to repair or buy new ones and put them up until finally we got permission from the postal department to have them moved closer to our house, but now it's the same problem with our children's bus station. Someone ran into the right side in the winter and busted it in and just the other night the same thing happened to the left side. This had to be done on purpose since the station is located off the road. One would have to drive in the lane off the main road to hit it. It is shot full of holes, which was done shortly after it was put up.

I feel that whoever does these things have never had to buy or repair and put up a mail box or have children stand out in the cold and rain waiting for a bus.

People who do such things should be brought to justice and made to repair mail boxes and rebuild bus stations and pay a fine besides, but there seems to be no justice. We do get tired of repeating our work because someone has fun destroying our things.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Beckman

Oakland Citizens To View DECD Studies Tonight

Oakland town council members, businessmen and residents will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall to discuss the results of two studies which are part of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development Downtown Commercial Revitalization program.

Jim DeCarlo, director of the Frostburg State College Institute for Small Business, and Dave Berry, management assistance specialist, will be present to answer questions concerning the Economic/Market Feasibility Analysis. Mark Friedman, director for the DECD project, will also be at the meeting to present an overview of the analysis performed by the Institute for Small Business and of the Design/Architectural Study performed by the School of Architecture at the University of Maryland. Copies of the Design/Architectural Study will be available at the meeting.

Oakland was one of four towns in Maryland selected to participate in the DECD project August 1979. The one year program was meant to provide technical assistance aimed to revitalize the downtown business districts. Since August, the Institute for Small Business and the School of Architecture have been conducting their respective studies.

Southern Band To Present Spring Concert

The Southern High School Highlander Band's 14th Annual Spring Concert is set for Friday, May 23, at 8 p.m., in the school cafeteria. The band, under the direction of Richard C. Clever, will perform such musical selections as "Folk Song Suite," a medley of Beatle hits; "Boys From Liverpool," "Knights Bridge March" and "Washington - Behind Closed Doors."

The guest conductor will be Joseph Buncie, Greensburg, Pa., who composed the music for the 1979-80 field show. Selected musicians will receive the John Phillip Sousa and Louie Armstorng Jazz awards.

The concert will be highlighted by the presentation of music from this year's field show, with selections including, "Britannia - Masterpiece," "Fasibito," "McArthur Park," a drum solo and a medley of "Rocky," "Battle Hymn" and "Superstar."

The drawing for an afghan will be held during intermission by the Southern Highlander Band Boosters. Proceeds from the drawing will go towards payment of a $1200 loan to complete payment of the band's new uniforms. Tickets will be on sale by band booster members until the time of the drawing.

There will be an admission charge for adults and students. Children under the age of six will be admitted free of charge.

WINDY ACRES HISTORY

In 1969 the first Limousin Bull was imported to the United States. We got our eyes opened after we purchased a percentage bull, a cow and five heifers of the Limousin Breed. Three years after the first bull had been imported the influence of those first animals was so great in our herd that in 1974 we bought a purebred bull imported from Ireland. Since 1974 we have traveled far and wide in search of the best of the breed. We have acquired cattle from twenty-eight states and three foreign countries, at a premium price.

Dr. Keith Inskeep of the West Virginia University has worked with us on our Heat Synchronization and Artificial Breeding Program. Not being satisfied with only getting one calf a year from these premium cattle, we began to do research on embryo transfer being done by surgery at the transplant centers in the west and Canada. While we were on a trip in Ontario, Canada, seeking a superior female for our breeding program we ran into an outfit that was doing embryo transplants on the farm without surgery. That is when our plan began. We hired the technician as a consultant to us for the embryo work. On March 1, 1979, we did our first non-surgical embryo transplant on the farm transferring the live embryo to foster cows.

From that first attempt we acquired two pregnant foster mothers. Nine months later we had two calves to be born - one cow had bad luck at birth and on the 21st of December the other cow gave birth to a live calf.

Since that first success we have progressed with our program and have now twenty-five pregnant foster mothers, all calves from just two cows in a two-month period. Because of our success we now can offer to the public percentage cattle and on May 24, 1980, at 12:30 noon, at the Garrett County Fair Grounds in McHenry, Maryland, we will offer for sale our complete percentage herd.

Ways to Save

1. Gifts of money on birthdays or anniversaries, at Christmas time or other special occasions are fun to spend. But you have the choice of adding the money to a savings account and that means you can buy something you want even more, later on, when you've accumulated a worthwhile amount.

2. Be sure all your money is working hard for you—earning a worth while amount in a savings account. Perhaps you carry more money on your person than necessary. Maybe you have had money for a long time in a partially filled coin bank, sugar bowl, or somewhere else around the house. Take a good look at any investments that earn you little or no return.

3. Family vacations cost less when you picnic along the way instead of having all meals in restaurants.

4. When buying a car, ask yourself if you really need all those expensive accessories. Also, will they contribute to the car's trade-in value, later on?

5. Without being parsimonious, you can use good sense about turning out lights when not in use, turning down the heat overnight or when you're away for a period of time, etc.

6. Even is you don't like to keep a budget, get a budget book and try for two or three months to write down just what you spend on what. You'll soon discover lots of little "leaks" that can be plugged up to leave more for your savings.

The Rev. Gary Bond To Conduct Revival Services In Oakland

Revival services will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, South Eight Street in Oakland, Tuesday-Sunday, May 27-June 1, by the Rev. Gary C. Bond, a gospel singer and evangelistic preacher. Services will begin at 7 p.m. each evening and 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

Rev. Bond decided to enter the ministry while in the midst of an athletic career at Purdue University, where he had been given a four-year scholarship to play football. In 1965, he won the title of Illinois IHSA heavyweight wrestling state champion.

Rev. Bond offers a musical program in addition to his evangelistic messages during his services. His services are open to the public.

Top Rams 5-4

Huskies Take Four Wins, Improve Record To 10-5

The Northern High Huskies batted 1000 over the past week by winning four of four contests and improving the Huskies season record to 10-5. Coach Bob Yunker's nine stopped Southern 5-4, Bruceton Mills 7-0, Bishop Walsh 6-3 and Flintstone 9-0.

In the game against Southern, which was played last Wednesday on the Huskies' diamond, John Beiler smacked a run-producing single with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning to give Northern a come-from-behind win.

The victory gave the Huskies a two-game sweep of their intra-county series with the Rams, Northern won the first game, 4 to 3.

The Rams led, 4-1, going into the sixth inning when Northern struck for two runs in the sixth. Darrell Schrock walked and later scored on an error and John Beiler got aboard on a fielder's choice and later scored on a passed ball.

Greg Beachy opened the decisive seventh frame with a single and, after Bill Bender walked, Schrock singled to plate Beachy with the tying run. Mark Diehl was intentionally passed to load the bases and Beiler followed with his base hit that scored Bender with the game-ending tally.

Ron Coddington had two of the Rams' six hits, and Doug Devlin gave the visitors a 2-0 lead in the first inning when he socked a two-run double.

VEGETABLE AND FLOWER BEDDING PLANTS are in full bloom at the Southern High School greenhouse, planted by the horticulture class as part of the Vo-Ag program. The students are growing tomato, pepper and cabbage vegetable plants, marigolds, impatiens and other flowering plants. Some will be sold, and the public is invited to inspect the crop. Pictured left to right are Mary Paugh, Barbara Friend, Johnna Jones and Patti Dixon.

Bill Bender went the distance on the mound for Northern to earn the win, besting Jeff Colaw in relief of Liller.

The Huskies continued their winning ways Thursday afternoon by blanking Bruceton Mills 7-0 on the losers' field. Darrell Schrock was the star for the winners as he recorded a homer and a two-run double.

Fred Fox added a pair of safeties to the winners ten hit attack off John Niner.

Tim Yunker, in his first start of the season, spaced four hits and fanned six in a route going performance.

Northern whipped a tough Bishop Walsh team, 6-3, Friday afternoon on the Huskies' diamond, to snap the Spartans' five-game winning streak.

Leading 2-1 in the last of the sixth despite being held hitless by Glenn Sisk the Huskies put together the winning rally on a pair of doubles and singles. Winning pitcher Dick Bender started the rally with a base hit and moved to third on a double by Greg Beachy. Bill Bender was walked intentionally to load the bases. After Darrell Schrock was retired on a pop-out, Mark Diehl was hit by a pitch to score the first run. Tim Yunker followed with a bases-clearing two-bagger to cap the rally.

Northern had used three errors and a wild pitch to score two runs in the fourth. Dick Bender finished with a ten hit, five strikeout effort to boost the Huskies mark to 9-5.

Jeff Stefan collected three hits for BW with Mack Davis and Troy Twigg adding two each.

Sisk fanned ten and allowed three hits in dropping the decision.

The Huskies took their fourth win of the week yesterday afternoon against host Flintstone, 9-0, as Northern pitcher Bill Bender fired a one-hitter and his teammates crossed the plate seven times in the second inning. Darrell Schrock and Greg Beachy led that second-inning attack with a two-run double and a two-run single, respectively.

Bender aided his own cause by rapping out three singles while at the plate, while Beachy and Dave Beiler collected two hits apiece. Mark Diehl crossed home plate on two occasions.

Flintstone's only hit was a one-out single in the sixth inning by Eric Mann. Bender struck out 11 batters and walked four.

The Huskies are scheduled to play again this afternoon in Frostburg against Beall.

Oakland Pen-Mar Team To Begin Eighth Season

The Oakland Pen-Mar Baseball team is slated to begin its eighth season in the Pen Mar League. The League has been in existence since 1948.

The League will be composed of the following 11 teams: Tri Towns, Oakland, Island Creek, Moorefield, Bel Air, PVAA (Cresaptown), all Southern Division, and Everett, Hyndman, Mt. Savage, Cumberland and Franklin Life Ins. (Cumberland) all of the Northern Division.

Everett will be defending its title of regular season league champion, while Tri-Towns will be seeking to maintain its playoff champion status. Oakland finished in second place in the Southern Division in the 1979 season and lost 6-5 to Tri-Towns in a 19-inning playoff game.

Oakland will have its entire outfield from last year returning, including Ernie Shotwell, Mark Tysinger, Dave Bender and Frankie Lewis. Returning infielders are Pete Broshihan, Lawrence Nesselrodt and Craig Cumberworth, while new infielders will be Phil Caruso and Al Cvetnick.

Corky Sweitzer and Randy Cirillo return as catchers and Mark McCarty and Mike Brady are back to pitch, with new additions Randy Chapman, Dave Barto and Jeff Rhodes.

Oakland will play a 30-game regular season schedule, with all games being seven-inning doubleheaders. Four doubleheaders will be played on Saturdays and the remainder, on Sundays. All games will begin at 2 p.m.

Oakland will then play in a double-elimination tournament at the end of the season, which will involve all 11 teams. Oakland will also play exhibition games with Island Creek and Elkins during the season.

All home games will be played at the Garrett Community College diamond in McHenry.

A number of veterans of the Pen Mar League have gone on to being signed by major league teams, the most recent of which being Holly Martin, last season's short stop for Tri-Towns, who was drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers and will play Class A ball in Florida this summer.

Oakland will open the regular season this Sunday at Moorefield.

I'm Ready for Spring . . . thanks to my new partner — Garrett National!

Feed, Seed and Fertilizer cost me more this year.
I never realized how a financial partner like Garrett National Bank could help me get a good start towards a great harvest.
The Garrett National banker in my town showed me how Full Service Banking works — I didn't know my neighborhood bank could provide the production loan I need to get ready for a profitable summer.
I got more than a loan. I learned that Garrett National has every financial service I need. Checking, saving or borrowing. I do it all with my friends at Garrett National Bank.

Garrett Central Baseball League Expands From Four To Six Teams

The Central Garrett Baseball League got its season underway Sunday afternoon with a three-game slate. In the first contest, the Stingrays bested the Braves, 13-10. The Jaguars and the Pirates battled to a 12-12 tie in the second game and the Eagles thrashed the Falcons, 21-2 in the nightcap.

The League has been expanded from four to six teams this year, which provided positions for all 88 youth who tried out for the league, according to Ms. Barbara Witt, secretary for the league. Due to support from parents and area patrons, the league was able to purchase full dress uniforms for all of the players. The league is composed primarily of youngsters, 8-12, from the McHenry, Friendsville and Accident areas.

All games will be played on the Friendsville Elementary School field this year, however, the league hopes to secure a tract of land in the future which will provide a field that is more central for the participating youth. All games will be played on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The schedule is as follows:

May 20, Braves vs Jaguars, 6 p.m.; May 22, Falcons vs Stingrays, 6 p.m.; May 26, Braves vs Falcons, 5:30 p.m., Stingrays vs Jaguars, 7 p.m.; May 27, Stingrays vs Pirates, 5:30 p.m., Eagles vs Braves, 7 p.m.; May 29, Eagles vs Jaguars, 5:30 p.m., Falcons vs Pirates, 7 p.m.;

Oakland Man Finishes 2nd In Smithton Races

An Oakland man was among the winners in the Street Stock Feature during the races at Motordrome "70" Speedway Sunday, May 11, at Smithton, Pa.

Buddy Tasker came in second after Sonny Beam, of Somerset, Pa.

Rams Blanked By Bishop Walsh Spartans, 7-0

The Spartans of Bishop Walsh recorded their fifth consecutive victory Thursday afternoon at the expense of the Southern High Rams, 7-0, on the winners diamond. The contest was scoreless until the fourth inning when Cliff Turbitt socked a three-run homer. Eric Schmid held the Rams to only three hits.

The Spartans added four runs in the sixth inning off Southern's Mark Colaw. Jeff Stefan opened the frame with a base on balls and scored on a single by Reggie Lennox after taking third on a Troy Twigg base hit. Following another walk, Pat Blake plated the final two runs with a fielders' choice.

Mike Davis rapped a pair of safeties for the winners.

Schmid fanned six in the route going performance and halted a Southern rally in the seventh.

The loss was the fifth against eight wins for the Rams.

Dunn To Replace Steve Furness As Banquet Speaker

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association has announced that Pittsburgh Steeler defensive tackle Gary Dunn will replace another Steeler, Steve Furness, as the guest speaker at tomorrow night's Southern High School athletic banquet. Furness had a previous engagement in Pittsburgh, so his Steeler teammate will be the featured speaker.

Dunn is entering his fourth year in the Pittsburgh organization. He has played in every game the past two years, and he started 18 of Pittsburgh's 19 games last year. He attended college at Miami of Fla., and he was a sixth-round draft pick. He spent the entire 1977 season on the injured list.

Last year Dunn had five quarterback sacks, and he added two more in the playoffs. One Steeler spokesman called Dunn "a key player on our defensive line." Dunn is single and lives in Coral Gables, Fla.

Tickets for the banquet are still on sale through tomorrow and may be obtained by calling Dennis Colaw after 5 p.m. at 334-4880.

Ladies' Golf Association News

The Oakland Ladies' Golf Association reports results of the Mother's Day Scotch Foursome held May 11 at the country club.

First low net score of 61-Fred Glotfelty and Elda Whetsell.

Second low net score of 64-Donnie Welch and Ruth McKenzie.

Third low net score of 67-Bud Vannucci and Marianna Naylor.

Fourth low net score of 68-Gary Daniels and Caryl Doe.

Fifth low net score of 69-Bill Naylor and Ruby Sylvester, also, Dan Daniels and Gladys Vannucci, Jonas McKenzie and Judy Hartman.

The winners in the May 15 best ball team (two man) were Miriam Kost and Mary Lou Shaffer with a net 69.

Southern Rams Place Second In PVC Tournament

Although Southern Ram Dean Daniels carded the lowest score of the day with an 80, the Rams fell just a few strokes short of winning the Potomac Valley Conference Golf Tournament held Monday at Canaan Valley.

Berkeley Springs emerged as the victor, scoring a 345 total, followed by Southern with a 348, Keyser at 358, Petersburg, a 389, and Tucker County, 413.

The top five individuals Finishers were named to the All-Tournament Team. Second behind Daniels was Steve Buser of Berkeley Springs with an 81, Matt Geary of Petersburg with an 83, and tied at 86 were Jeff Kurilla of Southern and Brian Amtower of Keyser.

NEWLY-ELECTED OFFICERS of the American Association of University Women, Garrett Branch, were installed at the organization's annual fellowship banquet, held at Will O' the Wisp last week. Pictured left to right are Bonnie Fedde, secretary; Amy Rudy, second vice president of membership; Kathie Smith, president; and Janel W. Crampton, Rockville Branch, guest speaker and installing officer. Ms. Crampton's speech centered around "Managing Resources for Tomorrow."

THE HILLS WERE ALIVE WITH THE SOUND OF MUSIC last Wednesday and Thursday at Dennett Road Elementary School, when all students, all ages, participated in a school operetta, "The Sound of Music." The play was adapted for student production and directed by Robert Trantham, Dean of Students at GCC, and nine faculty members were involved. The production featured Loretta Piper, Melodie Nazelrod, Bob Trantham, Kristiann Wilt, Warren Livengood, Kristen McDonald, Scott Damon, Shannon Sanders, Sonya Crogan and Melissa DeSimone.

Candy Stripers Awards Program Sponsored By BPW

The annual awards program for candy stripers was held at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital on May 13. The Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club sponsored the candy stripers by purchasing pinafores, caps and awards for the volunteers.

Present at the event were candy stripers and their families, hospital administrators, members of the hospital nursing staff and the Garrett County BPW.

Crellin Assembly Slates Revivals

Revival meetings will be held at the Crellin Assembly of God Church from May 23 through June 1, according to the Rev. Ray Beahm, pastor. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. and will also be held Sunday mornings at the regular service time.

The Rev. James Hilliard, Shenandoah, Va., will be conducting these special services. This will be Rev. Hilliard's fourth visit to the Crellin Assembly of God Church.

The services will include special music. The public is invited.

Two Persons Hurt In Auto Mishap

Two persons were injured in a one-car accident Friday evening on the New Germany Road.

Glenda Eilene McKenzie, 21, Grantsville, and a passenger in her car, Michelle Lowry, 19, Salisbury, were taken to the Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, following the mishap.

According to Maryland State Police, Ms. McKenzie was traveling northbound along the New Germany Road when she topped the crest of a hill in the center of the highway. An unidentified vehicle was approaching the hill traveling south. When the McKenzie vehicle swerved back to the proper side of the road, she lost control, skidded off the roadway, and hit a tree.

Northern Rescue Squad and the Grantsville Fire Department responded to the scene.

The 1970 Ford Torino was estimated a total loss.

Former Resident Celebrates 93rd Birthday Recently

Miss Mary Rebecca Thayer, Wooster, Ohio, native and former resident of Oakland, celebrated her 93rd birthday on April 30.

Miss Thayer studied at Western Maryland College and Cornell University, receiving her Ph.D. from Cornell. She taught at Vassar for four years before moving to Wooster, where she was a professor of English at the College of Wooster for 37 years. She retired in 1955.

Miss Thayer was honored with a birthday party at West View Manor, where she is a resident.

She is a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Wooster; the Wooster Branch of the American Association of University Women and Classics Club, as well as several national organizations, including the National English Association. She is still an avid reader and her friends make routine trips to the local library to check out books for her.

Miss Thayer is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Elisabeth Thayer, Oakland.

County Initiates State Program To Save Farmland

Garrett County is among seven counties in Maryland entering into the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation program this year.

The program was instituted in the state one year ago in an effort to prevent the decline in state prime farmland.

The national trend of decreasing farmland has concerned many experts. They have estimated that 12 square miles of American farmland are converted to nonagricultural uses every day, totaling three million acres a year. Journalist George Anthan wrote "Our population is growing, our available farmland is shrinking, and our per acre crop yields are leveling off."

Experts are concerned that the end result of the decline in farmland will be an eventual decrease in production which will increase food prices to American consumers and prevent the United States from using agricultural products in foreign trade or from helping to feed starving people abroad. The inability to use agricultural products in foreign trade would mean the U.S. would have difficulty offsetting massive trade deficits, such as payments for foreign oil. Ultimately, say experts, it could mean a food shortage in the U.S.

In Maryland, farmland has decreased from over 6 million acres several years ago to 2.6 million acres now. A 1974 agricultural census report showed Garrett County farmland had decreased 44 percent since 1959.

Recognizing that the supply of farmland is limited, many states have implemented farmland preservation programs.

The Maryland Program, enacted by the 1977 General Assembly, is a two-step approach to preserving farmland. The first step provides for farmers to voluntarily place their land in an Agricultural Preservation District. The second step offers the farmer the chance to sell his development rights easements to the state Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation.

The benefit to the farmer is not only will he have the assurance that his property will be used for agriculture in the future but also that property will be free from the imposition of "nuisance laws" by the county. It will also be protected from encroachment by urban and industrial development.

For farmers to participate in the program, their county must be certified by the state. To be certified, a county must adopt an ordinance prohibiting nuisance laws.

Another requirement of each county is the establishment of a five-member advisory board. That board and the county planning commission are the initial contacts for a farmer who wishes to have his property entered into a district.

The process for the first step of the program is as follows:

The farmer files a petition which is reviewed by the advisory board and the planning commission. If one or both recommends it be approved it goes to the county commissioners, the commissioners hold a public hearing to review the petition. Based on the outcome of the hearing, the commissioners will either reject the petition or recommend it to the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation, the State Secretary of Agriculture and the State Treasurer. If these three unanimously approve the petition the farmer's property is recorded as an agricultural district; if only one disapproves it, the petition is rejected.

Once accepted, the farmer then becomes eligible to offer to sell development rights easements to the Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation. Foundation representatives point out that the farmer who sells the development rights easement on his land "gives up only one right to his property." He owns all other rights to his land including his right to sell it or pass it along to his family.

Since the program began in Maryland, 41 districts have been established in eight counties: Anne Arundel, Caroline, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Harford, Howard, and St. Mary's Counties.

Petitions requesting the establishment of additional districts are presently being processed in Baltimore, Calvert, Charles, Garrett, Montgomery, Talbot, and Washington Counties.

The Foundation expects to have acquired 15 of the 16 farms for which development right easement sale offers have been made.

The Garrett County Agricultural Preservation Advisory Board has reviewd and recommended two petitions for establishment of districts in the Pleasant Valley area. The planning commission also recommended the two petitions to the commissioners.

Members of the advisory board are: chairman, Claude Wagner; vice chairman, George Bishoff; Carolyn Ganoe, Herbert Myers, and Cecil Kight. Affiliate members are: Tim Dugan, county planning director; James McHenry, county extension agent; John Reckner, Jr., district conservationist; and Shawn Sanders, district manager.

The Foundation, part of the Maryland Department of Agriculture, has received easement funding from the General Assembly totaling $5 million. The latest funding appropriations were allocated by action of the 1980 session of the legislature and totaled $3 million coming from the state's open space program. Earlier sessions of the legislature had provided $2 million in easement purchase funding.

In addition, local governments have tentatively committed more than $2.5 million in matching funds for easement acquisition in the coming year.

Commenting on the program's progress and importance, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley said, "It is this generation of Maryland farmers who are asked to voluntarily make a commitment to saving our agricultural land resources. . .to keep productive land open so that agriculture may be continued in future generations as a vital industry, and as an indispensible way of life."

Farmers' Price Index Declining

The Index of Prices Received by Maryland farmers for all commodities on April 15 decreased by four percent from mid-March. At mid-April, the index was 199 percent of the 1967 base compared with 207 percent a month earlier and 215 percent a year earlier. The index of all crops, at 211 percent of the base, was down two percent from last month and also two percent from April 1979. The livestock and livestock products index was five percent below last month and ten percent below a year earlier.

Average prices paid by Maryland farmers for feed were down or unchanged from a month earlier for all but three of the selected feeds. Only bran, broiler feed and cottonseed meal were higher in price. Compared with a year earlier, soybean meal and 32 percent dairy feed were down and 18 percent dairy feed was unchanged from mid-April, 1979.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Navy Chief Machinist's Mate Edward J. Palmer, Jr., whose wife, Elizabeth, is the daughter of Alfred and Doris Dannenmann, Deer Park, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

The Good Conduct Medal signifies faithful and obedient service during a four-year period. To earn it, Navy enlisted men and women must achieve and maintain a satisfactory level of performance and an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

Palmer is currently serving aboard the frigate USS Glover, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

Sgt. Ralph E. Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Custer, Route 2, Swanton, recently was assigned to the 17th Cavalry at Fort Campbell, Ky.

WHAT'S NEWS IN SHAG?

Variety is the word when we speak of shag carpeting. Although shag continues to be one of the most popular styles of carpeting on the market, there are now a multitude of types from which to choose.

We aren't seeing much of the very long, thin yarn used so much when shag carpeting was first introduced. The trend is toward denser, fatter shags. You can now purchase a shag that has varied pile lengths . . . these two or more level shags are richly textured to add greater interest to a room. You might have seen the shag made to resemble plush carpeting. It's short and dense . . . perfect for "dressing up" a room and adding a touch of elegance.

Of course, you can purchase shag in two-tones, multi-colors and the new printed patterns. Whichever you prefer, you'll find that your shag carpet will add comfort underfoot and bring a cozy atmosphere to any room in your home.

Shag carpeting is easy to clean and is marvelous for hiding dirt and soil. If this is the kind of carpet you've been looking for, shag is your answer. Roderick's has a fantastic selection of shags at reasonable prices. COME IN TODAY.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Thanks Dad, Thanks Mom

As a freshman I was too scared of flunking to think about what my parents had done to make college possible. As a sophomore trying to decide my major, I was too busy for gratitude. As a junior cramming for mid-years — there wasn't time for sentimental thoughts . . .

But with my senior year coming to its thrilling climax — there's nothing I want to say more than THANKS DAD. THANKS MOM.

Then during our baccalaureate service an awesome thought gripped me. Not only have my parents given me my education . . . they have given me my faith as well.

My quest for a college degree began in nursery school and kindergarten. It was just about that time when these same wonderful parents brought me to what would soon become OUR CHURCH.

My quest for a strong, sure faith began where it does so often — in the BEGINNER'S Department.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ALL THINGS NEW

Lesson for May 25, 1980

Background Scripture: Revelation 21 through 22.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 65:17-25.

An author friend of mine, a writer with many popular books to his credit, was planning to edit a book about the apocalyptic trend in current religion. He wrote me a letter and asked me to write a chapter about apocalyptic developments in the United Methodist Church. I replied, "Well, I'll be glad to research the subject a bit, but I suspect I'm going to find that, denominationally speaking, at least, there aren't any 'apocalyptic developments' about which to write." My research subsequently proved this statement correct.

Rev. Althouse

It has been my observation that, for the most part, on the subject of the apocalypse — the historical Day of the Lord when the final struggle between good and evil takes place — most churches fall into one of two groups: (1) Those that ignore it, and (2) those that ignore virtually everything else. Both groups look at each other in uncomprehending dismay and indignation, wondering how the other group can be so far off the scriptural track.

Wipe Away Every Tear

It is probably another class case of "throwing out the baby with the bathwater." Because of the extremities of many who have espoused the apocalyptic perspective, many Christians have perhaps overreacted by avoiding the subject altogether. I understand and can identify with this group, the majority of Christians. As presented by many apocalyptics, the message is one of gore and gloom. These people often seem to revel in the fire and destruction they see coming upon everyone else. They remind me of Johnathan Swift's famous rhyme:

"We are God's chosen few,
All others will be damned;
There's no room in here
for you,
We can't have Heaven
crammed!"

Yet, when we read the Book of Revelation, we find that, among the dire predictions there is an even more prominent message of hope and comfort. The writer of Revelation does not glory in woeful predictions, but in wonderful promises of vindicated faith:

"Behold the dwelling of God is with men . . . He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning or crying nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away . . . Behold, I make all things new" (21:3-5).

The writing of John is poetic and prophetic. It is not the language of the historian or the scientist and therefore speaks to inspire rather than to communicate facts. So we do not know when this day will be — whether historical or personal, actual or symbolic. All we need to know is the bottom line: "Behold, I make all things new!"

WHERE DOES YOUR HEALTH DOLLAR GO?

On a national scale, in 1977, the most recent year for which there are statistics, it shows that a day in the hospital costs an average of $174, a physician visit costs an average of $25.73 and a prescription costs an average of $5.25. Following your physician's advice and taking the prescriptions that are prescribed can help cut down on additional visits to your doctor and possible avoid costly hospitalization.

Your pharmacy dollar is still a good value. Our pharmacy concentrates its efforts on medicines, health-aids and sickroom needs.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Emma Robinson Named Innkeeper At Holiday Inn

An announcement was made recently by Thomas E. Schroyer, owner and operator of the Grantsville Holiday Inn, that Emma Robinson was promoted Friday, April 11, to Innkeeper.

Ms. Robinson has been employed by the Grantsville Inn since its opening last September. She has served as mixologist, bar manager, and food and beverage manager.

As innkeeper, Ms. Robinson is in charge of personnel, sales, arranging parties, banquets and receptions. Her duties will include providing accommodations, setting the trend for the menu and insuring customer satisfaction.

Emma is the daughter of Edward and Grace Bennett, Ridgeley, W. Va. She attended Keyser High School and Allegany Community College, where she majored in art. She also spent a short time in Paris, France, as part of her art studies. She enjoys working in oils and specialized in abstracts and portraits.

She will be receiving additional training at the Holiday Inn University in Memphis, Tenn., in October when she will go there for approximately one month of management training. When she completes the course, she will be a certified Innkeeper.

Ms. Robinson has three children.

Local Student Places In Photo Contest

Berea College freshman Mark Mateer of Oakland won the second place prize in the photography contest held during Labor Day festivities at Berea.

Mateer, a business major, won the award for his photo of a student working at the Broomcraft Industry. He works as a photographer at the college news bureau.

Forest, Park Service Slates Photo Contest

Amateur photographers are encouraged by the Maryland Forest and Park Service to enter the second annual Forest and Park photography contest. Entries will be accepted by mail from June 2, 1980 through September 19, 1980. All photos must have been taken in a Maryland State forest or a Maryland State Park since July 1, 1979.

In addition to a grand prize, prizes are being awarded in the four contest categories. The four categories are:

People—showing people using a park or forest. Names and addresses of all recognizable persons must be submitted.

Scenery—landscape views showing a total scene rather than a specific object.

Plants—featuring plants growing in a park or forest or specific details of a plant.

Animals—featuring an animal which lives in a park or forest. Pictures of pets are not eligible.

This contest is strictly for amateur photographers. An amateur is defined as anyone who does not make more than one-half of his/her yearly salary from taking and selling photographs. Employees of the Maryland Forest and Park Services are not eligible. Entries can be prints (black and white or color) or slide transparencies. Minimum size for all prints is 5"x7". Matted prints are acceptable but no framed or glassed entries will be accepted. Entries can be returned after the contest if a stamped self-addressed envelope is provided.

Complete contest rules and entry agreements are available in each state park and state forest and the Department of Natural Resources Regional Service Centers located in Bel Air, Cumberland, Laurel and Salisbury. They can also be obtained by writing:

Photography Contest, Maryland Forest and Park Services, Tawes State Office Building, 580 Taylor Avenue, Annapolis, MD 21401, or by phoning (301) 269-3761.

Commission On Aging Planning Contests, Picnics

The Garrett County Commission on Aging has announced some of the activities planned for this summer for Garrett County Senior Citizens.

"Due to the cost of gasoline, the Commission on Aging will sponsor two separate picnics and two fishing contests, so more people can attend these events," explained Mrs. Marilyn Metheny, Executive Director, Garrett County Commission on Aging.

The fishing contest for the southern part of the county will be held Wednesday, May 28, 1980, at Herrington Manor State Park.

Reservations must be made by Friday, May 23, by calling 334-3314 or signing up at one of the 12 Senior Citizens Hot Meals Centers.

The contest in the northern area will be at New Germany State Park on June 4. Reservations must be made by June 2, 1980, by calling 245-4204 or 895-5498.

Registration will be $1.00 per person. Anyone 60 or over and their spouse may participate. Prizes will be awarded in several catagories in each contest. Lunch will be provided.

New Germany will also be the site of a picnic sponsored by the Commission on July 2. Herrington Manor will host the picnic for the southern half of the county, July 16.

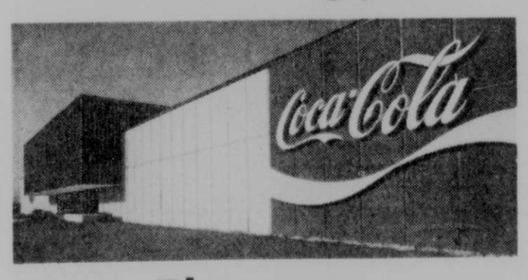

Reservations must be made by calling 245-4204 or 895-5498 for New Germany by June 2. Reservations for Herrington Manor should be made by July 14 by calling 334-3314. Senior Citizens may also sign up at one of the meal centers. Registration is $.50. Games, prizes and lunch will be provided.

"We really appreciate the cooperation of the staff at the two state parks. Without them we could not have these events for our Senior Citizens," Mrs. Metheny said.

Bad Check Cases Head Court Docket

Worthless check charges headed the Garrett County District Court Docket this week. One county resident was charged with five separate bad check incidents.

Wanda Jayne Cline, 19, Oakland, was charged with issuing a worthless check in the amount of $27.78 to obtain goods and merchandise from Heck's Dept. Store. The defendant was found guilty, and fined $10.

In a second case, Ms. Cline was charged by Rich Total Discount Foods with issuing worthless checks in the amount of $31.28 and $19.32 on February 15 and February 17. Judge Lewis R. Jones found the defendant guilty on both counts, and issued a fine of $10 for each charge.

In the third case, a complaint was filed against Ms. Cline by Rudy's Bargain Center, Oakland in connection with a worthless check issued to the establishment in the amount of $30.38 drawn on an account which had been closed. The check had been issued for goods on February 28. Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and levied a $10 fine.

A final charge of issuing a worthless check in the amount of $15.55 was filed against Ms. Cline by Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmay. The check was written to obtain goods, and drawn against a closed account. Judge Jones found the defendant guilty, and issued a $10 fine.

In a separate incident, a charge of issuing a worthless check was filed against Helen Wilson, 37, Lonaconing, by Dolores Raynovich, Oakland.

According to the complainant, Ms. Wilson wrote a bad check in the amount of $57 to Dee Ann's Dress Shop to obtain merchandise and cash. The defendant was found guilty by Judge Lewis R. Jones and fined $10.

A charge of destruction of property was brought against David Edwin Liller, 19, Crellin, by Deputy Charles P. Nolan, Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

According to the complainant, Liller wilfully destroyed a door, the property of Glenda Guthrie, Crellin.

Judge Lewis R. Jones found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $250.

In another destruction of property case, two men from Meyersdale, Pa. were charged by Jerry Fritz, Grantsville, with intentionally destroying two pool cues valued at $30 while patrons at the Long Stretch Lounge.

Brian Scott Weimer, 20, and Richard Lee Kearns, 19, were found guilty by Judge Jones. Each man was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The sentences were suspended, and each man was placed on 12 months unsupervised probation.

A third man, William L. Bucy, 20, Meyersdale, Pa., charged in the case, failed to appear in court. A bench warrant was issued by Judge Jones.

Former Resident Receives Degree

Mrs. Karen (Markel) Howser, Walkersville, (formerly of McHenry) received her Masters Degree in Biology from Hood College, Frederick, on Saturday, May 17.

The theme of her Masters Degree is 'The Effects of Acid Precipitation Upon the Hatching Rate of the Egg.'

Mrs. Howser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Deal, McHenry, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel S. Williams.

She is a 1968 graduate of Northern High School, and a 1972 graduate of Frostburg State College. Mrs. Howser is a biology teacher at Walkersville High School, and is currently on maternity leave, having just given birth to her third daughter.

Library Presents Movie "Roberta"

The Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland, will present the film "Roberta" this Monday, May 26, at 7 p.m. This the last film in the Spring Film Festival.

"Roberta" 1935, is from a stage musical by Otto Harbach, starring Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. The musical romance is about an All-American football hero's adventures in Paris.

Songs by Jerome Kern, included in the film, are "Lovely to Look At," "Yesterdays," and "Smoke gets in your Eyes."

Admission to the film is free of charge.

DNR Makes Plea For Young Wildlife

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Administration today issued its annual request: "Please Do Not Pick Up Young Wildlife."

The plea is made each Spring in the hope that needless loss and suffering of young-of-the-year creatures might be avoided.

This is the time when many young animals and birds are most apt to be seen, and most apt to be misjudged as "abandoned."

In the overwhelming majority of such instances the parent animals are hidden nearby, perhaps frightened by human approach, according to the DNR.

Persons seeing baby animals or birds in their natural habitat should leave the vicinity as quickly as possible, without picking up or "adopting" the youngsters.

The parent animal will resume the care of its young as soon as the human intrusion ends, the DNR said.

It's a simple case of "Look, but please don't touch!" the DNR concluded.

VA Expenditures Top $300 Million

Expenditures by the Veterans Administration in Maryland during fiscal 1979 topped $301 million, the highest in state history, according to the Administration.

VA Regional Office Director John W. Rue said that funding for agency programs in the state last year was more than $11 million over 1978, even though spending for GI Bill enrollments was down $9.2 million.

"Readjustment benefits under the GI Bill are following a national pattern that is due simply to fewer remaining Vietnam Era veterans who have not used the program or who are no longer eligible," Mr. Rue said. An increase in VA compensation and pension programs of almost $13 million to eligibles in the state more than offset that drop, according to Mr. Rue.

Overall agency spending in Maryland is expected to increase again this year due to expanded medical services and increased benefit payments.

An estimated 629,000 veterans live in Maryland. In addition to the VA regional office and an outpatient clinic in downtown Baltimore, residents are served by agency medical centers on Loch Raven Boulevard in Baltimore City, Fort Howard in eastern Baltimore County, and at Perry Point in Cecil County. The agency also maintains the three National Cemeteries located in Maryland.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

FRATERNAL QUESTION — We have been sitting around talking about relatives who are in show business, and the talk got to Jim Arness. We can't remember his brother's name and we are also wondering if either of them used the real family name. — Going Crazy, Little Rock, Ark.

You can put the brake on going crazy. Peter Graves is Arness' brother, and he used a name that was in the family, but not the family name, which is Aurness. All Jim did was simplify the spelling. Here's some trivia for you: Did you know that Peter auditioned for the role of Matt Dillon on "Gunsmoke," but was rejected because he was a blonde. Then Arness auditioned and got the part. The irony is the family is blond, and so was Jim. But his hair was dyed for the role.

MISSING SHADOW — Why did they kill Jackson on "The White Shadow"? — George Jackson, Chicago, Ill.

Basically, some of the lads on the show were getting too big and too old to be high school students. It was decided to get "rid" of them creatively. Eric Kilpatrick played Jackson. Also, if the series is renewed for next season, Mark Tinker, the co-producer, says Ken Michelan, Ira Angustain, Nathan Cook and Thomas Carter (they play Goldstein, Gomez, Reese and Hayward) will also be written out. Carter is already signed to direct some episodes; that is, if there are some episodes to direct.

THE SHADOW HIMSELF — How tall is Ken Howard, who plays "The White Shadow"? And where is he from? — Joan Black, Lubbock, Texas

Very. He is 6-foot-6 and was born in El Centro, Calif. However, he grew up in the East and is a Yale Drama School graduate. He came to prominence as Thomas Jefferson in the Broadway musical, "1776."

DOG-GONE IT — Where can I write to Boomer, the dog from the show "Here's Boomer"? — Brian Matthews, Chicago, Ill.

I hate to tell you this, but Boomer can't read. I have some very smart dogs and they can't read either. But you can still write him a letter in care of NBC-TV, Burbank, CA 91505. Someone will read the letter and perhaps Boomer will ask them to send you a paw-tographed photo.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

'DOOL' has shake-up, celebs on daytime TV

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — "Days of Our Lives" has added a host of new characters and actors to its roster, some of which have already aired, and some of which will have debuted by the time you read this column.

Included in the newcomers' list are William Joyce as Ambassador Kallam Chandler, Gloria Loring and Brett Williams as Chandler's daughter, Liz Courtney, and son, Todd Chandler, respectively. Stephen Brooks portrays Joshua Fallon, Jean Bruce Scott as Jessice Blake, Deborah Dalton as Cassie Burns and Dianne Harper as Leslie James. Yet to leave the show is Richard Guthrie as David Banning.

Back on the East Coast, "Ryan's Hope" did it again by bringing the eminent celebrity faces of none other than Otto Preminger, Van Johnson, Shelly Smith and Betsy Palmer to daytime TV for guest shots during the opening of Delia's Crystal Palace nightery.

Candice Earley (Donna Tyler on "All My Children") returned from a trip to England just in time to fly home and appear in her hometown's production of "Bells Are Ringing." Every summer Candi returns to Lawton, Okla., to participate in the community theater's summer production as a thank-you gesture to the community that has contributed to her enormous success in showbiz. And, if you would like to attend a June fan club gathering for Candi, contact her club president Arlyne Zinstein, 917 Armstrong Blvd., Ocean, NJ 07712, for further information on fees and itinerary.

Joining "The Doctors" in the role of Greta Powers is daytime newcomer Gracie Harrison. Gracie replaces Jennifer Holton, who opted to leave the show.

Another surprise exit from daytime drama was that of Kelly Wood as Mary Ellison on "As the World Turns." We're sure that Kelly, who also has a successful nightclub act with co-star Dennis Cooney (Jay Stallings) won't be absent from the daytime scene for long.

(Have a question about soap operas? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10017.)

Newsweek byliners (clockwise) George F. Will, Jane Bryant Quinn, Tom Mathews and Pete Anthelm will provide background information on the premiere segment of PBS's "Cover Story" series.

Sinatra settling down; Priscilla has beau

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Frank Sinatra's habits are changing. The man's now walking matrimony's yellow brick road. Gone is the entourage, now it's dinners for two with the missus ... Priscilla Presley and a gent named Michael Edwards are very close, and they don't care who knows it, according to the help at the Park Lane Hotel ... Actor Barry Nelson is the latest to paste together a biography. All about his loves and lovers. It should be as thrilling as Amy Carter's report card ... Hey, there's a book out now for cannibals called "How To Serve Your Fellow Man."

Lilli Palmer, who was part of the cast of thousands who were once wed to Rex Harrison, is looking to grab a Broadway show ... TV's "Taxi" hotshot, Andy Kaufman, is shooting an NBC pilot for the '81 season ... Ricardo Montalban is doing a two-day shoot for two 30-second spots for Maxwell House.

Dustin Hoffman: "People call me difficult. I think I'm really very nice" ... Barbra Streisand: "I studied ballet as a kid, but my mother made me give it up. My legs were so skinny she was afraid they'd break" ... Tatum O'Neal, 16, and Leif Garrett, 18, a-courtin' and a-romancin'. You think they do what older folk do? Elizabeth Taylor Hilton Wilding Todd Fisher Burton Burton Warner demanded to be billed in her next film, "The Mirror Cracked," as Elizabeth Taylor Warner. Listen, we're lucky. She could've insisted on her FULL name! ... Alana Hamilton, who shoved George Hamilton to marry Rod Stewart, is floating around New York. Looks pretty good ... Pam Dawber, the Mindy of "Mork and Mindy," will be married come June. The groom's a model.

Amy wanted to invite Erik Estrada and Robin Williams to the White House, but her father (whose name escapes me) refused. Guess he doesn't know anything about them, either ... Dyan Cannon found director Jerry Schatzberg who once-upon-a-time played potsy with Faye Dunaway ... To keep skinny, "Wonder Woman" Lynda Carter's showing what a wonder she really is. The woman's eating one meal a day ... Definition of a cannibal: Person who loves his fellow man — with gravy.

TV TATTLE

Scholars in the Arts, a program designed by Educational Testing Service and supported by artists and civic leaders, recognizes young artistic talent. Young artists say, "It's about time." The arts in this country are given a low financial priority and are usually the first program slashed in a school's shrinking budget. (This fact was underscored by ETS's promotion staff, who saw that editors were reluctant to cover a cultural-news event.) But the news is approximately 20 high-school students, among 107 finalists and 2,062 applicants, will receive a medallion from the president of the United States. Since 1964, only Presidential Scholars in academics had been honored. Kitty Carlisle Hart, chairman of the New York State Council on the Arts, commended the government for having the foresight to support the arts. Performers Melissa Hayden and Claudette Sorrell, who were two of the judges, both agreed that soon "we won't have to go to Europe for the arts. Europe will come here." One student, who is a finalist in acting, said that it was more difficult performing in front of her peers than the judges. "Everyone helped each other learn lines. We wanted the best from each other," she said. Student artists enjoyed meeting each other. Too often, they admitted, they feel "different" and misunderstood. The arts program gives them recognition and a peer-group network.

Real change

Five months of location filming in Japan for "Shogun," NBC's upcoming 12-hour mini-series, taught director Jerry London that patience is indeed a virtue. Besides a couple of typhoons, language problems with a mostly Japanese cast and crew and a grueling 130-day shooting schedule, London realized that the Japanese don't make pictures "the way we do. They are very, very methodical and they spend up to a year making one two-hour movie. We were shooting, in a very real sense, six two-hour movies in five months!"

Best Pals

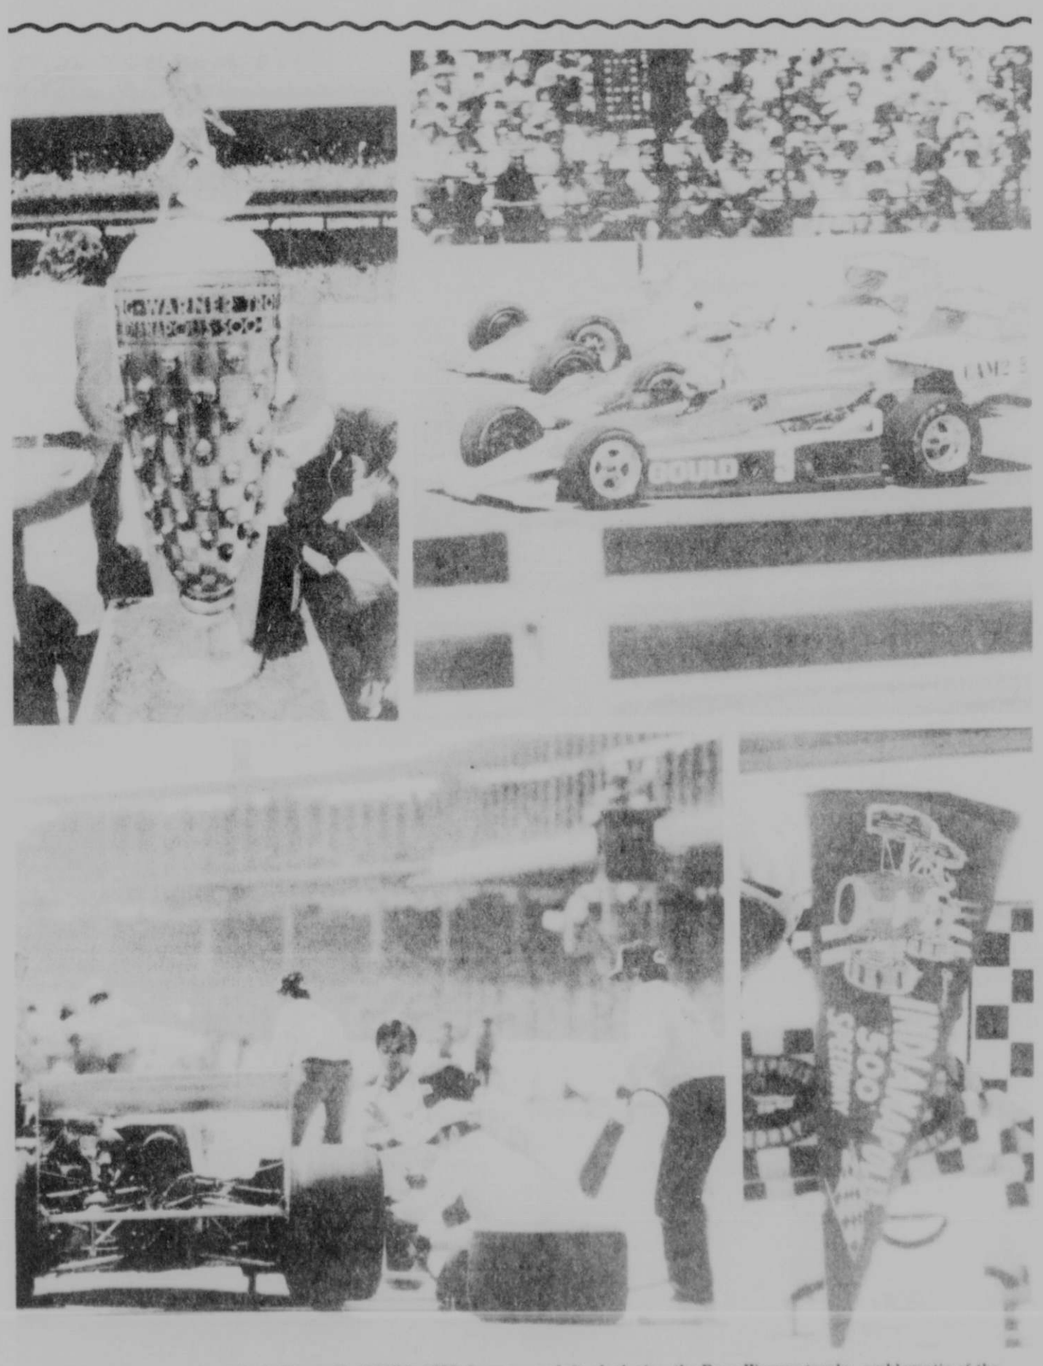

Creator and producer of NBC's "Big Show" assumes a big task on the show each week. Not only does he pass out water to thirsty members of the studio audience, but he chooses the talent for each week's program. "I want to appeal to all 1,200 Nielsen homes," said Vanoff. "We try to book people who are unique and present them in an inventive and creative way." He enjoys pairing guests who have previously enjoyed working together. For instance, on a recent show, he matched Gene Kelly and Nancy Walker, who are best friends.

FRIDAY

As members of his Muslim entourage solemnly look on, Muhammad Ali (playing himself) launches into one of his fmous press conferences as amused reporters take notes, in "The Greatest," Friday, May 23, on NBC.

IN FOCUS

Newsweek byliners are featured in PBS series

In this country, the future has usually been linked to the idea of progress: Tomorrow would surely be better. And, says Newsweek's Tom Mathews, despite the severity of contemporary problems, progress should remain an energizing notion.

"I don't think the idea of progress is chimerical," says Mathews, the magazine's deputy foreign editor. "The most worrisome thing is that our country seems uncertain of progess. The future itself, the belief in the future, is fundamental to our concept of America."

Mathews and four of his Newsweek colleagues are featured in "Your Future Isn't What It Used To Be," the premiere show in the new public affairs series called "Cover Story," produced by WQED-Pittsburgh in association with Newsweek magazine. Also playing important roles in the show are economic columnist Jane Bryant Quinn, political analyst George F. Will, columnist Pete Axthelm and senior writer Merrill Sheils. The hour-long show premieres Monday, May 26, over PBS. (Check local listings.)

Mathews, in his 11 years with Newsweek, has written more than two dozen cover stories for the magazine, including pieces on the People's Temple mass suicide in Guyana, the hostages in Iran and the trial of Patty Hearst. He warns that we may be entering what he calls "The Era of Limitations."

"In the United States," Mathews says, "we've always been taught that if we had the will and the people, the possibilities were unlimited. But today, those limits are being defined. We find we're limited in energy, in living space, open land, clean air, clean rivers. We're colliding with the harsh reality of these increasing and ferocious limits. Facing up to that reality is going to test our courage and ingenuity."

In good times and bad, man has often tried to predict the future, with results sometimes foolish, sometimes remarkably accurate. In one of "Your Future's" segments, Axthelm reviews the predictions of the 16th-century astronomer, Nostradamus. Among them: that France would be swept by revolution, that someone named Louis Pasteur would found an institution, that Germany would someday have a leader named ... Hister.

Axthelm, the author of five books, has written on topics as diverse as Nadia Comaneci and the Son of Sam. But he is perhaps best known for the literate sports columns. Fittingly, Axthelm presents his piece from a modern emporium of production — a betting parlor.

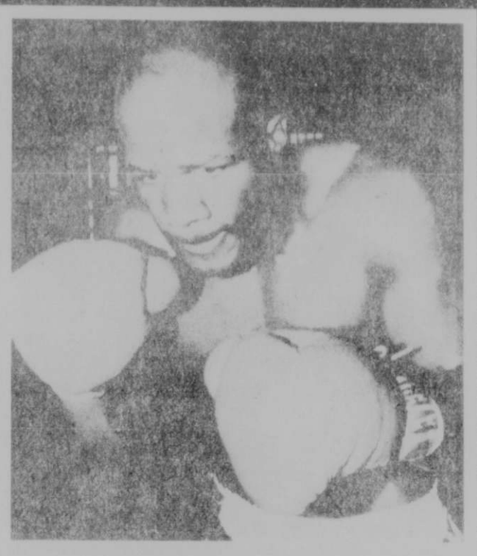

One thing that is certain about our future is that America will be older. By the year 2029, the median age in this country will peak at 38. Quinn, a contributing editor of Newsweek and a syndicated columnist whose "Staying Ahead" appears in more than 100 newspapers, envisions major changes in our retirement and pension laws. But in her analysis on "Your Future," she also suggests that the Graying of America could have a profound impact on our very system of resource distribution.

"There will be a continual push on the government to spend more and more money on older people," says Quinn, who also serves as a correspondent for CBS News. "Older people feel they can depend on the government. But young people feel more self-sufficient, and that could lead to tension over how big government should be."

Can there indeed be progress in an era of limitations? Will, who won the 1976 Pulitizer Prize for commentary and whose syndicated column appears in more than 300 newspapers, delivers an eloquent essay in which he speculates that the future won't be any more shocking than the past.

"It's a complex question," Will says, "and it really depends on how you define the issues. Some problems don't change very much, but that doesn't mean there's no such thing in progress. The study of the future is useful. It's also useful to take those studies with about three-and-a-half grains of salt. It's a matter of keeping your perspective."

SUNDAY

Undefeated light heavyweight James Scott, an ex-con forced to pursue his boxing career from within Rahway (N.J.) State Prison, will tangle with Jerry "Bull" Martin in a 10-rounder on NBC's "SportsWorld," Sunday, May 25. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

STARVIEW

From actor to director — and back again

By RUTH THOMPSON

The question won't go away. How does a director get his or her start? One answer: springboard (now and then, or for good) from acting.

Two years ago, Patrick O'Neal and Robert Halmi did their first television special together, "Calloway's Climb," with O'Neal starring and doing stunts that seasoned mountaineers would frown on. Halmi, the producer was delighted. "Tell me what you want to do next and it's yours," he volunteered.

"I didn't think he really understood me when I said, 'I want to direct,' but he said, 'It's yours,'" recalls O'Neal. And for three more syndicated Liberty Mutual specials their partnership has been on a producer-and-director basis. Their newest, "Wilson's Reward," based on a Somerset Maugham story, is scheduled to air around the United States the week of June 21. (Sandy Dennis stars.)

Does O'Neal think most actors want to direct? Not necessarily. "But it can be exhilirating for everybody. I did a 'Columbo' the first time Peter Falk directed. It was great because he understood actors."

O'Neal's tone was mellow. England's John Gorrie reached much the same conclusion as O'Neal ... but his tone was biting.

Gorrie, who directed two of the BBC's Shakespeare plays this season ("Twelfth Night" and "The Tempest") told us, "I was an actor for five years. I felt I could direct better than the people who were directing me."

Unlike Patrick O'Neal, who plans to act again when he can find the time, Gorrie has closed out the acting part of his career. His is a minority choice.

There are also those who want to do it all: write, direct and star. On the big screen, Sylvester "Rocky" Stallone, is the reigning champ. A compulsive worker.

The current champion workaholic of the home screen is probably Michael Landon, who though he doesn't write, direct and star in every episode week in and week out, does get his share of multiple credits several times a season with "Little House on the Prairie" and an occasional special besides.

Alan Alda probably writes, directs and acts in as many "M.A.S.H." episodes as Landon does of his show, but since "M.A.S.H." is half the length of "Little House," shooting time is shorter.

Starring in a series, in fact, is where the clout comes from for a number of actors who want to have their cake and eat it, too. Raymond Burr, back in his "Ironside" days, put it well. "I like the broad canvas once in a while, so I have it in my contract that I can direct. But I think the show would suffer were I to do it except on occasions when my character doesn't dominate the script."

The option of directing occasionally was the lure dangled before Nancy Walker when she was hesitant about signing up for series acting jobs. At the time, her salty humor was such a show-saver that she had running parts on both "Rhoda" and "McMillan and Wife." This year, except for her paper towel commercials, she's busy almost full time directing feature movies.

Hal Linden appears to share the Burr viewpoint and directs several "Barney Miller" episodes per season. And at least two other "Barney Miller stalwarts, one hears, crave the same privilege: Max "Wojo" Gail and Ron Glass, who plays the excessively dapper Detective Harris.

TV PEOPLE

Bob Hope celebrates another on the tube

A gala 77th birthday tribute to Bob Hope on NBC with Diana Ross, teen idol Andy Gibb, "WKRP in Cincinnati" beauty Loni Anderson, country singer Barbara Mandrell and ice skaters Randy Gardner and Tai Babilonia will originate from the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. The 90-minute spectacular, "Bob Hope's All-Star Comedy Birthday Party at the Air Force Academy: A USO Salute," will air Wednesday, May 28.

The special will be

highlighted by a lavish show in the Falcon Stadium, where Hope, Ross, Gibb, Anderson and Mandrell will perform before an audience of 50,000.

Gardner and Babilonia, in their first professional appearance on a network television special, will do a skating routine on the ice rink at the Air Force Academy. The two were considered top contenders for gold medal honors in the 1980 Winter Olympics until they had to withdraw when Gardner suffered an injury. They have now turned professional and have signed a contract with the Ice Capades.

Diana Ross, the most popular female singer of the past 20 years, has sung lead vocal on 16 number-one records since 1964 — 12 as lead singer of The Supremes and four as a solo artist. Only the Beatles and Elvis Presley have had more top records.

Andy Gibb, the youngest of the Gibb brothers (the Bee Gees) is a top recording artist in his own right. He has had three number-one singles and has two songs on the current Hot 100, "Desire" and a duet with Olivia Newton-John, "I Can't Help It."

Loni Anderson has been winning fans with her performance as the bright and beautiful Jennifer on "WKRP" in Cincinnati." She also stars as Jayne Mansfield in an upcoming television biography.

Barbara Mandrell has had a succession of chart-topping hits on the country charts. Her top 10 singles include "Sleeping Single in a Double Bed," "Fooled by a Feeling" and "(If Loving You Is Wrong) I Don't Want to Be Right."

This will be the third consecutive year that NBC has televised a birthday salute to Hope. In 1978, his 75th birthday celebration was held at the Kennedy Center Opera House in Washington, D.C., under the auspices of the USO. In 1979, he celebrated his 76th birthday aboard the USS Iwo Jima, a helicopter carrier anchored in New York Harbor.

MONDAY

David Keith, as an American athlete, and Stephanie Zimbalist, as a Soviet gymnast, meet and fall in love, in "Golden Moment," a two-part NBC drama that concludes Monday, May 26. (Part 1 airs Sunday, May 25)

Near death, Effie Webb (Dorothy McGuire) urges her former orphan charge turned physician (Lindsay Wagner, l.) to learn mountain medicine from Granny Arrowroot (Jane Wyman), in "The Incredible Journey of Doctor Meg Laurel," Wednesday, May 28, on CBS. (REPEAT) (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

The American Ballet Theater's full-length production of "La Bayadere," staged by Natalia Makarova, will be televised "Live From Lincoln Center" Wednesday, May 28, on PBS. In many areas the ballet will be simulcast in stereo. The new production of "La Bayadere" had its world premiere at Lincoln Center's Metropolitan Opera House on May 21. It is choreographed by Miss Makarova after Marius Petipa. Ludwig Minkus' score was specially arranged by John Lanchbery, who will conduct the ABT Orchestra.

OUTLINE MAP OF GARRETT COUNTY
BY ASSESSMENT DISTRICTS

STATE DEPARTMENT OF ASSESSMENTS AND TAXATION
301 WEST PRESTON STREET
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND
21201

According to the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation, for assessment purposes, the law requires that all properties be physically reviewed at least once every three years. The shaded areas of the above map depict those locations which are scheduled for such a review during 1980.

Maryland's assessing system is based on a three-year cycle in which one-third of all property is reviewed every year. This method, commonly called triennial assessments, is the result of changes made to the assessing law in 1979. All property is physically reviewed at least once in each three-year map depict those locations which are scheduled for such a review during 1980, and assessors will be working in these districts.

Property owners desiring more detailed information on the assessment or the physical review may write, call, or visit their local assessment office.

ALPs Offered Through County School System

The Garrett County Board of Education is presently offering the Alternative Learning Program (ALPs) this school year in addition to its regular curriculum.

ALPs is a three year federally funded program through the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title IV-C. The entire project has acquired approximately $330,000 to provide programs for students who are unable to function in the regular classroom because of disrupting or disaffecting behaviors.

Albert A. Coviello, Supervisor of Pupil Services of Garrett County School, designed the project with two sites to provide services for identified youths in this county. One base is located at Northern High School with Mark Alkire, counselor; Betsy Deem, teacher; and Linda Smoot as aide. The other team at Southern High School is staffed by Les McDaniel, counselor; Cindy Downton, teacher; and Marge Lauver as aide.

Through this project, students receive help with academic problems as well as instructions in problem solving and communication skills. Other preventive types of services which are provided by these teams are counseling to elementary school students and parenting instruction to adults.

The teams have been trained in Reality Therapy techniques which emphasizes responsibility for one's own actions. Also, Behavior Modification and Classroom Management skills have been initiated to help students develop better study habits to return to regular classrooms

For further information on the project persons should contact Albert Coviello, Pupil Services of Garrett County Board of Education, 334-8121, or Mark Alkire, Northern High, 826-8668 or 895-5434.

LeRoy Pope, UPI Business Writer, predicts that unions could double their membership in the 1980s.

Governor Hughes Issues Warning On Budget Requests

Governor Harry Hughes has warned State department and agency heads that the revenue picture is bleak and reminded them of "the absolute necessity to hold down budget requests and to make every effort to operate within current appropriations."

In a letter sent to members of his Cabinet and to all major agency heads, the Governor noted that the State sales tax collections for April was $4.9 million below previous estimates and income tax receipts for the month were also $12 million below estimates.

While it was to be hoped that these figures did not represent a continuing trend, the Governor said, "there is every reason to be cautious, even pessimistic, in view of the growing unemployment, declining automobile sales and a drastic slowdown in home building, a few important indicators of a recession."

The Governor not only warned agency heads that budget requests for fiscal 1982 must be kept down, but that he expected them to operate their agencies within the 1980 and 1981 appropriation limits.

The Governor said agencies should not allow deficiencies to develop with the hope of being "bailed out" by the General Emergency Fund. The Fund is small and almost depleted, Governor Hughes said, and "the possibility of the Board of Public Works approving any such deficiency requests is practically nil."

Governor Hughes said there should be no thoughts of trying to balance the books by carrying over financial obligations from one year to the next or anticipating Federal funds and obligating them before they are actually received.

"Such agency budget amendments which attempt to balance the budget are fiscally irresponsible and will be approved in the rarest and uniquely justified case," the Governor said, adding:

"My message is simple--do not plan for deficiencies, either in FY1980 or 1981, and take whatever corrective action is necessary to avoid such deficiencies.

"The frankness of this letter is more than equalled by the depth of my concern over the fiscal constraints we face and the necessity to live within the appropriation limits.

"We must manage better, evaluate programs for reduction, elimination or expansion, hold the line on hiring and on requesting additional positions, as well as new facilities, and adopt the firm attitude that we must live within our means. The general public, and the Legislature, expect and deserve no less."

FORMER RESIDENT MEETS THE PRESIDENT — George Hutson, left, formerly of Kitzmiller, presented a peace award to President Jimmy Carter on behalf of the 8th Armored Division Association. The award designated President Carter as the American who contributed the most toward the cause of peace for the previous year. The presentation award was held recently in the Oval Office at the White House. Hutson, a son of L. C. Hutson, Kitzmiller, is retired from 35 years of governmental service and now resides with his wife in Hyattsville.

Milk Production Up One Percent

Milk production in Maryland during April was 130 million pounds, up one percent from a year ago, but unchanged from last month, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Milk produced per cow averaged 1,025 pounds, 40 pounds above last year. Average daily production per cow was 34.2 pounds, 1.4 pounds above last year and 1.3 pounds above last months.

The average price received by farmers for milk delivered to plants during March was equivalent to $12.84 per hundredweight on a 3.5 percent fat basis. Actual deliveries during March averaged $13.20 per hundredweight, $.60 above March 1979. The preliminary price for April is $13.20 at 3.68 percent butterfat.

Prices paid by farmers during April for feed were mixed compared with a year earlier.

"Fresh Air" Offers City Children Two Weeks Of Country Livin'

A DIFFERENT TYPE OF CHICK — These New York City youngsters discover that when farmers talk about chicks, they are talking about chickens, not young girls.

HELPING WITH THE CHORES — The children from New York City soon fit in to the life of their hosts families and assume chores of their own.

A PET FOR TWO WEEKS — This city youth finds a friend and companion during his two-week vacation on a farm.

by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Miller

"Oh I see," said the little boy, "the yellow cows give white milk and the black cows give chocolate milk." For the first time in his life he learned that "city milk" came from farm cows, instead of being made in a city factory. The little fellow was a New York city boy who had come to a Grantsville farm for a summer vacation.

For over a century the "Fresh Air" program in New York city has been helping underprivileged children to summer vacations in the country. And for one fourth of that time the Grantsville "Friendly Town" has been cooperating in the program.

This year the "Fresh Air" children are to arrive by bus at the Maple Glen Mennonite church, one mile north of Grantsville and adjacent to Goodwill Mennonite Home, on June 26 for a two weeks vacation.

Host families will entertain them according to their own routine and schedule. A possibility is to have the children attend a Summer Bible School at the Maple Glen Church. Picnics, drives and just plain home life are arranged by the hosts at their own convenience.

Free literature about the program is available at The Casselman, Grantsville, and from the committee members.

A presentation of needs and possibilities is arranged for Sunday, May 25 at 7:45 p.m. at the Maple Glen Mennonite church when slides and discussions will feature the Fresh Air Program. The public is invited to attend. In the slide presentation will be scenes of the inner city and of the country. The panel discussion, lead by Oren Bender, will include the Rev. John Kraybill who will talk of his memories as a city pastor; Fannie Zook McClintock who will discuss coping with problems; Herman Schrock who will discuss highlights of the program; and John and Sara Wengerd who will describe what the program meant to them.

Committee members are: Ivan J. and Della Miller, Grantsville; Oren and Fannie Bender, Accident; and Herman and Elsie Schrock, Meyersdale, Pa.

Oil Recycling Centers Named

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources announced recently a plan to properly dispose of used crankcase oil by residents who change their own automobile oil.

Because it is illegal to dump this used material in storm drains, on land, in refuse, or in water, nearly 700 collection facilities have been designated as recycling centers.

Because recycling oil can save energy and protect the environment, Maryland residents are being encouraged to participate voluntarily in the program.

The Maryland Environmental Service has prepared and distributed signs and brochures, including a program now contained in all public and private drivers education courses.

The Garrett County collection facilities are: Casselman Motor Company, Grantsville; Oakview Motors, Inc., East Oak St., Oakland; and Shaffer Ford Sales, Inc., South Third Street, Oakland.

For more information on the used oil program, interested persons should contact the Used Oil Information Center, Maryland Environmental Service, 60 West Street, Annapolis, 21401, or telephone (301) 269-3355.

DEER PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Browning and children, Paul and Barbara, have returned home from a vacation in Annapolis, Ocean City, and other points of interest.

The Official Board of the United Methodist Church is scheduled to meet Thursday, May 22, at 7 p.m. at the church.

A Mother's Day program was presented at the church Sunday, May 11, during the Sunday School hour. A carnation was presented to each mother present.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Beckman and son James visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckman, Essex, over the weekend.

March Gasoline Consumption In Maryland Down

Gasoline consumption in Maryland registered a decline for the twelfth straight month in March 1980, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has reported.

A total of 155,760,875 gallons of gasoline was used during March 1980, down 9.5 percent from the 172,014,446 gallons consumed during March 1979. "The kind of voluntary and price-related conservation we have seen for the past twelve months shows no sign of abating, and supplies of gasoline continue to be plentiful," Mr. Goldstein said.

Use of gasohol, a blend of gasoline and alcohol, continues to increase, and topped the two million gallon mark for the first time in March 1980. The number of retail outlets for gasohol has doubled since January 1, 1980 and the motor fuel tax on the gasoline/alcohol mixture was reduced to five cents per gallon effective May 1, 1980. Under legislation recently signed by Governor Hughes, the tax rate will remain at five cents per gallon until May 1, 1981, when it will return to eight cents per gallon.

"Motor Fuel Tax revenues for the first ten months of Fiscal Year 1980 total $156,111,221, down 6.9 percent from the $167,641,379 received for the same period of Fiscal Year 1979," Mr. Goldstein reported.

HOW MUCH TAXABLE PROFIT?

When you sell your home at a profit, the difference between the cost and the selling price is taxable (unless you defer it by buying a more expensive home). The important cost basis is the sum of the original cost plus the dollar-value of improvements and selling expenses. Although the average homeowner can usually determine the amount originally paid for the home, he usually lacks information regarding improvements which have been made during ownership.

Amounts spent for replacements, alterations or improvements which increased the value of the property can be added to the original cost basis to determine the gain or loss at sale. Not only should the homeowner know the dollar amounts of the improvements, he should be able to substantiate these facts in the event of an IRS examination. So keep those records and check stubs.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Circuit Court Denies Motions

Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer denied a motion recently submitted on behalf of Arthur William Sisler to suppress a statement given in connection with a stabbing incident on Dec. 2, 1979.

Counsel for the defense entered the motion due to questionable circumstances surrounding the physical and mental state of the defendant at the time of his arrest.

According to court records, Sisler is accused in the stabbing of James Simms in the parking lot Joe's Place, Oakland.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

Low attendance marred the May 12 meeting of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club. Absent members missed a display of homemade wooden toys presented by Eric Strite, a former 4-H member. Eric demonstrated a bushel of toys and other carvings which were made by his grandfather. Among those he showed were a bull-roarer, doll furniture, chains, do-nothings, trick toys, sky hook, picking chickens, limber jack, flap jack, Jacob's ladder, animated -pull toys, and carved animals.

Devotions were prepared and presented by Arlene Roth and Sheila Delaney.

Faith Minnig, acting secretary, read the minutes and roll call. Faith also reported that her revised presentation on Strawberry Harvesting won first place in her division in the Area Round-up and entitles her to compete in August at the State Round-up held at Jackson's Mill.

All members are urged to make plans now to attend the county 4-H Field Day to be held June 14, as the Eglon and Aurora clubs are in charge of planning the event executing the plans.

Linda Lewis reported on the leaders' meeting which was held April 28.

The club voted to have another trash clean-up drive on May 26 and 27. A committee of all members taking handicraft projects was selected to make signs to be placed along the road.

The June meeting will be on the 9th, probably at Farmer's Wildlife Park, with a camp night theme.

"Equipment Needed for Sewing" was the talk given by Roxanne Evans. Arlene Roth had talks on "Some Quick Tips on Getting that Perfect Home Movie" and "What is a Teen leader?" "What is a Forest?" was the talk given by Sheila Delaney on her Forestry I project.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments including homemade ice cream were served by Mrs. Lewis and Gary and Guy Wayne Shaffer. Others present were Danny Roth, Jackie and Willie Lantz, Cherri Minnig, Elaine Roth, and Florence Minnig.

Mother's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harsh, Aurora, were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harsh, Akron, Ohio; Eugene Harsh, Canton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Klutky and children, Barberton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Steven Chappel, Newburg; Mrs. Stanley Harsh, Amboy; and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lipscomb, Robin and Jeffrey.

The Aurora P.T.A. met at the school on May 13 with opening devotions being presented by Roxanne Evans, Cara and Shauna Sisler and Kim Huffman, all members of the Aurora Chapter Future Homemakers of America. The program was a presentation by the Aurora Twirlettes, who are being directed by Mrs. Darrel Radford, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Snyder, who also made their uniforms.

Announcements were of a band concert for Tuesday, May 20; Field Day on June 6, which is open to any persons interested in observing or helping; May 29, the elementary program for grades K-3, which is also open to the public.

Election of officers for next year resulted in the following: Connie Nicklow, president; Linda Lewis, vice president; Deanna Arnold, secretary; Blanche Snyder, treasurer.

A letter from the Preston County Reading Council was read in which funding for the RIF program was asked. It was decided that the PTA would give $100 toward this program which is to provide each child in grades K-6 with three free paperback books each year.

Mike Fike spoke of the efforts of the Preston County Educational Association. Ernest Shaffer was present to present his qualifications as candidate for the Board of Education. Mr. Mullins reported on the sixth grade trip to Charleston with overnight stop at Cedar Lakes. They toured the capitol, the Governor's mansion and Sunrise Cultural Center. Mrs. Nair reported on the trip made by the seventh and eighth grades to Pittsburgh where they toured a large middle school. They also toured the Carnegie Museum and the Century III Mall. The Aurora 8th grade will also be going to Washington, D. C., this weekend, May 23-25.

There was discussion of securing certificates of promotion or diplomas for the eighth grade. Mr. Mullin's sixth grade received the PTA banner for the month. Elaine Roth was selected to serve as the Aurora representative to the East Preston Scholarship Committee which will be meeting this week. This will be the last PTA meeting for the year.

The K-3 spring program will be presented at the Aurora School on May 29. The public is welcome to attend.

The seventh grade of Aurora School is sponsoring a yard sale at the school on May 24.

Theta Rho Girls' Club will sponsor a rummage sale at the fire hall on May 30 and 31, from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. each day. Donations are still being received and persons needing pick-up service should contact Janice Tackett at 735-5248 or Ressie Conrad at 735-5428.

The marriage of Cynthia Wilt and Carl Bachtel will take place at the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, May 24, at 7:30 p.m., and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Wilt and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bachtel, ask that all friends and relatives join them for this occasion. A reception will follow in the church basement.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Harley C. Donham, of Grafton, is planning a celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary at the Elizabeth Cather Towers, 131 E. Main Street, Grafton, from 2:00 until 5:00 p.m., on Sunday, June 1, 1980, and request that their friends and relatives in this area attend. The family requests that gifts be omitted.

Mrs. Judy White, of Silver Lake, returned last Monday from a Cumberland hospital where she had undergone surgery.

Mrs. Geraldine Roberson was able to return to Aurora last week from Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient.

Mrs. Ida Shillingburg, of Aurora, was taken last week to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she is undergoing treatment.

Also a patient there, although soon to be released, is Paul Carr, of the Gnegy Church area.

Mrs. Billy Kitzmiller, of Aurora, underwent surgery last week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and has returned to her home.

Paul Snyder, of Cresaptown, has been a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, for some time and underwent kidney surgery there last week. Mr. Snyder is a former resident of this area and a son of the late Mrs. Gertrude Snyder.

Mrs. Clara Fike, of Morgantown, was injured again last Wednesday while trying to extinguish an early morning grease fire at her home. She sustained a deep burn in the palm of her left hand and is a patient now in West Virginia University Medical Center. She and her son, Lee Beckman, were also treated for smoke inhalation. She recently injured her right hand in the washing machine wringer and is now incapacitated.

Induction to the East Preston Honor Society was held May 15 and those from this area who were taken into the society were Kathy Knotts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knotts, Horse Shoe Run; Lois Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Snyder, Horse Shoe Run; and Arlene Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roth, Horse Shoe Run.

Ruth Hoover, of Aurora, fell while shopping last week at Foodland and is a patient in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital with a broken hip.

Word was received that William F. Baker, 67, of Aurora, died Sunday night in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, several grandchildren, a sister and brother. Services will be Wednesday in Oakland.

Pastor Frank Terhune was the guest minister Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora. Pastor Terhune serves as the Area Coordinator.

Miss Bittinger Is Awarded Scholarship From Thiel College

Pamela K. Bittinger, a senior at Southern High School, has been awarded an Elizabeth Stewart Scholarship at Thiel College.

Miss Bittinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary F. Bittinger, 904 Philadelphia Ave., Mountain Lake Park, has been accepted for enrollment in the class of 1984 at the western Pennsylvania liberal arts college, according to John R. Hauser, director of admissions. She is planning to major in biology at Thiel.

Stewart honor scholarships are awarded by the Thiel Scholarship Committee to students who have distinguished themselves primarily in academics during their high school years, who have appropriate personal qualities, and who give evidence of capacity for continued achievement at the college level.

Miss Bittinger is a member of the Southern High band, the American Field Service, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, and has been named to "Who's Who in Music."

PUBLIC NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Weston W. Friend, our dear husband, father and grandfather, who passed away two years ago, May 21, 1978.

May comes to us with sad regrets, the day, the month, we'll never forget. Oh, what joy and life he gave; yet with our love we could not say, God took him home, it was His will, but in our hearts he liveth still.

Sadly missed by wife children and grandchildren
—Adv. 12-1t.

THANK YOU

I wish to personally thank Dr. Alvarez, Dr. Fedde, Dr. Rishell, Dr. Mance, especially the operating nurses who assisted the doctors so faithfully, in my recent illness and confinement in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. All the nurses, aids, and any others who showed so much love, concern and compassion. Words cannot express what a kind smile, 102 cards, 18 different arrangements of flowers, plus all the visitations, prayers and encouraging words mean when one is so ill. Thanks Mary Michaels and Billy Pritts especially for your tenderness, your advice and understanding of all whims. Especially thanks to Rev. Verne Leininger, pastor of the Oak Park Church of the Brethren and all the members who showed so much concern with their prayers and love during my painful experience. Last by far but not least, to a loving and understanding husband, a faithful mother, Mrs. Mabel Teagarden; a caring, loving sister, Bonnie Snyder, who nursed me so tenderly upon my return home; and to loving, caring children, grandchildren and all other relatives.

Thanks again to all the churches of the Mt. Top who held me up to God in prayer during my desperation and recovery.

Please, from the bottom of my heart, I deeply appreciate all that was done in any way to help me become a well person again.

Evelyn A. Biser

BLASTING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Gaylord Fuel Corporation-Stone Division, P. O. Box 128, McHenry, Md., will conduct blasting at its surface quarry operation located at Sang Run Road on Hoyes Run, Garrett County, under Permit No. 77SP0131 from March 1, 1980 through January 1, 1981, in compliance with all 1979 State and Federal laws.

Blasting will occur either between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon, or between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday weather permitting. This schedule will be followed except during adverse conditions that will prevent blasting, or if the operator or public safety requires unscheduled detonations.

At least 10 minutes prior to all detonations all access roads will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry. A warning signal will be sounded at least 5 minutes prior to detonation with 3 blasts of 10 seconds duration. The warning signal will be sounded once after detonation of 15 second duration as an all clear signal.

Moon Rock Exhibit Will Be At Yoder School Next Week

by Beverly Sincell

The exhibit of moon rocks are coming to the Yoder School Monday-Thursday, May 26-29 in Grantsville, from the Johnson Space Flight Center, Houston, Texas, is a dream come true for eighth grader John Tasker. He had always wanted to see the rocks brought to earth from the moon by Neil Armstrong and Ed Aldrin in 1969.

Last year, John wrote to NASA headquarters requesting to see the rocks. NASA replied by sending information on the procedure to bring the exhibit to an area.

In December, Carolyn Dooley, a Yoder School teacher, attended a seminar at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, to learn the method of display, care and storage of the exhibit.

The school will host a public viewing of the moon rock exhibit Monday, May 26 from 4-8 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

The exhibit, which will be heavily guarded, will circulate around the schools in the northern part of the county during the week. The students will not only view the exhibit but will also participate in a study, entitled "What's New On The Moon," taught by Dr. Bevan M. French, from the NASA Headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The moon rock samples will be enclosed in one plastic disc which viewers will be able to study more closely by use of an accompanying microscope. Besides the moon rocks, the exhibit will include a disc of terrestial rocks to allow viewers to compare the rock samples.

Mrs. Beachy Named Committee Member

The advisory council for the University of Maryland's statewide Cooperative Extension Service has announced its roster of committee chairpersons and members for three-year terms.

A newly-formed marine advisory group now brings the number of committees to six according to Raymond F. Armacost, Jr., Upperco, the new advisory council president.

Serving on the publicity and publications committee is Mrs. Ferne Beachy, Bittinger. Mrs. Beachy is a farm owner and former president of the Garrett County Extension Homemakers Council.

Oakland Civic Club Announces Program Schedule

The Oakland Women's Civic Club announced this week the program scheduled for the May 27 meeting at the Will 'O the Wisp. Robert L. Trantham, Dean of Garrett Community College will present a brief introduction to the art form of Readers Theatre, which will include two selections: "The Diaries of Adam and Eve," by Mark Twain, and "The Ten Worst Things About a Man," by Jean Kerr.

According to Trantham, Readers Theatre is a medium in which two or more oral interpreters, through their oral reading, cause an audience to experience literature. The interpreter must express the emotions, the attitudes, and the action of the characters by economically using the face, the voice, and the body as vocal and physical clues to meaning, he said.

Dean Trantham, whose theatre credits include both directing and acting, has appeared with the Garrett County Playhouse, and directed the GCC production of "Picnic." Before joining the administrative staff of Garrett Community College, he was an Associate Professor of Speech and Theatre at Genesee Community College, Batavia, N. Y. While at Genesee, he appeared in Rotary musical productions including "Brigadoon," "Maine" and "Hello Dolly."

Joining Dean Trantham for this program will be Mrs. Joan Crawford, Chairperson of the GCC Humanities Division.

Student Achieves Chemistry Awards

Sam Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Bell, Oakland, was selected as the outstanding chemistry student at Southern Huh School for 1980.

He was honored at a dinner given by the American Chemical Society at Frostburg State College on May 13.

A junior student at Southern High School, Sam is a member of the National Honor Society, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, and Who's Who in American Huh Schools.

He is also a member of the Computer Club, and was awarded a certificate of excellence in the study of chemistry.

Griggs Receives Life Sentence

Thomas Wayne Griggs, 21, Ohio, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday in Garrett County Circuit Court, after he was found guilty of first degree rape, assault and battery and unnatural and perverted sex practice at a May 5 jury trial. At that time Judge Fred A. Thayer ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Griggs was convicted of raping and severely beating a 68-year-old Grantsville woman on July 26, 1979. He was arrested that day in Pennsylvania by the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol. Griggs waived extradition four days later and was transported to the Allegany County Jail.

According to Dann Weiers, prosecuting attorney, the jury trial lasted two days. The jury deliberated approximately two hours before declaring the guilty verdict.

Judge Thayer sentenced Griggs to life imprisonment for first degree rape; 10 years in jail, concurrent, for assault and battery; and five years, concurrent, for unnatural and perverted sex practice. Judge Thayer recommended that Griggs be evaluated by the Patuxent Institution.

D. Robert Esten was the attorney for the defense. Griggs was transported to the Maryland State Penitentiary this morning.

Oakland Council, Merchants State Desire For Action

Oakland town council members and businessmen Wednesday night stated their desire to take action on suggestions made in the Economic/Market Feasibility Analysis, part of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development Downtown Commercial Revitalization program.

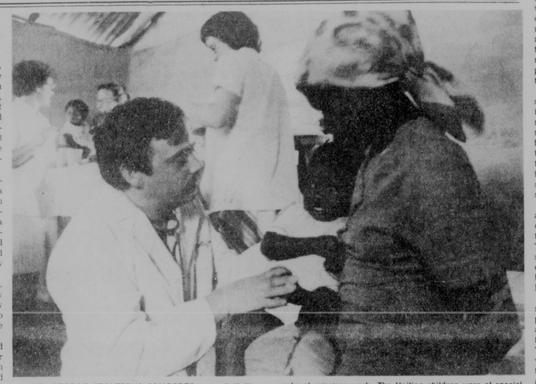

Over thirty persons attended the meeting in the City Hall to discuss suggestions made in the analysis which was compiled by the Frostburg State College Intitute for Small Business (ISB).

"In the next week, the Downtown Development Commission (DDC) will meet to discuss concrete ways to implement the suggestions of the report," stated James R. Stanton, town council president. He explained the commission, composed of members of the business community and town council, had been appointed by the town council last year when it saw a need for development planning in the Oakland business district.

Stanton told those attending that the DDC would meet with the merchants the second Tuesday in June to present their reactions to the analysis and to recommend how best to implement suggestions made in the analysis.

Mark Friedman, director for the DECD project, assured the group that his staff would continue to assist the town in imple-

Board Considers Legal Action Against County

The Garrett County Board of Education will hold a public meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Board office to determine what action it should take to insure that it will receive money owed to it by the county commissioners.

The Board is considering legal action against the commissioners to force compliance with the state law which requires a county to pay monthly allocations to the school board based on the local share in an approved budget. The Board has the only approved budget among the county departments.

"We need the money and we need it now," exclaimed Bob Deal, Board member, after hearing a financial report from Board financial secretary Lela Paugh.

Mrs. Paugh reported that if the Board did not receive the approximate $927,000 owed by the county it would be out of money after the July 5th payroll, which would mean it could not meet its August and September payrolls. She added the Board would also be unable to pay any of its other bills including up to $400,000 in bills to vendors which become payable at the end of June. The only employees who could be paid after July 5 would be those positions funded through federal programs.

The commissioners told Board members Tuesday they believed they could make two payments before June 30, but they could not guarantee it. "We can't pay it, if we don't have the money," said Commissioner Ernie Gregg. He later added, "We think

Public Meeting Addresses Proposed Water Rate Changes

A public information meeting regarding proposed water rate changes for Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn water sanitary district was attended by 45 persons last Thursday night at Loch Lynn School. The Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. proposed six possible rate structures to provide revenue to cover operating expenses of the water system, based on a projected operating loss of approximately $3,800 for FY1980, and projected operating expenses for FY1981, amounting to $79,900.

The meeting was chaired by H. Lester Hunter, chairman of the Garrett County Commissioners. Hunter stated that the purpose of the meeting was to determine the wishes of the citizens of Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights regarding the continuation or termination of the Farmers' Home Administration rehabilitaton project, and to receive citizens comments regarding a favored rate structure for water customers.

Charles O. Morris, chairman of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, was the first speaker, providing the group with a brief history of the Sanitary Commission, and responding to charges made against the commisson. Morris addressed a charge that the commission is amateur and out of control. He defended the commission by saying that "most public bodies are governed by part time 'amateurs,'" and he pointed out the small yearly pay that commission members receive, in terms of time spent. Morris added that sanitary commissioners are appointed by the county commissioners, and he described the qualifications of each member of the commission.

Morris addressed a charge that the commission staff is overpaid. To this he replied that Dick Nace, Administrator, Sanitary District, has received civil engineering education and experience outside of Garrett County, adding that his salary is competitive, but well below that of similar jobs outside the county. Morris said that the balance of the staff of five people are paid in accordance with the County Classified Service, the "Merit System".

In response to a charge that certain actions of the Sanitary Commission are illegal, Morris stated that the group's attorney is present at all meetings, is familiar with the Commission's methods, and guides the group as it needs guidance.

Morris addressed the charge that a moratorium should be declared on the Sanitary Commission, and that it should go to a Public Works Department. He stated that this possibility has been discussed internally and with the county commissioners. Morris said that, according to an expert in this field, the Public Works system would provide little differences in rates and service. He added that, in a small county such as Garrett, the additional level of supervision required in a Public Works Department would probably be too costly for its questionable added value.

He then pointed out the cost of investigating these charges, adding that the Sanitary Commission has "taken them seriously and has been investigating them."

William Poffenbarger, District Director, FmHA, was present at the meeting to learn the wishes regarding the rehabilitation project of the people who will pay for the system and to answer questions about grant-loan financing by FmHA. He pointed out that FmHA funds are to benefit citizens, not to finance administrative costs, adding that these costs must be met by existing funding.

Poffenbarger addressed ways in which money has been saved in the project, and he stated that the issue is not the current fiscal condition, but the laws of the county. He stated various policies regarding FmHA funding, approval and loans.

Floyd Durst observed that a lack of universal water metering in the system creates inequities. Nace replied that all customers should have meters by the end of the year.

Nace stated that the proposed water rates do not include

County Ranks Low For Per Pupil Spending

The Garrett County school system spent $1,684.25 per student in 1978-79, placing the county 22nd in the state, according to information contained in the booklet Analysis of Per Pupil Costs for Maryland Public Schools, 1980-81 which, was recently made available to the public by Dr. William H. Buser, county school superintendent. The average expenditure for the state was $2,049.39.

The amount spent per county student in 1978-79 dropped to $1,383.19 when federal funds were excluded, placing the county 24th in the state, or on the bottom in per pupil expenditures from non-categorical funding. The state average was $1,393.62.

Dr. Buser noted that these figures indicated that county students had about $510 less local/state dollars spent on them than the average for the state during the school year 1978-79.

During the 1980 session of the Maryland General Assembly, the state earmarked additional monies to the 12 lowest per pupil expenditure counties in Maryland for one year only. Because of this, Garrett County will receive about $170,000 additional state tax dollars for the school year 1980-81.

Dr. Buser stated he was disappointed that the bill included additional state funds for one year only and predicted these funds would not appreciably help to increase the per pupil expenditures for the poorer counties in the state. He noted that some of the poorer counties of the state were seeking, through a suit against the state, to insure greater per pupil equity.

Park Visitor Swept Over Swallow Falls

A West Virginia man escaped serious injury when he fell from the top of Swallow Falls on Monday. Angelo A. Georgetti, of New Cumberland, W. Va., was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

According to a park ranger, Georgetti had attempted to walk across the top of the falls. The water was so high it apparently swept the man's feet out from under him. Sources say Georgetti struck his head on a rock.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene, but Georgetti had already been transported to the hospital by his companions.

FY'81 Budget Released

Commissioners Propose 40% Tax Hike

The Garrett County Commissioners Monday made public the proposed FY1981 county budget of $11,216,474 based on a property tax rate 40 percent higher than last year.

The commissioners announced the tax rate will be $3.31 per $100 of assessible base which is $.97 higher than the county's 1981 constant yield tax rate of $2.34. The commissioners expect the proposed tax rate to produce $2,302,761 more in revenue than would be produced by the constant yield tax rate.

Though the commissioners say they are unhappy with the increase in the tax rate they note they had to cut over $3 million from budget requests from county departments. The tax rate was as high as they felt they could go and as low as they felt they could go without seriously cutting back county services.

The budget includes interest and the balance for repayment of the $750,000 borrowed early this year from two local banks. Treasurer Arzella Parsons stated that $460,000 would be carried over into FY1981 as the balance yet to be paid on the loan.

The commissioners left their salaries unchanged in the proposed budget but granted an average ten percent increase for merit system employees. The commissioners also provided funds for an administrative assistant and for the addition of a personnel officer on the county staff.

The commissioners noted that capital expenditures had not been included in the budget or in the total but had been listed in a separate category and would be funded through revenue sharing funds. The commissioners expect to receive $916,000 in revenue sharing funds in FY1981.

After releasing the budget to the public, the commissioners began meeting with directors of the county departments to explain cuts in their budget requests, according to Commissioner Ernie Gregg, and to give "as much lead time as possible to revise their budgets."

The commissioners who say they all back the budget 100 percent expect few changes to be made in their proposed budget.

They told county department officials they did not try to pick on any one agency but they had to trim down their requests to keep the tax rate down to $3.31.

The county department sustaining the largest cut in its request was the county roads department which received $1,398,920 less than it requested.

Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, has already begun work to trim his budget and says the areas most likely to be decreased are the payroll and payroll related items category and the road maintenance materials category, which altogether comprise 75 percent of the department budget. McCrobie stated some of his options would be to not replace 12 employees he lost last year and to cut back his road maintenance work from his requested 32 miles of road overlay to 18 miles.

The roads department request was almost double what it received from the county in FY1980. McCrobie explained the prices of most all the road supplies are affected by oil increases and have doubled in the past year. He stated gas and fuel costs have increased 55 percent.

The commissioners cut the Board of Education request by $467,817. Tuesday, they requested the Board to fund at least two percent of the four percent additional salary increase granted to its employees. They also stated they had included the Board's request for money to be spent on the athletic fields of the high schools as part of the revenue sharing request.

Dr. William H. Buser, county school superintendent, pointed out that $200,000 of state aid for FY1981 was allocated this year only and would not be allocated again next year.

Other departments receiving cuts in their budget requests were Garrett Community College, approximately $223,179 a cut of $36,775; the Sanitary Commission, $41,955; the Health Department, $36,7

Other departments receiving cuts in their budget requests were Garrett Community College, a cut of approximately $223,170; the Sanitary Commission, $41,955; the Health Department, $36,775; the Treasurer's Office, $12,000; and Planning and Zoning, $10,171.

Some departments received more than they requested this year due mainly to the salary increase for county employees.

The commissioners have planned a public hearing Thursday, June 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Garrett Community College, McHenry.

Women Voters Raise Objections To Elected Board

At a recent meeting of the Garrett County League of Women Voters, a portion of the group discussion centered on the members' feelings of the need for an amended system of selecting board of education members.

Particular attention focused on the proposed bill being brought to referendum in November mandating an elected board of education in Garrett County. The League members feel a conflict of interests could arise in various aspects of the proposed referendum, including the fact that three board members would be elected in conjunction with the county commissioners, from each commissioner's own district, forming possible political alliances.

League members major objection concerns the section of the referendum giving the board of education the right to deliberate on unspecified subjects in private or executive session providing that all action was taken at a public meeting. There is concern that if provisions for secret deliberations of any kind are written into the law, it could infringe on the present 'sunshine' law stipulating an open meeting policy.

The League members also feel that competent persons may be discouraged from running for a board position, and paying a filing fee, as these types of actions appear as forms of political campaigning.

The fact should be remembered that a position on the school board takes a great deal of time, pays no salary, is subject to public criticism, and allows only $200 per year for expenses.

General consensus is that the proposed bill will not provide the best way of obtaining competent candidates for board of education positions.

Sanitary Board Will Conduct Public Hearing

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission will conduct a public hearing on June 19 at 7 p.m. at the Loch Lynn school, on the construction plans for Phase III of the Mountain Lake Water Rehabilitation Project.

The probable cost of the total project is $1,355,700, including $484,400 for Phase III. Approximately $850,000 of the total cost of the project is expected to be financed through bonds to be retired through special taxes or assessments. The remainder is to be grant funded.

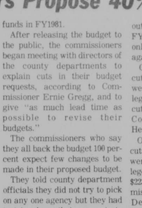

County High Schools Announce Distinguished Seniors For 1980

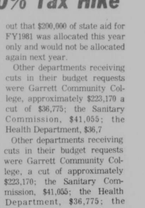

Kristine Maust

Diane Faye Beiler

Ronald Coddington

Sheila Dunham

The Baccalaureate and Graduation Exercises for Garrett County Senior High School students will be held Sunday, June 1, 1980.

The Northern Senior High School Commencement will be held Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Kristine Maust, valedictorian and Diane Beiler, salutatorian, will speak, and Rev. Oren Bender, of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church will present a message to all those present.

The valedictorian for the Class of 1980 is Kristine Joy Maust, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Maust.

Miss Maust's school activities include holding office as president of the God Squad Club for two years, a Student Council representative, a member of the yearbook staff, and a member of the French Club I, II and III. She was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students, and is an honor roll and distinguished honor roll student.

In addition, Kristine was a Maryland Distinguished Scholar Participant, a citizenship honor roll student, a talent show participant, and a top salesperson in her freshmen year during the annual magazine campaign.

Miss Maust is a member of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, Accident, where she sings in the youth chorus, is secretary of the young people's group, and was pianist for the cantata; David, the Shepherd Boy."

Several Thefts Reported To Sheriff's Office

Several thefts in the areas of Deep Creek Lake and Friendsville were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week.

Shortline Ski Shop, Route 219, Deep Creek Lake, was broken into on Saturday night. Unknown subjects picked the lock on the rear entrance, entered the building and removed water skiing equipment from inside the shop.

A total loss value is approximately $1313.

Ronald Browning of Lanham reported a theft from his summer cottage, located on Lake Shore Drive. The theft occurred sometime between May 10 and 24, when unknown persons removed an electric boat wrench from Browning's boat trailer.

The wrench was valued at $200.

In a separate incident, Dr. Willard Hudson, Forest Hill, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred May 11 at his summer residence near Swallow Falls.

Lester Martin, Jr., 26, and Fred Hoover Lewis, 49, both of Oakland, were arrested for breaking a window in the residence and removing household items valued at $200.

Karol Rush, Friendsville, reported a larceny which occurred at his residence sometime during the night of May 22. Unknown persons carried away a statue which was part of a lawn ornament.

Loss value is estimated at $150.

In a separate incident, Donald VanSickle, Friendsville, reported a theft of gasoline and tires. The theft of one and one half gallons of gasoline occurred on May 18. A witness observed the larceny and the case is still under investigation. The tires were stolen on a previous date.

Loss value of the gasoline and tires is approximately $41.

A destruction of property and trespassing was reported by Dale Frantz, Friendsville. The incident occurred on May 23, when someone drove a vehicle through Frantz' fence and destroyed it. The subjects then drove through Frantz' fields and built a fire on his property.

No loss value has been determined.

In other business, the department arrested three persons last week.

Linda Railey, 22, was incarcerated Thursday in lieu of $1,000 bond, for writing bad checks. She was transported to Allegany County where she had failed to appear in court. Ms. Railey was then brought back to Garrett County for a District Court trial on Monday. She was then returned to Allegany County where she is presently incarcerated.

Danny Daniels, 19, was arrested Saturday for driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Kenneth W. Shockey, 39, was incarcerated Saturday for driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Child Development Policy Council Plans Day Camp

The Garrett County Child Development Policy Council held its monthly meeting May 14, at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College.

The recent Open House was reviewed. The Oakland Center had 18 people in attendance, Friendsville, 14 people, and Kitzmiller had six people visit their center. It was decided by the group to have an annual Open House.

Plans were presented for camp this year. Day camp will be held from July 7 through July 18 at the Deep Creek Lake State Park. There will be a small breakfast, a full lunch and an afternoon snack served to the children each day. The day's activities will include programmed instruction on the playground equipment, sand play and swimming along with other group activity. Camp director will be Mrs. Dorothy Leuba.

Applications for enrollment in the Child Development Program are being accepted now for the September program year. Children from the age of birth through four years are eligible for the home visiting program. Children three to five years of age are eligible for enrollment at one of our three centers. Persons desiring more information should call the Child Development office at 334-8152.

The next meeting of the Policy Council will be held on June 4, at 10:00 a.m., at the Oakland Center.

State Police Issue Various Traffic Citations

Traffic violations and property damage head the list of investigations by the Maryland State Police, McHenry for the week of May 18, in addition to accident response.

Several people escaped serious injury on Saturday when a car operated by Jeffrey J. Dunlap, 21, Dickerson Run, Pa., attempted to pass another vehicle traveling west on U. S. Rt. 48, approximately 1 mile from Pig's Ear Road. When the Dunlap vehicle executed the passing maneuver, the other vehicle moved into the left lane also, causing Dunlap to skid off the roadway and into the guardrail.

Northern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Dunlap, and his passengers, Tracy Lee Fraser, 21, W. Homestead, and Mark Shallenberger, Vanderbilt, Pa., to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Vehicles operated by Harry Vonkleist, 45, Terra Alta, W. Va., and Eleanor Moon, 38, Deer Park, were involved in a collision at the intersection of Third Avenue and Shenandoah Avenue, Loch Lynn Heights.

According to police reports, the Vonkleist auto was traveling north on Third Avenue, when the Moon vehicle failed to stop at the stop sign, striking the Vonkleist vehicle broadside. Mrs. Moon was charged with failure to stop for the sign.

In a separate incident, a C & P Telephone Company pole received moderate damage, and a 1971 Audi driven by Kenneth Ray Tressler, 21, Mt. Lake Park, was estimated a total loss in a single vehicle accident on Broad Ford Road, approximately one-half mile south of the Harvey Winters Road at 5:40 a.m., last Saturday.

According to police reports Tressler was traveling at an apparent high rate of speed, when he fell asleep and ran off the roadway, traveling 210 feet before striking the telephone pole.

Tressler was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Wilmer Simmons, 37, Warren, Ohio, was injured Saturday when the wheels of the car he was driving on Paul Street in Loch Lynn dropped into a large hole in the roadway near a railroad crossing, causing the cross-member of the car's frame to strike a railroad tie, bending it in such a manner that the driver was thrown into the windshield.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Simmons to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Two persons from West Virginia escaped serious injury last Thursday evening when a car driven by Timothy Clarence Crawford, 24, Keyser, W. Va. went out of control on the Savage River Road, one mile north of the Savage River Bridge.

According to Maryland State Police, Crawford was operating his vehicle in a reckless manner, when it left the roadway and struck a fence, at which time he fled the scene.

Crawford was later apprehended by police and charged with driving while intoxicated, fleeing and eluding a police officer, reckless driving, and driving on a suspended license.

Garrett Choral Society Will Present Concert

The Garrett Choral Society will present a concert on Saturday, June 7, at Garrett Community College; and Sunday, June 8, at Southern Middle School. Both concerts will begin at 7:30 p.m., and the public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge, however, a freewill offering will be accepted at intermission.

The group will present a program of selections from popular musicals, such as "The King and I," "Carousel," "Brigadoon," "Sound of Music," and "Camelot." Other selections will include popular music, "Traces" and "Scarborough Fair," and religious pieces, "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," "Ave Verum Corpus," "Alleluia," and "Sanctus."

The Garrett Choral Society was formed last fall by Nancy Turney, director. The group is comprised of 30 to 35 members, and practices every Sunday evening at Southern Middle School. Dr. Dave Sheets is the accompanist for the choir. The first performance of the Garrett Choral Society was presented during the 1979 Christmas holiday season.

Mrs. Brodak Is Winner Of Afghan

Mrs. George Brodak, Oakland, was the winner of an afghan raffled off by the Southern High School Band Boosters. The afghan was presented to Mrs. Brodak during the intermission of the band concert last Friday evening. The Band Boosters raised $600 through the raffle, to go toward a $1200 debt for new band uniforms.

The Southern High School Band Boosters is open for membership and will begin a new year next week with the group's installation of officers and the start of a new band program.

Health Systems Governing Body Meets May 21

The Governing Body of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland met on May 21 at the Sheraton Motor Inn, Hagerstown. Dr. J. Steven Skupas, chairman, presided.

Kenneth Richmond, administrator of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and member of the Governing Body, thanked the Body for its support of Garrett County Memorial Hospital's expansion and renovation project. Garrett County voters approved a referendum in the recent primary election that permits construction of a renovated hospital and health department complex.

Dr. Skupas announced that the next Governing Body meeting will be held on June 18 at 1 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club, Cumberland, and that following this meeting the Agency will hold an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. at its new office location in the Algonquin Motor Inn, Suite 301, Baltimore and Greene Streets, Cumberland. Members and interested residents of the four Western Maryland counties are invited to this open house.

Members present from Garrett County were Mrs. Marilyn J. Filemyr, Mr. Edgar Harman Mr. Ross B. James, Mr. Kenneth A. Richmond.

Guests present from Garrett County were John St. John Parker, Assessment Committee/Garrett County, and Ms. Sarah Fredlock, Health Resources Development Committee/Garrett County.

FUTURE ARTISTS WATCH INTENTLY — A pottery demonstration at the recent Girl Scout Jamboree captures everyone's attention, as Ralph Miller, an art instructor at Northern Middle School, uses a pottery wheel.

INTERESTING FACTS ON INDIAN CULTURE — Shown giving a demonstration of Indian artifacts is Milton Proudfoot, Swanton, at the recent Girl Scout Jamboree held at Camp Hickory.

THE EXCITEMENT OF MODELING — All eyes seem to be on Carol Gibson, the instructor, in a modeling demonstration given at the Girl Scout Jamboree held recently at Camp Hickory.

Girl Scout Jamboree Held At Camp Hickory

Memories were made recently when a Girl Scout Jamboree was held May 16 through May 18 at Camp Hickory, located near Accident.

Scouts from the Oakland Neighborhood and Deep Creek Neighborhood participted, including ten Brownie troops, nine junior troops, two cadette troops, and one senior troop.

The camp was made possible through proceeds from the sale of half a beef donated by the First National Bank of Oakland, and sold on a raffle sponsored by the Mt. Lake Lions Club, with participation from parents of the Girl Scouts. All food and merchandise was donated by county merchants. The camp was made available to the girls free of charge through these combined efforts.

After check-in on Friday evening, the activities included a disco dance with music by Billy's Disco. Demonstrations and instructions in disco were offered by the Southern Varsity Cheerleaders. A disco contest ended the evening, with Susan Arnold, Brownie Troop 5523; Kim Grimm, Junior Troop 5522; Lucinda Fleming, Cadette Troop 5613, and Susan Arnold, Troop 5523, over-all winner taking top honors.

Saturday activities included a K-9 Patrol demonstration, conducted by Cpr. Yeager, Maryland State Police, LaVale; a drug abuse discussion, led by Sgt. Alderton, Maryland State Police, LaVale; hair styling tip and demonstrations by Carolyn Miller, from LaPetite Beauty Salon, Keyser, W. Va.; a make-up demonstration, using Mary Kay Cosmetics, featuring Joyce Porterfield, Dot Wolfe, and Kay Calhoun from Addison, Pa.; a modeling demonstration, complete with instructions by Carol Gibson, Oakland; a pioneering and Indian lore demonstration by Milton Proudfoot; a pottery demonstration by Ralph Miller, an art teacher from Northern Middle School; an appearance of Smokey the Bear, compliments of the Maryland Forestry Department; a clown from the Ali Ghan Shrine; an obstacle course, designed by Senior scouts from Troop 5053, including Wendy Johnson, Cindy Edwards, Pam Rolf, Carrie Johnson, Chris Teets, and Trina Bray; Crafts Workshop by Faye Augustine and Jan Stoner, Addison, Pa.; a style show by the Grantsville Cadet Troop 5051, and hiking. Saturday evening concluded with a five minute skit presented by each troop.

Sunday's activities included a Scouts Own by Junior Troop 5522, and a Camp Rally, including award presentations for the Obstacle Course.

The Jamboree concluded Sunday afternoon, with a Four Freedoms Flag Ceremony by the Senior and Cadette Scouts.

The director of the camp was Deanie Johnson. The camp committee included Betty Wolford, chairman; Rita Savage, Jan Stoner, Rosella Minor, and Elaine Marple.

PUTTING 'SARGE' THROUGH HIS PACES — Members of the recent Girl Scout Jamboree at Camp Hickory watch Cpl. Yeager, Maryland State Police, demonstrating part of the canine training patrol technique used in county law enforcement.

Scouts In Action

Miss Linda Yunker and Miss Kathy Shives, both of Grantsville, have received congratulations from President Jimmy Carter, and from the National Girl Scout Headquarters in New York, for having obtained the rank of First Class Cadette Scouts.

Meadow Mountain

The LCW of St. John's Lutheran Church met at the church Monday evening, May 12, with Mrs. Maxine O'Brien as leader of the program. Mrs. Carole Ann Peck, president, conducted the business meeting.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O'Brien were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper, Salem, Ohio; Mrs. Elizabeth Shaffer and Mrs. Blanche Brant, Deer Park; Mrs. Mildred DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Margraff, Accident; Mr. and Mrs. Gary O'Brien, Kendra and Krystal, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck, Jeffrey and Jennifer, Ray Karlstrand and Vickie, Thomas O'Brien and Jason, all local.

Mrs. Mae Cooper, Salem, Ohio; Mrs. Elizabeth Shaffer and Mrs. Blanche Brant, Deer Park; Mrs. Mildred DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park, and Mrs. Patty O'Brien returned home Saturday after spending a week in Florida.

Immunization Clinics Offered Throughout County

Low cost immunization clinics will be offered this spring in Garrett County to protect dogs and cats from contracting and transmitting rabies. The clinics are made possible by the joint efforts of the Garrett County Health Department, Maryland State Division of Veterinary Medicine and local veterinarians.

Dr. William W. Pope, Garrett County Health Officer, stresses that it is extremely important to have pets immunized against the rabies virus, especially in Garrett County, where pets are more likely to come into contact with wild rabid animals. By vaccinating cats or dogs, the chain of transmission of the virus from pets to humans is broken, eliminating the threat of obtaining rabies from the pet.

According to the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, all dogs and cats over three months of age are required to have rabies vaccination. Cats are to be vaccinated each year, puppies three months of age or older are to be vaccinated and require re-vaccination after 12 months, and dogs over one year of age require vaccination every three years.

The Garrett County Health Department urges county residents to bring their pets to one of the following clinics for rabies vaccination: Bloomington Fire Hall, June 4, 6 to 7 p.m.; Oakland, Animal Shelter, June 6, 6 to 8 p.m.; Grantsville Fire Hall, June 7, 12 to 1 p.m.; Friendsville Fire Hall, June 7, 2 to 3 p.m.; and Accident Fire Hall, June 7, 4 to 4:30 p.m.

There is a small charge for the vaccination, and dog licenses will be available, also for a small charge.

Persons wanting more information should contact local veterinarians; the Garrett County Health Department, 334-8111, or Grantsville, 895-5050; or the Garrett County Animal Shelter, 334-3553.

A Working Tribute . . . .

The duration of our lives is but a split second when compared to the age of this earth upon which we live. Yet, the impact of just one life and the tremendous number of changes which can occur in the world during just one lifetime are staggering. Every individual, in some way, contributes something and leaves a significant mark on the world.

Memorial Day was originally designed to pay tribute to those who sacrificed their lives for our freedom. While this is still the central theme of this holiday, it is a time to remember and pay tribute to all dead. Although we are separated by death, the memories and the love of those who are gone from this earthly life continue forever, against all types of worldly adversity.

At first glance, one might feel that the ceremonies and parades of Memorial Day are meaningless. The persons to whom we are paying tribute are dead. They can't be here to enjoy it. It seems the only thing we can do is pause for a moment, remember them, pray, and give thanks for their lives.

However, there is more that can be done. Many examples have been set by those who have gone before us. Many are good examples, some are bad examples. Both must be remembered in order to be able to distinguish between the two. We should attempt to follow the good examples and learn from the bad ones. By carrying on those good examples and teaching them to our children, we pay a lasting and a working tribute.

A Christian funeral service is, in fact, a celebration, a celebration of thanks for the life of the deceased and a declaration of the belief in eternal life. Memorial Day is a continuation of that celebration.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir,

I can sympathize with persons about the eye-sore garbage collection boxes. There are several things that people can do to relieve some of this mess. A person can break out the corners of all boxes so they lay flat; cut both ends out of cans and mash them flat; if one has several size cans they can be nested one inside the other then mashed flat; other types of cans can be "kinked" in the center then mashed flat; milk jugs and other plastic containers can be cut to lay flat. I know I could write other ideas but I doubt if one person would practice any of them, to relieve this situation.

I do not have public garbage collection where I live and I do use the collection boxes. I make sure my garbage goes into the cans even if I have to put each item in my trash one-by-one into them.

The county can post a dozen signs and I doubt if a dozen people would abide by the rules, or even take the time to read the signs.

I have seen people let trash fall on the ground and not bother to pick it up. If they had a rat around where they reside they would make more noise about it than you have made about the cans.

Name withheld by request

Mr. Editor,

I read with interest the retraction, or whatever it might be called, that was printed in The Republican on May 14th concerning organizations which had erroneously been printed as supporters of the Liquor Sales on Sunday Controversy.

Again we see too little, too late; as a retraction, after the highly controversial issue has been settled by the voters of Garrett County. The retraction accomplishes nothing. Actually, this type of advertisement comes as no surprise to anyone who has attempted to get Christian and Moral issues before the public through The Republican.

You will recall, as I do, that on one occasion I, myself, attempted to get you to publish articles concerning the harassment and pressures put upon Christian schools in this nation. You gave me a very emphatic, "No!". You spoke of Christian liberty as "Sidewalk Opinions" which you had neither the time nor space to print.

This issue is, as far as some of us are concerned, one of the gravest issues before the American people today. The Constitution itself is being prostituted and our first Amendment rights taken away by bureaucratic bosses and opinionated judges. Yet when a conservative Christian protests, we are accused of trying to propagate "Sidewalk Opinions". There is a gross neglect on the part of both radio and newspaper in Garrett County when it comes to reporting on these injustices done to Bible-believing Christians who are contending for rights already guaranteed, but presently denied by a bureaucratic system of Government without representation.

So, no surprise about a late retraction, the matter already settled. Of course, I don't expect this will be printed either, but at least I feel better to get it off my chest.

Pastor John Schrimshire

Dear John,

Fooled ya! We did print it!

We're glad you're feeling better.

Editor

Dear Editor,

I am in the third grade at Dennett Road School. A group of us recently visited the central alarm headquarters at the Garrett County Courthouse. We learned how important this system is for emergency communication. The police, rescue squad and fire departments know what's going on all over the county at all times because of the 911 system. The six dispatchers have been trained to serve the people who call. They get about 900 calls a month. Calls are recorded in case they need to be repeated.

We are glad that we have this useful service in our county and want to thank Mr. Ed Livengood for helping us learn about the 911 system.

Sincerely,
Rebecca Ahern

capital debt retirement of FmHA funds. He added that the proposed rate schedule has two sets of options, one which includes office administrative salaries incurred by administrative and clerical work not included in FmHA funding. Nace explained that that amount can be recovered through user rates or through ad valorem or front-foot assessment. He pointed out that further work on the project should decrease the need for purchased water, and should help stabilize Water Company expenses.

Joseph B. Bowen, Mt. Lake Park resident, gave a presentation regarding the "identification of the causes and nature of the main problems facing the Sanitary Commission." He cited examples and proposed a program of "drastic solutions" to these problems.

The major points covered by Bowen throughout his speech included a proposal to stop the Water System Rehabilitation Project, a proposal to the county commissioners to take charge of the Sanitary Commission, a proposal to lay a new water main to Oak Park, a proposal to cut back expenses for the water system and the Sanitary Commission, a proposal to negotiate a model water customer contract, a proposal to create a new Sanitary District, and a proposal to prepare for a County Department of Public Works within a year.

A recommendation was made that the Oak Park water system be renovated now, as the project is dependent upon FmHA funding and funding is now available. A discussion followed regarding support of a water system and the question of whether the community can afford it.

Nace announced that the Sanitary Commission will meet on June 12 in regular session at 8 p.m. in the Grand Jury Room of the courthouse to set water rates.

Board Considers

realistically by the end of June we can make two payments. We can't make any other commitment than that because we don't know when the money will come in."

The money the commissioners are expecting to use to pay the Board is the county's share of state income tax revenues. But they point out that they have no way to predict what that exact amount will be and indicate the balance of the debt will be paid with taxes collected for fiscal year 1981.

Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of county public schools, told the commissioners the Board did not want to carry the money owed as a deficit into the next fiscal year. "We want paid this year out of current expenses," he stated.

Board members also expressed concern over the commissioners' plans to pay the debt after June 30. Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, superintendent-elect, noted the proosed FY1981 did not show payment in the appropriations account, nor did it show sources for payment in the revenue account since the proposed tax rate of $3.31 would generate only enough income to meet county expenses listed in the appropriations account.

The commissioners stated they do not intend to borrow money to pay the debt but did not specify the revenue source to pay it. But, said Gregg, "Our intentions are to make every effort to pay the money appropriated."

The commissioners explained that any unpaid bills could be carried over into the next fiscal year as accounts payable but could not be listed as an item in the budget.

The Board may face legal suits of its own if it is unable to meet payrolls in August and September and if it is unable to meet contractural agreements with vendors. "We are looking down the barrel the same as you are," Ralph Burnett, attorney for the Board, told the commissioners.

Burnett indicated the Board could not wait indefinitely for its money. "We're down to our last copper penny," he said.

Dr. Buser pointed out that the money owed to the Board represented 25 percent of the FY1980 budget. He noted that any payment carried over into the next fiscal year would have to be added to monthly payments to the Board beginning in July.

The commissioners would be faced with a court order to either pay its debt to the Board or to levy an additional tax to pay the debt, if the Board were to file suit and win. Dr. Ryscavage stated other county school boards have won similar suits in Maryland.

The board became concerned about receiving its allocation when the commissioners suspended its April check of $309,000 to the Board in early May.

The Board was able to meet its May 5 payroll through a combination of an advancement of funds from the state and the cashing of certificates of deposit. The Board had invested in the certificates earlier in the year with unused money from local and state sources.

of 1980 is Diane Faye Beiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beiler.

Diane's school activities include being Editor-in-Chief of student council representative, an honor roll, distinguished honor roll, and citizenship honor roll student.

She is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and Quill and Scroll. She attended the Eighth Annual Forestry Board Conservation Workshop in the summer of 1979, where she was awarded a membership in the American Forestry Association.

Diane is also a member of the God Squad, a member of French Club I, II and III and a talent show participant.

Miss Beiler is a member of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, where she sings in the youth chorus.

The Southern High School Commencement will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Ronald Coddington, valedictorian, and Sheila Dunham, salutatorian, will speak, and Rev. Charles Teets will deliver the sermon.

The valedictorian for the Class of 1980 is Ronald Coddington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell T. Coddington, Deer Park.

Ronald maintained scholastic honors in advanced math, electronics, and a college preparatory curriculum. He attained honor roll status throughout his high school career. In addition, Ronald played varsity baseball, bowled in a junior league, and was a member of the radio club.

Ronald was selected as a member of Who's Who Among American High School Students, and received the WOW American History Award.

He plans to attend Potomac State College where he will major in engineering.

The salutatorian for the class is Miss Sheila Dunham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Neil Dunham, Mt. Lake Park.

Miss Dunham was a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship test, a finalist in the Presidential Scholar Program, runner-up in the Century III Leader's Scholarship Award, and a finalist in the Society of Professional Engineers.

Sheila maintained honor roll status throughout high school in the college preparatory program, and was active in the American Field Services, GAA, Quill and Scroll, Coin Club, Yearbook, and junior and senior class plays. In addition, she was selected for the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, served as a delegate to the Maryland Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, and was recently inducted into the National Honor Society. She was also presented with an achievement award in math by the Lion's Club.

Miss Dunham plans to major in computer science and math at Carnegie-Mellon University.

menting suggestions made in the analysis.

He emphasized the analysis should be used as a guide and as a source of ideas for future development. "You can agree with some of the ideas and not with others," he stated. He pointed out some of the suggestions may take years to implement while others could be implemented within a year.

Jim DeCarlo, director of the ISB, and Dave Berry, ISB management assistance specialist, also stated their commitment to the town. "The Institute for Small Business is committed to continue to work with you," stated DeCarlo, who added that cooperation among the town businessman was essential to the success of further planning.

Friedman told the group that the Design/Architectural Study performed by the School of Architecture at the University of Maryland was complete and a meeting with representatives of the school would be arranged within the next two weeks. He added that DECD had hired an architect to consult with businessmen in the town interested in implementing suggestions made in that study.

Members of the group expressed their reactions to some of the suggestions in the economic analysis. Discussion centered around problems with parking space, cooperation among all the Oakland merchants, on-street unloading of merchandise, and traffic flow.

Besides those four areas, the analysis addresses such topics as physical appearances, sidewalk vending, loitering, directional signage, promotion, customer relations, retail mix, display windows, tenant selection, historic sites and upper story usage.

Rotary Club To Sponsor Fiddler's Contest

The Friendsville Rotary Club will sponsor the 16th Annual Old Time Fiddlers' Contest July 19, 7:30 p.m. on the grounds of the new elementary school.

Plans are being formulated now to offer a wider scope to this event, which plays an important part in the history of the town.

The event began as part of the bicentennial celebration of the town in 1965. The Friendsville Rotary Club has sponsored the event each year since that time.

Contestants from six different states have taken part in the past.

Additional information will follow in a later edition.

Boaters Cautioned To Avoid Marked Scuba Divers' Flags

With the boating season upon us, the Deep Creek Lake Scuba Divers Club urges boaters to stay away from the diver's flag, which signifies that a scuba diver is below in the area. A diver's flag is red with a white diagonal stripe running from masthead to the lower right-hand corner.

The flag will be flown only when diving is in progress. It may be mounted on a float towed by the diver, or flown from an anchored boat. Maryland State Law requires that all water craft should stay outside of a minimum 150-foot radius from the flag, and also reduce speed when near the diving area.

The Department of Natural Resources will enforce this law, and persons are asked to report any violations of the law. The flag is used for the safety of the diver, to avoid very serious injury, said Helga Caruthers, club member. "If it is not observed, someone can be hurt badly," she added.

A representative from the Deep Creek Divers Club indicated that boats can usually be seen by the diver, but water skiers cannot. The club is concerned with safety and the observance of the diver's flag safe distance for boats and skiers.

The Deep Creek Divers Club has been in existence since January, 1978. The club presently has about 15 members and meets the third Wednesday of every month at Point View Inn, Deep Creek Lake, 7:30 p.m., to discuss club activities, outings, night dives, and to review classes, first aid procedures and accident prevention. The club is open to divers and non-divers, however, persons must be certified to actually dive with the group, and must be 16 years of age or older.

The club will offer scuba classes this summer, concentrating on accident prevention, first aid, and the effects of water pressure.

The Deep Creek Divers Club has assisted in rescue attempts and provides a service to persons around the lake by recovering lost items, such as articles which fall out of a boat. One member said, "we like to have something to dive for or search for, and we welcome calls concerning lost articles." The group is planning to take a recovery course to become certified rescue divers.

Persons having lost articles in Deep Creek Lake, or those wanting more information about the Deep Creek Divers Club, should call Larry Bland, president, at 387-5386. New members are being accepted.

The group will sponsor an underwater treasure hunt this Sunday, June 1, along with the Western Maryland Scuba Divers Association, Cumberland. The event will be held at the breast of the dam, Deep Creek Lake.

Despite the fact that there are 105 boys born for every 100 girls, by the year 2000 estimates are there will be almost two women for every man over age 75 in the United States.

SATURN'S RINGS

Early photographs of Saturn indicated the rings were swarms of particles of ice or ice and rock. Later the rings were determined to be composed of particles from snowball size to the size of an automobile. Pioneer II observations, however, indicate that the mass of the rings is low. This suggests the particles are mostly ice. Rings have also been discovered around Jupiter and Uranus.

MOON

Full Moon will occur at 5:28 p.m. tomorrow. This moment will be the time that Moon and Sun will be opposite each other as seen from Earth. Moonrise will be at 7:24 p.m. tonight. Next Monday, the Moon will rise at 2 minutes before midnight.

VISIBLE PLANETS

All the naked eye planets will be visible during the coming week. Mercury and Venus may be observed for about 45 minutes after sunset at the foot of Gemini. Mars and Jupiter will continue among the stars of Leo, setting about 5 hours after sunset. Saturn is east of Mars and Jupiter, also among the stars of Leo. It sets about one half hour after they set.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

By next Tuesday, there will be 8 minutes more daylight. Sunrise was at 5:54 this morning. Sunset will be at 8:35 this evening. Next Tuesday sunrise will be 3 minutes earlier at 5:51 a.m. Sunset will be 14 hours 49 minutes later at 8:40 p.m.

This is the 149th day of 1980. At noon the Sun will be in the same place today that it will be next July 15th.

CAHEC Honors 1979 Chairman

Marjorie M. Fawcett, outgoing chairman, was honored at the annual meeting of the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC) which was held recently at the Algonquin Motor Inn, Cumberland. Ms. Fawcett received a plaque presented by Don Spencer, Executive Director, in recognition of her service to CAHEC. Ms. Fawcett is currently the Director of Nursing at Memorial Hospital in Cumberland. Under her leadership, CAHEC has been able to make several critical transitions toward meeting federal and state program requirements. It has also developed expanded services for area health professionals in Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties.

Robert Grooms, Ph.D., Director of the Thomas B. Finan Center, will assume the role of chairman vacated by Ms. Fawcett. Dr. Grooms has served as vice-chairman of the executive committee and chairman of the budget and planning committee.

Dr. Raoul Felipa, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a slate of nominations for the new Board of Directors. Elected to the Board were Constance J. Spates, James Stanton, Dr. Robert Grooms, Dr. Guy Fiscus, Tim Finan, Rebecca Reuse, Leah Staling and David Ramsey. Elected to and Interdisciplinary Health Education Council were Gail Mazzocco, Henry Brown, Dr. Conrad Cole, Robin Edelman and Kery Hummel.

Dr. Robert Grooms, chairman of the Budget and Planning Committee, presented a report on the status of current funding and detailed the budget for FY1980-81, which had been developed in cooperation with UMAB. The funds will be used to provide basic services in CAHEC's program year beginning July 1, 1980. Residential and support services will be provided for 43 residents and students participating in the CAHEC program. A new service which will be provided is a comprehensive newsletter to keep health professionals up-to-date on events and services. The funds will support the development of a supplemental library service which features computerized bibliographic search capability for health literature. CAHEC will also offer interdisciplinary continuing education opportunities on priority topics for medical and health care personnel throughout the area.

The CAHEC staff distributed an annual program report in brochure form. The report details how CAHEC is working to improve health care through health manpower education in Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties. Copies of the report are available by writing to the Cumberland Area Health Education Center, the Algonquin Motor Inn, Suite 210, Baltimore & Greene Streets, Cumberland, MD 21502.

Garrett County Team Responds to Needs Of Haitian People

by Beverly J. Sincell

A CHANCE FOR SURVIVAL — Mary Ellen Lichty, R.N., right, holds a small child in preparation to administer peprezene, a medication for intestinal worms. Approximately 90 percent of Haitian children have intestinal worms. Mrs. Lichty and Ann Friend, left, treated over 1200 children for worms and other diseases. They also handed out soap and washcloths to the children.

A woman stands in line for two days hoping to receive medical care for the child she carries in her arms, its stomach is swollen from malnutrition and its body is covered with infected sores. Children run outside wearing no clothes because their families are too poor to buy any. Men and women bathe in a nearby river—the only available water supply—where they also fill their water gourds for household uses. Oxen pull carts loaded with farm produce from the mountain farms along narrow dirt roads while women walk alongside bearing up to one hundred-pound bundles on their heads. Men work on steep hillsides where geographical conditions dictate they must plant their gardens. The sun sinks below the horizon leaving behind a spectrum of radiant colors.

These are pictures ten people in Garrett County vividly carry in their minds, pictures they will always remember. These are pictures those ten people are sharing with the people of Garrett County—pictures that tell more than a hundred words the story of the people of Haiti.

The story of Haiti began for two of these people one and one-half years ago. Dr. Alvin Friend, an Oakland dentist, and the Rev. Don Matthews, of Pine Grove Church of the Brethren of Swallow Falls and Oak Grove Church of the Brethren on the McHenry-Sang Run Road, felt a call to mission work in Haiti, the poorest nation in the Western Hemisphere. Needs were great there they were told. So, there is where they went through a nondenominational organization called Grace Mission, Inc. They stayed for two weeks ministering to the medical, dental and spiritual needs of the mountain people. They saw that the need indeed was great and resolved to return. They returned in March 1980 with eight others from Garrett County: Ann Friend, Dr. Friend's wife; Velma Matthews, Rev. Matthews' wife; Dr. and Mrs. George Stoltzfus, Friendsville; Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Harvey, McHenry; and Mary Ellen Lichty, R.N., Oakland.

The decision to go to Haiti was made one and one-half years ago when a minister friend of Dr. Friend, Rev. Jack Beck, told him of the extreme poverty of the Haitian people and their tremendous needs. Beck served as a volunteer Board Member of the Grace Mission, Inc., with headquarters in Madison, Georgia and Port-au-Prince, Haiti. The Mission board members volunteer their services and pay their own expenses to and from meetings. Those who serve in the mission field volunteer their services and pay their own expenses.

The only administrative costs of the Mission is for the executive director, who coordinates the work full time in Haiti. All other money given to the Mission goes directly to the work which includes the construction of churches, schools, and hospitals, the funding of mobile medical-dental clinics, the provision of salaries for teachers, ministers, and health care personnel, and the sponsoring of Bible Conferences for national pastors, church officers, and field workers.

After hearing Beck's plea and meeting a minister from Haiti who gave a more personal account of life in Haiti, Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews said they felt a "compelling force to go". And so they did, twice.

The second trip to Haiti was different from the first trip for the two men. Their first trip was much like a journey into the unknown. They took with them supplies they thought they would need, purchased with money contributed by their church, friends, and families at home. They went to Haiti in a party of seven from Maryland composed of two ministers, an electrician, a plumber, a dentist, and two teen-agers.

They boarded a plane at Washington, D.C. and changed over in Florida. As the plane approached the mountainous terrain of Haiti, which is located on the western portion of an island shared with the Dominican Republic, Rev. Matthews said "We could already feel a sense of duty to the people to whom we were going to minister."

They landed in Port-au-Prince, the capitol of Haiti. It is a large Mediterranean city much like any American city except the sewers run through it and many of its streets are filled with open markets where buyers are expected to barter for their goods.

During those two weeks, Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews worked in four of the six mission stations of Grace Mission, Inc., three of them in the remote mountain areas of Haiti. Everywhere they went they were met by hundreds of Haitians seeking medical care. As they pulled into a town they were greeted by the mayor who had just sent out messengers along mountain trails to tell the people "The doctors are coming!" People traveled from as far as 40 miles hoping to receive medical aid.

School was dismissed to give the group a building to set up their clinic. Because there is only one power line in Haiti, Dr. Friend and the others worked without electricity in two of the four stations. They soon learned to improvise by working out of cardboard boxes and using crates and a door for a table. Their light source was a 12-watt light bulb attached to the end of a stick with foil for a reflector and hooked into the cigarette lighter of their vehicle. "It was quite a contrast from our modern medical-dental office," said Dr. Friend.

They also soon learned to work under the gaze of an audience. The dark-skinned Haitian people stood in lines waiting their turn and watched the men work. People in line outside watched through the windows of the building. "We were constantly watched by people," said Dr. Friend.

During those two weeks, Dr. Friend, assisted by Rev. Matthews, performed a lot of oral surgery, extracted 1244 teeth and treated many medical and pediatric patients. They worked 12-14 hours a day and six days a week in 95 degrees weather. They treated only those with severe ailments, yet they still did not see all the people. "We never could get to all the people," said Dr. Friend. He pointed out that the dental problems of the Haitians were great due partly to the fact that they snacked on sugar cane, one of the country's main agricultural products.

The group had no liquid analgesics or antibiotics for the many babies who were afflicted with infections, fever and/or dysentery. They were deeply concerned about these children because they knew that 65 out of 100 children die before age five in Haiti. To treat them, Rev. Matthews and another minister stood for hours pulverizing penicillin and aspirin tablets which they dissolved in Pepto-Bismol. Their "homemade" anecdote produced what Dr. Friend called "miraculous results."

Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews learned much about the Haitians during those two weeks. They describe them as a warm, loving, friendly, appreciative people who have suffered much. "It is hard for us as Americans, in a land of plenty and opportunity," said Dr. Friend, "to realize that there are people in our world who have never had so much as even an aspirin for their pain, or an antibiotic for their infections."

DR. ALVIN FRIEND, assisted by the Rev. Don Matthews, inspect a tumor in a Haitian woman's mouth. The removal of tumors was one of the many oral surgery conditions treated.

HAITIAN PEOPLE PATIENTLY WAIT their turn to receive medical care. The ten-member medical-dental-spiritual team from Garrett County soon became accustomed to working under the steady gaze of their patients.

The group ministered not only to the medical and dental needs of the Haitians, but also to their spiritual needs. Actually, their primary aim was to introduce the Christian gospel to the people. Dr. Friend pointed out, "Everybody who came to the clinic heard about Christ." The national religion of Haiti is Roman Catholic but many of the people still adhere to superstition, witchcraft, and voodooism. The group saw many turn to Christianity during their stay.

There was a language barrier between the English-speaking team and the Creole-speaking Haitians. The team learned such Creole phrases as "open your mouth" and "this is going to hurt a little" in order to perform their work. During worship services, the group communicated with the Haitians through interpreters.

The return trip this past March was similar to a reunion for Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews who recognized many of the Haitian people from the previous year. For the eight newcomers, the Haitians were not entirely strangers because they had seen the slide presentations shown to many by Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews. They had shown slides and told the story of the Haitian ministry to organizations throughout Garrett County and had even traveled down state and into Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The team worked under better conditions this past year. A hospital in one of the stations was more nearly complete and the team delivered the first baby to be born in that hospital.

The team was better equipped. They had a generator, donated from members of the Amish community and of Rev. Matthews' congregation, to produce electricity. They had more medical-dental supplies and equipment, furnished by Garrett County Memorial Hospital county physicians and pharmacists, and through donations from many citizens. They had more clothing to give to the Haitian children, made by many church women in the county.

They treated nearly 1500 medical and dental patients, gave worm medicine to over 1200 children, and extracted 1238 teeth. Yet they still did not treat all who came for help. Dr. Friend told of one woman with five abscessed teeth who waited three days for treatment allowing many others to go before her. When the clinic closed its doors, she had not yet seen the doctor. She fell to her knees crying and clinging to the massive iron gate surrounding the building. The team reopened the clinic for her after hearing her story.

The team returned to Garrett County after two weeks, glad for those they had helped but saddened by the thought of those they had not helped.

They all plan to return next year. Dr. and Mrs. Friend hope to return this fall for three weeks. There is much to be done in Haiti.

They are not the only team to visit Haiti; they are one of four teams who have visited the country through Grace Mission, Inc. Teams not only minister to the medical, dental and spiritual needs of the Haitians but also to the agricultural, educational, and sanitation needs. Dr. Friend emphasized that any person, whatever their skill or talent, is needed in Haiti; all can contribute to the mission work. Even those who can not go to Haiti can contribute, he noted, through prayer and moral and financial support.

The financial needs of Grace Mission, Inc. are great. The Mission hopes to build and equip more hospitals, churches and schools, as well as provide physicians, nurses, ministers and teachers.

Financial support from the churches and citizens in Garrett County was overwhelming to Dr. and Mrs. Friend and Rev. Matthews. They received approximately $11,000 in donations which they sent directly to Grace Mission, Inc., in Haiti. Dr. Friend tells of one woman who contributed $500 to the mission, money she had been saving for a trip to the Holy Lands.

Dr. Friend and Rev. Matthews are preparing a new slide presentation including slides from this years's trip to show to people in Garrett County. They have many stories to tell, many pictures to share.

Those ten people who went to Haiti have many memories of their trip. So many, they probably will never be able to tell them all. The pictures they carry in their minds are of both happy scenes and heart-breaking scenes. Those scenes call them back to Haiti; even now they are making their preparations.

THE DUFAILLY WATER HOLE — A woman fills her gourds with water from the community water spigot in Dufailly, one of the towns the Garrett County team visited in Haiti. Before the spigot was constructed, the people had to travel many miles for their water.

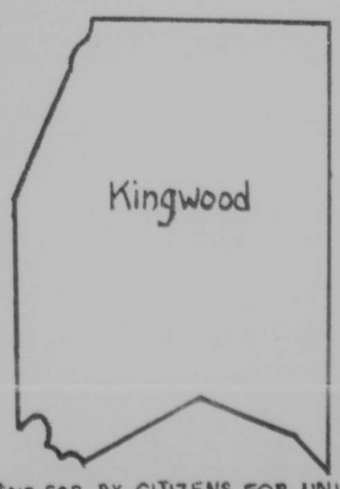

A MIXTURE OF OLD AND NEW — Oxen-drawn carts bearing bundles of sugar cane travel along the roads with the motor vehicles in Haiti. The farmers are taking their sugar cane to a train transfer station to ship the cane to the refinery at Port-au-Prince, the capital of Haiti.

Devlin Named Top Athlete

Southern High Athletes Honored At Annual Sports Banquet Thursday

by Todd Liller

The prestigious Terry Colaw Memorial Award, presented annually to the most outstanding athlete of Southern High School, was presented to Doug Devlin last Thursday night at the annual Southern High sports banquet. Devlin, a senior, excelled in football, basketball, and baseball.

In all, 37 trophies and over 40 plaques were presented at the banquet, which featured Pittsburgh Steeler defensive tackle Gary Dunn as the guest speaker.

In his talk, Dunn recalled some of his experiences since joining the Steelers. He stressed the fact that athletic and scholastics do, in fact, mix. He also pointed out that the only way to be a success is through a lot of hard work and determination.

Each senior athlete and cheerleader was presented a plaque, while the Southern Student Council award was given to the Ram football team.

In girls' volleyball, Patty Harsh was named the best spiker, while Lisa Stark garnered the ace server and MVP awards.

Sue Snyder received girls' basketball awards as the best defensive player and MVP. Amy Hillen was named the most improved player.

In girls' softball, Mary Nelson hit .483 to receive the trophy for the highest batting average, while Stark was named MVP. Stark, was also presented the Girls' Athletic Award as the top female athlete.

In freshman basketball, Kevin Winters was MVP, while Paul Harvey was named the best defensive player.

Junior varsity basketball saw Gary Heginbotham and Tim Skiles receive the MVP and most improved player awards respectively.

In junior varsity football, Ron Bosley was named best freshman, T. J. Thomas most improved sophomore, and Steve Bolding MVP.

The MVP of the Ram golf team was Potomac Valley Conference champion Dean Daniels.

Ted Wolf and Jim Barnes were co-MVP's in wrestling. Other wrestling awards went to Jeff Paolucci as the most improved and Mike Pritt as the most outstanding underclassman.

Jeff Ryscavage received varsity basketball trophies as MVP and best field goal percentage (62.6%). Devlin had the best free throw percentage (80.0%), and he also was named best defensive player. Dave Hershman received a trophy for the most assists (105).

Paul Cornish and George Corliss were named co-MVP's of the football team. Other football awards were: best offensive lineman, Kevin Flanagan; best offensive back Delbert Liller; best defensive lineman, Jeff Hinebaugh; best defensive back, Devlin; Mr. Hustle, Jeff Umbel; most coachable, John Sanders; dedication award, Dave Goldsborough; and most improved, Rick Edwards.

No baseball awards were presented, as the baseball season was still in progress at the time of the banquet.

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association Citizen of the Year award was presented to Dr. H. R. Gibson, of Oakland.

Approximately 350 people attended the banquet, which was sponsored by the SGAA.

PITTSBURGH STEELER Gary Dunn was the guest speaker at the annual Southern High School Athletic Awards Banquet, held Thursday evening at the Wisp Ski Area. Also at the head table, pictured left, was Athletic Director Tom Woods and his wife, Debbie, and at right, banquet chairman, Russ Eddy and his wife, Doris.

TOP ATHLETE — Doug Devlin, left, was named Outstanding Athlete of the Year and received the Terry Colaw Award. Devlin excelled in football, basketball and baseball. Presenting the award is Dennis Colaw, SGAA president.

DEAN DANIELS was named Most Valuable Player on the Southern High golf team.

Garrett Second In Turkey Kill

Spring wild turkey hunter in Maryland set a new record harvest of 268 Spring gobblers during the season which ran from April 21 through May 3. Last year's Spring total was 175.

According to turkey biologist Joseph Shugars, of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Administration, Allegany County led the state in number harvested with a total of 85, followed by Garrett County with 62, Frederick with 47, Washington with 39, Harford with 20 and Montgomery with 15. Seventy-five percent of the harvest was recorded during the first week of the season, for a total of 202 birds, which is also a record.

Secretary of Natural Resources James B. Coulter called the record harvest "a remarkable example of what modern wildlife management can accomplish in terms of getting maximum production out of Maryland's wild turkey range."

He said this spring's record harvest is "solid evidence that the turkey trapping and relocating program is on the right track."

DNR's Wildlife Administration aims to introduce turkeys wherever there is adequate habitat to sustain huntable populations.

Mischievous Acts By Bears Reported By Wildlife Office

The Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Administration office at Mt. Nebo reported this week that it has received a few calls over the past several days pertaining to the presence of bears in the Hutton, Cranesville and Meadow Mountain areas.

In the Hutton area, one quarter mile off Route 39 at the Archie H. Corby residence, five chickens from a total of six, were killed after a black bear tore open a chicken coop. Hairs from the bear were found on barbed wire and the remains of the chickens were spread through the woods, said Corby.

A second incident occurred on Hoyes Run Road in the Cranesville area, when a bear tore up two bee hives at the Sisler residence.

Al Bourgeouis, District Wildlife Manager, said that "there is nothing to be alarmed about." He explained that "this is breeding season, from mid-May to the end of June, and there are males roaming around. They don't have feeding on their mind as much as finding a mate. While they're passing through, they will take whatever free meal they can get."

Bourgeouis emphasized the fact that bears are not generally found around people, and since they are roaming now, during breeding season, they are more conspicuous.

Bourgeouis stated that a bear going after chickens is a rare occurence, as they generally feed on vegetation. He said that the black bear probably went after the chickens because they were cornered.

Bourgeouis added that the areas where the bears have been sighted are not far from good bear habitat, and they are unusually attracted to houses because of easy access to food.

"The bears are just passing through and will move on. They're not like grizzlys in other parts of the country who will keep coming back," said Bourgeouis. "I'd hate to see people go out and start shooting them," he said. They may cause some inconvenience, but they will move on and are only concerned with finding a mate, he added. Bears found in Garrett County range from 200 to 300 pounds, said Bourgeouis.

The Wildlife Administration, Mt. Nebo Station, has been investigating the few reports of sightings. Bourgeouis said the administration "would like to know of any sightings, and we will investigate them."

Huskies Whip Mountaineers, Fall To Bruce

The Northern High Huskies nipped the Beall Mountaineers 5-4 last week, but were then upset by the Bruce Bulldogs the following day, 4-2.

Dave Yunker's RBI on a fly out chased home Darrell Schrock in the fifth inning with what proved to be the winning run as the Huskies edged Beall last Wednesday evening on the Frostburg diamond.

The Huskies, registering their 11th win in 16 decisions, grabbed three runs in the opening frame, two of them scoring on an error and the other on a single by Beiler.

A second-inning run was also the result of an error.

Beall tallied three times in the fourth inning on RBI singles by Duncan and Barry Mazer, and a Northern miscue.

Bill Bender garnered the win over Dennis Shipe, both pitchers going the distance.

The Bruce Bulldogs had upset on their minds when they took to the field Thursday and their attitude paid off, as they stopped the more powerful Huskies, 4-2. Bulldog pitcher Tony Sawekis scattered eight Northern hits and struck out five.

The Bulldogs, 4-12 on the season, dealt the Huskies playoff hopes a mortal blow with the victory.

Brian Cueva led the winners at the plate with a pair of safeties, including a key blow in the four run Bruce fourth inning.

Bill Bender swatted a pair of safeties for the Huskies who fell to 11-6 on the campaign.

Oakland Opens With Two Wins

The Oakland Pen-Mar baseball team continued its winning ways from last year with a doubleheader sweep of Moorefield on Sunday to open the 1980 season.

In the first game Mark McCarty fired a three-hitter, struck out 11 and allowed only one walk as Oakland won 4-0.

Oakland's shortstop, Lawrence Nesselrodt, led the attack with three singles and two stolen bases. Cork Sweitzer had an RBI single in the 7th. Ernie Shotwell doubled in Randy Cirillo in the second and was then singled in by Mike Brady. Nesselrodt then drove in Brady.

In the second game Steve Wamsley fired another three-hitter for Oakland, striking out nine and walking one.

Nesselrodt led off with a single, stole second and was driven in by Randy Cirillo.

In the third inning Greg Beachy reached base on an error and went to third on Cork Sweitzer's double. Al Cvetnick sacrificed in Beachy and Pete Brosnihan tripled in Sweitzer.

In the fifth Al Cvetnick singled and later scored on an error.

This Saturday Oakland hosts Bel Air at Garrett Community College at 2:00. On Sunday Oakland hosts Island Creek at Garrett Community. Both games are seven-inning doubleheaders.

Lady Golf Players Association News

Now you can insure your home and car with 1 extra-value policy.

It's called PCP—Personal Comprehensive Protection. It's the extra-value insurance that provides protection for your home and car in one convenient policy.

Separate policies often mean separate dollar amounts of protection for your car, your home and its contents. With PCP you get one amount of property protection for your home and its contents. Plus one amount of liability protection for your car and home. Dwelling losses are paid at replacement cost with no depreciation. And there's automatic inflation protection as well as a 5-year renewal guarantee. You can even include hospital indemnity coverage, disability income and mortgage life insurance.

PCP: another good idea from The Continental Insurance Companies. Come see us and we'll help you arrange the plan that's just right for your insurance needs.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Garrett County Commissioners will conduct a public hearing on June 5th, 1980, at 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium of Garrett Community College, to present and take testimony on the proposed County Budget including Federal Revenue Sharing for Fiscal Year 1980-1981.

The proposed budget is as follows:

Expenditures	This Year '79-'80	Next Year '80-'81
General Government Operating	$ 719,285	$ 897,158
General Government Capital	580,000	-0-
Public Safety Operating	488,154	562,295
Public Safety Capital	31,500	-0-
Public Works Operating	2,844,360	3,708,600
Public Works Capital	15,600	-0-
Health & Welfare	250,820	255,150
Correction Operating	21,341	80,093
Correction Capital	40,000	-0-
Education Operating	4,454,135	4,720,056
Education Capital	34,700	-0-
Culture & Recreation Operating	62,590	63,199
Culture & Recreation Capital	12,000	-0-
Public Service	61,401	65,116
Economic Opportunity	20,000	20,000
Miscellaneous	380,558	844,807
	$10,016,444	$11,216,474
Revenues
Property Tax
1979-80 Tax rate of $2.66	$ 6,185,032
1980-81 Tax rate of $3.31		$ 8,160,084
Local Taxes, Other	2,050,000	2,009,850
State Shared Taxes	136,300	146,500
Licenses & Permits	58,500	59,700

Other Revenue	842,100	228,260
Surplus Appropriated	200,000	-0-
	$10,016,444	$11,216,474

Last year's property tax rate was $2.66, and the certified value of all assessable property was $243,798,161. The rate multiplied by the value produced revenues (less discounts) of $6,063,132.

To produce the same revenues as last year (including certain State Aid adjustments), the tax rate would be $2.34. This rate is called the constant yield rate. For this taxable year, the actual property tax rate is $3.31. This rate is $ .97 more than the constant yield tax rate and will produce in revenue $2,302,761 more than produced by the constant yield tax rate.

The proposed Revenue Sharing Budget is as follows:

REVENUE SHARING

Revenue	1980-1981
July-September	$227,750
October-December	227,750
January-March	227,750
April-June	227,750
	$911,000
Estimated Interest	5,000
Balance from FY '79-'80	-0-
	$916,000

EXPENDITURES

Department	Operating Expense
Roads Department	$547,338
Board of Education	155,500
TOTAL EXPENDITURES	$702,838

Copies of this proposed budget are available at the County Commissioners Office.

By Order of the Board
Raymond K. Fisk,
Deputy Clerk

Boy Scouts Hold Camping Weekend

Over 250 Boy Scouts and their leaders camped recently on the Harrison Kyle property at the Poplar Lick Run area of Garrett County's Savage River State Forest. Twenty-eight Scout troops traveled from all parts of the local council's six county area for the weekend.

The program, which was coordinated by Howard Ward and Tom Struntz of Frostburg, concentrated on skills development and featured a 12 mile hike on Saturday afternoon. Before departing on the hike, all troops were reviewed on First Aid skills by members of the Camporee staff which included: Carl Slemmer, Roy Pepper, Bob Moreland, Jim McDonald, Doug Minnich, Marty Rohman, Eric Bruner, and Rob Rephan.

Following the hike, Scouts were tested on knot tying skills at their campsites by the camporee staff. Troops were presented a blue or red ribbon for their degree of competence in both the first aid and knot tying events.

A campfire was held on Saturday night featuring Scout songs and a "tap out" ceremony for new candidates in the honor campers society of the Scout program known as Order of the Arrow. Candidates for the "tap out" were elected by members of their troop and will be inducted into the order following an Ordeal Weekend, which will be held at the Camp Potomac council summer camp on the weekend of June 6-8.

Religious Services were conducted Saturday evening for Protestants by Rev. John Grant, St. John's Church, Deer Park, Md. and Rev. Bob Landes of the LaVale Baptist Church and Father Moody of St. Mary's Church in Cumberland gave the Catholic Mass.

Troops participating in the weekend are as follows:

From Namacolin Trail District (Allegany County); Troops 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 17, 18, 21, 24, 42, 69, 89, 90, and 92. Also Pack 91.

From Tri-Valley District (Hampshire, Hardy, Grant, and Mineral Counties, WV) Troops 25, 34, 38, 52, 58, 60, and 64.

From Deep Creek District (Garrett Co.); Troops 31, 68, and 82.

Potomac Council serves youth in Allegany and Garrett Counties in Maryland; and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant Counties in West Virginia, and is a participating member of the County United Way.

Transportation To Be Provided For Demo Caucus

The Garrett County Democrat State Central Committee and the Garrett County Democrat Club will sponsor a bus to the caucus in Hagerstown on Saturday, June 7. Democrats will choose five delegates and four alternates from the Sixth Congressional District to attend the Democratic National Convention in New York. All registered Democrats are invited to participate.

The bus will pick up passengers starting at Opel's Food Market in Finzel at 10:45 a.m.; Grantsville, Bender Chevrolet Garage, 11 a.m.; Friendsville, First National Bank, 11:30 a.m.; Accident, Laundromat, 11:45 a.m.; McHenry Fire Hall, 12 noon; Oakland, Heck's parking lot, 12:30 p.m.; Deer Park Fire Hall, 12:45 p.m.; Kitzmiller, top of mountain, 1 p.m.; and Bloomington, First National Bank, 1:15 p.m. The bus will leave Hagerstown at 6:00 p.m. and stop for dinner in Hancock. Cost of the trip is minimal, but does not include the price of dinner. Anyone interested in attending should contact Mr. Englander, Englander's Pharmacy, or call 334-9455 by Saturday, May 31.

Ada Mae Welch Bellay, Jack Fridinger, William Goldsborough, and James Matthews from Garrett County have filed candidate forms for the Sixth Congressional District Delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

Red Cross Offers Water Safety Tips

To assist persons in becoming more familiar with basic water safety rules, and to develop skills as a swimmer or lifesaver, the American Red Cross has a continuous Water Safety Program in effect in Garrett County.

Interested persons, aged 15 or older, should contact the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross, at 334-3916 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily for more information.

According to the Red Cross, 7,800 Americans die by drowning each year, 300 of them in their own backyard pools. Red Cross certificates can be provided for successfully completing water safety courses now being offered.

Former Resident Honored Prior To Retirement

Emeric G. Dusic, a former Oakland resident, and former owner of Dusic Produce, recently retired as an educator from Ottawa High School, Ottawa, Illinois.

While a resident of Oakland, Mr. Dusic held membership on the school board and the welfare board, was a former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a former Rotary member.

In early May, Dusic received the first DuSable Award, which was presented to him by the executive director of the DuSable Museum of Afro-American History and Art. The award represents helping to develop a better understanding of minority cultures in the United States.

In 1978, Dusic was selected Ottowa High School Teacher of the Year, and runner-up in the 1978 Illinois Office of Education Teacher of the Year. He also received special recognition from President Jimmy Carter on his outstanding teaching ability.

Mr. Dusic made the decision to become a teacher in 1962, and earned his master's degree at the age of 65.

The Dusics are the parents of four children. Carolyn Hernandez, a teacher, resides with her family in Canada; Richard, a marketing systems manager, resides with his family in Watsonville, California; Lynn, a teacher, resides near Deep Creek Lake; and Nick, a private businessman, lives with his family in Cloversdale, Oregon.

The Dusic family plans a visit to the Oakland area on June 16.

Blood Center Hosts Symposium

A technical symposium, sponsored by the Scientific and Education Committee of the Johnstown Regional Red Cross Blood Center, was held May 1 in Johnstown. It was attended by physicians with specialities in pathology and blood banking, blood bank specialists and supervisors and laboratory technologists from Western Pennsylvania, Western Maryland, Northern West Virginia and one county in Ohio.

Attending from Garrett County Memorial Hospital was Sam Husselman, Mrs. Mary Bishoff and Mrs. Mary Lynn Loomis.

According to Dr. Mario Ritter, Medical Director for the Johnstown Blood Services, programs such as the technical symposium will be offered on a continuing basis as an opportunity for individuals involved in blood banking within the region to keep abreast of the latest advances in technology which affect their field.

Maryland News Briefs

BALTIMORE (UPI) — City housing officials said a woman who planned to buy a vacant Fells Point rowhouse that collapsed last weekend is liable for damages caused by the collapse.

The house's facade fell on two cars Sunday. The prospective buyer, Myrna Poirier, said she was required to buy insurance for any injuries caused by the house even though she does not yet own it.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The city Board of Estimates has approved $8 million in tax-exempt revenue bonds to help finance the conversion of a parking garage into a luxury hotel.

The defunct Minit Garage will be turned into a hotel with 90 executive suites.

Developers promised Mayor William Donald Schaefer the garage's green facade would be replaced with an earth-toned covering by the fall.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore firefighters will be trained to understand sign language to communicate with deaf fire victims.

A hearing impaired instructor will teach fire academy instructors and medical services personnel. The sign language instructor will be paid under a grand from the Comprehensive Training and Employment Act.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — The Howard County Council has added $628,000 to the county school budget.

Part of the additional money comes from a $200,000 surplus found in the education fund. The rest would have to come from other revenue.

County Executive J. Hugh Nichols has proposed lowering the county's property tax rate by eight cents to a projected $2.20 per $100 of assessed value.

But the council decision Monday to increase the school budget would add four cents to the property tax rate, making to $2.24 and cutting Nichols' proposed reduction in half.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — U.S. Justice Thurgood Marshall could not study for his law degree from the University of Maryland because he was black, but now the university plans to name its new law library in his honor.

Marshall, a Baltimore native who obtained his law degree from Howard University after he wasrefused admission to Maryland, will have his name on the new $5 million law library scheduled for completion in October.

He was also honored earlier this month at the dedication of a statue in his image that was erected near the U.S. District Courthouse.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Supreme Bench Judge Albert Figinski has lost a spot on the November election ballot by eight voters.

The vote count in the May 13 Republican primary, which was certified Monday, indicated Figinski lost the fifth and final slot on the ballot to attorney William Murphy Jr. Murphy tallied 3,950 votes to Figinski's 3,942.

Figinski is the only of the five judges, all of whom filed as both Republicans and Democrats, to lose both primaries. Judge Elsbeth Bothe lost the Democratic nomination, but won in the Republican race.

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Leaf-eating gypsy moths have invaded Maryland, but state argiculture officials said Tuesday they do not expect a serious infestation.

The gypsy moths eat the foliage of trees and have extensively damaged forests in parts of the northeast for years.

The moths have been spotted on the Eastern Shore, in the Baltimore suburbs, in Frederick and Washington counties and in Bethesda.

Assistant State Agriculture Secretary Robert Altman said pesticides have controlled the moths in Maryland and this year's infestation has been light.

"We do not anticipate any defoliation, any damage, this year," he said.

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Baltimore County firefighters angered over budget cuts made by the County Council apparently ended their sickout Tuesday.

Only 16 firefighters reported sick Tuesday, "considerably less" than the 39 who did not work Monday, said public affirs corrdinator Donna Romoser.

The firefighters apparently were upset because the council voted to cut funds from next year's budget that would have allowed the fire department to hire 24 more firefighters and threby reduce the work week from 54 hours to 51 hours.

Energy Tip—Use covered pans when cooking because it takes ten times more heat to cook foods in an uncovered pan than it does to cook in a covered pan.

HARD—COOKED EGG FACTS

Egg supplies are up according to USDA marketing specialists. That means that egg prices should be declining until they reach their seasonal low, which usually occurs in June. Eggs are always a good economical source of protein, but with declining prices, they are now even more so. Besides being economical, eggs contain high quality protein as well as being good sources of Vitamins, A, D, E, K, and B-Complex, and minerals, especially iron.

Hard-cooked eggs are a favorite of many and they can be used in a variety of ways. The following information will help you learn more about hard-cooked eggs:

*Never "boil" eggs, unless you want them to have the texture of tennis balls.

*Shells crack less easily if you let eggs come to room temperature before cooking. Begin cooking in cold, not boiling water.

*The green ring around the yolk is caused by a reaction within the egg, which combines iron and sulfur. After cooking, cool eggs immediately, by plunging them into a bowl of cold water, to prevent the green ring from forming.

*Very fresh eggs are hard to peel. To avoid this problem, use one week old eggs or "age" very fresh ones by leaving them at room temperature for eight hours.

*Hard-cooked eggs are low in calories, only 80 per large egg; 77 for medium.

*Hard-cooked eggs can be covered and stored with water in an air-tight container in the refrigerator for 7 to 10 days.

*Hard-cooked eggs may be stored for 2 months when peeled, put in a jar, and covered with vinegar. They can then be used for egg salad or deviled eggs.

*Hard-cooked eggs do not freeze well. They taste alright but the texture is not as fine.

The color of the yolk will vary according to the type of feed the chicken eats. Now that you know the facts, hard-boil some eggs and try this recipe:

EGGS-TRAORDINARY CHOWDER

⅓ cup butter
1 cup onion, chopped
¼ cup of flour
2 tsp. instant granular chicken bouillon
3 cups (.72L) milk
2 cups cooked cubed potatoes
1 can (16 oz.; .45Kg) whole kernel corn with liquid
2 T. diced pimento or green pepper
1 bay leaf
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
8 hard-cooked eggs
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese

Melt butter in approximately 3 quart (2.85L) saucepan; cook onion until tender. Blend in flour and bouillon. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Stir in milk, heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir until mixture is smooth and thickened. Add potatoes, corn (including liquid), pimento, bay leaf, salt, and pepper. Simmer, stirring occasionally, about 5 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Add eggs and cheese. Bring to serving temperature. Makes 6 servings of approx. 1-¼ cups each.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

"Cooking For One or Two" and "Meals In A Hurry" will be the topic of a workshop on May 28 at the Extension Office. Times are 12N-1:00 p.m.; 1:30 p.m.-3:00 p.m., 7:00 p.m.-8:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service offers its programs to persons regardless of race, color, national origin, sex or handicap and is an equal opportunity employer.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever Cases Reported

Six reported cases of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever (RMSF) have turned up in Maryland during the first month of the annual RMSF season which generally runs from April through September, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene announced today. Three of the reported cases were in Anne Arundel County, two cases in Baltimore County and one in Frederick County.

RMSF is a tick-caused disease generally characterized by a sudden onset of symptoms, with moderate to severe fever (occasionally 104 to 106 degrees), severe headaches, chills, fatigue, and generalized body aching and skin rash. The rash usually involves the palms of the hands and soles of the feet and progresses towards the trunk of the body. However, in some cases, no rash at all is observed by the patient.

Last year there were 85 reported cases of RMSF during the season, 61 confirmed by laboratory testing, said Dr. David Sorley, Chief, Division of Communicable Diseases. Although no deaths were reported last year, the case fatality ratio for RMSF for the period 1975-1977 was 5.2 deaths per 100 cases. Nationally, this ratio has remained unchanged for the last decade despite the availability of effective antibiotic.

Dr. Sorley stressed that the disease can be fatal if not diagnosed promptly and treated with an appropriate antibiotic. He added that a major danger with RMSF is a patient's delay in seeking medical consultation for any illness accompanied by a high fever, headache and rash at this time of year, and in failing to inform the physician of a recent tick bite or tick exposure. Studies show that although children account for the majority of the cases, fatalities from untreated cases tend to occur in adults above age 35. It is significant to point out that about 30 percent of the total reported cases last year had no history of a tick bite. Dr. Sorley also cautioned the public not to wait for the onset of a rash if other symptoms are present.

Physicians confirming a diagnosis when RMSF is suspected use two blood tests, three or more weeks apart. Appropriate testing of blood samples can be performed by the Department's Laboratory.

For the next two years, the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene will be cooperating with the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health and the University of Maryland School of Medicine in a comprehensive study of epidemiology of RMSF to more clearly understand the nature of the disease. The study also hopes to identify risk factors which might be vulnerable to public health measures.

Periodic and thorough grooming for ticks on the body is the most effective preventive measure a parent can take to reduce risk of tick bites to themselves and their children.

Reminder Issued On Employment Of Minors Law

Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Harvey A. Epstein, issued a reminder recently that youths 14 through 17 years of age may not work unless the employer has a verified and validated work permit in his possession for the minors. The Maryland Employment of Minors Law provides coverage to persons who have not yet reached their 18th birthday.

From Memorial Day to Labor Day, minors 14 and 15 years of age cannot work before 7:00 a.m. or after 9:00 p.m., he said. Youths in this age bracket are not permitted to work more than eight hours a day or more than 40 hours a week. However, at ages 16 and 17, youths may be employed up to 12 hours a day when school is not in session and without restrictions as to the time of day.

The State Employment of Minors Law also specifies that minors must be given a half-hour break after working five hours continuously.

"It is to the employers' advantage to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Maryland Employment of Minors Law and the Federal Child Labor Law that apply to their type of business," stressed Commissioner Epstein.

For further information on work permits or the Maryland Employment of Minors Law, Persons should contact the Division of Labor and Industry, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland, (301) 383-2261.

Supporters Want Bush As Reagan Running Mate

By United Press International

Several Maryland supporters of former Republican presidential hopeful George Bush have urged that their candidate be considered as a vice presidential running mate for expected presidential nominee Ronald Reagan.

A Bush vice presidential candidacy was touted Monday by Robert Goodman, the Baltimore media consultant who produced television commercials for the former CIA director, and former Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall.

Bush announced Monday that he would release the estimated 270 delegates committed to him and urge them to cast first-ballot votes for Reagan at the GOP National Convention.

Goodman, who helped produce 400 radio ads, 35 television spots and 15 newspaper and magazine advertisements for Bush, said Bush would add balance and depth to the ticket.

"He put up a valiant fight, and I think he's certainly viable as a possible vice presidential candidate," Goodman said.

Goodman blamed Bush's troubles on his surprising defeat in the New Hampshire primary and the candidacy of Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., who siphoned away votes in several primaries.

Beall echoed Goodman's sentiments that Bush "would add breadth and depth to the ticket" because "he has a certain type of experience that Reagan doesn't."

The former Texas congressman and UN ambassador received 24 delegates in Maryland's May 13 primary. Those delegates, who include Beall, will meet May 31 at the state GOP convention in Ocean City. An additional six at-large Republican delegates will be elected by the party's 150-member state central committee.

Republican state chairman Allan Levey predicted that the withdrawal of Bush's candidacy could help Reagan's chances of defeating Carter in the fall.

Maryland Group Aids Mount St. Helens' Animals

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Maryland animal protection group has raised $1,300 to help pay for food and shelter for animals abandoned by people fleeing from the eruptions of Mount St. Helens in Washington state.

James Kovic, vice president of Defenders of Animal Rights, said Tuesday the group used $1,300 from its animal emergency rescue fund to help the Cowlitz County Humane Society and several other humane societies in Washington.

The Cowlitz County group, located in Longview, about 40 miles west of the volcano, has provided shelter for 300 dogs and cats and 90 horses and cows that were abandoned by residents who fled the area.

It also has been dropping feed by helicopter to other animals it could not reach because the volcano destroyed the roads to the higher ground, Kovic said.

Investigators Probe Into Two-Alarm Fire

SHADY SIDE, Md. (UPI) — Fire investigators Tuesday attempted to determine the cause of a two-alarm blaze that destroyed the restaurant at the Chesapeake Yacht Club.

The fire, which was reported at 3 a.m., started in a second-story room and swept through the wood-frame building before it was declared under control 45 minutes later.

Investigators speculated that faulty electrical wiring caused the fire. There were no reports of damage to boats docked at the marina.

Bill To Allow Higher Interest Rates Signed

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes signed into law Tuesday a bill that permits lenders to charge higher interest rates, and said he was not convinced interest rates had declined enough to make the bill unnecessary.

The governor said the only reason he would have vetoed the bill was because interest rates have been steadily dropping nationwide since the measure was passed, but he said they have not fallen enough.

"I know the prime rate is coming down, but a lot of states have interest rates higher than Maryland's, and Virginia has no limit," he said.

As Hughes signed the bill, Morgan Guaranty Trust of New York sliced its prime interest rate — the loan rate for top corporate customers — two points to 14 percent, and Chicago's First National Bank also dropped its prime to 14 percent from 15¼ percent.

The 14 percent lending rate marked the lowest level since the Federal Reserve revamped its monetary policy last October.

The bill Hughes signed, which was the banking industry's top legislative priority this year, will permit banks to charge 18 percent interest on credit card balances of up $700 and 12 percent on any balance over $700. The current cutoff point is $500.

Backers said the $200 change would cost a customer no more than $12 a year in additional interest.

The bill, which takes effect July 1, will also permit lenders to charge a standard interest rate of 18 percent on all consumer loans, such as car, home improvement or bill consolidation loans.

Currently, lenders may charge 18 percent for loans up to $3,500, but only 12 percent for the balance above $3,500.

Opponents characterized the bill as another way for banks to bilk the public and said it was a permanent solution to the temporary problem of high interest rates.

But supporters said without the higher rates, banks and other lenders would simply loan all their money out of state and refuse credit and loans in Maryland.

Hughes said raising the interest ceilings coupled with the removal of a lid on mortgage interest rates last year may signal a trend away from government regulation of such rates, choosing instead to let the market determine the rate.

Governor Signs 204 Bills, Indicates Plan To Veto 95

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes signed into law Tuesday legislation that immediately makes it illegal to sell drug paraphernalia in Maryland, but vetoed a bill aimed at using teenagers' driving licenses to curtail drinking by young people.

Facing a constitutional deadline to either sign or veto all legislation passed by the 1980 General Assembly, Hughes signed 204 separate bills, announced his intention to veto 30 bills for policy or technical reason and 65 others that were duplicates passed by both houses.

Among those Hughes said he will veto was a separate bill also designed to ban the sale of drug paraphernalia, and a measure that would have given state lottery agents higher commissions for redeeming winning tickets.

Included in the long list of bills signed into law were measures to:

—Permit a $45 million public school construction program;

—Grant $1 million to Baltimore for an ongoing five-year renovation project at Memorial Stadium; and $300,000 to the city's Peale Museum;

—Create a Judicial Compensation Commission to recommend pay scales for judges; —Raise from $4.50 to $6 the fee for Maryland fishing licenses.

—Require that special education programs be made available to certain handicapped students who are 21 or 22 years old.

The General Assembly passed two separate bills aimed at reducing drug abuse among young people by prohibiting the sale of devices such as pipes and bongs used to smoke marijuana or other items especially made for hiding or using drugs.

Hughes said he signed the Senate version, which was fashioned after a federal Drug Enforcement Administration model law, because he believed it was more stringent than the House version, and because the state attorney general said it was constitutional.

"I don't think it is going to solve the entire problem," said Hughes, but added that he thought it would help.

He said he will veto the bill that would penalize underage drinkers with the possible loss of their drivers' license because, among other reasons, it would be administratively difficult to implement.

He said the bill contains one serious drafting error that would require anyone charged with under-age drinking be tried in their jurisdiction of residence. That would mean, he said, that someone from Montgomery County arrested in Ocean City, for instance, would have to be tried in Montgomery County.

The governor also said the bill could be unconstitutional, and said he was troubled by the precedent of making suspension of a drivers' license the penalty for a crime unrelated to traffic laws.

He said he would have preferred to sign a bill raising the state's minimum drinking age from 18 to 19, a measure rejected by the General Assembly in favor of the more innovative drivers' license suspension approach.

Millions In Unpaid Water Bills Due

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Thousands of water and sewer bills worth about $4 million have gone uncollected after four months or more, city officials said Tuesday.

Officials said they have mailed delinquent notices to nearly 30,000 customers since late March and another 500 to 600 notices are being sent out each day. But they admit they do not have enough employees to cut off water service to customers, considered the best way of forcing payment.

City records indicate nearly $9 million in outstanding water bills. Of that amount, $5 million are current charges and are expected to be paid on time.

But the remaining $4 million in bills are 120 days old or older, meaning the bills have been ignored for two or more billing periods.

City Collector William Reiley said the city has improved collections since beginning a computer system last November.

Baltimore Youth Killed In Fire

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A city teen-ager was trapped and killed by a raging fire early Tuesday but five members of his family escaped to safety.

Firefighters said Timothy Dorsey, 14, died when he was trapped in a third-floor bedroom. The youth's mother, 41-year-old Edna Dorsey, suffered burns on both legs while attempting to save her son. She was treated at Bon Secours Hospital and later released.

Four other members of the Dorsey family escaped through a second floor window, dropped onto a roof below and then jumped to the ground.

The one-alarm fire began at 3:23 a.m and was under control within 20 minutes, firefighters said.

Ocean City Police Investigate Drowning

OCEAN CITY, Md. (UPI) — Police Tuesday investigated the drowning of an 18-year-old Coral Hills youth and the near drowning of his younger brother in a motel swimming pool.

Major John Ryan said a witness saw the youths in the pool Sunday at the Thunderbird Motel, but drew no response when he called to them. Ryan said Derryl Andrews and his 17-year-old brother, Calvin, were pulled from the pool by motel guests. Derryl Andrews was pronounced dead at the scene.

Calvin Andrews was listed in critical condition at Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury. The cause of the drowning was under investigation. Ryan said both youths had been seen swimming in the pool earlier.

Doctoral Degree Program To Be Proposed At FSC

Two meetings have been scheduled with representatives from the University of Maryland and Frostburg State College to meet with area persons interested in advanced degrees.

The meetings, intended to gauge local interest in the proposed programs and to respond to questions concerning the programs, will be held on Thursday, May 29, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in Conference Rooms 2 and 3 of the Allegany County Board of Education Building, 108 Washington Street, Cumberland; and from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of the Vocational-Technical Center at Garrett Community College, McHenry.

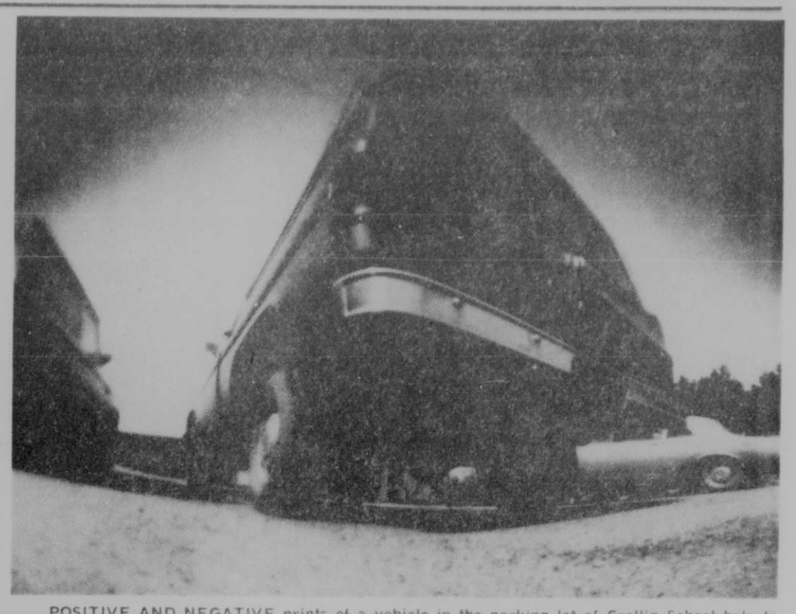

Tentative plans have been made, according to Dr. Paul Lyons, Dean of the Graduate School at Frostburg State, for a cooperative program offering an Advanced Graduate Specialist certificate and a Doctorate in Education degree. Both programs originate from the University of Maryland at College Park and are to be offered in cooperation with Frostburg State College.

The objective of both the certificate and doctorate options is to provide a knowledge and background base for exerting quality leadership in the improvement of educational practice. The curriculum for both options will include components from educational foundations, research and evaluation, curriculum and instruction, and human development. Variations will depend on program option, individual student background, and specialization interest. Program courses will be offered at Frostburg State College.

Persons interested in either the advanced certificate program or the doctoral program are requested by Dr. Lyons to attend either of the scheduled meetings on May 29 to learn more about the details of the proposed programs and to have questions answered by program representatives.

CRELLIN SCHOOL STUDENTS in grades three through five, classes of Charles Teets, participated in a two-week spring program dealing with photography. The nearly 50 students worked daily on various aspects of photography, including the creation of pin-hole cameras from oatmeal boxes, aluminum foil and photo sensitive paper. Other areas explored by the students were color lift, taking a color photo from a negative; and sun print, making picture prints on glass and then developing an image on paper. This shot of the school's property was taken by Roger White, a fifth grade student.

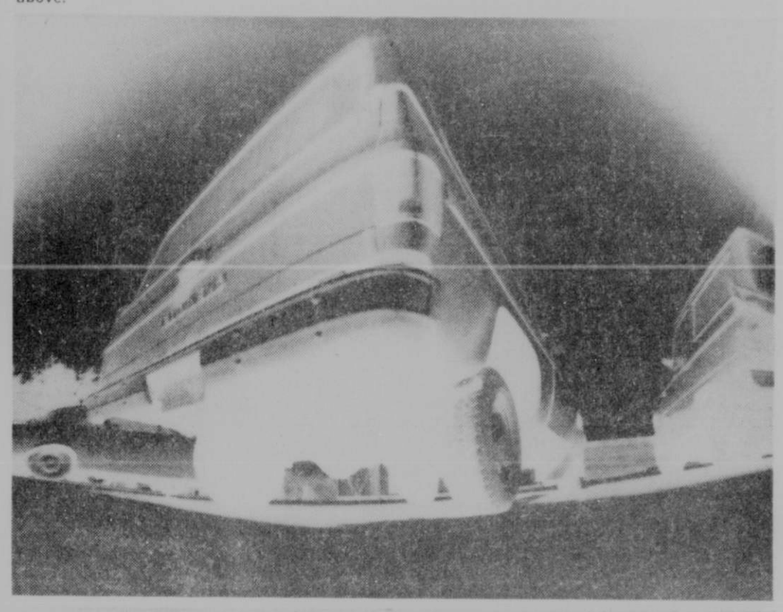

POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE prints of a vehicle in the parking lot of Crellin School help to indicate the process of photography. The image is distorted because the film in the oatmeal box pin-hole camera is curved. This photo was taken by Judy Crosco, third grade, with a makeshift camera. The cameras were placed on the ground and left for the image to materialize in about 15 or 20 minutes on photo sensitive paper inside the box. The negative print is pictured below, and the finished product above.

Celebrates 93rd

Mrs. John Stevenson, formerly of Mt. Lake Park, now of Reeder Memorial Home, Boonsboro, celebrated her 93rd birthday on May 17. She was the guest of honor at a family dinner held Sunday at the South Mountain Inn. Thirty members and five generations of her family were present.

SCHOOL OF THE FUTURE? — This photograph, taken by Jason Park, fourth grade, appears to resemble the home of "The Jetsons!" Looks are deceiving, however, as this is a picture of the Crellin School, specifically, the classroom of Mr. Teets, printed on curved paper. Teets explained that the students were free to choose their own subjects, shot through a homemade pin-hole camera. Teets said the students were able to grasp concepts of photography, as well as techniques, during the two-week program.

A 12-FOOT GIANT rises above the playground of the school, seeming much larger through the distortion of the camera. Sandy Eisenfrout, fourth grade, is the master of this work. Pin-hole photography is completely natural and negatives can be produced by using household items, and can later be developed in a dark room. The students also worked with a 35 mm camera, in arranging pictures and setting the focus and light meter, and developing the pictures. They also experimented with latent images and an enlarger.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenue Up

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported recently that alcohol and tobacco tax revenues for the month of April 1980 totaled $7,082,227, a 7.3% increase over the $6,599,427 collected for April 1979. The overall increase was posted primarily because of an unusual 9.2% increase in tobacco tax collections. Tax revenue from sales of distilled spirits, wine and beer was less than for April 1979.

"The unusual increase in tobacco tax collections seems to be attributable to increased sales of cigarettes to retailers prior to a general price increase by major cigarette manufacturers," Mr. Goldstein said.

For the first ten months of Fiscal Year 1980, all four sources of alcohol and tobacco tax revenue posted growth figures. Distilled spirits tax revenue of $14,036,788 reflected a 1.2% increase in comparison to the same period of last year. Wine tax receipts grew by 3.9%, realizing $2,740,727 and beer tax collections increased slightly, providing $7,852,557. The largest growth occurred in cigarette tax revenues, where the $42,472,040 collected exceeded revenues for the same period of Fiscal Year 1979 by 2.6%.

Net alcohol and tobacco tax receipts for the ten months totaled $66,832,357, up 2.2% from the $65,367,588 received during the same period of Fiscal Year 1979.

A Friend At Headquarters

Law and Order. Lately we've been making those words sound grim. Because we've all been painfully aware of moral deterioration in our society.

Actually Law is a friendly word. It connotes a sense of community in which each is willing to adapt his behavior to the common good of all.

And Order is a happy word. It represents millions of responsible people enjoying that common good.

Respect for Law and the desire for Order must be gained in childhood. Having a "friend at headquarters" helps.

But the heart of the matter is our early discovery of God. His love for us . . . His expectations of us . . . the hopes and promises that give life its highest meaning.

Headquarters for moral and spiritual growth is the Church, with its program of religious education. There can be found our most enriching friendships.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

A MAN LIKE THAT

Lesson for June 1, 1980

Background Scripture:
2 Kings 18 through 20; 2 Chronicles 29 through 32.
Devotional Reading:
Jeremiah 16:10-15.

The Honor Roll of kings of Israel and Judah in the Old Testament is very brief. Of all the kings who occupied these two Hebrew thrones, few are remembered by Old Testament writers with any admiration or approval.

Rev. Althouse

Among this elite group was King Hezekiah (715-687 BC), the twelfth king of Judah, son and successor of Ahaz and father of Manasseh. The writer of 2 Kings remembers Hezekiah with a fondness that is almost unequaled in the history of Israel:

He trusted in the Lord the God of Israel, so that there was none like him among all the kings of Judah after him, nor among those who were before him. (2 Kings 18:5)

None Like Him

In a time when the U.S. Presidential campaign is heating up to a nominating convention pitch, some of us may be tempted to wish that a man like Hezekiah were to appear on the national scene today. How great it would be to find someone of whom we could say, "there was none like him among all the Presidents of the USA after him, nor among those who were before him."

Of course, we'd all like a man like that for President but would we vote for him? Would we, really?

I'm not so sure. King Hezekiah was a deeply spiritual man who was instrumental in reforming the religious practices of his nation. In a never-ending effort to "keep up with the times" and their enemies, the people of Judah had allowed their religious life to wander far from its roots. The temple worship had fallen on hard times. The people probably felt they were too sophisticated for that. The morals and ethics of the people seemed to be more in harmony with those of their enemies and pagan neighbors. In the midst of all this, Hezekiah came, calling them to return to their religious heritage.

Not Since Solomon

And the people responded, so that for the reign of Hezekiah, at least, there was a reformation in the faith of Judah. And the writer of 2 Chronicles would write of these days: "So there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the time of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel, there had been nothing like this in Jerusalem" (2 Chronicles 30:26).

But is that the kind of leader we want? Are we sure we want someone who is deeply spiritual, someone who honestly seeks the will of God (not the will of the special interests and lobbies) in plotting the nation's course? Would we support a pious President or would we join those who mock a public figure who takes seriously his religious faith?

Each of us must answer those questions for ourselves, but I strongly suspect the "wheeler-dealer" would win in a land slide.

WHAT IS ABNORMAL METABOLISM?

Metabolism is a big word that refers to all the ways by which a particular substance, food for instance, is handled in your body. Once in a while, these processes do not work right, but in some cases the problem can be controlled by diet.

In this and other types of metabolism problems, special foods may be required or the patient may be required to stay away from certain foods. Of course, in addition to diet control a prescription may be necessary to help the condition.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Landowners Review County Industrial Growth Survey

A meeting was held last Tuesday at Southern Middle School by Tom Jones, Diriector of Economic Development in Garrett County, to present the findings of a two-part study of Garrett County, relating to industrial growth. Approximately 35 people attended the meeting, many by the invitation of Jones, making up a group of landowners and interested parties primarily from the Crellin area. Jones explained that the first group to hear the study results was chosen from those who attended a meeting one and one half years ago, regarding the proposed Hutton industrial sites, compartments 15 and 16 in Potomac-Garrett State Forest.

Bruce Yoder, Director of Planning, Greenhorn and O'Mara; and Jerome Michael, Market Analyst and President of Jerome Michael and Associates, were present to review the study which they had prepared. The purpose of the study, which was funded through a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission, was to determine the types of industries which would be desirable or compatable with Garrett County, and to study possible industrial expansion in Garrett County, including siting and labor requirements.

Jones explained that the study is completed in a draft stage at this point, but is expected to be completed for submission to the Garrett County Development Corporation, county comkmissioners and other governmental agencies within 60 days. The first part of the study dealt with the assets and negative points of Garrett County for industry. The second part concerned the evaluation of specific sites, with particular emphasis on railroad access. Michael explained that clean and non-polluting industries have been narrowed down for consideration in this area.

Michael's study determined that the economic base for Garrett County, in order of importance, is characterized primarily by manufacturing, coal mining, agriculture, forestry and recreation.

Michael cited the three major county employment groups, in order of importance, as Oakland, Grantsville and Accident.

He stated that the assets of Garrett County to prospective industries include a steadily growing population base, as opposed to surrounding areas; an excellent quality of labor force; wage rates below national and regional averages; accessability to major highways; and scenic resources to attract skilled labor. Weaknesses pointed out in the study include a small population base or labor force; a lack of skilled labor; and a low income base as opposed to coal mining or manufacturing plant work. Michael stated that because of this final point, persons would be likely to leave their present jobs to go to a new industry, thus disrupting the area employment market.

In addition to industries currently established in Garrett County, Michael determined the types of industry best suited for this area. Under the category of basic mankufacturing are general areas of plumbing equipment, manufactured housing, electrical lighting, and containers manufacturing. Within the area of producer goods the study cited pumps and compressors, air conditioning, refrigeration and heating equipment, surgical appliances and supplies, and dental equipment and supplies as potential Garrett County industries. In consumer goods, industries best suited for the county are sporting goods manufacturing, and lawn and garden machinery, according to the study.

In conclusion, Michael recommended the establishment of an organized development corporation to concentrate on the assets of Garrett County and the promotion of these assets to industries. He estimated that 20 to 40 local employees could be utilized for each prospective establishment.

In seeking adequate land for industrial development, Michael recommended concentration on the Oakland area, and the planning of rail and other access, as well as sanitation.

Yoder's firm cited suitable industrial sites throughout the county. He stated that the firm was specifically requested to examine the Hutton area as a possibility for industrial growth.

Four areas were determined as possible sites in the county. The most desirable site is a 97-acre plot near Bausch and Lomb, north of the railroad to Route 35. Yoder explained that this site has an "excellent potential for rail access, and would be excellent for an industrial park."

The second most desirable site is Frick's Crossing, north of the railroad to Route 135. This proposed site covers 100 acres of land. Yoder explained that the study looked primarily at possibilities for industrial parks, as opposed to one establishment and the study chose sites with flexibility. Yoder stated that a problem with the Frick's Crossing site might be the obtaining of railways into the site.

Weber's Crossing, between Route 219 and the railroad, was also cited as a possibility, however, it has no potential for an industrial park, said Yoder. Four pieces of land in that area could be utilized as individual industrial sites, he added. Problems indicated by Yoder regarding this area included periodic flooding and a conflict of land use.

The least attractive or desirable industrial site found through the survey is the proposed Hutton tract, which includes four sections and more than 384 acres. All sections of land indicated by Yoder run north of Route 39 to the railroad and Hutton Road. Yoder explained that, due to the vast amount of land, the study does not recommend all sections for industrial use.

A major problem with this area, which runs into compartments 15 and 16 of Potomac-Garrett Forest, is access into the site, which would require crossing the railroad from every direction, said Yoder. He added that rail access would probably involve other property. The improvement of an underpass located on Hutton Road would be necessary for consideration of the sites, Yoder said.

Yoder stated that this site would be "feasable, but not the most sensible of all possible sites." Development of this site for industrial purposes, Yoder stated, would be much more expensive than the others.

Several complaints were raised after the presentation, perhaps the largest being the apparent lack of advertising regarding the meeting. Persons present felt that more notice should have been made. They appeared angry that only one area was represented to hear the survey results, that of Crellin and Hutton.

A recommendation was made to Jones to determine the cost to each citizen. Jones stated that the purpose of Garrett County's industrial expansion plans is to eliminate unemployment, which is now at a rate of 17 percent in Garrett County.

Another point raised was the impending increase in property taxes for areas adjacent to industrial sites. A question was raised regarding the value of the survey, which cost $20,000 in Appalachian Regional Commission grant money.

The Garrett County Development Corporation will review the survey at its June Meeting. Copies of the survey and maps of proposed sites are available for public inspection and can be obtained through contacting Jones. Jones stated that he feels it will be "quite a bit of time before getting into this type of industrial development."

Hard-To-Get Vanity Tags Now Available

About 5000 sets of vanity tags, some sought vainly for years, are now available from the Motor Vehicle Administration.

Favorites such as "ME R2D2", "777777," "SAY YES," "BLAH," "SAME 2U," "LAWYER," even "VANITY"—often asked for, but always taken—have become available because the motorists who had them as red-and-white tags passed up the chance to renew them when the black-and-white tags came out last March.

Under Maryland law, owners of cars, station wagons, vans, and small trucks, such as pick-up trucks, are permitted to display personalized license plates, commonly referred to as "vanity tags." Such motorists pay an extra fee of $25 every year in addition to their annual registration fee.

Most of the revenue generated yearly through vanity tag fees is deposited into a special fund administered by the state's Scholarship Board and the state's Higher Education Loan Corporation. Since the program began in July, 1971, as a result of legislation enacted that year, 25,000 motorists have secured vanity tags and $1,550,000 has been deposited into this fund.

Persons interested in obtaining vanity tags should write for an application to: Personalized Plates Unit, c/o Motor Vehicle Administration, 6601 Ritchie Highway, N.E., Glen Burnie, Maryland 21062.

Deer Park Homemakers Hold Meeting

Deer Park Homemakers met at the Deer Park Community building on May 14. President Jane Miller announced that 13 members attended church at St. John's Episcopal Church in observance of Homemakers' Week.

Reports were given on the Mini-Fair, College Days Dinner and the Memorial Day program, which is scheduled for May 30, at 2 p.m., at the Deer Park Cemetery.

A clothing demonstration, including line, design and personal appearance, was presented by Leona DeWitt.

Rebecca DeBerry and Doris Miller were present as guests, and 20 members attended the meeting. The gift of the month was won by Laura Belle Harvey. Hostesses for the evening were Mae Weimer, Ruth Calderwood, and Jane Miller.

Haymond Family Accepts Award

The late Judge Frank C. Haymond received the Justitia Officium Award, highest honor bestowed by the West Virginia University College of Law, in ceremonies May 18.

The award was presented to a member of the Haymond family during hooding ceremonies at the Law Center preceding WVU commencement exercises.

A bronze plaque honoring the recipient will be mounted in the Law Center lobby.

The Justitia Officium Award, which was established two years ago to commemorate the law school's 100th anniversary, is given "in recognition of an individual who has dedicated his life to his fellow men through the legal profession."

Judge Haymond's sister, Mrs. Bernard H. Arnette, resides in Mt. Lake Park.

Loar Auxiliary Holds Meeting

The Loar Auxiliary met Tuesday, May 13, in the board room of Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The group voted to raise the dues for the coming year to $5 per year for working members and $10 for sustaining members.

It was announced that Ruth Keller, residing at the Fran Yoder Home, and Nina Schmidt, Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, both former members of the Loar Auxiliary, are ill.

It was also announced that public Memorial contributions are down.

The group will hold a bake sale and flea market Saturday, May 31, on the hospital lawn, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weather permitting. In case of rain, the sale will be held Saturday, June 7.

Vets Reminded To Notify VA Of Address Change

"If you have been receiving Veterans Administration educational benefits checks and are moving at the end of the semester, you should leave your forwarding address and notify the VA." That advice was issued today by the VA Regional Office in Baltimore.

At least 14,000 GI Bill students filed changes of address with VA last month to help insure that their checks follow them wherever they go this summer. But many fail to notify the agency after a move, and these are the ones VA regional director, John W. Rue, worries about.

"For example, if the semester ends in May, the student may leave campus before his check arrives," Mr. Rue said.

"A late check can mean problems to a veteran student's budget and the risk of missing a check can be avoided with a change of address notice," Mr. Rue advised.

According to Mr. Rue, VA takes pride in its overall record of getting benefits to the right person, at the right time, at the right place.

Changes of address can be reported to veterans representatives on campus or to the VA Regional Office in Baltimore. The Baltimore VA Office, located at 31 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore, MD 21201, can also be reached by calling 685-5454.

FINISH JOB OR LOSE SALE

The Johnsons had a problem. A leaky roof. Now that their home was about to be put up for sale, Johnson arranged to have it repaired. Good thinking, Johnson. Almost.

After the job was finished at great expense, the yellow water stain still remained on the ceiling. Mr. Johnson thought he had already spent enough on the roof and any prospect would believe him when he showed the repair bill.

The old adage of being penny-wise and pound foolish bore fruit. Each prospect asked about the stain. The receipted bill never quite put their minds at ease. One structural problem in a home is a red flag waving and warning - "Don't get involved with this headache."

Fortunately, for the price of a restaurant dinner the ceiling was repainted. It was finally sold, but only after too many of the best prospects had gone on to other properties. The moral is obvious. The fewer apologies you have to make for your property, the easier it is to sell. If you have any obvious red flags waving - remove them.

Commissioners Ask Dog Owners To License Pets

The county commissioners recently announced their concern with increasing reports of dog packs harassing livestock across the county and noted state law mandates that owners obtain licenses for their dogs and keep them under supervision and control.

They noted that state law authorizes a citizen to kill dogs seen chasing or attacking livestock or humans and protects citizens who enforce this law from liability suits.

The law also imposes a penalty for noncompliance which could be between $5-$25 in fines, up to 30 days in the county jail or both.

Dog tags can be obtained through the county treasurer's office.

The commissioners reported they have a special fund to reimburse owners of livestock injured by dogs but because revenues for the fund come from dog license collections, which have not generated much money this year, the fund is depleted.

A NEW INSTRUMENT IN THE BRASS FAMILY? — And a very inexpensive one, at that! The five members of the Annapolis Brass Quintet created basic demonstrative instruments, with a piece of garden hose, a mouthpiece and a funnel. The talented group played a musical piece with their homemade horns, using only the mouthpiece for tone changes. Students studying brass were invited to attempt to play this instrument along with the others in the group.

THESE WORLD-RENOWNED MUSICIANS take the time each year to visit Garrett County schools, and to provide students with an informative, unforgettable presentation of their talents and musical knowledge. The Annapolis Brass Quintet, the only full-time performing group of its kind, performed this month for 11 area schools. See story.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

The Annapolis Brass Quintet, the only full-time performing brass ensemble in the United States, this month visited 11 Garrett County schools to perform, and discuss instrumentation with the students. The original group was formed in 1970, and has since become world-renowned. The group of fine musicians has toured Europe performing brass chamber music, arranging new editions for brass ensemble, and premiering new music written specifically for them by American and European composers.

The group provided area students with an informative and enriching musical experience, in concert and in the classrooms, answering any questions they might have, including a description of each instrument and a history of brass.

The Annapolis Brass Quintet is composed of trombone, played by Martin Hughes; two trumpets, played by David Cran and Robert Suggs; bass trombone, played by Robert Posten; and French horn, played by Marc Guy.

During the school performance the group demonstrated sounds, described the musical pieces to be performed, and created a game for the small children by playing in rounds and asking the kids who played first, second, etc. utilizing physical actions were used to deceive the students, as all five pretended to play first.

Emotions played a large part in the quintet's performance, and students were asked to describe the feeling portrayed through the instruments and musical works. Improvisation was also demonstrated, and a student was chosen to direct the musicians through hand movements indicating start, stop, loud, soft, fast or slow. The rest was created by the musicians.

The Annapolis Brass Quintet not only performed its excellent quality of music, but also pulled the students into the music, allowing them to be a part of the presentation.

The quintet has come to Garrett County for about seven years. The original group was formed by Robert Posten, from Pennsylvania, and David Cran, from Minnesota, former members of the Naval Academy Band. Martin Hughes is originally from Virginia, Robert Suggs is from Oklahoma, and Marc Guy is from Ohio. All five have degrees in music and vast experience with musical groups and symphony orchestras.

In addition to performing approximately 300 concerts each year in elementary schools, high schools, colleges and performing arts centers throughout the United States, the quintet has toured Germany, Austria, Spain, Norway, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Bermuda. The Annapolis Brass Quintet will tour the Far East next year.

These musicians have mastered a wide variety of music and adapt to audiences of every age group and level of musical appreciation. The group also conducts clinic workshops for brass students grade five through college.

Another aspect of performance explored by the quintet is the recreation of 17th century brass choir concerts, through the use of multi-media and electronic innovations. In creating the impact of "350-year-old performances" the group utilizes stage settings, costumes, lighting, narration, tapes and amplification.

The Annapolis Brass Quintet is attempting to "build a viable audience for chamber music among today's youth," according to the group. "Presentation is the reason that second graders are cheering for the same Bach 'Contrapunctus' which two nights before drew bravos from a highbrow chamber music audience," said one member. Collectively, the group feels that, "we exist for our audience and owe it to them as well as ourselves to always be at our best."

Schools visited by the Annapolis Brass Quintet were Bloomington, Kitzmiller, Yoder, Grantsville, Northern Middle, Friendsville, Broad Ford, Dennett Road, Red House, Crellin, and Loch Lynn.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Marine Pfc. Roy D. Otto, son of Patrick T. and Mary A. McKenzie of Star Route, Grantsville, recently participated in an amphibious exercise in Turkey.

He is a member of Service Support Group-34 based at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

During the exercise conducted with the Turkish Marine Corps, his unit provided helicopter landing zone control transportation, supply and extensive maintenance services. Following the exercise, he had the opportunity to visit Genoa, Italy.

Otto joined the Marine Corps in June 1979.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The Aurora Cemetery Association will hold its annual meeting on Sunday, June 1, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 2:00 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lantz of Aurora were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Arnold in Bayard, and with Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Harvey at Fairview.

Mary Wotring, Ruth Parks, Wilda Wilt and Shirley Parsons went to Red Rock to visit with Mrs. Estella Shaffer and Harold on Monday. The occasion was an observance of Mrs. Shaffer's 95th birthday which is May 26. The ladies took lunch and a specially decorated birthday cake.

Due to the Primary Elections held on June 3, the Farmers' Wildlife Club will meet for its regular meeting at the pavilion on June 2, Monday evening.

The Raymond Hauser family reunion will be held June 15 at the Farmers' Wildlife Park, Horse Shoe Run. Everyone is invited to attend and to bring along a basket lunch.

Miss Peggy Stemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stemple, Aurora, graduated with honors on May 10 in ceremonies held at Fairmont State College. Miss Stemple received her Associate of Science degree in Nursing and her pin during special ceremonies for the nursing graduates. Attending were her parents, her sister, Sandra Stemple, Charleston; her grandmother, Dora Stemple, and her aunt and friend, Joan Pennington and Rita Taylor, who visited here also with the former's father, Claud Pennington.

Also a graduate from the nursing program at Fairmont State College on that date was Kathy Sisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sisler, Amboy. Her parents, her grandparents, and other family members also attended the ceremonies. Miss Sisler will be employed at Preston Memorial Hospital while Peggy will be going to Charleston to work in the Hubert J. Thomas Memorial Hospital and to pursue her Bachelor's degree.

The Aurora Homemakers met Tuesday evening, May 20, in the home of Mrs. Maynard Lantz, president. Opal Myers read Isaiah 65:1-15 with Beverly Myers reading a meditation and leading in prayer. Fern Jamison, secretary, read the roll call and minutes.

Wilda Wilt was assisted by Vesta Stemple in her presentation of the lesson, "Don't Panic". She used resources from the library in additon to those provided by the county.

The treasurer reported that the club had collected $300.66 in the Cancer Crusade. The homemade hat show was judged and prizes awarded to Martha Bolyard, first; and Sherri Adams, second. Get-well cards were signed and sent to Ruth Hoover and Nina Schmidt.

Mary Wotring showed a handhooked rug and a latch hook rug which she had made and a woven rug made by Lectie Bonner as the special feature. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 18, in the home of Mrs. Ernestine Sisler at 7:30 p.m.

Refreshments concluded the meeting and were served to Opal Myers, Lucille Miser, Maxine Hauser, Dorothy Barr, Martha Bolyard, Julie Adams, Martha Crowe, Mary Wotring, Wilda Wilt, Vesta Stemple, Fern Jamison, Eva Wotring, Beverly Myers, Mildred Kovalck, Anita Lantz and Dean Sisler.

Alberta Burch of the Mountain Grove area has been a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Ernest Arnold returned to Eglon from Garrett County Memorial Hospital last week.

Mrs. Iva Slaubaugh was a patient last week in Garrett Memorial, but has returned to the home of her daughter at Aurora.

Mrs. Ida Shillingburg of Aurora remains a patient in Garrett Memorial Hospital as does Cletis Lambert.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Junior Feather of Kingsville, Ohio, were guests last weekend of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Feather, in Eglon.

Visiting this weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Flory at Fairborn, Ohio, were Mrs. Flory's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harsh, Mike and Sandy, of Brookside.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burger returned Friday to their home in Eglon. They had spent the winter months in Kingwood with their daughter, Margaret Burger.

Mr. and Mrs. James Teets, Jamie and David of Aurora and Mrs. Lucy Wilt, Amboy, will be Memorial weekend visitors in Columbus, Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winters.

Visiting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Lelah Roth, Eglon, were Mrs. Sandra Hauser and Beth Ann, local; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wiles, Bernice Crago and Pearl Lawson, of Terra Alta.

Health Officials Push High Blood Pressure Testing

In conjunction with May, National High Blood Pressure Month, the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland and the Heart Association of Western Maryland, Allegany-Garrett, are urging area residents to learn about high blood pressure and to be tested to determine whether the disease is present.

According to Carol Clark of the Garrett County Health Department, "High blood pressure is recognized as a serious public health problem that affects over one half million Marylanders. Left untreated, it can lead to premature death or disability, strokes, heart disease, kidney failure and other diseases."

According to the High Blood Pressure Information Center of the National Institute of Health, there are, apparently, several misconceptions regarding high blood pressure, and the facts are not well-known.

High blood pressure can afflict anyone, regardless of age, nervousness or sex. It is, however, more prevalent among blacks and in overweight persons.

High blood pressure is a chronic illness which must be treated daily through medication and diet. These two factors act as controlling devices and are not intended to simply relieve symptoms and lower blood pressure, but also to prevent symptoms from recurring and to keep the patient's blood pressure down. According to the National High Blood Pressure Education Program, once a patient discontinues taking his medication, his blood pressure begins to climb.

High blood pressure is painless and has no symptoms when it begins doing damage. It can only be detected through measurement or testing. With treatment, persons with high blood pressure can participate in normal activities. Left untreated it can do considerable damage. "Some are unaware they have the disease," said Ms. Clark. This is why regular testing is necessary.

Persons with high blood pressure are often advised to make certain changes in diet, such as cutting down on salt. Many are advised to lose weight and to exercise more often, to help the medicine work more effectively.

Sodium in salt contributes to high blood pressure, according to the NHBPEP. This organization recommends seasoning foods with lemon juice, fresh and dried herbs, and spices like curry powder, celery seed, pepper and paprika. Also recommended is watching for sodium in non-prescription medicines and processed foods, and eating more fresh fruits, vegetables and meats.

In conjunction with high blood pressure month, people nationwide are encouraged to have their blood pressure checked. More importantly, those with high blood pressure should continue with regular medication and follow their doctor's advice and treatment program.

The National High Blood Pressure Education Program recognizes that finances and side effects of medication are sometimes a problem. Persons are advised to inform their doctors of these problems and to learn of sources of financial assistance in their community.

Miss Fireworks Selected May 14

Debbie Severe, 17, Corinth, was named queen of the Fourth of July festivities in Terra Alta. An East Preston senior, she was selected from a field of nine contestants at the sixth Miss Fireworks pageant, held at Alpine Lake on May 14.

Maids of honor will be Robin Bolyard and Kim Mayne.

Miss Severe is the daughter of Bruce and Nancy Severe. An honor student, she is editor of the yearbook and was voted most popular girl in her senior class. She served as a Buckwheat Festival Princess last year and Homecoming Queen this year. She has also been a cheerleader for the past six years.

As Miss Fireworks, Miss Severe will reign over the Terra Alta July 4 festivities, appearing in the Grand Parade on July 4 after which she will be officially crowned. The celebration will once again feature a variety of activities including carnival, fireworks, demolition derby and concessions.

Oakland Man Is Sentenced To Jail

An Oakland man has been found guilty on seven charges of theft filed against him by Garrett County Sheriff's Department Deputy Martin Van Evans, in connection with falsifying information to obtain a credit number at Heck's Department Store.

According to district court information, Thomas Edward Bowman, Crellin, created the impression he was the owner of Bowman's Auto Body Shop in Kitzmiller. There was no such business at the time. The defendant in no way tried to correct the false impression, nor was any payment made on the merchandise purchased, which totaled $791.57.

Judge Lewis Jones sentenced the defendant to one year under jurisdiction of the division of corrections, commencing February 1, 1980, with credit of 108 days for time awaiting trial, on each of the counts concurrent with the first charge.

Roger Minnick, Sr., 34, Frostburg, and Larry Gilpin, 25, Swanton, were found guilty of a battery charge filed by James H. Gainer, III, McHenry.

According to the complainant, he was beaten and verbally abused by the defendants in the parking lot of the Pizza Pub Restaurant on April 2.

Judge Jones found both men guilty of the charge, ordering a pre-sentence investigation in both cases.

In a separate incident, Danny Cline, Oakland, was found guilty of breaking and entering, and destruction of property in a complaint filed by Lewis Donham, Oakland.

According to the complainant, his home was broken into by Cline, who destroyed a window, and created a noisy disturbance.

The defendant was fined $100, and sentenced to three months in jail, which was suspended, and he was placed on 24 months unsupervised probation.

Seven cases were held for Circuit Court, and four cases were declared Nol Prosequi by State's Attorney James Sherbin, including theft, trespassing, and destruction of property.

Independent Baptist Women's Circle Meets

The Mt. Lake Independent Baptist Women's Missionary Circle met at the church May 9 for its monthly meeting.

The meeting was conducted by Ruth Paugh, president. While the members worked on ribbons for field day, Mrs. Paugh read the letters which were received from missionaries. A session of prayer followed for the specific needs of each missionary.

Items of business included spring cleaning of the church and a dinner for high school juniors and seniors. Quilt squares, with pictures of Old Testament Bible characters, were distributed. Members will embroider these squares for use in a quilt for the next visiting missionary.

The next meeting will be held Friday, June 13, at 7:30 p.m.

'Another World' marks 17th on daytime TV

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — "Another World" marked its 17th year of telecasts on past May 5. Although there was no public hoopla about the anniversary date, the innovative show is proud, to say the least, of its history.

"AW" was the first soap to go to the 60-minute format, as well as to the first 90-minute regime. And, the show has garnered no less than five Emmy Awards in its illustrious past, including one for Outstanding Daytime Serial back in 1976.

Beverlee McKinsey (Iris Bancroft) caused quite an audience stir during her absence from "AW" but rest assured, Bevelee will probably be back on the tube by the time you read this. After her several-month medical leave, Beverlee has negotiated a new contract with "AW" that will include her switch from "AW" to that show's new spinoff, "Texas." And, to top off her new contract, Beverlee was nominated in the Best Actress category for this year's Daytime Emmy Awards, which will be televised June 4 on NBC. This is Beverlee's fourth nomination.

Mary Stuart (Joanne Vincente on "Search For Tomorrow") proudly announced that her autobiography, "Both of Me," will be a featured selection from The Literary Guild in the very near future.

In the small children department, Rod Arrants (Travis Sentell on "SFT") has been working with a group of would-be basketball players whose team is sponsored by "Search." And Rod's co-star, Billie Lou Watt (Ellie Bergman), proudly displayed photos around the studio of her new granddaughter, Elizabeth Studer.

Over on "One Life to Live," there's been some casting shuffles, and Robert Gribbon has stepped into the Richard Abbott role, replacing daytime newcomer, Keith Langsdale.

Tom Ligon (Lucas Prentiss on "The Young and The Restless") has been making Los Angeles-New York plane treks lately since his wife, Katrine, is involved in scripting duties in the East. The trips have also been giving Tom the chance to visit his father-in-law, David Clarke, who portrays Tiso Novotny on "Ryan's Hope."

STARVIEW

It's Donahue who is the TV host pioneer

By RUTH THOMPSON

As Phil Donahue proved when he invited Mike Douglas to guest on a recent "Donahue" show to talk up the new "Mike Douglas Show," good sportsmanship is not confined to the cricket fields of England.

Phil, as gracious as he was dynamic, said he was indebted to Mike for "inventing" the daytime interview format and for blazing new trails for syndicated distribution that created an environment for success for the "Donahue" show and others. Right now that includes Dinah Shore's show, and by the end of the month, John Davidson's. (Davidson took over Mike's duties when Group W, which had been producing Mike Douglas' show, dumped Douglas as, some say, an over-aged host and, others say, an over-priced daytime host — he'd reportedly been getting $2 million a year and wanted a raise.)

Whatever, Mike may have been ousted, but he is not out in the cold. While John Davidson inherits the Group W distribution, Mike Douglas quickly formed his own production company and signed up a cross-country list of stations, many of which will carry both shows. Audience reaction (both in the studio and phone-ins) on the Donahue hour proved Mike Douglas is popular not only with the middle-aged and elders, but with the coveted young audiences. They sense he is both folksy and big-league.

No doubt about it. Douglas, who is a mellow interviewer, is feisty when it comes to business. Both qualities add up to plenty of clout.

But is he the "inventor" that Phil Donahue lauded? Not really. Call it an act of kindness on Donahue's part, a figure of speech.

Mike Douglas is one of perhaps scores of entertainers who started on small local stations (or regional "networks") with carbon copies or mutations of NBC's "Tonight Show" format, which was pioneered by the original host, Steve Allen, and which made rich men of his successors, Jack Paar and Johnny Carson. It is a meld of variety acts and celebrity interviews, and Mike is one of the few who made it to the big-money with the format.

Another is Merv Griffin. Both of them can do variety turns as singers, as well as quiz the guests.

Singing is a safe device to get curtain-raiser applause if you can't do a comedy monologue as can Allen, Paar and Carson.

Dinah Shore, be it remembered, was a major recording star who became a network variety star-host before she became the headliner of the syndicated show she now does daily. John Davidson started as a singer and learned talk-show hosting first by being an interviewed guest and then by serving as one of the substitute hosts on Johnny Carson's many nights off.

Later in the year (probably September) Toni Tennille joins the syndicated lineup as competition to Mike, Dinah, John and partially, Merv. (The partially is because in many cities, including New York, Merv is a prime-time, evening attraction.) There certainly seems to be room enough for them all on the dials (and in the hearts) of America.

But for the record, the current superstar of daytime syndicated shows is Phil Donahue, who doesn't sing, who doesn't do monologues and who may be more of a video pioneer than anybody since Steve Allen. Donahue can hold the country spellbound sometimes with just one guest (and not necessarily a celebrity) and the volatile give-and-take with his studio audience.

Politics and romance together in 'Disraeli'

Label a politician "romantic" today, and you're writing his professional obituary — who wants a dreamer running affairs of state?

But it wasn't always that way. Back in 19th-century Britain, "politics was the great romance, and politicians were super-personalties, the most revered and the most popular." So says Ian McShane, who's starring as the most prominent of those personalities in "Disraeli: Portrait of A Romantic" on PBS's "Masterpiece Theater," Sunday evenings, June 1-22.

Ian McShane as Disraeli

McShane's view of the extraordinary, theatrical statesman he portrays gives a double-edged explanation for the apparently odd blend of politics and romance in the title of the Mobil-funded four-part drama. That handsome Benjamin Disraeli, the first Jew ever to become prime minister of England, was addicted to the ladies and that the ladies were only too happy to satisfy his craving, is fairly well known. McShane doesn't dwell on that.

What the Lancashire-born star does dwell on is the background that made "Dizzy" unique. For starters, he explains that young Benjamin Disraeli, born a Jew, was baptized at 13 (when he should have been bar mitzvahed) because his father had a falling out with synagogue authorities.

"He grew up knowing both sides of the coin," McShane says. "He was always aware of being different, he always felt different and he always behaved differently." He used his "differences," McShane believes, to further his political career. Even his outlandish, dandified appearance was deliberate: "He needed that — his long black curls, and chains and fancy clothes to get into politics; it was a mask to hide behind when he wanted to." When he gave up his fancy dress, he found another way of making a different impression — "he wore black for the rest of his life."

McShane's enthusiasm for Disraeli grew as he learned more about him, and it's evident that he made a lasting impression on the actor, whose career has included playing other notables such as Judas in "Jesus of Nazareth" and Christopher Marlowe in "Will Shakespeare." He's filled with impressive historical footnotes.

"Anyone who's a million pounds in debt as Disraeli was by the time he was 21 must have been quite a character," continues McShane, ticking off what made Disraeli "the most fascinating public figure of 19th-century English politics." Then he mentions Disraeli's special relationship with the Queen, who invariably sent him the first primroses of the season from the royal gardens.

But he saves the clincher for the conversation's dramatic curtain line: "When Disraeli was dying, the Queen had the streets of London paved with straw so that the clacking of horses' hoofs on the cobblestone would not disturb him."

Now that's romance!

Barbara Bottner is a teacher who can

Goes an old saying: "Those who can, do; those who can't, teach."

Not so Barbara Bottner, who teaches the art of writing and illustrating children's books at the Otis-Parsons Institute in Los Angeles.

She has written and illustrated numerous children's books of her own in recent years, including "Myra," which is one of four children's works incorporated into "The Incredible Book Escape," a live-action and animated presentation of "The CBS Library," starring Quinn Cummings, to be broadcast the afternoon of Tuesday, June 3 on CBS.

Quinn Cummings

"I tell my students to discover the child within themselves and to write for that person," the author-teacher says. "To successfully write for young people you have to find a younger age that is still somewhere inside you, and write from that point of view. That's where you'll find your material.

"Whenever you ask children what kind of stories they're looking for, they always tell you the same things, such as outer space adventures, deep sea diving, mountain climbing. But give them a good story that is more family oriented and deals with everyday life, and they gobble it up. I feel children just don't have the vocabulary to express what they're really looking for."

Ms. Bottner studied painting at the University of Wisconsin and the University of California at Santa Barbara, and later moved into acting. She toured for two years with New York's famed Cafe La Mama, but her acting career was cut short by a broken leg. She picked up the paint brushes again while recuperating.

"Myra," published in 1979, is a short book with little dialogue about a whimsical and imaginative moppet who wholeheartedly throws herself into her ballet lessons. "Let's fly," says the teacher, and Myra sprouts wings.

Is Myra much like author Bottner herself? "I hope so," she says. "I like her because she's irrepressible and because she goes too far. I think that anyone who can contribute to our culture has to go too far."

ASK ME

My wife and I have a bet about the actress in the film, "Days of Wine and Roses." We both agree that Jack Lemmon was the husband. My wife says Lee Remick played the wife, and I say Shirley MacLaine played the role. Who wins? — G.S., Youngstown, Ohio

Your wife is correct that Lee Remick played Lemmon's wife in the film, released in 1962. Charles Bickford played Miss Remick's father, and Jack Klugman was also in the film. Before the film, however, the J.P. Miller script was on television. That was in 1958, and Cliff Robertson and Piper Laurie played the alcoholic couple. Bickford played the same role as in the film.

FANTASY AND FLO — Where is "Fantasy Island" filmed, and where can I write Polly Holliday, who plays Flo? — Ann Robinson, Conroe, Texas

"Fantasy Island" is now filmed on the lot at 20th Century-Fox although the first year the exteriors, including the hotel and the helicopter landing pad, were filmed at the Los Angeles County Arboretum in Arcadia, in Los Angeles County. Write Polly at The Burbank Studios, Burbank, CA 91505, which is where her series is filmed.

HAIR RAISING — Stefanie Powers is such a doll on "Hart To Hart" with that mop of hair. Does she wear a wig? — Ruth Connally, Alice, Texas

No, that gorgeous mop is Stefanie's hair.

JULIE'S FAN — About how many movies has Julie Andrews made? What are some of the titles, and where can I write her? — A Fan, Brantford, Ontario.

Julie has made several pictures, from "Mary Poppins" to the most recent "10." In between she's made films like "The Sound of Music," "The Americanization of Emily," "Darling Lili," "Torn Curtain" and "Thoroughly Modern Millie." Write her in care of Hanson and Schwamm, 9229 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90069.

FLIP AND SARAH — Flip Wilson, who hosted his own variety show on NBC in the early 1970s, returns to variety television, joining Sarah Purcell (of "Real People") to co-host the Tuesday, June 3, edition of NBC's variety extravaganza, "The Big Show."

Ian McShane stars as Benjamin Disraeli in the four-part "Masterpiece Theater" presentation of "Disraeli: Portrait of a Romantic," which begins Sunday, June 1 (through June 22), on PBS.

CINDY SAYS

New York's local TV host awaits big time

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Bill Boggs is New York's local hotshot talk show host. On his noontime TV show, "Midday," he has guests from Frank Sinatra to Burt Reynolds to Carol Channing. Confident, strong, calm, if 38-year-old Boggs ever sweats it's on the inside. The man's always cool. "Only once I really fell on my behind," he grins while plucking up lettuce with hospitally clean fingers.

"I had two newly defected ballet dancers who didn't speak English and couldn't explain their translator was caught in traffic. It was airtime so I quickly sat them down and began chatting away and — nothing. Well, what could I do? I just kept going."

He's still going. Grosset-Dunlap recently published his first book, a powerful, romantic, passionate novel about a television star and his lady. It's entitled, "Love At First Sight" and has such sex that even the reader develops bedsores.

With Lucie Arnaz plus the other beauties he squires plus whatever homework was necessary to write juicy lovescenes, you don't figure the handsome, one-time divorced man will sip a Tab and admit, "These last years I've learned that giving to a woman you love is a wonderful feeling. Somewhere I see a home, kids, a wife. I don't mean I'm taking a limo to the Marriage License Bureau tomorrow, but I've had plenty of relationships. I don't have to prove myself anymore. Now I want to be faithful."

What inspired the native Philadelphian to write the novel? "I was in love with a woman whose eyes are on the cover of the book. I loved her so much that the idea for this novel, which is loosely based on our love affair, just popped into my head. The facts and the story itself never happened. Only the emotions are real."

The book is already a seller; the romance has already cooled. As for the author, he's no agonizer. He's looking upward to national TV.

Meanwhile he remembers "Jimmy Carter on my show the summer of '75, when he was only the ex-governor of Georgia. Carter arrived all alone carrying a Styrofoam container of coffee. Laser beams shot from his eyes. As though possessed, he said, 'I'm running for president and I don't intend to lose.'"

He remembers Dr. Benjamin Spock lumbering into the studio so tired he fell asleep on camera. "Suddenly, while I was interviewing another guest I heard this loud snoring and I shushed the audience to hear. The silence woke Spock and he came to sputtering, 'Well, no, I don't agree.'" And he remembers William Holden who "disappointed me. He didn't care. He didn't try. Ninety-nine point nine percent of our guests have a book or movie or even themselves to sell. They make an attempt. Holden didn't try to put out."

With that he left our snack to rush back into the studio. He was going to have Cheryl Tiegs on for the first time. Both of us hoped she'd stay awake.

CLOTHES HORSE — In his early years, Benjamin Disraeli (Ian McShane), who was to become Britain's prime minister, made his entrance on the political scene dressed in outrageously dandified attire. How — and why — Disraeli changed his style is depicted in "Disraeli: Portrait of a Romantic," a four-part series on "Masterpiece Theater," beginning Sunday, June 1, on PBS.

SPECIAL EDUCATION STUDENTS at Accident School went swimming at the Wisp, McHenry, last Friday to learn about pool and water safety. The field trip was conducted by Michelle Smith and Jenny Kotulak, Special Education teachers. Thirteen children participated in the field trip, and swimming was provided free from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Several Summer Homes Reported Burglarized

Several summer homes and properties have been burglarized in recent weeks, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

David Miller, Mt. Airy, reported a theft which occurred at his lot on Glendale Road, sometime between May 10 and 11. Thieves removed two 10-foot sections of 12-inch galvanized culvert from the property. Loss value is estimated at $108.

Ellsworth Green, of Pennsylvania, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his summer home on Paradise Point Road, sometime during the night of May 15, or the early morning hours of May 16. Unknown subjects forced open a basement door and removed a drill and sander, and numerous other tools.

The subjects then pried open a living room window and removed a wall clock, two blue glass vases and three electric blankets from the dwelling.

Total loss value is approximately $348.

A neighbor of Mr. Green, Fred Nelson, Potomac, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his cabin on Paradise Point Road.

The incident occurred sometime between May 2 and 16, when unknown subjects pried open sliding doors and removed a 12-inch portable color TV, an AM-FM digital clock radio, lined draperies and numerous other household and decorative items. Also taken were several food items.

The total loss value has not been determined at this time.

A vandalism and theft occurred at Deep Creek Lake State Park Visiting Center sometime between May 16 and 19, when a truck belonging to Carl Belt, Inc., Cumberland, Construction firm, was parked there.

All spark plugs and coil wires were removed from the truck's motor. Loss value is undetermined at this time.

In a separate incident, Dennis Stottlemeyer, Mt. Lake Park, reported a destruction of property which occurred at his residence on the afternoon of May 19. Unknown persons attempted to pick the lock on his front door. No entry was gained, but the locking mechanism was damaged.

Loss value is approximately $15.

Six adults and two juveniles were arrested by the department last week.

Andy Snyder, was incarcerated May 14 for destruction of property. He was released the following day on his own recognizance.

Carl Slagger, 32, was arrested Thursday for investigation, and released the same day.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

Remnants Available

WHAT'S NEW IN CARPET COLORS THIS YEAR?

Greens and golds have been extremely popular colors in carpeting. Gaining increasing popularity are oranges, from pale orange to deep rusts. In general, colors are becoming cleaner, brighter . . . they have more pow!

In carpet advertising, what does the package price mean? The package price is an all inclusive price. When you see an ad which states the price as a package, it means it includes not only the carpeting but also the installation and the padding.

Perhaps in your husband's job there's always a chance that he'll be transferred to another locality at sometime in the future. You're moving to a new home and would love to install wall-to-wall carpeting. Would it be wiser for you to buy a room size rug instead—one, you could pick up and move when the time comes?

Not necessarily. Wall-to-wall carpeting will increase the value of the home you're moving into and make it more attractive to a prospective buyer.

Our carpeting experts will be glad to help you select carpeting for your home. Stop in and see us or call us soon.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

For a very personalized appointment with Butch or Carolyn call today at 334-9598, who will give you the best in price, quality and service.

GRANTSVILLE NEWS

Rotary News

The weekly meeting of the Grantsville Rotary Club was held on Wednesday, May 21, at the Hilltop Inn. John Lechliter was in charge of the program. He introduced John Schumacher, a student at Salisbury-Elklick High School, who spoke on his involvement in the World Affairs Institute.

Each year the Grantsville and Friendsville clubs cosponsor students to the Institute at Morgantown, W. Va. It was developed by the Morgantown Rotary Club in conjunction with the West Virginia University.

Also attending were three students from Northern High School: Kelly Durst, Grantsville; Rebecca Knox, Bittinger; and Joyce Thomas, Friendsville. They were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Jenkins.

Visiting Rotarians were Earl Brown and Edwin Diehl of College Park Rotary Club.

The next meeting will be held this evening at the Hilltop Inn.

6 Ways to Save

1. Save on service calls by reading instruction manuals carefully so you know how to use appliances and equipment properly, make minor adjustments, increase their life and reduce maintenance costs.

2. When you use a serviceman to repair your television set, and appliance, or something else—get an estimate beforehand and an itemized bill afterwards. Select repairmen you believe to be reliable. If you don't know one, take the trouble to ask your friends to recommend someone.

3. With friends and neighbors, you can "swap" outgrown children's clothing, share rides to work and school, exchange babysitting service, arrange joint purchase of expensive and infrequently-used house and yard equipment, entertain "potluck" fashion—have fun and save money, in many ways.

4. Save on car expense and parking fees by walking where possible. Remember, it's not only a savings, but good, healthful exercise. Consider taking up biking with the same double benefit.

5. Use credit wisely if you use it at all. Borrow the smallest amount, for the shortest period of time, making the largest possible payments, and don't borrow until you need it.

6. Save on insurance costs by paying premiums annually or semi-annually (rather than monthly or quarterly) and by renewing property insurance for longer periods. Consider larger deductible amounts on auto insurance to reduce premiums.

Danita Sanders Weds Ronald Rhodes

Miss Danita Jo Sanders and Ronald Wayne Rhodes were united in marriage on Saturday, November 10, 1979, at the United Brethren Church, Crellin.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles E. Teets.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Sanders, Oakland the bridegroom is the son of Betty Teets, Swanton, and the late Arthur Rhodes.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white organza. The bodice featured a sweetheart neckline with Venise lace applique. The full Bishop sleeves had Venise lace and the wrists were cuffed with Venise trim. The empire waistline was accented with Venise lace and the skirt fell to a Chapel train with lace applique over the skirt. A capelet of matching lace held a walking length mantilla of lace edge illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds and white mums. The bride's only jewelry was a necklace, a gift from the groom, and a rhinestone hairpin of her mother's which she wore on her wedding day.

Debbie Rounds, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Betty Lou Teets and Alise Corby, sisters of the groom, Kim Trickett and Cheryl Cosner, friends of the bride. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids dresses were of light yellow eyelet embroidery made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Rinehart. Each carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds and white mums.

Miss Billie Jo Corby was flower girl and she carried a basket of flower petals.

The groom wore a dark-brown tuxedo with light brown lapels, a white shirt and a boutonniere of three yellow rose buds.

Best man was Tim Sanders, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Frank Sanders, cousin of the bride, Foster Lewis, brother-in-law of the groom and Paul Friend, friend of the groom. They all wore dark-brown tuxedos with light-brown lapels and white shirts. They each also wore a single yellow rosebud.

Michael Corby was ring bearer. He carried a white satin and lace pillow.

A reception followed in the church basement. The three-tier wedding cake was decorated with yellow roses. The cake was served by Shelia Moats, sister of the groom. The punch was served by Ladonna Lewis and Diane Tasker, sisters of the groom. Mrs. Nita Upton decorated the basement.

The guest book was attended by Mary Ann Bishoff, friend of the bride. Lisa Paugh listed the gifts and also attended the guest book.

Mrs. Irene Sigel baked the wedding cake and played the piano. Songs played were: If, a Time For Us, Ave Maria, O Perfect Love, O Promise Me, and Sweet Surrender.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Lisa Paugh, and the garter was caught by Stanley Rhodes.

The bride's mother wore a blue street length dress. The groom's mother wore a pink street length dress. The bride's grandmother wore a blue street length dress. All three wore corsages of yellow rosebuds and white mums.

A surprise shower was given for the bride by Debbie Rounds, Kim Trickett and Nita Upton on October 17 at Debbie Round's home.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and is employed at Integrated Business Methods, Inc., Oakland.

The groom attended Southern High School and is employed at Grimm Lumber Company, Terra Alta, W. Va.

The couple resides on the Sunnyside Road near Red House.

Simmons-Bowser Couple Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Simmons, Jr., Deer Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl, to Thomas Bowser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen D. Bowser, Bittinger.

Miss Simmons is a 1977 graduate of Medina Senior High School, Medina, Ohio. She is employed by Bausch and Lomb, Inc.

Mr. Bowser is a 1978 graduate of Northern High School and is employed by Harbison-Walker, Inc.

An August wedding is being planned.

Miss Mould To Wed Mr. O'Brien

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Mould, McMurray, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Leslie Mould, to Michael Sean O'Brien, son of Mrs. Grace O'Brien, McHenry, and Victor J. O'Brien, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Mould and Mr. O'Brien are students at West Virginia University.

A May, 1981, wedding is planned.

Gale Head Weds Stephen Wilt In Candlelight Ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged between Gale Head and Stephen Wilt on Saturday, May 3.

The double ring, candlelight ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilt, Oakland, parents of the groom, with Rev. Charles Teets officiating. Approximately fifty friends and family members attended the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Henry Reall, Bayard, W. Va. and Mrs. Bobbi Wilson, Oakland.

The bride chose an ivory gown of sheer organza trimmed with imported Alencon lace. The bodice had a jewel neckline and fitted sleeves trimmed with lace, which embellished the bodice and was set with tiny buttons. The circular skirt fell to lace medallions. A bow at the back of the waist held a detachable chapel train accented with lace medallions. A juliet headpiece of matching lace held a fingertip mantilla of lace edged with bridal illusion.

She carried a cascade of blue roses and lily of the valley, trimmed with velvet ivory streamers.

Maid of honor was Yvonne Reall, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of blue gauze trimmed with ivory lace and a blue picture hat. She carried a long stemmed blue rose, with ivory streamers.

The groom chose a three piece vested suit of ivory, with a pale blue ruffled shirt, and a boutonniere of a blue rose with lily of the valley.

Serving as best was Marty Wilt, brother of the groom.

Ring bearer was Richard Head, son of the bride. He wore a three piece suit of blue knit, with an ivory boutonniere.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of aqua polyester knit trimmed with lace. Her corsage consisted of assorted roses with streamers to match her gown.

The mother of the groom wore a gown of pink polyester knit trimmed with ivory lace. Her corsage was of pink roses with streamers to match her gown.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in pale blue and ivory, accented with hearts and doves. It was baked and served by Nancy Getz, a friend of the bride. Robin Wilt and Bonnie Wilt, sisters-in law of the groom, assisted with the refreshments.

As a going away outfit, the bride chose a three piece pant suit.

After a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, the couple is now residing in Deer Park.

Highway Marking Survey Conducted

The State Highway Administration, in a continuing program to improve highway safety, has recently completed a computerized survey of the passing and no-passing zones on all two and three lane highways throughout the State.

This survey collected and evaluated data on speed limits, vertical and horizontal roadway alignment, sight distances and sight obstructions to provide recommendations on the proper markings to be placed on these highways.

The State Highway Administration Staff is now in the process of remarking the highways in Garrett County based on this survey.

Some passing zone changes have been made which either eliminated or create new passing zones.

All motorists are urged to continue to execute passing maneuvers with care.

DAR Conducts Dinner Meeting

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) conducted a dinner meeting at the Starlite Restaurant last week, the final meeting for the summer months, to resume in September.

After the ritual, led by Mrs. Robert Ruckert, outgoing regent, Mrs. James Quinet presented prayers and devotions.

Mrs. Paul Calderwood, a delegate to the 89th Continental Congress, reported on the four-day National Society meeting held in Washington, D. C. The opening night of the DAR Congress featured an Address by James J. Kilpatrick, a nationally-known political columnist. On National Defense night, Brig. Gen. Albion Knight was the speaker, and a message was read from the President of the United States. Mrs. Calderwood reported that 3146 women attended the convention and election of officers for the National Society.

Mrs. Ruckert reported that the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter had received the tri-color ribbon for an outstanding yearbook. This was the second year that the chapter had received the ribbon.

New officers elected in April were installed by Mrs. Lewis Jones. The new regent is Mrs. Edward Kovach; vice regent, Mrs. Charles Thomas; chaplain, Mrs. James Quinet; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas T. Kight; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Luther D. Parrack, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Lindsay Gonder; registrar, Mrs. Robert Proudfoot; historian, Mrs. Eugene Nordeck; and librarian, Mrs. Hugh Echard.

Arrangements for the dinner meeting were made by Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mrs. Hugh Echard, Mrs. Edward Kovach and Mrs. Lindsay Gonder.

Laurie M. Williams Becomes Bride Of Clifford E. Keplinger April 12

Laurie May Williams and Clifford Eugene Keplinger were united in marriage on April 12 in the First Baptist Church, Westernport.

Rev. Samuel Biser and Rev. Donald Marble officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. May Williams, Westernport, and Dr. R. N. Williams, also of Westernport. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keplinger, Elk Garden, W. Va.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white maricaine jersey, with short cap sleeves and high neckline. The empire waist and sheer yoke were enhanced with Venise lace flowers, and a satin ribbon around the waistline formed a bow in the back, attaching to the full skirt which fell to a chapel train. The veil was a mantilla of silk illusion, trimmed with lace. Her only jewelry was a diamond and sapphire necklace, earrings, and ring set, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Kimberly Welch, Westernport. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Marie Williams, New Creek, W. Va., niece of the bride, and Miss Kelly Jo Keplinger, Elk Garden, niece of the groom.

Best man was Troxell Keplinger, Elk Garden, brother of the groom. Ushers were Dr. Earl Williams, New Creek, brother of the bride and Doral Pennington, Elk Garden, nephew of the groom. Ring Bearer was Daniel Williams, New Creek, nephew of the bride.

Organist was Joann Rinard, and the vocalist was Phillip Barlett.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall, Piedmont, W. Va. Mrs. Patsy Williams, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake, which was baked by Dimples Paugh and Vera Stonebreaker. Debra Smith, niece of the groom, and Carol Barnett, cousin of the bride, assisted with the refreshments.

The bride was honored with a surprise party hosted by Sally Williams and Christine Williams. A rehearsal dinner was held at the Merry Rae Restaurant.

The new Mrs. Keplinger graduated from Bruce High School, and attended Allegany Community College and West Virginia University. She is employed by Williams Chiropractic Clinic.

Mr. Keplinger is a graduate of Elk Garden High School, and the Mineral County Vocational Center. He is employed by Allegheny Mining Corporation, Mt. Storm.

After a wedding trip to Nashville, Tenn., the couple is residing in Elk Garden.

The bride-to-be is a 1978 graduate of Jonathan Alder High School and the Central Ohio Joint Vocation School, where she studied Health careers.

The groom is a 1977 graduate of Northern High School. He is presently self-employed in roofing.

A June 21 wedding is planned.

Special Education Students Learn Water Therapy

Special education students at Accident School travelled to The Wisp, McHenry, to swim last Friday. The field trip was organized by Jenny Kotulak and Michelle Smith, special education instructors, to give the students an idea of pool and water safety, and to teach preswimming skills and water therapy.

Thirteen students participated in the field trip. Mr. Thoman of The Wisp provided free swimming for the students from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Accompanying the classes were Joan Weaver and Marlene Taliaferro, classroom aides; Brian O'Brien, lifeguard; John Helmick, physical education teacher at Accident School; Dwayne Weaver, Dorian Friend and Gary Yoder, who volunteered their time to work with the students.

Results Of Bird Count Released

A total of 5,317 birds were counted in Garrett County during the May bird count, held May 17, according to Mrs. Fran Pope, local coordinator for the Maryland Orinthological Society. Last year's total was 4,135

There were 140 species sighted this year, compared to 130 last year, and there was one new species sighted, the white-rumped sandpiper, in the Mt. Lake Park area.

The most-sighted bird was again the red wing blackbird, with a total of 444 sighted. There were 380 robins counted, 373 goldfinches, 372 grackles and 243 song sparrows.

Mrs. Pope said there were 25 participants in the count and various areas of the county were covered.

Friday, June 20, 1980
At the hour of 10:00 a.m. at the Courthouse (Rotunda), Oakland, Md.

offer at public auction and sell to the highest bidder, all of the following described real property, to-wit: All the right, title and interest of James H. Goss, the same being an undivided 1/10 interest, in and to all that lot, piece or parcel of land situate in election district No. 6 of Garrett County, Maryland, on the county road leading from Oakland to Sang Run, and being a part of a tract of land called "Gleanings", and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning for the same at a stake by the side of the county road leading from Oakland to Sang Run, thence south 15° west, 6¾ poles to a stake; south 22¼° west, 29 poles to a stake; south 28° west, 29 poles to a stake; south 16° west, 34¼ poles to a stake, corner to a division line with John Sines; south 70-1½° west, 109-1½ poles to a stake; north 4½° east, 10 poles to a stake; north 30° east, 112 poles to a stake; north 75½° east, 86½ poles to the beginning, containing 50 acres and 74 poles, more or less. Also 7 acres of wood land, adjoining the above described land, making a total of 57 acres and 74 poles.

Being the same property which was conveyed to Elmer E. Goss and Hallie E. Goss, his wife, from William R. Offutt and Ernest Ray Jones, administrators c.t.a. of the estate of Henry Sines, by deed dated June 8, 1936, and recorded in liber 112, folio 366, one of the land records of Garrett County, Maryland. Upon the death of Elmer E. Goss, the entire interest vested in Hallie E. Goss as surviving tenant by the entireties. An undivided one tenth (1/10) interest descended to James H. Goss as a son and heir at law of Hallie E. Goss, who died on October 23, 1956, without a will.

Terms of Sale: CASH ON DAY OF SALE.

Commissioners Outline Revenue Sharing Projects

Capital projects in Garrett County during fiscal year 1980-81 will be financed through revenue sharing funds announced the county commissioners during a public hearing on the proposed use for revenue sharing funds Thursday, May 29.

The commissioners proposed using the $916,000 expected from revenue sharing for capital projects for 12 county departments and for operational expenses for the county roads department.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg noted that the commissioners believed all the proposed projects were essential this year. He pointed out that by funding them with revenue sharing funds, the commissioners were able to avoid raising the county property tax rate above their proposed $3.31 per $100 of assessable base.

The largest item in the revenue sharing budget was $347,338 for the county roads department for primarily operational expenses, including purchase of materials and equipment.

The Board of Education was the next largest item with $155,500. Projects included were architectural design for the Accident School construction project, payment of an outstanding bill for the Grantsville School construction project, and improvement of the athletic fields for the two county high schools.

The commissioners proposed $82,000 for Garrett Community College for the installation of a new coal furnace in the Oakland Center, the financing of an energy audit, and payment of the local share for the first year

The Board of County Commissioners announced at 11:30 a.m. today that as "an ultimate last step in a financial conservation measure" it is temporarily closing the county roads department from June 9-July 7, a total of four weeks.

The commissioners emphasized that the shutdown was temporary and that they expect all employees of the department to report to work on Monday, July 7.

The commissioners made the announcement after meeting with roads administrator, Herb McCrobie, and representatives of the county roads workers union to notify them of their decision.

They noted they expect the shutdown will save the county $140,000 or more.

DESTRUCTION was the word of the day in southern Garrett County yesterday as several tornadoes destroyed several homes and buildings, uprooted and carried huge trees and caused major power outages. Most of the damage occurred in the Crellin, Underwood and Pleasant Valley areas. Four persons were injured in the county. County Residents Will Welcome First Refugee Family Thursday

Garrett County residents will be greeting the first refugee family to be resettled here Thursday, June 5 at the Morgantown airport, W. Va., but it won't be the family to be sponsored by the Mennonites or Lutherans who have been waiting for over two months for their families.

The sponsors for the 11-member family will be the Garrett Parish of the United Methodist Church and the Amish who were notified by the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee service three weeks ago—one week after they had submitted an application—their family would arrive within a month. At the end of last week, the sponsoring group received word the family would arrive this week.

Since then, the group has secured housing for the family in Pleasant Valley. They are collecting furnishings and appliances for the home which currently has no electricity.

The group plans to temporarily house the family in the House of Hope, Oakland, until the members have received proper medical attention and applied for social security numbers.

The family is ethnic Vietnamese/Chinese and consists of a father, mother, brother, three sons and five daughters. The approximate ages of the family are: father-42, mother-39, brother -28, daughters-1, 4, 7, 10 and 17, and sons-11, 14, and 19. All speak Vietnamese; only the 19-year-old speaks some English.

The sponsoring group has established committees to meet the needs of the family. Overall chairman Jim Green, Mt. Storm, W. Va., and the Rev. Curtis Saville, Oakland, will greet the family at the airport. Green, who has resettled members of his Laotian wife's family in the United States, speaks some Vietnamese.

Chairpersons of the committees are: Dottie Morris and David Swartzentruber—housing; Toni Browning—food; Virginia Groves —furnishings; Bill Grant —money management; Bob and Rosetta Rodeheaver —school and tutoring; Richard Morris—employment; and Sue Filsing and David Swartzentruber—finances.

The group has decided to wait until the family arrives before trying to clothe them to be sure to properly fit them.

The occupations of the family members before being driven out of Vietnam were: father—alchemist; mother —tailor; —trader and carpenter; and 19-year-old son—alchemist.

School Board Sues Commissioners; Says Must Have Money For Payroll

Attorneys for the Garrett County Board of Education filed suit in the Garrett County Circuit Court against the county commissioners Tuesday for $928,601.23 still owed the Board for fiscal year 1980.

Superintendent of county schools, Dr. William H. Buser, stated the Board regretfully took this action after exhausting all the administrative options available to resolve the financial problem to the school system's satisfaction.

The Board made the decision to sue at a special public meeting Wednesday night in the Board meeting room after determining that the commissioners had not firmly committed themselves to an exact plan of payment.

At a meeting with the commissioners Tuesday, the Board had been told they would probably receive one of the three payments due by June 30 and possibly two, but they gave no firm indication when any payments would be made or where the money to make the payments would originate.

Dr. Buser recommended the Board take legal action against the commissioners in order to ensure that it would have funds necessary to meet its payroll to its over 600 employees and to pay vendors' bills.

Board member Clarence Stem pointed out that if the Board was unable to meet its payroll obligations it would undoubtedly be sued by the Garrett County Teachers Association.

Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, superintendent-elect, gave a run down of the Board's financial situation showing that it would just meet its July 5 payroll if it paid no other bills and then its treasury would be depleted with no other possible revenue sources. He explained money for FY1981 could not legally be used to pay FY1980 bills.

Board attorney Ralph Burnett of Burnett, Eiswert and Crawford, the firm handling the legal action, stated that the Board was performing its legal responsibility by filing the suit because of state law and because of its contract with the teachers. He pointed out that according to state law the commissioners must pay the Board money due.

In the suit, the Board demands that the commissioners pay the amount due, or, if unable to pay, to levy and collect a tax which, "together with local revenues available, including income tax revenues and bond money, and together with estimated revenues and funds from all, will produce the amounts necessary to meet the appropriation made in the approved annual budget of the county board for 1979-80." The Board also calls for the court to grant a judgment for the full amount of $928,601.23 plus court

PORTRAIT OF DESPAIR — Consoling Mrs. Susan Collins, Crellin, after a tornado completely destroyed her home, is Garrett County Sheriff, John Evans. Mrs. Collins' husband, Mike, and her brother-in-law, Reuben Collins, were at home when the twister struck at about 3:55 p.m. Mike escaped serious injury, however, Reubin, who was picked up by the tornado and hurled nearly 50 feet, sustained fractures and lacerations and is a patient at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Another home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Collins, which was situated adjacent to the one destroyed yesterday, was gutted by fire in early November of last year. Sheriff Evans' residence, which is also in Crellin, sustained major damage also.

Four Injured, Damage Over $350,000

Tornadoes Strike County

by Kathy Railey

At least two, and possibly as many as six or seven, tornadoes ripped through the southern half of Garrett County yesterday afternoon, destroying homes and buildings, causing massive power outages and uprooting and carrying massive trees in their paths. Several persons miraculously escaped serious injury, however damage estimates have been set at over $350,000. Most of the damage occurred in the Crellin, Underwood and Pleasant Valley areas.

Five persons were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries, four of whom were from Garrett County and one from Freeport, W. Va. Two were transported by the Southern Rescue Squad, the others by private vehicles.

A severe thunderstorm watch was put into effect yesterday at 11:45 a.m. for Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties by the National Weather Service. At 2:15 p.m. the watch was extended to 8 p.m., and included a tornado watch. At 3:20 p.m. the National Weather Service issued a tornado warning, meaning that a tornado had been sighted in northwestern Pennsylvania, moving in a southeasterly direction toward Garrett County and traveling at about 50 miles per hour according to the Pittsburgh Weather Bureau.

Maryland State Police, McHenry, stated that a tornado touched down one mile south of Route 39 along the Turner Douglass Road, approximately one quarter mile south of the main street of Crellin, at 3:35 p.m. It cut a path 150 yards wide and about one half mile long. Police said 15 homes in the Crellin area were hit, two of which were destroyed.

The most seriously injured was Reuben Collins, 23, Crellin, who was swept up in the winds and carried for more than 25 feet as he attempted to leave the trailer residence of his brother, Mike Collins, when the storm hit. The Collins trailer, which was located along Turner Douglass Road, was completely destroyed. Reuben Collins suffered an ankle fracture and injuries to his arm, head and chest, and was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Mike Collins was treated and released.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications and dispatched the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and Oakland Fire Department to the residence of Michael Collins. In November of this year a separate trailer owned by Collins was destroyed by fire and a new home was placed adjacent to it on the same property. The Collins' trailer was totally destroyed yesterday when the tornado ripped through the residence in its path.

A home belonging to Charlie Graham, located across the street from the Collins' property, was nearly destroyed when a large tree was driven through the top of the dwelling, police said.

Police reported upward to $350,000 damage to buildings and equipment in the Crellin area.

The same tornado touched down at 4 p.m. in Rosedale on Rt. 39, four miles east of Crellin, police said, tearing out trees and causing minor damage to one house. It then continued on in a easterly direction tearing out several trees in Oakland.

At 4:05 p.m. a separate tornado hit the Underwood Road, approximately five miles southeast of the first twister. A barn 40 by 80, and silo, owned by Bill Pritt, were destroyed, causing more than $40,000 damage. Mrs. Pritt stated that it flattened the silo, and parts of the barn were thrown out of the storm onto the property of Ernest Schrock, Underwood Road. "All of our apple trees in the orchard were uprooted," said Mrs. Pritt, "and four big oak trees were taken from around the pond." Livestock which had been housed had been relocated prior to the storm, she added. "It's $40,000 down the drain," said Mrs. Pritt, as the family had no insurance to cover the disaster.

Mr. Schrock observed the twister, which passed a few hundred yards to the right of his home. His fields are strewn with trash, nails, boards, roofing, and numerous other remains carried by the powerful winds. "That was something to see," said Schrock, "I watched it come up over the hill and thought it would clear the ground, but it came down and followed the same path, right along the ground. It was a big, black cloud carrying debris and huge sheets of metal, apparently from trailers, about 100 yards above the funnel. Everything was whirling around and debris was floating above it just like someone was flying it on a kite string. Every once in awhile it threw out pieces of two-by-fours and tin. It made a noise similar to the sound of a train, and you could hear it coming and going."

Pritt's barn was carried across Schrock's property, and Schrock stated that "it took everything as it went." It was reported that the barn blew across the Underwood Road directly in front a loaded school bus headed south. When it passed his property Schrock said the twister held to the ground about 300-400 yards out. He added that this is the fourth tornado to touch down on his property. "The last one," he said, "passed just to the left of the house." His livestock was not affected and no one was hurt.

The twister than crossed Route 219 about three miles south of Oakland and destroyed a large metal building belonging to the Silver Knob Sand Company, then continued on to Pleasant Valley Road, where a family of three miraculously escaped the deadly force of the tornado.

"I opened the door to look

TOTALLY DESTROYED in yesterday's tornadoes was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Smith and their three-year-old daughter. Pleasant Valley Road. All three of the Smith family miraculously escaped serious injury as they were in the trailer when the funnel struck. Mr. Smith saw the twister approaching and he and his family lay down on the bedroom floor because they did not have time to get out. Mr. Smith stated that his daughter was nearly pulled from his arms by the winds.

Friendsville Man Killed In Tractor Mishap Saturday

A Friendsville man was killed instantly Saturday when a tractor he was operating overturned and rolled on top of him.

Isaac William Umbel, 68, RD 1, Friendsville, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., Garrett County Medical Examiner.

According to Maryland State Police, the victim had been removing rocks from a hillside on the farm of his son, Nevin E. Umbel, when the mishap occurred early Saturday morning.

Born in Asher Glade, he was the son of Lloyd W. Umbel and Ida Belle (Branthoover) Umbel.

He was a member of the Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, past president of the Garrett County Farm Bureau, and a past member of the Garrett County Fair Board.

In addition to his son Nevin, he is survived by his wife, Larna (Evans) Umbel; a son, Ward W. Umbel, Markleysburg, Pa.; one daughter, Mrs. Doris Rodeheaver, McHenry; one brother Robert Umbel, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and nine grandchildren.

Friends were received in the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville. Services were conducted in the Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, with Rev. Kevin Dolan and Rev. Donald Matlell, officiating. Interment followed in the Asher Glade Cemetery.

GCC Summer Registration Set

Garrett Community College has scheduled special summer sessions registrations on Monday and Tuesday evenings, June 9 and 10, according to Deloris Edgar, Registrar. Persons unable to register during the day may do so from 5 to 7 p.m. at both the McHenry Campus and the Oakland Center. Students may register daily from Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Friday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The day session starts on June 23 and ends on July 26. A total of 15 different classes will be offered in the day session.

The evening session begins June 16 and ends August 1. Seventeen courses will be offered.

For more information, persons should contact Admissions or the Registrar, 387-6666.

Garden Project Being Sponsored

The Community Food and Nutrition Program, under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Callis, is sponsoring a gardening project for low-income citizens of the county.

According to Mrs. Callis, the county was divided into five geographical areas, and selection was made on the basis of the most needy families from those areas, to attain the goal of 100 families.

The Community Food and Nutrition Staff, which includes Mrs. Linda Green, Assistant Director; Ray Teets, Verna Speicher, Judith Locke and Patty Virts, all Nutrition Aides, selected seven different seeds and two plants high in nutritional value. These plants and seeds were distributed to the 100 participating families.

Soil sampling was done according to families' preference, in cooperation with the Garrett County Extension Service and the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland. The seed, lime, fertilizer and insecticide was purchased from Oakland Agway, and the plants were purchased from the vo-ag department of Southern and Northern High Schools.

Training on preserving foods will be offered to our families by the Extenstion Service, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Rentschler.

The Community Food and Nutrition Program has recently purchased a 4-wheel drive van, with Community Service's Administration funds. This van will be used to help meet the nutritional needs of the low-income citizens of the county. CFN will also be working closely with other service-related agencies of the county in meeting citizens' nutritional travel needs.

For further information, interested persons should contact the Community Food and Nutrition Staff at 334-9431, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30.

Baptist Academy Names Honor Roll Students

Wilbur Hinebaugh, principal of the Mt. Lake Baptist Academy, has released the Honor Roll for the fourth term, which ended May 23.

Students in grades one through three who qualified for the "A" Honor Roll were David Hinebaugh, first grade; Stephanie Paugh and Angela Geer, second grade; David Deal, third grade. Making the "B" Honor Roll were Denise Slaubaugh, first grade; Julie Jackson, second grade; Kevin Bowser and Melissa Wampler, third grade.

Students on levels four through twelve must complete at least 12 paces with a balance in each academic subject, plus monthly Scripture memory passages. Those who completed these requirements and maintained an average of 94 percent or above were placed on the "A" Honor Roll. The student with these requirements completed was Diane Doppel with the highest average of 96.1 percent. An average between 86 and 93.9 percent places a student on the "B" Honor Roll. These students include Paul Doppel, 93.4 percent; Lucinda Fleming, 92.4 percent; Densil Helmick, 90.5 percent; Eric Paugh, 91.7 percent; and Marcy Weeks, 90.4 percent.

Danforth Award Winners Named

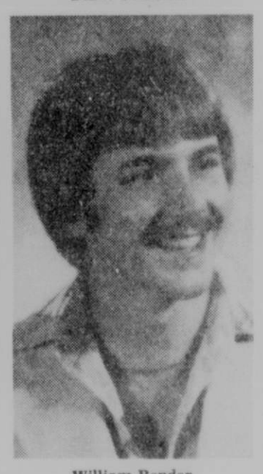

Sheila Dunham

Diane F. Beiler

Frank Custer

William Bender

Four area students were honored with the 1980 Danforth awards during high school graduation ceremonies on Sunday.

Diane Faye Beiler and William Bender were chosen for the honor from Northern High School; Sheila Dunham and Frank Custer were chosen from Southern High School.

The awards are presented yearly through the American Youth Foundation, "I Dare You" committee. The award winners received copies of the book "I Dare You" presented by principals Kenneth Bittinger and Luther Parrack. The four were chosen for their demonstration of outstanding qualities of constructive leadership and scholastic, social and athletic achievements.

Diane Faye Beiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beiler, Bittinger, is Northern High School's salutatorian of 1980. Her school activities include being Editor-in-Chief of "The Viking," student council representative, and an honor roll, distinguished honor roll and citizenship honor roll student.

Diane is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and is a member of Quill and Scroll. She attended the Eighth Annual Forestry Board Conservation Workshop in the summer of 1979, where she was awarded a membership in the American Forestry Association.

She is a member of the God Squad and a member of French Club I, II and III.

Diane is a member of the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, where she sings in the youth chorus.

William Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bender, Grantsville, graduated tenth in scholastic rank standing from a class of 118. Bill was vice president of the senior class and Sports Editor for "The Viking." He was a member of the school basketball and baseball teams and a member of the Letter-men's Club.

He achieved a 4.0 average this year and is a distinguished honor roll student. Bill attended the American Legion Boys' State Program and is a member of Quill and Scroll.

In the community, he is a member of St. John's United Church of Christ, Grantsville, and he was Autumn Glory King last fall.

Bill has received a scholarship to attend Garrett Community College, and he plans to major in Business Administration.

Sheila Dunham, salutatorian of her class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Neil Dunham, Mt. Lake Park. She was a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship test, a finalist in the Presidential Scholar Program, runner-up in the Century III Leaders' Scholarship Award, and a finalist in the Society of Professional Engineers.

Sheila maintained honor roll status throughout high school in the college preparatory program, and was president of the American Field Services, a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, Quill and Scroll, Highlander Yearbook staff, Coin Club, and junior and senior class plays.

She is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and was selected for the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, served as a delegate to the Maryland Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, and was recently inducted into the National Honor Society. Sheila was also presented with an achievement award in math by the Lions' Club.

Sheila plans to major in computer science and math at Carnegie-Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Frank Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Custer, Oakland, graduated in the top five percent of his class. He served as president of the high school band, in which he played French horn and melophone, and was athletic trainer for all sports.

is a member of 4-H Club and AFS. He is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and has been selected for the National Distinguished High School Students. In addition, Frank is a member of the National Honor Society, and he has won the John Philip Sousa Award and the Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

Frank is a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

He plans to attend Garrett Community College for two years, then transfer to Frostburg State College, majoring in biology. Frank then plans to return to Oakland and serve apprenticeship under Brad Stewart, and then attend the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science. Frank has worked at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, about four years.

Northern Band Members Honored At Annual Dinner

The annual Northern Band-Parent Dinner was held May 15 in the Northern cafetorium. Presiding was Mrs. Julia Sines, retiring president of the Northern Band Boosters. A welcome by Mrs. Sines and an invocation given by Mrs. Jane Fox were followed by a buffet dinner.

Following the dinner, Melvin R. Schwing, band director, presented numerous awards to the band members.

The John Philip Sousa Award, given in recognition for "outstanding achievement and interest in instrumental music, for singular merit in loyalty and cooperation, and for displaying, generally, those high qualities of conduct which school instrumental music strives to impart," was awarded to Jim Fox, a junior trumpet player.

The Arion Foundation award to the outstanding graduating member of the band was given to Connie Schroyer.

The Ross F. Fike Memorial award for attendance was also presented to Jim Fox.

All-American Hall of Fame Band Foundation and Who's Who in Music recognition was given to Connie Schroyer, Jim Fox and Brian Glisan.

Receiving an award for being designated the most improved member of the band was Donna Ringer. Outstanding ninth grade member was Kathy Baker.

Eleventh grade band letters were awarded to Bryon Atwood, Regina Bender, LeeAnn Cervi, Lisa Clutter, Bentley Folk, Jim Fox, Steve Fratz, Jeff Frost, Kathy Garlock, Brian Glisan, Kirt Harshman, Lori Klotzbaugh, Tim Kinsinger, Jeff Spiker, Katrina Stieringer, Alan Sweene and Henry Wilson. Twelfth grade band certificates were presented to Kim Bruner and Connie Schroyer.

Newly elected officers of the Northern Band Boosters named to serve for the 1980-81 school year are Mrs. Edna Wheeler, president; Mrs. Anna Mary Fratz, vice president; Mrs. Jane Fox, secretary; and Mrs. Audrey Kinsinger, treasurer.

During 1978 occupational injuries resulted in the loss of about 38.2 million workdays, the equivalent of a full year of work for about 153,000 employees.

Thanks, Garrett Central

The awesome and relentless force of nature was revealed quite vividly yesterday afternoon as tornadoes ripped through the southern portion of Garrett County, reducing homes and buildings to rubble, tearing down power lines and tossing trees about as if they were toothpicks. The damage could have been much worse, however, for although the loss of material goods ran high for some individuals, there was, miraculously, no loss of human life. For that we should all be thankful.

Those involved with the rescue and clean-up work are to be commended. Fire, rescue and law enforcement personnel, civil defense and power company officials were on the scene offering assistance within minutes after the twisters had passed.

Other persons who deserve a great amount of credit, but are often overlooked, are those who work at Garrett Central Alarm. These people work in the shadows. Their actions cannot be observed on the scene of a disaster because they are not physically at the scene. However, their presence is real and they play a critical role by providing communication, which is vital to an organized, efficient rescue operation.

When a large scale emergency occurs, one dispatcher receives communications from numerous sources almost simultaneously, and then, at the same time, must dispatch information to and communicate with over a dozen emergency personnel. He or she must be familiar with the geographic layout of the county and the different capabilities of each emergency service in the county. Garrett Central Alarm handled yesterday's situation with efficiency and professionalism.

At one point, during the height of the storm, Garrett Central lost its main power supply and had to shift to an auxiliary generator, an action which was made swiftly and smoothly. The dispatchers also aired weather warnings repeatedly throughout the day so more persons could be aware that conditions were right for severe weather and take precautions.

When a firefighter, a rescue squad member or a policeman in Garrett County is observed "doing a good job," one should also remember that there is someone at Garrett Central Alarm who is also doing a good job.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A week or two ago, The Republican had a small article concerning baby wildlife and that if a person, while enjoying the beauty of our parks and woodland, should come across a fawn or other newborn wildlife, they should look but don't touch. I feel that you should also include the rampage that family housepets, particularly dogs, have this time of year!

People just can't believe, or won't believe, that their little Fifi or Spot could do such a thing. Well they most very well can and do!

This past week some out-of-state people were camping along the Youghiogheny, they had two small poodles with them. These small, adorable poodles found and chased a doe and her fawn apart from one another, forcing the small fawn twice into the river, the second time the fawn almost drowned, except the dogs' owner rescued it.

I don't know what fate has come to this wildlife family, but, I just wish tourists and native Garrett Countians would be more responsible for their pets. Please, if you think there is a chance your family's dog might destroy wildlife, keep it tied whenever you can't be around to keep an eye on it, that way you'll know it isn't out chasing and killing deer. Because, and I know other people feel this way, if I should come across a dog chasing a deer, I'd kill that dog, no matter what breed it is or how cute. It has no place in the woodlands destroying its occupants.

Dear Editor,

My congratulations for the party who so generously offered suggestions as to the problem at the collection boxes. The litter raises the age-old question: Do the slums make the people or do the people make the slums?

What is your opinion, Dear Editor?

Please withhold my name as my county road frontage is at present "litter alley" and I certainly do not want it to be a public dump.

Name withheld by request

Dear Name Withheld,

My opinion is that every problem on this earth, with the exception of natural disasters, is due to man's selfishness, inconsideration and lack of understanding.

Editor

To the Editor:

I'm a concerned citizen and I think it's about time the Oakland Cemetery Association, or whoever is in charge of the cemetery, should get on the ball and do something about burying on the wrong lot and setting stones in the wrong place. I had both to happen to me.

Nellie Purnell Butler
Meyersdale, Pa.

Dear Editor,

There have been so many letters in The Republican lately to try to tear down people, that I would like to write a few words thanking someone for his patience and kindness to our special children. He is Tom Bittinger, leader of the members of Boy Scout Troop 99, all of whom are special boys. His tireless efforts he puts forth really make me appreciate and respect him. He takes time he could be spending with his family or doing something else that he probably would like to do, and devotes this to our boys.

One instance was the Memorial Day parade Friday when he had all those boys trying to help each get ready, stay calm and trying to get them into uniform. He had no one to help him other than a couple of mothers. Isn't there someone else who is interested in these children that would help Tom with this task? Only we mothers and a few other interested people would really know how to thank and appreciate someone (preferably a man) who would give a few hours to assist Tom in this great undertaking.

Once again I say "Thanks, Tom" for loving our boys and giving of yourself to see these boys have something that a lot of them would never have.

God bless and keep you and your family.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley DeWitt
Crellin

P.S. We also appreciate Father Feild for marching with the group in the parade.

Dear Don,

Frequently the "Letter to the Editor" column gets letters of complaints regarding actions of our youth. I'd like to draw to your attention, however, to an instance just the opposite. About ten days or two weeks ago I encountered a group of boys from Boy Scout Troop No. 31 in Oakland. They were giving up their Saturday to pick up trash thrown along Turkey Neck and Steiding Church Roads. They did a very thorough job. The residents in this area certainly appreciated their efforts. From talking to a couple of them I learned that they were also picking up trash in other areas, I presume with similarly pleasing results. I'm sure their efforts towards community responsibility were widely appreciated and I hope will serve as a lesson to their seniors who are responsible for the trash being there in the first place.

Tornadoes Strike

out," said Timothy Smith, "and I saw it coming." It was headed straight toward the Smith's trailer, about one mile away when he saw it. "I told my wife, and we were going to go outside and down into the basement, but there wasn't enough time," he said. So Timothy Smith, his wife Sharon Ann and their three-year-old daughter Shannon lay down on the floor in the corner of the kitchen, and the twister struck their trailer full force. "It was all I could do to hold on to my daughter . . . the wind kept trying to take her from my arms," said Smith. "I hit the flying debris away from us with my arm, and it was all over in about five seconds," he said. The twister leveled the home.

Smith said he got up and couldn't find his wife. "I put the child in the car and came back to where I heard my wife calling. She was under the bed—the storm had lifted it and sat it down over top of her." Mrs. Smith was unharmed, but Tim is concerned, as she is in the early months of pregnancy. Their daughter came out of the incident with a scratch on her head, and Smith was unharmed.

Smith said a large tree saved them, and he attributes their life to God. The walls of the dwelling were ripped through and a tree was forced underneath the floor on which the family was lying. When the tree was cut away the floor fell to the basement.

Smith, 26, said "it was so fast I didn't feel anything, and we managed to salvage most of everything. I'm just glad I salvaged me, my child and my wife." Smith is insured for the dwelling, and many of the family's personal belongings were salvaged. "Now," he said, "we just start all over." Three large trees dropped behind the debris had been carried through the storm, and part of the trailer's roof was wrapped around a tree, about 30 feet up. The home was valued at $30,000.

The tornado then continued on to Bernard Road, striking a house and causing $20,000 damage, police said.

In other damages, the home of Tom Nair, Old Crellin Road, lost a kitchen and bathroom roof during the first tornado.

Damage was done to the home of Sheriff John Evans, Crellin-Underwood Road, when the twister destroyed his garage, broke out all windows in the home, tore eight to ten large oak trees from the yard and damaged the back porch and roof, police said. At 9:37 p.m. last night Garrett Central Alarm dispatched Oakland Volunteer Fire Department to the residence when a tree fire broke out, apparently caused by fallen power lines.

Sharon Bernard, Pleasant Valley, also observed one of the twisters, which passed by her residence, destroying an out building and shed, and uprooting several trees. "It was pretty scary," she said, "it looked like it was coming straight toward the house. I could hear the windows heaving."

Damage was also caused to Sterling Processing when part of the roof from a building blew on top of the main plant, and the lines holding the smokestacks were cut.

Sightings were reported in Crellin, Pleasant Valley and Rosedale. According to police, traffic was extremely bad in the Crellin area, as numerous trees blocked the roads. State police directed traffic and set up roadblocks to keep incoming and outgoing traffic away from congested areas, including Crellin Street, Route 39 and Dilly Road.

The Garrett County Roads Department reported that the main concern was Dilly Road and a road crew of 10 was sent to clear the debris, a task which required about three hours work. It was reported that some of the trees were quite large, and the crew utilized a front end loader and power saws.

Jerry Kramer of Potomac Edison estimated that approximately 600 customers were affected at the peak of the storm in the Oakland area. Service to about 500 customers was restored last evening, he said, and approximately 100 connections remain out, the majority in the Crellin area and in areas situated in the tornado's path. He estimated that six poles were broken and the electric company dealt with two transformer failures. The WMSG transmitter was also affected.

Kramer stated that there are numerous areas with wires down, and he added that 95 percent of the problems are in the major path of the twister. He expects to have power restored to all customers by this evening, and Cumberland crews have been called in to assist.

C & P Telephone stated that their service was not affected to a great degree, as telephone cables in the Underwood and Pleasant Valley areas are underground. The company reported that about 11 persons are without service, but it expects to have lines cleared by early this afternoon.

When power went out at the Garrett County Court House, Garrett Central Alarm ran on a generator between 4 p.m. and 4:20. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department was out for several hours searching debris and assisting victims of the storm. Several persons were reported missing among debris, but were located and were unharmed.

The Kingwood and Masontown areas, Preston County, W. Va., was hit hard by the storm. It is estimated that one half million dollar's damage was done to the Preston County Education Center alone. A number of homes were hit and the National Guard has been called into the area. It was reported that 6,000 customers were without electricity last evening, and today all but about 250 have been restored.

George Comp, Civil Defense, stated that this tornado is comparable to one which hit Garrett County in the late 1940's, which caused extensive damage and resulting in two fatalities.

Board Sues

costs.

Attorneys noted they were trying to schedule a hearing date for the suit before the end of June.

The Board had been concerned about the commissioners' payments to it as early as September 1979. On September 21, Dr. Buser notified the commissioners of their legal responsibilities in levying taxes for schools and paying local funds. Following this, on October 23, 1979, the commissioners approved a school budget based on a reduced tax rate as a result of the constant yield tax suit making it the only signed departmental budget in the county for FY1980.

The March payment of $309,000 was paid late and the April payment was suspended by the Commissioners. No payments have yet been made to the Board.

Koala bears, which get all the nourishment and water they need from eucalyptus leaves, are aptly named, for "koala" in Australian aborigines' language means "no water."

CAC To Sponsor Day Camp For Eligible Youth

The Garrett County Community Action Committee, under the Summer Youth Recreation Program, is planning to send 20 eligible children, between the ages of eight and 13, to the YMCA Day Camp at New Germany State Park.

The camp session will be two weeks and eligible children may attend either July 7-18 or July 21-August 1, weekdays only. Planned supervised activities include swimming instruction, athletics, arts and crafts and nature lore.

Campers will be transported daily to and from the campsite. A bus route with central stops will be planned. Complete first-aid equipment and emergency service will be available. Activity insurance will be carried on all campers.

Total family income will be used to determine eligibility and those with the greatest need will be served on a priority basis.

Persons desiring more information should contact the CAC at 334-9431 by June 13.

Over $38 Million Paid By Maryland's Two Top Taxpayers

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein Monday accepted checks totaling $38,546,507 from Baltimore Gas and Electric Company and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland as payment of the franchise tax on gross receipts of the two public utilities. This is $3 million more than the $36.5 million the two companies contributed to Maryland's General Fund through the gross receipts tax last year and $7.6 million more than the $30.9 million collected in 1978.

"These companies are Maryland's largest taxpayers," Comptroller Goldstein said, noting that, under Maryland law, public utilities pay a tax on gross receipts instead of a corporation income tax.

The payments cover final payment of the tax on gross receipts for 1979 and an estimated payment for the gross receipts tax for the first half of 1980.

6 Ways to Save

1. Where two or three members of the family work, it is sometimes possible to build savings rapidly by saving one entire paycheck, with a fair sharing arrangement between family members on the remaining income.

2. Each payday, add a fixed amount to your savings account before you start paying out money for anything else. In other words, pay yourself first!

3. After you've paid the last installment on your car, an appliance, or a loan—add the same monthly amount to your savings account. You've shown that you can set aside a certain amount monthly. So—continue to add the same amount to savings, where your money grows with the help of regular earnings. Next time you'll be able to buy with cash, and save financing and interest charges.

4. Use credit wisely if you use it at all. Borrow the smallest amount, for the shortest period of time, making the largest possible payments, and don't borrow until you need it.

5. Encourage the whole family to save by letting each family member have his own savings account.

6. Having more than one savings account can help you save more. Designate a special purpose for each account. For instance: a new car; a special vacation trip; a child's college education; an emergency fund.

Survey To Assess Need For Day Care Centers In County

Three Garrett County women are conducting a survey (appearing in this issue) to determine the need for day care centers throughout the county and to find persons interested in organizing centers.

Through their work in career counseling, Marthe McClive, Sue Hillen and Barbara Frey say they have become convinced that a need exists for day care for the children of working mothers and single parents.

Through the survey they hope to determine the degree of need and the areas in the county where there is a need. The survey will also aid them in discovering what types of day care presently are available as well as who would be willing to organize a day care center in their community. They point out they would be willing to assist interested persons in establishing day care centers.

The survey will also provide information needed to apply for financial aid and to receive necessary permits to run a center.

The three women note they hope to receive the survey from all interested persons, whether they be parents wanting day care services for their children, persons with appropriate training to run a center, or persons or organizations interested in helping establish a center.

They stress that the survey is the preliminary step towards establishing centers in the county. The response to the survey will determine whether day care centers will be available and the type and cost of service to be provided.

Beekeepers To Meet Saturday

There will be an educational meeting of Tableland Beekeepers Association this Saturday, June 7, from 1-4 p.m. at James Johnson's home, 107 State Street, Terra Alta. Topics will be summer management, section and cobana honey, marking and clipping queens, smoker lighting, and when to add equipment.

The group will be working with 20 bee hives. Beekeepers should bring veils.

In case of rain the meeting will be held at the Terra Alta Town Hall on Washington Avenue.

All beekeepers or those interested in bees and honey are invited.

Fund Drive For Southern Rescue Now Underway

The annual fund drive of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad is underway, according to Frank Eberly, president of the organization. Letters and donation envelopes have been mailed out to the residents of Southern Garrett County.

Persons who do not receive a letter, but wish to donate to the squad, may do so by mailing their donation to Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Oakland, Md. Donations may also be dropped off at the Squad Hall on Oak Street Sunday through Friday, from 6 to 11 p.m.

Mr. Eberly stated that some persons may receive more than one letter and should simply disregard duplications. He stated that a great effort has been made to eliminate duplicates.

Southern Rescue does not charge for its services and operates entirely on donations. Southern Rescue responds to emergency calls only, Mr. Eberly said.

RESA To Offer ACSN Courses

The Regional Education Service Agency of Appalachian Maryland (RESA) will sponsor two ACSN courses for teachers, parents and others who work with children.

"Coping With Kids," a graduate/undergraduate course for teachers and aides grades K-12, parents, social workers, mental health workers and foster parents, will provide practical techniques and methods for dealing more effectively with children.

"Simple Gifts: Teaching the Gifted and Talented," a course for K-12 teachers, will provide ideas for increasing the likelihood that gifted and talented students will find the schools a psychologically safe place to be. Specific topics covered in the course include definition, identification and treatment of the gifted and talented; teaching strategies and program development for gifted/talented education; and the gifted and talented handicapped and minorities.

Registration for the classes is tomorrow, June 5, at 4:30 p.m. at the Board of Education Office. Persons wanting more information should contact Hilda M. Lee at 334-8121.

Correction Noted

In an article which appeared in last week's issue of The Republican, it was erroneously reported that Eleanor Moon, 38, Deer Park, was at fault in a traffic accident involving vehicles driven by Harry Vonkliest, Terra Alta, W. Va., and herself. It should have read that Mr. Vonkliest was charged with failure to stop for a stop sign, causing his auto to collide with Mrs. Moon.

The Republican regrets the error.

Hearing Scheduled For Agricultural District Petitions

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners will conduct a public hearing Tuesday, June 10 at 8 p.m. in their courthouse meeting room to discuss two petitions for agricultural preservation districts.

The petitions have been submitted by Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason, Jr., all of Pleasant Valley.

If the commissioners approve the petitions, they will recommend final approval by the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation, the State Secretary of Agriculture and the State Treasurer. If these three unanimously approve the petition, the two properties will be recorded as agricultural preservation districts.

The establishment of agricultural preservation districts is part of the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Program, a two-step approach to preserving farmland. The first step provides for farmers to voluntarily place their land in an agricultural preservation district. The second step offers the farmer the chance to sell his development rights easements to the state Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation.

The benefit to the farmer is not only will he have the assurance that his property will be used for agriculture in the future but also that property will be free from the imposition of "nuisance laws" by the county. It will also be protected from encroachment by urban and industrial development.

The two petitions are the first to be submitted in Garrett County. The petition filed by Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Mason involves establishing a 137-acre District at the north end of Pleasant Valley while that filed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Mason, Jr., involves a 175-acre District at the north end of Pleasant Valley.

Sheriff's Office Is Investigating Several Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reported four thefts from vehicles which occurred on the night of May 27.

Three of the vehicles were parked at Shorty's Bar and all were entered by prying a window or vent open. The thefts occurred sometime between 9:30 and 11:30 p.m.

Dorothy Wolfe, Eglon, W. Va., had her 1978 Subaru Brat pickup broken into. Unknown subjects ransacked the interior of the vehicle and removed Mrs. Wolfe's purse, which contained the couple's wedding rings, a checkbook and $125 in cash. Also taken were a CB radio and four cassette tapes. Total loss value is estimated at $1026. The Sheriff's Department recovered the purse, however the rings, cash and checkbook had been removed.

Carlton Carroll Sanders, Oakland, reported that the subjects entered his truck and removed a tool box and numerous tools, all valued at approximately $150.

Floyd Cowser, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., reported that his truck was entered. Taken was a tool box and numerous tools, amounting to a total loss value of $1,000.

Carroll Joseph Thomas, Oakland, reported that during the same night, between 9:15 and 10:45 p.m., someone entered his Ford pickup truck while it was parked at Joe's Place. Unknown subjects removed a CB radio and $160 in cash, found in the glove box. A total loss value is estimated at $300.

In a separate incident, Roger Tasker, Kitzmiller, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at his home during the daytime hours of May 28. The residence was unlocked and unknown persons entered, removing a shotgun, three fishing rods and a base station CB 23-channel radio. Total loss value is approximately $450.

A robbery was reported to the department by Harvey Fazenbaker, 82, Grantsville. Fazenbaker, a retired man, reported that, on May 28 at about 11 a.m. two white females and one white male approached him outside his residence. He stated that the threesome were inquiring whether he needed workers, when two grabbed him and the third took his wallet. The wallet contained $18 and Fazenbaker's ID cards.

Three arrests were made by the department during the past week.

Michael A. Gilley, 19, was arrested Thursday for driving with a suspended license. Gilley posted $100 bond and was released the same day.

Glen Eugene Harvey, 29, was incarcerated Thursday for violating probation. He was released the same day on $200 bond.

Helen Elizabeth Wilson, 36, Lonaconing, was arrested Friday for forgery. She was released the same day on unsecured bond.

VA Asking Vets To Lay Claim To Education Monies

More than $34 million earmarked for veterans' education payments remains untouched and the Veterans Administration wants the eligible group of armed forces veterans to lay claim, according to the VA.

The money has accrued to thousands of veterans who contributed to the Post Vietnam Era Education Assistance Program (VEAP), but have yet to enroll in school or begin a program of training, according to VA Regional Director, John W. Rue.

"Once a veteran starts school," Rue said, "VA starts paying benefits."

VA adds $2.00 for each dollar an individual pays into the program while on active military duty. The increase is reflected in each of the veteran-student's monthly education checks. If the veteran asks for a refund in place of education checks, he receives only what he paid into the plan.

"A 3-to-1 return on their money is just one of many reasons for veterans to continue their education," Rue said.

Created by Congress in 1976, VEAP is a voluntary plan open to military members who entered the service for the first time after December 31, 1976. Those who elect to participate contribute by monthly allotments from their military pay. Deductions may be between $50 and $75. More than 208,000 active duty personnel had contributed to it through February 1980.

Educational payments can be made to participants on active duty after they complete the first obligated period of service.

After separation, a veteran with at least 81 days of service may be eligible.

A veteran with a service connected disability may be able to waive that period.

Participants who elect to have the maximum allotment, $75 per month, deducted from their pay during a three-year enlistment may receive $8,100 in educational benefits-$1,700 individual contribution plus $5,400 added by VA. The $8,100 will be paid in 36 installments of $225 for each month of full-time college or vocational-technical school completed.

Total benefits can exceed $8,100 since some military services give education bonuses from $2,000 to $9,000 for certain enlistment options.

Toll-free lines to VA regional offices in all 50 states are available for information on the program. The Baltimore Regional Office can be reached at 685-5454, or toll-free within the state of Maryland at 1-800-492-9503.

Tornado Aftermath

CARING FOR THE INJURED are Southern Rescue's Frank Eberly, Ray Beahm, and Jackie Wachter (hidden) along with Oakland firefighters who deal with injuries sustained by Rubin Collins who was blown nearly 50 feet, landing against a felled power pole at Crellin. Collins sustained fractures and lacerations. Photos by Craig Phillips

TORNADO ALLEY — For the second time in three years Silver Knob Block Plant had a major loss due to a tornado. This time a large Quonset building simply vanished.

GARAGE NOT SPARED — This building, adjacent to Sheriff Evans' residence, was also a victim in the wake of yesterday's vicious storm.

HOME OF MR. AND MRS. TIM SMITH, Pleasant Valley, is now scattered over much of eastern Pleasant Valley. The Smiths, with their three-year-old daughter, sought refuge on the bedroom floor just before the house exploded. They were uninjured.

FORMER CRELLIN SCHOOL DESTROYED — This building, owned by the Mersing family, was the original Crellin School, which, ironically, was being preserved for posterity as an example of superior workmanship of days gone by.

THE COLLINS' BACKYARD at Crellin, shown in these two pictures shows all that remains of the Collins' residence. This is the second major disaster for the Collins—their first mobile home was destroyed by fire last winter.

THE CHARLES GRAHAM RESIDENCE at Crellin sustained major structural damage from suction of the tornado. It is located across the street from the Collins' home which was totally destroyed. Note curtains sucked out of the windows.

Oakland Splits With Bel Air, Sweeps Two From Island Creek

Oakland enjoyed a 3-1 weekend in the Pen Mar League to extend its record to 5-1 and stay tied with Tri-Towns in the Southern Division.

In the first game against Bel Air on Saturday Oakland's Steve Wamsley fired his second straight three-hitter, struck out six and allowed five walks, as Oakland won 5-2.

Oakland made its five hits count for five runs as Mark Tysinger reached on a fielder's choice in the first and was singled in by Cork Sweitzer.

In the second inning Laurence Nesslerodt smacked a two-out, two-run double. In the third Tysinger singled and scored on Randy Cirillo's fielders choice. In the fifth, Tysinger singled again and Cirillo then singled him home.

John Chaney took the loss for Bel Air.

In the second game Saturday Pete Skidmore, Chuck Koelker and Rocky Sideaway all hit solo home runs as Bel Air won, 8-2, behind the four-hit pitching of Rusty Metcalf.

For Oakland, Greg Beachy and Lawrence Nesselrodt had RBI singles in the third inning.

On Sunday Oakland swept Island Creek by scores of 10-1 and 15-9.

In the first game Mark McCarty fired a four-hitter for Oakland, striking out 12 and walking three. Tysinger singled in Nesselrodt in the first and then scored on Craig Cumberworths single.

In the second Sweitzer singled in Nesselrodt and Dave Bender.

Greg Beachy singled in Cumberworth in the third inning and Bill Bender scored on a fielder's choice.

In the fifth Bill Bender doubled and Beachy singled him home.

Tysinger doubled in the sixth and Sweitzer singled him home. Cvetnick singled home Tysinger and Cumberworth singled.

Chris Scripp had two hits, including a double for Island Creek. Ike Straley absorbed the loss.

Oakland outlasted Island Creek, 15-9, in the second contest. For Oakland, Nesselrodt, Dave Bender and Al Cvetnick each had two hits and Pete Brosnihan had a two-run homer.

For the losers, Rick Winebrenner had four hits, Randy Chapman had two and Craig Turner hit a grand slam, his second in two days.

Mike Brady took the win for Oakland and Jeff Rhodes got the save. Norm Minnick took the loss.

Oakland travels to Cresaptown this Saturday and on Sunday, will host Tri-Towns at Garrett Community College. All games begin at 2:00 and are double-headers.

Golf Winners Named

The winners in the "Million Dollar Tournament," sponsored by the Ladies' Golf Association, Oakland Country Club, for the May 29 play were June Bray in a foursome, and Wid Brown in a threesome.

Division Releases League Standings

The Senior division of the Oakland Little League released team standings and highlights from several games.

Davidson's Army-Navy Store won over the Elks in a 7-0 decision. The game was a combined no-hitter, with Scott Stem pitching five innings, and Keith Chapman finishing the final two.

In another Elks win, the final score was 8-0 over First National in another seven inning no-hitter thrown by Scott Colaw.

Monday's game had Beachy over First National 14-5, and Wednesday's game showed Davidson's Army-Navy over Beachy's in a 12-10 decision.

The first home run in the new park was hit by Kevin (Poke) Winters for a 315 ft. fly. Winters was presented the ball by league vice-president, Doug Ellis. Timmy Liller had three hits in the same game.

The standings are:

THE TORNADO DID NOT RESPECT AUTHORITY, as evidenced by the damage to the residence of Sheriff John Evans, and the complete destruction of his garage.

A FUTURE ATTRACTION at the boat launch site of Bloomington Lake is this intricately-patterned "Waffle Rock" found during construction of the Bloomington Dam. The Corps of Engineers will build a border around this rare phenomenon, and a smaller sample will be displayed in an overlook pavilion upon completion of the project. The portion of the rock which is waffled was the only portion exposed, until the Corps dug out the remainder. "In approximately 100,000 years this newly exposed portion will begin to show signs of a waffle, as erosion and weathering take their toll," said Russ Newman, Assistant Area Engineer. See story on page 29.

Miss Collier To Be Crowned Area Dairy Princess

Miss Nancy Kay Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Collier, Accident, will be crowned 1980 Area I Maryland Dairy Princess at the annual coronation dinner, June 12, 7:15 p.m. at the Bittinger Community Center. Miss Mary Lynne Sebold, 1979 Dairy Princess, will crown Miss Collier at this time.

Nancy is a recent graduate of Northern High School, an honor roll student and distinguished honor roll student, a member and past parliamentarian of the Future Homemakers of America Club, and a member of the Northern Garrett County FFA.

She is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Sunday School and Youth Group, and serves as one of the church and Sunday School organists. She is a past-vice-president of the youth group.

She is a member of the North Star Girls 4-H Club, Garrett County Holstein Club, Garrett County Holstein Club's Youth Program, and the Maryland State Holstein Association. She also shows cattle at the Garrett County Fair and at the county Holstein show. In 1974 Nancy was awarded the outstanding 4-H youth award at the Garrett County Fair. She plans to continue her studies at Garrett County Community College and help with the dairy farm at home.

Miss Collier will have the opportunity to attend the Tri-State Dairy Princess Training Seminar, July 8 and 9, at the University of Delaware, where she will receive training to better serve as a Dairy Princess and be prepared to enter the Maryland Dairy Princess Contest on August 7, 1980, in Frederick.

Reservations for the dinner should be made by June 7 with Mrs. Carolyn J. Ganoe, (689-6191), Rt. #2, Box 540, Frostburg, 21532; Mrs. Betty Guard (746-5422), Rt. #1, Box 340 A, Friendsville; or Mrs. Joyce Bishoff, (826-8687), Star Route, Box 77, Friendsville.

County Fourth Graders Invited To Attend Summer Camp Program

All fourth grade students in the Garrett County School System will be provided an opportunity to participate in an outdoor education resident program for five days this summer at the Garrett County Schools' Environmental Education Center, Camp Hickory, according to a news release from the Garrett County Board of Education.

The students will be picked up at their home school the Monday of the week they are scheduled at 9 a.m., then at Camp Hickory on Friday about 1:15 p.m., and returned to their home school.

There will be no cost to the students, with the exception of snacks in the evening.

The summer schedule is as follows: June 16 through 20, Grantsville, Route 40 and Yoder Schools; June 23 through 27, Broad Ford, Bloomington and Kitzmiller schools; June 30 through July 3, Accident, Friendsville and Crellin schools; and July 7 through 11, Dennett Road, Loch Lynn and Red House schools.

The students participating in the program will be involved in various nature study activities dealing with leaf identification and collection, insects and their homes, and life in a stream. Nature crafts, swimming with instruction, archery, compass orienteering and a nature hike will also be offered. Evening recreation will include organized team or group games and campfires.

Joseph L. Winters is director of the summer program. The staff will include Charles F. Strauss, Jr., science resource teacher; Jim Sell, Allen Lilly, Howard Ross, Diane Custer, Linda Martin, Gale Bosley, Kathy Jo Nice, Tammy Humberson and Linda Wengerd. The staff will be assisted by other teachers, college students and counselors.

According to Robert F. Rodeheaver, Garrett County Board of Education, "Every precaution will be taken to care for the health and safety of the students while they are at Camp Hickory."

Letters and parent permission forms have been distributed to all fourth grade students, and are to be returned to his/her teacher when completed.

Parents having questions regarding the summer program should call Joseph L. Winters, Director at Camp Hickory, 826-8461, or Robert F. Rodeheaver, Board of Education, 334-8121, any weekday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Auto Accident Injures One Person

A number of accidents in the district last week resulted in injury to one person.

A vehicle driven by Ralph Ervan Ford, 40, Summersville, W. Va., left the roadway, striking a culvert, after the driver lost control on the Sand Flat Road, just north of Deer Park, on Monday afternoon.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Ford to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

In a separate accident, Leroy John Friend, 18, Oakland, was involved in a single vehicle mishap occurring Friday afternoon along Old Md. Rt. 135.

According to police reports, Friend lost control of his automobile while making a turn onto Rt. 135, causing it to leave the roadway, running into a ditch, and coming to rest against a utility pole.

Friend was charged with reckless driving and failure to obtain a Maryland registration.

Built-in Cabinetry Can Solve Your Storage Problems

Built-in cabinetry is the practical solution for increasing the storage space in your home.

Free-standing furniture such as wardrobes, hutches and chests, no matter how expensive, are made in standard sizes and rarely ever use the existing wall space to full advantage.

However, with cabinetry that is custom built to your room dimensions you utilize space to the utmost and can also have drawers or cabinet space designed to accommodate odd-size items which would never fit into the compartments of standard-size furniture.

In addition, custom-built cabinetry gives you a much wider choice of woods, styles and finishes to complement the decor of your home.

Visit our showroom and see how Wood-Mode built-in cabinetry can increase your storage space and add beauty to your home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rexrode and Renea, Baltimore, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kisner and daughters, and the former's mother, Gertrue Rexrode, also Underwood. They also visited other relatives and friends in the area.

Police Investigate Two Complaints

Maryland State Police were called to investigate a report of disorderly conduct and a theft near Swallow Falls State Forest.

Virginia Rae Eichorn, Frostburg, reported a disturbance at her front door by a male, who was alledgedly beating on the entrance to her home.

When police arrived, they found David Glen Bittinger, Frostburg, intoxicated, and acting in a loud and uncontrollable manner. When attempts to quiet him failed, he was arrested and incarcerated for disorderly intoxication.

In a separate incident, a breaking and entering, and robbery was reported to state police involving property owned by Edna Mae Darney, New Salem, Pa.

Mrs. Darney's son reported the theft of $410 worth of merchandise from a summer cabin owned by his mother. Included in the theft was a lawn mower, a portable television, a 20 gallon hot water tank, and various other items.

The culprits entered the cabin by breaking several windows. An investigation is continuing.

Summerfest Will Include Folk Festival

The Deep Creek Lake Business Association has slated Summerfest '80 for Saturday-Sunday, June 28-29, at Deep Creek Lake.

The event, to be co-sponsored by the Garrett County Arts Council, will feature a Heritage Folk Festival in addition to its annual barefoot and slalom waterskiing tournaments, dealers' boatshow, snowmobile water crossing contest and other water sport contests.

The festival, to be held at the Village Inn on both the grounds and in the conference areas, will include traditional craft demonstrations and exhibits, traditional entertainment, and games and contests.

Fiddlers, dulcimer players and bagpipe players will travel throughout the crowd playing music of the mountain region.

Entertainment for the crowd will also include square dancing by the Mt. Top Promenadors, and puppet shows and a drama presentation sponsored by the Arts Council.

In addition, clowns and members of the Tri-State Mountain Men Association will filter throughout the crowd. The Mountain Men will demonstrate tomahawk and knife throwing and flint-lock rifle firing. Nature crafts will also be demonstrated by county boy scouts.

Women dressed in old-fashioned apparel will greet the crowd and help in locating the various crafts exhibits and demonstrations.

Traditional craftsmen to be present will be a basket maker, blacksmith, bee keeper, doll maker, gunsmith, knife maker, butter churner, lye soap maker, taxidermist, potter, rug weaver, wood workers, and wood carvers.

Other heritage exhibits will include bonnets, ginseng plants, deer antler smoking pipes, sauerkraut making, maple syrup process, hickory hearth brooms, hewing timber and flaying grain, leather working, sheet metal fabricating, needlework, quilling, hand spinning, weaving on a handmade loom, and wood sculpture.

Besides the craft exhibits will be animal exhibits including a farm petting zoo and sheep shearing. Spectators will be allowed to take turns at milking a cow as part of the zoo exhibit.

The festival will also feature an Indian relic collection, early farm and home implement exhibit, an old farm machinery equipment display, a colonial floral arrangements display, and a photographic display of early photos of Garrett County.

Traditional games and contests will be part of the weekend activities. Spectators will be offered the chance to participate in bucket brigades, jig dancing, driving nails in logs, beanbag throwing, and pitching pennies in a sawdust pile.

Besides the traditional crafts and historical exhibits will be an outdoor art exhibit displaying the works of county artists.

Eye Emergencies Workshop Slated

A one-day Nursing Workshop on "Eye Emergencies" will be held on Thursday, June 26, at Cumberland Memorial Hospital Auditorium, from 9:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services, the workshop will begin with discussions by specialists from the Johns Hopkins University Eye Trauma Center and Georgetown University Center for Sight, Eye Trauma Service. The program is open to emergency room nurses, other health providers, and Cardiac Rescue Technicians and will focus on the Maryland Eye Trauma System, emergency care of acute ocular injuries, examination techniques, description of specific ocular injuries and prevention of eye injuries.

Persons wanting more information should call Mr. David P. Ramsey, Regional Coordinator, at 895-5934, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Persons wanting to pre-register should call no later than June 20.

Adorable Adoptables

from the Garrett County Animal Shelter

A PLAYFUL PROTECTOR — This female German Shepherd is two years old, and just waiting to be your friend. She can be yours by calling the Garrett County Animal Shelter, Oakland-Sang Run Road, at 334-3553. Last week's puppies were adopted by Sam Steyer and Tammy Evans.

This sentimental Garrett County poem was sent to us by RMC Kenneth E. Paugh, who is serving in the United States Navy. This area serviceman portrays a beautiful and complete picture of Garrett County and its distinctive seasons and events.

Memories of Home—
GARRETT COUNTY
by RMC Kenneth E. Paugh

The bright sunshine chases the morning frost away,
The chilly morning of another
spring day,
Buds on giant oaks and maples
soon to appear,
All who live there know, that spring is near,
The cattle are turned out to fresh green grass,
The fisherman dreams of Deep Creek,
trout and large mouth bass,
The first robin from the south
has been seen,
Time for the gardener to make ready for planting the tomatoes,
corn and the bean,
Fresh, crisp morning, bright shiny days,
Spring has come to Garrett County,
Let's all pray that it stays.

The days grow longer now, with leaves the trees are full,
The farmer is working the fields with tractors
the Amish bid the horses to pull,
The tourists have come from places
near and far,
Arriving in their new, shiny,
chauffeur driven car,
To enjoy our beautiful countryside, our lakes and streams,
To lay under our clear, starlite skies
and ponder on his dreams,
Deep Creek Lake is crowded, with boats of many shapes and sizes,
While Herrington, Muddy and Swallow draw people to their natural beauty and surprises.

The morning air has turned crisp and clear,
The leaves will soon start changing
Autumn moves swiftly near,
Once again the tourists come, in trains from Baltimore and D. C.,
For Garrett County is freshly painted now, and bids all the world to see,
The glory of our Autumn, with its robe of many colors,
How bright the red, how radiant the gold,
the rusty browns and even some green down in the hollows,
Schools once again are open, as football fever grows,
The Rams and Huskies must meet again,
the winner no one knows,
With the dying of the leaves, and
Autumn Glory fades away,
North winds blow, frost once again,
Deer season just round the corner,
so the old folks say.

Then comes the first soft and drifting flakes,
We dream of sitting round the fireplace,
eating homemade maple sugar cakes,
Winter is the longest season here,
Hunting is outstanding, for rabbit,
squirrel and deer,
The snows will come in plentiful supply,
Many days schools must close,
but made up they will be when flurries leave the skies,
Snowmobiles and skiers now make up the tourist trade,
Garrett County's deep snows and freezing winds never make these men afraid,
Thanksgiving and Christmas soon become holidays of the past,
When March winds blow the old folks know,
that winter will not last,
Then once again, comes spring's welcome thaw,
Garrett Countians have survived to shout "welcome one and all."

These many years I have sailed, covering seven seas, visiting many strange lands,
But, alas, never has my heart
departed the place of my birth,
Soon I shall return, home, to
GARRETT COUNTY,

of construction of a student center.

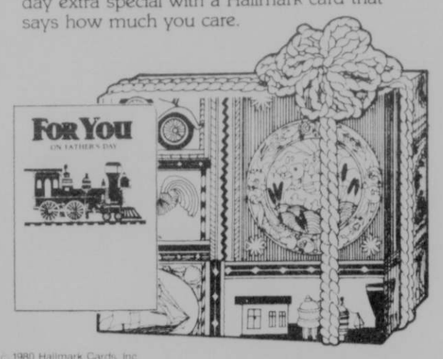

Monitoring cameras for the county jail, an item scrapped from the FY1980 budget, was also included in the commissioners proposal. The amount alloted would be $37,000 which would pay for the installation of nine cameras with a monitor for the dispatcher. The commissioners explained the cameras would save the county money by eliminating the need for additional personnel as well as acting as a deterrent to inmate destruction of the jail.

Gary Mullich, building manager, outlined the uses of the $25,925 allotted by the commissioners for courthouse projects. The money would be used to pave parking lots leased from two nearby churches for county employees. He stated lease arrangements called for the lots to be paved in lieu of rent. This project and other smaller projects had been scrapped from the FY1980 budget.

Other projects included in the commissioners proposal were the purchase of three new cars for the county sheriff's department, $20,437; the local share for the purchase of two new buses for the Commission On Aging, $5,000; a new furnace for the Ruth Enlow Library, $11,300; local share for an animal health lab, $5,000; local share for a mobile health clinic, $11,600; office equipment for the Election Board, $900; office equipment and furnishings for the commissioners office, $4,000; and the purchase of an incinerator and construction of a shelter for it for the Animal Shelter, $10,000.

The commissioners stated the $916,000 expected for revenue sharing was a tentative figure but a fairly accurate figure. They noted they would not have the definite figure until the U. S. Congress takes final action.

Take a bow
GEORGE

What George wanted to do was cross the Delaware on Christmas morning, surprise the British, and secure a badly needed victory.

What he needed was boats. Specially designed boats that could hold fifteen tons of men and artillery. That could move in either direction. Boats that had a draft of not more than 20 inches.

Happily, Robert Durham, a new American, had already designed and built them.

And other new Americans invested their cash to buy them.

And Washington sailed into a victory that turned the tide of the Revolution.

Today, millions of Americans can invest in America and come out winning, too.

Just sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan at work. That way, a little is set aside to buy Bonds for you. Regularly. Automatically.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds today. You'll have smooth sailing tomorrow.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4.96% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Crystal L. Rizer Becomes Bride Of Charles W. Teets April 26

Crystal Lynn Rizer became the bride of Charles Wayne Teets in a double-ring ceremony performed April 26. The wedding took place at the Otterbein United Methodist Church, Swanton, with Rev. Ellis Harvey officiating. Wanda Maphis, organist, accompanied Mary Lou Wilson, vocalist, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Rizer, Route 2, Swanton. Mr. Teets is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Glen Teets, Route 1, Swanton.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of sheer organza. The bodice featured a square neckline with an empire bodice. The sheer sleeves were organza with lace cuffs and caps. The front of the skirt featured Chantilly lace with organza pleating holding the skirt, which fell to a chapel train beneath a lace hemline. A Camelot headpiece of matching Chantilly lace held a tango-length mantilla edged in lace. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of pink and white sweetheart roses with baby's breath and fern with pink streamers. Her jewelry consisted of a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and a wedding band belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Wandell Rizer was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Vickie Wilt and Elizabeth Wilt. Dawn Rizer, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and Ada Wilston, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Roger Wilt was best man, with Neal Rizer, brother of the bride, and David Wilson, brother-in-law of the groom, serving as ushers. Darrin Rizer, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

A reception followed in the church social hall. Christi Teets registered guests. The wedding cake, featuring a lighted fountain, was baked and served by Anna Lee Cleveland, assisted by Ruth Tichnell. Punch and coffee were served by Audrey Rizer, Hazel Wilson, and Glenna Sweitzer. Other refreshments were served by Amy Sweitzer, Betty Wilt, and Floretta Kelly. Linda Fleming and Mareva Teets assisted with the reception. Lawre and Lissa Fleming and Lisa Sweitzer distributed rice packets and scrolls.

A bridal shower, given by the bride's attendants, Wandell Rizer, Vickie and Elizabeth Wilt, and sister-in-law, Audrey Rizer, was held at the Bloomington Fire Hall. A miscellaneous shower was also held by Bethelehem Chapter No. 14, Order of Eastern Star, in honor of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at the Swanton Community Center.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce High School and Hagerstown Business College. She is employed at The First National Bank of Oakland as a secretary.

Mr. Teets is a graduate of Southern High School and RETS Electronics School, Baltimore. He is employed at Mettiki Coal Corp. as a mechanic.

Following a brief trip to Canaan Valley, the couple set up residence at Route 4, Box 37-C, Deer Park.

Robert Nathaniel Street, Jr., 24, Newburg, W. Va., and Surrilda Florence Simons, 22, Tunnelton, W. Va.

William Joseph O'Dell, 20, and Mary Ann Rowback, 38, both of Elkins, W. Va.

GCC To Offer Writing Courses

Three writing courses will be offered by Garrett Community College this summer during the evening session at the Oakland Center. All of them are scheduled to be given on Monday and Wednesday evenings for seven weeks, beginning June 16.

Basic Writing (English 100) is a course designed for students who need a review of fundamentals of grammar, sentence structure, and paragraph organization before they do other composition work. This course is divided into three modules, each focusing on one kind of writing: description, narration, and exposition.

Expository Writing (English 101) is the required freshman composition course. In this course students write expository essays developed through various patterns of organization. Through the Writing Laboratory, students who have grammatical or structural weaknesses in their writing receive help to correct these deficiencies.

Creative Writing (English 110) is a course for students who like to write imaginatively. After receiving instruction in writing poetry, personal experience narratives, fiction and non-fiction, students have an opportunity to try these forms of writing, and then to pursue the one that interests them most.

These courses are open to anyone age 16 and over. Students may register for them at the McHenry campus or at the Oakland Center during regular office hours, Monday-Friday. Special registration will be held from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Monday, June 16.

March Of Dimes Local Chapter To Meet June 12

Verna Harvey, chairman of the Garrett County Chapter of the National Foundation, March of Dimes, has announced that the chapter will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, June 12, at 12:00 noon at the Fireside Inn, Second Street, Oakland.

The group will hold an election of officers and appoint committee chairmen.

All persons interested in The March of Dimes are invited to attend this meeting. Those who plan to attend should contact Verna Harvey, 334-4126, for luncheon reservations.

Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lipscomb, Edgar, W. Va., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on May 4.

They were married on May 2, 1930, at the Presbyterian Church, Oakland, by the Rev. Walter B. Brock.

The couple purchased the Fred Slaubaugh farm in 1937, where they built their present home. Approximately 26 children, grandchildren and friends were present for the occasion.

Named To Dean's List

Eight students attending Frostburg State College from Garrett County have been named to the Dean's List for outstanding academic performance during the second semester of the 1979-80 academic year, according to Dr. Kenneth Jablon, vice-president and Dean.

Students named to the Dean's List earned at least a 3.40 semester average, on a 4.0 scale, in 15 or more credit hours of course work. Those named from Garrett County are Carol Ann Corliss and Douglas William Green, both of Deer Park; Terry Jo Robinson, Friendsville; Linda Joyce Wengerd and Anthony Lynn Wright, both of Grantsville; Deborah A. Herndon, Mt. Lake Park; and Diane Marie Gnegy and Susan Theresa Schell, both of Oakland.

Gwenn was in kindergarten, and for fun, we'd play "How big?"

"How big is the beachball, Gwenn?" Mary would ask.

"Two inches!" she'd answer.

"How big is Daddy?"

"Eighteen inches!" said the thirty-six-inch giant.

"How big is that building?"

"A mile! No, two miles!"

So it went until Gwenn learned about the standards of length: the inch, foot and mile. Now, at eight, a beachball is "twenty inches." Daddy has grown to "six feet," and that building over there is "about two-hundred feet." Now, Gwenn has a better idea of the "bigness" of our physical world.

But what of spiritual dimensions? Gwenn must learn to gauge problems, worries, hopes and aspirations — lest her troubles seem too big, her dreams too small. She will turn to God's living Word, the Bible — taught in her church.

A little girl learned. Will you?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ON IMITATING OUR ENEMIES

Lesson for June 8, 1980

Background Scripture:
2 Kings 21:1 through 23:30; 2 Chronicles 33 through 35.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 16:1-8.

As good as Hezekiah had been, that's how bad his son, Manasseh, was as King of Judah. The writer of 2 Kings begins with four facts about Manasseh: (1) he was 12 years old when he began his reign; (2) he reigned 55 years in Jerusalem; (3) his mother was Hephzibah and (4) ". . . he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to the abominable practices of the nations whom the Lord drove out before the people of Israel" (21:1,2). It is for this fourth item of data about Manasseh that he is remembered.

Rev. Althouse

They Did Not Listen

The writer of 2 Kings goes on to spell out exactly what these "abominable practices" were. Manasseh rebuilt "the high places," the pagan worship places which his father, Hezekiah, had destroyed. He caused to be built altars to Baal and encouraged the worship of a number of pagan gods. Worst of all, however, he allowed pagan priests to build altars to their gods in the Temple of Jerusalem itself. It was not that Manasseh tried to wipe out the worship of the God of Israel, but that he encouraged the worship of other gods as well. We can understand, then, why the writer of 2 Kings concludes: ". . . and Manasseh seduced them to do more evil than the nations had done whom the Lord destroyed before the people of Israel" (21:9).

Manasseh's sin sounds, at first, like a very ancient one, something quite removed from our contemporary scene. But his sin is no less a danger to God's people today than it was in his own day. For his sin was that, in order to be secure from the enemies of Judah, he seduced his nation into becoming like her enemies.

Several weeks ago I was watching one of those television talk shows and the guest for the day was a professor of foreign affairs from a large midwestern university. He was discussing the relationships between the USA and the Soviet Union. His prescription for meeting the challenge of Communism throughout the world: beat the Soviets at their own game! Be just as ruthless and scheming as they are! Adopt their tactics and keep your finger on the detonating switch of the H-bomb. There were lots of people in the TV audience who enthusiastically applauded him.

Evil In God's Sight

I was appalled, for this man was saying that, in order to survive Soviet Communism, we must become like them as a nation, thinking the way they do and operating the way they do. It is not a new approach, for this had motivated Manasseh and, according to the writer of 2 Kings, it was what made him such an evil ruler in the sight of both God and his people, more evil than even Israel's enemies.

If to survive we must imitate our enemies, are we sure that is what it means to survive?

COMMENCEMENT TIME AN END AND A BEGINNING

Although the month of June marks the end of the regular school year, it is also the beginning of a whole new life for the many young people who will be graduating. We can't help but think of all the new pharmacists just finishing their formal education and starting their careers in earnest. It brings back thoughts of our own graduation and the time that has lapsed since.

Many changes and new discoveries are constantly occuring in the field of medicine but one thing remains the same, we appreciate the chance to serve you. We regard it as a privilege that you have entrusted your health care to us. We hope to serve you for many years to come.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Mortgage Loans Available At 11%

First-time homeowners in Maryland are now obtaining mortgage loans at 11 percent interest under a new program administered by the state's Community Development Administration, a division of the Department of Economic and Community Development.

The state has earmarked for this program $71 million out of a $100 million bond issue which the CDA successfully closed in May.

Under the Mortgage Purchase Program interested families apply to one of 28 participating lenders who then sell the loans to CDA. The loans are for a 30-year term, require a five percent down payment of acquisition costs (purchase price and settlement costs). The maximum mortgage amount is $55,000. The program is designed for families with a maximum income of $20,000 for a one member family in the rural areas of the state to $29,200 for a four person family in the Washington suburbs. The applicant must be a U. S. citizen, a citizen of Maryland for one year and have a good credit rating.

For further information, persons should contact: Mrs. Alyce Heath, Assistant Director for Single Family Programs, Community Development Administration, (301) 269-3524.

Maryland Sells Triple A Bonds At Low Interest

The Maryland Board of Public Works consisting of Governor Harry Hughes, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, and State Treasurer William S. James, recently sold $121,970,000 in triple A rated general obligation bonds for a low interest bid of 6.09956 . The successful bid is believed to be the lowest bid of 1980 for triple A rated 15 year general obligation bonds.

The low bid was submitted by a syndicate headed by First National Bank of Chicago and including Maryland National Bank. There were three bids received at the sale.

"We feel this is an exceptional interest rate in light of the erratic conditions in the bond market in recent months," Mr. Goldstein said.

The State of Maryland retained a triple A rating for its general obligation bonds for the sale. The triple A rating is the best bond rating awarded and generally means a lower interest cost to the state.

"Retaining the triple A. rating is a tribute to Maryland's financial reporting system and the economic stability of the state," Mr. Goldstein said. "The rating agencies have been looking at the ratings of states and cities much more closely since Maryland became the first state to publish financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Massachusetts is one state which had its rating downgraded in recent weeks because of financial reporting practices."

Approximately half of the bond proceeds will be used for public school construction, with the remainder divided between water and sewer projects and general state construction.

THURSDAY

Country music singer Tanya Tucker makes her acting debut in "NBC Thursday Night at the Movies: Amateur Night at the Dixie Bar and Grill" as a singer who gets stagefright when it's her turn to perform, on Thursday, June 5. (Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Burt greets soapster; 'ATWT' star to B'way

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Burt Reynolds, whose mother has been a long-time fan of Jim Pritchett (Matt Powers on "The Doctors") welcomed the soap star into his dressing room during a recent stint as host of NBC's "Saturday Night Live," which tapes in the same building as "TD."

Leslie Denniston (ex-Karen Peters on "As The World Turns") has a lot to be happy about lately. Leslie received rave reviews for her performance in the Broadway play, "Happy New Year." But most exciting of all, her former co-star on "ATWT," Don Hastings (Bob Hughes), presented the actress with an engagement ring just prior to her big opening night on the Great White Way. Word has it that the couple plan a June wedding.

Veleka Gray (ex-Mia Marriott on the defunct "Love of Life") is the actress portraying April Montgomery on "ATWT." Veleka's character is the slated on-screen romantic interest for the above mentioned Don Hastings, who has portrayed Bob Hughes for the past 20 years.

Someone else receiving rave reviews lately is Dorothy Lyman (Gwen Frame on "Another World"). Dorothy made her debut as a theatrical director with the off-Broadway comedy, "A Coupla White Chicks Sitting Aound Talking." The play, by John Ford Noonan, stars Susan Sarandon and Eileen Brennan.

Sherry Mathis (Liza Kaslo on "Search for Tomorrow") and her husband, Jerry Lanning (ex-Nick D'Antoni on "SFT") recently redecorated their New York apartment. To bring in a bit of the great outdoors, Sherry added many plants and trees to the decor, a practice followed by many New Yorkers in an effort to block out the concrete jungle from their everyday existence.

LETTERS:

What happened to Susan on "As The Wolrld Turns"? — B.C., Versailles, Mo.

Actress Marie Masters, who portrayed Susan Stewart on "ATWT," has been in Hollywood since she gave up her soap opera role. She has appeared in numerous commercials as well as several night-time guest-starring roles. Of late, Marie's name has been romantically linked with that of her former "ATWT" co-star, Robert Lipton (Jeff Ward).

An actor in search of theater celebration

When it comes to the Tony Awards, Jason Robards is often a bridesmaid, rarely the bride. As one of an elite handful of America's most distinguished actors, Robards has been nominated for the Tony — Broadway's most prestigious award — eight times. He's won once.

But that didn't stop him from accepting producer Alexander H. Cohen's invitation to join Mary Tyler Moore in co-hosting "The 34th Annual Tony Awards" special, to be broadcast, live, from the Mark Hellinger Theater in New York City, Sunday, June 8, on CBS.

"I don't worry about winning awards," Robards said. "But I'm glad to be a part of this show. If people across the country watch it and say, 'I want to buy tickets to a play,' that's good for the theater. Anything that will help the theater is OK by me.

"Actually, I was involved with one play where the Tony was particularly important. That was Eugene O'Neill's 'A Moon for the Misbegotten,' which we helped to resurrect from obscurity in 1973. We all cared very deeply about that play and were glad for any Tony recognition it could receive." That revival won four Tonys.

Jason Robards

Although he's regarded as America's foremost interpreter of the plays of Eugene O'Neill (four of his eight Tony nominations have come for O'Neill roles), Robards' single Tony Award-winning performance was in "The Disenchanted" (1959), in which he played a character modeled after F. Scott Fitzgerald.

"It was the first time I ever acted with my father," Robards recalled. "I was Fitzgerald, and he played the editor Max Perkins. We had a wonderful time acting together. It was a great revelation to me to see what a fine actor he was and to realize that's where he belonged, on the stage, not out in Hollywood fooling around in pictures."

Like father, like son — and Jason Robards has done more than his share of Hollywood acting. In 1976, he won an Oscar for his role in "All the President's Men," and in 1977 he won another for his performance in "Julia." Robards couldn't accept the second Oscar in person, because he was on Broadway in O'Neill's "A Touch of the Poet," for which he received his eighth Tony nomination.

"People sometimes think that film actors can't afford to work in the theater," Robards said. "I can afford to do it. But I'm selective about what I choose to do. I don't want to go into a theater eight times a week and do conversation. I'm constantly looking for roles that are enlightening about the human condition.

"When I act, I want the evening to be a celebration of theater."

The Tony Award is silver, a disk engraved with the masks of tragedy and comedy and is attached at its axis to a silver half moon. Unlike its cousins Oscar, Emmy and Grammy, it is named to honor a person — a significant figure of the American theater.

The Tonys were created in honor of Antoinette Perry, an actress, Broadway star, director — and much more — until her death in 1946.

She was a lovely, blonde actress who came to New York from Denver and, by the age of 18, was a star. Two years later, in 1908, she retired to marry and raise a family. After her husband's death in 1922, she returned to the stage and acted in several plays, including "Minick" by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber. Working in association with Brock Pemberton, she directed several memorable comedies, including Preston Sturges' "Strictly Dishonorable" and Mary Chase's Pulitzer Prize-winning "Harvey."

Performing scholarships

A series of eight scholarships in the performing arts has been announced by the Friars Foundation of the New York Friars Club, which will be awarded to colleges and universities still to be designated. The scholarships will be awarded in honor of men who, either members or associates of the Friars, have had a great influence on the performing arts. Former Secretary of State, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, who was honored by the Friars in New York as their "Man of the Year," will have a scholarship instituted in his name. Other personalities to be honored by the Friars are Johnny Carson, Kirk Douglas, Bob Hope, Buddy Howe, Gregory Peck, Frank Sinatra and George Steinbrenner.

Hollywood hits Manhattan

Teen-agers don't have much of a chance to watch soap operas since they're in school most of the day, so TV producers have found a solution to the problem. Representatives from Scholastic and Viacom are scouring Manhattan high schools in search of actors to lead in their new teen-age soap opera, "Haywood High." The program will go into production later this year, and the lucky young actors will be able to spend their days making soap operas for their parents to watch.

Indians are people

Indians are being stereotyped by the American public, says Charlie Hill, one of "The Big Show" comedy regulars and an Oneida Indian. He notes that most Americans think of Indians as relics from the past and don't equate them with real human beings. "People think all Indians lived 100 years ago. They don't think of us as everyday people who work, ride bikes, whatever. Instead, school kids are taught to see Indians as objects to count," said Hill.

Journalism gets scrutinized

In an attempt to further acquaint the consumers of mass media with the men and ideas behind the scenes, The William and Mary Greve Foundation of New York has awarded a research and development grant for the study of journalism. The grant is to be used to produce a public television series on the press. It is envisioned that the series will be a regularly scheduled half-hour television magazine designed to reflect the needs of the journalism consumer — newspaper and magazine readers and those who get their news from radio or television. The show will include segments on daily and weekly print journalism, radio news, public affairs and news presentations of the three major commercial television networks, as well as public TV and news magazines. Since the demise of "Behind the Lines" several years ago, there has been no national television program exclusively on the press. A few magazines, mostly designed for the journalism professional, and some newspapers and news magazines report on the press.

Fear of television

A CBS television executive maintains that the fear of television is worse than television itself. An educator for 20 years prior to joining CBS, Jack Blessington points out that "Parents and teachers have every right to be concerned about child development and the ability of children to read, write, spell and compute. The problems we have in our schools are not television related, and there is no definitive research to prove they are. People tell each other horror stories about a particular child and television viewing, and these stories are multiplied and become the basis for fact." Blessington says that one of the drawbacks with blaming television for today's modern ills is it diverts our energy from identifying and seeking solutions to the variety of problems we have with youngsters and family life.

Hotdogs on Broadway

Cathy Rigby, the ex-U.S. Olympic superstar, didn't use any of her gymnastics to eat a hot-dog at Chock Full o' Nuts, a New York chain of sandwich counters. She says that her ambition is to play "Peter Pan" on Broadway in August when Sandy Duncan, the current star, vacations.

STARVIEW

Doing commercials: Truth really matters

By RUTH THOMPSON

A recent news item reported that Danny Thomas, in an after-dinner speech to an assemblage of clergymen, stunned them by "confessing" he wasn't telling the truth in now-defunct commercials saying he liked a brand of decaffeineated coffee, that in fact he hates it and only likes "real" coffee.

Was he kidding? Nobody seems quite sure. No one questions the seriousness of his religious convictions; his major philanthropy, founding the St. Jude's Hospital in Tennessee, attests to that. However, before a live audience ... Thomas was supposed to be digging into his bag of tricks as a stand-up comic and come up with some laughs.

But there's no doubt about it. Even as a joke, if that's what it was, he violated a custom that you don't knock the product. In fact some advertising agencies are so scrupulous about the sincerity factor that a would-be endorsee must indicate that he or she really has tried, and likes, what he or she is advertising.

That is the way the courtly Montalban brothers treat their commercial commitments. Ricardo, the long-time movie star who is now Mr. Roarke on television's "Fantasy Island" series, speaks for a national brand of coffee. His elder brother Carlos, a New York-based actor, has for years been the spokesman for a regional brand of coffee. He doesn't endorse it under his own name, but appears as a fictional coffee broker called El Exigente. But no matter, the loyalty is there.

A reporter was charmed to find that when the brothers met recently in New York and both wanted coffee, each had his own brand brewed, drank it, and smiled with satisfaction.

Fran Lee, who now devotes most of her energies to consumer-advocacy causes, once told us that in the earlier days of television when she was still active as an actress, she did a commercial for a cold remedy promising, though not a cure, quick relief of symptoms and that before she could read the line, "Would you believe I have a cold?" the advertising agency double-checked to make sure she really did have a cold.

Back in the days when Edie Adams was the Muriel Cigar girl, she was seen occasionally on her own time, at social gatherings lighting up and puffing her sponsor's product and pronouncing it pleasant. The company retained her after the death of her first husband, their spokesman, Ernie Kovacs, a devout cigar-afficionado who was rarely seen, onscreen or off, without a cigar. And though Edie phased out as Muriel's spokesperson a few years ago (Susan Anton was her successor) she stayed on the panel that gives advice on who should say what on television for the company. Edie Adams has always lauded "the company" for hiring her when she was swamped by the debts left by Kovacs and for giving her top quality sets and productions for the commercials. It helped her weather through. (Now she is into a new career phase, in demand for the type of roles that once went to the late Joan Blondell. This fall, on NBC, one of her big roles will be as "The boozed-up prostitute in the TV movie, 'High Time.'")

But actors don't have to drink, eat or inhale a product to swear allegiance. Actress Susan Blanchard, the "No Nonsense Pantyhose" pitchwoman, says she recruited her "slightly chubette" sister for one segment to show the company didn't knit just for skinnies like herself.

"The 34th Annual Tony Awards" special, besides presenting Antoinette Perry (Tony) Awards in 19 competitive categories, will provide an entertainment program with production numbers from current Broadway musicals, among them (clockwise from upper right) "Barnum," "Oklahoma!," "Peter Pan," "Evita," "West Side Story" and "Sugar Babies." The special will be broadcast live from the Mark Hellinger Theater in New York City on Sunday, June 8, on CBS.

CINDY SAYS

Princess buys watch; Ford to be bio'ed

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Princess Grace Kelly's kid, Princess Caroline de Monaco, sprung for a solid gold Rolex watch for that commoner swinger she married. It was Phillippe Junot's 40th birthday — or, maybe, it was his second successive night home with her ... Henry Ford's going to get a book written about him. The biographer's Victor Lasky, who recently published the vivisection on Amy's father entitled, "Jimmy Carter: The Man and The Myth"... Suzanne Somer's having overbleaching problems. The girl's not really a natural platinum blonde, y'know ... Bianca Jagger is blowing her alimony checks on disco T-shirts her the 10-year-old daughter, Jade, at Manhattan's top kiddie shops. The shirts say, "Let's boogie." Figures mommy Bianca will sport them.

A postcard from Lowell Thomas in the U.S.S.R. says: "I'm on a swing around the Soviet Union — campaigning for George Bush" ... Rossano Brazzi showed at a ball at London's Savoy Hotel in flaming red hair. (He must be going to Suzanne Somers' beautician, right?) ... I didn't see mommy kissing Santa Claus but I did see Paulette Goddard buying handbags in Saks and looking quite bored about the whole deal. Nobody seemed to notice her ... Kate Jackson's worrying about cellulite. She's taking special exercises.

I spied Roy Schieder jogging up Madison Avenue at four in the afternoon. He had on dark glasses (really black ones) and a sleeveless blue sweater ... I can't exactly see his mommy the Queen hanging out Buckingham Palace's window looking for her son but Crown Prince Charlie is getting to be quite a rounder and bounder, as they say. Closed a London joint at three in the morning ... Nureyev downpaymented a co-op at the Dakota. It's the West Side building that houses such as John Lennon, Rex Reed, Lauren Bacall. Cost him a few shillings under $400,000 ... At a party the other night, Alan King spent two hours in a corner talking about roses. Man knows about cuttings and a potting table and all that jazz.

Alan Alda made six round-trips from the coast this month, back and forth from The Big Orange to The Big Apple. He works there, lives here ... Sally Field: "I'm very shy. Not many people invite me to their parties but if they did I'd just as soon not go"... Marie Osmond comment: "I'm not a Holy Roller who just goes around praising the Lord. Sure, my success is partly the Lord's will, but it's also a heck of a lot of my own hard work!"

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

GENERAL COMPLAINT — Please tell the writers of "General Hospital" that we are tired of so much Rich, Monica and Alan Jr. Why not just let the boy die and let Monica have another by Alan, this time a girl. Let Rich and Leslie adopt the little boy down on the waterfront who likes Rich so much. If the writers don't change so much repeat stuff about Monica and Rich, the show is going to start losing viewers. There are a lot of people in this area who have stopped looking because of this. Thank you. — C.C., E.M., L.C., S.G., A.G., Dillingham, Va.

OK, and you're welcome. If you want, tell it to producer Gloria Monty at "General Hospital," Columbia Studios, Gower Street, Hollywood, CA 90028.

BUCK'S GAL — I told my son, who is a great "Buck Rogers" fan, that I would give him $5 if Buck's wife came on TV. Now he is trying to tell me Buck's wife plays Kristen on "Dallas." I don't think so. Was his wife ever in a TV series? — Mrs. Diane O'Brien and son, Bensenville, Ill.

A good try on your son's part, but he doesn't get the $5. Mary Crosby, who is the daughter of Bing Crosby and his widow, Kathryn Crosby, plays Kristin. Gil Gerard, who plays Buck Rogers, is married to Connie Selleca, who was in a series, called "Flying High," about airline stewardesses.

ALWAYS HOPE — Is there any chance of "Charlie's Angels" going off the air? It is a dull program. — G.C., Lawrence, Mass.

A lot of people agree with you that the stories and acting are not top notch. But a lot of other people like it, so as long as ratings do well, the series — jiggles and all — will still be with us. Hopeful note: Ratings have slipped this season.

COMMENT AND QUESTION — One of the best movies I have ever seen is "Wuthering Heights," the remake, starring Timothy Dalton. It is shown so seldom, yet other movies come on so often. Why is that? Also, can you tell me what else I might have seen Timothy Dalton in? — Vickie Woods, Hillsborough, N.C.

Dalton, who was in the excellent film version of "A Lion in Winter" with Peter O'Toole and Katharine Hepburn and "Wuthering Heights" will be seen as long as there is viewer interest. However, as I have told other readers who have similar requests, I can't tell you why it's not shown more often because scheduling, if it is an off-network presentation, is up to local stations. Often there are contractual limitations on the numbers of showings for a film under the contract. If you ever see the original "Wuthering Heights" listed on TV — the one with Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon — don't miss it. It's a classic.

(Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166.)

"Henry Moore," an hour-long film portrayal of the acclaimed sculptor, will be aired over PBS on Wednesday, June 11. Oscar-winning filmmaker Robert M. Fresco directed and produced the international documentary, which reviews Moore's lifelong dedication to art and caps a surge of interest in the artist over the past decade, especially since he turned 80 in 1978.

IN FOCUS

Film portrait of Henry Moore to air

Henry Moore's hands, ideas, drawings and sculptures, his strong artistic independence, his early and later years, his family life and business transactions are revealed in Robert Fresco's "Henry Moore," an hour-long portrayal of the acclaimed sculptor, to air Wednesday, June 11, over PBS.

The artist's personality and philosophy unfold in a series of sequences that advance from one location to another in a number of countries. Highlights of Moore's life and the influences that shaped his art are revealed, as the film moves forward and back over the past eight decades.

The viewer is shown the artist's never-before filmed retreat in the Carrara Mountains of Italy, where he goes every summer to select stones from a quarry. Also seen is his studio and the tree-filled grounds of his estate in Much Hadam, near London; the foundry in West Berlin where molten metals are poured into huge castings; and the galleries and museums, interiors and exteriors of buildings, where Moore's sculptures are exhibited.

Moore's energy dominates the film. With his grey-white hair and chisled features, he engages the attentive viewer in a dialogue. He is obsessed with the shapes of things. "Nothing is lost" in nature, he says. Seeing something closely brings new levels of understanding ... The world is full of visual experiences in three dimensions ... People should use their eyes and see things they ordinarily might pass over. "Size has its own emotional impact," he declares.

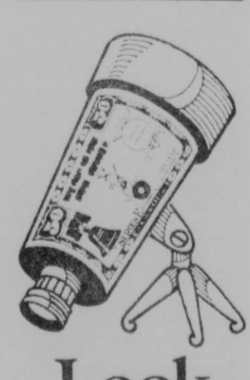

He is seen walking among his sculptures, tapping on one to check its soundness, caressing another, standing afar to see a shape against an horizon. He inspects a large piece recently arrived from the foundry, feeling for some wound or imperfection.

The film shows Moore's many facets. In one sequence, he studies his infant grandson, Gus, by drawing him over and over. He reconstructs in clay the figures in paintings by Cezanne, in order to absorb the painter's artistic insights. He is seen on a tour of American museums.

Moore's business interests are also presented. He is filmed in touch with art representatives, arranging for shipments of his pieces and engaging in other transactions. Looking ahead, he plans the physical layout and organization of The Henry Moore Foundation, which will receive many of his works, records and memorabilia after he dies.

Critic Kenneth Clark has described Henry Moore as "the most dominant creative force of our epoch." The impact of his style on the contemporary art world and on society in general has been underscored in numerous recent books and articles published on the man and his work.

Moore, whose work has been placed on public view in more places throughout the world than any other sculptor in history, will be honored with a major retrospective of his work at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York in 1982.

DIETING TIPS

"I'm on a diet" is a very popular phrase in America—it seems that everyone is trying to lose their excess pounds. Being on a diet and staying with it is not easy, but it can be done. Here are some tips that might help you stick to your diet:

—Eat a balanced diet by including all four food groups in your daily diet.

—Don't go on fad diets.

—Don't go anywhere hungry. Eat or drink something before leaving home.

—If you have a picture of yourself when you were slim, post it where it can be seen.

—Avoid talking on the phone in the kitchen.

—Don't skip breakfast.

—Don't let yourself get bored.

—If a recipe calls for tomato sauce or paste, use cooked down tomato juice instead.

—Saute foods in bouillon instead of butter.

—Brown foods in a nonstick skillet or in a skillet sprayed with nonstick coating.

—Trim all excess fat from meats and poultry.

—When eating out, go only to restaurants where you can stay on your diet.

—When eating out, take your artificial sweetener and your low-calorie salad dressing.

To help yourself feel good about dieting, make a list of five positive thoughts you have about losing weight.

If you need some further help with your diet, a good bulletin entitled "A New Weigh of Life" is available from the Extension Office at 334-2145.

FOOD NOTES

Chicken remains to be one of the cheapest meats available to consumers. It's nutritious and low in calories. Here is a tasty recipe that I think you will enjoy trying:

CHICKEN PARMESAN

2 to 2½ pounds broiler-fryer pieces
1¼ tsp. salt
3 T. shortening
⅓ cup steak sauce
¼ cup all-purpose flour
¼ tsp. pepper
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, cut up
1 T. sugar
¼ pound sliced mozzarella cheese, cut into strips

Coat chicken with mixture of flour, salt and pepper; brown well in shortening. Place chicken in baking dish (12"x7½"x2"). Blend any remaining flour mixture with tomatoes and next 4 ingredients; pour over chicken. Cover; bake in 350°F. oven for 30 minutes. Remove cover, top with cheese. Bake uncovered 25 to 30 minutes longer or until chicken is tender. Skim excess fat from sauce. Serve sauce over chicken and hot noodles. Makes 4-5 servings (about 2 cups sauce).

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

June 9—Outdoor Cookery Workshop from 12 noon to 1 p.m.; 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Extension Office. Everyone is welcome to attend.

June 11—Homemakers training on outdoor cookery at Grantsville Community Park Pavilion at 10:00 a.m. and at the Extension Office in Oakland at 1:00 p.m.

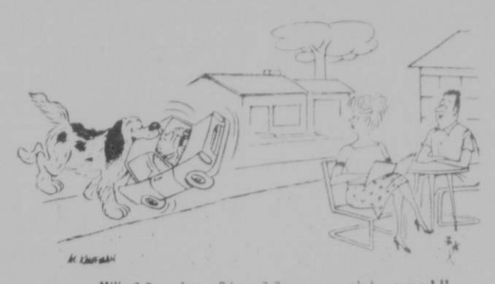

June 16-19—Stretch Terry and Velour workshop at Southern High Clothing Lab. Interested persons should contact the Extension Office for further details.

AARP To Meet

The American Association of Retired Persons, Garrett County chapter, will meet Wednesday, June 11, at 1:30 p.m. at the Oakland Fire Hall for its regular meeting.

The guest speaker will be a representative of Blue Cross/Blue Shield from the Cumberland office. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Members are urged to attend by the officers of the chapter in order to discuss trips for the summer season.

"Well, he finally caught one!"

La Leche League To Meet Tuesday

Expectant and nursing mothers are invited to this month's La Leche League meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, June 10, at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Barbara Speicher, Bumblebee Road, Accident.

"The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties" is the discussion topic. League meetings are informal, with mothers sharing questions and experiences under the guidance of an internationally certified La Leche League Leader. Mothers are encouraged to bring their babies with them. Women with questions about breastfeeding may telephone the League at any time, whether or not they have attended meetings.

Questions about this month's meeting and La Leche League's services to nursing mothers should be directed to Ellinor Hamilton, local leader, at 826-8543.

Teresa Edwards Is Nursing Grad

Teresa Lynn Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Moon, Deer Park, and the late Harry Edwards, III, recently graduated Cum Laude from Allegany Community College, Cumberland, with an Associate of Arts Degree in Registered Nursing.

She received the Gladys S. Brook award given by Memorial Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

Miss Edwards is a 1978 graduate of Southern High School and has accepted a position at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

MOON DISCOVERED

Pioneer II helped discover the eleventh moon of Saturn which appeared on a photograph of the outer edge of the rings. The diameter of the moon is estimated to be 400 kilometers (250 miles).

MOON

Tomorrow, the Moon will pass through its Last Quarter phase at 10:53 p.m. At this time, the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun. The Moon will be waning during the week. Moonrise was at 42 minutes past midnight this morning. Next Tuesday, the Moon will rise at 4:23 a.m.

Sunday, the Moon will be closer to the Earth than at any other time during June. This perigee will be 367,630 kilometers (228,480 miles) from Earth.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible to the unaided eye during the week. Mercury and Venus will be visible for a short time after sunset. They will be near the feet of Gemini. Saturn, Mars and Jupiter are strung through Leo from east to west in the order listed. They set about 4 hours after sunset.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

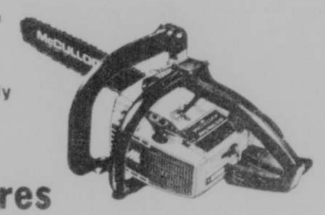

Six minutes more daylight will be with us next Tuesday. This morning the Sun will rise at 5:51. Tonight, sunset will be at 8:40. Next Tuesday, sunrise will be 5:49 a.m. and sunset will be at 8:44 p.m., 14 hours 55 minutes later.

Today is the 156th day of this year. The path of the Sun will be the same today as it will be next July 8th.

SOME NEW PHONES THAT SAY IT ALL.

EMPRESS.® A new phone with a hand-painted floral base that's fit for royalty. Its Touch-Tone† feature combines modern communications technology with the charm of yesteryear's French telephone.

COUNTRY JUNCTION.† Talk on wood with our newest wall phone. Its natural oak and antiqued nickel components harken back to rural Americana. Great for kitchens, dens or family rooms.

AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE.†† Never miss an important call. This phone automatically answers your calls and records your messages word for word, twenty-four hours a day. And it can store up to 20 minutes worth of messages. It's a telephone, receptionist and answering service. All in one.

ACTION PHONE.* With this remarkable new phone you can hold a conversation without holding a receiver. Its hands-free operation lets you work with both hands while talking on the phone. Plus, several people in the same room can talk simultaneously. Available in either wall or desk model.

These four phones are just a few of over 120 different styles and colors now available at your C&P Telephone Bell PhoneCenter Store.

Phones that are fashionable, functional and distinctive. Phones that make great gifts. All genuine Bell quality.

And you can take any of our phones home with you. If your home has modular phone outlets, simply plug it in.

If not, we can arrange to have outlets installed.

To find out more about the features, costs and various charges of these four phones, just stop into your C&P Telephone Bell PhoneCenter Store. You'll find functional phones that speak for themselves. And decorative ones that say something special.

Either way, when it comes to phones, we talk your language.

"Henry Moore," an hour-long film portrayal of the acclaimed sculptor, will be aired over PBS on Wednesday, June 11. Oscar-winning filmmaker Robert M. Fresco directed and produced the international documentary, which reviews Moore's lifelong dedication to art and caps a surge of interest in the artist over the past decade, especially since he turned 80 in 1978.

IN FOCUS

Film portrait of Henry Moore to air

Henry Moore's hands, ideas, drawings and sculptures, his strong artistic independence, his early and later years, his family life and business transactions are revealed in Robert Fresco's "Henry Moore," an hour-long portrayal of the acclaimed sculptor, to air Wednesday, June 11, over PBS.

The artist's personality and philosophy unfold in a series of sequences that advance from one location to another in a number of countries. Highlights of Moore's life and the influences that shaped his art are revealed, as the film moves forward and back over the past eight decades.

The viewer is shown the artist's never-before filmed retreat in the Carrara Mountains of Italy, where he goes every summer to select stones from a quarry. Also seen is his studio and the tree-filled grounds of his estate in Much Hadam, near London, the foundry in West Berlin where molten metals are poured into huge castings, and the galleries and museums, interiors and exteriors of buildings, where Moore's sculptures are exhibited.

Moore's energy dominates the film. With his grey-white hair and chisled features, he engages the attentive viewer in a dialogue. He is obsessed with the shapes of things. "Nothing is lost" in nature, he says. Seeing something closely brings new levels of understanding ... The world is full of visual experiences in three dimensions ... People should use their eyes and see things they ordinarily might pass over. "Size has its own emotional impact," he declares.

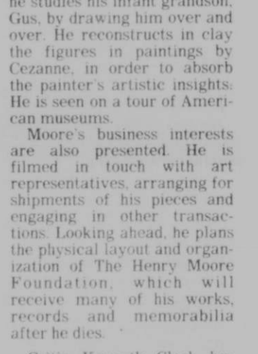

He is seen walking among his sculptures, tapping on one to check its soundness, caressing another, standing afar to see a shape against an horizon. He inspects a large piece recently arrived from the foundry, feeling for some wound or imperfection.

The film shows Moore's many facets. In one sequence, he studies his infant grandson, Gus, by drawing him over and over. He reconstructs in clay the figures in paintings by Cezanne, in order to absorb the painter's artistic insights. He is seen on a tour of American museums.

Moore's business interests are also presented. He is filmed in touch with art representatives, arranging for shipments of his pieces and engaging in other transactions. Looking ahead, he plans the physical layout and organization of The Henry Moore Foundation, which will receive many of his works, records and memorabilia after he dies.

Critic Kenneth Clark has described Henry Moore as "the most dominant creative force of our epoch." The impact of his style on the contemporary art world and on society in general has been underscored in numerous recent books and articles published on the man and his work.

Moore, whose work has been placed on public view in more places throughout the world than any other sculptor in history, will be honored with a major retrospective of his work at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York in 1982.

Look Ahead.

DIETING TIPS

"I'm on a diet" is a very popular phrase in America—it seems that everyone is trying to lose their excess pounds. Being on a diet and staying with it is not easy, but it can be done. Here are some tips that might help you stick to your diet:

—Eat a balanced diet by including all four food groups in your daily diet.

—Don't go on fad diets.

—Don't go anywhere hungry. Eat or drink something before leaving home.

—If you have a picture of yourself when you were slim, post it where it can be seen.

—Avoid talking on the phone in the kitchen.

—Don't skip breakfast.

—Don't let yourself get bored.

—If a recipe calls for tomato sauce or paste, use cooked down tomato juice instead.

—Saute foods in bouillon instead of butter.

—Brown foods in a nonstick skillet or in a skillet sprayed with nonstick coating.

—Trim all excess fat from meats and poultry.

—When eating out, go only to restaurants where you can stay on your diet.

—When eating out, take your artificial sweetener and your low-calorie salad dressing.

To help yourself feel good about dieting, make a list of five positive thoughts you have about losing weight.

If you need some further help with your diet, a good bulletin entitled "A New Weigh of Life" is available from the Extension Office at 334-2145.

FOOD NOTES

Chicken remains to be one of the cheapest meats available to consumers. It's nutritious and low in calories. Here is a tasty recipe that I think you will enjoy trying:

CHICKEN PARMESAN

2 to 2½ pounds broiler-fryer pieces
1¼ tsp. salt
3 T. shortening
⅓ cup steak sauce
¼ cup all-purpose flour
¼ tsp. pepper
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, cut up
1 T. sugar
¼ pound sliced mozzarella cheese, cut into strips

Coat chicken with mixture of flour, salt and pepper; brown well in shortening. Place chicken in baking dish (12"x7½"x2"). Blend any remaining flour mixture with tomatoes and next 4 ingredients; pour over chicken. Cover; bake in 350°F. oven for 30 minutes. Remove cover, top with cheese. Bake uncovered 25 to 30 minutes longer or until chicken is tender. Skim excess fat from sauce. Serve sauce over chicken and hot noodles. Makes 4-5 servings (about 2 cups sauce).

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

June 9—Outdoor Cookery Workshop from 12 noon to 1 p.m.; 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Extension Office. Everyone is welcome to attend.

La Leche League To Meet Tuesday

Expectant and nursing mothers are invited to this month's La Leche League meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, June 10, at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Barbara Speicher, Bumblebee Road, Accident.

"The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties" is the discussion topic. League meetings are informal, with mothers sharing questions and experiences under the guidance of an internationally certified La Leche League Leader. Mothers are encouraged to bring their babies with them. Women with questions about breastfeeding may telephone the League at any time, whether or not they have attended meetings.

Questions about this month's meeting and La Leche League's services to nursing mothers should be directed to Ellinor Hamilton, local leader, at 826-8543.

AARP To Meet

The American Association of Retired Persons, Garrett County chapter, will meet Wednesday, June 11, at 1:30 p.m. at the Oakland Fire Hall for its regular meeting.

The guest speaker will be a representative of Blue Cross/Blue Shield from the Cumberland office. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Members are urged to attend by the officers of the chapter in order to discuss trips for the summer season.

Teresa Edwards Is Nursing Grad

Teresa Lynn Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Moon, Deer Park, and the late Harry Edwards, III, recently graduated Cum Laude from Allegany Community College, Cumberland, with an Associate of Arts Degree in Registered Nursing.

She received the Gladys S. Brook award given by Memorial Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

Miss Edwards is a 1978 graduate of Southern High School and has accepted a position at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

MOON DISCOVERED

Pioneer II helped discover the eleventh moon of Saturn which appeared on a photograph of the outer edge of the rings. The diameter of the moon is estimated to be 400 kilometers (250 miles).

MOON

Tomorrow, the Moon will pass through its Last Quarter phase at 10:53 p.m. At this time, the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun. The Moon will be waning during the week. Moonrise was at 42 minutes past midnight this morning. Next Tuesday, the Moon will rise at 4:23 a.m.

Sunday, the Moon will be closer to the Earth than at any other time during June. This perigee will be 367,630 kilometers (228,480 miles) from Earth.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible to the unaided eye during the week. Mercury and Venus will be visible for a short time after sunset. They will be near the feet of Gemini. Saturn, Mars, and Jupiter are strung through Leo from east to west in the order listed. They set about 4 hours after sunset.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

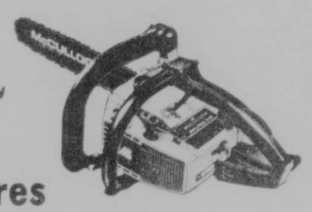

Six minutes more daylight will be with us next Tuesday. This morning the Sun will rise at 5:51. Tonight, sunset will be at 8:40. Next Tuesday, sunrise will be 5:49 a.m. and sunset will be at 8:44 p.m., 14 hours 55 minutes later.

Today is the 156th day of this year. The path of the Sun will be the same today as it will be next July 8th.

A Week Of Frontier Life

Southern Middle Students Experience "Pioneer Living"

by Kathy Railey

KAZOOS IN HAND, ready to play a long-forgotten campfire song, 50 eighth-graders joined in a musical session led by Roz Frantz, substitute teacher. The musical session was part of a week of "Pioneer Living" for Southern Middle School students, held at Camp Hickory. During the week the students learned the crafts and procedures of frontier living, cooked their own meals from scratch over an open fire, and generally experienced life without many conveniences. See story.

Wes Lovelace and Pat McLaughlin, instructors at Southern Middle School, and their students organized a spring "Pioneer Living" week for 50 eighth-graders, experienced to the fullest at Camp Hickory. The students spent four days and three nights at the camp during the last week of March, to experience frontier living, in conjunction with the colonial units of the two classes. The group began planning the trip in September, it was approved by the school, other teachers cooperated with the students' absences, and they were on their way!

When the group arrived at the camp, the students were confronted with eight-foot wood slabs, donated by Sisler Lumber Company. Their first job was to cut the slabs for firewood, using only crosscut saws, axes, bow saws, hatchets and buck saws. The students cut several cords of firewood, enough to last the week, built a fire and kept it burning night and day.

The first day at camp Dora Shafer provided instruction for making soap, using lard, lye and water. The students made about 70 bars of soap in one day. Butter was churned with a churn and cream, provided by Hamilton Farms. These activities amounted to just a fraction of the work . . . ah, for the good old days!

In between the various soap and butter-making procedures, the students began to think about dinner, which started with nine live chickens. The chickens were slaughtered, plucked, cleaned and butchered by the kids, aided by Mrs. Vitez.

During the week the students prepared their own meals over an open fire, with the help of Mrs. Kiemer, a parent volunteer. They worked with a minimum of modern conveniences and made nearly everything from scratch, including bread, dumplings and cookies.

Throughout the day the fire was kept hot, and pails of water were carried from a stream to the main camp building. The camp has running water, but the kids were there to really "rough it," and were required to keep seven buckets full at all times.

At one point during the first day, the students gathered for a lesson in astronomy, to learn how to operate a telescope.

That evening the hoedown began, as the Mt. Top Promenaders danced to the commands of caller Al Schwinabart. Later the students joined in to end the day with a do-si-do and a snack of homemade potato chips, baked over the open fire.

The girls drifted off to sleep, and the boys looked forward to a night of fire-watches, one hour each, taking turns to keep it going. Then bright-eyed and bushy-tailed the camp wakened at 5:30 sharp, in time for a 6 a.m. breakfast. A few brave souls heartily withstood an ice cold shower to prepare them for a day of field trips.

The first stop was Hershberger's Sugar Camp, where the group observed the process of syrup-making. From there they traveled to Penn Alps to observe pottery-making, casting and the workings of a kiln.

The Casselman bridge near Penn Alps was visited and the group discussed its history, while some students sketched the landmark.

The next stop was a tour through Yoder's meat-packing plant, for the purpose of understanding where meat really comes from. The students were supplied with diagrams of main cuts of meat from the cow and pig, and observed the butchering process.

From there the group traveled to Bear Creek Rearing Station where the process of stocking fish was explained to the students, then returned to camp for lunch and a weather lesson. The lesson concentrated on the reading of instruments to predict weather.

The days were quite full and the students were kept busy. Homework also had to be done for the classes that the students were missing.

During the afternoon Roy Frantz led the group on a nature walk through a network of trails near the camp. As the evening approached dinner was prepared, and the evening's entertainment arrived.

Jerry Ash performed with a hammer dulcimer, and explained the instrument's history, workings, construction and uses. He demonstrated various styles of playing the hammer dulcimer, and relayed a few mountain tales to the students. Kathy Eriser, singer/guitarist, also provided entertainment.

In keeping with the musical nature of the evening, the students played kazoos, led by Roz Frantz, a substitute teacher. Refreshments made by the students for the evening were popcorn and pudding.

That night the group stepped outside for a second lesson in astronomy, to observe the stars without the use of the telescope, and then retired, to waken early the next morning for another full day.

The third day of the "Pioneer Living" experience dealt primarily with frontier crafts. In the morning, however, the students had a lesson in twig identification, led by Mr. Winters, and Mr. Lovelace demonstrated the art of beekeeping. The students examined a bee under a microscope and learned about the nature of beehives.

The group then became involved in batiking quilt patches, using wax and dye. Each student created a design signifying their most memorable aspect of the camp, to be made into a quilt.

The afternoon of varied crafts, demonstrated and practiced simultaneously in the large meeting room, consisted of wood carving, dulcimers, spinning and weaving. Chip Evans was present to demonstrate the art of wood carving. Rev. Leininger brought a collection of plucking dulcimers, and his John demonstrated the art of playing the instrument and assisted students creating music with dulcimers.

Rev. Leininger also gave a demonstration on spinning and weaving, and members of the group tried their hand at these skilled crafts. One student commented that the art appears so simple, but is difficult to master.

Following dinner that evening the students presented fun skits, dealing with some aspect of the camp. Ms. McLaughlin stated that all of the students became involved in the creation and presentation of the performances. And for the rewards of a job well done, the group made and enjoyed, homemake chocolate ice-cream.

The final day of the frontier experience brought with it a visit from Jerry Steyer and Milton Proudfoot, who demonstrated muzzle-loaders, constructed a tee-pee and explained the art of living in such a dwelling. The two men also provided the students with an idea of Indian rituals, and presented a lecture on frontier and Indian attire and items used by Indians, including the medicine bag. The men came dressed in the frontier garb.

Following the presentation the students cleaned the area, packed and returned to the twentieth century and their modern, comfortable homes. Once again they could enjoy a hot shower, a soft bed, TV and radio, dishwashers, electric and gas stoves, packaged groceries and a long night's sleep.

The experience taught the students the value of budgeting time said Ms. McLaughlin, and working on a strict schedule. They were taught to think ahead. The group was not reminded of meals—they had to think about that problem in advance, and do something about it. Throughout this hectic, rigid schedule the 50 students had lessons to complete, and observations to report.

Said Mr. Lovelace, "If the general public could've seen students who worked together and worked hard — worked and didn't complain — they would see the values of education here in Garrett County, and they would know that education is not dead. It's about time to hear about the good kids"—and the remarkable feats they're accomplishing through determination and the will to learn. "They were a family," he added.

Although many items were donated for the experience, the remarkable aspect of the week is that everything was paid for by the students, who each contributed one dollar! Parents, teachers and other members of the community volunteered their time to assist in this valuable lesson of another time. Mr. Lovelace stated that 21 people were involved, outside the school, in this educational experience.

Retirement Party Set

After 33 years with the Maryland Park Service, Charlie Thomas will retire from his position as Park Manager of Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Parks. In honor of this occasion, a retirement party will be held on Friday, June 20 at Will 'O the Wisp, according to Deborah Chesonis, park ranger and publicity coordinator. All those interested in attending should contact Herrington Manor State Park at 334-9180 for further information.

Bids Accepted

The Mayor and Town Council of Friendsville is now accepting sealed bids from persons interested in purchasing the Model 110 John Deere lawn mower now being used by the town.

The Council is also accepting sealed bids for painting the trim on the municipal building. All bids should be mailed to P. O. Box 6, Friendsville, MD 21531.

Hall Elected President Of Area One, BSA

Ivan A. Hall of Cumberland, has been elected president of Area One of the Southeast Region, Boy Scouts of America, according to an announcement by Regional President Lawrence R. Bowers of North Carolina.

The election was held May 22 at a regional meeting in New Orleans, La.

Hall, director of development for The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, is a long-time Scout leader. Most recently he served as vice president for administration for Area One, which includes 12 Scout councils in Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, the District of Columbia, and a part of West Virginia.

In his new responsibilities, Hall will give direction to the volunteer Scouters of Area One to assure the ongoing quality program for more than 140,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the multi-state area.

Hall, in addition to his activities with the Boy Scouts of America, is an active member of the United Methodist Church, a charter member of the LaVale Lions Club, a Thirty-third Degree Scottish Rite Mason, Past Potentate of the Ali Ghan Shrine Temple, and a member of both the Royal Order of Scotland and the Cumberland Chapter Order of Eastern Star.

In recognition of his past distinguished service to youth and his community, Hall has been awarded the Silver Beaver by the Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, and the Silver Antelope Award by the Scouts' Southeast Region.

"Waffle Rock" Found Near Bloomington, Donated To National Geological Survey

THE "WAFFLE ROCK," so named by natives of Shaw, W. Va., because of its similarity to an oversized breakfast waffle, is found in only a few places, one of which is the Bloomington Lake site. The rock is believed to be about 300 million years old, and it apparently began forming 250 million years ago when stress cracked the rock in these geometric forms. The grids, or raised portions, were formed when iron oxide entered the cracks and bonded them together, resulting in a more resistant substance, while the inside portions have eroded over the years. See story.

A CLEAN-CUT, NEW METHOD of splitting rock was utilized by S. J. Groves Construction Company, Inc., to detach the "Waffle" portion of the sandstone boulder found at the Bloomington Lake site. Bristar, a powder substance mixed with water, was poured into drilled holes, pictured at the top of the rock. The substance solidified and expanded, making a clean break in the boulder, and the 20-ton "Waffle" portion was then removed with a 50-ton crane.

LOADED AND READY TO GO, the "Waffle Rock" is on its way to Reston, Virginia, to be displayed at the entranceway to the National Headquarters of the United States Geological Survey. Gary Hinebaugh, Deer Park, transported the boulder to Virginia after it was donated to the Survey by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

by Kathy Railey

The "Waffle Rock," a very extraordinary 20-ton piece of sandstone, was taken to Reston, Va. on Friday, May 23, after it was removed from the Bloomington area. The rock was donated to the National Headquarters of the United States Geological Survey by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, owners of the property on which it was found.

The original "Waffle Rock" (there are three in the area) is located along Route 46 near Elk Garden, W. Va., and was named by natives of the Shaw, W. Va. area because of its similarity to an oversized breakfast waffle. According to Russ Newman, Assistant Area Engineer, Army Corps of Engineers, "The surface pattern of the rock is considered an oddity, and there are just a few other places where similar rocks are found."

There have been numerous theories and speculation as to its origin, ranging from a pictograph made by prehistoric man, an Indian carving, the impression of the skin pattern of a giant lizard, or evidence of a visit to earth by an early traveler from outer space. After examination of the rock, Corps of Engineer geologists and those of other agencies have concluded that it is a natural geological formation.

The unusual surface structure is said to have begun forming nearly 300 million years ago, according to Dr. Jack B. Epstein of the Geological Survey, U. S. Department of the Interior. About 250 million years ago it is surmised that the sandstone was stressed, or folded, during a period of "mountain building." The reaction to the stress upon the rock caused it to crack in a regular geometric pattern.

Apparently after the rock was cracked, iron oxide was passed from the surrounding rock by percolating water and was deposited into the cracks, cementing them together. This resulted in a dark red sandstone which is more resistant to erosion and weathering than the surrounding rock and now stands as the grids of the waffle. The rock must then be exposed to weathering for softer sandstone inside the grids to wear down.

The three waffle rocks are located at the Bloomington Dam site, and are found in a line several yards apart down a hillside. It is surmised that the three large rocks, and smaller rocks found by the Corps of Engineers, have broken from a parent outcrop many decades ago, before the present trees grew.

The Corps of Engineers called in geologists to examine the original rock. A brochure was put out at that time by the U.S. Geological Survey regarding the phenomenon.

The Corps continued with its excavation and later discovered the other "Waffle Rocks." "The pattern varies," said Newman, and "some rocks are comprised of triangular grids while others are racked squares." The age of the rocks was determined from bands or zones of sandstone, he said.

S. J. Groves Construction Company, Elk Garden, W. Va., was hired by the Geological Survey to remove the rock, after it had been donated to the Survey. So as not to disturb the pattern of the waffle, the company used a non-explosive demolition agent called Bristar, a product of Onoda Cement Co., Ltd. According to Dave Cogan, Superintendent, S. J. Grove Construction Co., this process has never before been utilized in this area.

Bristar is a powder which is mixed with water and poured into drilled holes. The substance solidifies and expands in the hole, cracking the material usually in a period of 12 to 24 hours.

The rock split easily and was then removed with a 50-ton crane. It was then transported by dozer and was loaded on the truck of Gary Hinebaugh, Deer Park, who transported it to Virginia. It took three days to remove the 20-ton portion, said Cogan. This rock will be displayed at the entrance to the National Headquarters of the United States Geological Survey, Reston, Va. according to Newman.

The corps has kept the original and a second waffle rock, located at the future boat launch area of Bloomington Lake. The Corps plans to turn the rock into an attraction at this site, and it will not be immersed by the reservoir.

A smaller waffle rock will be displayed in an overlook pavilion upon completion of the Bloomington Dam. The Bloomington Lake project was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1962. Planning began at that time, when the Army Corps of Engineers, Baltimore District, was hired to purchase the land, design and construct the dam and reservoir, and maintain the area upon completion of the project.

The site is located in Garrett County and Mineral County, W. Va. Construction began in 1971, and Newman stated that, weather permitting it should be completed by the end of this year. The project is designed to provide water-quality control, reduction of flood damage, water supply, and recreation.

Legal Bureau Announces June Outreach Schedule

The Western Maryland Office of the Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., will maintain an outreach schedule for persons in Garrett, Southern Allegany, and Western Washington Counties in June, attorneys Thomas Gorak and Robert Rhudy announced recently.

Staff members of Legal Aid will be available to discuss legal problems with persons at the following locations between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.: in Westernport on June 11 at the Odd Fellows Hall on Front Street; in Oakland on June 13 at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College; in Hancock on June 20 at the Potomac Bend Medical Center on High Street; and in Grantsville on June 27 at the Health Center.

Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., is a federally-funded organization of lawyers and other professionals which provides legal assistance in civil matters to qualified persons. The Western Maryland office was opened in December, 1978, to cover the needs of low-income people in the three western counties of the state. Services are available free of charge to anyone whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The central office for the Legal Aid Bureau of Western Maryland is located at 110 Greene Street, Cumberland, 21502. The office can be reached in Cumberland at 777-7474; in addition, calls may be placed to the office from the Hancock area by dialing 739-2630, or from the Oakland area by dialing 334-8832.

Lutherans Believe

CHRISTIAN WORSHIP IS DYNAMIC

It's not a "performance" which "spectators" simply watch.

Furthermore, it's more than an "audience" listening to a "speaker" or a "lecturer."

Worship is dynamic because God comes to the individual and acts. He proclaims His Word; He forgives; He renews.

In turn, the individual repents; receives; responds.

Worship gives man the opportunity to praise God; to give himself in gratitude and humility to God. It's really a time of offering in which a man offers himself . . . his time, his voice, his mind, his money.

Lutherans believe worship is actual communion with God, in which God comes to the individual and the entire congregation.

In worship God changes human lives. As someone has observed - "When God stoops to pick up a trifle, it's a trifle no longer."

That's powerful!

The dynamic of God is at work in worship . . . and you need God and His dynamic.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

Volunteer Bill Signed Into Law

As a result of legislation signed May 27 by Governor Harry Hughes, Maryland became the first state to increase the tax deduction for volunteers who drive to support needed services, reported William M. Russell, vice chairman for Public Policy of the Maryland Volunteer Network. Governor Hughes signed into law House Bill 543, introducted by Delegate Torrey C. Brown (D-Baltimore City) and cosponsored by DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett), which raises the volunteer mileage deduction from eight cents, to equal the business deduction of 18.5 cents per mile on state returns for volunteers in health, medical, nutritional care and volunteer fire companies. The bill also extends the benefit to those taking the standard deduction as well as those itemizing their deductions.

The Maryland Volunteer Network, a statewide coalition of volunteers and voluntary organizations, testified that rising fuel costs were forcing some volunteers to reduce or eliminate their contributions, and that the recruitment of new volunteer drivers was becoming more difficult. Russell indicated "the practice of permitting a higher rate for business mileage is a long standing inequity overdue for correction."

"Volunteers throughout the state should feel they have been heard," said Network chairman Shoshana S. Cardin. "We hope Maryland will be a model for other states, and possible federal action as well." Said Russell, "It is anticipated this legislation will affect thousands of volunteers who provide vital services to the homebound, cancer victims, handicapped, and others, as well as emergency services."

The tax relief is for an initial two-year period, beginning with 1980 returns. Persons wanting more information regarding the new law should contact the Maryland Volunteer Network, P. O. Box 65, Stevenson, 21153, or call (301) 467-1600.

Church Of The Brethren Will Sponsor Musical

"It's Cool in the Furnace," a community youth musical sponsored by the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, will be presented this Sunday night, June 8, at 7 p.m. at the Oak Park Church, 110 South Church Street, Oakland.

The musical will present the story of Daniel, King Nebuchadnezzer, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and their ordeals as captives in Babylon.

Accompanists for the musical will be Nancy Frazee on piano, Tim Beitzel on percussion, Susan Dombrowsky on flute, Tom Simpson on trumpet, John McLaughlin on String Bass and Patty McLaughlin on organ. Choir members will play numerous rhythm instruments.

King Nebuchadnezzer will be played by Father Feild, and Verne Edward Leininger will play the part of Daniel. Stage scenery is being built by David Filsinger and Pat Riley. Rev. Verne Leininger will coordinate lights and sound.

Choir members include Laura Buckley, Tracy Buckley, Greg Flinn, Jeff Haines, Stacey Haines, John Leininger, Verne Leininger, Melody Nazelrod, Melissa Nazelrod, Susan Ryscavage, Brenden Updyke, David Whitehair, Elizabeth Whitehair and Tammy Wolford.

The musical is directed by Mrs. Phyllis Leininger. The public is invited to attend.

Buckel Elected To Gamma Of Maryland

Mrs. Tina L. Buckel, Bittinger, has been elected to membership of Gamma of Maryland, Phi Beta Kappa, University of Maryland, College Park. Mrs. Buckel is the wife of William D. Buckel of Grantsville.

Gamma of Maryland provides recognition to the superior academic achievements of students enrolled at the College Park campus. To qualify for election, Mrs. Buckel had to excel in courses from her major area of study (General Biology), as well as a variety of courses chosen from other areas, according to Charlotte W. Smith, secretary, Gamma of Maryland. "Her program reflected a well-rounded undergraduate education," said Ms. Smith.

Tina is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Neil R. Anderson, Upper Marlboro. She is a graduate of Frederick Douglass High School, Croom.

Mrs. Buckel will graduate from the University of Maryland this year. She is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma.

AURORA-EGLON

(delayed one week)

A Women's Fellowship Spring Rally was held May 21 at the Pleasant Hill Church of the Brethren for women of the Westmarva District. Attending from Eglon were Rev. and Mrs. Don Westmoreland, Mildred Wilt, Grace White and Rebecca Teets. The theme for the meeting was "Partakers of the Promise" and Mrs. Westmoreland was featured speaker on the subject, Prayer and Meditation.

An offering of $80.80 was taken to be held in escrow for Camp Galilee's future use. A sharing session was conducted by Janet Smith of Moorefield. Slides entitled "Things God Gives", were shown by Sue Overman of Morgantown. Layettes and separate baby garments, blankets and soap and washcloth kits were brought to be dedicated for shipment to Church World Service, lap robes and bibs for Hopemont, and kitchen supplies for Camps Hope and Galilee. The early morning coffee hour was provided by the women of the Morgantown Good Shepherd Church of the Brethren.

The place of the Fall Rally has been changed from the Shiloh Church of the Brethren at Kasson to the Woodford Memorial Church in Elkins.

Mrs. Esta Bowman of Brookside is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, receiving medical treatment.

Visiting Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lantz in Aurora were Rev. and Mrs. Joe Stout of Knottsville and members of their family, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Arnold of Bayard, and Mr. Dexter Arnold, Silver Spring.

Mrs. Evelyn Terry, her daughter, Patty Worth and son, Patrick and Bill Miller, all of Fairmont; Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bowser, Oakland, and Mrs. Olive Beckman, local, were all Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring in Aurora.

Herbert Selders, Bridgewater, Va., spent the weekend in this area visiting with friends and relatives and spent Saturday night with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Louella Fike, Aurora. He had spent the previous night as a guest of Mrs. William Bittinger at Fairview.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harsh, Stemple Ridge, were Shirley Harvey, Mrs. Donnie Smith and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Starr, Terry Starr and friend, Tim Orr, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Losberry and daughters, all of Ohio; Betty Pritt, Oakland; Linda Ayers, Uniontown, Pa.; Rev. and Mrs. Joe Stout of Knottsville; Ressie Conrad, Olive Beckman, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harsh and Gloria, all local.

An area meeting of West Virginia Extension Homemakers was held Friday in Kingwood in the Craig Civic Center. Attending from the Eglon Homemakers were Mrs. Nina Layman and Mrs. Marguerite Shaffer.

The Maple Spring Church of the Brethren will change the time of services on Sunday, June 1. Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. with church services at 10:30 a.m.

The Stemple Ridge Cemetery Association was organized several years ago to provide for the continuing upkeep of the cemetery. With rising costs the Association says donations have not kept up with the investment made in providing this service. Those who wish to contribute can do so by sending donations to the Stemple Ridge Centennial Cemetery Association, c/o Maxine Hauser, treasurer, Route 1, Box 179, Aurora, WV 26705.

The Aurora United Methodist Women will hold a bazaar and bake sale at the church on June 7 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. All proceeds from the day go to World Hunger.

Last Sunday overnight guests of Mrs. Lela Roth, Eglon, were her sons, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roth, and granddaughter, Jamie Downs, all of Morgantown.

Memorial guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser, Stemple Ridge, were Doris Denison and son Billy, and friend, Julie Peake, and Maria Close, all of Miami, Fla. Charles and Bonnie Douglas, Palo Alta, Calif., visited the Hausers last week. Other recent visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Close, McHenry, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Close and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Close, Du Bois, Pa. On Monday evening, the Hauser family gathered for a picnic at the home of the Wade Hausers.

Calling Tuesday morning on Mr. and Mrs. Claude Winters were Mr. and Mrs. Denver Martin of Straughn, Ind., who had been visiting in the Mt. Lake area with his step-mother, Mrs. Pearl Martin, and his brothers and sisters.

David Hauser and friend from Temperance, Mich., were camping in this area during the Memorial Day weekend and stopped for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mankins, in Aurora. His parents are Ron and Sandy Hauser of Temperance. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keener, Gladys and Gwendolyn Haas, all of Fairmont, visited with the Mankins.

Monday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harsh at Eglon were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harsh, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harsh, their son and his wife and their three-week-old baby daughter, all of Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson have moved into the former Guy Harvey home near Eglon. Mrs. Johnson is the former Elizabeth Cummings of Stemple Ridge.

There will be an open house celebration to honor Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth of Morgantown on their 40th wedding anniversary, June 14, from 2 until 4 p.m. at the Good Shepherd Church of the Brethren in Morgantown. Their children, who are planning the event, invite all friends and relatives to attend. Both Mr. and Mrs. Roth are former Eglon residents.

On June 15, from 2 until 4 p.m., there will be an open house at the home of Warren and Wanda Rinehart, near Amboy, to honor Mrs. Rinehart's father and mother, Steward and Hassaleah Snyder, on their 35th wedding anniversary. All friends and relatives are invited to attend and it is requested that gifts be omitted. Cards are welcome.

The annual Family Crusade (Vacation Bible School) will be held June 16 through 20 from 7:00 until 9:00 p.m. each evening at the Maple Grove Assembly of God Church near Horse Shoe Run. There will be classes for every age level, children through adults. Everyone is invited to attend.

Church News

The 200th anniversary of the Sunday School Movement will be observed at St. John's United Church of Christ, Grantsville, with a special worship service on Sunday, June 8, at 10:30 a.m.

The liturgy and the message by Pastor Douglas Garland will focus on the anniversary. The public is invited to share in the service.

St. John's is joining other churches in the United States and other nations in remembering and celebrating the anniversary.

St. John's United Church of Christ, Grantsville, held Confirmation on Pentecost Sunday, May 25. Six young people were confirmed and received into membership of the church. They were: Mark Beachy, Darlene Broadwater, Jeff Gillum, Jeff Sheffield, Kristina Speicher and Scott Watkins. Their confirmation followed nearly two years of preparation in a class taught by Pastor Douglas Garland, assisted by Wanda Sheffield. The order of confirmation was conducted by Pastor Garland in a service that included special music by the church choir directed by Rae Ann Frazee.

Following the service there was a congregational meal provided by the women of the church. Marge Menges was in charge of the arrangements. The congregation also celebrated the birthday of member Forrest Beachy.

Rotary News

The Grantsville Rotary Club's weekly meeting was held on Wednesday, May 28, at the Hilltop Inn. Don Newman arranged for the program. Paul Holsopple, a Springs, Pa., resident described his year of living and working in Israel. He showed slides highlighting the country and its people.

Lynn Newman was a visitor. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, June 4, at the Hilltop Inn.

Homemakers Meet

The Casselman Valley Homemakers met Tuesday, May 6, at the home of Rawnie Gillum. President Karen Bicker opened the meeting. The scripture was read by Mary Hentchel.

The thought of the month was, "Good humor is one of the best articles of dress I can wear in society", which was read by Erlena Tressler.

A demonstration on Line, Design and Personal Appearance was presented by Rawnie Gillum. A business meeting was held followed by refreshments.

Members present were Karen Bicker, Stella Edwards, Rawnie Gillum, Mary Hentchel, Nancy Jones, and Erlena Tressler.

Grain Reserve Deadline Extended

The deadline to place corn in the farmer-owned grain reserve for corn farmers who did not participate in the 1979 feed grain program has been extended from May 15 to June 13, 1980, according to Paul A. Crowl, chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Crowl noted that, since the April 15 announcement authorizing previously ineligible corn producers to enter approximately 295 million bushels of corn in the reserve, 40.1 million bushels of this corn have been placed in the reserve.

"These producers were authorized to place their corn in the reserve to strengthen grain prices by isolating additional corn stocks from the market," Crowl said.

Program non-participants receive the same $2.10 per bushel loan rate for corn as do farmers who participated in the 1979 feed grain program, but do not receive the waiver of first-year interest charges nor are they eligible for the regular 9-month price support loans.

Crowl said farmers who participated in the last years feed grain program and currently have corn under grain program and currently have corn under a regular price support loan will continue to be eligible to place their grain into the reserve, regardless of how many bushels are put in the reserve by previously ineligible producers.

Ms. Fratz Among Shepherd Grads

Kendra S. Fratz, was among 353 students receiving degrees during the 107th Commencement at Shepherd College on May 17.

Miss Fratz was also named to the Dean's List at Shepherd College for the spring semester. In order to be named to the Dean's List, a student must maintain a 3.2 grade point average for the semester and carry at least 15 hours of course work or be in a professional teaching block.

Miss Fratz, who graduated magna cum laude, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education. The daughter of Gary E. Fratz, Accident, she is a 1977 graduate of Northern High School.

Bad Check Charges Head Court Docket

Charges of issuing worthless checks again head the list of complaints heard by Judge Lewis R. Jones, Garrett County District Court, during the May 26 hearings.

Joseph Lynn Hutzel, 21, Accident, was found guilty of issuing worthless checks to Fred Myers, owner of the Friendsville Amoco, in the amount of $14.65 and $39.00 to obtain goods and services.

Hutzel was also charged by Brenneman's Store, Bittinger, with issuing two worthless checks in the amount of $13.23 and $12.00 to obtain gasoline.

In addition, Hutzel was charged by the Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop, Accident, with issuing three worthless checks in amounts of $21.00, $27.25, and $30.25 to obtain fuel.

Judge Jones found Hutzel guilty on all charges, and ordered a pre-sentence investigation in all three cases.

In a separate incident involving a worthless check, Barbara Guthrie, 39, Oakland, was charged by Discount Foods, Oakland, with issuing a worthless check in the amount of $40 against an account which had been closed.

Ms. Guthrie pled guilty to the charge, and the court ordered probation before judgment.

In other court business, an Oakland man was found guilty on a charge of destruction of property filed against him by Patrick Wolfe, Kingwood, W. Va.

According to the complainant, the windshield on his 1977 Ford pickup truck was destroyed by Andrew Charles Snyder, 22, Oakland.

The complainant stated that rocks were thrown at the windshield for no apparent reason, destroying the glass and windshield wiper assembly.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty, and sentenced him to a two year prison term, which was suspended. Snyder has submitted to treatment and counseling at the Finan Center, Cumberland, and has been placed on 36 months supervised probation.

Moon Rocks Seen By 75 Students

Approximately 75 Northern Garrett County School children, and their parents, viewed samples of moon rocks last week, which were brought to earth by the Apollo II astronauts. Also presented was a slide show, "Samples from the Moon," and a movie, "Discovering the Moon's Secrets."

These instructional materials, along with crossword puzzles, activity sheets and books, were made available on a one-week loan from the Johnson Space Flight Center in Houston, Texas. Security was supplied by the Maryland State Police Department of Criminal Investigation and Crime Prevention. Carolyn Dooley, a teacher at Yoder School, presented lessons at Route 40, Grantsville, Yoder, Swan Meadow and Friendsville schools, accompanied by Trooper Alderton, police escort.

John Tasker, an eighth-grade student at Yoder School, initiated the event by writing to officials, enabling a total of 922 Garrett Countians to view samples of the moon.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS

Deep Creek Realty

DISAPPEARING ACT

If you decide to help your Realtor show your home, do him, you, and the prospect a favor. Don't!

When prospects look at a home, they want to feel free to look around, walk here and there, and generally poke around. If they do buy, they'll be putting a lot of money in it, and they rightly want to make sure it's the home that's really for THEM. They don't feel free to really check the place if the owner is trailing along when the Realtor is showing them around.

This home may be the prospect's future "castle" - they'll want to inspect it carefully. They may walk around turning lights on and off to see if the lighting is adequate. Faucets in the kitchen and bathrooms may be tried, and such things as the oven, furnace, and water heater will be closely checked. The prospect would feel uneasy doing all these things under the watchful eyes of the owner!

So, if your Realtor calls up and says he has a prospect in tow, make plans to go to a show, do some shopping, or visit a friend. Remember, it's the HOME that's being sold and the spotlight should only be on IT . . . not you!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Students Required To Report To Social Security

Forms were mailed out during the months of March and April to some 750,000 students age 18-22 who are currently receiving social security benefits, according to Richard H. Fussell, district manager in Cumberland. The students must verify their school enrollment and indicate whether they plan to return to school in the fall, he emphasized.

Students must complete the top part of the "Report of Student Beneficiary at the End of The School Year" and give it to their school register. The registrar will certify the student's enrollment and mail the form to the Social Security Administration. Additional copies of the form are available at any social security office.

Failure to return the form may result in a cutoff of social security benefits, Mr. Fussell added, and a investigation made to determine if all past payments were correct.

Under social security, children receiving benefits as the dependents of a retired or disabled parent, or as the survivors of a deceased worker, may do so until age 22 if they remain unmarried and in school full time. Otherwise the benefits stop at age 18.

Since 1979, student beneficiaries have been required to complete the school enrollment verification form at the end of the year as well as at the beginning. The twice-a-year verification is an effort to tighten eligibility standards and reduce the number of incorrect payments under the social security student beneficiary program, Fussell said.

Mr. Fussell stated that students can receive their social security checks through the summer months if they indicate they plan to return to school full time in the fall. Those who are not sure should have their checks stopped to avoid the overpayment that could result for the months they did not attend school full time.

If a student later decides to return to school in the fall, back payments will be made for the months the checks were stopped.

A student who plans to work during the summer and expects his yearly earnings for 1980 (January through December) to be more than $3720 should report this to the social security office. Some benefits will be withheld if a student earns more than $3720.

Persons who have any questions about social security should call 724-0970 or visit the Cumberland office located at 316 Paca Street.

Early Periodic Health Screening Plan Is Promoted

The Legal Aid Bureau, Inc. is distributing information to groups of affected persons in Western Maryland about their eligibility for the Early Periodic Screening Diagnosis and Treatment program (EPSDT). Attorneys Thomas Gorak and Robert Rhudy announced today.

EPSDT is a preventive health screening program for medicaid-eligible children up to the age of twenty-one. The children in all families now receiving a Maryland Medical Card (under the Maryland Medical Assistance Program) or who are eligible for Assistance to Families with Dependent Children are eligible for these free medical services.

These services include physical examinations, dental exams, vision, hearing, and speech screening, sickle cell and turbeculosis testing, immunizations, and such other appropriate treatment as is found to be needed.

Many health problems can be prevented or corrected by early health care. EPSDT was created to help families with children needing some assistance to detect and treat their medical conditions early.

There were major changes enacted October 1, 1979 to the federal regulations over the EPSDT program. The Legal Aid Bureau encourages persons who have questions concerning their previous treatment under this program to contact their office in Cumberland at 777-7474, or through the Garrett County Extension of 334-8832, or in Washington County at 739-2630.

Parents of eligible children can apply for the EPSDT services through their county Department of Social Services or their county Health Department. Services are provided under contract with local physicians and other health professionals. Gorak and Rhudy also stated that anyone could contact their office if they were dissatisfied by any action from the county agencies concerning eligibility or service.

Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., is a federally-funded organization of lawyers and other professionals which provides legal assistance in Civil matter to qualified persons. The Western Maryland office was opened in December, 1978, to cover the needs of low-income people in the three western counties of the state. Services are available free of charge to anyone whose income and property holding are below certain federally-mandated levels.

Interested persons seeking further information should contact Robert Rhudy or Thomas Gorak, Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., 110 Green Street, Cumberland, Maryland, 21502; 777-7474, 334-8832, 739-2630.

Mrs. Hattie Keiper and her daughter, Mrs. Mae Ford, of the Washington, D.C., area, visited for a few days last week with Mrs. Emma Gnegy in Eglon. Mrs. Grace White of Gortner also visited with Mrs. Gnegy.

Mrs. Estella Shaffer and son, Harold, of Red Rock, visited one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring of Aurora. Mrs. Shaffer reports that she received nearly 150 cards for her 95th birthday.

Mrs. Esta Bowman has returned from Garrett County Memorial Hospital to her home near Brookside.

Mrs. Pauline Wilhelm of Aurora underwent surgery last week in Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, and returned Friday to her home.

Robert Strawser of Amboy was a patient last week in Monongalia General Hospital as the result of a heart condition. He has now returned to his home.

Mrs. William Strawser (Marjorie) fell last week and broke her elbow. She is now in traction in Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, where she will remain for several weeks.

Ruth Hoover has returned to her home on Mt. Top where she remains a bed patient. She had been a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital until last Thursday as the result of a broken hip.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burkhalter of Trenton, N.J., were visitors last week in the Aurora community with the Alfred Wotrings, Mrs. Josephine Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Keppel and children of Shepherdstown were weekend visitors of Mrs. Keppel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hanrel Teets, and grandmother, Gladys Teets, of Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holden have arrived from Largo, Fla., to spend the summer in their Davis, W. Va., home. They are presently visiting with Mrs. Holden's sister, Mrs. Mildred Wilt, Eglon.

Visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Don Westmoreland and Jay, Eglon, are Mrs. Westmoreland's mother, Mrs. Mary Hostetler, and her nephew, Burton Hostetler, both of Iowa. Also, their son, Terry Westmoreland, has returned from Bridgewater College where he has been a student.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harsh and family of Bridgewater, Va., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harsh at Brookside. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Flory, Linda and Gary, of Fairborn, Ohio, wer weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Artenis Harsh, Eglon. On Sunday, they all gathered at the Robert Harsh home for a family dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tasker, formerly of Connecticut, are now occupying the old A. R. McCrum and Ira Hendesty home in Aurora. Mrs. Tasker is the former Brenda McCrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCrum, Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Allen, Solon, Ohio, were Tuesday to Saturday guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. Martha Crowe, Aurora. Mrs. Crowe will be visiting this week in Reedsville with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Glenn Crowe, and children. Glenn is a surgical patient in a Morgantown hospital at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lipscomb have pruchased the former Al Fike property in Eglon and will be moving there this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Fike returned last week to their home in Easton, Md., after spending a month here with his cousin, Mrs. Elva Bland, Eglon.

Angela Myers of Aurora and her friend, Reba Long of Sunnyside, left Friday from Pittsburgh for Palm Springs, Calif., where they will visit with a friend of Angela's, also a Mrs. Kim Wolfe, formerly of Moundsville.

Record Number Of State Refund Checks Mailed

"The experts in the Maryland Income Tax Division logged more extra hours assisting taxpayers during the recent tax filing period than ever before, and they're still busy sending out a record number of refund checks," Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said today.

As of May 26, 1980, refund checks sent to Maryland income taxpayers who filed a 1979 State return this year totaled $554,223,494. This total showed a 12% jump over the amount mailed to State taxpayers during the same period last year—$495,713,095.

In addition, the average refund check amounted to $189.25—slightly higher than the average refund received by State taxpayers after they filed their 1978 State returns.

So far this year, 1,345,301 refunds have been mailed to eligible State taxpayers, indicating an increase of over 10% compared to the number of refunds sent out last year for the same period—1,217,775.

In addition to the increased number and amount of refund checks, more Maryland income taxpayers took advantage of the taxpayer assistance provided by the regional offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division.

During the filing period which ended on April 15, 1980, State tax personnel answered 193,958 telephone inquiries, prepared 33,543 State tax returns, and aided 42,933 Maryland income taxpayers who personally sought State assistance on their Maryland returns.

"We received far more phone calls this year than last year," Mr. Goldstein stated. "It seems that more State taxpayers let their fingers do the walking than ever before."

Mr. Goldstein noted that State tax experts worked 2,589 extra hours to offer assistance on four Saturdays, five holidays and three evenings for the convenience of Maryland income taxpayers seeking help on their 1979 State income tax returns.

Heginbotham Wins Speak-off Award At State Meeting

Donna Heginbotham, Mt. Lake Park, took first place in the state speak-off in the Individual Development program (IDP) competition at the 50th annual convention of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. held Thursday-Sunday, May 22-25 at Ocean City.

Mrs. Heginbotham, manager of the Oak-Land Motel, represented the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club after winning the local club's speak-off held in March. On the local level, five women participated in Course I of the program which was coordinated by Dr. Jean Shaw and chaired by Mildred V. Wacik.

The IDP is a two-course plan that offers Business and Professional Women leadership training while helping participants develop their ability to speak in public.

The opening of Bausch and Lomb in Oakland brought Mrs. Heginbotham and her family to Oakland from Rochester, NY in January 1970. Mrs. Heginbotham was employed by Bausch and Lomb for five years at which time she aided in setting up the final inspection department and later trained the women who were to work in that department. She also worked as an auditor for quality control before leaving Bausch and Lomb.

Mrs. Heginbotham, her husband, and two sons reside in Mt. Lake Park. Her husband, Bob, is employed by Bausch and Lomb, her son, Bruce, is serving with the Air Force in England, and her son, Scott, with the Navy in the Great Lakes.

Before coming to Garrett County, Mrs. Heginbotham lived in Rochester, NY for 15 years and held positions as a doctor's assistant to an internist, and a secretary to the director of nurses of a large nursing home facility.

A member of the Garrett County BPW, Mrs. Heginbotham served on the Foundation Committee this year and was elected as the corresponding secretary for 1980-81. She joined the club in 1979.

Mrs. Heginbotham is a member of the Loch Lynn United Brethren Church and is a past member of the Order of Eastern Star, Chapter 57, Rochester, NY.

Oakland Merchants To Meet Tuesday

The Oakland Merchants Association will hold its regular monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday, June 10, in Proudfoot's Allegheny Room at 1:00 p.m.

Ferdinand Johns from the University of Maryland, Department of Architecture, will present the architecture study done on downtown Oakland. Dave Berry from the Institute of Small Business also plans to attend this meeting.

Also to be presented is a list of parking recommendations made by the Downtown Development Commission.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

Salem Children's Village Planning New Additions

The Board of Directors of Maryland Salem Children's Trust met recently at the home of Dr. Alta Schrock Louise Sutermeister, Executive Director, announced plans to build two additional homes at the Salem Children's Village on Lower New Germany Road west of Frostburg. The new homes will provide foster care for an additional 16 children in a community of extended families.

According to Ms. Sutermeister, the Salem concept involves foster parents and grandparents, music, horseback riding, gardening, and a healthy respect for the environment. She explained that Salem is different from other group homes in that it makes a total commitment to homeless, handicapped, and abused children. In most group homes children must leave when they reach the age of 18 and the State no longer provides any support—at Salem they can stay as long as they want and can always think of Salem as 'home', she said.

The homes will be built by volunteers supervised by experienced builders who have agreed to donate their time. Funds to begin the building program come in part from a loan from the Salem in Germany and from donations. The Board of Directors hopes to involve business, church, and service groups throughout western Maryland.

Persons desiring more information about Salem or desiring to help, should call Salem at 689-4176.

Shaklee Sales Team Promoted

Ed and Gail Reed, independent distributors of Shaklee products, were recently appointed Supervisors, by the Shaklee Corporation.

The Reeds will now be responsible for the development and training of an independent sales group. Their promotion, which is based on sales performance and leadership ability, recognizes them as Shaklee sales leaders who are eligible for new benefits under the Shaklee Sales plan.

The Reeds have six children and they are presently residing on Bear Creek Road in Accident. They are active members of the Zion Lutheran Church, and Mr. Reed is employed by American High Voltage Test Systems of Accident.

★★★★★★★★★★★

Sgt. David W. Friend of Swanton, recently participated with the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard) in the presentation of "Spirit of America" at Fort Myer, Va.

An annual event in the nation's capital, the pageant traces the history of America through the heritage of the Army.

The show features pageantry, military skills and precision drills by members of the elite 3rd U. S. Infantry, with music by the Army Band and Chorus.

Friend's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harland B. Friend, live in Swanton.

The sergeant, a team leader, entered the Army in March 1977.

He is a 1975 graduate of Southern Garrett High School, Oakland.

His wife, Austine, is with him near Fort Myer.

Evangelist Will Conduct Revival

Evangelist Michael Davis will conduct a revival at the Church of God of Prophecy, Deer Park, June 8 through 14, at 7 p.m. each evening.

Michael Davis is a full-time evangelist working out of World Headquarters of the Church of God of Prophecy, Bible Place, Cleveland, Tennessee, and has traveled throughout the United States. His wife Malinda will present nightly musical entertainment.

Pastor John R. Jones invites the public to attend.

Crop Damage Covered By Farm Program

Farmers who accurately report crop acreages and sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payments, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection.

The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA," he explained.

Wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent.

"Maryland farmers should notify their County ASCS Office if they expect low yields on their wheat or barley crops due to severe weather conditions," Crowl said.

Farmers will also be eligible for disaster payments when they are prevented from planting a program crops for harvest because of a natural disaster. However, planting of other later non-conserving crops must also have been prevented due to a disaster.

The ASCS official said farmers should notify the county office before harvesting or destroying acreages, or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes. Accurate acreage and production reports must be maintained to assure full program benefits.

The program offers crop protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer.

Further details on payment provisions may be obtained from the local ASCS Office.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all the wonderful people who came to see me and for their prayers and cards, to the staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and to Dr. Stoltzfus, all of whom took such wonderful care of me during my recent illness. Thank you all so much and may God bless you all.

David W. Enlow, Sr.

—Adv. 14-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my husband, Perry Uphold, who passed away June 4, 1975. Five years ago today, God knew your pain and took you away, our home is not the same. Many a heart ache, a silent tear for the one we loved so dear.

Sadly missed by wife Evelyn and son Steven

—Adv. 14-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

Memory of Jerri Jo Frazee: "Our Little Girl". Since you left us it hasn't been the same. But thinking of you, eases some of the pain. You had a way to make us smile, even though it was just for a while. No matter how much we wish you were still here, we know you're safe with God and without any tears.

Sadly missed by Dad and Mom, and sisters and brother

—Adv. 14-1t.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Vernon C. Friend, would like to extend our appreciation to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for the flowers, cards, food, prayers and kindness shown us in our time of great sorrow. We especially want to thank Rev. Robert Fletcher, the church quartet, Getty and Wilma Keefer for the songs, and the Durst Funeral Home; also, Dr. Mance and the hospital staff for being so kind to our "Pop".

The children and grandchildren

—Adv. 14-1t.

THANK YOU

The family of the late Paul Bowers wishes to express sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during the death of our beloved husband and father. Special thanks to Dr. Mance, the staff of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Stewart Funeral Home, Rev. Lloyd Garlitz, and pallbearers. Also, to those who sent food, flowers, cards, money or who assisted in any way. Your kindness and sympathy will always be remembered.

Wife and family

Public Hearing

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission will conduct a public hearing on Thursday, June 19, 1980, at 7:00 p.m. at the Loch Lynn School, Loch Lynn Heights, Maryland, to explain and take testimony on changing the boundaries of Sanitary District No. 1 to include one sewer sanitary district and two water sanitary districts in and around the Towns of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights as specified in the followng resolution:

Upon motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously carried at its regular business meeting on May 21, 1980, the Garrett County Sanitary Commission resolved: To change the boundaries of Sanitary District No. 1 to include one sewer sanitary district which is the present Mountain Lake-Loch Lynn Sewer Sanitary District; and two water sanitary districts which shall be called: The Mountain Lake Water Sanitary District and The Loch Lynn Water Sanitary District. The boundaries of the sewer sanitary district are as defined on a plat recorded on December 5, 1979, in Plan Drawer I, File 52, in the land records of Garrett County and as further defined by a description recorded in liber 399, folio 92, of the said land records. The Mountain Lake Water Sanitary District shall include the Area of the Town of Mountain Lake Park less certain areas in the vicinities of Broadford Road, Mary Drive, and Broadford Run and less all of the Broadford Recreation Area and plus certain areas west of the Pensinger Development, this district being more definitely described by the attached boundary description as shown on the requisite plat. The Loch Lynn Water Sanitary District shall include the Area of the Town of Loch Lynn Heights as shown on the requisite plat.

The above referenced plats and description of the proposed Water Sanitary Districts may be examined at the office of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., in Room 200, Old Courthouse, in Oakland, Maryland.

DAV No. 29 Conducts Memorial Services

Members of Mountaintop Chapter #29, Disabled American Veterans, and Auxiliary members conducted Memorial Services May 25 in the Pope Cemetery, Gorman.

William Corbin, commander, read the service and the Rev. John Grant offered prayer. Flags were placed on veterans' graves.

Richard Butts, Gerald Sanders and Arlie Breedlove served as the rifle team. Pictured above holding the flags are, left to right, Gladys Beitzel, Brenda Butts and Sandra Corbin.

Oakland Civic Club Installs Officers

The Civic Club of Oakland met at Will 'O the Wisp for lunch on May 27. Mabel Hauser presided at the meeting.

New officers for the next two years were installed by Dr. Jean Shaw. Those installed were Helen Carstens, president; Aloise O'Neill, first vice-president; and Dawn Scheffel, second vice-president.

It was announced that nine members from the club attended the Western District meeting in Cumberland last month.

Helen Baumgartner, program chairperson for the month, introduced Robert S. Trantham, Dean of Garrett Community College and Jean Crawford, chairperson of the GCC Humanities Division. Selections read by the two speakers were "The Diaries of Adam and Eve" by Mark Twain and "The Ten Worst Things About a Man," by Jean Kerr.

Guests present at the meeting were Estille Griffith, Janet Strasser and Dorothy Frame.

DAV Service Unit To Visit Oakland June 16

Free assistance for local veterans and their families will be available when a Field Service Unit of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) visits Oakland on June 16. This is the seventh consecutive year that one of these office-equipped vans has traveled to communities throughout the state, bringing free counseling and claims service to veterans and their families.

The DAV Field Service Unit will be located at the corner of Liberty and Second Streets. These units are generally open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Fully qualified and trained DAV veterans' benefits experts will staff the traveling service facility. They can assist veterans and their families in filing claims for such federal and state benefits as disability compensation, pension, employment and job training programs, educational benefits, hospitalization and medical care, Social Security, death claims, and more.

During the first six years of the DAV's nationwide tour with its fleet of nine Field Service Units, more than 300,000 veterans and dependents took advantage of this free service. As a result of these visits, DAV National Service Officers filed 95,000 claims for disability compensation and pension benefits alone. Thousands of claims for other government benefits were also filed.

Veterans need not be members of the DAV to take advantage of this free service.

"Special emphasis is placed on Vietnam Era veterans because many of these men and women aren't using the benefits they've earned, some out of sheer distrust of the government that sent them to Southeast Asia to fight an unpopular war," said DAV National Commander Paul L. Thompson, himself a veteran of the Vietnam War.

"It's surprising how many people don't even know about benefits they're entitled to by law until they step into one of our mobile offices," said DAV Executive Director

Denvel D. Adams. Explaining the need for the program, Adams added, "Many veterans, dependents and widows live some distance from VA facilities where DAV services are available. Our Field Service Unit program carries these services right to the doorsteps of these people."

DAV officials urge veterans of all wars—particularly disabled veterans—to take advantage of this free service by visiting the DAV mobile office to discuss any problems or questions they may have concerning veterans' benefits.

Local DAV and DAV Auxiliary members are cooperating with the DAV's National Headquarters to bring this service program to the area.

George Comp Retires As Civil Defense Director

George Comp, Garrett County Civil Defense Director, recently announced his resignation effective July 1, 1980.

Comp, who has been Civil Defense Director since the summer of 1964, has seen the program develop from a part-time operation which emphasized preparedness for nuclear attack to a full-time operation involving preparedness for both nuclear attack and man-made or natural disasters.

During the years he served as director, Comp has been involved in the establishment of the Central Alarm communications center. He has helped to develop a community disaster plan which outlines what people in the county should do in case of nuclear attack and to develop shelter areas to house people during such attacks.

Comp has also developed plans for natural disasters such as the tornado which recently hit the county. He has been involved in coordinating volunteer and county services during snowstorms, tornadoes and large-scale strikes which threaten the county. When the towns of Friendsville and Grantsville experienced a water shortage, several years ago, Comp helped to supply water to the towns.

Comp has also overseen the shelter and radiological monitoring program in the county.

Comp says the hardest part of his job has been to sell the Civil Defense program to the public. "It is seen as a necessary evil," he said.

He commented that local support in Civil Defense programming is important. "No matter how much federal and state support the program has," he stated, "if a disaster occurs, it will happen here. We have to respond."

Comp, a native of Altamont, is the son of the late George and Martha Comp. He is a graduate of the Oakland High School.

After high school, he worked as a shop manager for Garrett Trucking and Implements Co. for nineteen years. He then operated his own farm machinery and equipment repair shop for eleven years.

Comp helped to organize the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department in 1958 and is one of the five remaining charter members. He also taught fire training for nineteen years on a volunteer basis in conjunction with the University of Maryland Extension Service.

A successor to Mr. Comp has not been named.

THEY MADE IT — Garrett County's first refugee family, the Dieu family, arrived on schedule Thursday at the Morgantown, W. Va. airport where they were greeted by members of their sponsor group. They were taken to the House of Hope, Oakland, where they stayed until Saturday and rested from their journey. Communication with the Vietnamese family has been difficult—the initial meeting was awkward even though an interpreter was present—although not impossible, thanks to English-Vietnamese dictionaries the family brought with it. The family has begun learning the English language—only the 19-year-old son spoke some English. According to those who have been tutoring them, they are learning quickly because they are "eager to learn and are working hard." See more pictures on page 12.

Board To Review FY1980 Budget

The Garrett County Board of Education will take action on proposed revisions to its FY1981 budget during its regular monthly meeting Thursday, June 12 in the Board Meeting Room in Oakland.

The Board was faced with a $467,817 cut in its request for local funds. The revisions will be presented at 4:45 p.m.

The first item on the Board's agenda at 1:40 p.m. will be the youth employability summer project followed by discussion on the preliminary RESA project in vocational education and pre-school education for four-year-olds.

At 2:45 p.m. the Board will take action on the architect's presentation of the schematics for Accident Elementary School. It will also take action on a request from the town of Grantsville, bids for a technical assistance audit, and a request from the Kitzmiller Assembly of God.

The Board will take action on criteria for extending the usefulness of buses at 4 p.m. It will then go into executive session at 4:15 p.m. for personnel and labor relations matters and will reopen the meeting to the public for action on those matters.

At 4:45 p.m. the Board will take action on proposed revisions to the FY1981 budget and on a resolution of appreciation for Board member Robert Diehl.

Court Overturns Tichnell's Sentence To Death, Leaves Convictions Intact

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Court of Appeals proclaimed Maryland's death penalty law constitutional Tuesday, but overturned the sentence that prompted the appeal because of an off-hand, in-chambers remark by the trial judge.

The unanimous decision lifted the death sentence from Richard Danny Tichnell, who last August was condemned to die for the January 1979 slaying of Garrett County Deputy Sheriff David Livengood.

The decision by the state's highest court leaves one man, Timothy Poole, on Maryland's death row. Poole was convicted in Calvert County last month of murdering a Linthicum pharmacy owner and one of his employees.

Poole and Tichnell are the only persons to be sentenced to die under Maryland's capital punishment law, which was revised and reinstated in 1978 after the Supreme Court declared the old statute unconstitutional.

The high court left intact Tichnell's convictions and prison sentences for robbing an Oakland Army-Navy Surplus Store, for use of a handgun in the commission of a crime of violence, and for stealing 10 handguns.

The court sent the case back to the Wicomico County Circuit Court for a new sentence hearing by either a different judge or a jury, depending on which is selected by Tichnell. The only thing to be decided during such a hearing will be whether Tichnell should be sentenced to life imprisonment or the death penalty.

But in overturning the death sentence for Livengood's murder, the court said Tichnell may have been inadvertently misled by trial Judge Richard N. Pollitt of the Wicomico County Circuit Court and, as a result, may have selected Pollitt

Area Man Listed "Serious" As Result Of Gunshot Wound

A Garrett County man is hospitalized due to an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound. Joseph DeWitt is listed in serious condition in the intensive care unit of Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

The incident reportedly occurred Monday evening at Fratz' Trailer Court, Accident. No other details are available at this time, as the case is still under investigation by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Second Tornado Strikes County

A second tornado struck parts of Garrett County last weekend, causing damage to timber in Maple Glade, Cranesville and Swallow Falls, and in areas near the Fingerboard-Hutton Road. The tornado hit north of Crellin, about three miles from the twister reported last week.

A tornado watch was posted Saturday for Garrett County. Garrett County Central Alarm and Civil Defense received numerous calls from concerned people inquiring what to do, according to George Comp, Jr., Civil Defense Director.

The exact time the tornado passed through the area is unknown, however officials report that it was connected with a severe storm Saturday evening, and probably hit the area sometime between 9 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Several trees on state property were uprooted and damaged. No homes were re-

Commissioners Approve $3.31 Tax Rate

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday set the second highest tax rate in Maryland when it unanimously approved a rate of $3.31 per $100 of assessed valuation to fund an $11,216,474 budget for FY1981. Baltimore City officials set the highest tax rate in the state of $5.93 on Monday.

The commissioners defended their FY1981 budget saying they believe it will alleviate the county deficit and make it financially solvent.

Although the budget does not show a category for unpaid bills—and legally can not— it does include the payment of the $460,000 balance of the $750,000 bank loans borrowed earlier this year. Among the unpaid bills still facing the county are approximately $618,000 to the Board of Education and $75,000 in fuel bills for the county roads department. The Commissioners expect to pay off these and other bills in the next two months as revenues—such as approximately $629,000 in uncollected taxes and the local share of the state income tax—come in.

Commissioner Lester Hunter stated "the problem is here now, we have to deal with it."

Commissioner Ernie Gregg emphasized that though the commissioners were "not proud" of the budget, they believed it would get them "out of debt, once and for all."

The Commissioners are hoping that by pulling the county out of debt this year, next year they will not have to raise the tax rate and may even be able to lower it.

In an effort to save the county some money, the commissioners closed the county roads department last week for a one month period, furloughing some 150 employees including roads workers and administrative staff. They expect the shutdown will save the county $140,000.

At a public hearing Thursday night, the commissioners attributed this year's financial woes to a number of factors. They explained that the tax rate has been cut every year since 1977 and for a five-year period before 1977 it remained the same. They pointed to the deficit they inherited at the beginning of FY1980 which was compounded by the cut in the tax rate from $2.66 to $2.37, inflation, and shortfalls in expected revenues as the major reasons for this year's financial trouble.

The approved $3.31 rate is 97 cents above the constant yield tax rate of $2.34 and 40 percent higher than the FY1980 rate of $2.37.

During the public hearing the commissioners explained that 37 percent of the budget was allocated to the Board of Education, $4,158,333; 29 percent to county roads at $3,342,000; and four percent each to the county commissioners' office and to repay the bank loan. About two percent is earmarked for general services, solid waste and health, while less than one percent each is budgeted for 35 remaining categories.

Capital expenditures for FY1981 were not included in the budget. The commissioners stated revenue sharing funds would be used to finance those, the only exception is the county roads department which will use its $547,338 revenue sharing allotment for operating expenses.

In defense of the commissioners' budget, Commissioner Gregg stated, "It all boils down to the question of whether the people want county government." He explained

Officials Survey Tornado Damage, Determine Needs Of Victims

During the past week Garrett County Civil Defense, Maryland State Police, Agricultural Service employees, Community Action, CETA employees and various churches have been working to survey the damage caused by last week's tornado, and to determine the needs of families who suffered under its tremendous force.

Maryland State Police and Civil Defense estimate the total damage throughout the county to be approximately one million dollars, in homes, buildings, equipment, automobiles, farm animals, timber and property damage.

George Comp, Jr., Civil Defense Director, stated that, after further information was collected, it was determined that only one tornado passed through the county last Tuesday. It was sighted in Crellin, Underwood and Pleasant Valley areas.

Extensive damage was caused on either side of the funnel, apparently by off-shoot air currents, according to Comp. The twister was 300 to 400 feet wide and cut a path eight miles long, traveling east through the county, entering westerly into the Crellin area, and exiting over Backbone Mountain where the storm was broken.

More than $350,000 damage was done to homes and buildings. The survey determined that 22 homes were hit, four of which were destroyed. Eight families of the 22 were not insured for the disaster.

Comp stated that Garrett County could not qualify as a disaster area by state and federal authorities, as a minimum of 25 families must be in need of aid. Garrett County, which suffered extensive monetary loss, was three families short of complying with federal assistance requirements.

Agricultural damage consisted of 100 acres of hay, 200 acres of timber and two major damages to equipment. A barn and silo, owned by Bill Pritt, Underwood Road, was destroyed, amounting to a $40,000 loss. Four similar structures suffered major damage, and four suffered minor damage.

The Agricultural section of the survey, conducted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, indicated that 20 outbuildings were destroyed, 15 suffered major damage and 15 were damaged to a lesser degree.

A homestead suffered major damage, and 10 were classified under minor damage.

State Police reported that a cow was killed in a field, about 800 yards southeast of Lyndale Road.

The office of Senator Mathias announced yesterday that Garrett County has been designated an emergency loan area. Persons may apply to the Farmer's

Area Child Killed In Single-Vehicle Mishap Tuesday

A single vehicle accident Tuesday morning claimed the life of a six-year-old Wilson, W. Va. girl. The mishap occurred along Rt. 560, just north of Chisholm Road.

Brandy Lyn Kovach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kovach, Jr., was killed when a pickup truck, operated by her mother, Bonnie Kovach, ran off the right side of the roadway, striking the guardrail. The truck then crossed the highway, striking the left side guardrails. As a result of the second impact, the vehicle overturned, coming to rest on its top. Both passengers were thrown from the vehicle.

Garrett Central Alarm handled communication, dispatching Southern Rescue Squad and the Gorman Volunteer Fire Department to the scene. Mrs. Kovach was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she was treated for injuries and released.

In addition to her parents, Brandy is survived by two sisters, Dusty and Crystal, both at home; maternal grandfather, Austin R. Wilhelm, Morgantown, W. Va.; step-maternal grandmother, Mrs. Austin R. Wilhelm, Morgantown; paternal grandfather and step-grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kovach, Sr., Deep Creek Lake; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alma Ream, Mt. Lake Park; three great-grandmothers, Mrs. Mabel Wilhelm, Albright, W. Va.; Mrs. Thelma Kisner, Crellin; and Mrs. Elizabeth Costley, Davis, W. Va.

Friends will be received today from 7 to 9 at the John O. Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, and tomorrow from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9. Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at the funeral home with Rev. Oscar Hull officiating. Interment will follow in the Deer Park Cemetery.

TCC Anticipates DOE Decision About Coal Plant

The Tri-County Council for Western Maryland is expecting word late this month on a request for a Department of Energy grant to conduct a feasibility study for a coal gasification-liquefaction plant in Western Maryland.

The application follows a $25,000 Appalachian Regional Commission grant awarded to the council to gather basic data on the proposal.

The DOE grant, if awarded, will be used to study the feasibility of setting up a $1 billion plant that would produce millions of barrels of fuel-oil-equivalent annually.

In an Associated Press story, Stephen Kocsis, TCC executive director, said if the funding for the study is approved, design and construction of such a facility would be highly probable.

The Tri-County Council filed its application for funding under terms of the alternative fuel production law passed by Congress last November. The law offered $100 million this year for such studies.

According to a spokesman for the federal Energy Department, the Western Maryland application, one of about a thousand such requests, has not been processed yet. But, federal officials said the department expects to announce by the end of June which applications it has approved.

Kocsis estimated that even if the process moves along smoothly, the proposed coal gasification-liquefaction plant probably would not begin production until 1990.

"If we get feasibility study funding, it would take six months to complete the work. Design and engineering for the plant would take another year to a year and a half," Kocsis said.

"It would take five years to build, assuming there is no hang up, like discovering an Indian burial ground beneath the construction site," he added.

Council officials said the exact type of fuel-oil-equivalent to be produced had not yet been determined, but the facility could manufacture gas, ammonia or methanol.

Kocsis estimated that such a plant could produce eight million barrels of some type of fuel substitute annually, using about three million tons of coal.

Kocsis noted the major boost such a plant would provide locally is in the area of increased employment. He predicted such a facility could offer between 750 to 1,000 new jobs to a region where unemployment is currently hovering between 15 and 20 percent.

Larceny Heads Complaint List

Two thefts and one destruction of property were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week, with losses totaling more than $875.

Alfred Marucci, Jr., Oakland, reported a theft from his van on Saturday night, when it was parked at Das Gast Haus, Deep Creek Lake. The crime occurred sometime between 11 p.m. and 12:30 a.m., as the secured van was entered by opening the vent window, police said.

Items taken from the van were a pocketbook, a money bag and numerous tools. Total loss value is estimated at $450.

In a separate incident, Madeline Colaw, Oakland, reported a theft from her property, sometime between May 15 and 30. Unknown subjects carried away a TV antenna and rotor from her back yard.

Loss value is approximately $225.

A destruction of property occurred at Southern Car Wash sometime between 11 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Saturday. Unknown persons damaged an arm holding a hose on the rear washer, broke one pipe and bent another.

Loss value is estimated at $200.

VFW Post 10077, Deer Park, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred Sunday between 2 a.m. and 9 a.m. Unknown subjects broke a rear window, entered the building and removed six 6-packs of beer.

No loss value has been placed.

In other department business, Carroll Uphold, 35, was arrested Friday for trespassing, battery and disorderly conduct. He was released Monday on his own personal recognizance.

Not Just Words . . .

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free . . ."

These words appear at the base of the Statue of Liberty. They are not meant to be just words, but an open invitation to the peoples of the world who have been forced by oppression and tyranny to seek another home. Our great country was founded by such people. However, this open-arms attitude seems to now be clouded with smugness and selfishness.

For the past several years, numerous Vietnamese families have made their way to America to begin new lives. Most have done quite well in becoming productive members of society, in spite of the prejudices towards them.

Garrett County is now a home for one such family. There is no reason to believe that the members of this family won't become good citizens also. They have arrived however, at a rather sensitive time, a time when the general population is extremely concerned about the massive numbers of Cubans who are also arriving on American shores. Some of these Cubans are nothing but criminals and have already resumed their criminal activity here. Herein lies a sticky problem. If we are indeed the land of the free, how can we justify not allowing these persons to settle here? On the other hand, why should we accept persons who have no regard for law and order?

Perhaps the only course of action is a compromise: accept those who conform to the law and reject those who do not. If we believe in and uphold all of what America stands for, then we have a moral responsibility to do all we can for the refugees. However, we have no responsibility to assist those who come with rebellion in their minds and hate in their hearts.

The price of maintaining a truly free country is high, not just in terms of warfare. We begin to get a slight idea of how the American Indians must have felt when the Englishmen arrived on their soil. The Englishmen, the fathers of our country, did not come to live with the Indians, but to take away all that belonged to them, and they succeeded. In this respect, the Cubans who are causing the rioting and breaking our laws are really not that much different than our forefathers, who also began to kill and break the laws of the Indians. How's that for comparison?

"Give me your tired, your poor . . ." Either we should alter the wording, tear down the Statue of Liberty, or change our attitudes.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I went in to town this morning to do business at the Garrett National Bank on my lunch hour. I parked on the opposite side of the street from the bank. When I tried to put money in the meter, I found that it was broken and would not accept money. I went into the bank and conducted my business, and when I came out I had parking ticket on my car.

I immediately went to the City Hall to talk to someone about the ticket. Mr. Shillingburg was there and said "may I help you?" I said that I had gotten a ticket and that I was not going to pay it. He said "well, who are you?" I said I was a citizen and taxpayer in Oakland. He then raised his voice very loudly and said "Listen! I don't know who you think you are coming here and telling me you are not going to pay a ticket." I then saw it was no use to talk to him so I thanked him for his help and left.

After discussing this with some friends, I find that that particular meter has been broken for several months. Doesn't the Town of Oakland ever fix broken meters? Also, I think it was very rude of Mr. Shillingburg to treat me the way he did. I was not rude to him. If the Town expects to get any money from parking meters they should make a periodical check to see if they are all in working order.

Signed,
Disgusted,
Joseph M. Wolf

Dear Mr. Wolf,

Perhaps you should have told Chief Shillingburg in the beginning that the meter was not in working order. In all probability, he would not have gotten so upset.

To the Editor:

Being born and raised in Deer Park it's good to get the news from home. Why don't we have a good reporter from Deer Park? We may have one but they are doing a poor job as far as I'm concerned. Let's hear it from Deer Park. Thank you.

Dear Editor:

Wanted to share with those on the Mountaintop how faithful my God is. God is so good.

Our family has claimed His promises in His word now over two years.

Each day we claim Psalms 91 for our protection and plead the precious blood of Jesus over each of us and our home.

Tuesday evening my 11-year-old son was to stay with friends in Pleasant Valley. As he and my friends' oldest boy, Jeff (9th grade) got off the bus, they saw the twister heading in their direction.

Instead of going down the driveway to Jeff's home, they went over a fence and lay down on cement where a trailer had been.

"Now, what do we do Jeff?" my son asked. "All we can do is pray, Tony." So the two boys began to touch the throne of God. The twister went right over them and the wind sucked at their clothing.

A trailer right above them was totally demolished and large trees right behind them uprooted. A tree fell in the attic of Jeff's home. Praise God all lives there were spared.

When my husband and I saw what our son and his friend had been through, we also saw the mighty hand of God. . .a miracle they are alive today. If they had run for the house, trees would have fallen on them or the twister could have carried them.

I am not ashamed to say that our God is faithful whenever we really trust Him. Also, He's our physician who heals us whenever the enemy puts sickness on us as Job. Praise God in these last days for the faith message. There is nothing more rewarding than trusting Jesus for your spiritual, financial, physical, and mental needs. Jesus is everything!

What is a small county like Garrett doing with 850 people on the payroll? All the government agencies keep adding administrative people and raising taxes to support the parasites. When will the people of the USA take their country back from the bureaucrats?

W. F. Hurley,
Baltimore

Dear Editor:

I would like to call your attention to the fact that the total assessable base for this coming year is over $250 million, a $5 million increase over last year.

Ten years ago, the total assessable base was less than $88 million, with a total budget of less than $3 million. This year they are proposing to spend $12,132,474 including revenue sharing an increase of $2,829,830 more than last year. Now let's not blame this on inflation, for the total increase this year has exceeded the annual rate of inflation by four times.

If taxation like this can be forced upon the people it will discourage people from taking pride in homes and property, and our potential home builders will settle in West Virginia. The industry that we do have will move over in West Virginia where taxes are not half as high as they are in Garrett County.

There are many ways that the commissioners are spending money that are not needed: the way-overstaffed health department, seven people in the treasurer's office, stripes on county roads, garbage collection, school buildings on top of school buildings, two instructors over one teacher, planning and zoning, merit boards, development corporation, Garrett busing, animal control, and I could go on.

I see no reason why this county cannot operate on the constant yield tax rate this coming year of $2.34, instead of a ridiculous figure of $3.31. The county commissioners should take this budget back and take out the waste and fat so that it can be scaled down to stay within the constant yield rate of $2.34. If they don't we have no other choice but to stand together and refuse to pay our taxes until we get a rate that we can live with.

Remember, United we Stand, Divided we Fall.

John Ross Sines

Mr. Editor:

Can anyone help me to understand some things? First, the meaning of the term Human Rights? As I see it, it means the demand that foreign nations treat people in a manner Carter thinks proper. But at home it means arrest or at least harass everyone who disagrees, even to the imprisonment of citizens who gave their sons in defense of this nation, if they insist on their Constitutional Rights. Social Security seems to mean paying large sums of money to murderers like the Son of Sam while he serves out a prison term because he is incapacitated from work. Welfare seems to mean paying for food, clothing and housing for thousands of Cubans exported to this country by Castro to ferment revolution here, while we starve and freeze out our Senior Citizens who have paid in to the coffers of this nation from their tax money all their natural lives. Freedom of Religion seems to mean we're free to exercise our religion in a manner prescribed by atheistic or at least agnostic bureaucrats and we must fight constantly in the courts to maintain the right to give our God given heritage of youngsters a Christian Education.

Maybe Castro is smarter than we think. He has devised a method to improve his economy. He dumps on our shores his excess of population including prisoners and cuts down his need for food, fuel and welfare. At the same time, he helps weaken the economy of the nation which threatens his continuous Communist oppression of the people of Cuba. How long before the bleeding hearts and political ignoramuses wake up and we act at the polls? I just don't understand, can you help me?

Commissioners

that to provide the same level of services, the $3.31 tax rate was necessary.

Even though the commissioners stated they believed the rate was as high as they could go and as low as they could go, they heard arguments to the contrary at both the Thursday public hearing and the Tuesday hearing before they approved the rate.

Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of schools, requested a reinstatement of $216,785 of its $487,817 budget cut in order to grant employees a salary increase of ten percent, to hire five teachers for the gifted and talented program, and for books, supplies and equipment.

He pointed out that the commissioners had granted a five percent increase to education in the county while granting a 24.7 percent increase to general government, 27 percent increase to public safety and 20.3 percent increase to the county jail.

Representatives of the Garrett County Teachers' Association distributed handouts to the approximate 250 persons attending the Thursday hearing which claimed "The people of Garrett County do not consider their children's education very important." The statement was based on various facts including facts that funding per child is the lowest in the state and teachers' salaries are the lowest in the state.

Former state senator Clifford Friend and former county commissioner John Ross Sines were the two most outspoken against the tax increase. They attended both the Thursday public hearing and the Tuesday hearing before the commissioners approved a tax rate to argue that the county could be operated on the $2.34 constant yield tax rate.

"I feel the people of this county can't carry a tax load of this kind," said Sines. He and Friend submitted a proposal of tax cuts to the budget which would have totally eliminated the merit system, child development, commission on aging, economic opportunity, and would have decreased allocations of all other departments, except the Board of Education, back to the same level as in FY1980.

On Tuesday, William Herring, Friendsville, submitted a petition bearing over 35 names of Friendsville residents protesting the $3.31 rate. "We're not opposed to the portion of the tax that goes to education," said Herring, "I do believe there are areas that can be cut."

Also during the Tuesday hearing, Dorris "Buz" Updyke, president of the GCTA, told the commissioners the teachers would still be seeking a ten percent salary increase from the Board of Education and requested the commissioners clarify their recommendation to the Board to grant at least an eight percent increase.

Commissioner Lester Hunter told Updyke that they had merely made a recommendation. "We do not intend to exercise line item control," he stated.

Officials Survey

Home Administration for emergency loans at five percent interest. Loans may be filed for nine months from the effective date, June 6.

Tim Taylor, FHA County Supervisor, stated that the Department of Agriculture has declared Garrett County a disaster area. He stated that funds are available for physical loss, and applicants must be involved in farming and should meet various other requirements. Persons wanting to apply for aid should see Taylor on Monday morning between 8 a.m. and 12 noon, or call for an appointment.

Three churches in Crellin collected funds for the Michael Collins family, Turner Douglass Road, whose trailer was destroyed by the tornado. The United Methodist Church, Crellin Charge; The Crellin United Brethren Church and The Crellin Assembly of God donated funds to the couple, who lost a second home within a year's time. The Collins' suffered a loss last November when fire gutted their original trailer.

Michael Collins and his brother Reuben were at the trailer when the twister hit. Reuben was hurled nearly 50 feet by the storm. He is a patient at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, listed in "satisfactory" condition. Michael was treated and released at the hospital.

Rev. C. Franklin Mick, United Methodist Church, stated that a disaster fund is available through the United Methodist Church West Virginia Conference, for tornado victims in the Crellin, Pleasant Valley and Kingwood, W. Va. areas. These funds will be distributed to eligible persons, regardless of denomination, he said. A survey has been conducted to determine eligibility.

The staff of Garrett County Community Action was out Wednesday to work with Civil Defense in conducting the survey of assessed damage. Don Beitzel, Community Action, stated that the agency's emergency food program is in effect. He added that area CETA employees assisted in the general clean-up of the areas hardest hit by the twister.

Maryland State Troopers provided round-the-clock law enforcement, traffic supervision, roadblocks and general assistance from the time the tornado struck, about 4 p.m. Tuesday, until 4 p.m. Wednesday, as troopers worked 16-hour shifts to cover the area.

Officials at the McHenry Barrack complimented the citizens of Crellin for banding together and working to rebuild the area.

Two families were left homeless, the Collins family and the Timothy Smith family, Pleasant Valley Road. Mr. Smith, his wife and daughter were in their double wide trailer when the tornado took their home from around them. The family miraculuously escaped injury, but suffered damages amounting to approximately $30,000.

The home of Thomas Nair, Old Crellin Road, is "hardly liveable," said Comp. Mr. Nair was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The Charles Graham residence, located in Crellin near the Collins' property, suffered structural damage as the walls bulged under the pressure created by the tornado. The house was also struck by a tree, and was a near total loss, sources say.

A building at Silver Knob Sand Company, Route 219, simply vanished as it was lifted into the vacuum of the funnel. The residence of Sheriff John Evans, Crellin-Underwood Road, suffered severe damage in the storm. Sterling Processing also reported damage losses.

Two other persons were injured during the storm. Janet Coddington was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and Russell Sanders of Freeport was admitted, but has since been discharged.

Neighboring Preston County was the first hit by the twister, suffering approximately four million dollars in damage. The county was declared a disaster area, and the National Guard was called in for assistance.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications while Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported two persons to the hospital, and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department conducted searches and aided in general clean-up.

Numerous massive trees throughout the area were uprooted and carried long distances. Several roads were blocked and electrical lines were down, causing 600 power outages at the height of the storm.

Comp estimated the tornado to be the worst in the area since the late 1940's.

Summer Activity Schedules Noted

The recreation program for Garrett County this summer will observe the following schedule.

Center Street Playground—June 16-August 8, 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.; Southern Middle School—June 16-August 8, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.; Accident School—June 23-August 1, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.; Friendsville School—June 23-August 1, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.; Grantsville Park—June 23-August 15, 12:00 Noon-6:00 p.m.; and Northern Middle School—June 16-August 8, 11:00-5:00 p.m.

Dick Travis, Supervisor of Physical Education & Athletics, announced that the programs at Northern and Southern Middle Schools will be basically tennis activities. Northern instructor is Martin Green. Southern instructor is Fred Pratt.

The tennis tournaments are primarily for the students; however, others can register if enrollment is not filled.

The Center Street and Grantsville Centers will offer Arts and Crafts, along with various other activities.

Mr. Travis noted that the recreation programs are designed mostly for the students of that area.

Mothers Matter Group Plans Special Meeting

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Message from the Commander:

This coming Saturday, June 14, is Flag Day, a day when Americans everywhere fly Old Glory with pride. I have in the past participated in many parades as a member of the Honor Guard and am appalled at the number of people (mostly young people) who refuse to stand in respect when the stars and stripes pass by. It apparently does not occur to them that this is the same flag that flew proudly in every battle of our 200 year history in defense of our freedom. The same freedom, strange to say, that allows them to ignore the flag when it passes by. I ask Americans everywhere on June 14th, that as a sign of dedication and pride, they fly Old Glory, the flag of the greatest country on earth.

Any person owning a soiled, unusable flag is asked to bring it to the American Legion for an honorable flag burning ceremony.

In place of our feature "For the good of the Veteran," I would like to thank all those fine organizations and individuals who made the Memorial Day parade and cemetery ceremony a success: Southern High School Band, Boy Scout Troop 99, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion, Oakland Volunteer Fire Dept., Father Feild, Father Grant, and to any others I might have missed. You all were magnificent.

The Ali Ghan Shrine Circus is being held at McHenry, Saturday, July 19th. The American Legion Post 71 will have tickets to give away FREE to the first 20 boys and girls, 13 years of age or under, on Monday, July 14th, starting at 1:00 p.m., at the Post Home. Members of the American Legion will be present to be sure that the ticket give-away is orderly and fair.

Remember . . . Legion meeting Monday, June 16, 8:00 p.m. Plan to attend.

Penn Alps Slates Summerfest, Quilt Show July 10-12

Penn Alps, Grantsville, will be combining its third annual Summerfest and its Quilt Show this year on Thursday-Saturday, July 10-12, to share with area residents a sampling of the crafts produced by some 1,200 artisans of the Tri-State area.

The Summerfest craftsmen will be working in the demonstration cabins and other buildings on the Penn Alps grounds while the Quilt Show will be held at the Grantsville Fire Hall.

The Summerfest, to run from 11 a.m. - 7 p.m. all three days, will include craftsmen working with wood, clay, glass, metal, fiber, wax and oils. Among the featured craftsmen will be a number of potters, woodcarvers and sculptors and artists in oil and water colors. There will be a glass blower, a tinsmith, a blacksmith, a cooper, a seventh generation basket-maker, a candle-dipper, an apple doll maker, a toy-maker, and a wool dyer using native plants.

There will also be wool spinning and weaving on a four-harness loom, nature-printing, tole painting, quillery, chair seat weaving and caning, rug braiding and hooking, needlepoint and a variety of stitchery and sewing.

The quilt festival, organized by Jane Patterson and the Schoolhouse Quilters' Guild, will be held from 11 a.m. - 9 p.m. all three days. Quilts will be received at the fire hall on Tuesday, July 8, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and will be judged in eight categories: pieced, appliqued, embroidered, whole cloth, novelty, heirloom (antique), children's quilts and wall hangings.

Inquiries regarding the Quilt Show may be referred to Penn Alps, Grantsville, at 895-5985, or to Betty Fagan, Rt. 2, Box 539, Cumberland, at 724-4085.

Ways to Save

1. Be sure all your money is working hard for you—earning a worth while amount in a savings account. Perhaps you carry more money on your person than necessary. Maybe you have had money for a long time in a partially filled coin bank, sugar bowl, or somewhere else around the house. Take a good look at any investments that earn you little or no return

2. Hanging onto some money that you plan to spend for a car, appliance, piece of furniture, etc.? Don't keep the money around the house—let it earn for you in a savings account until it's time to pay for your purchase.

3. Save with a purpose. You can, for instance, build up a strong determination to send your children to college, or to own your own home. Determine to save a definite amount each payday for this purpose, and then let compounded earnings work for you to build savings faster.

4. Use a "Piggy" bank to help you save—and avoid "borrowing" from the savings fund you build up in it. Empty the "Piggy" frequently and add the money to your savings account.

5. When you get a raise, save it. You got along with it before and, given time, even a small weekly increase will mount up surprisingly in your savings account.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

An open house will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rinehart on Sunday, June 15, from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. to honor Mrs. Rinehart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steward Snyder, on their 35th anniversary. The family invites all friends and relatives to attend and requests that there be no gifts.

The annual Father's Day Smorgasbord will be held on Sunday, June 15, at the Aurora Fire Hall served by the Aurora VFD Auxiliary. Serving will begin at noon and continue until 4:00 p.m. Donations at the door will be $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children.

Vacation Bible School will be held at the Aurora United Methodist Church July 28 through August 1 with the theme, "Jesus, I Believe In You." For pre-registration it is asked that persons contact one of the following: Martha Bolyard, 735-3221; Connie Fint, at 735-6262; or Betty Fint, at 735-5735. This will be a morning school, 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

The annual Family Crusade (Vacation Bible School) will be held June 16-20 at the Maple Grove Assembly of God Church near Horse Shoe Run each evening from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m.

Stemple Ridge Church will hold its annual Vacation Bible School June 16 to June 20 with classes each morning from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. George Alan Lipscomb of Aurora are honoring their parents on their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house reception at the Aurora United Methodist Building on Sunday, June 15, from 2:00 until 4:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend and it is requested that gifts be omitted.

An open house celebration to honor Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Roth of Morgantown on their 40th wedding anniversary will be held Saturday, June 14, from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. in the Good Shepherd Church of the Brethren in Morgantown. Their children wish to invite all friends and relatives to attend.

There will be a three-family yard sale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser, Stemple Ridge, on June 12 and 13, from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. each day.

The District No. 5 Rebekah Lodge Convention was held at Aurora in May with the Mt. View Rebekah Lodge as hostess. The president of the Preston Pride Rebekah Lodge introduced the following Assembly officers: president, Mary Ann Thompson; vice-president, Pauline Criddle; warden, Carolyn Hathaway. She also introduced Mary Hart, past president of the Rebekah Assembly. Presiding at the meeting was the District Deputy President, Ressie Conrad.

The welcome was extended by Betty Pritt of the Mt. View Rebekah Lodge with the response by Dorothy Browning of Preston Pride Rebekah Lodge.

Topics of importance discussed were: how to increase attendance and membership, the IOOF home in Elkins, W. Va., International and Rebekah pulbications, the World Eye Bank, educational loans and support for the youth organization.

Two sisters attended from White Mountain Lodge, Newburg; eight from the Preston Pride Rebekahs in Kingwood, and 18 sisters and one brother from the Mt. View Rebekah Lodge in Aurora. White Mountain Rebekah Lodge gave the invitation for next year's convention to be held at Newburg.

The annual Memorial Services to honor members of the IOOF and Rebekah Lodges who were deceased during the past year was held Sunday evening, June 8, in the Aurora United Methodist Church. There was special music by the Federow Sisters and two readings given by the Aurora Junior Lodge. The guest speaker for the service was the Rev. Curtis Saville of Oakland.

An Alumni Banquet was held May 25 in the Aurora School with a ham dinner being served to the 250 in attendance. This event was again sponsored by the Aurora Chapter, EAP, who used the money derived to improve the Aurora School.

During the Variety Program in the afternoon, an afghan which had been sold at raffle was awarded to Thelma Adams of Aurora, and a quilt went to Angela Loughrie Bishop of Kingwood.

Entertainment was provided with guitar and song by Wanda Root (Mrs. Robert) Roth, of Morgantown. The Twirlettes, a baton group from Aurora, under the direction of Mrs. Darrell Radford and assisted by Mrs. Blanche Snyder, also gave a group performance and then solo numbers.

Others who offered solo and duet singing numbers were Nancy Hauser Feather, Norma Hauser, Frances Loughrie Roth, Bradley Shaffer and the Goff sisters, Carol Goff Forman and Trina Goff Rumer. There were also other participants in the program, which was emceed by Annette Arnett Strawser.

Prizes were awarded to Vesta Slaubaugh Stemple of Aurora, the oldest graduate present; and to Doris Hauser Denison of Miami, Fla., who had traveled the farthest.

It is hoped that by next year an Alumni Association can be formed. This association would then plan and sponsor the annual banquet and reunion.

The Aurora High School Class of 1975 held its reunion on Saturday evening, June 7, in the hall near the Mt. Grove Church, Old Trails Inn, with the ladies of the church serving the ham dinner. Attending were Allen and Annette Arnett Strawser, Mary Lewis, Claude and Brenda Harsh Hartsell and Carroll Joe, Tony and Doris Bolyard Sullivan, Dickie and Connie Calcamp Knotts, Milton and Nancy Feather, Mel Fike, Mark and Joyce Crawford and Melody, Bonnie Harsh Paugh and Joseph, Connie Harsh, Jerry Myers, all local; Tony Lewis, Oakland; Martha Wilt Poling, Parsons; Jeff and Tammy Sisler, Kingwood; Doug and Trina Rumer and guests, Kathy Sisler and Larry Roth. Another reunion of the class will be planned in five years.

The Farmers' Wildlife Club will hold its annual ham dinner on June 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the park pavilion. All members and their families are invited to bring their covered dish and attend.

The Stemple Ridge Ladies Aid met June 3 at 7:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lester Hauser using Psalm 107 as the opening. During the business session, it was decided that the sanding of the church floor would be done by the men of the church. Plans were made to serve the Lions Club dinner in July. There are 100 unmarked graves in the Stemple Ridge Cemetery and it was decided that markers for these will be made to identify at least the site of the grave.

There will be two barrels placed at the old Grover White store site to begin the collection of glass for recycling. There will be one in which to place clear glass, and another for colored. It is asked that the containers be cleaned and have caps removed.

A rummage sale is planned for August at Sue Hauser's in the old school building and the July 8 meeting will be held in her home. Bliss Harsh was recipient of the pig-in-the-poke which contained $3.19. Betty Cummings had purchased gifts for those who had been ill during the past month and was reimbursed. The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sgt. David Hardesty has just returned from a two-week tour with the 1st Army Reserve Rifle team.

Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Hardesty of Aurora. He is a member of the 646th Q.M. Co. located at Camp

THE PATH OF DESTRUCTION from a tornado which hit Garrett County last Tuesday, June 3, about 4 p.m., is indicated above by the broken line. George Comp, Civil Defense Director, determined along with other officials, that only one tornado passed through the southern section of the county, breaking up when it hit Backbone Mountain. The twister was reported to have been 300 to 400 feet wide, causing a straight path of damage eight miles in length. Winds of a tornado are estimated to reach speeds over 700 miles per hour, and off-shoot air currents caused damage on both sides of its path. Indicated on the above map are various homes and buildings severely damaged or destroyed by the storm.

Energy Tip: Prepare entire meals on the grill outside this summer to avoid using indoor appliances—an enjoyable energy—saving experience!

OUTDOOR COOKERY

Here are some tips that may help you as you light your grill to do some outdoor cooking:

*Be sure the grill is set firmly on the ground so it will not spill or tip.

*Do not put rack or grill over heat until ready to start cooking.

*A clothes sprinkler or a squirt bottle sold for catsup or mustard, makes a good water holder for squirting flames that flare up while cooking.

*Small amounts of crushed ice will cool a charcoal fire quickly.

*When cooking a combination of foods together, always add those foods that require the longest cooking time first and add others later.

*Meat should be at room temperature before it is placed on the grill.

*Wait to salt meat until you turn it. Then salt the browned side—season the other side as you remove the meat from the grill. Salting uncooked meat drives out the juices and lessens the flavor.

*The correct time to turn steaks is when droplets of red juice appear on the uncooked side. Steaks should only be turned once. Use tongs when turning meat on grill; do not pierce meat with a fork which causes juice to run out of it.

*When grilling chicken, place bony or rib-cage side of chicken down next to heat first because the bones act as an insulation to prevent the chicken from browning too fast.

Try this barbecue sauce recipe the next time you grill chicken:

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR CHICKEN

¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup brown sugar
1/8 teaspoon black pepper
½ cup catsup
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
1 bay leaf, crushed
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¼ cup finely chopped celery
1 2½ to 3 pound fryer

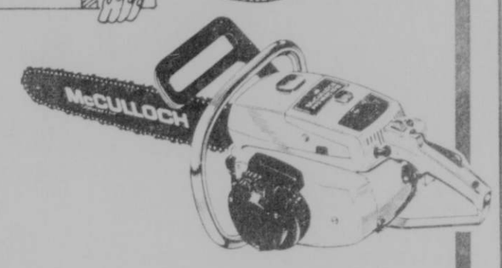

Combine all ingredients except chicken in sauce pan. Bring to boil and simmer gently for 5 to 10 minutes. Wash chicken thoroughly and cut into serving pieces; dry well and season with salt and pepper. When ready to broil, brush chicken pieces with barbecue sauce and continue to baste frequently while broiling.

National Guardsmen Train In Puerto Rico

Company C, 121st Engineering Battalion of Oakland, and its detachment in Frostburg, recently returned from a 15-day annual training camp in Santiago, Puerto Rico.

Company C is the first National Guard in the state to participate in the new exchange program being incorporated by the National Guard Bureau.

Flown via a C130 Military Transport of the Tennessee Air National Guard, Company C was attached to the 130th Engineer Battalion of the Puerto Rico National Guard.

The Tennessee Air Guard returned with Co. D, 130th Engineering Battalion, where they became attached to Maryland's 121st Engineering Battalion for their training at Aberdeen Proving Ground.

Company C, with an attached platoon from Cumberland, performed site support projects at the camp, bivouac, and combat engineering tasks. Special emphasis was placed on developing the leadership of Jr. non-commissioned officers.

Some of the men were fully integrated with the Puerto Rican National Guard by working on civilian projects off the post.

Certificates of merit and appreciation from the 130th Engineering Battalion Commander, Ltc. Diaz, were awarded to SP5 Bushrod Hardesty, SP5 George Rishell, PFC William Green, SP4 Steve Mullenax, SP4 Ken Mullenax, SP4 Mike Mullenax, SP4 James Wilt, PFC David Broadwater, and SP4 Stanley Morris.

On behalf of Co. C, Capt. Donald E. Smith, Commanding Officer, received a plaque of recognition and appreciation from Ltc. Diaz, and a trophy from Command and Control of the 130th Engineering Battalion.

Company C met all military standards to maintain its satisfactory military rating.

Commission On Aging Announces Contest Winners

The Garrett County Comission on Aging announces the winners of the annual fishing contests.

Mrs. Marilyn J. Metheny, Executive Director, explained that the COA had two contests this year because of the rising cost of transportation.

At the Herrington Manor contest, held May 28, the prizes for the largest fish were won by Willard Crowe, Finzel, and Mrs. Virginia Poling, Oakland.

For the most fish caught, Elbert Hershman and Virginia Poling, both of Oakland, were winners. Mrs. Poling and Mr. Hershman also took the prizes for catching the biggest Crappie.

James Clark, Finzel, took the prize for most fish, with Willard Crowe, Finzel, being awarded the prize for the smallest fish.

At the New Germany contest, held June 4, the biggest fish prizes were awarded to Mrs. Cora Fazenbaker, Grantsville, and Jim Betz, Oakland, who also took the prize for biggest trout.

Harold McKenzie, Finzel, won for the most fish caught, and also the smallest fish.

Prizes were donated by Helbig Jewelry, Mike's Discount, and the Sports Shop, all of Oakland; Deep Creek Lodge, McHenry; the Old Mill Grill and Clover Farm, Friendsville; and the Grantsville Ben Franklin.

"We appreciate the wonderful cooperation of the staff at both parks. Without them we could not begin to have these events for the Senior Citizens. We had about 40 people participating, the largest we have ever had," Mrs. Metheny said.

Oakland Takes First Place In Pen Mar Division

Oakland swept two games from PVAA of Cresaptown on Saturday, 5-4 and 10-6, in Pen Mar League action to take sole possession of first place in the Southern Division. Oakland is 7-1 on the season.

In the first contest, Oakland pitchers Buddy Manning, Dean Marsko and Jeff Colaw combined on a five-hitter, while striking out eight. Manning took the win.

Lawrence Nesselrodt opened Oakland's scoring with a single in the first inning. He then stole second and scored on an infield out. Dave Bender walked and scored on a passed ball. In the second inning Craig Cumberworth doubled and Greg Beachy singled him home. Cork Sweitzer reached base on an error in the third and then scored on a sacrifice fly by Cumberworth. In the fourth inning Greg Beachy singled and scored on an error.

In the second game Mike Brady pitched six and a third innings and allowed six runs on nine hits to best Byron Gray of PVAA. Jeff Rhodes got the final two outs for Oakland.

In the first inning Pete Brosnihan walked and scored on a sacrifice fly by Cvetnick. Dave Bender socked a solo home run in the third and Oakland exploded for seven runs on six hits in the fifth.

Sunday's games with Tri Towns was postponed due to rain. Oakland will face Tri Towns this Saturday and Franklin Life of Cumberland on Sunday. Both doubleheaders will be played at the Garrett Community College field in McHenry and get underway at 2 p.m.

Blackwater 100 Dirt-Bike Race Set For Sunday

Tucker County Alpine Festival officials have announced the sixth annual Blackwater 100. This annual invitational dirt-bike classic, 100-mile race, will begin in Davis, W. Va., at 1:00 p.m. this Sunday, June 15.

The Blackwater 100 is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association with District 5 and 7 points awarded. The AMA has given this race a "Grand Prix" status for 1980. David Coombs, of Morgantown, directs the technical aspects of the Blackwater 100 and is responsible for course layout.

Dirt bike riders from 14 or more states are expected to compete.

The race will start on Route 32 in Davis promptly at 1:00 p.m.

Pre-race activities include registration and inspection of riders and bikes on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. The traditional pre-race parade, cake walk, and street dance are scheduled for Saturday afternoon and evening.

A Sunday afternoon chicken barbecue will be served.

Grantsville Tops Mt. Savage, 8-4

Grantsville needed only four singles, taking advantage of numerous bases on balls, to record an 8-4 Bi-State Pony League victory over Mt. Savage yesterday evening on the losers' diamond.

Tommy Schroyer earned the win over Mark Dom who was relieved in the second inning.

Dom aided his o[illegible] losing cause by collecting [illegible] two-run triple for Mt. Savag[illegible]

SINCE THEIR ARRIVAL, the Dieu family has received physical examinations and applied for social security numbers. They are now living in a house in Gortner where they have been well provided with furnishings, kitchenware, food and other household items. The family and its sponsor group—the Garrett Parish of the United Methodist Church and the Amish in the southern part of the county—will be working in the months ahead to make the family self-sufficient. Until then, the sponsoring group is accepting help from others in the community in the form of monetary donations. Besides money, the group says two immediate needs are bicycles for the family and volunteers to help provide transportation and tutoring. Persons wishing to contribute money should make checks payable to the United Methodist Church Refugee Resettlement Fund and mail them to Susan Filsinger, Treasurer, Rt. 3, Box 291, Deer Park, MD 21550. Those desiring more information should contact Jim Green at Mt. Storm, W. Va. 26739, by calling [304] 693-7340. By sponsoring refugee families, church organizations across the United States are easing the financial burden on the U. S. government which has made a commitment of accepting 14,000 refugees monthly. The Dieu family consists of the father, right, the mother, third from right, the brother, standing behind mother, three sons and five daughters [one of the daughters not included in the picture].

THE "LIFE" BOAT — Mr. Dieu, a jeweler, and his family decided to flee Viet Nam when the government took all of Mr. Dieu's gold. Their journey to freedom began March 6, 1980, when they boarded this boat they made themselves a year and a half before. The boat was 42½ feet long and 6½ feet deep; it carried 54 passengers for 23 days from Viet Nam to Singapore. For five days they traveled on the power of the boat's engine until it met the S.S. Akuna, a rescue ship, which towed them safely to Singapore. All 54 survived.

Elks Assume Top Position

The Elks assumed the lead in the Oakland Senior Little League last week by stopping Army/Navy, 8-6, and improving their season record to 5-1. The winning pitcher was Scott Colaw, while Keith Chapman scattered seven hits in a losing effort for Army/Navy.

In other games, First National topped Beachy's 16-11. Scott Stem pitched a two-hitter and fanned ten to lead Army/Navy over First National, 6-3. Behind the pitching of Steve Weaver, the Elks smashed Beachy's, 20-10.

In second place, behind the Elks, is Army/Navy, with a 4-2 record, followed by First National at 2-4 and Beachy's at 1-5.

Weight Training Course Offered

Garrett Community College will offer a weight training course for the first time, this summer. The course is designed to introduce students to the basic concepts of weight lifting, body building, and muscle tone. Safe use of equipment is stressed. Tom Woods, Southern High School Football coach, will be the instructor.

The class is scheduled June 23 to July 11 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Southern High School gym.

Interested persons may register at McHenry Mondays through Thursdays from 8 a.m.-6 p.m. and Fridays from 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Scout News

The monthly meeting of Deep Creek Cub Scouts, Pack 80, was held on May 27 at the McHenry Fire Hall.

The meeting was opened by the Webelo Scouts, with Butch Dolan, retiring cubmaster, presiding.

Several scouts received awards, including Robert Mansfield, Bear Badge; Greg Iden, gold arrow point and two year pin; Scott Frazee, one year pin; Jason Rush, Bear Badge and Kevin House, one year pin. Adult awards included Butch Dolan, three year pin; Gary Iden, two year pin; Patricia Mansfield, two year pin; Dan Brenneman, one year pin; and Gretchen Rush, one year pin. Robert Mansfield and Sean Henline were taken into the Webelos and presented with their Webelo colors.

A candlelight ceremony for the installation of committee members and leaders for the coming year was conducted by several of the scouts and the scoutmaster. New committee members and leaders are: Cubmaster, Philip Buckel; Webelo leader, Raymond Mansfield; Den Leader, Linda Fousek; and Chairperson, Gretchen Rush. Those continuing for another year include Gary Iden, Assistant Cubmaster, and Patricia McKee, Treasurer.

On May 30, pack 80 participated in the annual Memorial Day parade and ceremony in Accident.

The next pack meeting will be on June 29 at 1:30 at Garrett Community College, McHenry. Featured will be a bike rodeo and hot dog roast.

In July, the pack will have a weekend retreat at Camp Hickory as part of the summer activities.

Boy Scout Troop 82, Accident, took part in the District Camporee at the Big Run Area in early May.

A group of seven boys, accompanied by Raymond Alexander and Jim McKee left the Accident area Friday evening. Those scouts attending took part in hiking, cooking, camping, knot tying, and first aid skills demonstrations. Those in attendance were presented badges for their efforts.

A troop honor court was held on Monday, May 26 at the Accident Fire Hall.

At this time, several scouts were presented with pins and awards they had earned, including George Futch, Personal Fitness Merit badge; Bryant McKee, Physical Fitness Skill Award and two year pin; Brian Alexander, one year pin; Keith Alexander, two year pin, Chip Frank, three year pin; Doug Futch, two year pin, and Randy McCord, three year pin.

On Friday, May 30, the troop participated in the Memorial Day parade and ceremonies in Accident.

In July, the troop will attend Camp Potomac in Cumberland for a one week stay.

Dawson and is rifle team captain of the 646th. Dave has been team captain since 1974 and during this time he has coached the team to two ARCOM championships, two second place wins and two third placings. He has also been the 99th ARCOM Grand Champion for two years and the Grand Aggregate Champion for two years. Eighteen trophies are his as a result of his marksmanship.

Dave was a member of the 99th ARCOM rifle team which competed at Fort George Meade, Maryland, in March at the FORSCOM matches. He was selected at these matches to shoot with the 1st Army Reserve Rifle Team. This team competes in the All-Army Championships at Fort Benning, Georgia.

The two-week tour consisted of a week's practice in Knoxville, Tenn., and then a week in Fort Benning, Ga., for the All-Army Championships. The next highest level of competition is the National Championships at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Melissa Merrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merrow, Eglon, was a patient last week at both Garrett County Memorial and Cumberland hospitals and awaits further decision as to future hospitalization for an orthopedic problem.

Families of the late Amelius and Ada Beachy Fike met for a reunion on Sunday, June 8, in the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building with approximately 62 in attendance.

Mrs. Golda White of Eglon entered Garrett County Memorial Hospital Monday for probable surgery.

Cecil "Whitie" Lewis of Aurora went to Clarksburg Monday where he was to enter the VA hospital for further tests and possible transfer to a Washington, D.C. Veterans' Administration hospital.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. Earl Mitchell of Boones Mill, Va., were recent Friday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Teets, Eglon. Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Teets are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Parsons of Eglon returned last Wednesday from Martinsburg where they had spent several days visiting with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Parsons, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Selders of Aurora accompanied their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Art Selders of Morgantown, to Russell, Kentucky, last week where the elder Selders remained for a visit with another son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Selders, who will return them to their home here.

Mrs. Virgie Donham received word that her brother, Julius Sell, is seriously ill in Winchester Memorial Hospital following a heart attack.

Mrs. Joann McBee of Baltimore is visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lantz and Jessica, Stemple Ridge.

Visiting during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Armand Heckert in Eglon were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strawser of Rowlesburg, Nettie Kight and Dollie Goff of Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Milan Halavanja of Aliquippa, Pa. Mrs. Eunice Waldron, who had been visiting with her sister and family here, returned to Aliquippa with the Halavanjas.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wiles and daughter, Mary Ann of Adrian, Mich., were weekend guests of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hauser, Stemple Ridge, and they all attended a family reunion at the home of Elmo Wiles, Location, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winters spent a few days last week visiting in Ohio with Mrs. Winters' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sims, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spaid of Aurora and Mr. and Mrs. George Sisler and daughters, Annette and Dianna, of Cranesville were Sunday, June 1, guests of Miss Allie Fike in Morgantown. Miss Fike is Mr. Spaid's aunt.

Members of the Maple Spring Church had a Sunday picnic indoors due to the cool and rainy weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teets visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxey in Clinton, Md., last week and attended graduation ceremonies for their granddaughter, the Maxey's daughter, Paula, from Surratsville High School held at the Capitol Center in Landover, Md. The Maxeys hosted a graduation dinner on Wednesday evening and among those attending were Paula's great-aunt and uncle, Ray and Gladys Roberts of Washington, D.C.

Mel Fike made a brief visit home Saturday with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Galen Fike, Eglon, between his studies at Bethany Seminary in Chicago and his summer employment at Camp Swatara in Pennsylvania.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burger in Eglon are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Eleanor) Lahann of Redwood City, Ca. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burger of Ohio are also visiting there and on Saturday, they had a family reunion with Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Lois) Glotfelty and Susan, of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Betty) Boden, of Baltimore, there. Another daughter, Margaret Burger, of Kingwood, was also able to be present for part of the day.

Ms. Graham Noted For Achievement At Waynesburg

Cindy Louise Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. (Tom) Graham, Oakland, has ended her junior year at Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pa.

Miss Graham was awarded the Chauncey C. Lively and Grace K. Lively Psychology Award as a result of achieving the highest grade point average of all junior class psychology majors.

While attending college, Cindy belonged to the Yellow Jacket Cheerleading Squad, was active in Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and was chosen to serve an internship at the Waynesburg Day Care Center.

Cindy was also chosen for the 1980-81 Peer Academic Counseling Staff, where she will assist underclassmen with scheduling and adjusting to campus life.

Since her freshmen year, Cindy has consistently made the Dean's List, finishing this semester with a 3.6 grade average, and was inducted into Psi Chi, a physchology honorary fraternity.

Miss Graham is a 1977 graduate of Southern High School.

Oakland Town Council Considers Recommendations

The Oakland Town Council met on Monday, June 2, at City Hall.

During the meeting the Council considered and discussed recommendations which resulted from a recent meeting of the Downtown Development Commission. The Council agreed to cooperate with the Commission in implementing their suggestions for downtown improvement.

In other business, Oakland was exempted from the constant yield tax rate law, and is planning a public meeting Tuesday, June 17 at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall, to determine the new tax rate for Oakland.

The Council discussed its financial statement. James R. Stanton, president, stated that the controls put into effect at last month's meeting are working.

The Oakland City Police Department was instructed by the Council to spend additional time in the business area of the city.

The Council instituted the use of a Permission Request form, which will be available at City Hall. Any person desiring to conduct parades, door-to-door sales, solicit advertising or other related activities must obtain this form at City Hall and have it signed by both the Chief of Police and the Mayor.

In other business, Jack King and Jerry Ryscavage brought the Council up to date on plans for the July 4th Old Fashioned Family Day Picnic to be held at the Broadford Recreation Area. Planned activities include a marathon, barefoot ski exhibition, Little League Jr. Division All-Star game, Senior Division All-Star game, games for children, challenge events between local volunteer fire departments, horseshoe and volleyball competitions. The evening will conclude with a performance by the Southern High School band and a fireworks display at 9:30 p.m.

JWCC Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The Junior Women's Civic Club, Oakland, met last Thursday evening in celebration of its 25th year. The group invited 35 charter members and 17 past presidents to attend the dinner meeting held at Starlite Restaurant in Oakland. New members and officers were installed for the year 1980-81.

Incoming officers are Mary Lynn Gibson, president; Peggy Cannon, vice president; Vicki Evans, recording secretary; Judy Umstot, corresponding secretary; and Donna Durst, treasurer.

The Junior Women's Civic Club of Oakland was formed in April of 1955, by 31 women. The club's first project dealt with safety promotion, and the first Mother's March of Dimes and Heart Fund campaign began that year.

Since that time the club has become involved in such projects as sponsoring area Girl Scout troops, card flights, cancer crusades, fundraising for UNICEF, and the collection of toys for Garrett County Memorial Hospital's toy box. In 1968 the group backed a movement to have the county commissioners endorse a salary increase for area teachers, and the club granted its first college scholarship in 1969.

The Junior Women's Civic Club has donated playground equipment to the area kindergarten, filled "ditty" bags for soldiers in Viet Nam, and has become involved in various children's programs, including the sponsoring of 10 children to attend summer camp.

The group contributed to the Deer Park and Oakland recreation programs, began glass recycling and sponsored little league football cheerleaders. The club sponsored a fall fun free-for-all, Special Olympics in 1975, and placed benches in the town of Oakland in 1976.

During the year 1979-80 the club donated $2,465.73 to various projects, scholarships, volunteer organizations, children's and sports organizations, fundraising groups, annual events, and private community service organizations.

Candidate For President Visits Oakland Area

Fred Weiland, III, a candidate for President of the United States from Morgantown, W. Va., recently paid a visit to the Oakland area. Weiland is a non-party candidate who is running a write-in campaign.

Weiland's political philosophy is centered upon more involvement by the citizens in the running of federal government, and he outlines three major changes he would like to make in federal government.

The first change would allow the taxpayers to have a say in the federal budget making process, as well as the passage or defeat of legislation. "The voters should be allowed to decide whether or not a particular law or bill should pass," he said. "Senate committees should not make the decisions." He suggested that the news media be utilized by Congress to inform the general public about proposed legislation and then the public should decide "what should be law and what should not."

"Two hundred years ago, when our nation was just beginning, 80% of our people were farmers. Everyone had similar problems and the representative form of government was successful. However, now we are more sophisticated and things are more complicated. Communication is also much better. We should therefore replace our representative system and use the entire population to make government decisions," he continued.

Another change Weiland would make would be to have a direct election of the president and do away with the Electoral College system. The president would have a 12-year term of office, the first six of which would be spent as "sort of an apprentice president." A new president would be elected every six years, but he would not assume the presidential office until after six years of apprenticeship.

Weiland would also like to create what he calls a "greed limit," which would place a limit on how much income a business or individual would be allowed to make. "Our political parties are controlled by the super wealthy," he said. "In this respect, we resemble a communistic or capitalistic nation, where a few control the majority."

Weiland has a BS degree in business administration and has done two years graduate work in economics. He is a graduate of Army Command and General Staff College and Industrial College of the Armed Forces. He says he has experience as a management engineer, administrative engineer, field engineering supervisor, investor, cost control manager, government contract specialist, director of training, teacher, electrician, radio repairman, mechanic, inventor, office clerk and laborer.

Court Overturns

rather than a jury to mete out his sentence.

The court's opinion said Pollitt, who ultimately ordered Tichnell to die in Maryland's gas chamber, had commented in Tichnell's presence: "I am not sure this is a death sentence case."

"It is, of course, impossible for us to know whether Tichnell's waiver of a jury determination of sentencing was actually based on a belief, generated by Judge Pollitt's remark, that he would not impose the death sentence if he was the sentencing authority," said the 73-page opinion written by Chief Judge Robert Murphy.

But earlier in the opinion, the court said, "In short, we hold that, on its face, the Maryland statutory scheme for imposition of the death penalty satisfied the requirements of the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments to the federal constitution, and Article 25 of the Maryland Declaration of Rights."

The Eighth Amendment and Article 25 each prohibit "cruel and unusual punishments," and the Fourteenth Amendment guarantees the right of due process and equal protection under the law.

The Garrett County State's Attorney James Sherbin, who sought the death penalty for Tichnell during the trial held August 20-24, 1979, stated his reaction to the court's opinion Tuesday. "I was disappointed" he said, "in that I felt the remark had absolutely no bearing on the sentence." He noted the Judge commented during casual conversation with the wto lawyers in his chambers that he did not know whether the jury would accept Tichnell's version of self defense but he also did not know whether they would impose the death sentence.

In a separate opinion, Judge Harry Cole, the only black on the seven-member panel, said he concurred with the results of the majority opinion, but said he believed there was "no necessity to reach the constitutional issues in the case."

Judge Rita C. Davidson, the only woman on the high court, simply said in a separate opinion, "I concur in the result."

The court rejected a series of arguments by Tichnell's attorney that the trial court had made numerous prejudicial errors, including denying him a fair and impartial jury.

"We have carefully reviewed the record and conclude that these contentions, which represent bald allegations at best, unsupported by specifics, are without merit," the court said.

The Court of Appeals had heard testimony from both sides March 3 in the appeal hearing for Tichnell.

Grantsville Days Celebration Set

The annual Grantsville Days celebration featuring food, fun, and entertainment, will be held June 27-28.

Activities are scheduled to begin with the Firemen's Parade on Friday evening at 7.

Saturday morning events will begin at 10 a.m. with a tennis tournament open to all interested players.

Additional activities that day will include a little league baseball game between the Grantsville Rotary Club and Lion's Club, a horseshoe pitching contest, and a basketball free throw shooting contest. Trophies will be awarded to all winners.

Live entertainment will be provided throughout the day, including special performances by the Highland Twirlers and the Belles and Beaux Square Dancers.

The highlight of the event will be a fiddlers' contest featuring Carl Stanton as Master of Ceremonies. The contest will begin at 7 p.m. at the Grantsville School, with a special appearance by a mystery celebrity from the West Virginia Jamboree. The contest is open to all fiddlers.

For additional information, interested persons should contact Jerry Beachy at Beachy's Pharmacy (301) 895-5177 or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council in Oakland at (301) 334-3888.

Merchants Eye Results Of Study, Design Proposal

The Greater Oakland Merchants Association met yesterday with members of the Downtown Development Commission to review a Revitalization Study and Urban Design Proposal presented by Ferdinand S. Johns, Project Director, Center for Architectural Design and Research, University of Maryland, College Park. The study is part of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development Downtown Commercial Revitalization program. Oakland is one of four towns in the state selected to participate in this program.

General suggestions made through the study are to improve the appearance of entrances to the town through landscaping, to concentrate more heavily on storefront detail, to plant street trees and brick the outer section of the sidewalks in town, and to make use of storefront canopies and lighting.

Johns stressed concentration on the pedestrian level, and he recommended the development of a town sign ordinance, dealing with size limitations of signs. He stated that signs should be developed to relate to pedestrians, and should be displayed on the lower level of the buildings.

Also recommended was street furniture and proper seating areas, or the construction of a park near the railroad station. Johns added that easy access from the town parking lot should be constructed near the station.

The study recommended clusters of informative signs, posted at a higher level for cars, with information for pedestrians underneath. Johns also recommended directories of town businesses to be posted throughout the town, to help to orient pedestrians.

The study pointed out color guidelines for town buildings and contrast elements to highlight the trim and make the most of the buildings found in Oakland, said Johns. Johns also suggested an effort to determine which buildings to tear down, repair, etc. He stressed continuity of height of the buildings, as well as continuity at the street level. Johns pointed out that lower buildings are a problem.

The study also recommended a by-pass to the far side of the Oakland parking lot for easy access to a proposed new lot. Johns recommended extensive landscaping in the area of the town lot, and the construction of pedestrian walk-throughs. He also recommended the restoration and use of the storefronts facing the railroad, to make visitors feel welcome, so to speak, and to attract traffic from the proposed by-pass.

Johns stated that the study is designed as a set of recommendations or ideas to draw from for future development. He suggested that immediate attention should be given to the entrances to Oakland, which he said do not do the town justice, the main parking lot and landscaping, interior block parking (the encouragement of customer use, landscaping and blocking these areas off), storefront development and attention to the pedestrian. He recommended that the group look at Oakland from the standpoint of a total stranger, and go from there.

Johns stated that the bricking of sidewalks and the planting of street trees could be a gradual change, constructed when areas of the sidewalks are in need of repair.

Dave Berry, Institute of Small Business management assistance specialist, has encouraged town businessmen to meet individually with architect Randall Smith, Annapolis, who was hired by the Department of Economic and Community Development to assist in follow-up of the study. Approximately six merchants are scheduled to meet with Smith in Oakland tomorrow. Others wishing to meet with him regarding individual needs or interests should contact Berry at ISB, Frostburg, at 689-4417, or leave word at Garrett Community College, Oakland Center, 334-8266.

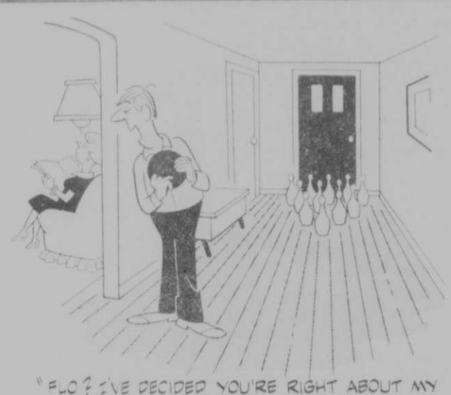

Following the study presentation the Downtown Development Commission presented a list of parking recommendations for Oakland. Immediate recommendations dealt with direction signs, police assistance, a paved walkway at the telephone booth at the railroad on Second Street, reserved employee parking spaces in the main lot and paid spaces in the Liberty Street lot. Short term recommendations included a reversal of directions of traffic on Alder and Green Streets, and the use of tokens for a proposed gate on the Liberty Street lot.

Long range recommendations are to improve the appearance of parking lots with trees and markers, to open a new street off Liberty to the railroad lot, and to provide free one-hour parking and an increased fine for overtime.

The realization of these proposals would require the aid of the town of Oakland, the Merchants Association, the Institute for Small Business, and individual merchants. The position of the railroad would also have to be considered for certain changes.

A suggestion was made for the merchants to pay meter tolls in front of their individual stores. A problem was sighted in the traffic reversal, as it would be difficult to reverse the Garrett National Drive-in Bank, a matter which will be discussed with GNB.

In other business, the Merchants Association agreed to close businesses on Friday, July 4, and to maintain regular working hours throughout the rest of that week.

ported to have been damaged.

According to the U. S. Department of Commerce, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the greatest frequency of tornadoes occurs in the spring, when large contrasts exist between warm air from the south, and cold air from the north. "Severe lightning, heavy rains, destructive winds, and large, heavy hail are often 'advance men' for the most violent storm on earth—the tornado," according to Skywarn, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Harveys To Celebrate 40th

Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Harvey will observe their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 15, at their home on Route 495, Swanton, with an open house from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The Harveys, "Buss" and Mary June (Custer), were married on June 15, 1940, in McHenry by the late Rev. C. W. Fraker. They were formerly postmaster and clerk at the Swanton Postoffice. For the past 13 years Ellis has served as a pastor in the United Methodist West Virginia Conference, having served the Trinity Church, Terra Alta, W. Va., for eight years and presently serving the Deep Creek Lake Charge, McHenry.

They are the parents of two children, Richard W. Harvey, New Martinsville, W. Va., and Sandra Schofield, Bittinger, and seven grandchildren. All relatives and friends are invited to attend the open house.

Joann Reed Weds Eugene Smith

Joann Reed and Eugene Smith were united in marriage April 20 in New Philadelphia, Ohio, by the Rev. Larry W. Hostetler.

The bride is the daughter of Clarence and Maxine Friend, Wellington, Ohio, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Hazel Bowser, Corinth. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Snedeker, Uhrichsville, Ohio, and the late Eugene Smith, Sr.

Mr. Smith is a labor relations representative with Ford Motor Co., Ohio Truck plant, in Avon Lake, Ohio.

The couple is residing in Amherst, Ohio.

Conversations on Carpeting

CHOOSING YOUR CARPET DEALER

There are many establishments that sell carpeting but they aren't all reputable carpet dealers. Buying your carpet from a reputable dealer can save you time, money, and a lot of headaches in the future. Here are some tips on how to find a carpet retailer that will sell you a quality carpet at a fair price.

First of all, deal only with firms that are established members of the business community. Firms that come and go may not be around tomorrow if you have problems with the carpet you've purchased today. Beware of fantastic advertising claims. If someone says they'll sell you carpeting at cheap prices, you can bet the carpeting is of poor quality.

Check and see if the firm provides a free "shop at home" service, if they deal with well-known manufacturers, and if they stand behind what they sell. And ask friends who have purchased carpeting from the retailer you're considering. Are they pleased with their carpet? The service they received? The way the carpet was installed?

At Roderick's we stand behind every carpet we sell. Stop in and let us tell you about the services we offer our customers. Next week, we'll tell you about texture in carpeting.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

For a very personalized appointment with Butch or Carolyn call today at 334-9598, who will give you the best in price, quality and service.

For all your home furnishings needs shop RODERICK Furniture in Westernport—featuring the area's largest most fashionable selection of quality home furnishings, carpeting and accessories. Buy with confidence that you are getting the "best for less"—no inflated prices, so no need to haggle.

We attended the wedding of a friend recently in a neighboring city. When we first entered the church everything seemed strange, the hymnals, the words of the service, until we heard that familiar phrase, "Our Father Which Art in Heaven." Suddenly it was as if a door had been opened to us.

With the others in the congregation, with the beautiful young bride and her new husband, we repeated those words which, over the years, have given hope to men and women in all kinds of churches all over the world; and we realized that despite the surface differences we are, all of us, actually one community.

God's House has many different entrances, but they are all equally available, to be passed through and shared with Him by everyone.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

PROPHET OF THE YEAR!

Lesson for June 15, 1980

Background Scripture:
Jeremiah 7:1 through 8:3; 26.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 15.

In our society there are annual awards in many endeavors: Academy Awards for motion pictures people, Emmy Awards for television, Drama Critics Awards for the legitimate stage, Pulitzer prizes for literature, Nobel prizes for a whole spectrum of human achievement, "Most Valuable Player" in most sports, Miss America in feminine beauty, and the list seems endless.

Rev. Althouse

But, no one has ever proposed — or is likely to — an award for "Prophet of the Year." The reason, of course, most awards are popularity awards and the prophet's role is usually the antithesis of popularity. In fact, if there ever was such an award, it would probably have to be given to the prophet who is most unpopular.

Maybe They'll Listen

That doesn't mean that the prophet's purpose is to make people angry and himself unpopular — it just usually works out that way. The purpose of the prophet is to speak for God to his people. People usually react to the message with anger and hostility because they don't like the message God has sent. There are exceptions in the Old Testament, but Jesus summed up accurately the prophetic experience when he said: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, killing the prophets and stoning those who are sent to you!" (Luke 13:34).

Still, when God sent the Prophet Jeremiah to the Temple, it was not intended to be an exercise in futility or symbolic gesture to a lost cause. The doom which Jeremiah was to proclaim was not inevitable, for the prophecy was preceded by a very important "if": "If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law which I have set before you, and to heed the words of my servants the prophets whom I send to you urgently . . . then I will make this . . . city a curse for all the nations of the earth" (Jeremiah 26:4-6). The doom could be avoided if the people would respond and repent. The people, not Jeremiah or even the Lord, would determine their fate: "It may be they will listen, and everyone turn from his evil way, that I may repent of the evil which I intend to do to them because of their evil doing" (26:3).

What Hezekiah Did

The response to Jeremiah's prophecy was not unanimous. To be sure, the majority of the nobles called immediately for the prophet's death. But after Jeremiah reminded them that his death would bring "innocent blood upon yourselves and upon this city and its inhabitants," (26:15), there was with some a change of heart and some warned: "...we are about to bring great evil upon ourselves" (26:19), and Jeremiah escaped death — for a time.

If you are really interested in naming the "prophet of the year," or even just concerned about bringing "great evil" upon yourself, look to the prophet who makes you angry. It easily could be that person who is speaking for God.

Lipscombs To Celebrate 25th

The children of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lipscomb, Aurora, are honoring their parents on their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house reception at the Aurora United Methodist Church Memorial Building. It will be held this Sunday, June 15, from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

The couple was married on June 18, 1955, at the Aurora United Methodist Church. They have four children, George Alan, Jr., Gary Bryan, Robin Louise and Jeffrey Wayne, all of Aurora.

The children invite all friends and relatives to attend, but request that gifts be omitted.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, June 11, the 163rd day of 1980 with 203 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

There is no morning star.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Gemini.

German composer Richard Strauss was born June 11, 1864.

On this date in history:

In 1920, Ohio Sen. Warren Harding was chosen as the "Dark Horse" Republican candidate for President. He won in November, defeating James Cox, to become the nation's 29th President.

In 1927, Charles Lindbergh was welcomed home by President Calvin Coolidge after making history's first non-stop flight across the Atlantic Ocean to Paris.

In 1969, labor leader John L. Lewis, president emeritus of the United Mine Workers Union, died at the age of 89.

In 1979, Actor John Wayne died of cancer at the age of 72.

A thought for the day: In 1916, Republican Warren G. Harding made a statement paraphrased 40 years later by President John F. Kennedy, "... We must have a citizenship less concerned about what the government can do for it and more anxious about what it can do for the nation."

Hopemont Hospital Planning Festival

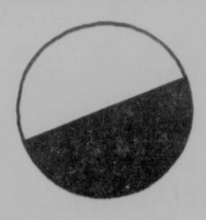

Hopemont Hospital, Terra Alta, is planning its second annual West Virginia Day Festival. The event, which will be held June 20, will feature craft displays, antiques, mountain music, quilt displays, West Virginia dinner and supper, antique cars, a West Virginia Film Festival, choirs and bands, square dancing and a flea market.

The festivities will begin at 10:00 a.m. with an opening ceremony at which a "King & Queen" Hopemont will be crowned. Immediately following the opening ceremony, the patients will be entertained by a local choir. The craft display and flea market will open at 1:00 p.m. and various entertainers will be performing throughout the day at several locations in the hospital. The program will officially end at 9:00 p.m.

The hospital staff will be dressed in pioneer garb and will serve special West Virginia-style meals. The various departments will have exhibits as well.

Because many patients are not able to attend the programs during the festival, volunteers are needed to accompany patients to and from the various exhibits and entertainments.

Persons interested in assisting should contact Charles Dixon, West Virginia Day Festival Co-ordinator, at 789-2411.

SATURN

Pioneer II made many discoveries about this ringed planet. It found a magnetic field 1,000 times stronger than the Earth's and radiation belts occupying a region 10 times larger than Earth's. The planet is flattened at the poles and also has a 120 kilometer (99 mile) depression at its midlatitudes. Saturn radiates two and one-half times more heat than it receives from the Sun. It has no separate magnetic pole, since the axis of the magnetic field is aligned with the planet's axis of rotation. The upper atmosphere was determined to be 5°C (41°F) which was warmer than expected.

MOON

Tomorrow the Moon will pass through its New Moon phase at 4:38 p.m. At this phase, Moon and Sun are in the same direction from Earth. Moonrise today was at 5:05 this morning. Moonrise next Tuesday will be at 10:33 a.m.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mercury, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn may be observed during the week. Mercury may be observed above the west horizon for a short time after sunset. Jupiter, Mars, and Saturn remain aligned across Leo from west to east. They set about 4 hours after the Sun sets.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

By next Tuesday there will be one minute more of daylight. Sunrise was at 5:49 this morning. Sunset will be at 8:45 p.m. Next Tuesday the Sun will rise at 5:50 a.m. and set 14 hours 57 minutes later at 8:47 p.m.

Today the Sun will be in the same place in the sky that it will be next July 1st. Today is the 163rd day of this year.

Charges Of Theft Head Court Docket

Theft charges head the list of complaints heard by Garrett County District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones during the June 2 court session.

Four young people from the McKeesport, Pa. area were charged with theft in connection with an incident at the Dreamland Motel, McHenry, in November of last year.

Russell Carl Abbott, 21, Joseph Michael Katcher, 20, and Howard Scott Berta, 20, McKeesport, along with Lori Shulties, 18, of Glenshaw, were ordered to make restitution to the motel owner, after pleading guilty to the charges lodged by Maryland State Police Cpl. Elmer Selby.

In addition, Judge Jones ordered 12 months unsupervised probation for the foursome.

An Oakland man was fined $50 and sentenced to 12 months unsupervised probation in connection with a purse stealing incident which took place in an Oakland tavern in April.

Donald Wayne Cottrell, 19, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested by Maryland State Police, and charged with stealing a purse from another patron in the establishment in April.

In a separate incident, Joseph Paul Graham, Jr. was found guilty of stealing two retread tires, valued at $200 from Hawkinson Tread Service, Oakland.

The court has ordered a presentence investigation in the case.

An Oakland man, Charles Clarence Jacob Gregory, was found guilty of assault and disturbing the peace, stemming from an incident in early February.

According to Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Gnegy, he was called to the scene when Gregory entered Martin's Store, acting in a disorderly manner, which included making an assault upon Lyle White with a rifle.

Judge Jones ordered 24 months supervised probation for Gregory.

Charges of issuing a worthless check were filed against Rebecca Perry, 19, Mt. Lake Park. According to the complainant, Ms. Perry issued a check in the amount of $19.00 to Thomas Firestone to obtain cash and gasoline, against an account which was closed.

Judge Jones ordered 24 months supervised probation in the case.

Annual Strawberry Festivals Slated

The annual Strawberry Festival sponsored by the Swanton Boy and Girl Scouts will be held at the Swanton Community Center on Saturday, June 14, from 4 to 8 p.m.

The Mt. Zion United Methodist Church will hold its annual Strawberry Festival June 28, from 3 to 8 p.m. Ham and chicken plate lunches will be available, along with several strawberry dishes.

The Mt. Zion Church is located five miles west of Frostburg on Route 40.

Patient Care Meetings Set

The American Lung Association of Maryland announces meeting dates, and topics for upcoming Allegany/Garrett Patient Club Meetings. The club is for persons with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, such as emphysema, asthma, bronchitis, and their family members. On June 30 Murray Allen, Pharmacist, will speak on the topic "Medications for COPD." On July 28 Sue Evanson, nutritionist, will speak on "Nutrition and COPD." The club meets at Sacred Heart Hospital Auditorium from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Persons interested in joining the Allegany/Garrett Patient Club should contact the American Lung Association of Maryland, 11 E. Mt. Royal Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, (800) 492-7527. The COPD Patient Club is a service of the Christmas Seal People.

Comptroller Details Sales Tax Statistics

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein recently released a statistical breakdown of Retail Sales and Use tax revenues for April 1980. "The breakdown shows increases over April 1979 in the Food & Beverage, Apparel and Furniture, Fixtures & Appliances categories, with decreases in the categories covering sales of automotive parts, construction and hardware," Mr. Goldstein said.

The comptroller noted that the largest single category of sales tax collections, the General Merchandise category, posted an increase of less than one percent.

"These figures tend to confirm a tightening economy, with consumers foregoing spending on many items. Some apparent exceptions include entertainment in restaurants and nite clubs, where tax revenue was up nearly 10%, and the apparel category, which posted a more than 4% increase over April 1979. Pre-Easter purchases generally spur apparel sales," Mr. Goldstein said.

Total sales tax revenue for April 1980, amounts to $55,993,546, or 3.4% less than the $57,967,691 collected for the same month a year ago. April revenue reflects retail sales made in March.

For Fiscal Year 1980 to date, sales tax revenue amounts to $531,792,139, a 2.8% increase over the $517,343,703 collected during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

CINDY SAYS

Lena sings in chiffon; Fox exec buys manse

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Lena Horne's few public appearances are accompanied by designer Giorgio SanTangelo and those black chiffon jobs complete with Joan Crawford shoulderpads he's creating for her ... That red-hot female movie exec, Sherry Lansing, bought Louis Jourdan's Beverly Hills shack. Better she should buy Louis for a part in a movie, right? ... After shlepping five New York chums to Benihana for a farewell dinner, Rock Hudson rocketed to London to appear with Elizabeth Taylor Warner in "The Mirror Crack'd"... Bob Fosse's another on a Japanese food kick. He vacuumed up teriyaki three times in two weeks, each time with a different girl, which either says something about the girls or the food.

Raquel Welch, 40, says "Fie" on sexy roles and from now on she'll use her head instead of her body ... Hildegard Knepf married a guy 12 years younger and is swinging into a new career. Germany's dramatic actress and author will try a shot at singing in saloons. One or the other of those reasons is why she just got a facelift.

I know you won't believe it but friends in Berlin say George C. Scott is "a very pleasant fellow." He's been there several months filming "The Formula" ... Ginger Rogers tells me she loved her Radio City Music Hall stint but it knocked heck out of her social life. No lunch dates because she got backstage two hours early fr the wig and makeup. No dinner because you can't dance on a full meal ... Watergate's John Ehrlichman is next up with his version. Simon & Schuster dumps it on us next year ... Lucie Arnaz and Larry Luckinbill burble they're only a preacher away from marrying.

Jackie Gleason, who hasn't set foot on a stage since co-starring with Walter Pidgeon in "Take Me Along" two decades ago, was sent a pile of scripts this winter. Said "uh-uh" to them all ... Robert Alda is on the road with a production of burlesque bits plus the old top banana, Red Buttons, come summer ... A scene for the Jack Lemmon-Lee Remick flick, "Tribute," was shot at the Edison Theater where "Oh! Calcutta!" is housed and which is a bare bosom away from the Brooks Atkinson Theater where the Broadway version of "Tribute" ran.

IN FOCUS

Lewis Stadlen brings Marx madness to TV

That mustache — those eyebrows — the lips always on the verge of curling into that famous leer — it must be Groucho Marx.

It isn't, of course. The man in the Marx makeup is Lewis J. Stadlen, known to TV watchers as Taylor on the ABC series "Benson." Ten years ago, Stadlen's big showbiz break was playing the young Groucho Marx on Broadway in "Minnie's Boys," and he's toured the country ever since, doing his one-man Groucho show, complete with glasses, cigar and one-liners.

Stadlen brings Marx to prime-time network TV on Sunday, June 15, with a Groucho monologue on the debut episode of "Omnibus," Marble Arch Productions' new version of the TV show of the 1950s. Hosted by Hal Holbrook, "Omnibus" will cover music, drama, literature and dance. Besides

Lewis Stadlen

Stadlen, the first show's roster includes Ann-Margret, Carol Burnett, Cher, Sandy Duncan, Lola Falana, Linda Gray, Edith Head, Gene Kelly, Cheryl Ladd, Carol Lynley, Loretta Lynn, Bob Mackie, Peter Martins, Yvette Mimieux, Luciano Pavarotti, Valerie Perrine, Victoria Principal, Jill St. John, Meryl Streep, Lynn Swann, Toni Tennille, Twyla Tharp, Cindy Williams and the National Theater of the Deaf.

Stadlen's act was polished by the one person in the world best qualified to do so — Groucho himself. Stadlen met the comic during the run of "Minnie's Boys," and they were close friends for the last seven years of Marx's life.

The close inspiration enabled Stadlen to create a Groucho that's more than a mustache, eyebrows and fast gags. He specializes in bringing out a side of Groucho that the comedian usually kept hidden — the portrait of Groucho as a man with a keen social conscience.

Even so, his "Omnibus" monologue has its share of laughs. Written by Arthur Marx, Groucho's son, it places him in his natural habitat: a theater dressing room, during an interview by a pretty young woman reporter ("Excuse me for not standing up. At my age, you're lucky I'm not lying down. At my age, I'm lucky you're not lying down.") He talks about his early life ("I wasn't always rolling in filthy lucre. My parents were so poor, they didn't even have clean lucre."); his entry into show business ("My mother figured, where could five meshuggeners who didn't know anything make a decent living? They could either run for president or go into show business."); and life in general ("Women should be obscene and not heard.").

Along the way, we also get a portion of the immortal "Yesterday, I shot an elephant in my pajamas" routine, and a rendition of his perennial theme song, "Hooray for Captain Spaulding!"

Stadlen's "Omnibus" presentation of Groucho's mannerisms and voice is uncanny, growing out of a deep love of the Marx legend, on screen and off. "There was great sincerity in Groucho," says Stadlen. "He was his own personailty."

TV PEOPLE

Opera singer makes his TV dramatic debut

From Verdi to Somerset Maugham, that's the story of Fred Morsell.

Morsell has been an actor, opera singer and teacher, but television viewers will soon see him play a key role in the Liberty Mutual Special, "Wilson's Reward," based on a story by Somerset Maugham. Sandy Dennis and Gerald O'Loughlin also star in the comedy-drama, to be telecast over 100 stations during the week of June 21.

It all came about because Morsell auditioned for Patrick O'Neal, director of "Wilson's Reward," and casually mentioned that he was not only an actor, but an opera singer as well.

"I knew he was right for the part of the governor of the island as soon as I heard his deep resonant voice," said O'Neal. "But the idea of singing opera kept popping up everytime I thought of Fred."

In the play, the governor is supposed to have a close relationship with Ginger Wilson, a cultured, complex man who drinks too much and often lands in jail.

O'Neal asked Morsell to audition again, but this time he asked him to sing for him. Morsell brought an aria from "Rigoletto," and the moment O'Neal heard him sing, he knew where the opera music would fit into the program.

"I decided that the two men, the governor and the town drunk would both be opera fans. They would listen to records together. It was the link that bound them together. And it worked."

Fred Morsell

The opera intrusion didn't stop there. O'Neal decided to use an aria or two as background music for the drama. "It gave a lightness and it played against the story," said O'Neal.

It worked so well that O'Neal changed the entire musical score of the one-hour special and used operatic arias as the main background music. "It's the kind of thing that Somerset Maugham would have loved. It gives the film an edge of class."

Morsell is estatic about the way the program (filmed entirely on location on the island of Bonaire in the Dutch West Indies) developed.

"There's no doubt that it is the best part I have ever had. Working with Sandy Dennis and Gerald O'Loughlin has been a real joy, and Patrick O'Neal guided the cast with an understanding you get only from an actor who has turned to directing."

THURSDAY

Barnard Hughes stars in the role of Father Brown, a New York City clergyman with a penchant for solving crimes, in an adaptation of the G.K. Chesterton stories, "The Girl In the Park," Thursday, June 12, on CBS. (REPEAT)

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

HERE'S TO YOU — I have a bet with a friend. He claims Mickey Rooney is closer to 70, and I say he is closer to 60. I remember going to Mickey's movies, and I think he is closer to my age (58) than 70. The bet is only for a drink, but I would love to have a drink on my friend, so please prove him wrong. — L.S., Goose Lake, Iowa.

Enjoy your drink. The World Almanac lists Mickey's year of birth as 1920, which puts him at 60 this year.

LIVE IDEAS — Where can I send my ideas to "Saturday Night Live," and what are the chances of them being used? — A Fan, Hartford, Conn.

The chances are nil, and your letter will probably be returned. Ideas, if they are from someone not on staff, come only through agents. You can probably understand the problems, even though they are frustrating to people like yourself. Someone there may have an idea that parallels yours, and it could be in the works long before they read yours — but how are you to know that? To you, it looks as if they have stolen your idea. So to protect themselves, they do not accept outside ideas in TV or films.

MOTHER'S FAN — I would like to know where I can write Betty Buckley. — A Fan, Great Falls, Mont.

Betty, who plays Abby on "Eight Is Enough," can be reached at The Burbank Studios, Burbank, CA 91505. Write the show's name on the envelope.

REMEMBERING SAM — I recently saw the movie "Once An Eagle" every morning for a week, and I thought Sam Elliott was so good. What else has he done? I don't remember seeing him before, and now I can't forget him. — B. Binder, Saginaw, Mich.

Sam was a regular on "Mission: Impassible" near the end of its run. He was also in the movie "Life Guard" and mini-series like "Aspen" and "Wild Eagle." He's a good actor and a very nice guy.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soapsters come, go; on-location in Paris

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — We have several cast entrances and exits to report, but two of the most surprising are the axings of "All My Children's" Peter White and Francesca James (Linc and Kelly Tyler). Two other exits include Araine Munker (Melinda Gray on "As the World Turns") and Jack McGee (Wally McFadden on "All My Children"). Both actors were not happy with their soap character's development and didn't renew their contracts.

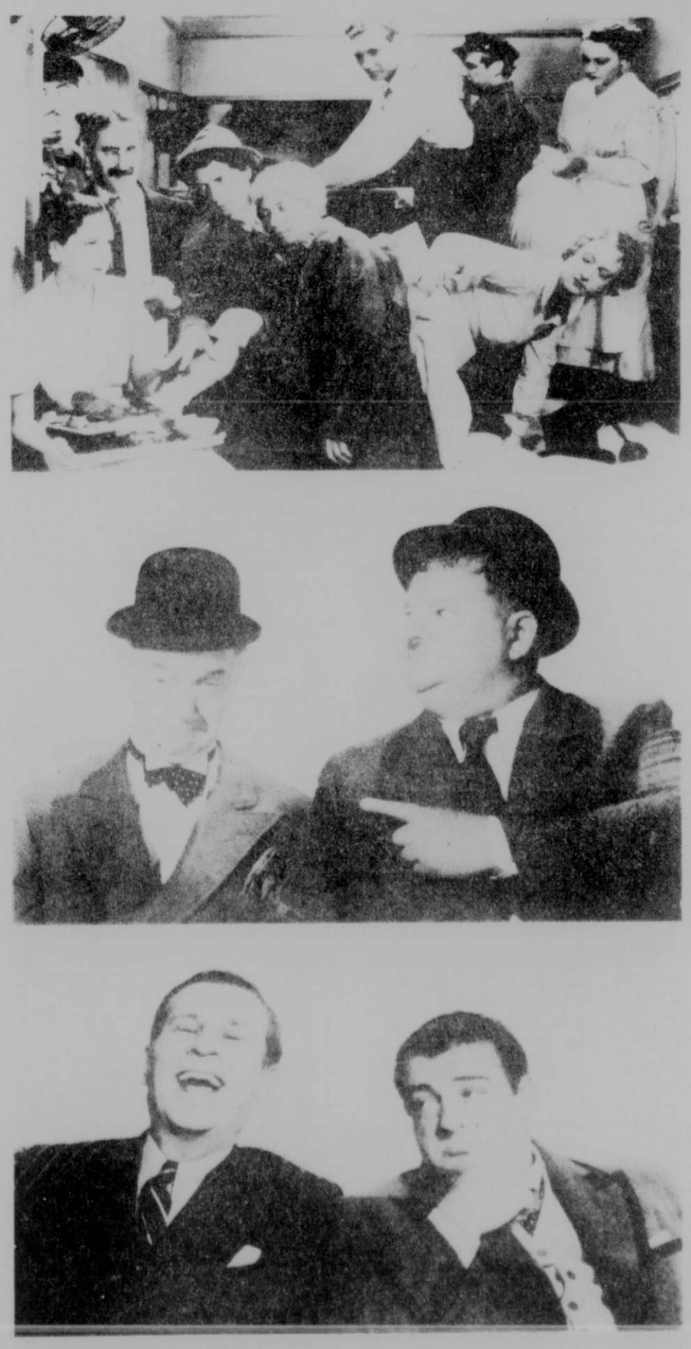

Another unhappy lady was Sandy Gabriel, who joined "All My Children" as Edna Thornton Sago about two years ago. Sandy decided to split her soap acting chores when "AMC" execs refused to allow her to do outside work, such as a "Love Boat" episode.

Daytime entrants include Trent Jones as rock singer Ken George Jones on "Ryan's Hope," and Tony Cummings who has joined "Another World" as Kit's brother, Rick Halloway. Rick is more or less the Halloway family black sheep, and he's slated to befriend Kit's new husband, Joey Perrini.

Other new cast members added to the lineup for NBC's new "Texas" show will include Ann McCarthy (ex-Bambi Brewster on "Love of Life"), Chandler Hill Harben (ex-Ben Harper on "LOL") and Barbara Rucker (ex-Sandy Hughes on "ATWT").

With the influx of on-location shooting in soap operas, "One life to Live" has gone out of its way (and perhaps its budget) to provide that show's viewers with romantic, exotic scenes in the very near future. While other soaps have utilized Caribbean island locations, "OLTL" has taken performers Jacquie Courtney (Pat Kendall) and Robert Woods (Bo Buchanan) to none other than Paris, France, to tape several episodes of upcoming shows. All this should give "OLTL" watchers a mini-tour of the City of Lights, with a little conflict thrown in by Dorian Lord. (Robin Strasser's scenes won't be taped in Paris, however; they'll be done on the studio's sound stage here in New York.)

"That's Entertainment, Part 2," the motion picture extravaganza compiled from 30 years' worth of MGM movies, will be rebroadcast as a special movie presentation, Wednesday, June 18, on CBS. Besides the movie musicals, the film also highlights such comic luminaries as (top to bottom) The Marx Brothers, shown here in the classic stateroom scene from "A Night at the Opera," Laurel and Hardy, and Abbot and Costello. Directory wins award

"The Complete Directory of Prime Time Network TV Shows (1946-Present)," by Earle Marsh and Tim Brooks, has been honored with an American Book Award in the category of General Reference — Paperback. The 848-page compendium contains complete descriptive data on more than 2,500 shows, every nighttime network series from 1946 through the 1978-79 season. Marsh works for CBS, and Brooks is at NBC.

Source of dispute

According to the 1980 Virginia Slims American Women's Opinion Poll, 21 percent of the women surveyed named watching television as one of the more common sources of disagreement with their mates. Only how to spend money (30 percent) and how to deal with children (22 percent) were cited more often. Across the board, women cited watching television as their most popular pastime; among married women, watching television is second only to spending time with their spouse. Sixty-three percent of all the women surveyed said they watch television frequently, with two hours, 55 minutes being the average time spent in front of the set daily. Regionally, the greatest numbers of women who watch television are in the South (66 percent), and the fewest in the West (58 percent). Big city dwellers watch telelvision in larger numbers (70 percent) than surburbanites (57 percent).

Olympics prep a plus

NBC's three years of preparation for coverage of the 1980 Summer Olympics has not been in vain, since residual effects of these plans will stand NBC Sports in good stead for the competitiave decade ahead, says Don Ohlmeyer, executive producer of NBC Sports. "Planning for Moscow gave us a concrete goal to work toward," he said. "It gave us a focus for improvement that translates to everything we put on the air. It's that improvement that enabled NBC Sports to garner four of the nine production Emmys presented last year and more nominations than the other two networks combined. This production expertise will carry over into the '80s."

70 hours of productions

Some 70 hours of BBC-Time Life television co-productions for the 1980-81 season are currently being readied for delivery. The first will be "Crime And Punishment," a four-hour dramatization of the Dostoevski novel, to air in "Masterpiece Theater's" 10th anniversary season beginning Sept. 28. It will be followed by a five-hour dramatization of Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" and a return of several series, including "Mystery!," "Once Upon a Classic" and "The Shakespeare Plays."

'Shogun' set

The eagerly awaited 12-hour mini-series, "Shogun," will launch NBC's 1980-81 prime-time season on Sunday, Sept. 14. Based on the best-selling novel by James Clavell and starring Richard Chamberlain, "Shogun" is a blend of romance and high adventure. It focuses on the clash of cultures in Japan at the turn of the 17th century.

The Rideout case

Filming is underway on "Rape and Marriage — the Rideout Case," a CBS made-for-TV movie based on the case of Greta and John Rideout. The Rideouts, an Oregon married couple, made legal history and news headlines around the world last year after the wife instigated the prosecution of her husband by filing a formal complaint that he had raped her. Jennifer Wright and Mickey Rourke have been cast to portray the couple.

STARVIEW

Early cancellation hurts actors, fans

By RUTH THOMPSON

Are some television series canceled too soon? Yes.

The answers swarm in from all directions: the actors, fans who write irate letters, the syndicators and on occasion, a network, which buys an updated special of a long-canceled series or re-run rights, usually for late-night showing.

In trying to figure, not really why, but if, a show was murdered before its time, the actors involved are often unusually articulate ... and obviously speak for the fans as well as themselves.

Tony Randall is twice bitter and has said he doesn't know if he wants to go through another series since a couple of his were axed in their primary stages before they found their respective publics. His most recent, with himself as a widower-judge, is a big favorite, we hear, all over Europe. So, of course, is "The Odd Couple," which for a time a major New York outlet was scheduling repeats of three times a day.

Also bitter is feisty Robert Conrad. He remains one of television's most sought-after stars, but nobody has come up with a long-term, winning formula for him since "Wild, Wild West" was killed off (though it was in the top 10 most popular programs in the nation) when pressure groups converged on violence and decided the "WWW" spoof threw too many punches.

The series has since made a mint in re-runs, after the pressure groups that triggered its cancellation were re-evaluated as over-reactors. Additionally, 10 years after the series' demise, Conrad and his sidekick Ross Martin have twice been summoned back for specials like "The Wild, Wild West Revisited." Last week they finished filming the latest, which is due on CBS in the fall.

Another television star named Conrad, the rotund William, has slipped back into the groove of his recent series, "Cannon," with a CBS special update now in production. If there are any network hopes of reactivating the "Cannon" series, however, haste is imperative.

(That's because William Cannon starred recently — for ABC — in a new movie, "Turnover Smith," as a crime-fighter type, not too unlike Cannon, except that a computer is on the scene to help him fight the bad 'uns. New movies like this are, as often as not, pilots for potential series.)

Among the other old-time series to gather all, or most, of their original casts together for updated specials are "Father Knows Best" and "Gilligan's Island."

Of all the series that were killed too soon, however, the then-management of NBC was unaware it had made probably the industry's major goof when it killed off "Star Trek" production because it thought that viewer interest was dying off.

We talked to three people the week after that long-ago cancelation: a high school sophomore, a college professor and William Shatner, the series' star. All were baffled, bewildered, angry. All of them said the series was, for them, the best thing on the air and could have (should have) run practically forever.

Of course, "forever" is the way of its re-runs, via syndication to local stations. And its big-budget movie successor released last year, though not as well done, was still a theater-release success.

Municipal Officials To Attend Convention

Approximately 400 municipal officials from over 80 cities and towns will attend the Maryland Municipal League's 33rd annual convention, June 22-24, at the Ocean City Convention Hall. The theme for MML's Convention is "Challenge of the 80's".

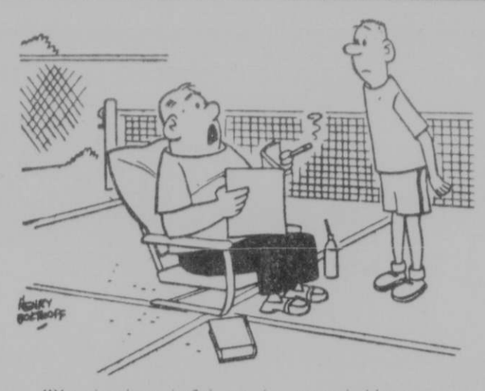

Senator George McGovern (South Dakota) will deliver the keynote address on Monday morning, June 23. He will speak on "The Challenge of the '80's: A Federal and Local Partnership." As a member of the Joint Economic Committee, Senator McGovern will address many of the concerns that municipal officials have on the future of federal aid programs to local governments.

There will be 18 workshops offered during the three-day convention and many of the workshops will address various aspects of the convention theme. Maryland's Attorney General, Stephen Sachs, will speak at a workshop on the legal liability of Maryland's public officials.

Other convention workshops will cover energy challenges of the 80's, controlling expenditures through effective budgeting, parking problems, police management, grantsmanship, adaptive uses for old buildings, and controlling vandalism.

The League's annual business meeting will occur on Tuesday afternoon, June 24. Included on the agenda of the business meeting are the election of MML's 25 member Board of Directors and the consideration of many policy resolutions.

The Maryland Municipal League is a non-profit, non-partisan federation representing 134 municipal governments throughout Maryland. The League works to strengthen the role and capacity of municipal government through a program of services including legislation, research and technical assistance. The League is headquartered in Annapolis.

Nurse Of The Year Contest Is Announced

The Maternal Child Practice Division of the Maryland Nurses Association, in conjunction with the National Foundation-March of Dimes, is seeking candidates for the Maryland Nurse of the Year Award. This award will provide a $500 scholarship for continuing education as well as recognition from the Maryland Nurses Association and the National Foundation-March of Dimes for the winner's outstanding contribution to the improvement of Maternal Child Health in the State of Maryland. The award will be given in October at the Maryland Nurses Association's annual convention.

The criteria for this award have been established by the National Foundation-March of Dimes as follows:

1. The candidate must be directly involved in maternal and infant health nursing through teaching, administration, research and/or clinical practice and committed to five years in the field of maternal and child nursing.

The candidate has had a demonstrable effect on raising the quality of nursing care given to mothers and children through scholarly pursuits, research, writing, education and/or practice.

3. Demonstration of ability to apply MCN standards of practice and/or facilitation of their implementation by others.

4. Evidence of involvement in continuing education as participant, organizer or sponsor.

5. Evidence of a distinguished contribution to the care of mothers and children at the local, state or national level.

Submission of the names of candidates who meet these criteria, should be sent to the Maryland Nurses Association, 5820 Southwestern Boulevard, Baltimore, Maryland 21227, before July 7, 1980.

The nominee's address should be included. Persons may nominate themselves by sending the forementioned information.

Mrs. Bittinger Named To Advisory Council Position

Mrs. Lois Bittinger, Grantsville, was elected to the office of recording secretary for the State Title I Parent Advisory Council at a meeting held May 23 in Cumberland. As recording secretary, Mrs. Bittinger will serve as a member of the Executive Board as well as serving as recorder at the four statewide parent meetings held each year. She will also be responsible for maintaining records of membership and all official proceedings.

Mrs. Bittinger has been actively involved in the Title I program for several years. She has served as a parent volunteer in the classroom, a member of the Grantsville Parent Advisory Council, a representative to the State Parent Advisory Council and president of the Garrett County P.A.C.

Approximately 40 parents and Title I staff from Garrett County were in attendance at the State Advisory Council meeting.

Police Personnel Attend Seminar

Approximately 30 police personnel from Garrett and Allegany counties, as well as neighboring West Virginia and Virginia, participated Thursday and Friday in a crime prevention seminar held in the Public Safety Building, Cumberland.

Instructors for the seminar were First Sgt. Roy L. Chiavacci and Sgt. Lawrence E. Faries, Jr., members of the State Police Crime Unit, Pikesville.

The crime prevention program has been offered throughout the state, stressing the importance of the proactive approach to fighting crime. The program now includes information geared toward attempting to defeat crime before it occurs.

Included in the seminar information are steps law enforcement officials can take to educate the public in crime prevention procedures.

The objective of the seminar was to instill the need for a thorough working knowledge of crime prevention. The officers were taught through film, lectures, and actual on-the-spot security surveys.

Local Households To Be Included In Census Survey

Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Census Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced today that information on birth expectations of American women will be collected during the week of June 16-20 from a sample of households in this area. The questions are in addition to those usually asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 84,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U. S. households.

Results of this monthly survey provide a continuing measure of economic conditions in the nation. The April survey indicated that of the 104.4 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.2 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 7.0 percent, compared to 6.2 percent in March.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals, according to the Bureau.

Auto-Truck Stop Joins NATO

Keyser Ridge Auto/Truck Stop has been accepted for membership in the National Association of Truck Stop Operators, according to NATSO president, Lloyd L. Golding.

According to R. D. Baldwin, operations manager, Keyser Ridge, the station has been operated as a 24-hour truck stop since 1978, serving Western Garrett County, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, at exit 14, U. S. 48 and 40 west.

The operation provides a convenience store, fuel products, Western Union service, and tourist information, offered on a 24-hour basis.

Baldwin is also a member of Virginia, Maryland and Carolina Truck Stop Operators, and is a member of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council. Jean Alexander is restaurant manager and Paul Bender is petroleum manager for the establishment.

The National Association of Truck Stop Operators is the official trade association for the Truck Stop industry in the United States, Canada, Australia, Europe and South America. According to Golding, NATO's emblem on the premise indicates that the Truck Stop functions under the highest operating and business standards as set forth by the Association.

Circuit Court Upholds Decision

Judge Thayer affirmed the verdict and the fine of $100.

Job Training Program Open To County Youth

The Summer Training and Employment Program for Garrett County Youth moves into full operation this Monday, June 16 according to Program Director Steve Hile. The program, which will end August 22, is being offered by the Board of Education and is being funded through the Western Maryland Consortium under the guidance of Dan Elmlinger, Youth Specialist and Bonnie Cowan, County Coordinator.

This summer training and employment program for youth will provide employment opportunities for young people ages 14-21 who meet the CETA guidelines as members of financially depressed families. Approximately 150 jobs will be available.

Over 30 worksites will be utilized throughout the county. All work sites, which must be of a public service nature, will include: All the county schools under the general direction of George Brady, where summer maintenance and renovation work will be done; the various state parks and recreational areas where participants will be involved in general operation and maintenance; the various towns of the county as well as county offices, the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Ruth Enlow Library with different maintenance and clerical jobs.

A new emphasis in the program this year is a special training program for all participants one day each week. The training is under the direction of Debra Ambrose and John Ledden, Training Specialists. The training will include: motivation and self-awareness workshops, career and job opportunities workshops, and career exploration field trips. Special resource people and visual aids will be used in these workshops and career days including Head Football Coach of Frostburg State College, John Peterson, Tom Jones of the Development Corporation, and many other specialists throughout the county. This training program is being coordinated through the school guidance counselors who will provide career counseling.

There are also six counselors who will be working with each participant in the training program and the actual working activities on the various work sites, in cooperation with work site supervisors. The counselors will be: Janie Stover, Steve Liller, and Elmer Redinger of Oakland, Robin Harvey of Kitzmiller, Phil Caruso of Deer Park, and Kathy Myers of Friendsville.

Persons interested in participating in the program should contact Steve Hile at the Board of Education Office by calling 334-8121.

Fred Gregg Among Scholarship Recipients

Undergraduate scholarships have been offered to 38 students, most of which are recent high school graduates, at Fairmont State College, according to William Shaffer, FSC financial aid officer.

Each of the nine academic divisions selected the students, who will receive partial tuition waivers awarded by the West Virginia Board of Regents.

Renewals of the scholarships will be granted each year if the students maintain a 2.0 grade point average or better.

Recipients chosen from the Division of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety include Ernest Fred Gregg, Oakland.

Visiting Friends, Mothers Matter Leaders Honored

Volunteers for Mothers Matter and the Visiting Friends program were honored at an "Appreciation Picnic" on Friday. Because of the county's monetary problems, the volunteers were unable to have the annual dinner given in appreciation for their service to these programs. Instead, they chose to have a "potluck picnic" and invite family and friends to recognize their year of service to area women and families.

Each volunteer received a pink carnation, donated by Jan Florists.

Mothers Matter is a discussion and information group for mothers and a free creative play group for their children. Visiting Friends are paraprofessional counselors whose purpose is to be a friend to mothers who are isolated or in distress. Currently there are 15 active friends serving 15 families and a total of 39 children.

Volunteers honored included Joanne Graybill, Debbie Pariseau, Sheila Hetrick, Margaret Ammann, Reba Herrington, Connie Jacoby, Madeline Collins, Betty Vance, Joy Lane, Alana Jones, Lynn Elmlinger, Kathy Gibson, Vava Railey, Frances Acton, Cathy Eiswert, Lorraine Stevens and Cora Bowser.

Backpacking Trip Reservations Now Being Accepted

Would-be backpackers are encouraged by the Maryland Forest and Park Services to sign up for a beginner backpacker outing. Designed for families and individuals who have not backpacked on their own before, this trip in New Germany State Park and the Savage River State Forest will be on July 5 and 6. The fee for the hike will include instructions, food and transportation to the trail head. A loop trail on ridge tops and in valleys, along streams and past wildflowers will begin and end at New Germany State Park.

Reservations are necessary for the beginner backpacking outing and are accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Trip information sheets and applications for this trip and other outings are available by writing: Beginner Backpacker, Maryland Park Service, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401 or phone (301) 269-3761.

FROSTING THE CAKE

When the time comes to sell your home, the inevitable question will arise. Which items will stay with the house and which will not? Certain items carry little doubt such as tacked down wall-to-wall carpeting, storm windows, and items permanently attached to the house or property. They would normally stay.

It's a good idea to include as many extras as possible. If you'll have no further use for draperies, particularly when they were made for an odd-sized window, be sure to include them. That porch furniture you will have no future use for or that extra lawn mower may be just the "frosting on the cake." The idea of getting something extra is a strong motivating force, especially if it seems well suited to its present surroundings.

One bit of advice. Items should either stay or go! Do not try to sell them to the buyer. The sale of a home is a big enough negotiation without muddying the water.

ZION CHRISTIAN ACADEMY, Grantsville, which opened as a day school in August of last year under the auspices of Zion Tabernacle, completed the first year of operation May 29. Awards were presented to students during ceremonies May 9. Students receiving awards were, left to right, Teresa Dyche, top citizenship rating; Benny Wilt, highest attendance average; Shirley Minnick, most Lifepacs completed; Jerry Minnick, greatest overall progress; and Gary Wilt, top merit student. Standing in the rear is Rev. George McDowell, Jr., pastor of Zion Tabernacle and principal of the academy. Plans have been made to update and enlarge the teaching facility during the summer vacation period, in anticipation of an increased enrollment in the fall.

Phone Books To Include Section On First Aid

The C&P Telephone Company will be delivering new telephone directories during the next two weeks to customers in and around Garrett County.

According to Nancy Nemith, C&P's Oakland business office manager, this year's book features a new section on emergency medical care.

Called the Emergency Medical Guide, the section advises readers on steps to take in the event of an emergency before professional help arrives. Nemith says the eight-page guide was prepared by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services and is endorsed by two other medical organizations in the state.

The guide begins with instructions on how to call for professional help and how to check for breathing. Subsequent information in the guide is arranged alphabetically according to the type of medical emergency.

Some of the topics covered include allergic reactions, amputations, poisonings, burns, broken bones, drownings, electric shock, and seizures.

This year's directory will contain over 9,000 individual White Pages listings, about 300 more than last year.

More than 25,000 copies of the directory will be distributed.

Mercy Chapel To Hold Special Service

Pastor Robert Clinton of Mercy Chapel, Mill Run, has announced plans for a homecoming to be held this Sunday, June 15. The event is set to acknowledge the recent purchase of the church property by the congregation.

The homecoming service will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the invocation by the Rev. H. B. Rittenhouse of Friendsville. Sermonettes will be given by James and Raymond Clinton.

A brief history of Mercy Chapel will be read by Betty Guard, and Helen Vitez will play the organ as the congregation sings, "The Church in the Wildwood." Special readings will be given by Edna Criss and Valerie Loughrie.

Music will be provided by Don and Ann Show, with a closing prayer given by Billie Griffith.

A carry-in covered dish lunch will be served at the church following the service. Pastor Clinton invites all friends of Mercy Chapel, former members and pastors to attend.

Library Corner

The Friendsville branch of the Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County will be closed at the end of this week to prepare for moving the library. The space in the municipal building which the library now occupies is needed by the town of Friendsville, so the library will be moved into a part of the former kindergarten building. The date when the library will be open again for service in the new location will be announced later. The book return box on the corner may still be used for the return of books.

A graduate of Oakland High School has written to ask the library to locate a poem which former Superintendent of Schools Frank Rathbun recited many times at Oakland High School assemblies. The first few lines are quoted as:

If I had a boy
I would say to him, "Son
Be fair and be square
In the race you must run . . ."

Persons who have any more information about this poem are asked to call the library, 334-3996.

The summer bookmobile schedule will not begin this year until June 23, and will be announced next week.

Elk Club Members Support Flag Day

The Oakland Elks Club members are calling on local residents to make a special effort to commemorate the Stars and Stripes on Flag Day, June 14, as a demonstration of public support for this country.

On that day, over 1.7 million members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, including the local members of the Oakland lodge, will honor the flag and renew their faith in America as part of a special ceremony. Francis Croston, Exalted Ruler of the Oakland lodge said,"The state of world affairs, the conditions in the Middle East, and the feeling that our property and citizens overseas can be unlawfully seized and held without recourse, now, more than ever before, requires a public display of solidarity in this country.

We call on the citizens of Oakland to join us in honoring the flag, the symbol of freedom and humanity throughout the world."

"Americans have had little opportunity to show unified support for their country since the crisis in the Middle East," he continued. "Flag Day offers the unique opportunity to demonstrate the solidarity of support for our country."

Special ceremonies will be held at the Oakland Lodge, No. 2481, on June 14th.

The Elks have long endorsed Flag Day, which commemorates the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States on June 14, 1777 by the Continental Congress.

In 1908, the Elks became the first fraternal order to mandate the observance of Flag Day throughout the organization. Flag Day did not become an official national holiday until 1949 when President Harry Truman, himself an Elk, signed a resolution.

"A courageous display of support for our country and its flag, just as Harry Truman manifested through his ultimate endorsement of Flag Day observance will demonstrate our country's resolve to stand united," Croston stated.

Fiscal Officers Recommend Keeping 15-Year Bond Limit

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and State Treasurer William S. James Tuesday urged the Appropriations Committee of the Maryland House of Delegates to reject proposals to increase the 15-year limitation on Maryland's triple A rated general obligation bonds. The state's two top fiscal officials said the 15-year limitation serves as a type of spending limitation and that increasing it would add to the state's debt, would be inflationary, and would be contrary to the position taken by the state in the past several years.

"Everything that we have done with the cooperation of the General Assembly in the past several years has been aimed at easing the state's general obligation debt load and retaining Maryland's credibility in the financial markets of this nation," Mr. Goldstein said. Comptroller Goldstein and Treasurer James told the Committee that a longer bond repayment period is contrary to the state's efforts to control its debt and would strain the credibility of state officials who have been assuring the bond rating agencies and investors that Maryland has an important, effective debt management program.

The officials noted that while the 15-year limit forces the state to limit bond issues, a longer repayment schedule might prove a strong temptation to issue more, not fewer bonds thus destroying any financial advantage of the proposal. They also noted that the proposal could actually lead to increased state budgets because certain equipment and facilities would be ineligible for funding through bond proceeds and would put added drains on the state operating budget.

"There is no financial crisis or even any reason to change Maryland's 15-year general obligation bond limit at this time," Mr. Goldstein said. "Such a move could actually defeat the purposes of the capital debt affordability program which was created to help Maryland retain its prime triple A bond rating."

The Comptroller further stated that in its two most recent general obligation bond sales, Maryland has received the lowest interest bid of any state issuing 15-year triple A rated bonds during 1980. "When you have a successful system that produces results such as that, you don't want to change it," he said.

The fiscal officers noted that Maryland has actually reduced its outstanding debt during each of the past two years. If the state had been issuing 30-year bonds since 1950, it would actually be in debt by more than one-half billion dollars more than is the case today.

Male Juvenile Is Charged With Theft

A 17 year old male juvenile was charged with theft and shoplifting at the Radio Shack and Mike's Discount, both of Oakland.

The youth was found to be delinquent, and committed to the custody of the Juvenile Services Administration. The sentence was suspended, and the youth was placed on supervised probation for an indeterminate period of time.

In addition to abiding by all the rules and regulations of probation, the youth has been ordered to make restitution to Radio Shack and Mike's Discount, and was fined $25 for each case.

Youth Reading Club Sets Circus Theme, Needs Volunteers

The Ruth Enlow Library 1980 Summer Reading Club will center around a circus theme. The club is open to all grade school children and will offer activities every Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Workshops held are designed to introduce students to various circus skills.

The Oakland Library is in need of adult volunteers with skills relating to clowns, magicians, jugglers, acrobats, musicians, puppeteers and animal trainers, to work with the program.

Reading Club registration will begin at the close of the school year. Persons wanting more information should call Pam Hardesty or Bev Otto at the library, 334-3996.

State Police Issue Numerous Traffic Citations

Several persons were injured, and various reports of property damage were among the investigations conducted by Maryland State Police, McHenry, during the past week.

Darrell Hixenbaugh, 50, Terra Alta, W. Va., was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad members last Thursday evening when an automobile he was driving westbound on Md. Rt. 39 nearly collided with another which had slowed to make a right turn. Hixenbaugh swerved to the left shoulder, struck several mailboxes and a telephone pole, overturning his vehicle. According to police records, Hixenbaugh was driving in a reckless manner, and charges are pending against him.

John Wesley Michaels, Jr., 20, Friendsville, was the operator of a vehicle involved in an accident last Thursday evening on Second Street in that town.

According to state police records, Michaels was traveling south on Second Ave. at a high rate of speed, when he failed to negotiate a left turn. The vehicle struck the curb, a telephone pole, a fence, continued through a private lawn, and came to rest against an embankment.

Passengers in this car included Geraldine Fazenbaker, Lyndon Friend, and Kenneth Titchnell, all of Friendsville. The Northern Rescue squad responded to the call, transporting the injured to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Michaels was charged with driving at a speed greater than reasonable, and failure to properly enter an intersection.

A Mt. Lake Park man caused extensive property damage last Thursday night, when he lost control of the car he was operating on Oakland Avenue.

Lyle Keith Clegg, 31, was charged by Maryland State Police with driving while intoxicated, striking private property, and driving on a suspended license.

After his vehicle left the roadway, it traveled up an embankment, continued through a yard, a garden, and over a tree belonging to Robert Paugh. Clegg then failed to stop, and reentered Oakland Avenue once more, traveling west.

In a separate damage report, Harman Floyd McGee, Jr., 37, Oakland, was charged with reckless driving last Friday after a vehicle he was operating on the Hutton-Oakland Road at an apparent high rate of speed struck two trees, a mailbox, and the front porch of a residence occupied by Marshall J. Moats, Jr.

Police charged McGee with reckless driving.

Energy Assistance Still Available

Persons who qualify under income guidelines may still receive assistance to pay fuel and energy costs through the Maryland Energy Assistance Program (MEAP), according to the Office of Community Services of the Maryland Department of Human Resources. However, all applicants must be certified as eligible by June 30, 1980.

Because of the relatively mild winter, local agencies administering the MEAP program currently have unexpended funds. Eligible households may receive a maximum of $400 for the payment of fuel costs if they heat with oil or kerosene; or a maximum of $250 for other types of energy, including gas and electric.

To participate in the MEAP program, household income must meet certain eligibility levels. For example, a family of four may have an income of $9,313 or $7,925, if they live on a farm. A family of two persons may have an income of $6,263 or $5,350, if they live on a farm.

Applications for fuel assistance under the MEAP program may be made at Garrett County Community Action Committee, Oakland.

PUBLIC NOTICES

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the many friends and relatives for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and following the death of Lyden Leroy (Roy) Holler. We also want to thank Rev. Hixon, the Stewart Funeral Home, and the Southern Rescue Squad; also, the Sacred Heart and Garrett County Memorial Hospitals; doctors, nurses, pallbearers, Ladies aids and all those who donated food, flowers or sent cards. Your thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. God bless all of our friends.

The Roy Holler family

—Adv. 15-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our daughter, Susan Elaine Gonder, who passed away four years ago, June 5, 1976: A loving heart stopped beating, hard working hands at rest; God broke our hearts to prove He only takes the best. The flowers placed upon your grave May wither and decay, But the love for the one who sleeps beneath, Will never fade away. In tears we saw you sinking, And watched you fade away. Our hearts were all broken, For we wanted you to stay; But when we saw you sleeping So peacefully and free of pain, How could we wish you back again To suffer more pain. Each time we see your picture, You seem to smile and say: "Don't cry, I am only sleeping, We will meet again some day."

Love,
Benny and Wilda Gonder

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late I. William Umbel would like to extend its deepest appreciation to all relatives, friends, and neighbors for the food, cards, flowers, memorial donations, and prayers following the sudden death of our husband and father. We especially want to thank the Newman Funeral Home, Rev. Kenny Dolan, Rev. Donald Matthews, and the Marclay Ambulance Service. God bless all of you.

The Family

—Adv. 15-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

A Father's Day tribute to the memory of Charles Rush. His helping hand was always first to render any aid he could. His voice was always raised in praise; His words were wise and good. Dear father, since you've gone away, The ones you loved so true, Try hard to carry on the way, We know you'd want us to.

So dearly loved and so sadly missed by his wife, children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren.

—Adv. 15-1t*

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Roger Smith wishes to express sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us following the death of our beloved son and brother. Special thanks to the Newman Funeral Home, Rev. William Carlson, the pallbearers, and St. John's Ladies Aid. Also to those who sent food, flowers, cards, money or who assisted in any way. Your kindness and sympathy will always be remembered.

The Family

—Adv. 15-1t

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband, father, and grandfather, Ellwood Adams, who passed away June 8, 1977. When the family gets together, there is one we fail to see. And it fills our hearts with sadness, thinking of what used to be. It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone. Because part of us went with you, the day God called you home.

Sadly missed by wife Velma, daughter Lynn and family

—Adv. 15-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my grandfather and grandmother, John and Mary Herman: Their life is a beautiful memory, their absence a silent grief. But they sleep in God's heavenly garden, in the sunshine of perfect peace. The wonderful things they did for us, live in our hearts each day; And keeps them near and dear to us, though they are far away. To you, who still have grandparents, treat them with love, and care. You'll never know how much you miss them 'til you see their vacant chair. Keep them, Jesus, in thy keeping 'til we reach the heavenly shore. Then, O Master, let us see them, love and have them as before.

Sadly missed by granddaughter Jeannie

—Adv. 15-1t.

—Adv. 15-1t*

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Evert Savage on his birthday, June 10, 1980. The blow was hard, the shock severe, We never thought your death so near. To some you have been forgotten and to others just part of the past. Our hearts ache with sadness and tears we often shed. Your memory is our keepsake from which we shall never part. They say time heals all sorrow and helps us to forget. But time so far has only proven how much we miss you yet. We try hard to understand why God took you from us. But we know God does all things well.

Sadly missed by wife and family

Public Hearing

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission will conduct a public hearing on Thursday, June 19, 1980, at 7:00 p.m. at the Loch Lynn School, Loch Lynn Heights, Maryland, to explain and take testimony on changing the boundaries of Sanitary District No. 1 to include one sewer sanitary district and two water sanitary districts in and around the Towns of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights as specified in the following resolution:

Upon motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously carried at its regular business meeting on May 21, 1980, the Garrett County Sanitary Commission resolved: To change the boundaries of Sanitary District No. 1 to include one sewer sanitary district which is the present Mountain Lake-Loch Lynn Sewer Sanitary District; and two water sanitary districts which shall be called: The Mountain Lake Water Sanitary District and The Loch Lynn Water Sanitary District. The boundaries of the sewer sanitary district are as defined on a plat recorded on December 5, 1979, in Plan Drawer 1, File 52, in the land records of Garrett County and as further defined by a description recorded in liber 399, folio 92, of the said land records. The Mountain Lake Water Sanitary District shall include the Area of the Town of Mountain Lake Park less certain areas in the vicinities of Broadford Road, Mary Drive, and Broadford Run and less all of the Broadford Recreation Area and plus certain areas west of the Pensinger Development, this district being more definitely described by the attached boundary description as shown on the requisite plat. The Loch Lynn Water Sanitary District shall include the Area of the Town of Loch Lynn Heights as shown on the requisite plat.

The above referenced plats and description of the proposed Water Sanitary Districts may be examined at the office of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., in Room 200, Old Courthouse, in Oakland, Maryland.

GRANTSVILLE NEWS

Rotary News

The weekly meeting of the Grantsville Rotary Club was held on Wednesday, June 4, at the Hilltop Inn. Del Proudfoot was in charge of the program. The speaker was Mrs. Ann Getty, educator and speech pathologist with the Maryland School for the Deaf at Frederick. She discussed hearing loss and ways of dealing with it. Her husband, Greg, was a guest.

The next meeting will be this evening at the Hilltop Inn. John Hershberger will be responsible for the program.

St. John's News

At a recent meeting of the Somerset Association Ministerium, Douglas Garland, pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ, Grantsville, was re-elected president of the organization. The ministerium seeks to provide for the fellowship and professional concerns of the U.C.C. ministers in the four-county area that comprises Somerset Association.

Two Arrested In Assault Upon State Trooper

Two Oakland men have been arrested by Maryland State Police in connection with a series of traffic violations, and the assault of a Maryland State Police Officer.

Cpl. Ronald S. Lewis was attempting to stop a vehicle last Saturday evening operated by Jackie Garland Friend, Jr., 22, Oakland, for displaying an improper vehicle registration.

Friend failed to respond to Cpl. Lewis's order to stop, and fled north on Glendale Road. In an attempt to elude Cpl. Lewis, the vehicle then turned on to Zeddock Miller Road, and then into a field. At this time, the fleeing car developed mechanical difficulties.

According to police reports, when Cpl. Lewis approached the car, the driver's door was slammed into the officer by Friend. The two then became involved in a physical altercation. At this point, according to the report, Robert Dale Albert, 22, Oakland, exited the passenger side of the car, and attacked Cpl. Lewis from the rear, grabbing him around the throat. In the process of attempting to disengage Albert from his back, both men fell to the ground. While on the ground, Albert began kicking Cpl. Lewis several times in the rib area.

After several minutes, the two suspects were subdued by Cpl. Lewis.

Friend has been charged with driving while intoxicated, operating without a license, driving with expired registration tags, fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer, assault and battery, destruction of property, and hindering a police officer in the execution of his duty. He has been jailed on $10,000 bond.

Albert has been charged with assault and battery, destruction of property, and hindering an officer in the execution of his duty. He was jailed on $10,000 bond, but has since then been released after posting $200 bail.

Man Lost In Storm Fights Rough Terrain

A Baltimore man reported missing from the Meadow Mountain area Monday night, who was walking in the woods, turned up at a farmhouse on Rock Lodge Road and Mosser Road, about 7 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Deputy Paul Pratt, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, stated that Robert Daniel Martin, Jr., 23, was reported missing at 10:56 p.m., from near New Germany Road, by his girl friend Vickie Gale Drury. Ms. Drury, Martin and others had been vacationing in the area and the couple went for a walk in the woods. They apparently became separated, and when Ms. Drury could not locate Martin she telephoned the police.

A storm was in effect as members of the Maryland Forest Service and Sheriff's Department searched Meadow Mountain with the use of a four-wheel drive vehicle, scanning each passable logging road in the area, through rain and fog. The search ended about 4 a.m. and resumed at 7 a.m. Tuesday morning, with members of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Department of Natural Resources and Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department assisting.

About the same time, Maryland State Police, McHenry, received a call that Martin had made it to a farmhouse on Rock Lodge Road and Mosser Road. Martin suffered minor bruises and scratches, but was otherwise uninjured.

Deputy Pratt stated that he had traveled through the storm "approximately five to six miles over solid, extremely rough terrain."

NEVER ENDING CHORE — When thinking of Garrett County summer time activities, one often brings to mind the swimming, sailing, picnics, and other various forms of fun-filled recreation. The above photo, taken in the Bittinger area, reminds us that not all Garrett County summer activities are done for pleasure, as the responsibility of hay making weighs heavily on the minds of area farmers who must make early provisions for winter food for livestock.

Retirement Dinner Slated June 28 For County School Superintendent

Dr. William H. Buser, Superintendent of Schools in Garrett County for the past eight years, will be honored at a retirement dinner on Saturday, June 28, at the McHenry House, Wisp Ski area. Reservations are being made through the Board of Education for the affair which will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a social hour to be followed by dinner at 7:15 p.m.

Spanning a period of approximately 29 years in public education, Dr. Buser has worked in the educational systems in the Maryland counties of Washington, Howard, Worcester, Cecil, and Garrett as a teacher, principal, supervisor, assistant superintendent, and superintendent.

The Flintstone native received his Bachelor's degree from Frostburg State College in Junior High Education and then went on to earn both his Master's and Doctorate of Education degrees from the University of Maryland.

During his tenure as Superintendent of the Garrett County School System Dr. Buser was involved in an extensive building program including construction of two new middle schools, Southern Middle and Northern Middle, which relieved Northern Garrett Jr.-Sr. High and Southern Garrett Jr.-Sr. High of grades seven and eight and the elementary schools of grade six.

Broad Ford Elementary School was built to replace the Oak Street Kindergarten and Center Street Elementary School. During this same period a replacement building was built for Friendsville Elementary School, Grantsville Elementary School, and a major addition and renovation to the Dennett Road Elementary School was completed.

Transportable structures were added to the Crellin Elementary School and the Route 40 Elementary School, enlarging the capacity of these schools. A site was purchased for a new Accident Elementary School and State approval was granted to proceed with the replacement of this school.

Total funds expended for these buildings approached nearly $18,000,000, with the majority of funding provided from State sources. The completion of these projects provided new or improved housing for over 50 percent of the students attending the public schools in Garrett County.

In the area of curriculum and instruction, the county moved to implement county-wide curriculum with the development of curriculum guides, as well as to adopt textbook and instructional materials to insure a more uniform curriculum throughout the county's schools.

Emphasis was also placed on the utilization of curriculum committees to advise and assist professional staff with curriculum development growing out of an extensive needs assessment plan. Emphasis was also placed on principles of learning and teaching behavior that supports sound principles of learning.

A health curriculum was introduced into the programming including Family Life and Human Development. The special education program grew from a very limited program to one involving services to over ten percent of the student population.

During the eight-year period some progress was made to reduce class size; however, class size and per pupil expenditures were not up to the average for the State of Maryland.

Personnel practices were reviewed during this period, with Board adopted recruitment and

Old-Style Family Picnic Planned At Broadford Park

An Old-Style Family Picnic will be held for area residents on the Fourth of July at Broadford Park, Mt. Lake Park, co-sponsored by R&L, Inc. and the Oakland Mayor and Town Council.

Refreshments and admission will be set at old-fashioned prices such a dime for a coke or ice cream cone.

G. David Green, a member of the committee organizing the event, explained that during the day, "We hope to recreate the atmosphere of 50 years ago."

Activities for the day will begin at 9 a.m. with a 6.2 mile marathon. Also scheduled throughout the day will be the Little League All-Star game, softball games, volleyball and horseshoe tournaments, and a barefoot water skiing demonstration.

Musical entertainment will include a band concert in the afternoon and a choral sing that evening. To end the day's activities, the co-sponsors have planned a 45 minute fireworks display.

Green stated R&L, Inc. is accepting financial contributions from local businessmen and private citizens to help finance the fireworks display. He noted contributions could be mailed to him at 208 N 2nd Street, Oakland, Md., 21550.

R&L, Inc. is a nonprofit organization formed by the Oakland Rotary Club and Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club for the purpose of promoting Broadford Park.

Two Area Homes Sustain Severe Damage By Fire

A Hutton residence was gutted by fire Sunday evening and another home in Mt. Lake Park sustained severe damage due to a fire in the kitchen on Monday afternoon.

Oakland firefighters were called to the residence of Charles W. Weimer, Sr., Hutton, at 10:45 p.m. Sunday and upon arrival, found the structure almost totally involved in flame. The trailer home was located along Rt. 39, just on the Maryland side of the state border.

The blaze was believed to have started in a television set, possibly as a result of a severe electrical storm at the time of the alarm.

Firefighters remained on the scene for two hours. The Southern Rescue Squad was also called. There were no injuries. Communications were handled by Garrett Central Alarm.

Oakland and Deer Park fire departments were also called, just moments before the fire in Hutton, to respond to the Bausch and Lomb plant in Mt. Lake Park for an electrical fire, also thought to be a result of lightning. The fire was out upon the arrival of firefighters.

The Richard Burns residence, of O'Brien Street in Mt. Lake Park, sustained an estimated $5,000 in damage after fire broke out in the kitchen of the one-story frame residence on Monday afternoon.

Oakland firemen were called to the scene at 4:06 p.m. by Garrett Central Alarm after a neighbor, Ellis Ellifritz, phoned in the alarm. Mr. Ellifritz stated that his daughter noticed smoke coming out of the attic vents of the house. The Burns family had left the residence at approximately 3:30 p.m.

The fire was apparently the result of a burner being left on under a skillet full of grease. It was apparent the grease ignited and then set the paneled wall of the kitchen on fire. A portion of the ceiling in the kitchen was also burned.

Fire damage was confined to the kitchen area by firefighters, who had to break open a pane of glass in the front door to gain

Highway Study To Be Presented To Public Friday

Consultants involved in the Garrett County Development Highway Study will conduct a public meeting Friday, June 20 at 8 p.m. in the Garrett Community College auditorium to present their findings and recommendations and to receive comments from the public.

The meeting will signify the end of the final phase of the four-phase, 18-month study funded by the Federal Highway Administration and jointly administered by the Maryland Departments of Economic and Community Development and Transportation in cooperation with Garrett County.

The fourth phase dealt with the establishment of priorities of proposed highway projects for Garrett County over the next 20 years based on information gathered and evaluated in the first three phases of the study.

Vernon Fahle, project manager, announced that information on the study will be available at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland on Thursday and Friday and at the Friday meeting. He added he would be in the Planning Office Conference Room, Oakland, Thursday from 7-9 p.m. to answer any questions.

Friday evening, consultants will present the proposed priority listing for the projects and describe the criteria used to determine the importance of the projects and their predicted impacts.

The criteria used to determine priority listing of the projects were: travel demand, existing physical conditions, support of economic development, cost of improvement, recent or planned improvement by the State or County, displacement of homes and businesses and loss of farm-

Garrett County Fair Plans Are Now Underway

The Garrett County Fair Board has announced that plans are underway for the annual county fair, to begin August 3, at the county fair grounds, McHenry.

Two $50 savings bonds will be presented each night for door prizes.

Shaw & Sons Amusement will begin running rides at 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday rides will be run from 1 to 4 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to quitting time.

Senior Citizens Day will be Friday, August 8, when senior citizens will be admitted to the fair free of charge and provided free parking.

Two new events will be added to the fair this year. Horseshoe pitching will begin Tuesday at 6 p.m. with a "pitch-off." Each person will pitch 50 shoes, and all participants will then be divided into classes. Women and men are encouraged to compete, although a women's class will not be available.

A wood-cutting contest will be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, the first year for an event of this type at the Garrett County Fair.

School Board Grants 10% Salary Hike For Employees, Approves New Budget

Garrett County Board of Education employees will receive a ten percent salary increase beginning with the 1980-81 school year, the Board of Education announced Thursday after approving a $9,824,980 budget for FY1981.

Although the Board had to trim its proposed FY1981 budget $487,817, the amount in the local request cut by the county commissioners, it considered the salary increase a "top priority." The Board received $4,138,333 of the $4,646,150 requested of local government.

"We are pleased that the members of the School Board kept faith with our teachers' economic needs next year," commented Buzz Updyke, president of the Garrett County Teachers' Association. "We are equally pleased that our county commissioners provided the funding to meet this commitment in its approved action on the school budget for next year. We are, however, disturbed that education's share of the county's budget continues to lag behind all other counties in Maryland."

In explaining how the Board was able to grant the increase despite the cut in the local request, Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, school superintendent-elect, stated the local allocation still represents a ten percent increase over last year.

In addition to the increase in local funding, the Board received approximately $1,015,000 in State funds which represents a 24 percent increase over last year.

The Board also anticipated a carry-over of approximately $175,000 from the prior year, a result from the twin factors of a mild winter and the school system's efforts at energy conservation, along with increased income also generated from interest on Certificates of Deposit.

Besides the salary increase, the Board was also able to salvage part of the gifted and talented program, a program which was ready for full implementation in grades K-12 last year but was delayed due to lack of funding.

Some feared the program would again be halted this year, but the Board decided it should be phased in over the next two years: this year it will be implemented in grades K-8, next year in all grades. To begin the phase-in this year, the Board kept five of the ten teachers it proposed to hire for the program this year.

To fund the salary hike and the gifted and talented program, the Board cut funds for several categories. The administration category was reduced $13,548 by adjusting the superintendent and assistant superintendent's salary and eliminating the addition of a new finance clerk and some office equipment.

The allocation to the instructional budget sustained the largest cut. Instructional salaries were cut $228,334 by abandoning the replacement of two teachers, not hiring an additional counselor for Southern High School and Northern Middle School, not hiring five gifted and talented teachers, reducing the substitute teacher allocation, and eliminating $12,000 of workshops which could be funded through other sources. Savings were also realized in this category by replacing teachers not returning to the school system next year with newer teachers.

Other instructional categories cut were: contracted services, by $9,000; supplies and materials, by $65,000; other instructional costs by $14,000; instructional equipment, by $66,230; pupil personnel services, $377; and health services, $1400.

Operations was cut by $10,000 as was maintenance. Also cut was $1000 from student body activities.

In the capital outlay portion of the budget, which will be funded through revenue sharing, the Board cut $15,000 to match the $150,500 allocated by the commissioners.

Even though the requested local share was cut, Ryscavage feels the school system will be in "better shape" in the next

McHenry Youth Critically Injured In One-Car Crash

A McHenry youth was seriously injured in a one-car accident late Friday night or early Saturday morning on Rt. 219S, near Silver Lake.

James Martin Hershman, 17, McHenry, was discovered at the site of the accident by a passing motorist, who contacted law officials and emergency personnel. The exact time of the mishap was undetermined, but the initial report was received at 1:36 a.m. Saturday.

Ambulance staff from Aurora, W. Va. attempted to extricate the victim from the wreckage, but were unable to do so. Additional help was requested from the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, who worked together to free the driver.

He was transported by Southern Rescue Squad members to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and later transferred to the West Virginia Medical Center, where he is listed in critical condition, with a broken leg, and head and chest injuries.

A spokesman for the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department stated it was a miracle how anyone could have survived the crash. The 1977 Chevrolet Camaro was reportedly damaged beyond recognition.

Beck To Visit Garrett County

Delegate Ray Beck, House Minority Leader, who is seeking election to the Sixth District Congressional seat, will tour the Mettiki Mines in Garrett County on Monday, June 23. The announcement was made by Tom Bowen, the Beck for Congress campaign manager.

Beck will be accompanied on the tour by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, his Garrett County campaign chairman.

Beck stated, "I want to get a first hand look at the mine operation and meet and talk to the miners on a one-to-one basis."

Citations Issued, Injuries Sustained In Auto Mishaps

Several persons were injured in auto accidents around the county during the past week, and two persons were cited for traffic violations.

Roger Franklin Beckman, 23, Deer Park, was charged early Sunday morning with reckless driving by Maryland State Police when the vehicle he was operating eastbound along Md. Rt. 135 left the roadway, striking a 1974 Chevrolet Corvette, which was parked in the Fitzwater Auto Sales lot, Mt. Lake Park.

According to police records, Beckman apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

In a separate incident, Berlin Wade Friend, 26, Oakland, was cited by State Police for a brake equipment violation. According to police reports, Friend was southbound on U. S. Rt. 219, when he struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Thomas I. Skeweris, 21, also of Oakland, causing the Skeweris auto to leave the roadway and cross a lawn owned by Harold Spiker. The auto then struck the guidewire of a utility pole, and came to rest in the parking area of Fratz's Gas Mart Service Center.

Richard Lee Sechriest, 26, Meyersdale, Pa., was admitted to Meyersdale Community Hospital on Friday night following a one car accident along U. S. Rt. 40, south of the Salisbury Rd.

According to police reports, Sechriest failed to stop for a stop sign, crossed Rt. 40, and struck a utility pole, overturning his car. He is listed in satisfactory condition. The 1973 Ford Pinto he was driving is estimated a total loss. Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the call.

A motorcycle accident Saturday afternoon injured two young women along Glendale Road.

Karen Marie Hastings, 21, Portland, Maine, operator of the motorcycle, and her passenger, Nancy Walker, Pittsburgh, Pa., were slightly injured when their Honda 350 skidded in some gravel on the roadway, causing it to flip over.

The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the young women to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Big Top Summer Reading Club Activities Set

A schedule of activities has been released for the Big Top Summer Reading Club at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland. The schedule includes a series of workshops for elementary school children, all dealing with circus skills. A circus performed by the group is set for the end of the summer program.

The students will meet every Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the children's room of the library.

The schedule of activities includes visits from clowns, gymnasts and jugglers, a magician, artists and musicians. Students will learn how to care for horses and to make balloon animals. Other activities include decorating the sidewalks and preparing for the final party and circus.

The first workshop is June 24, when circus clowns will visit the library to teach the children to apply clown make-up. Children are asked to wear old clothes.

Ann Abrahamson Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Ann Abrahamson, Coordinator of the Garrett County Team on Child Abuse and Neglect addressed a Regional Symposium on 'Child Protection: The Ongoing Challenge' on Thursday, June 12 in Baltimore.

The Symposium was sponsored by the Maryland Department of Human Resources and Howard University.

Mrs. Abrahamson spoke on the challenge of child protection in the rural community setting. Garrett County was cited as having one of the most effective volunteer programs for the prevention of child abuse and neglect in a rural community, and received a commendation from the Maryland Social Service Administration.

There's a lot happening down on the farm.

Our farmers are vital to our economy.
Sometimes we forget one of the most important members of the local economic community. . .the farmer. Just think of all the business and services our farmers support. Their concern for the care of the land and all our natural resources is invaluable. The important role of farm families in the labor force can't be overlooked, either.
Most of all, though, our farm families are among the thousands of active, concerned citizens that make our community a better place to live. The bankers at Garrett National want you to know.
We have an eye to the future of our community.

★★★★★★★★★★★

Marine Pvt. David A. Browning, son of Thomas D. and Juanita G. Browning of 307 N. Fourth Street, Oakland, has reported for duty with 1st Marine Brigade, Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

A 1979 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1979.

Marine Pfc. Jack L. Shaffer, brother of David P. Shaffer of P. O. Box 191, Mountain Lake Park, recently participated in an Armed Forces Day celebration in New York City.

He is a member of the 3rd Battalion, 2nd Marines based at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

His detachment was embarked aboard the amphibious transport dock ship USS Ponce. They provided a static display of Marine weapons and equipment which was viewed by thousands of visitors to the ship. The display included equipment such as mortars, anti-tank weapons, artillery and helicopters.

A 1977 graduate of Southern High School, Shaffer joined the Marine Corps in March 1978.

Bible School To Close This Evening

The Addison Community Bible School will hold its closing program this evening at 7:30 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran Church in Addison. The theme for this year's Vacation Bible School was "Jesus, I Believe In You." The average attendance was 68.

The program featuring seven classes will offer a display of crafts to be shown in the church basement. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Eileen Augustine was director of the school. She was assisted by Carole Frantz as pianist and secretary.

Teachers for this year's school included Debbie Frazee, Patti Charlesworth, Anna Mae Grove, Molly Johns, Eugenie Younkin, Alice Peary, Betsy Barlow, Sandy Cornes, Carla Swearman, Carol Bennett, Gladys Powell, Maxine Blubaugh, Diane Lytle, Susie Butler, Jerry Glotfelty, Frances Fisher and Phyllis Bender.

Craft leaders were Barbara Sechler and Lavern Turney.

Alta Phillips, Blanche Glotfelty, Betty Charlesworth and Rose Laub are in charge of refreshments following the program this evening.

The Addison Community Bible School is co-sponsored by the Addison United Methodist church with Rev. Rod Doughty as pastor and St. John's Lutheran Church with Rev. David E. Bomboy as pastor.

FIVE MEMBERS of Rainbow Girls Chapter 8, of Oakland, recently attended the Grand Lodge Assembly in Baltimore, and three of them were named grand officers. Barbara Dixon was designated Grand Charity; Christine Clark, Grand Chaplain; and Gale Bosley, Grand Outer Observer. Cathy Reckner and Cindy Tressler received their Rainbow Majority, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mullennex received the Grand Cross. Pictured are the present officers of the Oakland chapter and are, left to right, Renae Wharton, Love; Stephanie Smith, Religion; Becky Iden, Nature; Barbara Dixon, Immortality; Kelly Stewart, Fidelity; Debbie Dixon, Patriotism; Denise Householder, Service; and Charee Reckner, Worthy Advisor. The chapter will hold a bake sale this Friday, beginning at 10 a.m., in front of Miller's Market, Oakland. Girls from 12 to 20 years of age desiring to become a member of the Rainbow Girls should contact Charee Reckner at 826-8603 or Beth Ashby at 387-5696.

State's Serious Crime Rate Up; Jumps 11% In Western Maryland

Serious crime jumped by three percent in the first quarter of 1980 as compared to the same period of time last year. The 135 police departments in Maryland investigated 59,019 serious crimes during this period according to figures just released by the Maryland State Police Uniform Crime Reporting Section. Violent crimes as a group decreased eight percent. Murder was down 21 percent, forcible rape increased 12 percent, robbery was down seven percent and aggravated assaults decreased by ten percent.

Property crimes as a group increased five percent. Breaking and entering went up two percent, larceny, theft went up eight percent, and motor vehicle thefts were down by six percent.

The crime index for the Western Maryland region, which is composed of Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett and Washington counties, showed an increase of 11 percent. The total number of cases for the quarter was 3,008, compared to 2,722 for the same period last year.

All other regions of the state also showed increases, with the Southern Maryland region up eight percent, the Eastern Shore region up six percent, the Washington Metropolitan region up four percent and the Baltimore Metropolitan region up two percent.

The Uniform Crime Reporting Section serves as the State focal point for serious crime statistics and provide the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the Maryland data that becomes part of the national crime report.
